III. New Business

A. Phil 125W Course Proposal

1. The committee discussed that this proposal needed to be more clearly grounded in the work that was done in the W course workshops, that there needed to be a more specific emphasis on disciplinary writing, and that there needed to be some shifts in the ways the author was supporting writing in the class.

B. ID 134W

1. The committee discussed this course proposal and found some great elements, such as the discipline specific textbook, the genres the proposer used, as well as the design of the process piece. There are still some elements that need to be revised, in particular making the writing more integrated into the course and teaching writing planned into the schedule.
