VALUED VILLAGE VOLUNTEERS

Peter Marshall, Chaplain of the United States Senate in 1947-48, left a rich legacy of inspirational messages and profound truths. Particularly appropriate at this point in the Village year is this bit of wisdom: "The measure of a life, after all, is not its duration but its donation."

Donation is the operative word in Marshall's statement and also in defining volunteerism. Leisure Village thrives on volunteerism as many residents donate their time, talent and experience to the betterment of our community. This volunteer spirit helps to imbue Leisure Village with its unique character and the quality of life we all enjoy.

July is a vital time of decision following the election of two new members to the LVA Board of Directors. Board members will soon receive their assignments to committees. Volunteers staff all of these committees; September starts the volunteer committee year.

This means residents have two months to decide which committee(s) will receive their donations of time, talent and know-how. From a wide variety of committees, it's easy to find one or more to fit individual skills and interests. To help you decide, here's a list of Village committees and their primary functions:

Architectural/Landscape: Permits to alter plantings or exterior home improvements are processed by this committee.

Buildings & Grounds: Walks each Village every month and monitors condition of green belt and owner-maintained landscape areas. Checks condition of fences between and at rear of homes.

Channel 12: The eye on the Village. Televises calendar of events, committee meeting dates, important announcements, special interviews and programs, monthly board meeting.

Education & Recreation: Involved with many activities and committees. The pool area, picnic grounds, library, college classes, athletic courts, sports and hobby clubs, all receive Ed & Rec attention.

Emergency Services: Our disaster preparedness committee. Organized in advance to handle the after-effects resulting from a disastrous earthquake, flood or toxic spill.

Finance: The budget-making process is this committee's cup of tea. Current income and expenses are constantly watched and analyzed.

ABOUT NEXT MONTH

Coordinator for next month will be Betty Murray. Please follow guidelines and be as brief as you can. Deadlines for the July 31 issue will be Monday, July 13. To arrange for a photographer, call coordinator at least 3 days in advance.

Insurance: Studies and determines the changing insurance needs of the Village. Shops the market for the best value.

Security & Safety: Works for villagers every day. Responsible for gate operations, visitor passes, traffic and safety patrols, emergency service, and decaling of vehicles.

Travel: Arranges interesting one day or longer events by bus for residents.

The Board selects the members for two additional committees, Nominating and Ombudsman.

Choose your committee(s) and submit your application to become a Valued Village Volunteer. Applications can be picked up from the lobby table in the Rec Center. As stated earlier, a life is measured by its donation. Volunteering to donate to the life of the Village will give you the satisfaction of hitting many tape-measure homeruns.

It Can Be Done

By Bill Fox

If we called someone a person, Whether good, bad or just all right And not call them by their color, Red, brown, yellow, black or white.

If we called someone a person, Whether smart or whether dumb And not by their nationality, The country they came from.

If we called someone a person, For all the things that they might do And not by their religion, As many of us refer to.

If we called someone a person, Racism would then cease And we could all get along Towards having world peace.

So, let's start with the media Newspapers, radio and TV. And each and everyone of us Refer to them as he or she.

June Busted Out All Over

Women's Club June meeting was well-attended. Everybody wanted to see and hear Pamla's and Jon's song and patter

Business was kept to a minimum but a $50.00 YMCA Camp Scholarship was presented to be given to a needy child.

Membership has gained 50 ladies and Betty Walker is not nearly so morose. She is now sending out postcards as a reminder. Of course, she is still hoping for membership for every woman in the Village.

The program was delightful. To see such youth and talent and clever chat was really enjoyable. It must be against the law to have all those gifts!

Pamla and Jon and their accompanist made beautiful music as well as entertaining chatter.

Seven past Presidents came to hear Pamla and Jon. L to R: Carol Heyerick, Kay La Prell, Edna McCormick, Sandy Linka, Rosemarie Sweigart, Piff De Simone, Gertie Dorward.

JULY PROGRAM

Looking Ahead: The next meeting of the club is Thursday, July 2. The program is sure to be a great one. A women's singing quartet, "Kaleidoscope," (a part of the Sweet Adelines) will perform. Singers are Linda Ragsdale, Peggy Hale, Sandy Serrano, and Bron Latta. They will entertain with their own special arrangements. You'll want to be there.

CURRENT ISSUES FORUM

By James A. Holthouse "Leisure Village is one of Camarillo's greatest assets." High praise from Julie Doll, editor and publisher of the Camarillo Daily News, as she opened the June 5 Current Issues Forum before an attentive, inquiring audience in the AR.

"The Media's Role in Society" was the Forum topic and Doll's message concentrated on how the media handled the Los Angeles riots and their after-effects following the acquittal of officers in the Rodney King beating trial. Overall, she gave the media high marks with print doing a much more thorough job than TV helicopter journalism of finding out the what, why and who of the riots and how can they be prevented.

Particularly well done were the LA Times reviews of the damaging riots and proposed approaches to start the rebuilding. Flunking grades were given to Mayor Bradley and Chief Gates on how they dealt with the riot crisis.

Doll stated there is no law -- and should never be a law -- to prevent newspapers from publishing a list of jurors and their addresses. Each newspaper must make its own call; CDN chose not to run the juror list and an audience show of hands approved this decision.

Many other current subjects were included in Ms. Doll's prepared remarks. The LA riots graphically displayed the ethnic and racial fragmentation that is tearing the USA apart. References were made to Arthur Schlesinger's book "The Disuniting of America" and the urgency to stop the hyphenating of Americans.

In a departure from previous Forums, the audience was invited to come

NEGOTIATING WITH THE SELLERS

One of the first questions many prospective buyers ask us when they find the perfect house is "will they take less?" The agent can't tell you what the sellers will take, and the only way to test their bottom line is to make an offer. If you can negotiate a lower price or better terms than the original offering, you may possibly save yourself some money, but you could risk losing a home you really love in the process.

If your offer is below the sellers' bottom line, they will probably make you a counter offer. If your bid is too low, you run the risk of offending them. Your offer may not be taken seriously -- especially if it is far below market value.

Another risk is that while you and the sellers are trading offers and counter offers, another buyer may come in with a more attractive bid. If this happens before your negotiations are concluded, your sellers may accept the competing offer. Before you decide what kind of offer to make, weigh the benefits and risks of going in with a lower price than what the sellers are asking.

Just tell us what you want, it's as good as done. For solid advice on buying or selling real estate, please call Marie at 482-8981 or 388-5900; your resident realtor at Century 21 Pleasant Valley Properties Inc. Our address is 2011 Ventura Blvd., Camarillo.

Wally and Pegge Lane, V5, were honored recently at a celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary. About 60 relatives and friends enjoyed the gala buffet luncheon, program and dancing in the MPR.

Hosting the event was Terry Lane, their son, assisted by teen grandchildren Kim and Curt, all here from Burke, VA. Special guests from San Fernando Valley included Dorothy and Adeline Butkus, and Al and Rose Witt.

The Lanes were married in Inglewood, Ca. on April 12, 1942, while Wally was serving in the Army artillery. They honeymooned on Balboa Island.

The meeting of Vision Limited held June 1, proved as usual, entertaining and informative. The speaker was Bob Jackson, representing Home Ware Video.

Mr. Jackson demonstrated a hand-held instrument which is built into a compact enclosed circuit TV system. When this device is placed over the material to be viewed, it is magnified many times on a TV screen. It can be used for reading newspapers, recipes, and instructions on medicine bottles.

At press time, the program for the July meeting was not finalized. Watch Channel 12.

Plans for the annual Vision Limited picnic were announced. Further details were to be forthcoming in this column and Channel 12.

Our regular club meeting is the first Friday of the month in the Sun Rm at 10 a.m. However, due to the July 4 holiday, our nex club meeting will be outdoors in the LV picnic area on Mon, July 6, from noon to 2 p.m. We expect to have with us Ernie Mueller from his new home in Tucson, who was invited here by Cliff Appell (NF6A) by ham radio. The Spring Serenade lunch and card party organized by the Garden Club was held on May 21 in the AR. Under the guidance of co-chairmen Lida Geddes, Mary Ralph, Doris Achterkirchen and Georgia Griswold, the various committees did an outstanding job. Over 160 Villagers and guests attended the function and enjoyed the good food prepared and served by members. Many card games and other table games were played.

Doris Achterkirchen and her able helpers prepared the food for the affair. Marion Sanders and Evelyn Lacy made sure of smooth seating and serving by members of their committee. The stage was decorated with a screen of bougainvillea and musical notes depicting the theme of "Spring Serenade". Millie Worth and Georgia Schneider were in charge of decorations: Growing Grounds provided the plants.

Sylvia Christensen and Polly Spayde handled ticket sales and Mary Whalen was publicity chairman.

At the June 11 meeting, Jerry Sortomme of the Horticulture Department of Santa Barbara City College chose as his topic "Ingenious Development of Plants for the Future".

At next month's meeting of the Garden Club on July 9, Donna Dysart, instructor at the Ikebono Institute in Oakview, will demonstrate the art of Ikebana. Refreshments at 9:30 a.m. will precede the meeting in the MPR.

The reporting of LV bowling activities by Vee Flowers during the past several years was outstanding in many ways. She was faithful in reporting scores, adding humor on occasion and always making it a very readable column. We'll miss her breezy reporting and say "Thanks for a great job."

GUIDELINES FOR A BETTER ILV

All material, for ILV, whether handwritten or typed, should be double-spaced on a full sized sheet of paper.

Especially short items such as thank-you letters and ads should follow guide lines.

Every month, ILV work is done in several places. Materials are passed between the editors' several homes and the Daily News office downtown. Articles written on smaller than full sized (typewriter size) sheets of paper are very apt to get lost!

Please observe margin rules and paragraph indentations (5 spaces) in typing your copy.

Please leave the upper right hand corner of your paper free for office notations.

No matter what your communication, your name, address, and telephone number in the upper left hand corner is essen-

The first rule in journalism is to put the name of the organization in the opening sentence. "Our club" or "We" is not appropriate.

A clean typrwriter makes a better typist.

Try to eliminate extravagant adjectives from your copy. Adjectives such as "nice", "lovely", "fine" mean nothing when used loosely, yet have specific meanings which will enhance your writing. Consult your dictionary.

The May meeting of the Sawdusters featured an interesting in-depth and detailed description of (of all things) boxes. The narrative and description by Jim Cummins was a taped, step by step lesson of how to construct various types of boxes. Boxes are a challenge to most woodworkers and make fine gifts in themselves and serve as an excellent means of presenting other gifts which they are designed to include.

For "show and tell" Clary Morgan continued to show his step-stool expertise. This time he exhibited a two-step stool suitable for children (or grown-ups of short stature).

Dana Street showed a flowerpot stabilizer, which broadens the base of the pot to keep it from blowing over in some of the winds that we experience in Camarillo.

We encourage all wood-workers and potential wood-workers to come to our meetings and bring samples of their , woodworking prowess...

GEM AND MINERAL CLUB

Unless a minor miracle happens, this will be the last column for the Gem Holmes and Bill Marshall and Mineral Club. In order to operate as a Club within Leisure Village, we must have the usual offi- the twelve that the Club cers. As of this writing, and I believe that this is common among LV Clubs, we have not been able to find members willing to take these offices.

The Gem and Mineral Club was founded in 1980, with this writer as the first President. Since then I have served two more terms for a total of three terms.

Jack Bennett, Garnette have each served as president for two terms. This is a total of nine years of has existed. The other presidents were Anne ever, we need the major Wolfson, Bill Huffmann, officers, and as I said, as and Wayne Wisehart, of this writing we have each of whom served one none, and without them term.

It has been just as difficult to secure the other officers; I don't have room to list all those who have served, but several of them have served for more than one term. We have always had, and are grateful for, the support of those who manned the committees, the refreshment, the sunshine, the telephone, and the others necessary for the club to operate. Right now, howthe club will be disbanded.

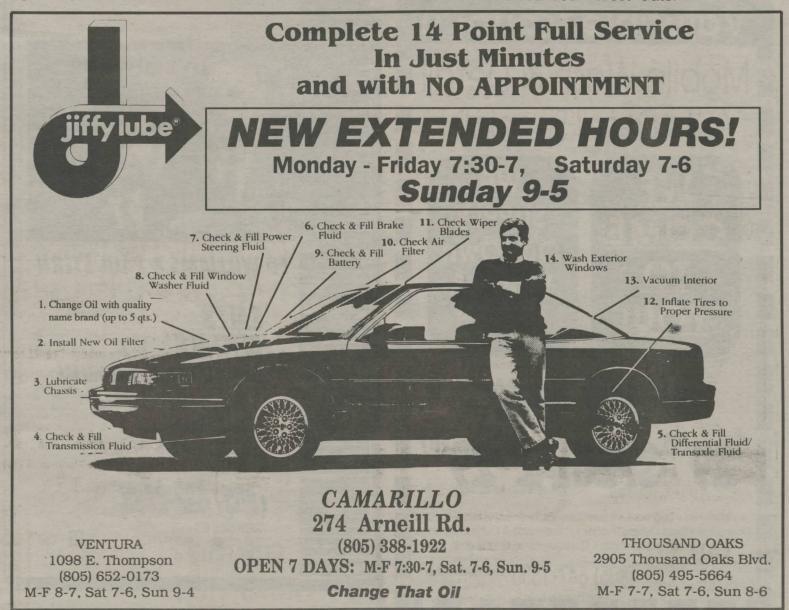

CHECK GARAGE DOORS

The Architecture and Landscape Committee report, given at the June Board meeting by Chairman George Pisors, told of problems with aging village double garage doors. George warned that the hardware, framing or the door itself may break, causing the door to fall and be totally inoperative.

Homeowners are reminded to check or have checked their garage doors, since doors and hardware are the responsibility of the owners. Each double door weighs about 400 lbs.

NOTE CAREFULLY

New doors must be painted (or repainted) in Village approved colors. Paint in quarts and gallons are available at the Association office near the West Gate.

In September another class may be given, depending on the demand. If you wish to register for sewing in the fall, you should call Mildred Fierstein 987-7676 or Louise Young 484-4122. Oxnard Adult School is planning the fall schedule at this time and wants to know if enough LV people are interested in having a fall class.

The offerings of the soloists, Ethel Belanger, George Goldfarb, Ruth Hart, Miriam Hasen, Margarete Nayfack, Jules Nayfack and Sally Yale and the Chorale group as a whole, were enthusiastically received by an audience of over 350 people.

They were enchanted with the musicianship of the incomparable pianist, Dorothy Weiss. HEARING IMPAIRED

By Frances Gold

On May 27 I attended a meeting of the LV Hearing Impaired Support Group. There were about 30 people in the crowded Lanai Rm. but without the use of a microphone I heard (and understood) every word the principal speaker uttered. What a joy that was. Such a thing had not happened to me for many years.

No, I do not have an expensive new hearing device; I was using the same in-ear aids I have had for 10 years. Such understanding was due entirely to the speaker's knowledge of how to speak to people like me.

This speaker was Dr. William M. Luxford, from the House Ear Clinic, Inc., in Los Angeles. This clinic you may recognize as the clinic of choice for our NASA astronauts.

Dr. Luxford did talk about some of the new devices for telephone, television, etc., but none of these can give back perfect hearing. Some types of loss can be treated and improved. If yours is such a loss of course you should have any corrections necessary.

For the rest of us we need to find any way possible to deal with the problem as efficiently and comfortably as possible. To do this we desperately need the help of those who speak to us. This is especially true for family members.

My personal loss is fairly moderate, but I have worn a hearing aid for about 20 years. Some people I can hear very well. With others, especially in groups, I strain, ask them to repeat, and then often simply retreat to the smile-and-nod routine, for fear of being inappropriate in my response.

Speaker Christing showed "Triump which is ven's connected to the smile and not repeat, and then often simply retreat to the smile-and-nod routine, for fear of being inappropriate in my response.

For everyone who sometimes must speak to impaired hearers and most especially to family members, here are some ways you can be helpful.

1. It is important that you know the listener has a hearing problem. If you suspect it, ask him.

2. Be sure that you are facing him and that he is close enough, and there is light enough for him to see your face. Most of us use at least some lip reading.

3. Unless you usually speak very softly, do not increase your voice level very much because that will cause lip distortion and/or feedback.

4. Try to reduce background noises.

5. Be sure he knows that you are speaking to him. This may involve touching him to get his attention.

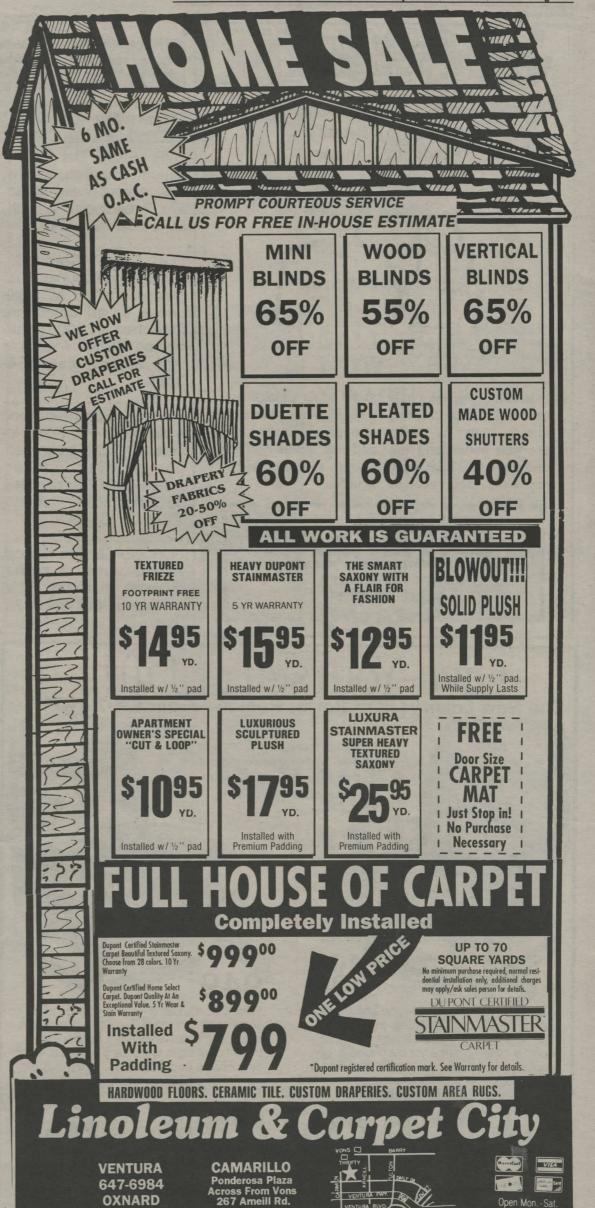

6. You may need to speak a little more slowly than normal because, since to him many consonents are indistinguishable, he must in effect have time to translate. (Perhaps he hasn't even realized this himself.) If you see there is difficulty, rephrase the sentence using different words when possible.

7. Because he must rely a great deal on context clues, he may need to be warned of any abrupt change in subject matter.

Dr. Luxford followed his own suggestions in a well-modulated voice so that he was easy to understand. You, friends of us who are hearing impaired, may be able to help us, too.

June 24 meeting guest speaker for the group was Christine Coleman, who showed a short movie, "Triumph Over Silence," which is about Beethoven's coping with deafness from age 28 until his death at 67.

Next meeting of Hearing Impaired Group is July 22 at 1:00 p.m. in the Lanai Rm.

PROGRESS?

NAVAVAVAVAVAVAVA

By Lillian Wallace

I remember when I moved here, Not so many years ago— The growing fields were lush and green, And living here was slow.

Walking was a pastime, And rabbits scurried by— Mountain tops kissed the clouds, Just beneath the sky.

The blossoming hibiscus,
Gave color to the day—
A prickly little cactus
Stopped my walk along the way.

When driving to the market, Was an easy thing to do—Parking always plentiful, And signal lights were few.

Oh yes, we had freeways, Time savers, everyone— Tell me, when did we lose it all, When was this rush begun?

Although I'm all for progress, I'd like a slower pace— With time to catch one's breath, And yes, a bit more breathing space.

Now, driving out the Village gate, Leaves the quiet life behind— And I can't wait to hurry back To the peace that I will find.

TWILIGHT ZONE

By Esther Robbins Maltun

A lifetime's but a moment in eternity... We come, fulfill our destinies, and go. How many years to us will be allotted? None of us is privileged that to know.

In twilight zone, we know they can't be many, So we must live with wisdom and with strength, Savoring each day that God has given, Nor should we measure happiness by length.

One day, when our twilight days are ended, We ask no tears or grief from those who care, But rather that they count up all our blessings And see that we have had our goodly share.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS MEET WITH L.V. WAR VETERANS

ing May, women and men who served both on the war front as well as on the home front during World War II, conducted history and social studies classes for students from nearby schools.

In early May, more than 100 students from Newbury Park, questions in hand, spent a morning in our picnic area as some 35 LV veterans fielded their questions concerning World War II.

LV's Rube Davis, the driving force behind this educational program, welcomed the students and then introduced Security Chief Max Moses who added his welcome along with a brief description of our retirement complex.

Another guest, Anne Anderson former head of Space limits reporting on all of the stories and experiences covered by our veterans but certainly worth mentioning are the following:

It's fitting that this month being the 50th Anniversary of the infamous Bataan Death March, Village 37's Frank Goldstein would tell about being in the Philippines at the start of the war, the retreat down the Bataan Penin-

Now for a strange turn of events. One of the lady students in Frank's class audio-taped his talk, unbeknownst to him and made a copy for him.

"What a treat and treasure," Frank said to your reporter. "Would you believe that there were events there that my wife Shirley had never even heard before!"

CAMARILLO HS RETURNS

Late in May over 125 students from Camarillo H.S. spent a similar morning here.

Ron Beck, a social sciences and history teacher, who has escorted students here on several occasions, said: "This is truly an experience our students look forward to. In all the times we have been here, I've never heard even one student say he didn't care for the trip to Leisure Village. They are eager to complete their lesson plan and during the days following I hear expressions of praise for those who helped win that war so many years ago."

Among the many distinguished LV residents taking part were two current Board members, Dan Davis and Guy Moshier plus former Board member John Lauten.

Of interest to the Camarillo Daily News photog-Rube Davis mentioned rapher as well as the Channel 12 filming crew was the fact that many veterans wore their combat and/or dress uniforms of the era as well as bringing medals, newspaper clippings and assorted memorabilia.

BIRDS OF LEISURE VILLAGE

Last month I wrote about the proliferation of crows within the Village and their threats to other more desirable birds.

On Saturday June 13, just outside my front door were two empty half shells of mocking birds eggs. Directly above on the comb of the roof were the confetti-like remains of those eggs. It was like a personal insult; can crows read?

On Thursday, June 18, from my house I could see one of the tiny warblers whose nest was a couple of doors away chasing an enormous crow.

On Wednesday, June 24, as I drove my car outside the garage that tiny warbler was chasing two enormous crows over the housetops. That was ridiculous enough to have been funny had it not been so tragic.
