Michael Greenlee, a former All-Big West Conference relief pitcher for the Titans, is in his second season as an assistant athletic media relations director at Cal State Fullerton. In addition to serving as the baseball contact, he also works with the women's volleyball team. A graduate of Cal State Fullerton in 1998 with a degree in graphic design, Greenlee, 32, had spent the previous five years running his private design studio before joining the Fullerton staff in Oct. 2004. Greenlee played two seasons for the Titans' baseball team in 1996-97 and was a medical redshirt for the 1995 national championship season. He posted a career 8-3 record with a 3.94 ERA, and collected 7 saves, earning All-Big West honors his senior year. Since he finished playing in 1997 he has been a fixture in the Titan press box as an assistant sports information director and audio coordinator for the baseball team.

The Cal State Fullerton baseball field can be accessed via the 91 Freeway (exit North on State College Blvd.) or the 57 Freeway (exit West on Nutwood Ave. or Yorba Linda Blvd.). Goodwin Field is accessible from both Lots A and G and is free on Friday nights, Saturdays and Sundays. Midweek games will require a $5 parking permit. If you are part of the media, you may request a parking permit from the media relations office at (714) 278-3970, and it will either be sent to you, or left for you at will call.

Anaheim-based radio station KSPA will air a select number of Cal State Fullerton baseball games in 2006 – live on 1510 AM in conjunction with Alderson Broadcasting. Justin Alderson, a 1998 CSF graduate, is in his second season as the "Voice of the Titans" and will again bring you all the play-by-play action.

BIG WEST CONFERENCE BASEBALL

MAJOR LEAGUE TALENT

The Big West boasts a sizable number of alumni who have moved on to baseball's highest level and are contributing to the successes of their respective major league clubs.

Some of the Big West's more prominent alumni wearing major league uniforms include 2000 American League Most Valuable Player Jason Giambi (Long Beach State), 2001 National League All-Star Phil Nevin (Cal State Fullerton) and 2004 American League Rookie of the Year Bobby Crosby (LBSU). Other notable major leaguers who honed their skills in the Big West are Lyle Overbay (Nevada), Mark Kotsay (CSF), Steve Trachsel (LBSU), Brady Anderson (UCI), Michael Young (UCSB), Barry Zito (UCSB) and Reed Johnson (CSF).

The list goes on and on, and the supply does not appear to be in danger of shortage. The Big West produces an annual bumper crop of players in the Major League Baseball amateur draft that ranks the conference among the highest represented in the nation. In last year's MLB amateur draft alone, an incredible 44 Big West players were selected, including two first round selections in Cal State Fullerton's Ricky Romero and Long Beach State's Troy Tulowitzki. The Toronto Blue Jays chose Romero sixth overall and Tulowitzki was the very next player off the board, going seventh overall to the Colorado Rockies. The Titans set a new school record with 14 draftees to lead the Big West. LBSU had nine selections overall, including six in the first 10 rounds. UC Irvine had six draftees, followed by Cal Poly with five and UC Santa Barbara with four.

HEADING TO OMAHA

The Big West has enjoyed a tradition of representation at college baseball's premier event, the NCAA College World Series, a showcase of the nation's best teams battling for the national championship in Omaha, Neb. The Big West has featured a contender for the coveted crown on an almost annual basis. In fact, a Big West school has reached Omaha in 13 of the past 17 seasons. Cal State Fullerton brought home the Big West's first national title in 1995 and then brought home a second last year as the 2004 national champ. Here is a breakdown of Big West participants in the College World Series over the years (baseball was not sponsored in the Big West from 1977-84).

IMPORTANT DATES IN BIG WEST HISTORY

JULY 1, 1969 - The desire to form a Division I football conference sparks the formation of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association (PCAA) with seven charter members: Fresno State, Long Beach State, San Jose State, UC Santa Barbara, Pacific, Cal State Los Angeles and San Diego State. The conference sponsors 11 men's sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, gymnastics, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, water polo and wrestling. J. Kenneth Fagans is named commissioner on a part-time basis.

JUNE 3, 1976 - The conference approves the split of the PCAA baseball league into two leagues separate from the PCAA. The Southern California Baseball Association (SCBA) and the Northern California Baseball Association (NCBA) consist mostly of members of the PCAA and the West Coast Athletic Conference. PCAA Commissioner Jesse Hill agrees to govern the SCBA.

JUNE 8, 1979 - SCBA member Cal State Fullerton wins the NCAA Baseball Championship with a 2-1 victory over Arkansas.

MAY 17, 1984 - The conference council approves the reformation of PCAA baseball for the 1985 season, thus eliminating the SCBA and the NCBA.

JUNE 10, 1984 - SCBA champion Cal State Fullerton wins its second NCAA Baseball Championship. The Titans prevail over the University of Texas 3-1.

JULY 1, 1988 - The conference changes its name from "PCAA" to "Big West Conference."

MAY 14, 1995 - Cal State Fullerton defeats Long Beach State 8-4 to claim the title in the inaugural Big West Baseball Tournament in Long Beach, Calif.

JUNE 10, 1995 - Cal State Fullerton claims its third College World Series title with an 11-5 win over USC. The Titans become the first No. 1 seed in College World Series history to win the title. In addition, CSF becomes the 14th team in CWS history to advance through the regionals and series undefeated.

JANUARY 8, 1996 - Sacramento State and Cal State Northridge are invited to join the Big West as associate members in softball starting in 1997. Sacramento State's baseball team is invited to join the league as an associate member also in 1997.

FEBRUARY 9, 2000 - Cal State Northridge and UC Riverside are formally invited to join the Big West beginning with the 2001-2002 season.

MAY 26, 2003 - For the first time ever, two Big West schools are given regional host-bids by the NCAA. Long Beach State hosts its first regional, while Cal State Fullerton hosts its third. Each advance to the Super Regional.

JUNE 8, 2003 - With a 7-1 victory over Arizona State, Cal State Fullerton advances to its 12th College World Series and ninth as a Big West member. The Titans come one win shy of reaching the best-of-3 championship series.

JUNE 27, 2004 - A two-game sweep of Texas in the College World Series clinches Cal State Fullerton's fourth national championship, its second as a member of the Big West. After a 15-16 start to the season, the Titans win 32 of their next 38 games.

MAY 29, 2005 - Cal State Fullerton and Long Beach State both hosted the NCAA Regionals - making it the second time two Big West schools have hosted the event. The Titans went on to host their fourth Super Regional.

NOW YOU KNOW WHY WE NAMED OUR NEWEST BAT "DYNASTY."

7 of the past 8 National Champions used Louisville Slugger TPX bats.

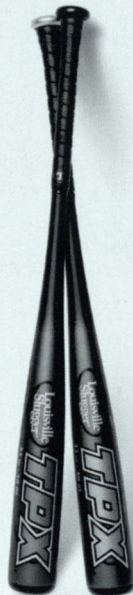

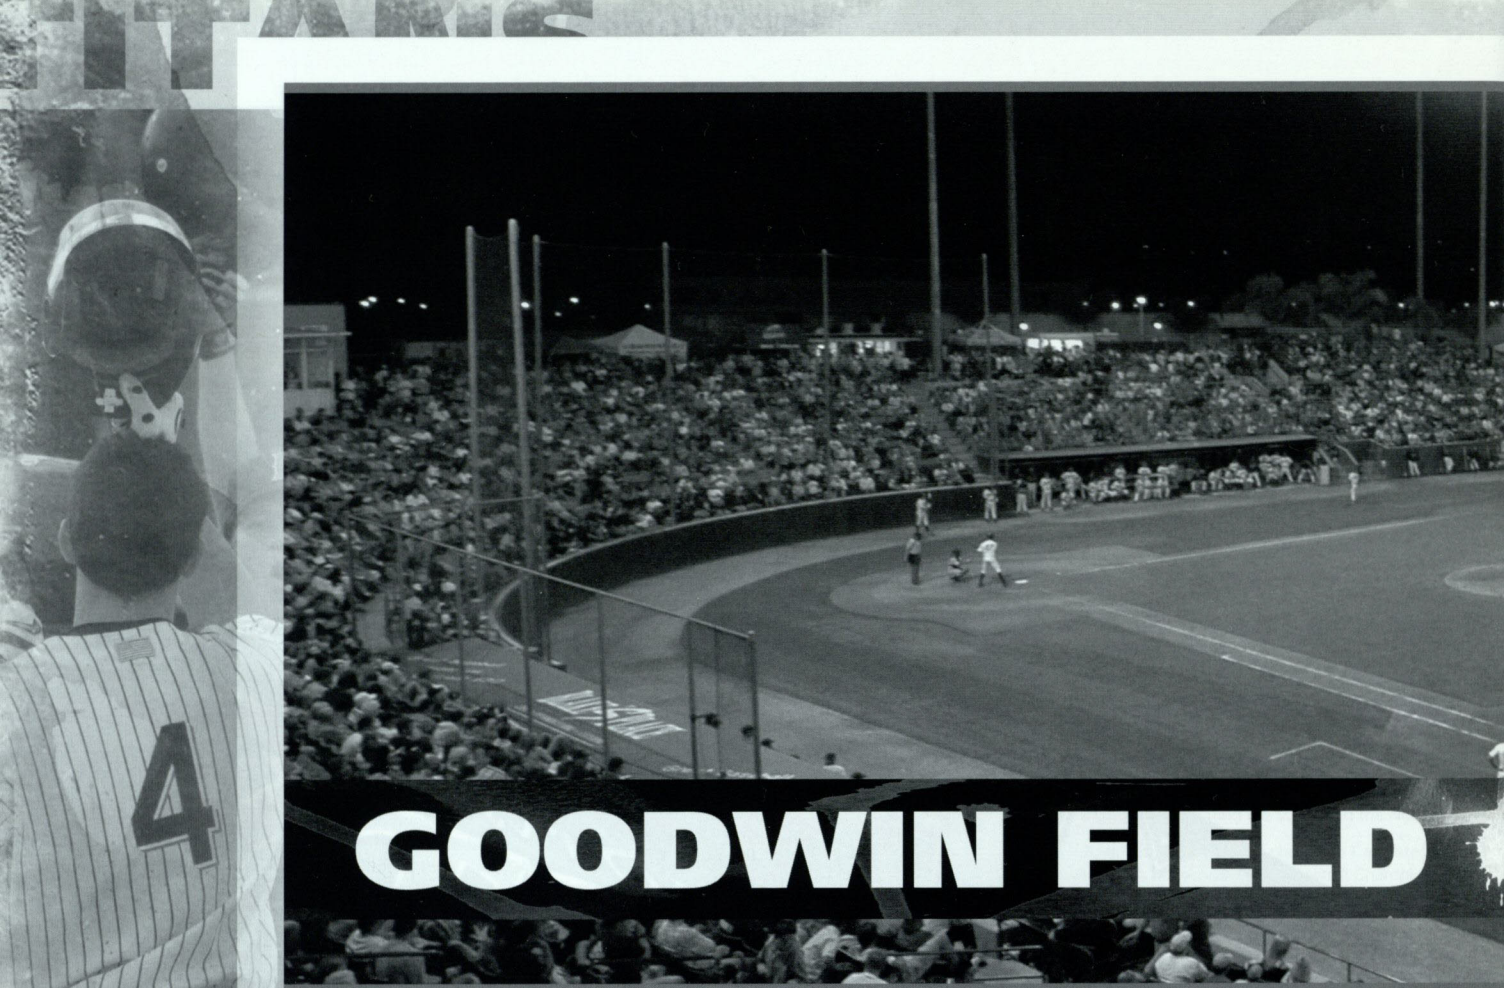

We know—the "D" word is not to be used lightly. But if anybody's got a record in Omaha to back it up, it's Louisville Slugger. That's why the names Dynasty™ and Omaha™ felt right at home on the barrels of our newest bats.

These are the bats used to take the 2005 NCAA National Championship, making it the seventh time in eight years that a Louisville Slugger team has won in Omaha. So try the latest Louisville Slugger Omaha and the aptly named Dynasty with ST+20 for yourself. And see why Louisville Slugger is the clear choice of America's champions.

GOODWIN FIELD

On April 18, 1992, Goodwin Field (then Titan Field) became the new home of Cal State Fullerton baseball. That day the Titans marked the occasion by sweeping a doubleheader against Loyola Marymount, 8-2 and 11-3, setting the tone for the next 13-plus seasons.

Goodwin Field is the third on-campus diamond to serve Cal State Fullerton. The first Titan diamond was laid out to the west of Titan House, located to the southeast of the current stadium. Home plate was in the southeast corner of the field plowed out of the citrus groves. A new field was built around 1970 on today's site, but with home plate located where the current left field foul pole rises. The largest crowd to see a game at that field, with small portable bleachers and plenty of standing room, was estimated at 5,000 in 1979, when Fullerton hosted the University of Hawaii and heralded pitcher Derek Tatsuno.

In the past, the Titans have also had to play "home" games at local parks, such as Fullerton's Amerige Park and Anaheim's Boysen Park, as well as borrowed junior college fields at Fullerton, Santa Ana, and Orange Coast Colleges during the installation of lights at Titan Field in 1983.

Since its inauguration, Goodwin Field has been an undeniable home field advantage for the Titans, as they have amassed a stunning 312-97 overall record and a .763 winning percentage. In fact, the Titans rallied their best home season of all time in 2003 at Goodwin Field when they won their first 22 games at home before finishing with a 31-3 (.912) mark.

Thanks in part to the extensive renovations and a commitment by the university to transform the field into a state-of-the-art facility, the NCAA named Goodwin Field as a site for the Regionals for the first time in 2000, and again in five of the past six seasons. Likewise, the field has also played host to the Super Regionals in four of the last five seasons. For the first 21 Regionals appearances in Titan history, the team was on the road, qualifying for more College World Series appearances (10) by winning on the road than any other school in NCAA history. But when Fullerton hosted Mississippi State in its first home Super Regionals in June of 2001, Goodwin Field hosted consecutive (then) sellout crowds of 3,412, as dedicated Titan fans cheered their team on. That year the Titans swept the Bulldogs to clinch a College World Series berth and, for the first time, it was in front of a home crowd.

The home field has definitely been an advantage in the postseason as the Titans have gone 23-8 (.742) overall and, prior to last season's (2005) loss to Arizona State in the Super Regionals, had won seven consecutive postseason tournaments.

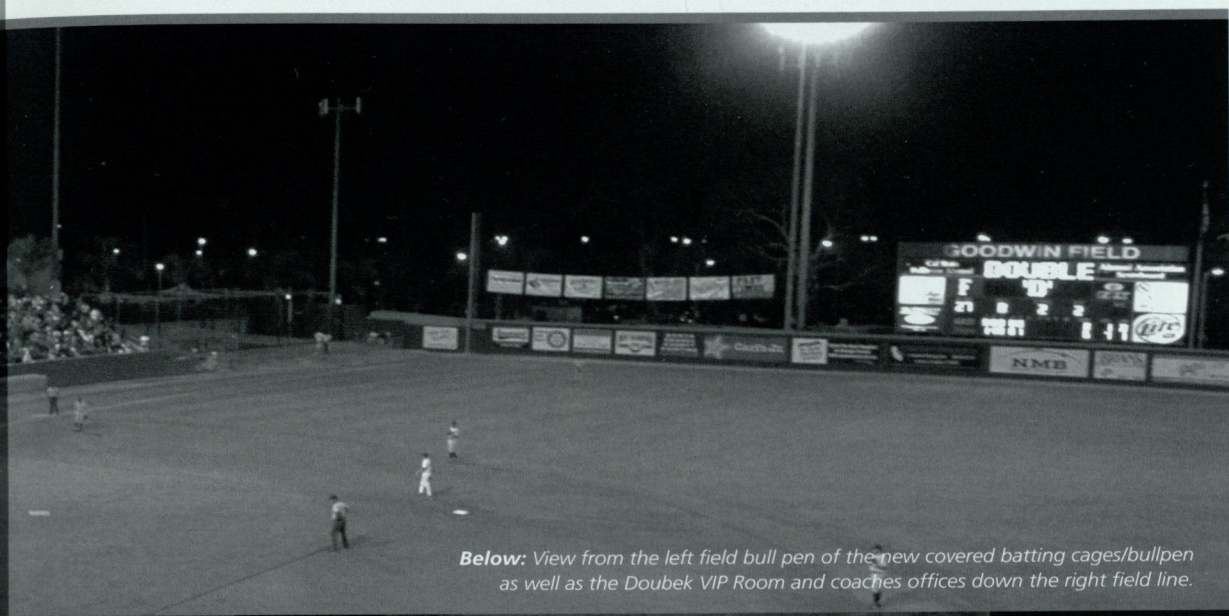

In 2005, Goodwin Field's attendance records toppled the previous record attendance (3,581 set on June 7, 2003) on five separate occasions, setting a new record high of 3,654. During the last few weeks of the 2005 Titan Baseball season, fans flocked to Goodwin Field, selling out (3,654) four times total, three of which were consecutive games, from June 6 to June 11. In fact, Cal State Fullerton saw a record number of fans show up for a series at Goodwin Field last year. In three games with cross-town rival Long Beach State, Goodwin Field held 10,355, shattering the old record of 8,728 set back in 2003 between the same two teams.

Over the years, the Titans' home field has seen many changes in name, appearance and location. In an effort to provide the best facilities for its players, Cal State Fullerton has recently renovated Goodwin Field by adding a covered batting cage and bullpen area adjacent to right field, located in the area between the coaches' offices and the Arboretum. The structure will enable hitting and pitching at night or during inclement weather. Construction began in November of 2005 and should be completed once the season begins in 2006.

Prior to the hitting facility's construction, the last facelift to the park came in August of 2004, when the playing surface of Goodwin Field was completely renovated. The grass was removed and about 12 inches of topsoil was reworked to provide a smoother, more durable baseball playing field. Irrigation and drainage were also updated at that time.

A larger-scale, $3 million project was completed just before opening day in 2001, when the stadium's seating capacity was expanded from 1,750 to nearly 3,500. Also, for the first time, the stadium included an on-site clubhouse-style building connecting to the adjoining softball stadium. The clubhouse includes locker rooms, coach's offices, umpire quarters and an enclosed VIP viewing and entertainment area.

On April 14, 2000, the stadium's name was officially changed from Titan Field to Goodwin Field, in honor of benefactors Jerry and Merilyn Goodwin. The occasion was marked by a ceremony prior to the Titans' game against Long Beach State.

The Titans' home field has had several other renovations over the years. Its playing surface sported a brand new look for the 1996 season, thanks in part to the efforts of the Sports Turf Managers Association led by Steve Guise. The organization donated materials and labor toward the rebuilding of the pitcher's mound and batters' box, along with the planting of new grass in the outfield. Turf was added to the warning track and additional landscaping was planted on the outside of the field, including palm trees along the batting cages in left field.

The beauty and durability of Goodwin Field have also attracted many outside organizations. Numerous high school baseball tournaments, camps, television commercials and, most recently, the Golden Baseball League's Fullerton Flyers have utilized Goodwin Field. The Flyers, an independent minor league baseball organization, began play at Goodwin Field in the summer of 2005.

2006 SEASON PREVIEW

Head Coach
10th Season
402-172-1 (.700)
Cal State Fullerton, 1978

Going on a decade now, Cal State Fullerton Head Coach George Horton has continued to define Titan Baseball. Just as his predecessors Augie Garrido and Larry Cochell, Horton's brilliant mind for the game and focus on the development of young student-athletes continues to establish Cal State Fullerton as one of the most elite collegiate baseball programs in the country, one that consistently produces a crop of professional talent year in and year out.

Horton, 52, enters his tenth season looking to guide the Titans back to not only the top of the Big West Conference for a third consecutive time, but back to Omaha, for a chance at the school's fifth National Championship. In 2005 Horton's team, just one run shy, narrowly missed a trip to the College World Series for a fifth time in his nine-year tenure, as Arizona State defeated the Titans 9-8 in the final game of the Fullerton Super Regional.

Though his team's ultimate goal was blocked by the ASU Sun Devils, Horton did lead the talented group of young men to the school's 21st Big West Conference Championship (sixth under his watch), going 46-28 overall and 16-5 in league, while earning his fourth Conference Coach of the Year Award (1998, 1999, 2004 and 2005). He also managed the team to a pair of championships both at the KIA Bash (the team's third in six years) and at the Fullerton Regional, his fifth at the helm of the Titans.

In 2005, Horton also molded the largest Major League draft class in Cal State Fullerton history, as 14 players were selected in the first-year amateur draft. The 2005 team beat the 1984 squad by one selection and included the team's tenth No. 1 draft pick in Ricky Romero.

But it was in 2004 that the two-time National Coach of the Year (2003 Baseball America and 2004 Collegiate Baseball and ACBA) was able to add the most impressive credential to his resume since becoming the Titan Head Coach...a national title. In his eighth year of leadership of the Fullerton baseball program, Head Coach George Horton took the Titans to their fourth NCAA National Championship, by defeating the Texas Longhorns and his mentor, former Titan Head Coach Augie Garrido, 3-2, at Rosenblatt Stadium.

Horton himself couldn't even imagine the comeback the Titans would produce that season as the team started out a mediocre 15-16 through the first 31 games, falling out of the Top 25 polls completely for 6 straight weeks (3/8-4/12). In his attempt to right the ship, Horton enlisted Sports Psychologist Dr. Ken Ravizza to clear the heads of the slumping Titans. And clear they were as, in storybook fashion, the Titans went on to finish an all-time best 19-2 in the Big West and win 27 of their next 32 games to reach the Series for the 13th time in their history.

Since taking over for Augie Garrido on Sept. 4, 1996, after six years as Garrido's associate head coach, Horton has led the Titans to a 402-172-1 overall record, keeping them constantly in the national Top 25 polls. His teams have briefly ascended to the top spot in part(s) of 1999, 2001, 2003, 2004, and for a few weeks in 2005. Horton's .700 winning percentage is sixth-best among active Division I coaches (minimum five years). Of the 29 teams - many of which are nationally prominent - that Horton has faced five or more times, only three (Stanford, USC and Wichita State) have managed winning records against Fullerton.

The four-time Big West Conference Coach of the Year has been at his best in series play. Heading into 2006, Fullerton owns a 103-25 (.805) overall record in three-game regular-season series and the Titans have won 63 of 75 (.840) Big West Conference series. Fullerton has been swept just five times while the Titans have recorded 51 series sweeps. Perhaps an even bigger credit to Coach Horton has been his success on the road: the Titans have won 32 of Horton's 37 conference series away from Goodwin Field (.865).

Horton, who is one of nine men to have appeared in Omaha as a player (1975) and a head coach, has seen 66 Titans selected in the Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft during his tenure, including nine in 2001, 11 in 2003, six in 2004, and last year's record 14. Southpaw Ricky Romero joins Chad Cordero and Adam Johnson as Horton's third first-round draft pick, when he was selected first by the Toronto Blue Jays in 2005. Other standouts include: Aaron Rowand, who was a "sandwich" pick going between the first and second rounds in 1998, Shane Costa, a second-rounder in 2003 and battery mates Kurt Suzuki and Jason Windsor, who were taken in the second and third rounds, respectively, on the first day of the 2004 draft. Already, ten former Titans who played under the Horton regime have ascended to the Major Leagues, including 2005 Major League saves leader and All-Star Chad Cordero, and most recently, former outfielder Shane Costa, who debuted in 2005 with the Kansas City Royals. Cordero's jump to the show came just two months after leading the Titans at the College World Series in 2003.

Horton scripted a brilliant season in 2003, guiding the Titans to one of their best starts in program history (15-1) and leading them to a program-best record of 31-3 at Goodwin Field. After sweeping through the Regional at Goodwin Field, the Titans beat Arizona State - the top offensive team in the country - in a Super Regional to advance to Omaha for the 12th time in their history. Fullerton quickly shot out to

-0 record in Omaha before Stanford knocked off the Titans twice en route to the championship series. Nonetheless, the Titans finished as the consensus No. 1 team in the nation for the second time in three years. For the Titans' efforts, Horton was named the National Coach of the Year by Baseball America, the most reputed baseball publication. He was honored in December at the 2003 Baseball Winter Meetings in New Orleans.

Horton's Titans also carried the Fullerton flag to Omaha in 2001, when they secured a berth at home for the first time and carried the national No. 1 seed to Fenway Stadium. After holding off local favorite Cal State Fullerton in the opener, the Titans lost a pair to Stanford with a win over Tulane sandwiched in between. The Titans finished No. 3 in all three national polls. Under Horton's eye, the 2001 squad posted several memorable moments during the regular season as well. They won 24 of 25 over one stretch and became the first team ever to sweep a three-game series against eventual national champion Miami at Marlins Park Stadium.

The 2000 Titans, the unanimous preseason pick to win the conference and the consensus No. 2 team in the country, had a two-game lead on Nevada with three games to go in the Big West race. But the Wolf Pack swept Pacific in the final series and Fullerton lost two of three to Long Beach State, so the Titans had to settle for a co-championship. However, the Titans did host a Regional for the first time, which was won by USC.

In 1999, the Titans went 25-5 to win the BWC by four games. They swept three games at the Notre Dame Regional and then overcame an assortment of disadvantages to triumph in three games in the Super Regional at Ohio State to qualify for the school's 10th College World Series, where they went 1-2.

In 1998, the Titans used a remarkably balanced squad to start strong and then dominate the Big West Conference regular season with a 25-5 record. But they stumbled at home in the Big West Tournament and then ran into a powerful buzz saw in Baton Rouge at the NCAA Regionals, placing second at 3-2 with a pair of losses to the host Louisiana State Tigers.

In Horton's debut season in 1997, the Titans struggled to a 23-19-1 start, but then rattled off 15 victories in their final 18 regular season games. They lost the opener of the Big West Conference post-season tournament at home to Pacific ace Dan Reichert, but then came back to win four games in a row at Blair Field. They swept a doubleheader on the final day against host Long Beach State to capture the automatic NCAA tournament bid. At Stanford, the Titans went 1-2 to place third, losing to Santa Clara and Fresno State.

Horton fulfilled a lifelong dream of being a Division I head coach when he was promoted to replace Garrido, who left to take over the program at the University of Texas. A 1978 CSF graduate, Horton had returned to the campus in 1991 when Garrido came back after a three-year stint at Illinois. In the next six years the Titans posted a 264-99 record and made three trips to the CWS, winning the 1995 crown with a phenomenal 57-9 season. Horton had input in virtually every aspect of the Fullerton program with his primary concern being the development of the pitching staff. His organizational skills, patience as a teacher and his attention to detail provided the backbone of the Titan coaching staff.

During the years Horton was responsible for the pitching staff, nine pitchers received All-America honors and James Popoff (1992), Matt Wagner (1994) and Ted Silva (1995) won Big West Conference Pitcher of the Year honors. Dan Naulty became the first Titan pitcher under Horton's guidance to reach the major leagues when he made the 1996 opening-day roster for the Minnesota Twins. He later earned a World Series ring in 1999 with the Yankees. Another Horton product, Brent Billingsley, made two appearances for the Florida Marlins early in the 1999 season. Eleven more of Horton's former pupils - both pitchers and position players - have ascended to the Major League ranks over the last few years.

Horton also worked with Phil Nevin (San Diego Padres), who in 1992 was the Golden Spikes Award winner, Baseball America player of the year, baseball's No. 1 draft pick (by Houston) and the College World Series MVP. Nevin has gone on to a successful pro career as have former Horton pupils Mark Kotsay (Oakland A's), Mike Lamb (Houston Astros), Aaron Rowand (Chicago White Sox) Brandon Duckworth (Houston), Matt Wise (Milwaukee) and Reed Johnson (Toronto Blue Jays).

Kotsay and Nevin along with Brian Loyd and Jason Moler - all tutored in part by Horton - were Olympians and Kotsay was chosen the college player of the decade by Baseball America.

Horton began his head coaching career at Cerritos College in Norwalk, where he guided the Falcons to three junior college state championships in six years. He compiled a 226-53 record and won the California titles in 1985, 1987 and 1989. Each of those years he was selected National Junior College Coach of the Year. His best season was 1987 when the Falcons went 46-5. He had a South Coast Conference record of 102-28 (.785) and was a four-time South Coast Conference Coach of the Year (1985, 1987, 1989 and 1990).

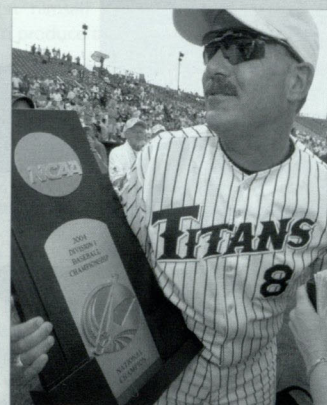

He had many players graduate to the major leagues including Brian Hunter, who played for the Atlanta Braves in the 1991 World Series. Other names include Mike Benjamin, Craig Worthington, Ever Magallanes, Al Osuna, Joel Adamson, Dan Patterson, Luis Medina, Jeff Hearn, Naulty and Olympian and major leaguer Bret Barberie.

Horton was a player on the Cerritos College teams in 1972 and 1973. As the Falcons' team captain in 1973, he won the Dallas Moon Award and was a member of the state championship team. Horton played two seasons for Garrido at Cal State Fullerton in 1975 and 1976 and won All-PCAA honors as both a junior and a senior. He was on the first Fullerton team to go to the College World Series in 1975. He batted .308 as a junior and .290 as a senior while playing first base. He graduated in 1978 and went on to earn a master's degree in 1980 at Cal Lutheran.

Horton's coaching career began as an assistant at Cerritos in 1976-77 and he went to Los Angeles Valley College the following three seasons where he coached with former Long Beach State Coach Dave Snow. In 1980, he moved back to Cerritos as an assistant to Gordie Douglas before taking the head job in 1985. In addition, he coached during the summer for the Fairbanks Goldpanners (1981 and 1983) in Alaska and the Hutchinson Broncs (1982) in Kansas. A few famous names played for him on those summer teams such as Shane Mack, Oddibe McDowell, Joe Magrane, Dan Plesac, Phil Stevenson, Roger Clemens and Barry Bonds.

In 1994, Horton was inducted into the California Community College Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame. He was also inducted into the Downey High School Hall of Fame in May of 2003. Horton was honored last year with the Orange County Manager of the Year award given by the Orange Coast Chapter of the Society for Advancement of Management.

Horton was born on Oct. 5, 1953. The Yorba Linda resident and his wife, Francie, have four daughters: Michele (26), Heather (22), Loyal (18) and Rebecca (15), and two granddaughters: Angelica (6) and Alyssa (4).

Horton embraces the championship trophy on the field at Rosenblatt Stadium moments after winning his first national championship as head coach of the Titans in 2004.

Assistant Coach
Third Base Coach
Offense/Outfielders
20th Season
Trinity University (2003)

Rick Vanderhook is in his 20th season as an assistant coach for the Titans. His duties include coaching the outfielders and hitters as well as running the offense from his standard post in the third base coaching box. He also remains a key evaluator of talent in the recruiting process and is the director of Titan Baseball Camps.

"Hook" has coached five first-round draft picks (Mike Harkey in 1987, Phil Nevin in 1992, Dante Powell in 1994, Mark Kotsay in 1996 and Ricky Romero in 2005) and a supplemental pick (Aaron Rowand in 1998), as well as 18 All-Americans since 1991. He also played a key role in the development of 2003-05 Big West Conference Players of the Year Shane Costa, Kurt Suzuki and Sergio Pedroza, each of whom were drafted in the top three rounds by the Royals (2nd), A's (2nd) and Dodgers (3rd), respectively.

As camp director, Vanderhook oversees all aspects of the Titan Baseball Academy, which helps young players (7 to 17-years-old) reach their top performance level. Among the graduates of Titan camps are former Titans Steve Chatham, Rowand, Darric Merrell, Kyle Boyer, Jason Corapci and current pitcher Dustin Miller.

Vanderhook, 42, first coached at Cal State Fullerton from 1985 to 1988. After serving as a bullpen coach and working with the pitchers and catchers in 1985 and 1986, he stepped into the third-base coaching box in 1987 and began working with the hitters and defense a year later. In 20 seasons with the Titans as a player and a coach, Vanderhook has been to the College World Series nine times and won it three times.

Vanderhook spent 1989 and 1990 with Coach Bill Kernen at Cal State Northridge. In 1990, the Matadors posted a 39-22 record and were the NCAA Division II runners-up. Vanderhook returned to Fullerton, along with Head Coach Augie Garrido, prior to the 1991 season.

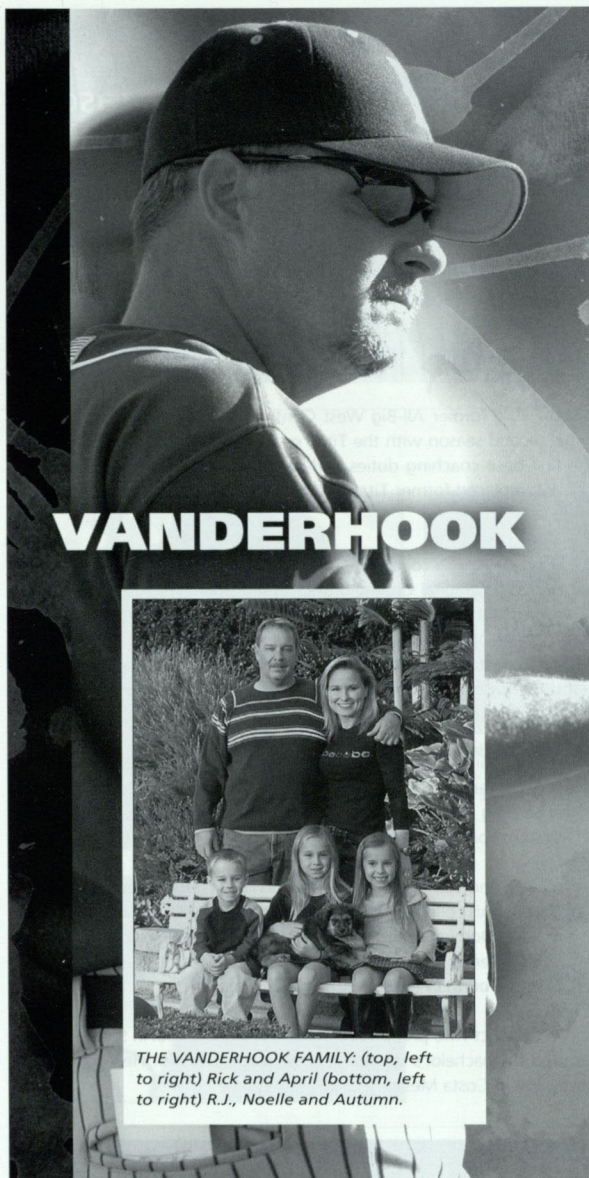

Vanderhook has coached some of the most explosive Titan offenses in the program's history. The 1999 Titans, who made the school's 10th College World Series appearance, set school records for single-season batting average (.338) and runs per game (9.2). He also helped fine tune the 2003 squad, which was 10th in the nation in hitting (.329), 20th in scoring (7.9 runs per game) and among the top 30 in doubles and triples per game.

Vanderhook has also coached for Fairbanks in Alaska and helped the Goldpanners finish third in the nation in 1986.

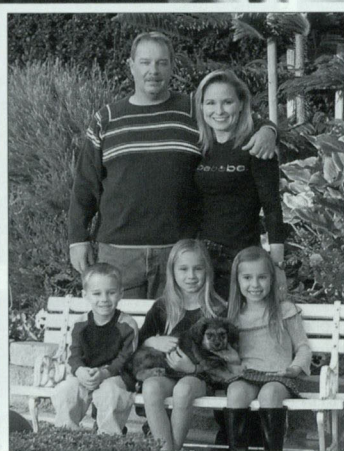

A product of the prominent Cerritos College program where he played for George Horton, Vanderhook originally came to Cal State Fullerton in 1983 and redshirted his first season with the Titans before becoming a member of the Titans' 1984 national championship team.

Vanderhook prepped at Lakewood High School under Coach John Herbold, now the head coach at Cal State Los Angeles, and received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Trinity University in 2003.

He currently resides in Yorba Linda with his wife, April, daughters Noelle (10) and Autumn (8) and son R.J., who will turn 6 in April.

Jason Gill, a former All-Big West Conference infielder for the Titans, is in his second season with the Titan coaching staff and will again handle the first base coaching duties and work with the hitters and infielders. Gill, 32, replaced former Titan assistant coach Dave Serrano prior to the 2005 season.

Gill, who began his coaching career at Cal State Fullerton as a manager on the 1995 National Championship squad, spent the last three seasons as an assistant coach with the Big West Conference rival UC Irvine Anteaters, working with the infielders and being heavily involved with the program's recruiting efforts. UC Irvine's first recruiting class was ranked eighth by Baseball America and the following two classes were among the top 30 according to Collegiate Baseball.

Prior to UCI, Gill was an assistant coach at Loyola Marymount of the West Coast Conference. He helped guide the Lions to WCC titles in 1999 and 2000, earning postseason berths both years. He also served two years as an assistant coach at Nevada (1997-98).

Gill played one season for the Titans in 1994 after spending the first two years of his collegiate career at Cuesta College and his junior season at Cal State Dominguez Hills. He hit .345 with 13 RBI while starting 43 games as a senior third baseman, helping the Titans to a 47-16 overall record and a berth in the College World Series.

A local product who prepped at Mater Dei High School in Santa Ana, Gill received his bachelor's degree in kinesiology in 1996. He and his wife, Kacey, live in Costa Mesa.

Former Cal State Fullerton All-America right-hander Ted Silva, 31, is in his second season of coaching with the Titans as the volunteer assistant coach helping skipper George Horton with the pitchers.

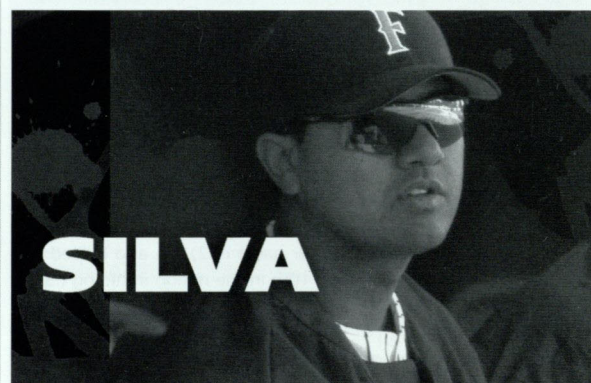

Silva has been an instructor for numerous clinics and summer league teams over the years and spent the 2004 season as an assistant coach in charge of pitching at Villa Park High School.

Silva, a 21st round draft selection in 1995, spent five years in the Texas Rangers organization following his brilliant collegiate career. He spent one season pitching overseas in Taiwan and parts of another pitching in the independent Atlantic League.

Silva played three seasons for the Titans from 1993-95, helping Fullerton to its third National Championship during his junior year. Silva led the nation in victories in 1995, posting an 18-1 overall record with a 2.83 ERA and 142 strikeouts in 152 2/3 innings. The 18 wins are also a school single-season record.

In the College World Series, he pitched the Titans to a pair of wins – over Stanford in the tournament opener and USC in the championship game – and earned a spot on the All-Tournament Team – one of four Titans to earn the honor.

He was named a first-team All-American by the American Baseball Coaches Association, Collegiate Baseball, Baseball America, and the Greater Houston Sports Association.

PRE-SEASON NOTES

SCHEDULE: The Titans again will have a schedule ranking among the toughest in the nation as their 56-game calendar is filled out with the likes of Rice, Arizona, Long Beach State, Pepperdine, USC and Stanford...all teams that are ranked in two of the three top pre-season polls in the country. Fullerton will play a fairly balanced home-to-road schedule with 29 games to be played at Goodwin Field. The Big West Conference match-ups will figure for 21 games, with Fullerton looking to win its third-straight conference title. The Fullerton squad will take on schedule regulars, Stanford, UCLA, Pepperdine, San Diego State, Loyola Marymount and USC in their non-conference schedule along with newcomers Rice and East Carolina. Missing from this year's schedule will be the Kia Baseball Bash which had brought some of the nation's top teams to Goodwin Field over the past six seasons. The sponsorship deal expired, leaving the Titans with an open weekend for some fresh blood. In its place, the Titans will play a split-series with UCLA, one game at Jackie Robinson Stadium and two in Fullerton. Also the Titans have added a non-conference series with UC Irvine, something they have done with Long Beach State for a few years now. In a couple of anticipated road trips, the Titans will take on baseball powerhouses Arizona and Rice. The Titans saw plenty of the Wildcats in 2005, facing them six times, going 2-1 in both a non-conference series and a Regional at Goodwin Field.

WATCH LIST WATCH 2006: Cal State Fullerton baseball standouts Brett Pill, Blake Davis and Wes Roemer have all been named to the 2006 Wallace Watch List as announced by the College Baseball Foundation. The trio of Titans join a group of 120 athletes, all in the running for the Brooks Wallace Award (formerly the Smith Award), an award presented to the country's top collegiate baseball player. Former Titan Kurt Suzuki was the inaugural recipient in 2004. Additionally, Vinnie Pestano was named to the Roger Clemens Award Watch List, joining 40 other pitchers looking to garner the nation's top pitcher award.

PRE-SEASON ALL-AMERICANS: Both Cal State Fullerton shortstop Blake Davis and closer Vinnie Pestano were named third-team preseason All-Americans in December. Davis was named to the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association of America's (NCBWA) list while Louisville Slugger/Collegiate Baseball tabbed Pestano to theirs.

TOURNEY TALK: The Titans have made 27 NCAA Regional appearances in their 31-year Division I history and have not missed the playoffs since 1991. The 14-year run is the fifth-longest active streak in the nation. Only Miami (33), Florida State (28), Clemson (19), and LSU (17) have longer streaks. Fullerton has advanced to Omaha 13 times, with College World Series titles in 1979, 1984, 1995 and 2004.

SEASON PREVIEW

A year removed from the lingering pomp and circumstance of a 2004 national title and seven months from being left on the turf of Goodwin Field to watch the Sun Devils of Arizona State celebrate, the Cal State Fullerton Titan baseball team is locked and loaded, ready for a return to Rosenblatt Stadium in 2006.

"Last year was disappointing, we wanted to get back to the College World Series and play in that final game, but we came up one run short. So yes, there is definitely a fire burning there," said tenth-year skipper George Horton. His Titans saw a five-run lead fade away on that Super Regional Sunday afternoon, a 9-8 loss that kept the Titans out of Omaha for the first time in three years.

But they are back to try again. At least a good majority of them are back. In what could have been a major rebuilding year, five of the eight starting position players will return to their regular stomping grounds in 2006. Like apples from a tree, 14 Titans were plucked off the 2005 roster by Major League Baseball in the draft, potentially leaving no returning starters on the field. To add insult to injury, senior utility infielder Mark Carroll signed a free-agent contract, taking the Titan loss to a possible 15 players. But when Horton got word that not only would he get his three redshirt sophomores back, but also a pair of juniors, his outlook for 2006 brightened considerably.

"We understand the system. We embrace our relationship with Major League Baseball. We know that kids come to Cal State Fullerton to get an education and play baseball, but we also know that when the time comes, we have to let them go," Horton explained. "They come to develop their skills and get stronger, and when it is time, we shake their hand and say good luck."

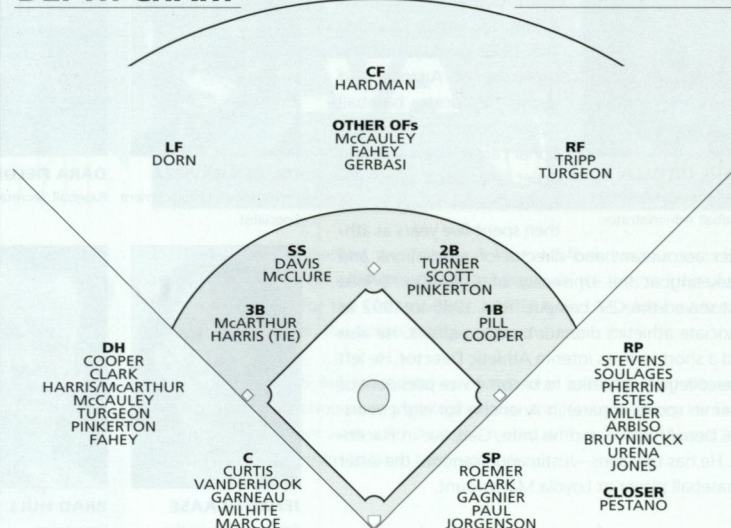

"We are very fortunate to have (John) Curtis, (Brett) Pill, and (Blake) Davis come back to us for their junior seasons," said Horton. "And we were pleasantly surprised by the return of 'Red' (Justin Turner) and Danny (Dorn), both of whom turned down significant amounts of money to come back and play. We are very blessed."

DEPTH CHART

The Titans did part ways with 10 of their players, though, most significantly Big West Conference Co-Player of the Year and All-American Sergio Pedroza, Big West Pitcher of the Year and All-American Ricky Romero, and All-Big West Conference third baseman Ronnie Prettyman. Pedroza provided the sock in 2005, something the '06 Titans will need to replace. Pedroza's 16 home runs gave opposing pitchers an obstacle in the No. 3 spot in the lineup, while Romero, a No. 1 draft pick by the Blue Jays, was just as valuable for the Titans, going 27-9 over his last two seasons. Prettyman, the tough-as-nails third baseman that Horton compared to former Titan Tony Martinez as "the best third baseman he has ever seen in college baseball," will surely be missed on the hot corner. Prettyman provided defense and stability at the bottom of the lineup, hitting a team-leading .327 from the seven-hole.

pulse of the staff as well, trying to find arms to fill a void left by the departure of three of the Titan's four starting pitchers.

"Our biggest loss is really the fact that we lost our entire starting rotation from last season," Horton commented. "We will need to replace our weekend starters ... but we've got some guys. (Wes) Roemer will be back in the mix somewhere, as well as Jared Clark and Lauren Gagnier.

Horton, the two-time National Coach of the Year, has a very optimistic, yet realistic expectation for the 2006 Titans, stating, "you may see a better version of the Titans as the season goes along, but we have a positive nucleus coming back from last season, and they have a willingness to work hard. They are a very talented group of young men and they have accepted every challenge we've given them thus far."

TITAN INFIELD

With the exception of the departed Prettyman, Fullerton sends back out to the dirt Brett Pill, Justin Turner and Blake Davis for another go-round in 2006.

Davis was a first-team All-Big West shortstop and jumped his batting average from the previous year 30 points to .325, while playing magnificently in the six-hole. The speedy left-handed hitter hit a whopping eight triples and stole a team-leading 17 bags from the lead-off position, where you can expect him to be again in 2006. This summer Davis became the Titans' 15th US National team member as he started 16 of 20 games for Team USA at short.

PREVIEW

Turner is the prototypical No. 2 hitter with the ability to bunt, hit-and-run, hit for average (.324), and run the bases. More than his hitting abilities, his defense has proven invaluable to the middle of the Titan infield. He brings an intangible knowledge of the game that has been the centerpiece of the Titan infield for the past three seasons. Turner's .992 fielding percentage in 2005 was the highest fielding percentage ever by any Cal State Fullerton infielder. He committed just two errors in 263 chances.

Pill might be one of the players the Titans look to fill the role as power hitter, once held by Pedroza in 2005 and Kurt Suzuki in 2004. Pill showed signs of greatness last year, hitting for both power (9 HR) and average (.327), while holding down first base with the best of them. He quietly saved the infielders and the Titan pitching staff with a big frame standing on first. Pill led the team in average, at bats, and runs while trailing Pedroza's team-leading 58 RBI by just one.

Third base has remained the question mark throughout the Fall and into the January workouts. There is a dead-heat between returner Evan McArthur, who was Prettyman's late inning replacement, and newcomer Bryan Harris. Both have played exceptionally well thus far and have very similar skills to offer. Whoever ends up in the starting line up at third, watch for the other as an option at designated hitter.

Look out for redshirt freshman Joe Scott to be the first up as a defensive replacement off the bench. Horton has commented that he offers an advanced level of defensive skill and can likely fill a lot of roles.

TITAN OUTFIELD

The Titans lost Pedroza and Bobby Andrews to the draft, but don't let that deceive you. There is plenty of depth remaining in the Fullerton outfield.

The smooth-swinging lefty Dorn will be back for his senior season to patrol left field like he has the past three seasons. His average was down in 2005, but his power numbers were up, as he hit 10 bombs while driving in 49 RBI. He has been a model of consistency for the Titans, with Coach Horton comparing him to major leaguer Garret Anderson. Dorn, with 162 career RBI, is the leader among all returning collegiate players in the country. Look for Dorn's power numbers to improve as he fills out the middle of the Titan lineup.

In center field, the coaching staff couldn't be happier to have 2004 Freshman All-American Clark Hardman make his return after missing most of 2005 with a shoulder injury that required surgery on his throwing arm. Hardman, who hit .341 in 2004 and .500 in 12 at bats in 2005, will complete the Titans' defensive strong-hold up the middle. Though his arm may not be at its strongest early on, look for Hardman to be a welcome addition back to the Titan lineup.

Utility outfielder Brandon Tripp and senior Joe Turgeon will be fighting for the Titans' right field job. Tripp who may have an edge having played in 54 games last season, hitting .343 and pounding four home runs in 99 at bats last season. But don't count out the speedy Turgeon, the eldest Titan senior, who has amassed a career .306 average over three seasons in the pinstripes. He has the needed tools to compete for the right field position and might just get some playing time.

J.D. McCauley will likely fill the role of the Titans' fifth outfielder. Also, look for McCauley to step into the DH role on occasion.

THE CATCHING

The Titans have again opted to carry a load of catchers, but may only look one to two deep. Penciled in at the outset will be starting catcher John Curtis, who hit only .234 in his first full season as catcher, but was a durable and reliable leader for the pitching staff in 2005. Saddled with the expectations former Titan Suzuki left him, Curtis handled the pitching staff with confidence and threw out 27 percent of the runners trying to steal against him.

Waiting in the wings are South Carolina transfer Cory Vanderhook, freshman Dustin Garneau, returner Jon Wilhite, and freshman newcomer Billy Marcoc.

TITAN HURLERS

Recovering from the loss of three pitchers that won a combined 28 games may not be the easiest thing to do. However, the Titans have enough reliable arms to get them to where they need to go. 2005 Big West Freshman Pitch of the Year Roemer will likely headline the Titan staff as he is the only starter returning from last season's squad. The 2005 Fullerton Regional Most Valuable Player, went 7-3, averaging 7.2 innings per start. Sophomore Clark will likely get his chance to shine after 5 midweek starts last season. The hard-throwing righty went 1-1 in his first collegiate season, striking out 17 hitters in 25 innings. Junior righty Lauren Gagnier may make the transition from the bullpen to the starting rotation, bringing a good location and a change of speed to the staff. Last season, Gagnier was 3-0 with a 3.40 ERA in 21 appearances out of the pen. Transfer Ryan Paul (L.A. Pierce College) and returner Adam Jorgenson may make a run at the starting rotation as well. Again the Titans will rely on bull pen ace Vinnie Pestano as their closer. Pestano tallied 13 saves in 34 appearances, striking out 49 in 50.1 innings. The middle relief looks much like it did at the end of last season with lefties John Estes, and Dave Pherrin, and right handers Jorgenson, Brian Stevens, and Jeff Soulage ready to contribute. Look for newcomers Justin Klipp and Harris to possibly break into the staff. Harris, a third baseman, has shown that his arm may benefit them on the hill as well. The Titans are also cautiously anticipating the return of 2003 Freshman All-American Dustin Miller, who is continually building arm strength and endurance throughout January.

2005 SEASON NOTES OVERALL STATISTICS

THE COMMISH GETS 400: "The Commissioner," head coach George Horton picked up his 400th career victory, June 5, 2005, with the 7-2 victory over Arizona in the Fullerton Regional. Horton's Titans have averaged over 44 wins and just 19 losses a year in his time as skipper.

BEST OF THE BIG WEST: Head coach George Horton has earned his fourth Big West Coach of the Year honor (1998, 1999, 2004 and 2005) as he has guided the Titans to their sixth Big West Conference championship (21st overall) under his watch ... Left-handed ace Ricky Romero was named Big West Pitcher of the Year, marking the first time in three seasons that a lone player has been bestowed the honor ... Sergio Pedroza was named Co-Big West Player of the Year after leading the Titan offense from the three-hole in the line-up, sharing this year's honor with Cal Poly's Kyle Blumenthal ... Wes Roemer earned the conference Freshman Pitcher of the Year honors as he made his presence felt when pressed into action by an injury to teammate Ryan Schreppel in March. The Titans took four of the five highest honors leaving only the Freshman of the Year award untouched.

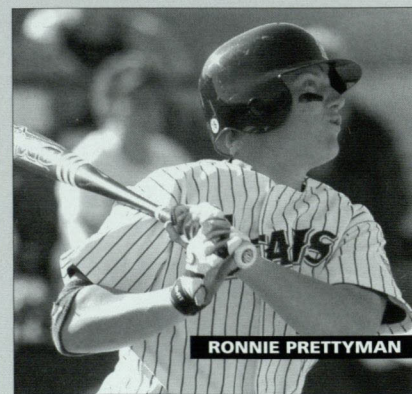

STARS AND STRIPES: Shortstop Blake Davis became the 15th Titan to play for the U.S. National Team in the Summer of 2005. Davis played in all 20 games for the U.S., hitting .275 (14-for-51) in 16 starts at short. PITCHING IN: Freshman All-American (Collegiate Baseball) Wes Roemer pitched two of the finest games of his young career going a combined 2-0 in 15 innings of work at the Fullerton Regional in June. The righty struck out 10 without allowing a free pass en route to picking up the tournament's Most Outstanding Player honor. In his second win of the tournament, Roemer tossed eight innings while fanning five against a good-hitting Arizona club, to lift the Titans to their third-straight Regional Championship.

RECORD SETTING DRAFT CLASS: The 2005 Titans had 14 players drafted in the 2005 Major League Baseball Amateur Draft in June breaking the old draft class record by one, set by the 1984 squad. The Class of '05 was highlighted with the first-round selection of Ricky Romero by the Toronto Blue Jays, just six players into the draft. Romero joins a fraternity of Titan first-rounders including: Tim Wallach (1979), Bob Caffrey (1984), Mike Harkey (1987), Brent Mayne (1989), Phil Nevin (1992), Dante Powell (1994), Mark Kotsay (1996), Adam Johnson (2000) and Chad Cordero (2003).

PROUD TO BE ALL-AMERICANS: Three Titans were bestowed the honor of All-American status in 2005, bringing the all-time number of Titan All-Americans to 64. Ricky Romero, followed up a 14-4 record in 2004 with a 13-5 performance in 2005 earning second-team recognition from Baseball America, Louisville Slugger/Collegiate Baseball and the NCBWA. Sergio Pedroza earned third-team recognition from the same three teams after leading the Titan offense all season long, blasting 16 home runs while driving in a team-leading 58 RBI. Wes Roemer earned Collegiate Baseball Freshman All-American honors after posting a 7-3 Record and a 3.80 ERA in his first year at the collegiate level.

In 2005, second baseman Justin Turner posted the highest single-season fielding percentage of any infielder to ever wear a Titan uniform, committing just two errors in 265 chances (.992). He holds the top three single-season fielding percentage records among infielders, one for each of the years he has called second base his home.

GAME 1 • TITANS 5, Stanford 3

Feb. 4, 2005 at Goodwin Field

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	-	R	H	E
TAN	0	0	2	0	0	1	0	0	0	-	3	3	2
CSF	1	0	0	1	0	3	0	0	X	-	5	7	3

W: Romero (1-0); L: Romanczuk (1-1)

Time: 3:05 Attendance: 3611

Notes: Ricky Romero pitched six strong innings and Neil Walton had a pair of hits handing No. 6 Stanford its first loss of the year. Romero allowed three runs (two earned) on three hits while striking out seven. Freshman Adam Jorgenson dazzled the record crowd of 3611 as he pitched 3 innings of shutout relief in his first collegiate appearance. Jorgenson struck out the side including National Player of the Year candidates Jed Lowrie and John Mayberry, Jr., in the eighth inning. Justin Turner had a two-out, no-run single with the bases loaded in the sixth which figured to be the eventual game-winning runs.

GAME 2 • TITANS 4, Stanford 3

Feb. 5, 2005 at Goodwin Field

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	-	R	H	E
TAN	0	2	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	-	3	3	0
CSF	1	2	0	0	0	0	1	0	X	-	4	5	2

W: Gagnier (1-0); L: Gallagher (0-1); SV: Pestano (1)

Time: 2:52 Attendance: 2846

Notes: Ryan Schreppel had a solid outing as he went six complete innings allowing three runs (two earned) while striking out four. The Titan bullpen of Brian Stevens, Lauren Gagnier and Vinnie Pestano combined for three scoreless, no-hit innings of relief striking out two Cardinal. The Cardinal's last hit of the game was a towering home run in the fourth inning by John Mayberry, Jr., off of Schreppel. John Curtis' sacrifice fly in the bottom of the seventh inning was the difference. Sergio Pedroza hit the Titans' first home run of the year off of Stanford starter Jeff Gilmore. Fullerton earns its first series win of the year.

GAME 3 • Stanford 15, TITANS 10

Feb. 6, 2005 at Goodwin Field

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	-	R	H	E
TAN	6	0	2	2	4	0	1	0	0	-	15	15	2
CSF	0	2	3	1	0	0	1	0	3	-	10	14	1

W: Holler (1-0); L: Sarver (0-1)

Time: 4:06 Attendance: 1323

Notes: Titans stay with the Cardinal offensively but a six-run first inning proves to be the difference. Scott Sarver gets only one out in the top of the first as Stanford scores five times off of him collecting three hits, two walks and a sacrifice fly before getting into the Titan bullpen. Freshman Jared Clark is greeted with a home run by Chris Lewis on his first collegiate pitch. Clark goes 2.2 innings in relief giving up three runs on three hits (all home runs). Three Titans (Blake Davis, Sergio Pedroza and Brett Pill) all collect two hits and two RBI on the day. Pedroza homers twice giving him three homers on the year (his only three hits of the season to date). Felipe Garcia makes his debut behind the dish, catching the final three innings.

GAME 4 • TITANS 12, Fresno St. 1

Feb. 12, 2005 at Goodwin Field

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	-	R	H	E
FRES	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	-	1	2	1
CSF	1	1	2	0	0	3	2	3	X	-	12	14	0

W: Romero (2-0); L: Fister (0-1)

Time: 3:05 Attendance: 1390

Notes: Ricky Romero took a no hitter into the eighth inning against the Bulldogs only to give up a double to right centerfielder off the bat of Brian Lapin. After walking the next batter Romero left to a standing ovation after George Horton came out to get him. Romero struck out seven including five of the first six he faced. His father Ricardo was in the stands just two days removed from undergoing successful cancer-related surgery. Ronnie Prettyman was 4-for-5 with a double and a home run, knocking in three, while Danny Dorn, Brett Pill and Blake Davis each collected two-for-three hits. After a scoreless inning of relief by Lauren Gagnier, Adam Jorgenson allowed the only run the Bulldogs would get off the Titans.

GAME 5 • TITANS 9, Fresno St. 0

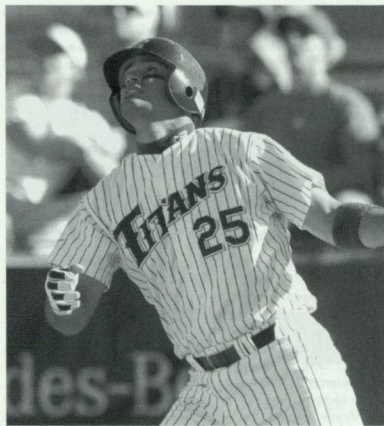

Feb. 13, 2005 at Goodwin Field

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	-	R	H	E
FRES	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	-	0	1	1
CSF	0	1	0	0	0	3	3	2	0	-	9	13	0

W: Schreppel (1-0); L: E. Romero (2-1)

Time: 3:06 Attendance: 1896

Notes: Not to be out-done, southpaw Ryan Schreppel was the second Titan pitcher in as many days to flirt with a no-hitter. Schreppel retired 24 of the 28 batters he faced and had his bid for a no-no broken up in the seventh inning. With two outs Beau Mills hit a solid line drive to right field to end it. Ronnie Prettyman continued to hit Fresno pitching hard as he went 2-for-3 with a double while stealing two bases. Evan McArthur and Clark Hardman both hit pinch-hits homers late in the game, both two-run shots. The homers were career firsts for each player. Along with Hardman and McArthur, Sergio Pedroza added two RBI in the game.

Felipe Garcia earns the Kia Baseball Bash's Most Outstanding Player Award in the Titans' 14-4 victory over UCLA on March 7.

GAME 6 • TITANS 10, LMU 2

Feb. 15, 2005 at George Page Stadium

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	-	R	H	E
CSF	1	0	4	1	3	1	0	0	0	-	10	16	1

W: Sarver (1-1); L: Feaser (1-1)

Time: 3:07 Attendance: 477

Notes: Six different Titans had multiple hits and four pitchers combined on a three-hitter as Fullerton defeated LMU 10-2. Sergio Pedroza paced the Titans' 16-hit attack with a 3-for-4 day including a pair of doubles and RBI. LMU grabbed the lead briefly in the first inning as Evan Shahak hit his first career home run off of starter Scott Sarver. Sarver earned the victory to improve to 1-1. He allowed only two runs (the home run) over four innings striking out 2. Danny Dorn and Blake Drove in three (Dorn a three-run home run) with Pill adding a solo home run as well.

GAME 7 • UNLV 6, TITANS 5

Feb. 25, 2005 at Earl E. Wilson Stadium

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	-	R	H	E
UNLV	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	0	2	-	6	8	1

W: Tabeeek (1-0); L: Pestano (0-1)

Time: 3:50 Attendance: 631

Notes: UNLV pinch-hitter Dylan Gaughen's RBI single tied the game and Chris Bonnell's RBI-single won it as UNLV used its second late-inning rally to beat the Titans. Ryan Schreppel pitched well enough to win as he left with a commanding 4-0 lead, leaving a runner at first and second with no one out for the bullpen. Felipe Garcia breaks out of a 1-for-18 slump with a 4-for-5 performance driving in two. Clark Hardman and Blake Davis both added a pair of hits.

GAME 8 • TITANS 10, UNLV 4

Feb. 26, 2005 at Earl E. Wilson Stadium

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	-	R	H	E

UNLV	1	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	0	-	4	6	2

W: Romero (3-0); L: Wagner (0-2)

Time: 3:15 Attendance: 933

Notes: Ricky Romero retired 15 out of the last 16 Rebels he faced striking out 12 en route to his third victory of the season. Justin Turner, who only had 1 home run in 477 career at bats, blasted two home runs, the second of which put the Titans ahead for good at 5-4. The Titans continued to abuse the Rebel pitching staff collecting 14 hits on the day, seven of which were for extra bases. Turner and Brett Pill both collected three hits while Turner and Ronnie Prettyman both drove in three.

GAME 9 • TITANS 8, UNLV 0

Feb. 27, 2005 at Earl E. Wilson Stadium

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	-	R	H	E
CSF	0	0	0	0	4	1	2	1	0	-	8	15	1

W: Sarver (2-1); L: Luca (0-3)

Time: 3:13 Attendance: 921

Notes: It started off as a pitchers duel between starters Scott Sarver and Matt Luca, but the Titans opened the flood gates in the fifth inning behind the bat of Blake Davis. Davis hit only his second career home run and his first career grand slam to put the Titans ahead 4-0. Scott Sarver had his longest outing of the season with a seven inning shutout performance, striking out seven UNLV hitters. Jared Clark and Wes Roemer combined for two scoreless innings of relief with Roemer striking out the side in the ninth. Five Titans had multiple hits including Sergio Pedroza with three.

GAME 10 • TITANS 18, San Diego St. 8

Mar. 1, 2005 at Tony Gwynn Stadium

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	-	R	H	E

W: Gagnier (2-0); L: Douglas (0-2)

Time: 4:02 Attendance: 1383

Notes: Brett Pill led the offensive explosion, pacing the Titans with a 4-for-5 night with a home run and five RBI. The Titans used a seven-run first and an eight-run sixth inning to beat the Aztecs. Both teams pounded out a combined 35 hits and 26 runs, with the brunt of the damage to the starting pitchers. Adam Jorgenson went only three innings, allowing 12 hits and six earned runs in his first start of the year. The Titan bullpen pitched 5 innings of scoreless relief with Lauren Gagnier picking up the win with one effective inning of work. Every Titan starter collected at least one hit.

Notes: Brett Pill went 4-for-4 including an RBI double to extend his season-long hitting streak to 11. Ryan Schreppel improved to 2-0 with another strong outing, striking out 8 en route to the Titans' third shutout of the year. Wes Roemer pitched a scoreless ninth to complete the shutout. The Titans used a Felipe Garcia RBI-single and a two-run single by Bobby Andrews to jump on top of the Wolf Pack 3-0 in the fourth inning. Then added two more in the top of the seventh with back-to-back RBI-doubles by Pedroza and Pill. Pedroza had three of the Titans 15 hits on the day.

GAME 12 • TITANS 8, Oklahoma 0

KIA BASEBALL BASH

Mar. 5, 2005 at Goodwin Field

W: Romero (4-0); L: Guerra (2-1); SV: Pestano (2)

Time: 3:40 Attendance: 1853

Notes: Ricky Romero struck out 13 Sooners over 7 shutout innings of work to improve his team-leading pitching record to 4-0 and give the Titans a 2-0 record in the Kia Bash. Romero allowed just five hits and a walk before handing the ball to Vinnie Pestano in the eighth. Pestano pitched a scoreless eighth and ninth to pick up his second save and record the Titans' second shutout of the day. Five Titan starters collected two or more hits with Blake Davis leading the way with three. Justin Turner led the team with two RBI.

GAME 13 • TITANS 14, UCLA 4

KIA BASEBALL BASH

Mar. 6, 2005 at Goodwin Field

W: Sarver (3-1); L: Rustich (1-1)

Time: 3:35 Attendance: 2183

Notes: Blake Davis, Justin Turner and Felipe Garcia each had three hits as Fullerton rolled past UCLA 14-4. The Titans completed a sweep of the Kia Baseball Bash and all of the post-tournament awards. Fullerton used an eight-hit, six-run first inning to jump out in front, never to look back. Both Davis and Turner collected two hits in the first inning alone. Scott Sarver picked up the win by going 5.1 innings and leaving with the lead, giving way to the Titan bullpen. Adam Jorgenson, John Estes, Dave Pherrin and Lauren Gagnier pitched 3.2 scoreless innings in relief. Eric Echevarria made a rare plate appearance, taking called strike three in his first at bat of the year. Notes: The long ball played a big factor as the Titans narrowly beat the Green Wave 9-8. 9,385 fans got to see six home runs hit by the two offensive clubs with four of them by the Titans. Sergio Pedrosa hit two in a game for the second time this year to lead all players. Ryan Schreppe (3-0) went 5.2 innings allowing only 3 Tulane hits picking up his third win of the year, and Vinnie Pestano picked up his team-leading fourth save retiring the last six batters he faced. The Green Wave scored five times in the seventh inning off of relievers Lauren Gagnier and Pestano with the big blow being a controversial three run home run off the bat of Tulane catcher Greg Dini. Prettyman and Dorn added the other Fullerton homers.

Notes: Top-ranked Tulane bashed out 19 hits on the afternoon, offsetting four home runs by the Titans, en route to a 13-9 victory. The Titans saw their nine-game winning streak snapped with the Green Wave earning their first win over Fullerton in 11 all-time tries. Fullerton mustered only nine hits for the game -- the first time since Feb. 5 the Titans have been held to less than 12 hits. Justin Turner and Sergio Pedrosa each had two hits and two RBI to lead the Titans, who bashed four home runs on the day with Turner, Pedrosa, Brandon Tripp, and Brett Pill all leaving the yard. The series drew a Tulane record 17,000-plus fans over the three game series. The Green Wave led 10-5 after three innings before the Titans began to chip away. Ronnie Prettyman's RBI double in the sixth and Tripp's solo shot in the seventh brought the Titans to within 10-7 before Tulane exploded again for two runs in the seventh on an RBI fielder's choice and a balk and another run in the eighth on an RBI single by Cat Everrett. Pedrosa's two-run home run in the ninth provided for the final scoring. Scott Sarver (3-2) suffered the loss for Fullerton, allowing six earned runs on seven hits in just one inning pitched.

Romero pitched well enough to win, with the Wildcats capitalizing on their opportunity to score in the seventh. Romero struck out eight over his eight innings of work and gave up only six Arizona hits en route to his first loss of the season. The Titans left nine runners on base and were unable to get a man across the plate as they were shut out for the first time this season. Felipe Garcia and Justin Turner both collected two hits to lead all players, while Ronnie Prettyman extended his team-leading 17-game hitting streak with a leadoff double in the ninth inning.

Schreppe struck out four and walked four Wildcats with Wes Roemer picking up his first collegiate save, striking out three. Four Titans had two or more hits with catcher John Curtis leading the way with three. Blake Davis, Brandon Tripp and Turner each added a pair. Davis added two RBI's and Danny Dorn added a lone RBI to round out Fullerton's scoring.

Notes: Danny Dorn's two-out, two-run, walk-off home run gave the Titans a 17-15 non-conference victory over Arizona in an offensive showcase. None of the 10 pitchers that pitched left unscathed as both teams combined for 32 earned runs and 35 hits, including five home runs, in the four-hour, 12-minute marathon. Seven Titans had multi-hit games with Ronnie Prettyman going a perfect 5-for-5 including his fourth home run of the year off of Sean Jarrett. Justin Turner had three hits and Bobby Andrews, Sergio Pedrosa, Brett Pill, Felipe Garcia and Dorn each added a pair. Vinnie Pestano, the fifth Titan pitcher of the day, pitched 2.2 innings allowing only one earned run and struck out one to improve to 1-1 on the year. With an RBI single in the bottom of the third inning, Turner extended his current hitting streak to 13 games. Neil Walton, Pill and Dorn each drove in three runners to lead the Titans.

Ramos set down eight Titans by way of the strikeout, at one point retiring 11 Titan hitters in a row. Ricky Romero was the hard-luck loser, allowing only 3 runs in 7.2 innings as the offense could only produce two runs on two hits. He struck out six while allowing only one costly walk. Brett Pill and Justin Turner collected the only Titan hits. Turner's hit extended his hitting streak to 14 games. A leadoff walk and a hit batter would be the downfall for Romero and the Titans as they both came around to score in the seventh inning on back-to-back RBI singles by Evan Longoria and Chris Jones, giving the 49ers the 3-2 edge.

Blake Davis, who led all players with three hits, got the Titans on the board early by knocking the first offering of the game from Marco Estrada to the wall for a triple, then scoring on a throwing error by Estrada two batters later. Fullerton used four consecutive hits, capped by a two-run double by Justin Turner to take a 3-0 in the top of the second. Ryan Schreppe started for the Titans and allowed two runs, while striking out two, over five innings of work. He left the game with a 3-2 lead giving way to reliever Brian Stevens who gave up the tying run as John Curtis was charged with a passed ball. Fullerton and Long Beach traded runs in the eighth inning, setting up the ninth for another dramatic finish between the two teams at Blair Field. Both pitching staffs combined hit 10 batters putting themselves in the record books tied for second place all-time in NCAA history for combined hit batters in a game. Time: 2:42 Attendance: 2662

Notes: Jared Hughes threw a four-hit, complete game in the rubber-match striking out seven without allowing a walk. Wes Roemer pitched well in his first collegiate start, going 5.2 innings striking out three, but picked up the loss with the lack of run support. The big blow to the Titans came in the fourth inning. After Roemer retired 11 out of 12 batters he faced, Blake Davis made a throwing error to extend the inning. The error allowed Troy Tulowitzki to move to second base before Brandon Godfrey followed with an RBI-double to drive him in. Sean Boatright then promptly singled up the middle scoring Godfrey, to give the 49ers a 2-0 lead. Fullerton scored its lone run in the eighth inning with catcher John Curtis grounding out to second base to bring home Sergio Pedrosa who doubled to lead off the inning. Brandon Tripp, Brett Pill, Pedrosa and Davis collected the Titan hits. Justin Turner went hitless in four at bats, bringing his 15-game hit streak to an end.

Notes: The Titans averted a ninth inning rally as Vinnie Pestano got UCLA's Chris Denove to fly out with the tying run on second base to secure the 7-6 victory. The Titans marched five pitchers out to combat UCLA with John Estes emerging as the winner. He picked up his first victory of the year pitching two effective innings in relief allowing two unearned runs while striking out two. Scott Sarver pitched two scoreless innings of relief striking out two along the way before giving way to Pestano who picked up his fifth save of the year. Fullerton tagged eventual loser, Daniel Miltenberger (2-1), for three runs on RBI singles by Trevor Mortensen and Justin Turner and a successful squeeze bunt by Ronnie Prettyman in the top of the fourth inning. Fullerton's lineup featured four non-regular starters (Trevor Mortensen, Jared Clark, Jon Wilhite and Brian Stevens) with Mortensen and Clark leading the way with a pair of hits and a stolen base each. Ronnie Prettyman drove in two runs with the squeeze bunt and an RBI-single to lead the Titans with two RBI. UCLA's fifth and final pitcher of the night, Brian Schroeder, pitched an impressive four innings of scoreless relief allowing just two Titan hits while striking out four.

Irvine catcher Mark Wagner led all players with three hits including a leadoff triple that sparked a two-run second inning for Irvine. Ricky Romero dropped his third straight game as the Titans could never get their offense started behind him. Romero allowed a season-high 5 earned runs while fanning eight Anteaters before giving way to Lauren Gagnier after 7.1 innings of work. Cal State Fullerton jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning when Danny Dorn doubled in Justin Turner, who doubled three batters earlier, but that would be all the scoring for the Titans with the two Irvine pitchers striking out 12 Fullerton batters along the way. Notes: Sergio Pedroza collected three hits including two doubles and a home run. Lauren Gagnier pitched a scoreless seventh inning and was the recipient of a four-run rally that earned him his third victory of the year. The Titans collected their four runs off of reliever Nash Robertson to pull ahead 6-2 in the bottom of the seventh inning. Robertson came on in relief of Blair Erickson, who combined with starter Steve Schroer, to hold the Titans to only two runs over the first six innings. But Robertson in 0.1 innings of work allowed three hits and four runs (two earned) to cross the plate before being pulled. Two errors on one play by left fielder Erik Johnson allowed two runs to score and moved Felipe Garcia, who singled, all the way to third. Danny Dorn then doubled to drive in Garcia, and was brought in himself on an RBI-single by John Curtis to conclude the four-run Titan seventh. Irvine pulled within one in the top of the eighth off of Vinnie Pestano, reaching base safely in six straight at bats. They used five hits including a pinch-hit RBI single by R.J. Notes: LMU used 3 RBI from both Kyle Mura and A.J. La Mondo to upset the Titans in the lopsided affair. The game slipped away from the Titans as with a 3-2 lead, LMU plated seven runs on seven hits, facing three Fullerton pitchers in a wild fifth inning. Jeff Soulaiges, in his first career appearance, picked up the loss as he went only 0.2 innings allowing four earned runs on three hits. Nolan Bruyninckx, also in his first game of the year, came on in relief of Soulaiges and was knocked for three runs on three hits without retiring a batter. Brian Stevens came on and recorded the final out as Eric Farris singled to left and was then caught in a run-down as he tried to stretch his single into a double. Fullerton paraded six pitchers to the mound on a day that saw only starter Jared Clark leave unscathed. Clark went two innings allowing only a single to LMU leadoff hitter Joe Frazee and was the benefactor of a double play in each inning of work. Three Titans combined for eight of the 11 total hits on the night with centerfielder Bobby Andrews and Sergio Pedroza leading the way with three a piece.

Romero (6-3), the hard-luck loser of those three straight losses, picked up his first win since March 11 versus Tulane in New Orleans. The southpaw allowed the Matadors to out-hit the Titans surrendering 10 hits over seven innings of work, but fanned seven giving up only one earned run in the third inning. Blake Davis went 3-for-4 in the leadoff spot, scoring twice and driving in a run. Four Titans drove in two runs, including Danny Dorn, who slugged his fourth home run of the season in the third. Bobby Andrews, Sergio Pedroza, Brett Pill, Jared Clark and Evan McArthur took advantage of the gusty winds in Northridge as they each connected for home runs on a day that also saw the Titans plate at least one run in every inning except the first and eighth. Fullerton handed Northridge its greatest margin of defeat in the school's history with the 24-hit, 24-run barrage. Hidden among the loud Titan offense, was a quiet Wes Roemer (2-1), who picked up his second consecutive win allowing only four hits over seven scoreless innings of work. The freshman faced just two batters over the minimum while striking out four, before giving way to Nolan Bruyninckx in the eighth inning. Roemer, Bruyninckx and the Titan defense held the Matador bats quiet allowing only five total hits, and not allowing a runner to advance past second base. Every Titan starter except Danny Dorn picked up at least one hit, with Felipe Garcia the lone starter collected only one. Nine hitters had multi-hit days with Andrews, Pedroza and Pill all collecting three hits. McArthur, pinch-hitting for John Curtis came on late but still led all players with four RBI, including two from his pinch-hit homer in the sixth inning.

After allowing back-to-back singles in the first, Sarver retired 13 of the next 14 batters before a single by Michael Paulk in the fifth. It was a close 2-1 ballgame in favor of Fullerton before the Titans capitalized on two costly Northridge errors in the top of the seventh as they touched home five times. The visitors collected five hits in the seventh with Pedroza's one-out, two-RBI single coming as the big blow. The Titans cleared the bases as Pedroza chopped a ball into right field driving in two before outfielder Alberto Quintana misplayed the ball, allowing Pedroza to move to second and Justin Turner to third. A bad throw back into the infield from Quintana then allowed Turner to score on the play, as they caught Pedroza trying to advance to third. The Titans added another run in the top of the ninth off of reliever Peter Eberhardt, with one out and runners at first and third, Turner and Brandon Tripp successfully completed a double steal with Turner scoring the Titans 43rd and final run of the weekend. Vinnie Pestano pitched a scoreless eighth and ninth in relief of Sarver to wrap up the weekend that saw the Titan pitching staff not allow an earned run to the Matadors in 27 innings. Brett Pill picked up an RBI on a sacrifice fly to right scoring Justin Turner from third. Fullerton starter Scott Sarver (4-2) pitched adequately going the required 5 innings to pick up his fourth victory of the year to win his second straight decision. Freshman Adam Jorgenson retired nine of the 10 batters he faced over his three innings of work to pick up his second save of the season while fanning four along the way. The only hit he surrendered was a single up the middle to Adam Ching with two outs in the top of the ninth.

Notes: Pepperdine's Jason Dominguez allowed just three hits in seven innings of work as the Waves upset Cal State Fullerton, 6-2, in a mid-week non-conference contest. Fullerton starter Jared Clark was roughed up, allowing six runs on eight hits in four innings of work. John Estes and Nolan Bruyninckx shined in relief, allowing just one hit over the final four innings. Clark was roughed up in the second as the Waves sent 10 batters to the plate. He surrendered just four hits, but also walked two and hit a man. The big blows came as back-to-back hits by David Uribes (2-run single) and Chad Tracy (2-run double) extended the early lead to 5-0. It wasn't until the top of the eighth that Fullerton broke through, drawing two walks to knock the righty out of the game. Waves reliever Doug Konoske did his best to save the shutout, but a fielder's choice and two singles by Justin Turner and Brett Pill drove in two runs before Danny Dorn lined sharply to the shortstop to end the inning and the Titan comeback.

Fullerton in his final six innings of work. He struck out 10 Titans allowing only six hits on 118 pitches. Romero kept the game in control for six innings allowing just two hits while striking out six. The two walks he allowed in the fifth inning came back to haunt him as Hector Estrella doubled to right to bring home both runners putting USC ahead 3-2. The Trojans broke it wide open against the Titans and Romero in the seventh scoring four times, capped by a three-run home run by Estrella to give the Trojans a 7-2 lead. Romero was lifted for Lauren Gagnier who closed out the innings with a strikeout of Cyle Hankerd, but not before the damage was done. The rain that had been falling for four straight innings became too much and play was suspended in the top of the eighth with one out and nobody on for USC. When play resumed, freshman Jeff Soulaiges came on in relief of Gagnier and was greeted with a leadoff double by Baron Frost, who later came around to score on an error by Brett Pill. In the ninth, The Trojans added three more on a three-run homer by Hankerd extending the USC lead to 11-2.

Notes: Junior Ricky Romero allowed just one run and struck out 12 in 8.2 innings of work while Brett Pill went 3-for-4 at the plate to lead the Titans to the 5-1 victory. Romero's 12 strikeouts were just two shy of his career best as he faced just two batters over the minimum through five innings. Fullerton scored multiple times in both the second and fourth innings off two UC Davis arms. Trevor Mortensen, Blake Davis and Bobby Andrews all recorded RBIs in the top of the fourth, knocking out Davis starter Dave McKae (6-3) who picked up the loss. In the fourth, Davis led off the inning by getting plunked by an off-speed pitch of McKae's replacement Peter Soskin. Soskin then walked John Curtis setting the table for Titan third baseman Ronnie Prettyman. Prettyman lined a double to centerfield picking up two Titans with one swing of the bat. Vinnie Pestano came on in relief of Romero to get one batter, saving Romero's masterful performance while picking up his seventh save along the way.

Sergio Pedrosa, who had been held to just one hit in the series, got the Titans on the board first in the third inning as he singled home John Curtis and Ronnie Prettyman to give Fullerton a 2-0 advantage. He later walked with the bases loaded to bring home Curtis, the go ahead run, in the top of the seventh to cap the scoring at three runs, and extending their lead to 5-2. Pedrosa and Brett Pill led the Titan offense with two hits apiece. Danny Dorn's two-run single and a sacrifice fly by Trevor Mortensen got the Titans out quickly. Brett Pill's eighth home run of the year extended the lead to 6-1 as he launched a long, high fly ball just inside the left field foul pole to drive in his two runs on the night. The Titans again plated two runs in the bottom of the fifth as back-to-back-to-back hits by Pill, Dorn and Mortensen again stretched Fullerton's lead to 8-1. UCSB starter Steve Morlock did retire nine in a row before surrendering the Titans' ninth and final run on a John Curtis' sacrifice fly, scoring Ronnie Prettyman in the bottom of the eighth. Jared Clark came on for the Titans and pitched a perfect ninth inning to complete Fullerton's shortest game of the season at two hours and twenty-six minutes. Notes: Cal State Fullerton got 7 innings of outstanding pitching from freshman Wes Roemer in a 10-5 defeat of UCSB. Roemer (5-1) scattered 7 hits and struck out 6. The Titans had 3 players collect 2 RBI in Justin Turner, Brandon Tripp, and Ronnie Prettyman, with Prettyman's coming on a towering two-run homer in the 5th. Brandon Tripp and Blake Davis were the only Titans with multiple hit games. Santa Barbara's Achilles heel was its defense, as third baseman Jack Pinkerton committed back-to-back throwing errors in the five-run Titan second. In the inning, the Titans paraded 10 players to the plate, highlighted by back-to-back doubles from Tripp and John Curtis. After giving up a run and 3 hits in the 3rd, Roemer settled down and retired 12 of the next 14 batters he faced. Lauren Gagnier came on to work a perfect 8th, before giving way to Dave Pherrin for the 9th. Pherrin was shaky in giving up 3 hits and 3 runs, but managed to finish off the win for Fullerton. The lone offensive highlight for the Gauchos came in the ninth when Matt Stevens hit a pinch hit two-run homer off of Pherrin.

Notes: Blake Davis and Justin Turner both collected four hits and Scott Sarver picked up his fourth straight win as Cal State Fullerton routed UCSB 16-2. Sarver faced the minimum through three innings and allowed only an unearned run while scattering five hits to improve his record to 7-2. The left-handed senior fanned a season-high nine Gauchos before giving way to Adam Jorgenson in the eighth. Five Titans collected multiple hits en route to Fullerton's 20-hit performance off of five Santa Barbara pitchers. Davis and Turner poured out four hits a piece with both men collecting a pair of doubles. Davis' bases-loaded shot to the left-centerfield gap proved to be the game winning hit in the bottom of the fourth inning breaking a 1-1 pitcher's duel. Brett Pill and Brandon Tripp both went 3-for-5 with Trevor Mortensen adding two hits of his own. After scoring four times in the bottom of the fourth, Fullerton plated nine more runs in its half of the fifth by way of nine hits including four singles, two doubles, a triple and two home runs. Flexing their muscles were Mortensen and Tripp who each hit their second homers of the year with Danny Dorn blasting his seventh, a three-run shot, to cap the Titan scoring in the fifth inning.

Notes: Evan McArthur's RBI single in the bottom of the 11th drove home the game-winner as the Titans edged San Diego State in an ESPN nationally-televised contest. Brett Pill led off the 11th with a single to left and was moved to second after a sacrifice by Danny Dorn. McArthur, making a rare start at designated hitter, connected for a single to left scoring Pill from second for the win. San Diego State struck first off of Titan starter Jared Clark. The Aztecs used a walk and three singles in the top of the first for a 3-0 lead. Ronnie Prettyman inched the Titans closer with an RBI-single in the fifth driving in Dorn from second base. In the sixth, after a single by Trevor Mortensen, Sergio Pedrosa blasted a Ben Coon offering over the wall in right tying the game at 3-3. Pedrosa's 12th home run got Clark off the hook and gave the Titans' flat offense a much needed lift. Jorgenson held the Aztec offense at bay for four innings allowing only one hit over four innings of work. After a quiet 1.2 innngs by Lauren Gagnier in relief, Vinnie Pestano came on for his longest outing of the year, shutting down the Aztecs for 3.1 innings, allowing just a leadoff double by Jake McClintock in the top of the 11th while striking out one to pick up the victory.

Notes: Junior southpaw Ricky Romero was just good enough Friday night, as he led Cal State Fullerton to a 3-1 victory over Cal Poly. Small ball was the key to victory for Fullerton, as it manufactured all of its runs in the first 2 innings. Trevor Mortensen led the game off with a single then was promptly sacrificed to second by Blake Davis. Sergio Pedrosa was then hit by a pitch, and Danny Dorn singled home Davis, advancing Pedrosa to third. Evan MacArthur then lined a 2-1 pitch into left to score Pedrosa giving the Titans a 2-0 lead. The second inning was more of the same as Blake Davis reached on an error, John Curtis laid down a sacrifice bunt to move Davis to second, and Mortensen singled up the middle to score him and conclude the Titan offense extending the lead to 3-0. The Titans would get just one more hit on the night, a double by Davis in the 4th. The lone run of the night for the Mustangs came in the 4th when they strung together 3 straight singles to open up the inning, the latter being a blooper to right off the bat of designated hitter J.J. Owen. Pestano struck out two in the ninth to notch his 9th save of the season.

Notes: Cal Poly's Jimmy Schull pitched a complete-game five-hitter and Brandon Roberts drove in four as the Mustangs upset Cal State Fullerton 7-1. Schull matched a season-high with nine strikeouts. The Mustangs got to freshman Wes Roemer as they scored six times on eight hits giving him his first loss in his last six starts. Roemer struck out five Cal Poly hitters but gave the Mustangs five free bases (three walks and two hit batters) to work with. Cal Poly's Brandon Roberts broke out of an 0-for-12 slump with a 3-for-5 night driving in four, highlighted by a two-run triple in the bottom of the fourth. Roberts also added two RBI singles and a stolen base. Any momentum the Titans gained from an early lead was lost in the third inning when Kyle Blumenthal singled to right field where Pedroza threw a strike to catcher John Curtis seemingly putting out Brandon Roberts at the plate. Home plate umpire Chad McCordell ruled Roberts safe on catcher's obstruction, leading to approximately five minutes of arguments and Head Coach George Horton's first ejection of the year. That gave the Mustangs a 2-1 lead in the third inning and one in which they never looked back, scoring five more times uncontested.

Notes: Although being out-hit by the Mustangs for the third straight day, Cal State Fullerton defeated Cal Poly, 3-1. Sarver held the Mustang offense scoreless on just five hits for seven innings of work before allowing a run and two additional singles in the top of the eighth, notching his eighth win of the year. After stranding the bases loaded in the bottom of the first, Sarver didn't allow any Mustangs to reach second base until the sixth inning, facing just the minimum number of hitters from the second to the fifth innings. The stagnant Titan offense scraped together three runs on five hits scoring once in the third inning and two times in the sixth. John Curtis drove in the third inning run with a single up the middle scoring Ronnie Pestano from second base, and Bret Pill singled home Blake Davis in the top of the sixth to give the Titans a 2-0 lead. Danny Dorn then hit a ground ball to first baseman Bret Berglund, whose throw hit Pill running to second, allowing Sergio Pedroza to score all the way from second to extend the Fullerton lead to 3-0. Cal Poly scored its only run in its half of the eighth inning, collecting two straight hits off of Sarver who was then lifted with runners at first and third for bullpen ace Vinnie Pestano.

Notes: The Titans scored seven times in the third inning, highlighted by a Brandon Tripp grand slam home run, as Cal State Fullerton defeated Pepperdine 13-4. Ryan Schreppe, in his first game back after arthroscopic surgery, threw three innings allowing only one run on two hits, earning the win on the designated staff day. Tripp's grand slam in the third keyed a seven-run frame that included an RBI fielder's choice by Danny Dorn to break the 1-1 tie, and RBI hits by Ronnie Pestano and Blake Davis. A trio of Titan arms took care of the Wave offense as Jared Clark and Adam Jorgenson finished the final six innings behind Schreppe. Clark surrendered two runs on four hits in his three innings of work and Jorgenson allowed just one run on one hit as he closed out the last third of the game. By pitching three innings without relinquishing the lead, Jorgenson earned his third save of the year. Tripp was just a double away from hitting for the cycle as he singled in his first at bat, homered in his second and tripled in his third as he finished the night 3-for-3 and drove in five. Notes: John Curtis' walk-off double in the bottom of the 13th lifted Cal State Fullerton to a 5-4 non-conference win over San Diego on Tuesday afternoon/evening in a four-hour, 40-minute marathon. Fullerton threw nine arms out on the hill against the Toreros with freshman Jared Clark being the benefactor of Curtis' one-out knock to center. Clark worked a scoreless top of the 13th surrendering only one walk and improving to 1-1 on the season. With Ronnie Pestano aboard on an error, Matt Faulk served up the one-out pitch that Curtis drove to center. Centerfielder Justin Snyder's first step was in, giving him no chance at the ball hit just over his head, allowing Pestano to score from second base. The Toreros jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the top of the third as they got to reliever Adam Jorgenson. Jorgenson gave up an RBI-double to Snyder, an RBI-single to Keoni Ruth and a run-scoring grounder that was booted by the Titans to give the Titans a hole they had to dig out of. Fullerton scraped and clawed its way back into the game due in large part to sophomore first baseman Brett Pill. Pill, who went 3-for-5 with three RBI singles, came up big in the third, fifth and seventh innings as he collected RBI singles in three consecutive at bats, with the one in the seventh tying the game at four runs apiece. Sergio Pedroza added the other Titan RBI with a one-out triple to drive in Davis who doubled two batters earlier. Justin Turner, the designated hitter, finished the day with a game-leading 4-for-5 performance including three doubles, two of which resulted in runs. Long Beach scored twice off Romero in a rough eighth inning as it knocked four hits including RBI singles by Struble and Evan Longoria to give the visitors all the runs they would get. After scoring a run on a Brett Pill ground ball RBI in the first, Fullerton's Ronnie Pestano, Bobby Andrews and Turner all collected RBIs in the bottom half of the second off losing pitcher Cesar Ramos. Turner's one-out single drove home two giving the Titans a 5-0 advantage going into the third. Freshman starter Wes Roemer (5-3) kept the Titans in the game allowing just two runs on seven hits through seven innings before the 49ers got to him in the eighth. Roemer retired the first two hitters he faced in the eighth before hitting Brandon Godfrey with a one-ball, two-strike offering. That set up three consecutive hits by Long Beach including a Longoria two-run single and an RBI double by Chris Jones to break the game wide open at 5-1. Long Beach starter Marco Estrada pitched a solid six innings allowing only one run on six hits before giving way to Steve Hammond, the first of three additional 49ers' arms. Pestano worked a scoreless eighth and ninth striking out four, including the side in the ninth to extend his scoreless streak to 19 innings. Fullerton scored twice in the fourth, fifth, and sixth before exploding for four in the bottom of the seventh. Back-to-back triples by Ronnie Pestano and Brandon Tripp and a sacrifice fly by John Curtis accounted for the Titans runs in the fifth, while another two RBI by Dorn improved the Titan lead to 6-0. The Titans scored four times in the seventh inning off three Long Beach relief pitchers as both Blake Davis and Sergio Pedroza each unloaded for a two-run homer to bring the final score to 10-0. Davis' shot was his second of the season and Pedroza hit his conference leading 13th. Turner, Pedroza, Dorn, Pestano and Brandon Tripp each collected two hits in the Titans' 12-hit outpour.

Notes: Cal State Fullerton won its 21st conference championship outright with a 13-7 victory Friday night against UC Riverside as Justin Turner reached base six times to lead the 16-hit Titan attack. It took a five-run ninth inning to finally subdue the Highlanders, who led 5-2 after three innings. Riverside hung a four on the board in its half of the third as Brian Martinez doubled to drive in a pair of runs just before Adam Steinmeyer hit his fifth home run of the year to give the Highlanders a 5-3 advantage. After falling behind in the bottom of the third, the Titans came back by knocking seven singles, good for five runs, to regain the lead at 7-5. Riverside starter Haley Winter stayed in the game for seven innings, facing 10 Titans in the top of the fourth with only Blake Davis, Danny Dorn and John Curtis being retired. Freshman Adam Jorgenson, on in relief of Romero, allowed two earned runs in the bottom of the eighth as back-to-back RBI-hits drove in two, bringing the Highlanders within one run at 7-7. Pestano then came on to get pinch-hitter Louie Hernandez to pop out to catcher John Curtis for the final out of the inning, setting up the Titans' five-run ninth. Fullerton took advantage of two key Riverside errors, two hits, a walk and a hit batter to pull ahead for good 13-7 in the top of the ninth inning. Brandon Tripp, Curtis, and Neil Walton each picked up RBI with the other two runs scoring on a play that included a pair of throwing errors. Pestano picked up his 11th save and extended his scoreless inning streak to 20.1 innings. Turner, Bobby Andrews and Ronnie Pestano each collected three hits in the 16-hit attack, with Turner, Tripp and Curtis each driving in a pair of runs.

Notes: Jeff Dunbar's tie-breaking bases-loaded single with one out in the ninth inning lifted UC Riverside to a come-from-behind 7-6 victory. Reliever Vinnie Pestano was stuck with the loss after a leadoff triple by Aaron Grant and an RBI double by Nick Salotti snapped a 20.1 inning scoreless streak. Two intentional walks around a sacrifice bunt set the stage for Dunbar, who slapped his single through the hole on the right side to score pinch-runner Louie Hernandez for the game winner. Ryan Schreppe made his first start for the Titans since March 25 and pitched five strong innings, leaving with a 5-1 lead. But reliever Wes Roemer hit three of the first eight batters he faced in the sixth and seventh innings and all three scored as the Highlanders tied the game. Fullerton got on the board first with a run in the top of the second by way of a Danny Dorn double, a Bobby Andrews sacrifice bunt and the first of two Neil Walton squeeze bunts to put the Titans on the board 1-0. Fullerton added three more in the top of the fourth to extend their lead to 4-0. Walton, John Curtis and Ronnie Pestano each drove in a run off Highlander starter Taylor Bills who worked into the ninth in his final outing of the year. He finished with eight innings, allowing six earned runs while striking out six Titans in the no-decision. Riverside scratched back with an unearned run in the fourth, a run in the sixth, and three in the seventh to tie the game at 5-5 before Fullerton scored once in the top half of the ninth on a Brett Pill RBI-single giving the Titans a brief 6-5 lead. Dorn and Curtis each had a pair of hits to lead the Titans with Curtis and Walton each driving in a pair in the losing effort.

The Highlanders got to senior Scott Sarver for five hits in the second, all of which came around to score before the final out was retired. Brett Bigler brought home the first of Riverside's runs with a sacrifice fly to center field just two batters before Salotti connected on a Sarver offering for his eighth home run of the year. tossed five innings of four-hit ball, allowing just one earned run while fanning four. Stange worked three innings allowing just a hit while striking out four to pick up his first save of the season. Neil Walton, who came on Friday night in place of injured Blake Davis, picked up another RBI via a bunt as he laid down another safety squeeze to drive in one of Fullerton's two runs. Walton, in the three game series picked up four RBI, each of which came by way of either a squeeze bunt or a bunt base hit. Bobby Andrews accounted for the other Titans' run as his ground ball to second drove in Ronnie Prettyman, who was on board via an error. After the Titans pulled within three at 5-2 behind Walton's bunt, Riverside added an insurance run on an RBI-double by Salotti, driving in his fourth run of the day bumping the score to its final resting place at 6-2. No Titan collected more than one hit.

Notes: Freshman righthander Wes Roemer allowed just two hits through seven innings of work and junior Danny Dorn blasted a pair of home runs while driving in seven to lead the top-seeded Titans to a 19-0 win over fourth-seeded Harvard. Roemer (6-3), making his first career postseason start, carried a no-hitter into the fifth before Schuyler Mann led off the frame with a single to right, and faced just one over the minimum through six innings. Roemer, whose longest outing was eight innings twice this season, finished with five strikeouts without a walk in the victory. Fullerton scored in every inning but the first and second before opening the floodgates in the third, sending 11 batters to the plate and scoring five runs. The big blow in the frame was dealt by Dorn, who slugged his ninth home run of the season over the centerfield fence with the bases full of Titans for the 4-0 lead. Fullerton added another run in the inning as John Curtis' sacrifice fly with the bases loaded made it 5-0 and it was all Titans from there on out. Ronnie Prettyman finished 4-for-5 on the night with four RBI and a home run while three other Titans also finished with multiple hits.

Notes: Cal State Fullerton stranded 17 runners on base, including the bases loaded in the ninth inning, as second-seeded Arizona escaped with a 6-5 victory over the top-seeded Titans. Trailing 6-3 entering the ninth, Ronnie Prettyman sparked the Titans' rally, leading off the frame with a single to left and moved to second when Bobby Andrews was hit by a pitch for the third time on the night. Trevor Mortensen then singled to centerfield to load the bases. That brought up freshman catcher Jon Wilhite, who smacked a 2-1 pitch into right centerfield to plate two runs and pull the Titans to within one run. After Blake Davis was walked intentionally to reload the bases, Arizona closer Mark Melancon slammed the door, striking out Justin Turner and getting a pop out and a ground ball to notch his 11th save of the year. Melancon gave up two runs on four hits in 1.1 innings of work. Of Fullerton's season-high 17 runners left on base, 12 were stranded in scoring position. Offensively, four Titans had a pair of hits on the night, while Hundley led the Arizona offense with his 3-for-4 performance at the plate.

With the Titans trailing 6-5 entering the ninth, Justin Turner led off the inning with a single through the left side on the second pitch from reliever Andrew Johnston (4-5), who then promptly fell behind 2-0 in the count to Pedroza. Pedroza, who went 1-for-6 with four strikeouts on Saturday night, then came through with his biggest hit of the Regional, sending the next pitch from Johnston over the left centerfield wall and giving the Titans the 7-6 lead. Fullerton added its final run on a two-out squeeze by Jon Wilhite to make it 8-6. Pestano then came on in the ninth and retired the first two batters in order before encountering some trouble. With the bases loaded, cleanup hitter Jacob Priday sent a 1-1 offering to right where a charging Pedroza dove and made the catch to end the game and advance the Titans. Freshman Adam Jorgenson (2-0) tossed two innings of hitless ball, striking out a pair to earn the win in relief while Pestano allowed a hit and a walk to go with a strikeout to earn his 12th save of the season. Pill and Blake Davis (2-for-5) were the only Titans with multiple hits on the day while John McKee's 3-for-3 performance at the plate led the Tigers' offense.

Notes: Junior lefthander Ryan Schreppel scattered just six hits in 8 2/3 innings of work while Danny Dorn and Ronnie Prettyman each added three hits as the top-seeded Titans lived to fight another day, defeating second-seeded Arizona, 7-2. Schreppel allowed only two runs in his career-long outing, striking out six to improve to 6-0 overall on the season. Fullerton jumped out early, plating a run in the fourth on an RBI double to the gap in right centerfield by Dorn, and scoring three more in the fifth on Sergio Pedroza's 15th home run of the season to make it 4-0. Arizona cut the deficit in half in the sixth thanks to a home run of its own. But 4-2 would be as close as Arizona would get as The Titans added two in the seventh on RBI hits by Justin Turner and a bases-loaded bunt single by Ronnie Prettyman to make it 6-2. Fullerton completed its scoring with a run-scoring double by Prettyman. Dorn finished 3-for-4 on the night while Prettyman went 3-for-5 at the plate to lead the offense. Roemer (7-3) allowed three runs on eight hits with five strikeouts before leaving to a standing ovation in the ninth. Vinnie Pestano then came in to notch his 13th save of the season. Fullerton struck first in the first but then busted things open in the third, with five runs, knocking John Meloan from the game. Brett Pill made the score 2-0 with his single through the left side, scoring Blake Davis. Dorn added another run on the next at-bat, as his RBI groundout scored Justin Turner to make it 3-0. Wildcats' reliever David Coulton then entered and surrendered a two-run single to left by Prettyman, who moved to third a few pitches later when Coulton's pickoff attempt went wide at first. Prettyman would score on Andrews' squeeze bunt to make it 6-0. After an RBI single by Derek Decater in the fifth, the Wildcats would inch closer in the sixth as Jeff Van Houten's sac fly would make the score 6-2. Arizona would add another in the ninth on a Decater sac fly, but that would be all. Andrews led the Titans' offense, going 2-for-3 with a pair of RBI. Five other Fullerton players also had hits.

Sergio Pedroza hit a 2-run bomb in the top of the ninth to put the Titans ahead, then saved the game with a two-out, bases loaded diving grab for the final out, to escape Regional elimination on June 5.

Notes: A balk on the fourth pitch of an intentional walk to Bobby Andrews scored Danny Dorn with the controversial game-winning run in the Super Regional opener. With the Titans trailing 2-1 in the bottom of the ninth, Brett Pill led off with a double off the glove of the ASU third baseman. He was followed by a Danny Dorn bunt single, moving Pill to third. That marked the end of the night for reliever Brent Bordes (5-6) in favor of Zechry Zinicola, who played the tying run when his pickoff attempt to first went wild, scoring Pill and moving Dorn to third base. Ronnie Prettyman was then walked intentionally to put runners on the corners and with Zinicola in the process of intentionally walking Andrews, the third base umpire charged Zinicola with the balk to score Dorn with the winning run. "It was a violation of rule 9-3 (which says) the pitcher has to come to a complete and discernable stop," crew chief and second base umpire Paul Guille said following the game. ASU's Jason Urquidez held the Titans to just one run on two hits through 7 2/3 innings, walking four and striking out six. Ricky Romero allowed two runs on three hits, walking one and striking out seven in his second complete game of the season. The Titans took an early 1-0 lead in the second on Ronnie Prettyman's eighth home run of the year. Romero cruised through the first three innings, before Travis Buck's two-run home run gave ASU the 2-1 lead in the fourth. Fullerton's 1-5 hitters went hitless (0-for-16) through the first eight innings before Pill (No. 4 hitter) and Dorn (No. 5 hitter) led off the ninth with back-to-back hits. The third consecutive sellout crowd of 3,654 fans watched as Averill (10-4) and Titans' starter Ryan Schreppel (6-1) were locked in a pitcher's duel all afternoon, but it was the Sun Devils who were able to take advantage of their scoring opportunities. After an early ASU run, Schreppel cruised through the next four-plus innings, retiring 14 consecutive batters at one point until Larish smacked his 20th home run of the season to make it 2-0. Averill worked 7 2/3 innings of work to earn the win. Fullerton finally broke through against Averill in the eighth as Felipe Garcia, who made his first plate appearance since being injured on April 19 followed a Jared Clark walk, with a single to right. Justin Turner then singled, scoring pinch-runner Neil Walton to cut the deficit to 2-1. Eric Sogard's two-run double capped a four-run eighth putting the game out of reach. Attendance-wise, the 10,330 for the weekend series was the second-highest at Goodwin Field, missing the record set against Long Beach State this season by 25 fans. The Sun Devils battled back from five runs down, thanks to a two-run fifth and a three-run third, highlighted by RBI hits in each inning from Tuffy Gosewisch, who went 5-for-5 on the afternoon. His two-out, two-run single off Fullerton's Wes Roemer in the sixth inning tied the score. Persichina's blast gave ASU the lead for good. The Titans put together a ninth-inning rally but it was not enough. Brett Pill led off the inning with his ninth home run of the season to close Fullerton to within a run. However, Brett Bordes earned his fourth save, by striking out the next two batters and getting a ground ball to end the game. Arizona State took the early 2-0 lead, but Fullerton came back with seven runs in the third and fourth innings highlighted by Sergio Pedroza's 16th home run, a three run job giving Fullerton a 2-7 lead. The Sun Devils chipped away scoring two in the fifth before a game-tying home run by Andrew Romine. Five of ASU's nine runs on the day came with two outs and four players had at least two hits for the Sun Devils. Fullerton's offense was paced by its 2-3-4 hitters, who all had two hits, and drove in seven of the team's eight runs.

HISTORY AND RECORDS

HISTORY of TITAN BASEBALL

IN THE BEGINNING 1964-74

Titan baseball began in the most modest of fashions as a club team in 1964. The founding father was University physical plant employee Beryl Kempton, who carved a diamond out of an orange grove, literally establishing the foundation for what has become arguably the most successful facet of a University now in its fifth decade and educating more than 30,000 students each semester.

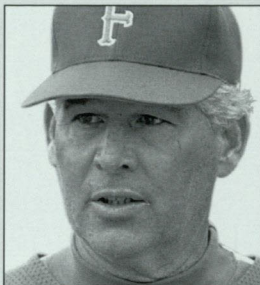

Home plate of the first diamond was located near an old orchard residence, the John Hetebrink House built in 1886, which has served a variety of functions for the campus and now houses athletic department offices. The first-base line ran north and the third-base line went to the west paralleling what is now called Gymnasium Drive.

The first coach was Warren Beck, a history professor, who gave way to Bill Fulton when the team assumed intercollegiate status in 1965. The Titans played at the College Division as members of the California Collegiate Athletic Association along with Cal Poly SLO, UC Riverside, Cal State Northridge and Cal Poly Pomona. The Titans had limited resources and were competitive at best until the arrival for the 1973 season of Coach Augie Garrido from Cal Poly SLO.

A new backstop and batter's eye and such "luxuries" as electricity for the pitching machines provided Garrido the most basic of tools. His first season's record was 19-33-1 and it would be the Titans' last losing season. The Titans won the CCAA championship with a 39-11-1 season in 1974 and the stage was set for Division I play.

NEW BULLY IN TOWN 1965-84

Garrido's Titans made an instant splash in 1975 as a little fish in the biggest pond. They captured the Pacific Coast Athletic Association championship and then served notice by snapping USC's string of five consecutive national titles by winning their first NCAA regional tournament at Dedeaux Field. They earned their first trip to the College World Series where they were quickly eliminated by losses to Arizona State and Oklahoma. Pitcher Dan Boone, catcher Andy Pasillas and first baseman George Horton were key players that year and initiated a pipeline into the fertile California junior college ranks.

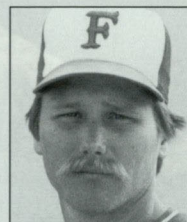

◆ Augie Garrido

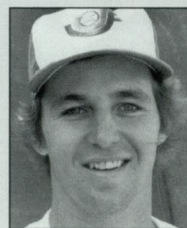

The Titans were dominant in the regular season for nine more years, running their string of conference championships to 11 in a row. They won the PCAA in 1976 and won every Southern California Baseball Association pennant through its 1977 to 1984 run. And in the post-season they proved their mettle against regional and national competition despite always playing on the road.

In 1976 they took Washington State to a final game in Pullman and in 1977 they lost to the Cougars again in Tempe. USC and Arizona were their nemesis in 1978 in Los Angeles but the Titans struck paydirt in 1979 in Fresno. After an opening loss to UCLA, they came back to beat Portland and Fresno State before sweeping a Sunday doubleheader with the Bruins to earn a return trip to Omaha. There they repeated the championship formula, falling immediately into the losers' bracket with a loss to Mississippi State before rolling through Connecticut, Arizona, Arkansas, Pepperdine and Arkansas again to win the first NCAA Div. I men's championship in school history. First baseman Tim Wallach was the College Player of the Year, pitcher Tony Hudson was the MVP of the CWS and Dave Weatherman hurled a complete-game 2-1 victory in the championship game on no day's rest.

◆ Dave Weatherman

◆ Tim Wallach

The Titans would return to Omaha twice more in the next five years and it would have been more but for the strength of the western region in that era. In 1980 they went to the Tucson regional and Arizona went on to win the national title. In 1981 they went to Tempe and were ousted by the Sun Devils, the eventual national champs. Behind the play of Mike Rubel, Mark Pirruccello and freshman John Fishel, the Titans went through powerful Arizona State in Packard Stadium in 1982 to get back to the World Series, which was now being televised nationwide on the new ESPN network. Unfortunately, the Titans left their game in Tempe and became the first CWS team to go scoreless in losses to Wichita State and Maine.

In 1983 the Titans were sent to Tempe for the third consecutive year and they were eliminated by Fresno State. But the Bulldogs had to sit and watch the next year as Fullerton won the 1984 regional over Mark McGwire's USC team and Chris Gwynn's San Diego State squad in well over 100-degree weather in Fresno. John Bryant's single in the 11th inning of the finale scored Bob Caffrey and the 8-7 win over the Aztecs sent Fullerton to Omaha for the fourth time in its 10 years of Div. I competition.

Bryant was a hero again in Omaha. After beating Michigan, Miami, Arizona State and Oklahoma State, the Titans used Bryant's triple for a 2-run rally that was the difference in a memorable 3-1 victory over Texas and gave the Titans their second NCAA championship. The Titans won 37 of their last 42 games. Fishel was the series MVP but 5-foot-7, 133-pound lefthander Eddie Delzer captured the headlines in Sports Illustrated with his courageous 7-inning mound effort to get the win that was preserved by Scott Wright with his then NCAA record 22nd save. Caffrey would go on to become the first Titan Olympian and join Wallach as a first-round draft choice, also by Montreal.

SOME BLIPS ON THE RADAR 1985-87

The Titans returned a solid nucleus for 1985 and ended up with a roster that featured seven players who would eventually play in the Major Leagues. But they failed to win the conference championship and the string of consecutive NCAA playoff appearances was snapped at 10 when they lost a PCAA playoff series at Fresno State and did not get an at-large berth with a 36-32-1 record.

The 1986 team wasn't much better, posting a 36-21 record that again left Fullerton out of the top spot in the standings and out of the NCAA Tourney. The 1987 team restored order with a 42-15 regular season record and an 18-3 PCAA championship mark. But the Titans stumbled in the post-season when sent out of the West for the first time. In New Orleans, they lost an improbable opening game to Southern and converted reliever Allan Ratliff in a 1-0 game in which the defensively-suspect Southern infielders had no chances. Mike Harkey and Larry Casian tossed shutouts to give Longo Garcia another start, vs. LSU. But the unlucky Garcia lost again, this time victimized by his fielder's mitt coming apart on what should have been a routine come-backer.

When Garrido left to accept a lucrative offer from University of Illinois Athletic Director Neale Stoner, who had hired him at Fullerton 15 years earlier, it appeared the Titans' national prominence was waning.

COCHELL DOES EVEN BETTER 1988-90

◆ Larry Cochell

Well-traveled Larry Cochell replaced Garrido and a different style and approach still produced success similar to what Garrido had manufactured. The Titans won a pair of regional tournaments in unlikely spots - Mississippi State and Texas - to earn Fullerton its fifth and sixth trips to Omaha in Cochell's 3-year term.

The 1988 team looked like it might be a team of destiny. After a 5-6 start, Garrido's players adapted to the Cochell style. Despite a late-season slump after a 30-5 run, they ventured to Starkville for the NCAA playoffs. With reliever Paul Johnson turning in a clutch performance, the Titans twice beat the host Bulldogs and then posted a 5-run ninth inning capped by a two-out, three-run home run by Mike Ross to beat top-seeded Texas A&M. In Omaha, they took control of the revamped format with wins over Miami and Stanford behind Garcia and Mark Beck. But the Cardinal came back to beat both Titan aces on their way to the NCAA title.

Despite the presence of a pair of All-Americans in Brent Mayne and David Staton, the 1989 Titans struggled all year and finished at 30-27 for their worst Division I record ever. They finished in the second division of the standings at 10-11.

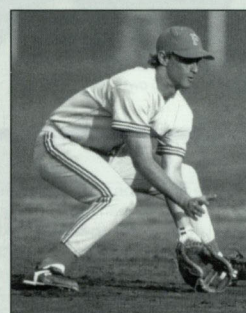

The 1990 team was picked to finish fifth in the renamed Big West Conference. When they began the year 9-9 there were stories printed that the Titan dynasty was over. It was still only a 18-16 team until back-to-back sweeps of Fresno State and UNLV sparked a 14-5 finish and a 13-5 record good enough to win the Big West and an NCAA berth. Behind two solid starts by right-hander James Popoff, the Titans went 4-0 at the Austin regional, beating Texas twice. In Omaha, the Titans were stunned twice. They lost to Oklahoma State in a game that saw outfielder Rich Gonzales carried off the field after crashing into the steel wall in left field. And they lost in extra innings to The Citadel when a catcher took the mound and shut down a Titan rally.

IF YOU BUILD IT, HE WILL COME ... BACK 1991-96

Cochell accepted a lucrative financial offer to go to Oklahoma and, with construction of a new field underway, Garrido returned from Illinois to launch the Titans' most successful decade yet. Baseball America would rank the program No. 3 for the decade behind only LSU and Miami.

It started in bitter disappointment. The 1991 team won 10 of its last 12 games to post a 34-22 record that the Titans thought was sufficient to earn an at-large NCAA berth considering the circumstances of Garrido's late return, the strength of schedule, playing at Amerige Park downtown and the strong finish. The team would have gotten the Big West's automatic bid as a Big West tri-champion, but Long Beach State lost its season finale to Pacific, leaving a 2-way tie with Fresno State that worked to the Bulldogs' advantage. An at-large berth was not forthcoming (the third-place 49ers got one) and Fullerton was left to focus its frustration on the 1992 opposition.

◆ Phil Nevin

Led by juniors Phil Nevin and Jason Moler, the Titans christened their long-awaited new stadium with a return to the national championship game. An overpowering performance at Baton Rouge - they outscored the opposition 35-3 - earned the Titans their seventh trip to Omaha. They beat Florida State twice and Miami two out of three times, the last time in a heavy rain shower, to get a shot at unbeaten and well-rested Pepperdine. Two schools located about 50 miles apart put on a classic show almost 2,000 miles away for a national CBS television audience with the Waves winning, 3-2, thanks to the pitching of Patrick Ahearne, a home run by light-hitting shortstop Eric Ekdahl and a brilliant eighth-inning play by second baseman Steve Rodriguez. Nevin nevertheless earned MVP honors after being selected college Player of the Year. His also was the first name selected in the pro draft a week earlier. Both he and Moler were selected to the U.S. Olympic team and Nevin joined Wallach as a Golden Spikes Award winner.

The 1993 team couldn't overcome the losses to graduation and the pro draft. The Titans placed second in the Big West and twice lost to USC, whom they had beaten twice in the regular season, to be eliminated from the NCAA Regional in Austin and finish 35-19. It would turn out to be the only year Fullerton High School product D. C. Olsen would miss a trip to Omaha in four years in a Titan uniform.

In 1994, Fullerton staged an early season Anaheim Hilton & Towers Classic and it would be a preview of that season's College World Series. The Titans beat San Diego, Oklahoma and Georgia Tech in February and all but USD would be reunited in Omaha. Fullerton earned its eighth trip with a dramatic regional victory at Oklahoma State. The Titans had to beat Memphis in op-

A freshman named Phil Nevin hits 14 home runs as the Titans again reach Omaha, where they quickly bow out with losses to Oklahoma State and The Citadel.

1979

In just its fifth year at the Division I level, Cal State Fullerton wins its first College World Series, defeating Arkansas, 2-1, in the championship game.

1985

The Titans suited up seven future Major Leaguers, but couldn't manage a conference title and had their string of NCAA postseason appearances snapped at 10.

1989

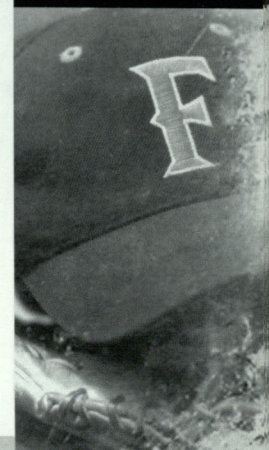

The Titans compete for the first season in the newly-renamed Big West Conference, though they post their worst won-loss record at 30-27.

1992

Kevin Costner throws out the ceremonial first pitch at the Titans' new campus stadium on May 4. A month later, the Titans lost to Pepperdine, 3-2, in the championship game of the College World Series.

1996

Mark Kotsay caps his brilliant three-year career for the Titans and is eventually named College Player of the Decade by Baseball America.

1997

George Horton takes over the reins of the program from Augie Garrido.

1994

Yep, more happy times as the Titans pack their bags for Omaha for the eighth time. Fullerton is knocked out of the CWS by Nomar Garciaparra's Georgia Tech squad.

1995

Fullerton posts perhaps the most dominant college season ever, winning its final 18 games, including an 11-5 triumph over USC in the national title game.

1999

A school-record .338 batting average and 9.2 runs per game propel the Titans to Omaha for the 10th time and the first under Coach Horton pressive afternoon heat and humidity and then come back at night and beat a rested Cowboy team on its home field. A ninth-inning, 2-out pinch-hit single by Brian King tied the game and Robert Matos was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded to win it in the tenth.

Georgia Tech, with a quartet of future major leaguers – Brad Rigby, Nomar Garciaparra, Jason Varitek and Jay Payton – beat the weary Titans and Mike Parisi in the CWS opener, 2-0. Fullerton then pounded LSU for 11 runs in the first inning of a 20-6 victory and freshman Mark Kotsay drove in seven runs in a 10-3 win that eliminated Florida State and set up a rematch with the Yellowjackets. This one went extra innings with Garciaparra's home run the difference when the Titans couldn't score Dante Powell from third base with no outs in the bottom of the 12th and had to settle for third place.

A year later, the Titans were not denied as they compiled perhaps the best college season of all time. With Olympians Kotsay and Brian Loyd and future major leaguer Jeremy Giambi pacing the offense and Ted Silva and Kotsay anchoring the pitching staff, Fullerton went virtually wire to wire as the No. 1 team in the nation. They won everything in their reach – the Hilton Classic with Olsen the MVP; the Big West regular season; the Big West Tournament with Loyd the MVP; the regional at LSU with Jack Jones the MVP and the CWS behind MVP Kotsay. They won their final 18 games to finish 57-9 and become the first No. 1 seed at Omaha to win the title. Kotsay won Fullerton's third Golden Spikes Award after batting a then school-record .422 with 21 homers and 90 RBI. To this day, Kotsay holds College World Series career records for batting average and slugging percentage.

The momentum continued into 1996. The Titans opened the year with a 38-4 record before hitting an inexplicable slump where they lost 12 of their final 19 games. Fullerton tumbled to fourth place in the Big West and was eliminated from the BWC tourney at home by UNLV, but still got an NCAA berth at Wichita State. Kotsay tied an NCAA record with nine RBI in a rout of Delaware and a victory over Rice set up a showdown with the host Shockers. Wichita State got a great pitching performance from tourney MVP Brandon Baird and Rice ended the Titans' season and Kotsay and Loyd's collegiate careers with a come-from-behind 13-10 decision. As part of its millennium edition, Baseball America selected Kotsay the college player of the decade.

THE BEAT GOES ON 1997-2005

Garrido left again for greener pastures, this time the historical program at Texas. His former first baseman and associate head coach for six years, George Horton, took over. Again, the program marched forward.

The 1997 team won 11 of its last 13 regular season games and then bounced back from an opening game loss to win the Big West Tournament, sweeping Long Beach State at Blair Field for an automatic NCAA bid. Good pitching and an aborted ninth-inning rally knocked the Titans out of the regional at Stanford. The 1998 squad reversed the pattern, winning the Big West regular season title but losing the tournament at home to Long Beach. They got sent to Baton Rouge for the third time in the decade and won two games before taking a big lead over the host Tigers behind pitching ace Benito Flores. But LSU flexed its muscles and came back to beat Fullerton twice.

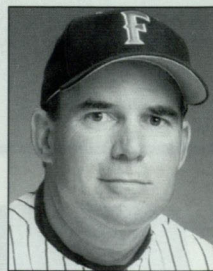

The most productive Titan offense ever – .338 batting average and 9.2 runs per game – carried Cal State Fullerton back to Omaha in 1999. Again, the Titans advanced via the road, winning the Regional at Notre Dame and capturing the Super Regional at Ohio State. But the bats went quiet in Fullerton's 10th trip to Omaha, where they shared in the 50th Anniversary celebration. The Titans sandwiched a win over Texas A&M between losses to Stanford and Florida State en route to a fifth-place finish.

The Titans' 38 wins in 2000 marked their fewest since the 1993 campaign, but they still captured a share of the BWC championship. The season also marked the start of a $3 million renovation to the Titans' facility, which saw its official name changed to Goodwin Field. With the complex's increased seating capacity, Fullerton finally was named to host an NCAA Regional after 22 on the road, but the second-seeded Titans couldn't get by red-hot USC. Adam Johnson was named BWC Pitcher of the Year after leading the nation in strikeouts and he was selected second overall in the MLB Draft.

After a sluggish start, the 2001 Titans traveled to Miami and became the first team ever to sweep the eventual national champion Hurricanes on their home turf at Mark Light Stadium. The sweep was the highlight in a stretch that saw the Titans go 24-1 and claim the No. 1 spot in the nation in one poll. Fullerton, seeded first in the nation for postseason play, won a Regional and Super Regional at Goodwin Field to clinch a CWS berth in front of a home crowd for the first time. After beating sentimental favorite Nebraska in the CWS opener, Fullerton ran into Stanford, which beat the Titans twice, though Fullerton was able to sandwich in a win over Tulane. Senior Kirk Saarloos, who pitched the third no-hitter in Titan history, led a quartet of All-American pitchers.

The 2002 Titans thrived on pitching as usual, but Fullerton's offense was anemic more often than not. No Titan hit more than five home runs and the team total of 40 was the fewest since 1976. Despite fading down the stretch to finish tied for fourth in the conference, Fullerton earned its 11th consecutive NCAA berth. The Titans lost to Stanford and All-American Jeremy Guthrie – who earned a 13-inning complete-game win – in the Regional opener, came back to beat San Jose State, but were ousted by Long Beach State, whom they met for the first time in NCAA postseason play. Wes Littleton was the only Titan to earn All-American honors, though Chad Cordero was again brilliant in the closer role, pacing the conference with 12 saves.

Perhaps the deepest pitching staff in the country led the Titans to a stellar showing in 2003. Fullerton won 15 of its first 16 games and went on to win 50 games for the second time under Coach Horton. The Titans, who went 31-3 at Goodwin Field, hovered in the top five in the country for nearly the entire season and reached Omaha for the 12th time with a Super Regional win over Arizona State. The Titans shot out to a 2-0 record at the CWS before Stanford came out of the loser's bracket to beat the Titans twice and keep them out of the inaugural championship series. Fullerton had a record 12 players named all-conference and seven earned All-American honors. Shane Costa was named Big West Player of the Year and was selected in the second round of the draft. Chad Cordero was again an All-American and was pitching for the Montreal Expos just two months after the College World Series.

◆ George Horton

Completing one of the greatest turnarounds in the history of the program, the 2004 Titans closed out the season with a bang to capture Cal State Fullerton's fourth NCAA baseball championship. Sitting at 15-16 on April 3, the Titans ran off 32 victories in their final 38 games, including a 2-0 Championship Series sweep of Texas and former skipper Augie Garrido. The Titans played catch-up in the Regionals, battling out of the losers' bracket to win the tournament, and then punched their ticket to Omaha for the 13th time after a two-game sweep of Tulane in the Super Regionals. After jumping out to a 2-0 start in Omaha, including a win over top-ranked Miami, the Titans were on the brink of elimination again after a loss to South Carolina. But a brilliant pitching performance by Scott Sarver sent the Gamecocks packing and Cal State Fullerton into the Championship Series against the Longhorns

2000

Thanks to a $3 million renovation to the Titans' stadium, the NCAA names Cal State Fullerton as a regional host for the first time.

2003

The Titans win their first 22 games at home and finish the campaign with a 31-3 record at Goodwin Field.

2004

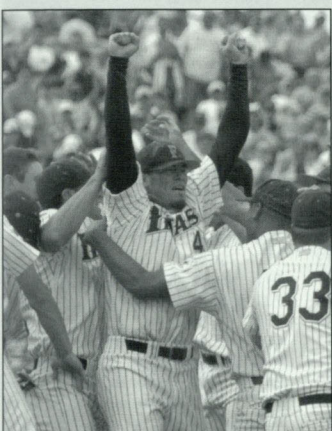

After starting the season at 15-16, the 2004 Titans make an improbable turn for the better that sees them win 32 of their last 38 to bring home the school's fourth national title and first for Head Coach George Horton.

2005

A string of seven consecutive home postseason NCAA Regional and Super Regional championships was snapped with a one-run loss to ASU, who took the Fullerton Super Regional two games to one.

2001

The Titans win four championships: the Kia Baseball Bash, the Big West Conference title and Regional and Super Regional titles. They are also seeded No. 1 in the NCAA Tournament and for the first time, the Titans clinch a College World Series berth in front of a home crowd.

where Ricky Romero and Jason Windsor tossed gems to give the Titans the title. Fullerton had 11 players named to the All-Big West squads, including Player and Co-Pitcher of the Year honors for Kurt Suzuki and Jason Windsor, respectively. Windsor was named the College World Series' Most Outstanding Player and earned All-College World Series nods along with teammates Romero and Felipe Garcia. Romero spent the summer traveling with Team USA while Coach Horton was named Collegiate Baseball's National Coach of the Year and Big West Coach of the Year. Suzuki (2nd Round) and Windsor (3rd Round) were both selections of the Oakland A's in the Major League Baseball Draft, joining teammates Mike Martinez (8th Round - Yankees), P.J. Pilittere (13th Round - Yankees), Ronnie Prettyman (28th Round - Brewers), and Felipe Garcia (48th Round - Red Sox).

In its most recent chapter, Fullerton was, for a fourth time, unable to return to Omaha following a championship season as it came within a run of returning, dropping an 9-8 contest to Arizona State in the final game of the 2005 Fullerton Super Regional. The Sun Devils battled back from a 7-2 deficit, then held off a ninth-inning Titan rally to advance to the College World Series. Despite a disappointing finish, (a 7-6 record over the final 13 games) the Titans had a memorable season, starting 16-4 and ascending to the No. 1 spot in the national polls. Fullerton strung together a pair of nine-game winning streaks and never lost more than two consecutive games. Cal State Fullerton proved to be a big draw in 2005, not only at home, but on the road. On its trip to New Orleans to visit Tulane, Cal State Fullerton helped set a Green Wave series attendance record, drawing 17,181 at both Turchin Stadium and Zephyr Field. Fullerton again saw attendances reach new levels at Baggett Stadium, as Cal Poly and the Titans drew a record 8,585 in a series in San Luis Obispo. Cal State Fullerton's Goodwin Field also broke single-game attendance records (3,654, four times) and a series record (10,355 vs. Long Beach State). The 2005 Titan draft class also set a record for becoming the largest group of players ever selected by the Major Leagues. 14 Titans, including No. 1 draft pick Ricky Romero, beat out the 1984 draft class whose 13 players were the standard for 20 years. 10 Titans earned All-Big West Conference honors, with a Titan winning every major conference award except Freshman of the Year. Along with winning his sixth conference title, head coach George Horton also garnered his fourth Big West Conference Coach of the Year award, while Sergio Pedroza (Co-Player of the Year), Ricky Romero (Pitcher of the Year) and Wes Roemer (Freshman Pitcher of the Year) took home the other top conference honors.

◆ Sergio Pedroza took over in '05 where Kurt Suzuki left off in '04, by hitting 16 HRs, earning a co-conference player of the year award.

HISTORICAL TITAN TIDBITS

◆ Cal State Fullerton has won national championships in 1979, 1984, 1995 and again in 2004. The Titans started off a dismal 15-16 before rolling off 32 wins in their last 38 contests including a two-game sweep of Texas in the CWS Championship Series. The 2004 title was the first for Head Coach George Horton.

◆ Cal State Fullerton has never returned to Omaha following a National Championship season.

◆ Cal State Fullerton is one of only three schools (Arizona State and Florida State are the others) to have three Golden Spikes Award winners. The award is given annually by USA Baseball to the top amateur player in the nation, with Tim Wallach (1979), Phil Nevin (1992) and Mark Kotsay (1995) each earning it as a Titan.

◆ Cal State Fullerton is among the top five collegiate suppliers to Team USA. Blake Davis became the Titans' 15th representative on Team USA when he played shortstop for them in the summer of 2005. Ricky Romero represented Cal State Fullerton in 2004 while Wes Littleton, Shane Costa and Chad Cordero were all members of the National Team in 2002. Mark Kotsay and Brian Loyd represented Fullerton and the United States at the 1996 Olympics in Atlanta, Georgia. In winning the bronze medal as part of Team USA, Kotsay and Loyd joined three other Titans who have been members of Olympic teams (Bob Caffrey in 1984 and Phil Nevin and Jason Moler in 1992).

◆ Forty Titans have gone on to play Major League Baseball with the latest edition to the fraternity being Shane Costa, who made his Major League debut for the Kansas City Royals in 2005.

◆ No school has made more trips to Omaha, Nebraska, and the College World Series by winning on the road. Cal State Fullerton has won 10 Regional titles and one Super Regional title on the road. The Titans' last three CWS berths (2001, 2003, 2004), however, have been clinched at Goodwin Field.

◆ In 31 years at the Division I level, the Titans have made it to the NCAA Tournament 27 times. Their current streak of 14 consecutive NCAA appearances is the fifth longest active streak in the nation. Only Miami (33), Florida St. (28), Clemson (19), and LSU (17) currently have more consecutive trips in the tournament.

◆ Ricky Romero made it an even 10 No. 1 draft picks for the Titans in 2005 as he was Toronto's top pick in the Major League Amateur Draft. Other Titans selected in the first round: Tim Wallach (Montreal, 1979), Bob Caffrey (Montreal, 1984), Mike Harkey (Chicago Cubs, 1987), Brent Mayne (Kansas City, 1988), Phil Nevin (Houston, 1992), Dante Powell (San Francisco, 1994), Mark Kotsay (Florida, 1996), Adam Johnson (Minnesota, 2000) and Chad Cordero (Montreal, 2003).

◆ Cal State Fullerton has had 64 All-Americans and 138 first-team all-conference selections in its 31-year Division I history. CSF first joined the Pacific Coast Athletic Association in 1975 when it made the jump to Division I. The baseball conference was not in existence from 1977 to 1984 (CSF played in the SCBA), but returned in 1985. On July 1, 1988, the PCAA officially changed its name to the current Big West Conference.

◆ The Titans have never had a losing season in the 31-year history of the program at the Division I level and have never gone winless in 27 NCAA postseason tournament appearances.

NOTES ON TITANS IN THE BIGS

- Chad Cordero became the first Titan to ever get a Cy Young Award vote. He finished 5th in NL Cy Young voting in 2005, after leading the majors in saves with 47. He also became the first Titan to ever reach the 20-, 30- and 40-save plateau and led the big leagues in a major statistical category (saves).

- Mike Lamb became the first Titan and Houston Astro to ever hit a home run in a World Series game with a second-inning blast off of Chicago White Sox Starter Jose Contreras in Game One the 2005 Fall Classic.

- 1996 Titan teammates Aaron Rowand and Mike Lamb faced off in the 2005 World Series, marking the first time two former Titans have met in the big series. Both were the second and third Titans to ever play in the series.

- Dann Howitt got the last hit allowed by Nolan Ryan – a grand slam home run.

- Andre David hit a home run in his first major league at bat.

- Greg Mathews started game four of the 1987 World Series (10/21/87) for the St. Louis Cardinals. He went 3.2 innings against the Twins before giving way to reliever Bob Forsch who eventually got the win. Mathews became the first Titan to ever play in a World Series game.

- Dan Boone is a distant relative of the fabled frontiersman.

- Tim Wallach made the National League All-Star team five times in his 17-year career. The third baseman was also the first former Titan to receive votes for an MLB MVP race. He finished fourth in the NL MVP race in 1987, 10th in 1990 and 18th in 1994. Also was the first former Fullerton player to win a major award (NL Comeback Player of the Year, 1994).

- Chad Cordero was the last Expo to pitch in Montreal's Olympic Stadium before the team was moved to Washington D.C. He pitched the top of the ninth inning against the Florida Marlins on Sept. 29, 2004, striking out 2 of the four batters he faced. The Expos lost 9-1.

- Pitcher Mike Harkey is the first former Titan to receive MLB Rookie of the Year votes. He finished 5th in NL ROY voting in 1990.

- Three Titans have earned Major League World Series rings with Mark Kotsay grabbing the first in 1997 with the Marlins. Pitcher Dan Naulty earned another in 1999 with the Yankees. Aaron Rowand was the first Titan to earn his hardware by being on the World Series roster as the White Sox defeated the Astros in the 2005 series.

- Andy and Jose Mota are sons of former Major League outfielder and Los Angeles Dodgers Coach Manny Mota.

- Mike Harkey, Mike Schooler, Shane Turner, John Fishel, Kevin Reimer, Larry Casian and Jose Mota were all on the 1985 Titan team which failed to win the PCAA championship and snapped Fullerton's string of 10 consecutive trips to the NCAA playoffs.

- Brent Billingsley, Jeremy Giambi, Mark Kotsay, Mike Lamb, Aaron Rowand, Matt Wise and a then-redshirt Reed Johnson were all products of the 1996 Titan team that saw the Titans start the season 31-2 following the 57-9 finish in 1995, only to struggle down the stretch, going 14-14, just sneaking into the Wichita State Regional.

- Catcher Brent Mayne became the first Major League position player in 32 years to post a pitching win when he worked a scoreless 12th inning in Colorado's 7-6 win over Atlanta on Aug. 22, 2000.

- Frank Charles played for nine years in the minor leagues before finally making his Major League debut for Houston on Sept. 5, 2000.

- Phil Nevin was one of just five players in the National League in 2001 to hit .300 or better with at least 40 homers and 100 RBI. The others were Barry Bonds, Sammy Sosa, Todd Helton and Luis Gonzalez.

- Adam Johnson, the second pick in the 2000 draft, was also the second player from that draft class to appear in the Majors. He struck out Mark McGwire in his debut against St. Louis on July 16, 2001.

- Kirk Saarloos, the 2002 SportsTicker Minor League Pitcher of the Year, was named the National League Rookie of the Month in July, 2002, when he went 3-0 with a 1.77 ERA for Houston. He also became the first former Titan to pitch a no-hitter. In fact, he was one of a Major League record six Astros to pitch June 11, 2003, against the New York Yankees.

The 1988 team posted one of the most dramatic postseason moments in Titan history. Playing in the NCAA South Regional in Starkville, Miss., Fullerton rallied for five runs in the ninth inning to upend top-seeded Texas A&M in the championship game. Mike Ross' two-out three-run homer sealed the comeback and sent the Titans to Omaha for the fifth time.

BRIAN QUINN

Athletics Director

Brian Quinn assumed the post of Director of Athletics at Cal State Fullerton on January 14, 2002.

Under Quinn's leadership, the Titans are successfully weathering a state and systemwide fiscal crisis with minimal impact on student-athletes. Academic performances have improved dramatically and Titan Gym has undergone a dramatic makeover. Over the course of the last three years, the Titans have outperformed the rest of the Big West Conference in the NACDA Cup Standings, topped by consecutive appearances by the baseball team at the College World Series, where the Titans placed third for the fourth time in 2003 and then won their fourth national title in 2004.

Quinn, 64, was the athletic director at Loyola Marymount University from 1985 through 1998. He then dedicated his time towards completing the Burns Recreation Center and Aquatics Center at LMU. He also directed the athletic fundraising efforts as executive director of athletic development.

During his years as director of athletics at LMU the Lions won nine West Coast Conference titles and advanced to the NCAA men's basketball tournament three times and once to the NIT. The basketball team advanced to the Final Eight and led the nation in scoring. The baseball team advanced to the College World Series where it defeated the No. 1 seed, LSU. Women's volleyball won numerous conference championships as well and the women's crew team won the national championship.

Quinn graduated from Loyola (1963) with a degree in business administration and received his masters degree from Long Beach State. He was a long-time coach and athletic administrator at the high school level in the Irvine Unified School District and taught volleyball classes for Irvine Valley College for six years.

He was the chair of the athletic directors for many years in the West Coast Conference and was the chair of the NCAA men's volleyball committee, as well as serving on the board of directors for USA volleyball. He recently began a four-year term on the NCAA Division I baseball committee.

Quinn was inducted into the Athletic Hall of Fame both at his high school (Serra HS) and university (LMU). He was the captain of the basketball team and MVP and three-year starter on the baseball team. The basketball team was the WCC champion and defeated USC in the NCAA tournament. He also was a member of the Balboa Bay Club national champion volleyball team. He continues to be an avid beach volleyball player.

Quinn and his wife of 42 years, Collette, live in Manhattan Beach. They have four adult children: Andrew, a teacher in Atlanta; Janet, who lives in Rye, NY; Suzanne, a teacher in Inglewood; and Maureen, who recently married. The Quinns have six grandchildren, Brendan, Ryan, Owen, Kiernan, Dylan, Colin Brian, and Mary Frances. Quinn is a member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

DR. ALLISON RICH

Senior Associate Athletics Director/SWA

Dr. Allison Rich began her duties as Senior Associate Athletics Director and Senior Woman Administrator at Cal State Fullerton on Jan. 3, 2005.

Dr. Rich most recently was associate director of athletics at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, Calif., where she was in charge of virtually all of the athletic department's internal affairs.

The Fullerton position had been vacant since Dr. June Kearney retired from an interim assignment on July 23, 2004. Dr. Maryalce Jeremiah resigned the position on Apr. 29, 2003, to return as head women's basketball coach.

Dr. Rich had been at Pacific since April of 1998. She previously was a membership services representative at the NCAA for two years. She obtained her bachelors degree from Princeton in 1991. She earned a law degree from Chicago-Kent College of Law in 1995 and her doctorate in educational administration from Pacific in 2002.

The "Titan House," formerly known as the Hettebrink House, was built in 1886 and is reportedly the oldest brick home and third oldest overall in the city of Fullerton. Currently serving as the home of the administrative offices for the Cal State Fullerton department of athletics, the house was built by Henry T. Hettebrink for his family and underwent major renovations and earthquake retrofitting in the late 1990s.

WELCOME TO CAMPUS

Cal State Fullerton is a major regional university in a vital, flourishing area that includes Orange County, metropolitan Los Angeles and the expanding Inland Empire. The beautiful, 236-acre campus is set in a quiet urban community in north Orange County, about 25 miles from downtown Los Angeles and about 21 miles from nearby beaches.

The university offers an affordable, high quality education with an exceptional learning environment. Students flourish in close mentoring relationships with outstanding professors and have numerous opportunities for undergraduate research, professional internships, and prestigious competitions. Students experience the dynamic environment of a metropolitan university, but can enjoy a comfortable atmosphere that feels like a small college campus. It's a place where they can easily find networks of friends, interact with faculty on a personal level, and find the support and encouragement they need to be successful.

With full accreditation for its overall program, many of Cal State Fullerton's academic programs have achieved national prominence because of a distinguished faculty and the achievements of alumni. Students can choose from 105 degree programs, including 50 at the graduate level, offered by eight colleges: the Arts, Business and Economics, Communications, Education, Engineering and Computer Science, Health and Human Development, Humanities and Social Sciences, and Natural Sciences and Mathematics. Credential and certificate programs also are offered.

A vibrant university community, which includes more than 33,000 students and nearly 2,000 full- and part-time faculty members, reflects the rich multicultural diversity of Southern California. In fact, Cal State Fullerton is ranked sixth in the nation in terms of bachelor's degrees awarded to minority students, and more than half of the students are people of color.

The main campus consists of 21 permanent buildings, plus a picturesque 26-acre

Arboretum and student residence halls. In January 2006, a new Performing Arts Center will open. The $48 million complex will provide state-of-the-art facilities for audiences and performers alike, as well as instructional facilities for students. Opening of the $87.5 million Steven G. Mihaylo Hall, new home to the College of Business and Economics, is anticipated in fall 2008. Construction is currently underway on a new parking structure, which is scheduled for completion before the fall 2006 semester.

The university's El Toro Campus offers upper-division and graduate-level courses and provides a convenient location for students who live and work in south Orange County. Other campus satellites include the Grand Central Art Center in Santa Ana, CSUF Garden Grove Center and facilities at the Irvine Spectrum.

An extended education program, which includes open enrollment, expands the university's resources to the surrounding communities. These include academic credit courses, certificate programs for professional development, English classes for non-native speakers of English, a learning-in-retirement program, classes for children and teens, summer camps, international programs and distance education classes.

One of 23 campuses in the California State University System, Cal State Fullerton has shaped a vital role in the growth and prosperity of Southern California. In less than 50 years, the university has awarded degrees to more than 153,000 graduates. Many are leaders in business, government, education and the arts. In addition, the university has an enormous economic impact on the Los Angeles region. As noted in the CSU 2004 study "Working for California: The Impact of the California State University," Cal State Fullerton generates $851 million in economic activity annually, which sustains more than 12,500 jobs in the region and generates more than $45 million per year in state tax revenue.

NATIONAL RANKINGS & HIGHLIGHTS

» U.S. News & World Report lists Cal State Fullerton among its "Top Public Universities," ranking it among the top 10 of the nation's Top Public Universities-Master's institutions in the West.

» According to Black Issues in Higher Education, Cal State Fullerton is sixth in the nation for the overall number of bachelor's degrees awarded to minority students and is the highest ranked among the California State University campuses in this category (June 2005).

In addition to the overall standing, the university was recognized as fifth in the nation and first in California for awarding undergraduate degrees in all categories to Hispanics, and 11th for undergraduate degrees awarded to Asian-Americans. The data supplied by the U.S. Department of Education reflects degrees awarded during the 2003-04 academic year.

» Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education (May 2005) ranks Cal State Fullerton fifth in a listing of the top 100 colleges and universities conferring bachelor's degrees on Hispanics. CSUF is the top California institution of higher education in this category.

» The Performing Arts Major's College Guide lists Cal State Fullerton among its "Most Highly Recommended Undergraduate Programs" for drama and musical theater, and among "Noteworthy Programs" for dance.

» The Templeton Guide: Colleges That Encourage Character Development: A Resource for Parents, Students and Educators lists CSUF's Student Leadership Institute among the guide's "Exemplary Programs" in the student leadership category.

ATHLETIC TRADITIONS

Titan Athletics... A Proud History

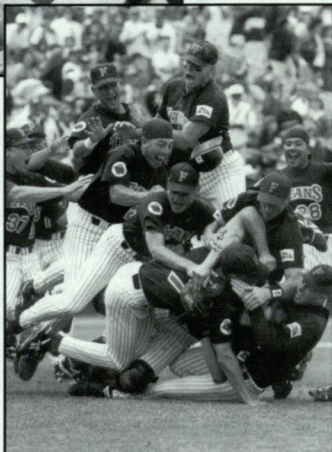

HEAD COACH LYNN ROGERS led the 1979 women's gymnastics squad to the AIAW national title just four years after launching the program.

LEON WOOD, who later played in the NBA for six years, led the celebration after the Titans upset No. 1 UNLV in Titan Gym in 1983.

HEAD COACH JUDI GORMAN, who eventually retired as the winningest collegiate softball coach, led the Titans to the NCAA title in 1986.

Considered by many to be the best college baseball team ever, the 1995 TITANS finished the season on an 18-game winning streak en route to the program's third national title.

Behind the stellar pitching of College World Series Most Outstanding Player Jason Windsor, the 2004 Cal State Fullerton baseball team clinched its fourth NCAA title and became the first team to win the national title in each of the last four decades.

From modest beginnings and never with abundant resources, the Cal State Fullerton Titans have achieved successes that are the envy of many older and larger institutions across the country. "Titan Pride" has been the rallying cry for 12 national team championships in seven different sports, hundreds of individual All-Americans, dozens of eventual professional athletes, numerous national coach of the year award winners, Olympic basketball players, a Miss America candidate and the subject matter of a Walt Disney film.

The tenor was set by the first intercollegiate team - men's basketball. In only his second season, Coach Alex Omalev advanced the Titans five rounds into the NAIA playoffs in 1961-62. Sixteen seasons later, the nation watched another "Cinderella" Titan Five advance to within one victory of the "Final Four" as Bobby Dye's 1977-78 team won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association postseason tournament and then beat nationally ranked New Mexico and USF to gain the finals of the NCAA Western Regional.

The basketball tradition began even stronger on the women's side. Recent Naismith and Women's Basketball Hall of Fame inductee Billie Moore coached the Titans to the national championship in 1970 and star forward Nancy Dunkle was one of her players on the women's 1976 silver-medal winning Olympic team. The most recent Titan All-American was center Genia Miller-Rycraw in 1991.

The Titans earned gold in 1984 when point guard Leon Wood directed the men's Olympic team to victory in Los Angeles. The first-round draft pick of the Philadelphia 76ers went on to a 6-year National Basketball Association career and is now a veteran NBA referee, only the second former NBA player to make that career switch.

Future NBA performers Richard Morton, Henry Turner, Cedric Ceballos and Bruce Bowen (a starting forward on the 2003 and 2005 NBA champion San Antonio Spurs) were some of the stars of the 1980s and 1990s, when the Titans made NIT appearances on both the men's and women's sides. Ceballos gained notoriety for winning the NBA Slam-Dunk contest one year while the women can point with pride to Autumn Hollyfield, the nation's top 3-point field goal shooter in 1993-94, and Kiko Lahanas, the nation's scoring leader in 1994-95. Rycraw still holds NCAA records and came back from a career in Japan to earn a spot with the Los Angeles Sparks before returning to Fullerton as an assistant coach.

Gymnastics has brought Fullerton considerable fame. Former men's Coach Dick Wolfe won three college division NCAA titles (1971, 1972 and 1974) and had subsequent teams in the Top Ten at the Division I level while winning 10 PCAA titles in a row. His 1987 squad was ranked No. 1 in the nation. Coach Lynn Rogers began the women's program in 1976 and the Titans have finished sixth or better in the nation 12 times and won the national title in 1979. One-armed Carol Johnston was an All-American and star of the Disney film, "Lefty," while Tami Elliott (1984-86) won 10 All-American awards before becoming Miss Virginia and competing in the Miss America pageant.

Baseball exploded onto the national scene behind former Coach Augie Garrido by breaking the USC monopoly in the NCAA western regionals in Fullerton's first Div. I season in 1975. The Titans have gone on to win four national championships and establish a remarkable winning tradition over four decades. The Titans captured their first NCAA title in 1979 behind Tim allach, who would go on to play 17 major league seasons. They won again in 1984 behind College World Series MVP John Hel, in 1995 behind national player of the year Mark Kotsay and again in 2004 behind All-American pitcher Jason Windsor, who won two games and saved a third in Omaha to cap a two-year, 8-0 post-season record. Coach George Horton has been named national coach of the year honors in two of the past three seasons.

Women also have sparkled on Fullerton diamonds. Hall of Fame Coach Judi Garman founded the softball program in 1980 and won more games (913) than any previous coach. The Titans have made eight trips to the College World Series and 22 national appearances. They brought home an NCAA Championship in 1986 and boast three national players of the year in pitchers Kathy Van Wyk, Susan LeFebvre and Connie Clark.

The now-defunct football program made great strides in Division I-A after its humble Div. II beginnings in 1970. Coach Gene Murphy guided the Titans to two conference championships and four runner-up finishes between 1983 and 1989. Notable products included Super Bowl rookies Bobby Kemp (Cincinnati in 1982) and Mark Collins (New York Giants in 1987). Titans have had remarkable success in the Canadian Football League. Allen Pitts was the CFL's all-time leading receiver and Armon Allen, who was still active this season, is the all-time leading passer, and Mike Pringle is the all-time leading rusher.

With the loss of football, Head Coach Al Mistri's soccer program filled the void in Titan Stadium. A women's squad was launched in 1993 and it coincided with a memorable men's season that saw the Titans climb as high as No. 3 in the national rankings. They were led by All-American forward Eddie Lato and competed at the NCAA Final Four, placing third. There have been three subsequent trips to the playoffs and a No. 2 national ranking in 1996. On the international level, former Titan Brian Dunseth captained the U.S. Olympic team in the 2000 Sydney Olympics.

There have been national titles in men's cross country (1971) and women's fencing (1974) and individual standouts such as golfers Martha Wilkerson and Paul Wise, runner Mark Vert and wrestler Laszlo Molnar, who finished second in the national in 1994 at 167 pounds. Heather Killeen became the Titans' first Div. I cross country All-American in 1994, won three events at the 1995 Big West Conference track championships and was one of 10 finalists for 1995 NCAA Woman of the Year Award. Brandon Campbell was the Big West track and field male athlete of the year in 2001 after starring in the high jump, long jump and quarter mile. He also was a starter on the basketball team.

Several current and recent Titans have garnered international attention including appearances in the 2004 Olympics in Athens. Catcher Jenny Topping played for the gold medal-winning U.S. Softball team while outfielder Lindsey Bashor was on the Greek team. Competing for Mexico were pole vaulter Giovanni Sannaro and soccer player Marlene Sandoval.

On the diamond, 15 Titan baseball players have donned the Red, White, and Blue with Team USA, including shortstop Blake Davis in 2005.

What about the nickname?

What exactly is a Titan?
"Why do you have an elephant for your mascot?"
Those are two of the first questions that arise when a Cal State Fullerton athletic team makes its inaugural visit to an area. While the relatively young institution carved out of the Orange County citrus groves may be too new for many traditions, there are some recognized legends.

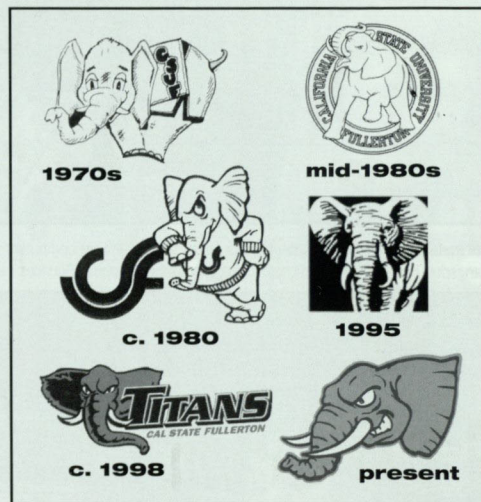

"It was the students' decision in a vote," explained Dr. Ernest Becker, founding Dean of Students, of the nickname "Titans."
"More than a hundred names were suggested, and the Student Council took on the job of narrowing the list down to a few for the purposes of an election. The vote was close, with Titans narrowly prevailing over Aardvarks and Rebels."

It was a unique student body, all upper division students until 1963. There were 453 of them, mostly female, in 1959, the first year of classes at what was then known as Orange County State College.

"Even when it was decided that 'Titans' would be the nickname, there was confusion as to what it represented," said Becker. "I was thinking of a large mythological figure from Greek history, not unlike Tommy Trojan, but with perhaps straighter, more modern lines. In the same vein, the original dormitories were named Othrys Hall. There were others, however, who related the name to the Titan missile then in prominence."

Nothing official was done but then along came the "First Intercollegiate Elephant Race in Human History."

What began as a practical joke attracted elephants from universities around the nation and even Oxford from England. A crowd estimated at more than 10,000 people turned out on "Dumbo Downs" as the hastily graded field became known that spring afternoon in 1962.

To publicize the event, a circus-like elephant called Tuffy the Titan was used and it began appearing on sweaters and notebook covers around the campus. With no other mascot, the elephant was unofficially adopted. Several revisions of the caricature have been made to create a more tenacious Tuffy, or Titus as he also was called in an attempt to make him Greek. The costume that brings the mascot to life also has changed. Tuffy even attracted a female Tiffy in 1992.

The origin of the school colors also bears discussion. The students voted for royal blue and white, but the athletic equipment manager at the time thought orange was appropriate on uniforms for a school known as Orange County State College. The unofficial color was "adopted" and finally was formally acknowledged by the Athletics Council in 1987. A change to a navy blue was initiated in 1992 with a de-emphasis of the orange.

Cal State Fullerton student-athletes can utilize state-of-the-art computers with high-speed Internet access in the spacious study hall in Langsdorf Hall, conveniently located next door to the Academic Services center.

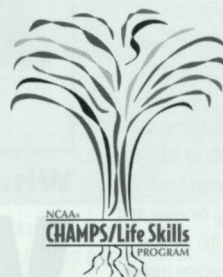

The academic services staff takes a proactive role by coordinating study plans, study skills workshops, tutoring sessions, study halls, faculty and peer mentoring and campus services referrals.

Cal State Fullerton recognizes the priority of the student athlete's academic success. Athletic Academic Services works closely with other student support departments, faculty, and coaches to ensure the academic progress and promote general well being of the student athlete.

The services have been created to assist student-athletes with a number of issues ranging from the development of personal responsibility and educational goals to addressing personal and social problems that are unique for our students.

The staff takes a proactive role by coordinating academic plans, study skills workshops, tutoring sessions, study hall, mentoring, and advisement. Student-athletes are also monitored on their academic progress towards graduation, provided personalized, priority advisement and registration, and alerted when their academic progress may be considered at-risk.

In addition to the academic services, Cal State Fullerton participates in the NCAA's CHAMPS/Life Skills program which is aimed at enhancing the quality of the student-athletes experience within the university setting. University 100-Life Skills is a one unit mandatory class for all incoming first-time freshman student athletes. Monthly workshops around the five primary areas – academics, athletics, personal development, career development and community service – are coordinated specifically for student-athletes. Additional activities by students wishing to serve in a leadership role advocating on behalf of student-athletes or coordinating community-service projects can be met by participating with the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC).

ATHLETIC TRAINING

The athletic training program at Cal State Fullerton plays a major role in maintaining the health of Titan student-athletes. Team physicians, three full-time certified athletic trainers, two certified graduate assistants and more than 20 student assistants comprise a program that is generally regarded as one of the very best in the country.

Titan athletic training personnel specialize in preventive medicine, recognition of injuries and rehabilitation. Student athletic trainers who are admitted into the highly selective ATEP (Athletic Training Educational Program), which is administered through the Department of Kinesiology and Health Promotion, must meet demanding requirements. In addition to taking 100 units of kinesiology and athletic training courses, they must serve five semesters and 1,500 clinical supervised hours.

Before becoming certified, candidates must pass the National Athletic Trainers' Association Board of Certification examination. Since 1997, nearly 80 percent of Cal State Fullerton graduates have passed on their first attempt, compared to the national rate of about 30 percent. Since the inception of the program, dozens of alumni have moved into coveted positions across the country (see below).

Julie Max, MeD, ATC
Head Athletic Trainer

JULIE MAX, Cal State Fullerton's Head Athletic Trainer, has been the driving force behind the development of an athletic training program that has received national acclaim. Max is in her 26th year at her alma mater since replacing her mentor, the late Jerry Lloyd. Recently, Max completed a second two-year term as president of the 25,000-member National Association of Athletic Trainers (NATA). Max, the first female president in the organization's history, previously served a six-year stint on the organization's board of directors and a one-year term as its vice president. In 1997, Max was honored with the NATA Service Award, which recognizes out-standing service to the athletic training profession at the state and district level.

Athletic Training Personnel handle all the needs for all 17 of Cal State Fullerton's varsity athletic teams.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES

TITAN GYMNASIUM

TITAN GYMNASIUM

Titan Gym continues to undergo major renovations. In the past few years, chairback seats have replaced most of the bleachers, portable basket supports have replaced the fold down backboards, new paint and banners have been applied to the walls and the playing surface has been redone. Recently completed was an expansion that features numerous classrooms, physical testing laboratories, a new upstairs practice facility, as well as additional seating. A new "drop down" scoreboard over center court was installed in the spring of 2003. The facility also features practice and match rooms for the wrestling, gymnastics and fencing programs.

GOODWIN FIELD

Goodwin Field has played host to five NCAA Regionals and four Super Regionals in the past six years. A $3 million expansion project, spearheaded by a $1 million gift from Jerry and Marilyn Goodwin, has transformed the field into one of the premier collegiate facilities on the West Coast. The field now features the Wilson Clubhouse – which includes lockerrooms, a reception area and offices for the coaches – and the Doubek VIP Room. In 2005, Goodwin Field also became home of the Fullerton Flyers of the independent Golden Baseball League.

TITAN SOFTBALL COMPLEX

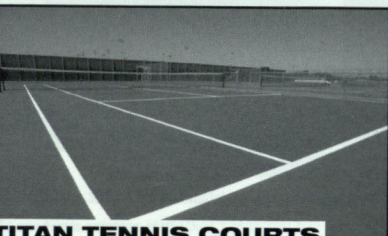

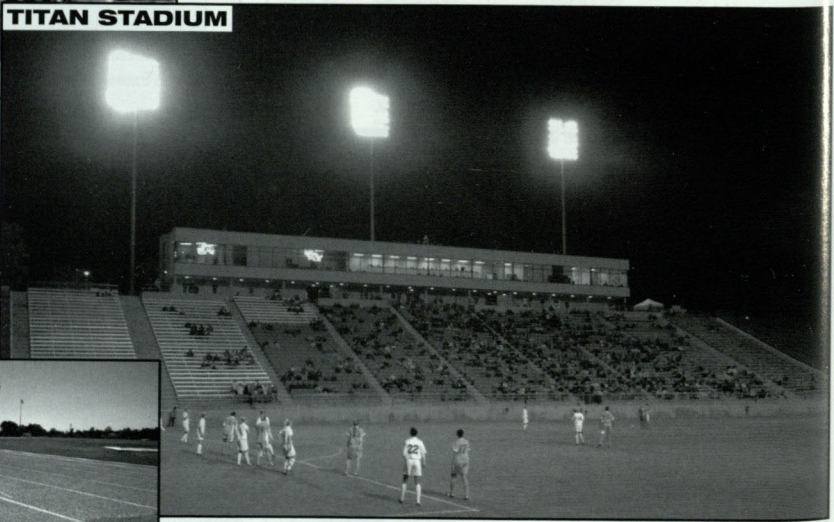

TITAN SOFTBALL COMPLEX

Having received a complete makeover since the 2000 season, the Titan Softball Complex boasts one of the top facilities in the nation. Utilizing the adjacent Wilson Clubhouse and Doubek VIP Room, the two-diamond complex can now adequately serve as a host site for postseason competition (it was the site of an eight-team NCAA Regional in 2003) in addition to the annual Kia Classic, the top regular-season tournament in the nation.

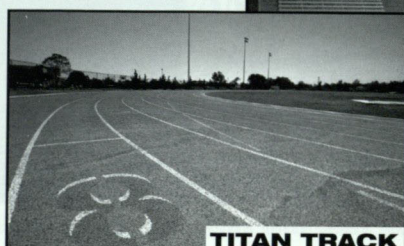

TITAN STADIUM

TITAN STADIUM

Titan Stadium is considered among the finest soccer facilities in the nation and regularly hosts professional and international soccer matches in addition to the Titan men's and women's programs. The facility, completed in 1992, was home to the Titan football program for one year before the sport was dropped after the 1992 season. The stadium is also a hot-spot for the entertainment industry and is regularly featured in television commercials and programs. UCLA also utilized the facility in 2003 for its fall football camp. The playing surface was totally renovated in July of 2005.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

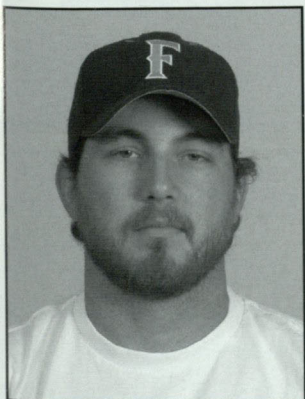

The 6,000 square-foot weight room inside Titan Stadium features eight platforms, eight squat racks, plyometric devices and nearly 8,000 pounds in free weights.

Cal State Fullerton student-athletes have year-round access to the services offered by the Strength and Conditioning Program, under the direction of Andy Williams. Aimed at developing speed, power, strength and endurance in Cal State Fullerton's student-athletes, the program plays a key role in the success of Titan teams.

Individual workouts are designed, implemented and regularly adjusted by Williams to help each student-athlete develop the stamina needed to maintain the rigorous year-round workouts associated with Division I sports.

Located inside Titan Stadium is a 6,000 square-foot weight room facility featuring eight platforms, eight squat racks, plyometric devices and nearly 8,000 pounds in free weights. The facility will service more than 300 student-athletes over the course of the year.

Andy Williams
Strength & Conditioning Coach

ANDY WILLIAMS was named Cal State Fullerton's second full-time strength and conditioning coach on Oct. 11, 2004. Williams came to Fullerton after spending the previous 20 months as the director of human performance at Somerset Sports and Rehabilitation in New Jersey.

Armed with a wide range of experience, Williams spent two years as the head strength & conditioning coach at Tennessee State, working with football and women's basketball, and a year each at Middle Tennessee State (assistant strength and conditioning coach) and Connecticut (grad asst.).

In 1999, Williams was the head strength and conditioning coach for the Frankfurt Galaxy of NFL Europe during their World Bowl Championship season and also served as the assistant special teams coach. He also served a two-year internship with the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs from 1996-98 and was an intern with Major League Baseball's Kansas City Royals during spring training in 1997.

Williams earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science from Missouri Western State College in 1997, where he also played three seasons at outside linebacker, and completed his coursework for a master's degree in education at Middle Tennessee State in 2002.
