Dear Aludu; — Thanks very much for your kind letter and noble interior. I wonder if you have ever been to St. Germain L'Auxerrois since the organ was overhauled and found out whether they had spoiled its rich tones. Last Sunday I commenced to practice on the organ at Hamilton Hall but this is a secret. I am sort of set against teachers and consequently will plod along by myself. My scheme is to practice three or four mornings in the week before going to work. My blowers fooled me twice last week by not appearing but am fixed all right now with two steady German brothers who will alternate on different days. The strike seems to be coming to an end with chances for some new work in the office. Hoping you are well and in good spirits, I remain your loving brother
