PRESS ROOM: Room 162 in the eastern wing of the gymnasium building serves as the press room for Titan basketball. Three telephones are available approximately 10 minutes after the final buzzer.

PRESS TABLE: Located on the south side of the playing floor, behind the scorer's table. A limited number of working spots are available.

GAME SUMMARIES: Will be collated and distributed in Room 162 of the gymnasium building. Halftime box scores, play-by-play accounts and final box scores will be provided.

TELEPHONES: There is one telephone at the press table — (714) 773-3970 — which must be kept free for messages, out-of-town scores, etc. Additional telephones cannot be installed at the press table due to physical limitations of the building.

RADIO: The broadcast position is adjacent to the scorer's table. A telephone will be provided the designated commercial station for each visiting school in Titan Gym. No additional phones may be installed due to the physical limitations of the building. Use (714) 773-3970 as your trouble number.

LOCKER ROOMS: Located off the hallway on the north side of the playing floor. George McQuarn will conduct post-game interviews in the equipment manager's office just outside the Fullerton locker room. Players will be brought to the same area upon request after a reasonable cooling off period.

CREDENTIALS: Requests should be made as far in advance as possible. When time permits, credentials will be mailed. If not, Press Will Call is located at the western entrance to the gymnasium. Credentials MUST BE WORN IN PLAIN SIGHT to access the doors leading to the locker rooms and press rooms.

SCOUTS: Requests should be made at least one week in advance.

PARKING: Except on Monday through Thursday evenings, ample free parking is available in the lot immediately west of the Gymnasium. On Monday through Thursday evenings, parking is available by:

- a) Using athletics Lot A and paying $1.50 upon entry for a daily permit, or
- b) Obtaining a complimentary pass upon presentation of news credential from the visitors information booth located on the south side of campus, northwest of the intersection of Commonwealth and Nutwood Avenues.

ON THE COVER... The return of forward Derek Jones to health and the Titan basketball team was sweet music to the ears of coach George McQuarn and his staff. "DJ" is back for another "spin" after recovering from a gunshot wound that kept him out of school for a full year and securing a "hardship" sixth season of eligibility from the NCAA. With no starters returning from last year's team, he is the veteran on a very young 1988-89 Titan squad.

THE UNIVERSITY

California State University, Fullerton is a broadly based liberal arts institution that also offers many professional studies such as business administration, education, engineering and nursing.

Classes were offered for the first time in 1959 and the first commencement — for five students — took place in 1960.

The University's 24,000 students come primarily from Southern California with many from other states and other nations. Most students commute each day to and from classes, although nearly 400 now live on campus in newly completed residence halls.

Drawn from throughout the world, the 775-member faculty is noted for its commitment to effective teaching and scholarly activity. Research is actively pursued, typically with students involved.

The University enjoys full accreditation for its overall program. In addition, national recognition has been accorded to programs in art, athletic training, business, chemistry, communications, dance, education, engineering, music, nursing, public administration, speech and hearing, and theatre. All told there are 85 degree programs — 41 of them at the graduate level plus several credential programs and six certificate programs.

Reinforcing classroom instruction is an internship and cooperative education program that allows students to gain on-the-job experience while continuing their regular studies.

Another amenity is the extended education program. It provides classes, workshops, conferences and study tours without the formalities of regular admission to the University.

Still another strong point is the University's cultural events program. It includes a series that brings nationally known professional artists to the campus for residencies as well as public performances.

An extensive recreation program aimed chiefly at students but also open to community members is another highlight, as is the network of community support groups, including the Titan Athletic Foundation.

Further examples of community outreach are the new Ruby Gerontology Center, which serves as an educational and research facility for the study of aging and a meeting place for the Continuing Learning Experience support group.

Through a series of joint ventures started in 1979 with the establishment of the Fullerton Arboretum and continuing now with the construction of the Marriott Hotel, the University and the City of Fullerton are working to complete an on-campus sports complex by mid-1990. Already in use are two lighted softball fields. When the main part of the sports complex is finished, it will include a stadium for football, soccer and other activities plus a pavilion for baseball.

To reinforce the University's commitment to high academic standards and community services, Cal State has embarked on a comprehensive fund-raising campaign. Its purpose is to raise the necessary non-state funding to make a very good university a great university.

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb, President

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb became the third president of Cal State Fullerton on Oct. 1, 1981.

Dr. Cobb had served as dean of Douglass College at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, since 1976. There she also held the rank of professor of biological sciences. Prior to her Douglass appointment she was dean of Connecticut College and professor of zoology for seven years. Previously, she was professor of biology at Sarah Lawrence College in New York.

Known for her work in cell physiology, her promotion of the advancement of women in scientific fields and her activities on behalf of minorities, she is the first black woman to head a major public university on the West Coast.

Cobb earned her bachelor's degree from Talladega College in Alabama and her M.S. and Ph.D. in cell physiology from New York University. She also holds 16 honorary doctorates. She is the mother of a son, Jonathan, a graduate of the Cornell University Medical School now serving as a resident physician at Mt. Sinai Medical Center in New York.

— THE NICKNAME and MASCOT —

"What exactly is a Titan?"

"Why do you have an elephant for your mascot?"

Those are two of the first questions that arise when a Cal State Fullerton athletic team makes its inaugural visit to a new town. While the relatively young institution carved out of citrus groves may be too new for many traditions, there are some legends.

"It was the students' decision in a vote," explains Dr. Ernest Becker, founding Dean of Students, of the nickname 'Titans.' "More than a hundred names were suggested, and the Student Council took on the job of narrowing the list down for the purposes of an election. The vote was close, with Titans narrowly prevailing over Aardvarks and Rebels."

It was a unique student body at "Orange County State College" at the outset with only upper division students until 1963. There were 453 students, mostly female, in 1959, the first year of classes. They voted to organize as a student body and assess themselves $10 per semester.

"Even when it was decided that 'Titans' would be the nickname, there was confusion as to what it represented," said Becker. "I was thinking of a large mythological figure from Greek history, not unlike Tommy Trojan, but with perhaps straighter, more modern lines. In the same vein, the original dormitories were named Othrys Hall. There were others, however, who related the name to the Titan missile then in prominence."

Nothing official was done about a mascot because no one knew quite what to do. Until, of course, the "First Intercollegiate Elephant Race in Human History."

What began as a practical joke turned into probably the biggest "happening" on the campus to this day. The "gag" attracted elephants from universities around the nation and even Oxford from England. A crowd estimated at more than 10,000 people turned out on "Dumbo Downs" as the hastily graded field became known that Spring afternoon in 1962.

To publicize the event, a circus-like elephant called "Tuffy the Titan" was used and it began appearing on sweaters and notebook covers around the campus. Several revisions in the caricature have been made in recent years to create a more tenacious Tuffy, or Titus as he also was called in an attempt to make him Greek.

The mascot easily outlived the race. In 1963, one elephant charged into the crowd causing minor injuries and the early signs of a now-common liability insurance crisis halted a tradition in the bud.

The origin of the school colors also bears discussion. The students voted for royal blue and white when they chose Titans, but the athletic equipment manager at the time thought orange was an appropriate color on uniforms for a school known as Orange County State College. The unofficial color was adopted just as the unofficial elephant.

When Lynn Eilefson was appointed athletic director in 1982, he furthered the cause of orange because of its uniqueness and brightness compared to the wide variety of blues. Thus, the "Orange Crush" booster group was born and the color remains predominant in most team uniforms.

And, finally, there is the matter of the school's name. As mentioned earlier, the name originally was Orange County State College. It's also been Orange State College and later California State College at Fullerton or California State College, Fullerton. The change to university status necessitated a further change to California State University, Fullerton, but the school's address could not be changed from 800 N. State College Boulevard. And that's only the start of the confusion.

To out-of-staters, the sky seems to be the limit because most don't realize there are two distinct systems of higher education in the state — the University of California and the State University system. So, we've been called everything from Cal-Fullerton to UC Fullerton to California State Fullerton State to simply Fullerton State. The preferred moniker is Cal State Fullerton, which is what most of the more than 50,000 graduates call it. But since there are only two other major institutions known as Titans (University of Detroit and Oral Roberts University), just call Fullerton teams the "Titans!"

ATHLETICS DEPARTMENT

Ed Carroll, Director of Athletics

The rapid climb of Ed Carroll through the ranks of the Cal State Fullerton athletic department culminated in his appointment as Director of Athletics on July 1, 1985.

University President Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb made the announcement on May 28, 1985, after a nationwide search and Carroll, now 38, immediately ushered in an era of "positive thinking" for Titan athletics.

"One of my priorities has been to enhance the image of our athletic program by stressing positives," says Carroll. "We must use the power of positive thinking to overcome our limitations and build our program to greater heights."

One of Carroll's first moves was to upgrade the football schedule.

The Titans have played LSU, Florida and West Virginia the past few seasons. With the new stadium complex now firmly on the horizon, Carroll has signed Mississippi State, Colorado State and Army to home and home series. Road games at San Diego State and Georgia also have been added.

Carroll scored a hiring coup when he was able to replace Augie Garrido with equally successful Larry Cochell as the baseball coach. Cochell took the Titans to the College World Series in his first season and was selected national Coach of the Year by "Collegiate Baseball Magazine."

Building plans are being finalized and construction has begun indirectly on an on-campus Sports Complex to provide a playing facility for football, soccer and baseball. A Marriott Hotel is being erected on campus and the revenue it generates will help finance the $6.7 million athletics project.

Carroll began his Fullerton athletic career as a wrestler. In 1972, he served as team captain and was selected the "Most Outstanding Wrestler" in the California Collegiate Athletic Association championship meet. He later served as an assistant to former head coach Don Matson.

Carroll earned bachelor's degrees in history (1972) and physical education (1974) from Fullerton as well as a secondary teaching credential. He taught physical education classes at Fullerton and earned a master's degree in recreation administration from Long Beach State.

After serving in various capacities in the Fullerton recreation department, Carroll left briefly in mid-1980 to serve as a recreational sports programmer and doctoral intern at Indiana University. He returned to Fullerton in November, 1980, as an assistant athletic director and later served as acting director of the Titan Athletic Foundation. He then served under athletic director Lynn Eilefson, who left in January, 1985.

Ed and his wife Connie live in Fullerton with young children Brandon and Kimberly.

TITAN ATHLETIC FOUNDATION

Andy Hurley

The Titan Athletic Foundation, or the T.A.F. as it is usually called, is a non-profit organization established solely for the purpose of generating financial and other support for the Cal State Fullerton athletic department.

Membership is open to everyone and the current rolls include not only alumni, faculty, staff and students but also a great many friends of the university, area businesses and respected community leaders.

Gifts received by the T.A.F. are used to provide a quality education for deserving student-athletes.

The 1988 fund drive directed by Den Hood was the most productive ever with more than $382,000 in cash pledged.

The current president is Don Outlaw. Past presidents have included Kevin Forth, Ken Henderson, Don Karcher, Buck Johns, Pierre Nicolas, Larry Slagle, Jim Woods, Bud Steffen and Den Hood.

Andy Hurley is completing his first year as executive director. He is assisted by a staff of Greg Bistline, Heidi Schweizer and Jennifer Creese.

COACHING STAFF

Acting Head Coach John Sneed, 1st/9th year

John Sneed was thrust into his first collegiate head coaching role on Nov. 3, three weeks into practice drills, when George McQuarn resigned after eight years at the helm. Sneed's appointment will carry through the entire season, his ninth in the Fullerton program.

Sneed most recently had worked primarily with the forwards and coordinated the scouting of opponents among his myriad duties for the Titans. He has coordinated recruiting and the academic program and tutorial services and also has made a major contribution toward the promotion and marketing of Titan basketball. He has been the inspiration behind many promotional themes and home attendance has more than doubled during his tenure.

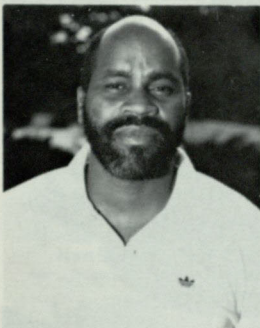

Sneed, 40, brought experience with winning Division I programs and remarkably successful high school teams to Fullerton when he became a member of McQuarn's original Titan staff in 1980.

Sneed was an assistant for one year at the University of Arizona, a 21-6 season (1976-77) which took the Wildcats to the NCAA playoffs. During 1977-78 he was an assistant at San Diego State and the 19-8 Aztecs won the PCAA title before being eliminated in the post-season tournament by Cal State Fullerton. He also was at San Diego in 1978-79.

Sneed succeeded McQuarn at Verbum Dei High School in Los Angeles in 1974 and won the CIF 4A title and CIF Coach of the Year honors with a 30-2 record. His Eagles won two more Camino Real League titles with 28-1 and 23-5 seasons and three times he was league coach of the year. His career prep mark was 81-8 (.910) and the 1974 team was recognized as national champion by the National Sport News Service.

A Cal State Long Beach graduate, Sneed served two years as an assistant to McQuarn at Verbum Dei. He is a native of Gastonia, North Carolina. He and wife Rose and one-year-old daughter Ashley live in Garden Grove.

Assistant Coach Donny Daniels, 3rd year

Donny Daniels returns for his third year as a full-time assistant at Cal State Fullerton, where he has been a familiar face for many years. He will take on added duties with the departure of George McQuarn, particularly in the period of time it takes to appoint an additional assistant.

The former Titan player's primary responsibility lies with recruiting, where the Titans' most recent influx of signees was ranked No. 36 in the nation by Off the Glass Magazine. On the floor, Daniels is responsible for teaching and developing the centers. In addition, he has initiated an off-season weight-training program for all players.

Daniels resumed his Fullerton relationship after two successful seasons at Los Angeles Harbor Junior College in Wilmington. The Seahawks posted an overall mark of 33-29 in his two seasons including the championship of the Moorpark Tournament and they made two trips to the state playoffs. In 1985-86, they advanced to the final round of eight.

Daniels, who graduated with a degree in criminal justice, played forward for two seasons at Cal State Fullerton (1974-75 and 1975-76) under coach Bobby Dye and was selected the team's top defensive player as a senior.

A graduate of Verbum Dei High School and a member of George McQuarn's Eagle basketball team, Daniels' first coaching tour with the Titans came during the 1981-82 and 1982-83 seasons.

Donny, his wife Christine and young children Eric and Kalynn live in Chino.

BASKETBALL SUPPORT STAFF

Alison Cone, Academics Coordinator

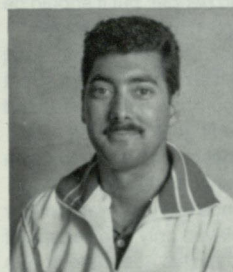

Alison Cone is in her sixth year at Cal State Fullerton as Academics Coordinator, assisting student-athletes in reaching their academic goals. She organizes the tutorial programs, sets up study halls and conducts advisement sessions with each athlete.

Cone previously served as assistant athletic director and advising and eligibility coordinator at Cal State Dominguez Hills.

A native of Washington, Cone earned her bachelor's degree at Washington State and her teaching certificate at Central Washington. She coached tennis, basketball, track and soccer at Auburn High School and basketball and volleyball at Green River Community College in Washington.

Cone worked on her master's degree at Dominguez Hills, where she also lectured in physical education classes and served as women's tennis coach for the 1982-83 seasons. She is single and lives in Fullerton.

David Grossman, Graduate Assistant

David Grossman begins his second year as a graduate assistant coach for the Titans after serving on a volunteer basis during the 1986-87 season. This year he will be in charge of study hall and film exchange when not assisting on the floor.

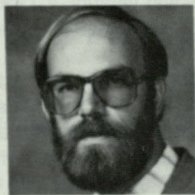

Grossman, 26, graduated from Cal State Fullerton in 1987, obtaining a bachelor's degree in physical education with an emphasis in sports management. He is working on his master's degree in physical education.

A two-year varsity letterman at Emil R. Buchser High School in Santa Clara, Grossman played one season at West Valley Junior College in Saratoga. There he earned an associate arts degree in business administration before matriculating to Concordia College in Portland, Oregon.

A native of Brooklyn, New York, Grossman came to Fullerton to concentrate on academics. He assisted with recruiting and player development at West Valley and his goal is to coach basketball at the collegiate level. Grossman is single and lives in Brea.

SEASON PREVIEW

A strong recruiting crop and the healthy return of 1986-87 starting forward Derek Jones are being counted upon to offset the untimely departure of coach George McQuarn and the loss of two of the most productive players in the history of Cal State Fullerton men's basketball.

With four-year lettermen Richard Morton and Henry Turner now pursuing professional playing careers, acting head coach John Sneed will quickly try to put together a new nucleus by Dec. 1 when the Titans open the season at the University of Utah. The lack of even a single returning starter from last season gave rise to numerous question marks and the Nov. 3 transition from McQuarn to Sneed will no doubt produce further changes.

"If we don't all pull together at the outset, things could be real tough for us," said Sneed, whose assignment will cover the entire season.

"Maybe this will pull everybody together," said assistant Donny Daniels, whose role also has been expanded.

New will be the watchword of 1988-89 Titan basketball.

"Most of the players are new, the conference has a new name, it's a new situation for me, personally, and this is a new situation for the program — we usually have a couple of starters back to build around," said Sneed. "I've got some ideas about the new and old people, but it should be an interesting December schedule. We should be a stronger club in the second half of the season."

The initial question mark concerns the condition of Jones (6-7 senior, Millikan HS and Long Beach CC), who was shot from behind and wounded in the back and left arm in a random street shooting near his home in Long Beach on Aug. 30, 1987. The senior southpaw could not attend school last year and has not completely regained all of the feeling in the fingers of his left hand.

"We will just have to see what he can do in game situations," said Sneed. "His ability to catch the ball is the primary concern. But we need his experience and leadership on the floor."

Jones averaged 8.7 points and 5.7 rebounds in 1986-87 and his absence last year was a major factor in the Titans' first losing season (12-17) in seven years. He has played only one season of the past three, having sat out 1985-86 at Long Beach City College to obtain his Associate of Arts degree.

If Jones can compensate for the departure of Turner, the Titans' No. 3 all-time rebounder and No. 4 all-time scorer, then Sneed can concentrate on replacing the scoring punch provided by Morton. The second-team all-conference guard averaged 22 points last season and finished second only to Leon Wood in Titan career scoring with 1,705 points. He made the opening day roster of the Indiana Pacers.

"Cedric Ceballos (6-7 junior, Dominguez HS and Ventura JC) will fill the scorer's role even though he will play the small forward position for us," says Sneed. "He did a lot of things for Ventura College last year and will be on the floor a lot for us."

Ceballos was the leading scorer in California junior college ranks last year, averaging 28 points per game while also pulling down 11 rebounds. He was the Most Valuable Player of the Western States Conference and a JC All-American. He was ranked as high as the No. 3 JC recruit nationally and lifted the Titans to a ranking in the Top 20 JC recruiting classes, which also included College of Eastern Utah forward William Allen, who quit the Titan squad in late October, and Los Angeles Harbor College guard Mark Hill.

"Hill (6-3 junior, Locke HS and L.A. Harbor JC) is the best outside shooter in our program," said Sneed.

Allen is the all-time leading scorer in CEU history with 1,418 points. He was an honorable mention JC All-American and is a physical, aggressive rebounder but left due to personal problems.

Hill is a two-time all-conference selection who averaged 23 points last season. He is an accomplished jump shooter with 3-point range.

A pair of local freshmen also are expected to make an immediate impact on a squad of 12 players, only five of whom were on last year's roster. Both Wayne Williams of Manual Arts High and Michael Brown from Westchester could find themselves in the Titans' backcourt come December.

Williams led the Toilers to the state championship last year. The 6-foot-1 point guard scored a regional-final record 30 points in an upset victory over Crenshaw High and then tallied 25 including the game-winning basket in a one-point victory in the title game against Bishop O'Dowd High in Oakland. He has 3-point range and is an excellent defender.

Brown is a versatile 6-foot-7 athlete who could play either guard position or small forward. He averaged 14 points and 12 rebounds last year. But he still was missing from practice in November due to a bout with mononucleosis.

The returning "veterans" are center John Sykes (6-8 junior, Merced HS and U. of Texas) and guard Marlon Vaughn (6-1 junior, Dominguez HS), each of whom averaged about 10 minutes a game and started on only two occasions. The other lettermen are forward Brent Calvin (6-8 senior, Redwood HS and College of Sequoias), who played in only nine games before suffering a kneecap injury; guard Randal Moos (6-4 senior, Palisades HS and Santa Monica CC), who hit four 3-point baskets during a season that consisted of 45 minutes of action; and forward Benson Williams, a walk-on from the University of Illinois-Chicago who didn't become eligible until mid-season.

Two redshirts who could make a contribution are center David Moody (6-8 junior, Central HS of Omaha) and forward Rashone Lewis (6-5 sophomore, Verbum Dei HS). Moody chose to sit out last season after two years as a lightly used reserve and could press for playing time at center. Lewis was a victim of Proposition 48 and must overcome a year of inactivity.

"It's no coincidence that we have a lot of home games on the schedule this year," says Sneed, who has trips only to Utah, San Diego and Portland among a nine-game pre-conference slate. "We knew we were losing five seniors from last year's team and would have a young squad this year. We just didn't know we also would lose Bobby Adair (drop out) and Van Anderson (academics). Losing Coach and William Allen were really surprises."

Michael Brown is an incoming freshman who is expected to see considerable playing time this season in the Titans' backcourt... big and versatile guard... could play either the point or the off guard position and could possibly see action at small forward if necessary... was slowed in early practice drills due to battle with mononucleosis... outstanding performer last year for coach Ed Azzam at Westchester High School in Los Angeles... averaged 16 points, 13 rebounds and 7 assists... two-time first-team All-Central League selection... All-Bay Area and All-South Bay... was team's Most Valuable Player for two seasons... biggest thrill was scoring 22 points, grabbing 23 rebounds and handing out 10 assists in game against top-ranked Crenshaw High School... chose Fullerton over Pepperdine, UNLV and San Jose State "because of the leadership of coach McQuarn and the closeness to home so my family can watch me play"... credits coach Azzam for most influence on his career... "He gave me enough freedom to learn how to take responsibility and to be a team player"... was three-year varsity letterman... as a junior averaged 14 points and 10 rebounds... as a sophomore averaged 8 points and 5 rebounds... mother is Linda Daniels of Los Angeles... has one older sister, Stacey Allen... criminal justice major who hopes to launch a business career if he doesn't achieve his goal of playing professional ball.

Brent Calvin will try to bounce back from a pair of untimely knee injuries to contribute to the Titans' inside game... suffered a dislocated knee cap on Jan. 28 and missed the rest of last season... worked extremely hard to rehabilitate and strengthen the knee, which had been a chronic problem, only to hurt it again a few days into the Fall conditioning program... underwent surgery to clean the joint and fell behind in early practice sessions... strong rebounder who relishes the inside contact... smart player with good court sense... will make a bid for increased playing time this year in the absence of Vincent Blow and Oval Miller.

LAST YEAR: Played in nine of Titans' first 17 games before going down with a recurrence of an old malady... was six minutes into most productive outing of year when sidelined... had 2 rebounds and had scored 1 point... only longer efforts were vs. Portland and at New Orleans, when Henry Turner and Blow were sidelined and Bobby Adair was ejected in the first half.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: Averaged 12 points and 7 rebounds in 1986-87 for College of the Sequoias in Visalia... honorable mention all-conference selection... best game was 20-point effort with 10 rebounds against conference rival Columbia... earned a spot on COS's athletic all-academic team... as a freshman averaged 7 points and 4 rebounds.

HIGH SCHOOL: Two-time all-league selection at Redwood High School in Visalia... as a senior averaged 18 points and 10 rebounds... as a junior averaged 13 points and 8 rebounds.

PERSONAL: Chose Fullerton because he likes the coaching staff and southern California location... also considered Western Kentucky and Cal Poly San Luis Obispo... credits Redwood coach Bob Vasilovich for stressing the need to play hard... credits COS coach Jim Larson for preparing him for step up to next level... has one younger brother... parents are Jerry and Linda Calvin of Visalia... business administration major.

TELEVISION PACKAGES

Ed Larkin

A varied combination of the Prime Ticket regional network package, the University cable channel and the various packages of institutions the Titans will visit will keep Cal State Fullerton basketball "on the tube" most of the 1988-89 season.

Prime Ticket will feature a vastly expanded schedule of Big West Conference games this year with 21 "exposures" of teams. The Titans will be featured three times: at home vs. New Mexico State on Jan. 3; at UNLV on Jan. 16; and at San Jose State on Feb. 18.

Many of Fullerton's home games will be televised on a delayed basis via Titan Sports Productions under the supervision of professor Larry Ward. Ed Larkin and Greg Bunch provide the play-by-play coverage. The feed is used to provide the games to cable subscribers in Fullerton, Yorba Linda, Placentia, Anaheim and Villa Park via the auspices of the University channel (54) in Fullerton.

Of course, the Titans also gain exposure on the road when home teams send their games out on cable, VHF and UHF stations.

Derek Jones' presence on the Titan basketball team for 1988-89 holds extraordinary significance for everyone involved with collegiate athletics... he is attempting to come back from a serious gunshot wound suffered in a random street shooting on Aug. 30, 1987 near his home in Long Beach... physical and mental rehabilitation kept him out of school all of last year... because of the hardship, he was granted a sixth year of eligibility by the NCAA... was wounded from behind by a shotgun and suffered most damage in his left or shooting arm... surgery repaired an artery and the ulnar nerve but he still doesn't have all the feeling in his two smallest fingers... in addition to the personal readjustment, will be asked to serve as leader for a young team with no returning starters and only minimal Division I experience... good middle-range scorer and excellent rebounder... excellent leaper and shot blocker... lack of bulk can hurt him in the paint.

LAST YEAR: Did not attend school while undergoing therapy to regain use of his arm and to deal with the trauma.

JUNIOR YEAR: Took a while to get into prime form after sitting out

redshirt year at Long Beach CC... appeared in 29 of 30 games, missing only the Feb. 14 contest at UC Irvine due to a dislocated shoulder suffered at UNLV on Feb. 12... started 23 times... averaged 8.7 points to rank No. 4 on the team and was the No. 3 rebounder at 5.7 per game... scored a career-high 22 points and grabbed a career-high 11 rebounds against UC Irvine in the opening game of the post-season tournament... had 10 boards the next night in loss to UNLV... blocked 6 shots in one game vs. New Mexico State.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: Two-time All-Metropolitan Conference selection for coach Bill Fraser... averaged 21.5 points and 8.5 rebounds as a sophomore and earned all-state honors... led conference in scoring... shot 58 per cent from the floor and 63 per cent from the free-throw line... averaged better than 2 assists per game... as freshman averaged 18.7 points and 8.9 rebounds... shot 65 per cent from the floor and 61 per cent at the line... career 61 per cent field-goal shooter.

HIGH SCHOOL: All-City performer for two seasons at Millikan High School in Long Beach.

PERSONAL: Signed national letter of intent to the University of Arizona out of Long Beach CC but did not meet admission requirements... criminal justice major who hopes to become a corrections coordinator... mother is Katherine Jones... has two younger sisters, Janice and Pamela Pearson.

David Moody has been afforded the luxury of easing his way into Division I competition during the past three seasons and now the Titans can use his production in the paint... played sporadically as a freshman and sophomore but sat out last season... almost was activated early in year after siege of injuries but opted to wait until now to try to make an impact... agile big man with soft shooting touch... has the physical tools necessary but needs to improve strength, concentration and determination... still adapting to more structured style of play from his prep days... the first and only out-of-state freshman recruited during George McQuarn era at Fullerton.

SOPHOMORE YEAR: Saw very limited duty due to durable play of starter Herman Webster and arrival of JC transfer Oval Miller... averaged 1 point and 1 rebound... played in only 7 games with high of 8 minutes vs. Southern Utah, when he scored 3 points and grabbed 2 rebounds... played only 6 minutes during PCAA schedule.

FRESHMAN YEAR: Saw action in 22 games, 11 in PCAA play... averaged 1.5 points and 1.2 rebounds... got excellent experience in Utah Tournament, playing 35 minutes in two nights... also picked up pace in mid-January when injuries decimated Titan roster... had career high of 6 points on two occasions — Nov. 30 vs. Utah in Salt Lake City and on Dec. 11 in home rout of U.S. International... had career-high of 5 rebounds vs. Utah.

HIGH SCHOOL: Averaged 12.5 points and 6.0 rebounds for Central High in Omaha, Nebraska, largest school in the state... team was 14-9 and ranked No. 9 in Nebraska... averaged 17 points and 10 rebounds as a junior and 12 points and 6 rebounds for the sophomore team... earned All-Metro, all-state and honorable mention All-American honors... was nominated for the McDonald's All-American team.

PERSONAL: Youngest of five sons of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Moody... hopes to become an FBI agent... biggest sports thrill was "taking second in the Las Vegas national invitational dunking contest"... chose Fullerton "because it has a good athletic program and very good coaches"... also considered Oregon, Arkansas State and Nebraska... enjoys listening to music and dancing... full name is Brian David Moody.

Randal Moos hopes to expand upon his junior year role of designated 3-point shooter in this his senior season... excellent perimeter shooter and adequate ball handler who must strive to improve defensive limitations... smart player with good court sense... has ability to come off the bench firing.

LAST YEAR: Played in 17 games for the Titans but for no more than 6 minutes with one exception (10 minutes at Weber State)... scored all 12 of his season's points on four 3-point field goals... was 4 for 9 from 3-point land for excellent 44 per cent average... was 0 for 5 from 2-point area and 0 for 1 at the foul line.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: Averaged 14 points and 5 rebounds in 1986-87 at Santa Monica City College... first-team all-league selection.

HIGH SCHOOL: Attended Palisades High School in Pacific Palisades... three-sport letterman for two seasons, lettering in volleyball and track in addition to basketball... all-league selection in both basketball and track... averaged 15 points and 6 rebounds as a senior... in his junior year averaged 10.3 points and 8 rebounds.

PERSONAL: Credits coaches Cliff Hunter and John McMullen for helping him make the right decisions and pushing him to excel... chose Fullerton because of the location, the schedule, the conference and the coaching staff... also considered Pepperdine and Cal State Northridge... biggest sports thrill was attending the closing ceremonies of the 1984 Summer Olympic Games... has one younger brother... parents are Rick and Callie... public relations major who plans to enter the investment and securities field.

*at University of Texas

John Sykes has a year in the Titan system under his belt and is being counted upon to strengthen the Titans' inside game this year... had disappointing sophomore year in 1987-88 after sitting out previous season at Merced Junior College while earning A.A. degree... was starting center in season opener at Montana but made only one other start (vs. Utah)... strong, physical player who needs to work on handling the ball... aggressive rebounder who gets most of his points off the boards.

LAST YEAR: Started only once (vs. Utah) after season opener... appeared in 23 of team's 29 games... averaged 2.6 points and 2.1 rebounds per game, playing about 10 minutes per call... had season-high 8 points in home wins vs. Portland and Brown... took four or less shots in all other appearances... had season-high 6 rebounds at Weber State... shot 61 per cent (11 of 18) from the floor during conference play... did not see any action in post-season tournament.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: Attended Merced Junior College in Merced but did not participate in intercollegiate athletics while obtaining Associate of Arts degree.

FRESHMAN YEAR: Played for the University of Texas... averaged 2.8 points and 2.8 rebounds, playing in 24 of the Longhorns' 31 games including all 16 Southwest Conference contests... team went 19-12 and advanced to the NIT... high-point game was 13 on Jan. 11 in 65-40 win over Baylor... high-rebound game was 9 on Jan. 22 vs. TCU... was team's leading rebounder with 8 in 49-46 win at Texas Tech on Jan. 29... selected to the Southwest Conference's all-new-comers team.

HIGH SCHOOL: At Merced High School earned all-state and All-Northern California honors... was nominated for McDonald's All-American Classic... league's Most Valuable Player both junior and senior years... as a senior, averaged 17 points, 15 rebounds and 5 blocked shots... honorable mention to Street and Smith's All-American team.

PERSONAL: One of nine children to John and Lynda Sykes... credits Merced High coach Vince Clemons for "working with me so that I could better myself in sports and education"... international business major... goal is to own his own business.

Marlon Vaughn gained valuable experience at the Division I level last year behind Eugene Jackson and hopes to use that to his advantage in a battle with touted freshman Wayne Williams for the starting point guard job... showed early flashes of brilliance and a scoring punch when Jackson was injured but his play tailed off during conference schedule... has excellent quickness and adequate shooting range... can play aggressive defense... must cut down turnover rate.

LAST YEAR: Saw duty in all but four games in what amounted to "freshman" season after sitting out 1986-87 due to the provisions of Proposition 48... started back-to-back games in December when Jackson was sidelined... scored season-high 14 points at Pepperdine on Dec. 21 and had five vs. San Diego on Dec. 23... had 6 assists in each contest... hit pair of 3-pointers in five tries vs. the Waves... did not score in conference play until final regular season game vs. Long Beach State when he hit four late free throws.

HIGH SCHOOL: Three-year letterman at Dominguez High School in Compton where he led team to the championship game of the CIF 4A Division vs. Glendale in his senior season... first-team All-CIF pick... All-South Coast Conference and all-league... Most Valuable Player of the Estancia Tournament... honorable mention all-American... averaged 16 points and 9 rebounds as a senior... won academics and leadership award.

PERSONAL: Chose Fullerton because of the school's academic reputation and coaching staff... also considered Fresno State, San Jose State, Loyola Marymount and Nebraska... credits Dominguez coach Ernie Carr with most influencing his career with his teaching ability... biggest sports thrill was playing in the CIF 4A championship game... middle of three children to Mr. and Mrs. Nate Vaughn... undeclared major... hopes to become financially successful... enjoys swimming... nickname is "Spoon."

*at University of Illinois - Chicago

Benson Williams was a late, walk-on addition to the Titan roster of 1987-88 after the incapacitation of Derek Jones and he made a late-season contribution that he hopes to expand on this year... a transfer from the University of Illinois — Chicago trying to bounce back from a serious knee injury... has good shooting touch with excellent range for a player of his size... not very bulky or strong and must improve his physical presence in the paint.

LAST YEAR: Didn't become eligible until semester break and made season's debut on Feb. 6 vs. UC Irvine... scored 24 points in subsequent four games with high of 9 points including clutch basket near finish of home victory vs. Fresno State... made 4 of 5 shots during 8-point effort vs. Utah State... hit 10 of 18 field-goal tries during four-game run but didn't score in other five appearances.

ILLINOIS-CHICAGO: Appeared in 8 games as a reserve for the Flames in 1985-86, scoring 11 points and grabbing 9 rebounds... hit 5 of 6 free-throw attempts.

HIGH SCHOOL: All-San Fernando Valley selection in 1983-84 at John F. Kennedy High School in Granada Hills... averaged 18 points and 8 rebounds as a senior.

PERSONAL: Biggest sports thrill was playing against Michael Jordan in a summer league game in Chicago... credits high school coach Warren Farlow for most influencing his basketball career... chose Fullerton because of the highly regarded basketball program and school's excellent academic reputation... also considered Washington, Arizona State and Nevada-Reno... business administration major... hopes to become an entrepreneur... has one sister... parents are Benson Sr. and Lessie Williams.

RADIO PACKAGE

John Rebenstorf

John Rebenstorf returns to call Cal State Fullerton basketball for his eighth consecutive season and for the second year in a row, the games will be heard live on the strong signal of KMNY (1600 AM), based in Pomona with studios in Los Angeles.

Rebenstorf began calling Titans' action during the 1981-82 campaign. He also has called most of the football and baseball games since then and has brought to Titan fans the excitement of the California Bowl, the National Invitation Basketball Tournament and the College World Series.

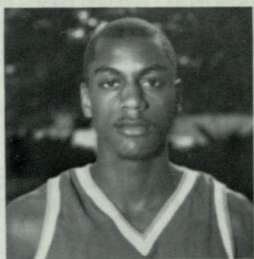

Titan basketball is sponsored by Budweiser and Bud Lite. Participating sponsors include Falcon Industrial Supply, Comcast, Selman Chevrolet, D and M Metals and North Orange County State Farm Insurance agents Tom Lawson, Jack Binder, Henry Jones and Scott Lennen.

During the summers of 1986 and 1987, Rebenstorf served as the voice of the Oklahoma City 89ers of the American Association. He previously did play-by-play for Cal Poly Pomona and UC Riverside sports as well as filling in for CSU Long Beach. His radio station work has included stops at KBON and KMEN in San Bernardino, KNTF in Ontario and KFI in Los Angeles.

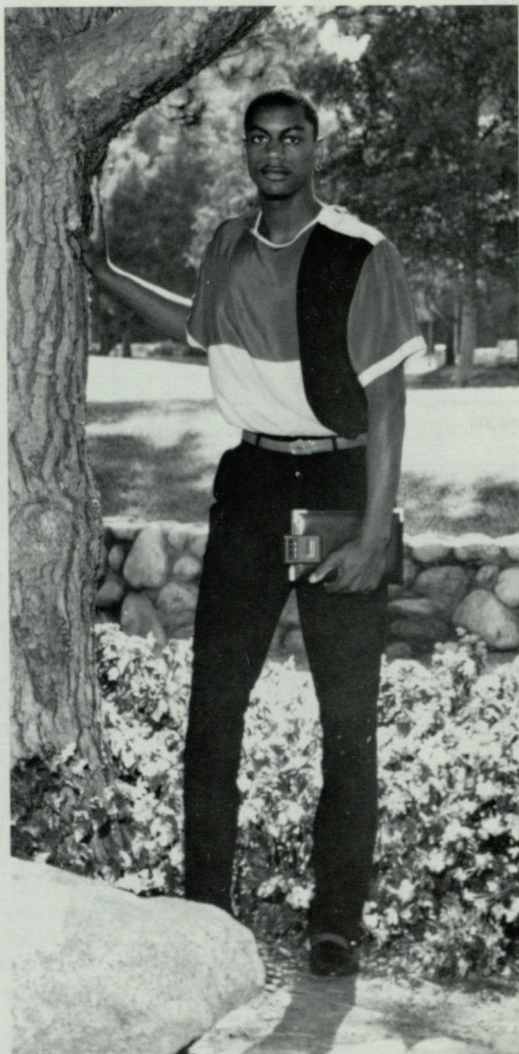

John also serves as salesman for Titan radio and game program advertising. He can be reached at (714) 525-2475.

On July 1, 1988, the Pacific Coast Athletic Association marked the beginning of the league's 20th year by changing its name to the Big West Conference. The new name is seen as a simpler, more accurate description of the league's 12 member institutions — Cal State Fullerton, Fresno State, Long Beach State, New Mexico State, San Diego State (women only), San Jose State, UC Irvine, UC Santa Barbara, University of Hawaii (women only), UNLV, Pacific and Utah State.

When the league was formed in 1969, it consisted of seven charter members, all of which were located in the state of California. In its 19 years of existence, however, the conference has expanded to include universities from states which are not on nor near the Pacific Ocean (Utah, Nevada and New Mexico). Because of this expansion, the new name will serve to better identify all of the conference's member institutions.

Recent highlights of the league's success include the 1987 NCAA basketball championships, when, for the first time ever, the conference had a representative in both the men's (UNLV) and women's (Long Beach State) Final Four. Last season, three of the league's men's basketball teams (UNLV, Utah State and UC Santa Barbara) were invited to the NCAA Regionals — the most ever for the conference.

Another first occurred in the spring of 1988 when three conference baseball teams (Cal State Fullerton, Fresno State and UNLV) received bids to the NCAA Regionals, with Fullerton and Fresno State both advancing to the College World Series in Omaha where Fullerton tied for third.

Six conference teams were invited to the NCAA women's volleyball championship last fall and conference member Hawaii won the national title, making it the third consecutive national volleyball championship for the league (Pacific won in 1985 and 1986).

Four conference teams received bids to the NCAA Softball Regionals last spring (Fresno State, Long Beach State, Fullerton and associate member Cal Poly Pomona) and two of them — Fresno State and Pomona — participated in the College World Series with Fresno State placing second.

3pt FG: DuChesne 1-1

Fullerton dug a hole so deep that an inspired second-half rally wasn't enough to prevent the season from opening with a defeat in frigid Missoula.

The host Grizzlies had a hot hand all night, particularly in the first half when they hit 14 of 21 shots to only 10 of 32 for the Titans. Guards Tony Reed and Nate DuChesne combined to hit 10 of 11 shots while the Titan backcourt of Richard Morton and Eugene Jackson was 3 of 17.

Still, the Titans were able to overcome a 13-point halftime deficit as they outscored the Griz, 31-15, to take a 57-54 lead with 8:14 to go on a pair of Bobby Adair free throws. But the Griz also rallied and had a 68-63 lead with 1:41 to go when the biggest play of the game occurred.

Henry Turner drove in for a dunk shot and when a whistle blew, the Titans thought they were going to get a chance at a 3-point play. Instead, the call was on Turner, the basket was nullified and Montana got a free-throw for a 69-63 lead that survived a Morton 3-pointer.

An early injury to Henry Turner probably proved the difference as the Titans suffered another narrow loss to go 0-2 on the season-opening road trip.

The senior forward turned an ankle before the midway point of the first half and would miss the next two games. In his absence, Weber forward Rico Washington controlled the paint, using his wide body to rebound, score and draw fouls.

It was a first half of spurts. Twice the Wildcats had seven-point runs and twice the Titans fought back for ties at 28-28 and 36-36. After intermission, the Titans let a couple of small leads slip away and they needed 3-pointers from Richard Morton to forge ties at 65-65 and 73-73, the last with 3:59 to go. Washington then scored six of the Wildcats next eight points, hitting two free throws at 0:44 and then a breakaway dunk at 0:29 to clinch the game.

With Henry Turner injured and Vincent Blow ill, even the friendly confines of Titan Gym looked like they might not be enough for Fullerton against Portland and its new coach, Larry Steele, the former Portland Trailblazer. But a phenomenal first-half surge allowed the short-handed Titans to coast to their first win of the year.

It took Fullerton more than two minutes to score and the Pilots jumped out to a 9-6 lead 3:40 into the game on Rodd Miller's 3-pointer. Then it happened. The Titans scored the next 22 points before Robert Phillips hit two Portland free throws. The Titans responded with eight more unanswered points before Miller's 3-pointer at the 2:16 mark. Between Miller's baskets, the Titans had outscored the Pilots, 30-2 in 14:04.

Eugene Jackson scored a career-high 20 points, getting half of them in 12 second-half free throw attempts.

The outcome of this contest seemed destined in Fullerton's inaugural trip to New Orleans, where it would visit the lair of an NCAA Tournament team from the year before. Shorthanded at the outset with Henry Turner still injured and Vincent Blow left at the hotel with lingering illness, the Titans were further stung 10 minutes into the game when starter Bobby Adair was ejected for fighting with Privateers' reserve Chris Trunk.

Coach McQuarn was left with only John Sykes, Oval Miller and Brent Calvin to man the center and power forward spots and even a brilliant performance by Richard Morton couldn't keep the Titans from suffering what would be their worst loss of the season.

Morton scored 13 of Fullerton's 21 first-half points with no one else getting more than two. In the second half, Morton's 3-pointer drew Fullerton within five at 33-28, but soon UNO went on a 22-3 spree.

A full-strength lineup and the return to Titan Gym combined to right the Titans' ship and they went on to record one of their most impressive victories of the George McQuarn era.

The visiting Utah Utes were taken out of their first visit to Fullerton by an aggressive Titan defense and another scoring blitz reminiscent of the Portland game. After falling behind 8-6, the Titans exploded with a 15-0 spurt that produced a 13-point lead that held up until halftime. However, Fullerton lost Eugene Jackson at the 3:49 mark in a collision with Gale Gondrezick and the senior point guard would miss two games with a back injury.

Any suspense after intermission was erased quickly as the Titans scored 15 of the first 18 points for a 52-27 advantage that never shrank below 16 points.

The Titans had a great start and an inspired finish, but, in between, Pepperdine dominated the game with an impressive shooting display.

Marlon Vaughn started at point guard in the absence of Eugene Jackson and wasn't tentative, hitting a pair of 3-pointers as Fullerton jumped to an 8-0 lead. But the Waves started clicking and took the lead for good at 16-15 on their way to a 9-point halftime lead.

The advantage grew to as many as 15 at 69-54 before the Titans rallied behind Vaughn, who was on his way to a career-high. Eleven unanswered points made it 69-65 as Pepperdine went almost six minutes without scoring. Richard Morton 3-pointer cut the gap to 73-71 at the 1:05 mark but the Titans couldn't score again and the Waves converted seven of eight free throws in the final 26 seconds to secure the win.

Henry Turner continued his superb play since coming back from an ankle injury and the Titans needed most of his career-high 33-point effort to subdue a young but stubborn San Diego club.

Turner was most dominant in the first half, scoring Fullerton's first nine points, 17 of the first 22 and a total of 22 for the half while hitting nine of 12 shots. Richard Morton had a cool shooting night but he and Turner still combined for 55 of the team's 71 points.

The Titans never trailed in the game and the last tie of the game was at 9-9. But even though San Diego fell behind by nine points at the half and as many as 13 early in the second half, USD made Titan fans squirm.

San Diego ran off a 13-5 spurt to close to 47-42 with 10 minutes to play and it was still a 7-point game three minutes later. However, the Titans put it away with a 10-0 burst capped by Morton's 3-point play.

For the second year in a row, the Titans got a shot at UCLA in Pauley Pavilion and as happened in 1986, the Bruins' Charles Rochelin played his best game of the season to key a UCLA win. Rochelin improved upon his eight of nine shooting of the previous year by hitting all seven of his shots this time.

Two other Bruins had above average games. Gerald Madkins started in place of the injured Dave Immel and Kelvin Butler came off the bench to provide eight points including six in the second half when the Bruins broke open a tight game.

The teams traded small first-half spurts as there were two ties

Fullerton had overcome a 2-point halftime deficit with a 3-pointer by Richard Morton and a Bobby Adair basket for a 35-34 lead. But the Bruins got their running game going and Madkins scored seven of his points in a 16-4 run over six minutes. The lead gradually grew until it was 74-52 with three minutes to play. The Titans scored the last 13 points of the game to make it look closer than it was.

An impressive home victory in the final non-conference game of the season was overshadowed by a bizarre confrontation between Brown coach Mike Cingiser and the crowd.

The Titans had little trouble with the Ivy League visitors after the first five minutes. A 10-2 run opened up a 23-14 advantage and Fullerton put the game away by scoring 19 of the final 26 points of the first half for a 61-36 lead at intermission.

Two of the points came after a technical foul was called on Cingiser when he ventured around the base line and halfway down the far sideline to confront fans he thought were over zealous in their taunting of his players. The Brown bench rushed to their coach's rescue and order was quickly restored.

The 49ers proved their impressive 6-4 non-conference record under new coach Joe Harrington was no fluke as they snapped a 7-game losing streak to Fullerton before a full house.

The prolonged loss of Henry Turner to foul trouble plagued the Titans, who jumped to a 7-0 lead and held the advantage until the opening minutes of the second half. Turner got three quick fouls and played only five minutes of the first half. He picked up No. 4 72 seconds after intermission and while he never fouled out, he would play only timidly through the balance of his 14 minutes of total playing time.

The Titans' last lead was at 51-50 on a Richard Morton jumper at 11:28. The last tie was at 55-55 with 7:02 to go. The pivotal play came at the 2:30 mark when Fullerton turned the ball over with a chance to tie. The 49ers then got an Andre Purry tip-in for a 67-63 lead and added nine free throws down the stretch.

In one of the lowest scoring games since the inception of the shot clock, the Titans fell to 0-2 at Las Cruces. The combined point total of 78 was the second lowest in Titan history.

Two teams that can play aggressive defense were allowed to play as only 21 personal fouls were called, seven of those in the final four minutes. Richard Morton's string of 22 games with 18 or more points was cut but he did manage double figures.

Fullerton "jumped out to a 6-2 lead more than 15 minutes into the game and it was still only 10-10 with only 5:45 to go in a first half that ended at 16-16 when Johnny Roberson drilled a 16-footer at the buzzer for the Aggies.

New Mexico State took the lead for good at 24-22 at the 14:34 mark on a Steve McGlothlin dunk shot. The Aggies gradually stretched it out to 39-30 with 1:06 to play before the Titans cut the margin in the final minute.

The Titans opened up home PCAA play and renewed their county rivalry with UC Irvine, which proceeded to put on an almost perfect demonstration of shooting.

The Anteaters hit 23 of 26 free throws and shot 67 per cent from the floor including 16 of 20 in the second half to offset a Fullerton school-record (Div. I) 38-point effort by Richard Morton.

The Anteaters trailed only in the opening minutes, using a 10-0 run for a 12-4 lead. The Titans cut it to two at 20-18, but Wayne Engelstad and Mike Labat keyed a 10-4 spurt that got the lead back up to eight points.

UCI's near-perfect second-half shooting pushed the lead to as many as 15 points before Morton hit four 3-pointers down the stretch. The old school mark was 36 points by Leon Wood on a couple of occasions.

The surprisingly strong Gauchos showed no letdown from their first-ever win over UNLV two nights earlier, handing George McQuarn a 12-point defeat, his worst Titan Gym loss ever.

Even though Brian Shaw was in foul trouble, the Gauchos had five other players in double figures and Eric McArthur controlled the backboards. Richard Morton couldn't find the hot hand he had vs. UCI and the Gauchos were in control all the way as only four Titans bled into the scoring column.

The Titans' only lead of the night was 2-0 on Vincent Blow's rebound basket. UCSB went on a 12-2 roll and had the lead up to 12 points midway through the first half. Fullerton got within four points before intermission, but the Gauchos stretched out a 7-point lead to 44-29 with a 14-6 run.

Morton and Henry Turner totaled 47 of Fullerton's 55 points with Blow the only other Titan to get a field goal.

With Jarvis Basnight playing a scoreless 18 minutes and Van Anderson scoring seven first-half points, Fullerton stayed close for a 35-30 halftime deficit. And when Basnight got rolling after intermission, Eugene Jackson exploded for the Titans, hitting three jumpers in a row in the middle of a 10-0 Fullerton run that produced a 42-40 Titan lead.

UNLV regained the lead and twice stretched it to six points on Basnight free throws before Fullerton's 16-4 edge in offensive rebounds manifested itself. Follow shots by Vincent Blow and Henry Turner narrowed the gap and Jackson capped a 7-0 run for a 55-54 lead with 2:08 to go. Anthony Todd responded for UNLV with a jumper and then a steal and breakaway dunk for a 58-55 lead. Another offensive rebound basket by Turner and a shot-clock violation by UNLV gave Fullerton a chance to win with 12 seconds remaining. But Turner's jumper off a fast break didn't go and the Rebels got two free throws and a 3-pointer at the buzzer for a deceptively comfortable 6-point win.

The worst shooting night of Richard Morton's career was almost overcome by a 20-rebound edge. Henry Turner had a season-high 17 rebounds (8 offensive) and Vincent Blow had a career-high 13 (9 offensive) to fuel a second-half rally.

The Aggies led by as many as 11 points as late as 64-53 with 7:25 to go. The Titans cut it to two at 66-64 and appeared to have a chance to tie when Kevin Nixon missed a pair of free throws. But Stan Pepek rebounded the second miss and scored and the Titans didn't get within two again until the 26-second mark when Morton scored but then drew a technical foul for calling a "sixth" timeout.

The Aggies hit only 29 of 44 free throws, down considerably from their 44 of 55 performance in an overtime win a year earlier in The Spectrum.

Fullerton had the misfortune of catching San Jose State on an afternoon (Raycom TV) when Ricky Berry was hot and the Spartans had yet to go into their second-half slump.

Berry made innumerable big plays in helping the Spartans lead wire to wire. San Jose led by as many as nine points in the first half and held a 28-25 lead at intermission with Berry scoring 13 points. He got another 13 in the first 11 minutes of the second half and San Jose led, 50-39.

But Fullerton, which had seen numerous gimmick defenses applied to Richard Morton and/or Henry Turner during the season, went to a box and one of its own. Berry quit scoring, his teammates started turning the ball over and the Titans went on a 17-7 run to draw within a point at 57-56 with 2:18 to go. Gerald Thomas then made the play of the game, scoring inside and completing a 3-point play. Dietrich Waters added a layup for an insurmountable 62-56 advantage.

Fullerton's seven-game losing streak came to an end at the expense of the beleaguered Pacific Tigers, who went into the game with an 0-7 PCAA record of their own and were under the direction of assistant coach Denis Willens, who replaced the deposed Tom O'Neill earlier in the week. On top of the that, Pacific was without forward Willie Tatum, who had injured his back.

The Titans trailed only momentarily but couldn't open much of a margin until a 15-8 surge in the final 5:09 of the half produced a 35-24 lead at intermission. The Titans had committed only one turnover in the half.

The outcome was decided in the first six minutes of the second half as the Titans outscored the Tigers 14-3 for a 49-27 lead. Tyrone Ree's 3-pointer at the buzzer put an emphatic exclamation point to the end of the 7-game skid.

The last-second shot that wouldn't drop for Henry Turner vs. UNLV did against Fresno State and the Titans capped a furious rally with an overtime victory over the Bulldogs that gave them their first back-to-back wins of the year.

Fresno seemed to have the game in hand at 50-44 with less than four minutes remaining. But Richard Morton hit a layup and a 3-pointer to cut the deficit to 50-49 at 2:04. Andre Sims hit one free throw at 0:32 but missed the second one on a night the Bulldogs would rue converting only eight of 18 charities. It left the door open for Turner to go into the paint from where he hit an off-balance fall-away jumper with three seconds to go.

Given a new life, the Titans wasted no time in the extra period, with Morton's 3-pointer 11 seconds after the jump ball triggering a 7-0 spurt. Fresno State didn't score for almost four minutes, but Mike Mitchell's follow shot was countered by four Titan free throws.

A remarkable Fullerton rally came up short when not one but two last shots — by leading scorers Richard Morton and Henry Turner — wouldn't fall and the Titans suffered a heartbreaking defeat on the road.

The Gauchos ran off a 21-0 spurt in the first half when the Titans went almost 11 minutes without scoring to fall behind, 29-10. Fullerton hit only six of 27 field goal attempts and was down by 16 at intermission.

The Titans nibbled at the lead in the second half, but were still down by 12 at 51-39 with 5:48 to play. A pair of 3-pointers by Morton quickly cut it to six and a later 3-pointer reduced it to one at 55-54 with 0:51 to go. Vincent Blow made two free throws at 0:36 for a Titan lead that was erased by Brian Shaw's bank shot with 23 seconds to go.

Fullerton ran the clock down and got two good shots — from the top of the key by Morton and at the buzzer from about 15 feet at an angle by Turner after his rebound.

For the second time in the season the Titans came out on the short end of a double disqualification due to an on-court scuffle. But even without Henry Turner for the last 30 minutes of the game, the Titans still were in the game at the last shot, only to suffer another tough road loss.

Turner and Irvine reserve Steve Florentine wrestled to the floor after an exchange of elbows and both watched the rest of the game from the bench. They saw UCI built an early 8-point lead, fall behind by two but then lead by six at the half mostly on the strength of 6-for-8 shooting from behind the 3-point line.

Bobby Adair filled the void left by Turner and his jumper tied the game at 42-42 with 14:19 to play. Justin Anderson's 3-pointer put UCI back on top to stay and the lead grew to eight before Fullerton made a late surge as Morton scored eight Fullerton points in a row. The gap was down to three and the Titans had the ball for the last shot.

The eventual PCAA champion Rebels toyed with the Titans in the Thomas & Mack Center, turning on the afterburners each time Fullerton made a threatening run.

Fullerton got off to a good start with a 5-0 lead on Richard Morton's 3-pointer and a Van Anderson layup after a rebound. But UNLV responded with a 7-0 burst that gave it a lead it would never relinquish despite several Titan surges.

Another 7-0 UNLV run turned a 16-12 lead into a 23-12 advantage midway through the first half. A 9-0 burst led by Jarvis Basnight produced a 32-15 margin and a runaway seemed imminent even though John Sykes scored six unanswered Titan points.

UNLV stretched its 10-point halftime lead to 56-37 before the Titans rallied behind Morton. Twice they cut the deficit to seven, the latest at 63-56 with six minutes to go.

With Eugene Jackson playing what coach George McQuarn called the best game of his Titan career, the Titans got back in the victory column with a come-from-behind victory over the slumping Spartans, who lost their sixth game in a row.

Jackson had a PCAA career-high of 17 points as he took advantage of the holes in San Jose's box-and-one defense designed to stop Richard Morton, who also managed 17 points. An aggressive Fullerton defense produced nine steals among the Spartans' 18 turnovers and Henry Turner was the greatest beneficiary with a number of breakaway dunk shots to please the crowd.

A 13-4 Fullerton run midway through the second half produced a 50-43 Titan lead. San Jose cut it to 50-47 before Jackson drove for a layup and Henry Turner triggered a 5-point play — a layup, one of two free throws and an assist for a John Sykes dunk around an intentional Spartan foul — for a 57-47 lead that held up until the end.

The Titans played one of their best games of the season and needed every bit of an unusually balanced team effort to beat Utah State.

While Richard Morton (22) and Henry Turner (17) were scoring their average, Vincent Blow and Benson Williams were the catalysts of a second-half rally that was actually triggered by Turner's 3-pointer to beat the halftime buzzer. It gave Fullerton the lead for good at 37-34 and it grew to as many as nine on a couple of occasions.

The Aggies, who had fallen out of first place two nights earlier in a lopsided loss at UNLV, made a late run. Three-pointers by Reid Newey and Kevin Nixon and three Titan turnovers gave Utah State an opportunity to send the game into overtime. They inbounded the ball with six seconds to go but Nixon's 3-point try bounced off the front of the rim.

Blow, who had not scored in two and a half games, got all 10 of his points in the second half. Williams got six of his eight in the second half.

The opportunity to log a pair of firsts — three victories in a row and one on the road — slipped away in a flurry of cold Titan shooting and a career night by Bulldog Leo Walker in Selland Arena.

Richard Morton hit his first two shots — both 3-pointers — for a quick 6-2 Fullerton lead. But Morton would score only one more basket and Walker, starting in place of the injured Andre Sims, hit several key baskets in a 19-point performance.

Walker's finger roll put Fresno State, also playing without injured junior forward Mike Mitchell, ahead to stay at 16-15 midway through the first half. He hit a pair of 3-pointers in less than a minute to extend an early second-half Fresno State lead from 28-24 to 34-24.

The Titans got as close as six points on a couple of occasions, but Walker hit another 3-pointer for a 43-34 margin.

Two streaks of dubious distinction collided in Spanos Center and the Titans utilized an inspired defensive effort to log their first road victory of the year over the Tigers, who lost for the 19th consecutive time in their final home game of the season.

Henry Turner, who overslept and missed the afternoon practice, came off the bench to lead the Titans with 23 points including nine in a row early in the second half when Fullerton expanded a 25-22 halftime lead to as many as 14 points. Richard Morton, like Turner making his final native Bay Area collegiate appearance, had a solid game as did fellow seniors Vincent Blow and Eugene Jackson.

Both Blow and Jackson hit four of four free throws in the final two minutes to repel a Pacific challenge that cut the lead to as few as eight points. Blow's 15 points were a career high.

Fullerton began building some momentum for the PCAA post-season Tournament with a down-to-the wire victory over New Mexico State in a remarkably evenly played game.

Each team made the same number of free throws and field goals, but the Titans made two more 3-pointers. Rebounds and turnovers were even as well as the shooting percentages.

Fullerton, which led most of the game with a lead as big as seven in the first half, saw the game deadlocked at 59-59 when Willie Joseph scored and converted a 3-point play at the 1:30 mark. The Titans ran the shot clock down and missed. Keith Hill rebounded for the Aggies but stepped on the end line, giving the ball back to Fullerton with 42 seconds to play. Despite having a foul to give, the Aggies let the Titans run the clock down until Richard Morton dribbled into the left corner around a Vincent Blow screen and was fouled by Curtis Terrell while attempting a shot with one second to play. Morton made both free throws and the Aggies couldn't retaliate.

Five seniors including four who lettered for four years in Titan blue and orange closed out their home careers in excellent fashion, routing the rival 49ers.

Fullerton jumped off to an 8-0 lead in the regionally (Raycom) televised game and never trailed, although the 49ers made a couple of serious runs with their full-court press in the first half. The 49ers had an 8-0 spurt to move within two at 22-20. The Titans stretched the lead to 29-20 before Long Beach got five quick points to cut the margin to four. That was as close as the 49ers would get, however, in the final regular season game.

Fullerton outscored Long Beach 13-3 to start the second half for a 50-32 lead that grew to as many as 28 points in the final minute. The 49ers continued to send the Titans to the line with aggressive defense and strategy usually saved for a closer game. As a result, the Titans shot 50 free throws and made 40, both numbers being school single-game records.

The PCAA Tournament offered Fullerton a chance to salvage a frustrating season with a revised format to include all 10 teams and the Titans took advantage of the opportunity with an impressive victory over Fresno State.

Fullerton spotted the Bulldogs one basket before dominating the first half. The Titans out-rebounded Fresno 24-9 and held the 'Dogs to 35 per cent shooting prior to intermission in building a 15-point lead capped by Henry Turner's 3-pointer at the buzzer.

In the second half, the teams basically exchanged baskets for 17 minutes before the Bulldogs made a belated run. Fullerton's inability to inbound the ball led to a 5-0 Fresno burst that cut the margin to 10 points before the Titans hit four of six free throws and Richard Morton scored a bucket to build the advantage up to 15 with a minute to go.

Fresno State relied heavily on the 3-point field goal line, trying 26 but connecting on only seven tries. Andre Sims hit four of 14.

For the second time in the season, the Titans came up just shy in an upset bid against UNLV. The rested Rebels wore the Titans down to notch their 14th consecutive win over Fullerton and run the series record to 19-2.

With Richard Morton firing away successfully from long range, the Titans overcame an early 8-point deficit to take a 33-30 halftime lead. Morton hit six of 10 including four of six at 3-point range.

After intermission, Morton got help from Van Anderson and Henry Turner and Fullerton eased out to a 43-38 lead with 10 minutes to play. But in less than a minute, UNLV went from five down to five ahead with a technical foul helping to fuel a 10-0 blitz that was too much for a fatigued Morton and Turner to overcome.

Fullerton hung tough and still was only two down with 1:39 to go when Morton stole a pass and went the length of the floor for his 27th and 28th points. But UNLV got a free throw from Boobie James at 0:23 and a pair from Gerald Paddio at 0:03 to seal the win.

—TITAN HISTORY—

HISTORY of TITAN ATHLETICS

Obstacles and adversity. Grass roots support and coaches with "sandwich board" signs. Stunning upsets and courageous performances. All have been a part of Cal State Fullerton athletics as "Titan Pride" has taken limited resources to athletic successes disproportionate to such a young institution.

How many universities can claim national championships in seven different sports, a star major league third baseman, men and women basketball players in the Olympics, two rookies in the Super Bowl and the subject matter of a Walt Disney feature film?

The tenor was set by the first Titan intercollegiate team - men's basketball. In only their second season, the Titans of coach Alex Omalev advanced five rounds into the NAIA national playoffs in 1961-62.

Sixteen seasons later, the entire nation watched another "cinderella" Titan five advance to within one victory of the "Final Four" as Bobby Dye's 1977-78 team won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association post-season tournament and then beat nationally ranked New Mexico and USF to gain the finals of the Western Regional.

The basketball tradition, which included a women's national title in 1970 and coach Billie Moore and star Nancy Dunkle on the women's 1976 Olympic team, was continued in 1984 as Leon Wood helped the men to a gold medal before he became a first-round NBA draft choice. Coach George McQuarn's teams have usually been factors in the conference race and have national Top 20 rankings and a victory over the nation's No. 1-ranked and undefeated team to their credit. Fullerton also has competed twice in the NIT Tournament.

Gymnastics has brought Fullerton more fame. Coach Dick Wolfe won three college division titles (1971, 1972 and 1974) and has had recent teams in the Top Ten at the Division I level while winning 10 PCAA titles in a row. His 1987 squad was ranked No. 1 in the nation led by former Chinese Olympian Li Xiao Ping. Lynn Rogers began the women's program in 1976 and the Titans have finished fifth or better in the nation every year but two including the national title in 1979. One-armed Carol Johnston was an All-American and star of the Disney film, "Lefty," while more recently, Tami Elliott won 10 All-American awards before suffering a fractured vertebra in her senior season.

Baseball exploded on the national scene with the arrival of coach Augie Garrido. He broke the USC monopoly in the western regionals in 1975 and won the national title in 1979 behind the play of Tim Wallach, now of the Montreal Expos. He won the College World Series again in 1984 with players such as pitcher Greg Mathews of the St. Louis Cardinals. The Titans won their first six-team regional and finished third in the CWS in 1988 under the direction of new coach Larry Cochell and in September had 11 players in the major leagues.

Women have sparkled on the Fullerton diamonds, too. Coach Judi Garman founded the softball program in 1980 and the Titans have been a powerhouse, making seven trips to the College World Series in nine years. The Titans brought home their first NCAA Championship in 1986 and have been ranked No. 1 in the nation much of the past three seasons.

There have been national titles in men's cross country and women's fencing and individual standouts like golfer Martha Wilkerson and runner Mark Covert.

The Titans have won their share on the gridiron as well. Dick Coury was the inaugural coach in 1970 and he built an instant winner at the Division II level. The Titans were 27-16-1 over the first four years under Coury and successor Pete Yoder before the growing pains of moving up to Div. I were endured. But the program came of age under the guidance of Gene Murphy, who guided the team to back-to-back PCAA titles in 1983 and 1984. Several Titans have continued their careers in the National Football League led by New York Giants' cornerback Mark Collins and Chicago Bears' rookie tight end Jim Thornton.

TITANS IN THE N.B.A.

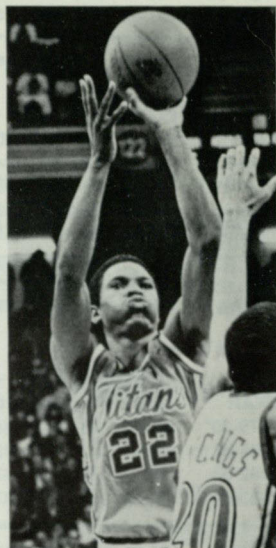

Ozell Jones

Cal State Fullerton has been well represented at the professional level despite the relative youth of the intercollegiate basketball program.

Coach George McQuarn has seen six of his Titans drafted in the past five years and several more players sign as free agents. The Titans hit it big in 1984 when two players made National Basketball Association rosters — guard Leon Wood with Philadelphia and Ozell Jones with San Antonio. Each was subsequently traded more than once and were not on rosters in October.

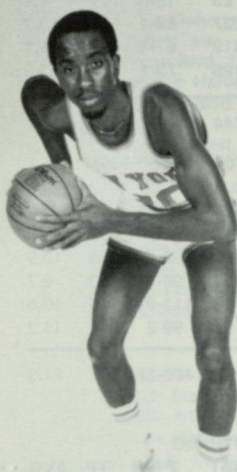

A third former Titan was in the league last year in guard Kevin Henderson, who played with Golden State and Cleveland. Other players drafted were Ricky Mixon, Tony Neal and Kerry Boagni. Currently on the verge of making teams are free agents Richard Morton with the Indiana Pacers and Henry Turner with the CBA's Rochester Flyers.

Earlier Titans to play in the NBA were forwards Greg Bunch with the New York

Kevin Henderson

Knicks and Mike Niles with the Phoenix Suns. Several recent Titans have played in foreign leagues including center Herman Webster and forward Kerry Boagni.
