Dear Delegate:

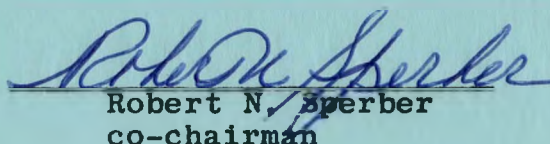

This November the American people face the most important election since 1932.

The majority of Democrats -- and a significant number of Republicans -- are convinced that Governor Stevenson has what it takes to be an outstanding President. Don't you agree? You can demonstrate that you have what it takes to be an outstanding delegate by adhering to your own convictions. Reject the siren call of the new "delegate numbers game" in which candidates tell you that they already have the votes to win. If this is so, why are they so avidly courting yours?

A hasty selection of a nominee will surely not convince the electorate that will make the ultimate decision this Fall. Vote your conviction. Provide the United States with the man who can lead the party to greatness, as well as to victory -- Adlai E. Stevenson.

Very truly yours,
