Dear Diary,

I arrived home at 6:00 this evening.

After I had a quick snack I did my Algebra homework (wrote) took some serious thinking, and then I helped Mom prepare dinner.

While I was cleaning the vegetables for dinner, I was thinking the Lord for all He has given me. The autobiography of Anne Frank came into my mind and to think of all her sufferings which here on earth made me all the more thankful for such a normal and rich life (wrote) I have. By rich I don't mean that I have a great amount of money but something far different from it. By being rich I mean having freedom, being part of a real family, but most of all I have a most prized thing in life, Faith.

Truly yours, Patricia

Dear Diary,

My Sister and Brother are watching one of their favorite T.V. Shows,

This shows
good thinking
Patricia!

"Disneyland." They really enjoy that particular show for Mr. Disney knows just what kind of stories children like.

I have just prepared myself for bed and am ready to get a good night sleep. Good night dear Diary.

Truly Yours, Patricia

10:30

Dear Diary,

I awoke at 7:30 this morning and went to Mass with the family at St. John of Neumann Catholic Church. I received the Holy Eucharist during Mass so I was pretty hungry by the time we got home.

It is already 10:30 and I am in the school library. Pretty soon my first class will start so I had better get to work and finish my homework.

Truly Yours, Patricia.

You write a good diary Patricia.
You ought to continue it.
