NINETEEN TWENTY FIVE

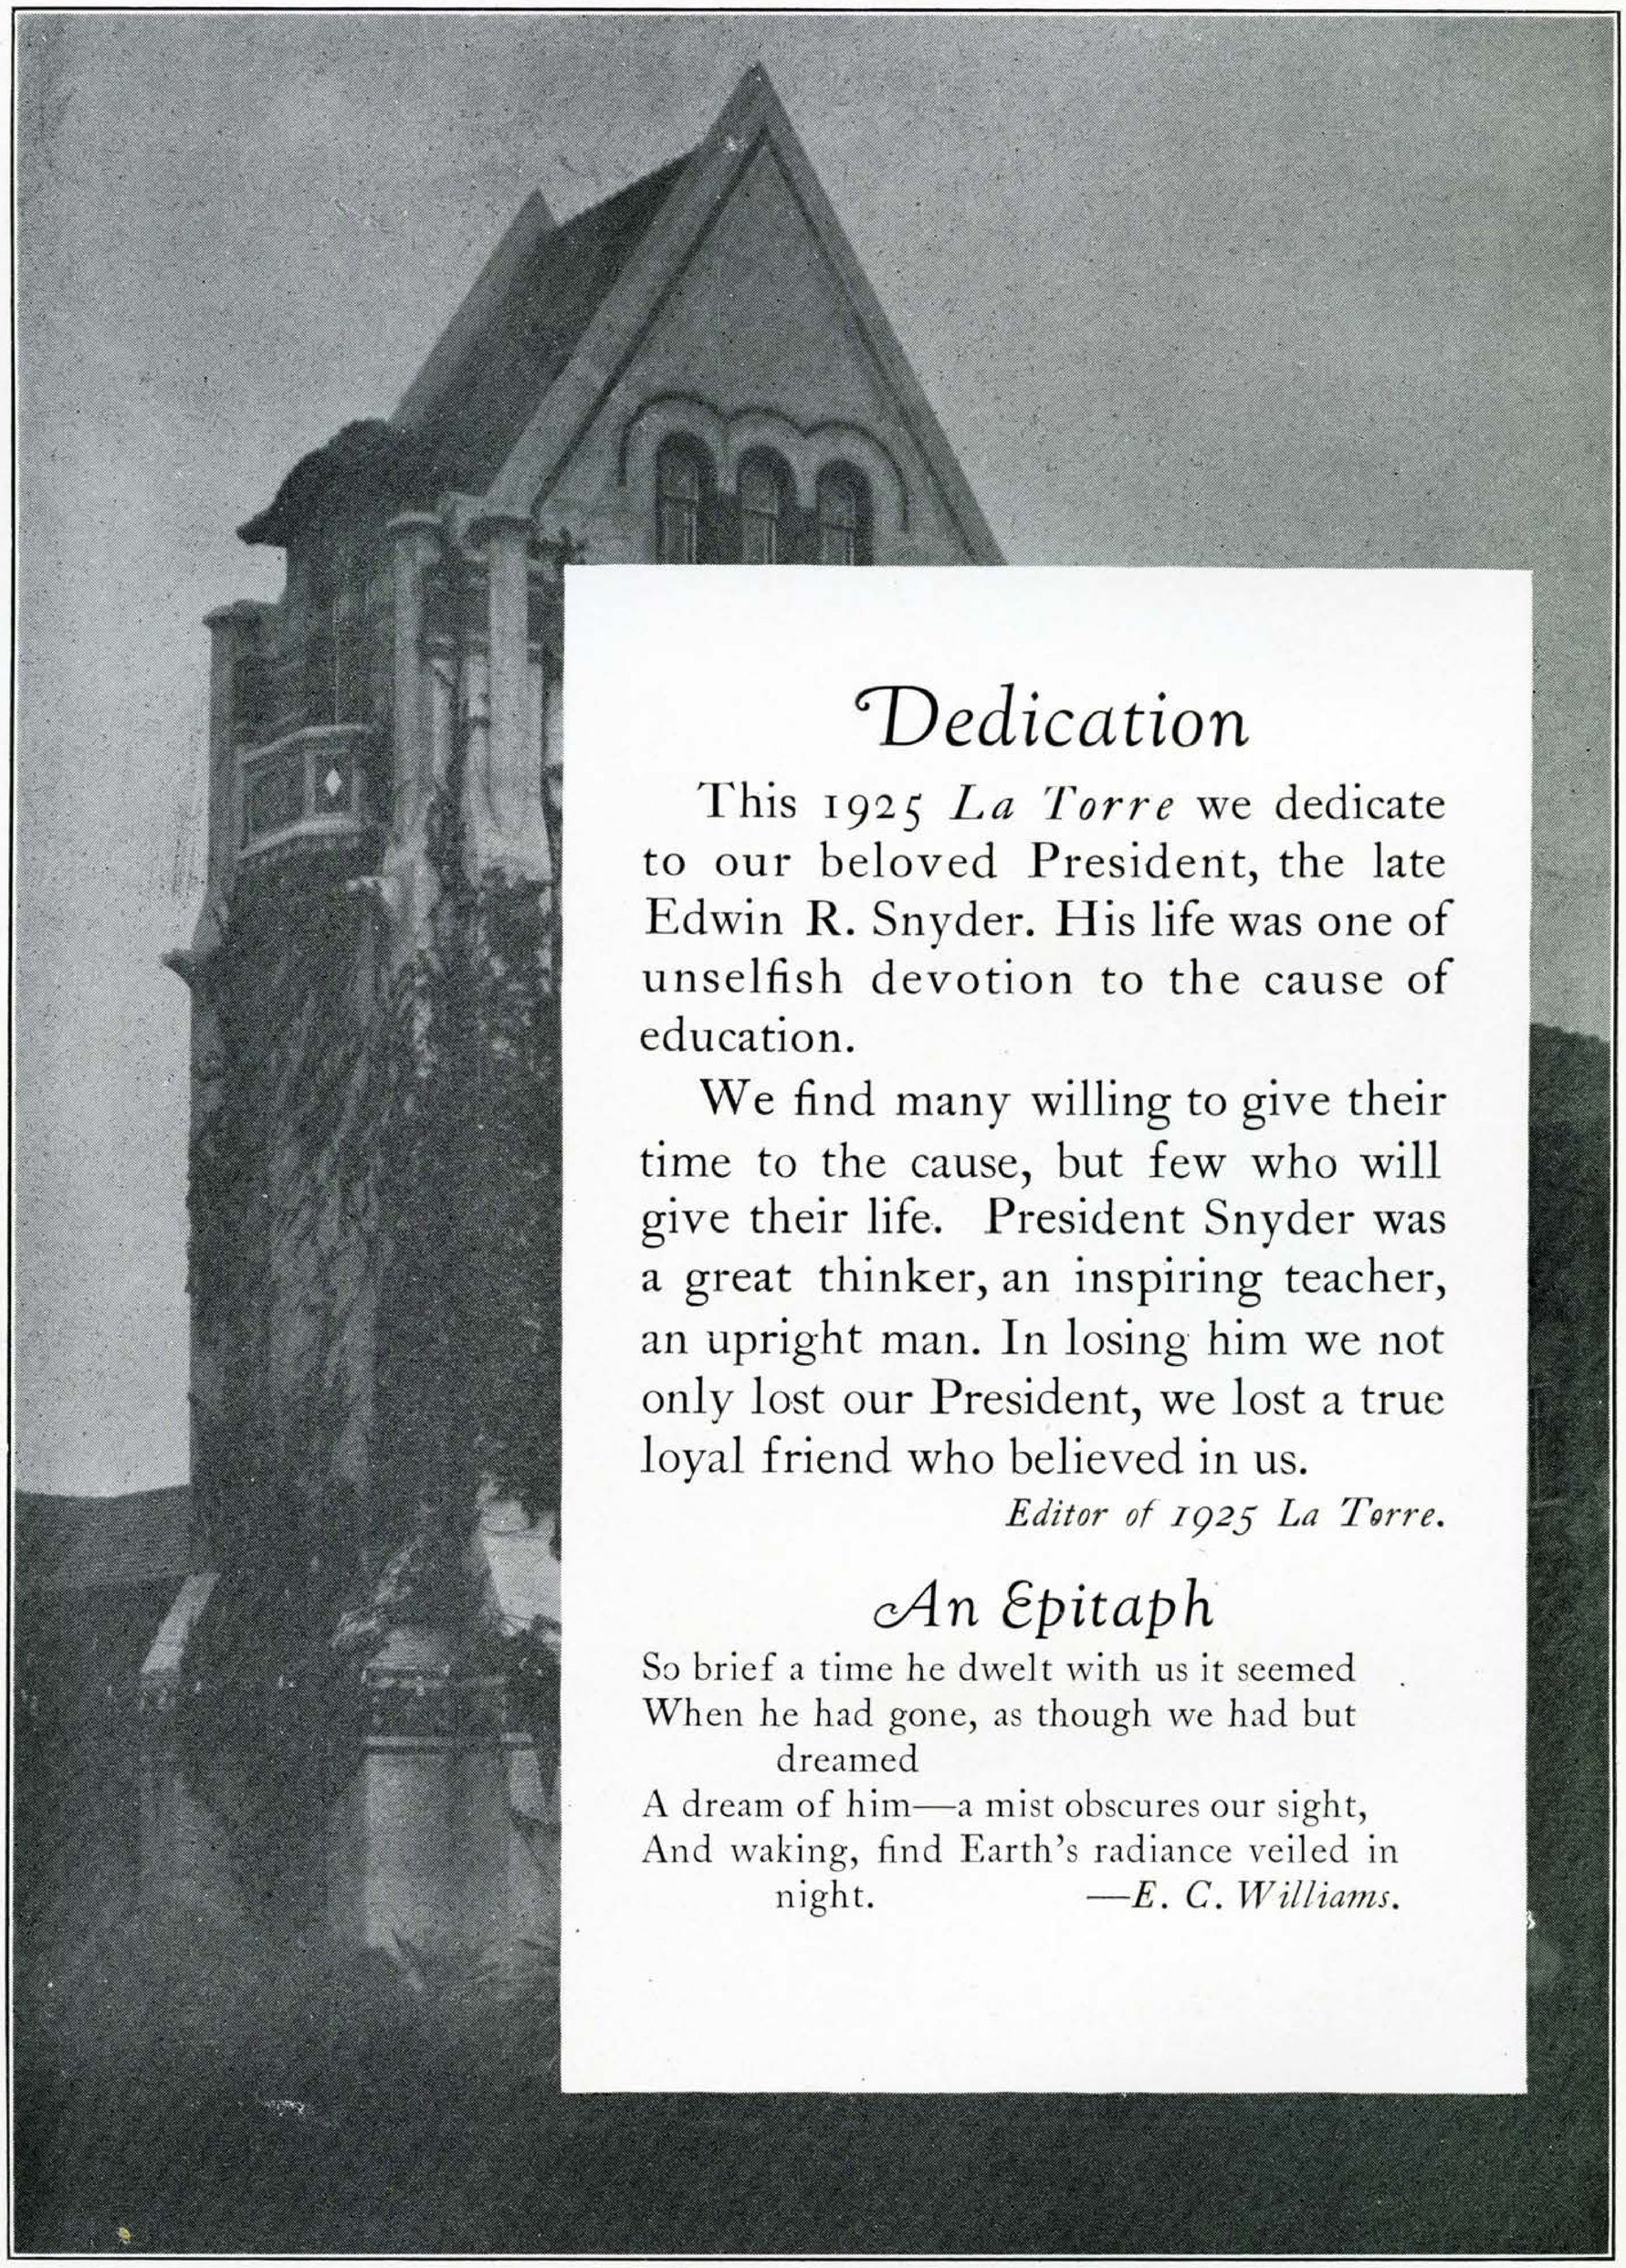

The 1925 LA TORRE

State Teachers College

SAN JOSE
CALIF.

EX LIBRIS

Dedication

This 1925 La Torre we dedicate to our beloved President, the late Edwin R. Snyder. His life was one of unselfish devotion to the cause of education.

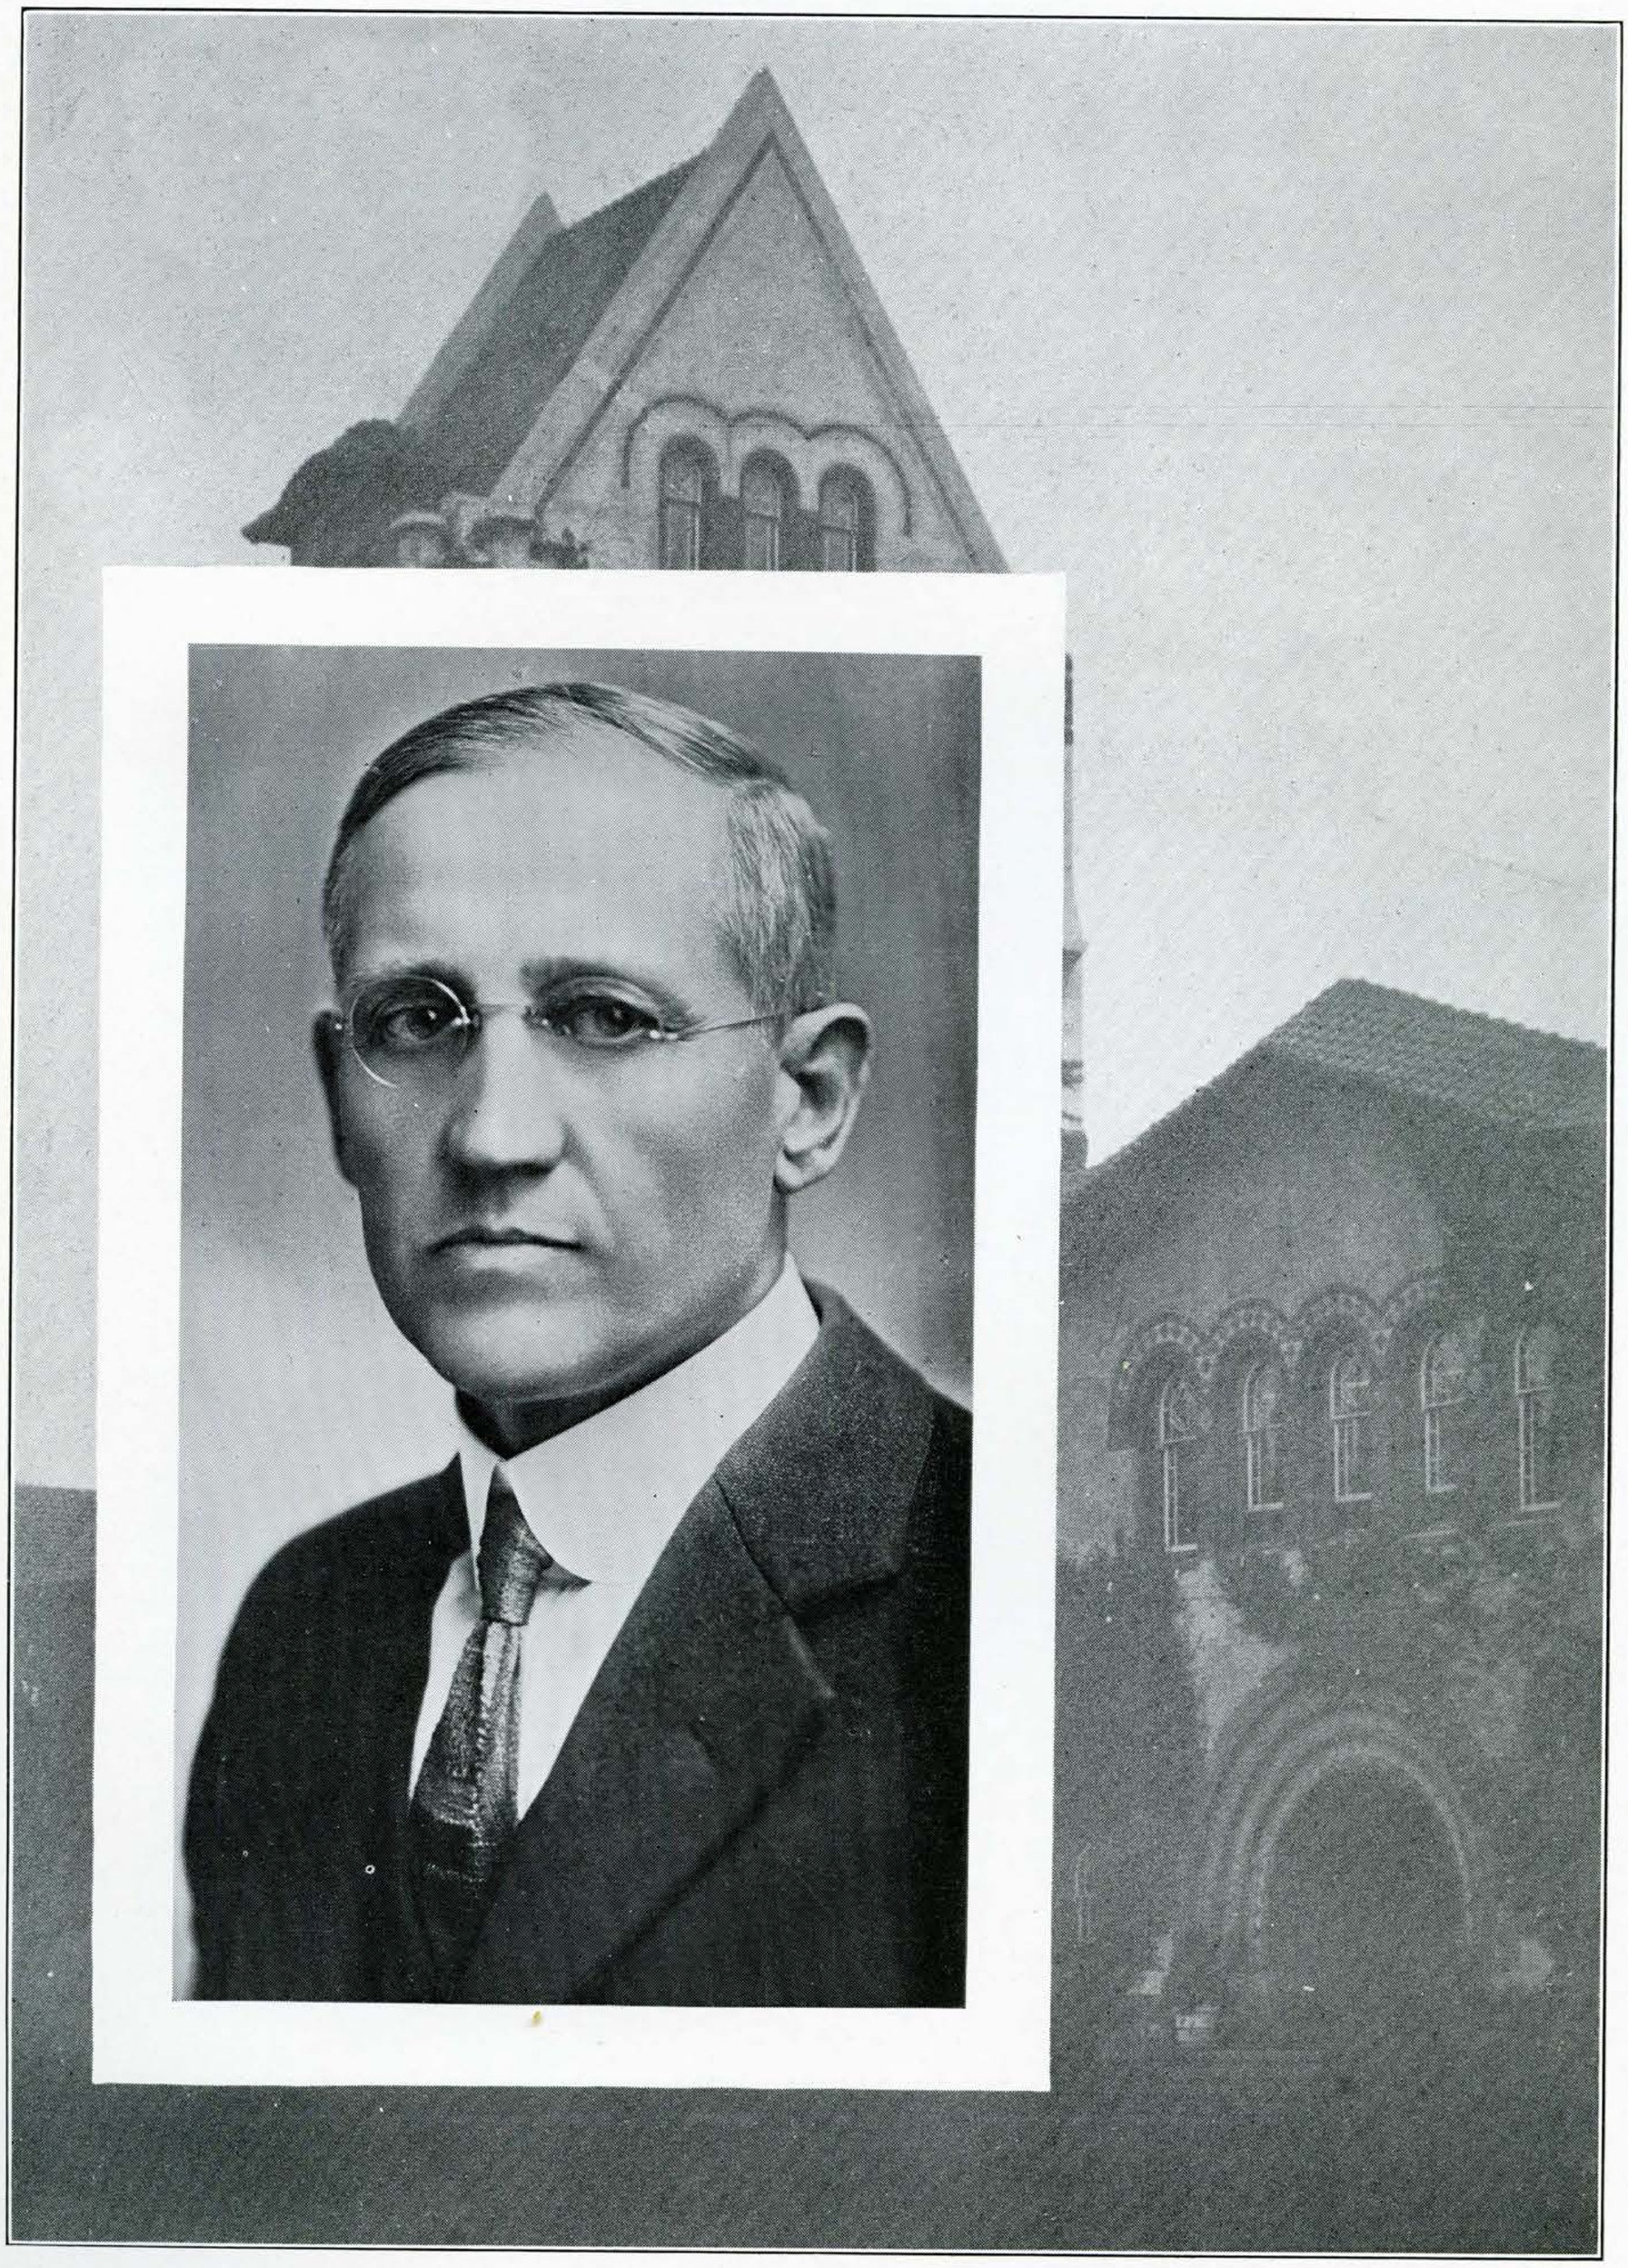

We find many willing to give their time to the cause, but few who will give their life. President Snyder was a great thinker, an inspiring teacher, an upright man. In losing him we not only lost our President, we lost a true loyal friend who believed in us.

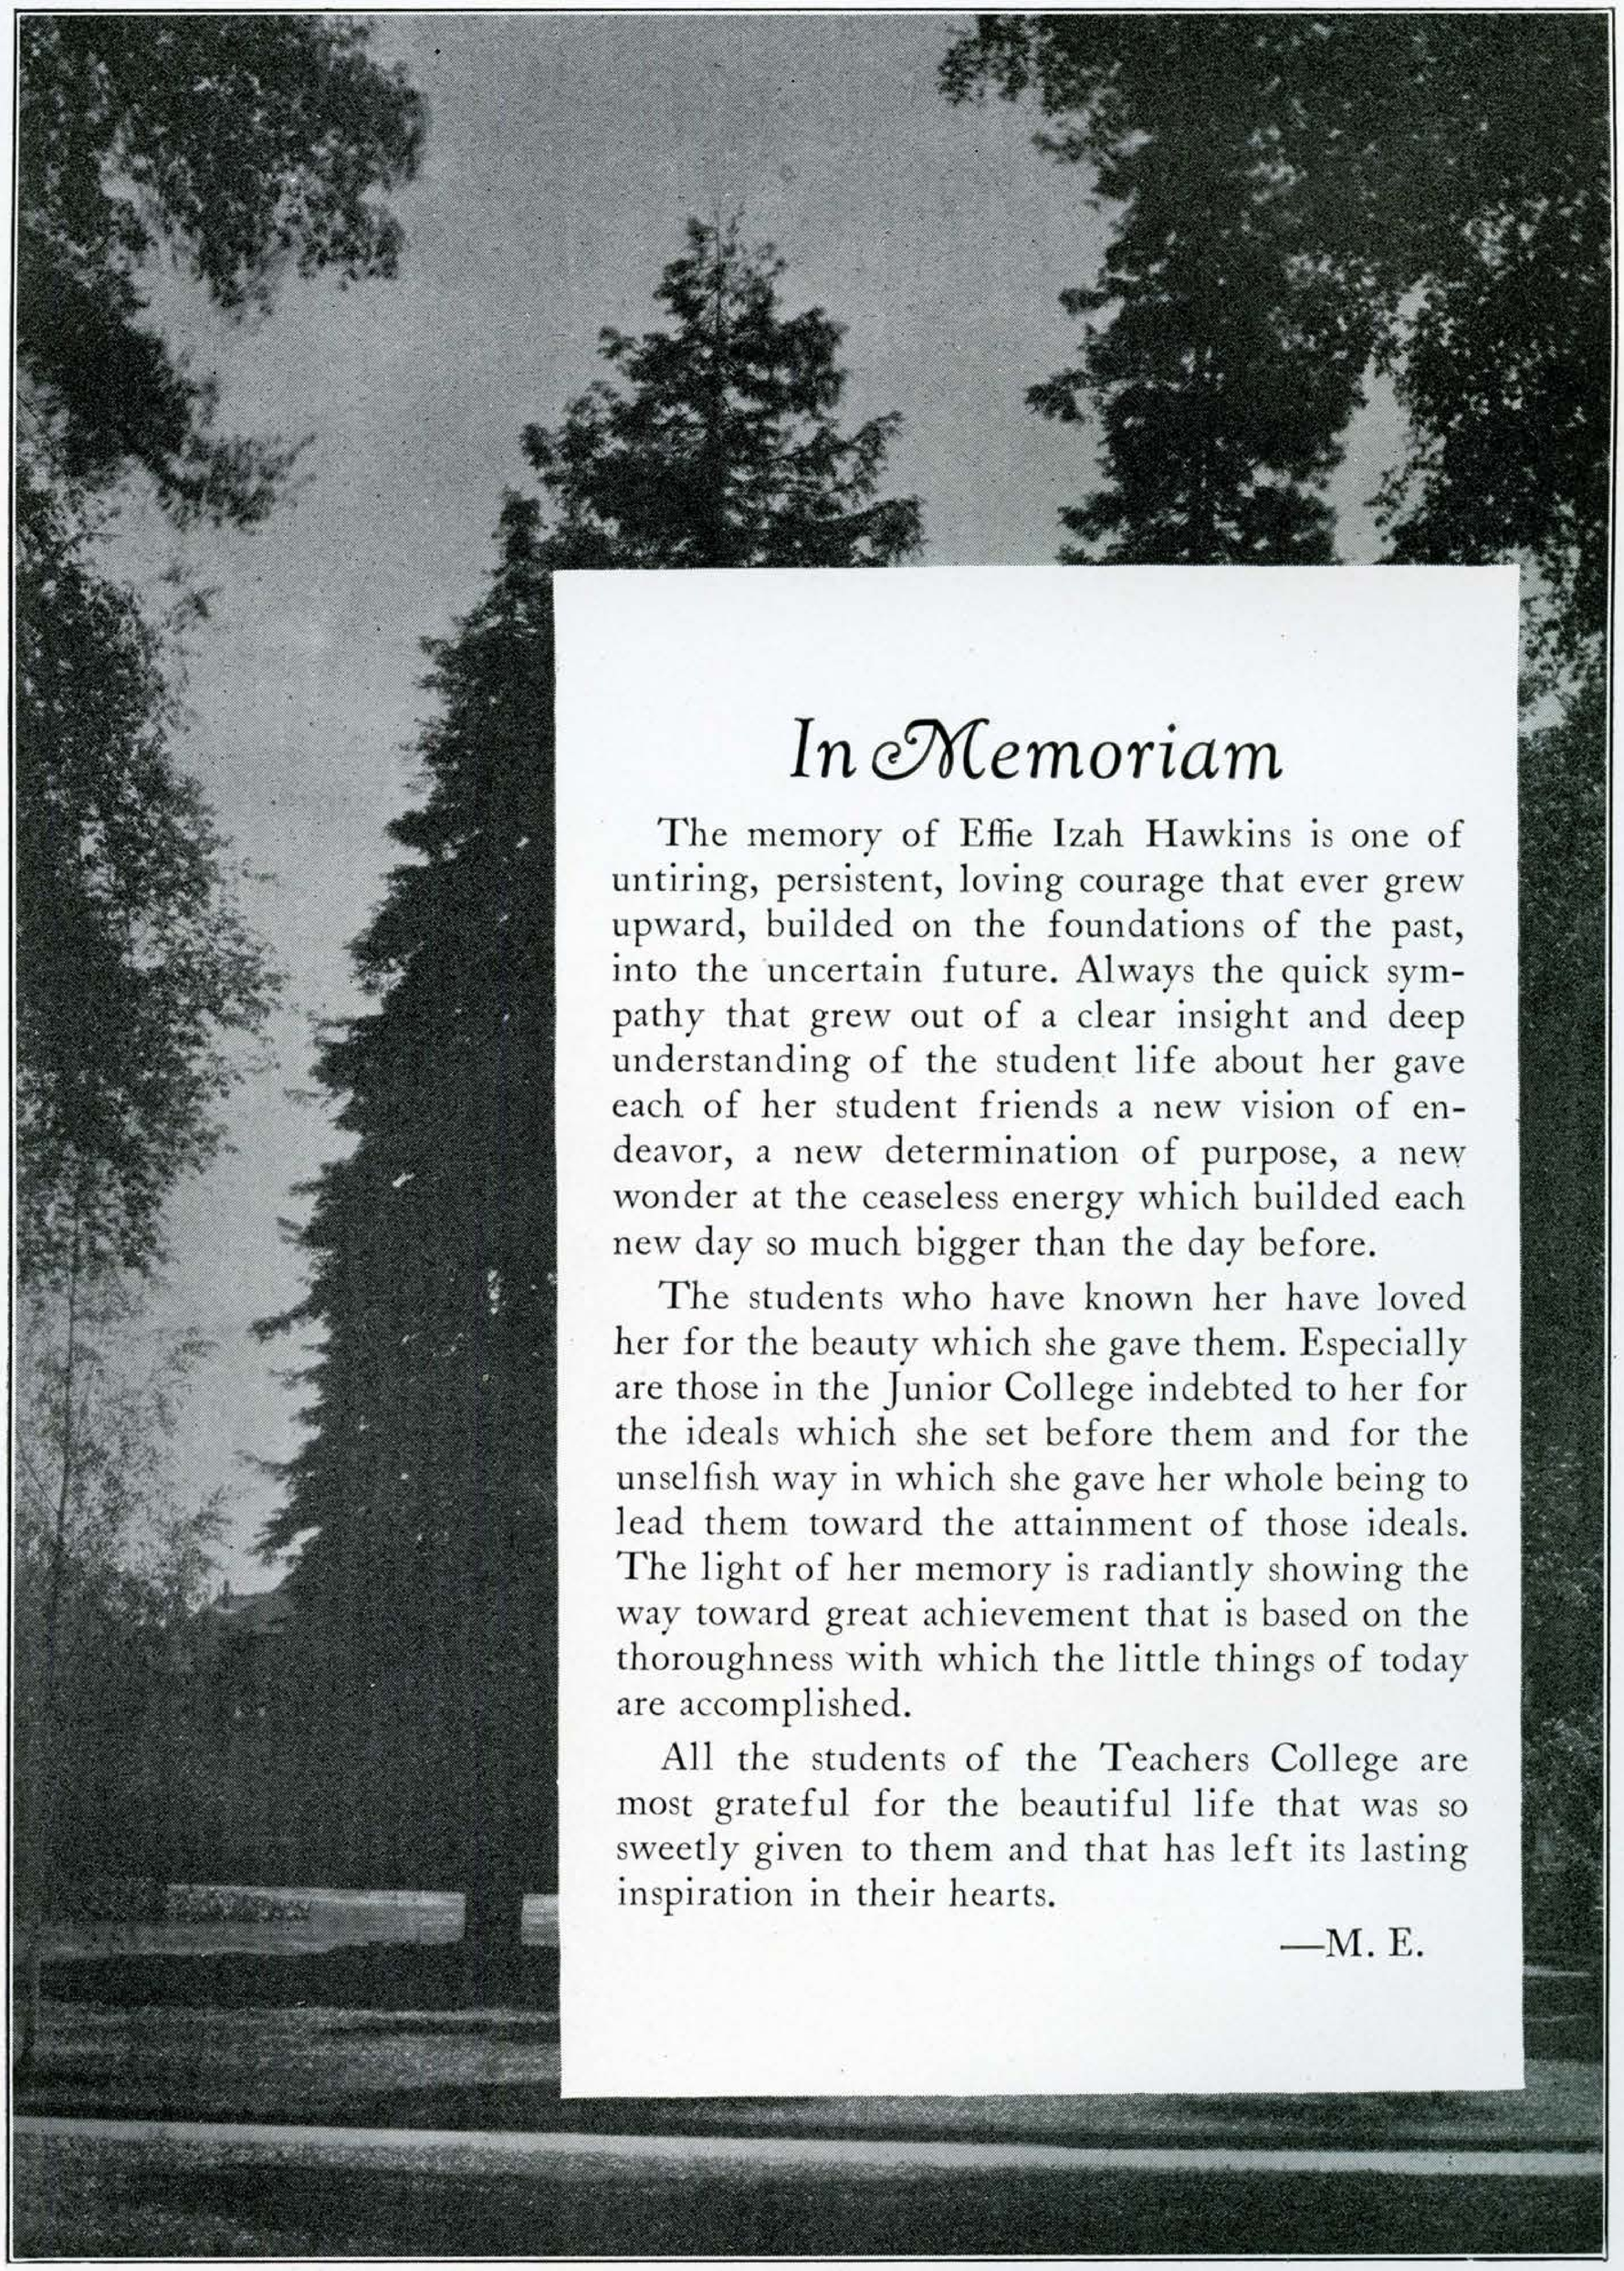

Editor of 1925 La Torre.

An Epitaph

So brief a time he dwelt with us it seemed
When he had gone, as though we had but dreamed
A dream of him—a mist obscures our sight,
And waking, find Earth's radiance veiled in night.

—E. C. Williams.

In Memoriam

The memory of Effie Izah Hawkins is one of untiring, persistent, loving courage that ever grew upward, builded on the foundations of the past, into the uncertain future. Always the quick sympathy that grew out of a clear insight and deep understanding of the student life about her gave each of her student friends a new vision of endeavor, a new determination of purpose, a new wonder at the ceaseless energy which builded each new day so much bigger than the day before.

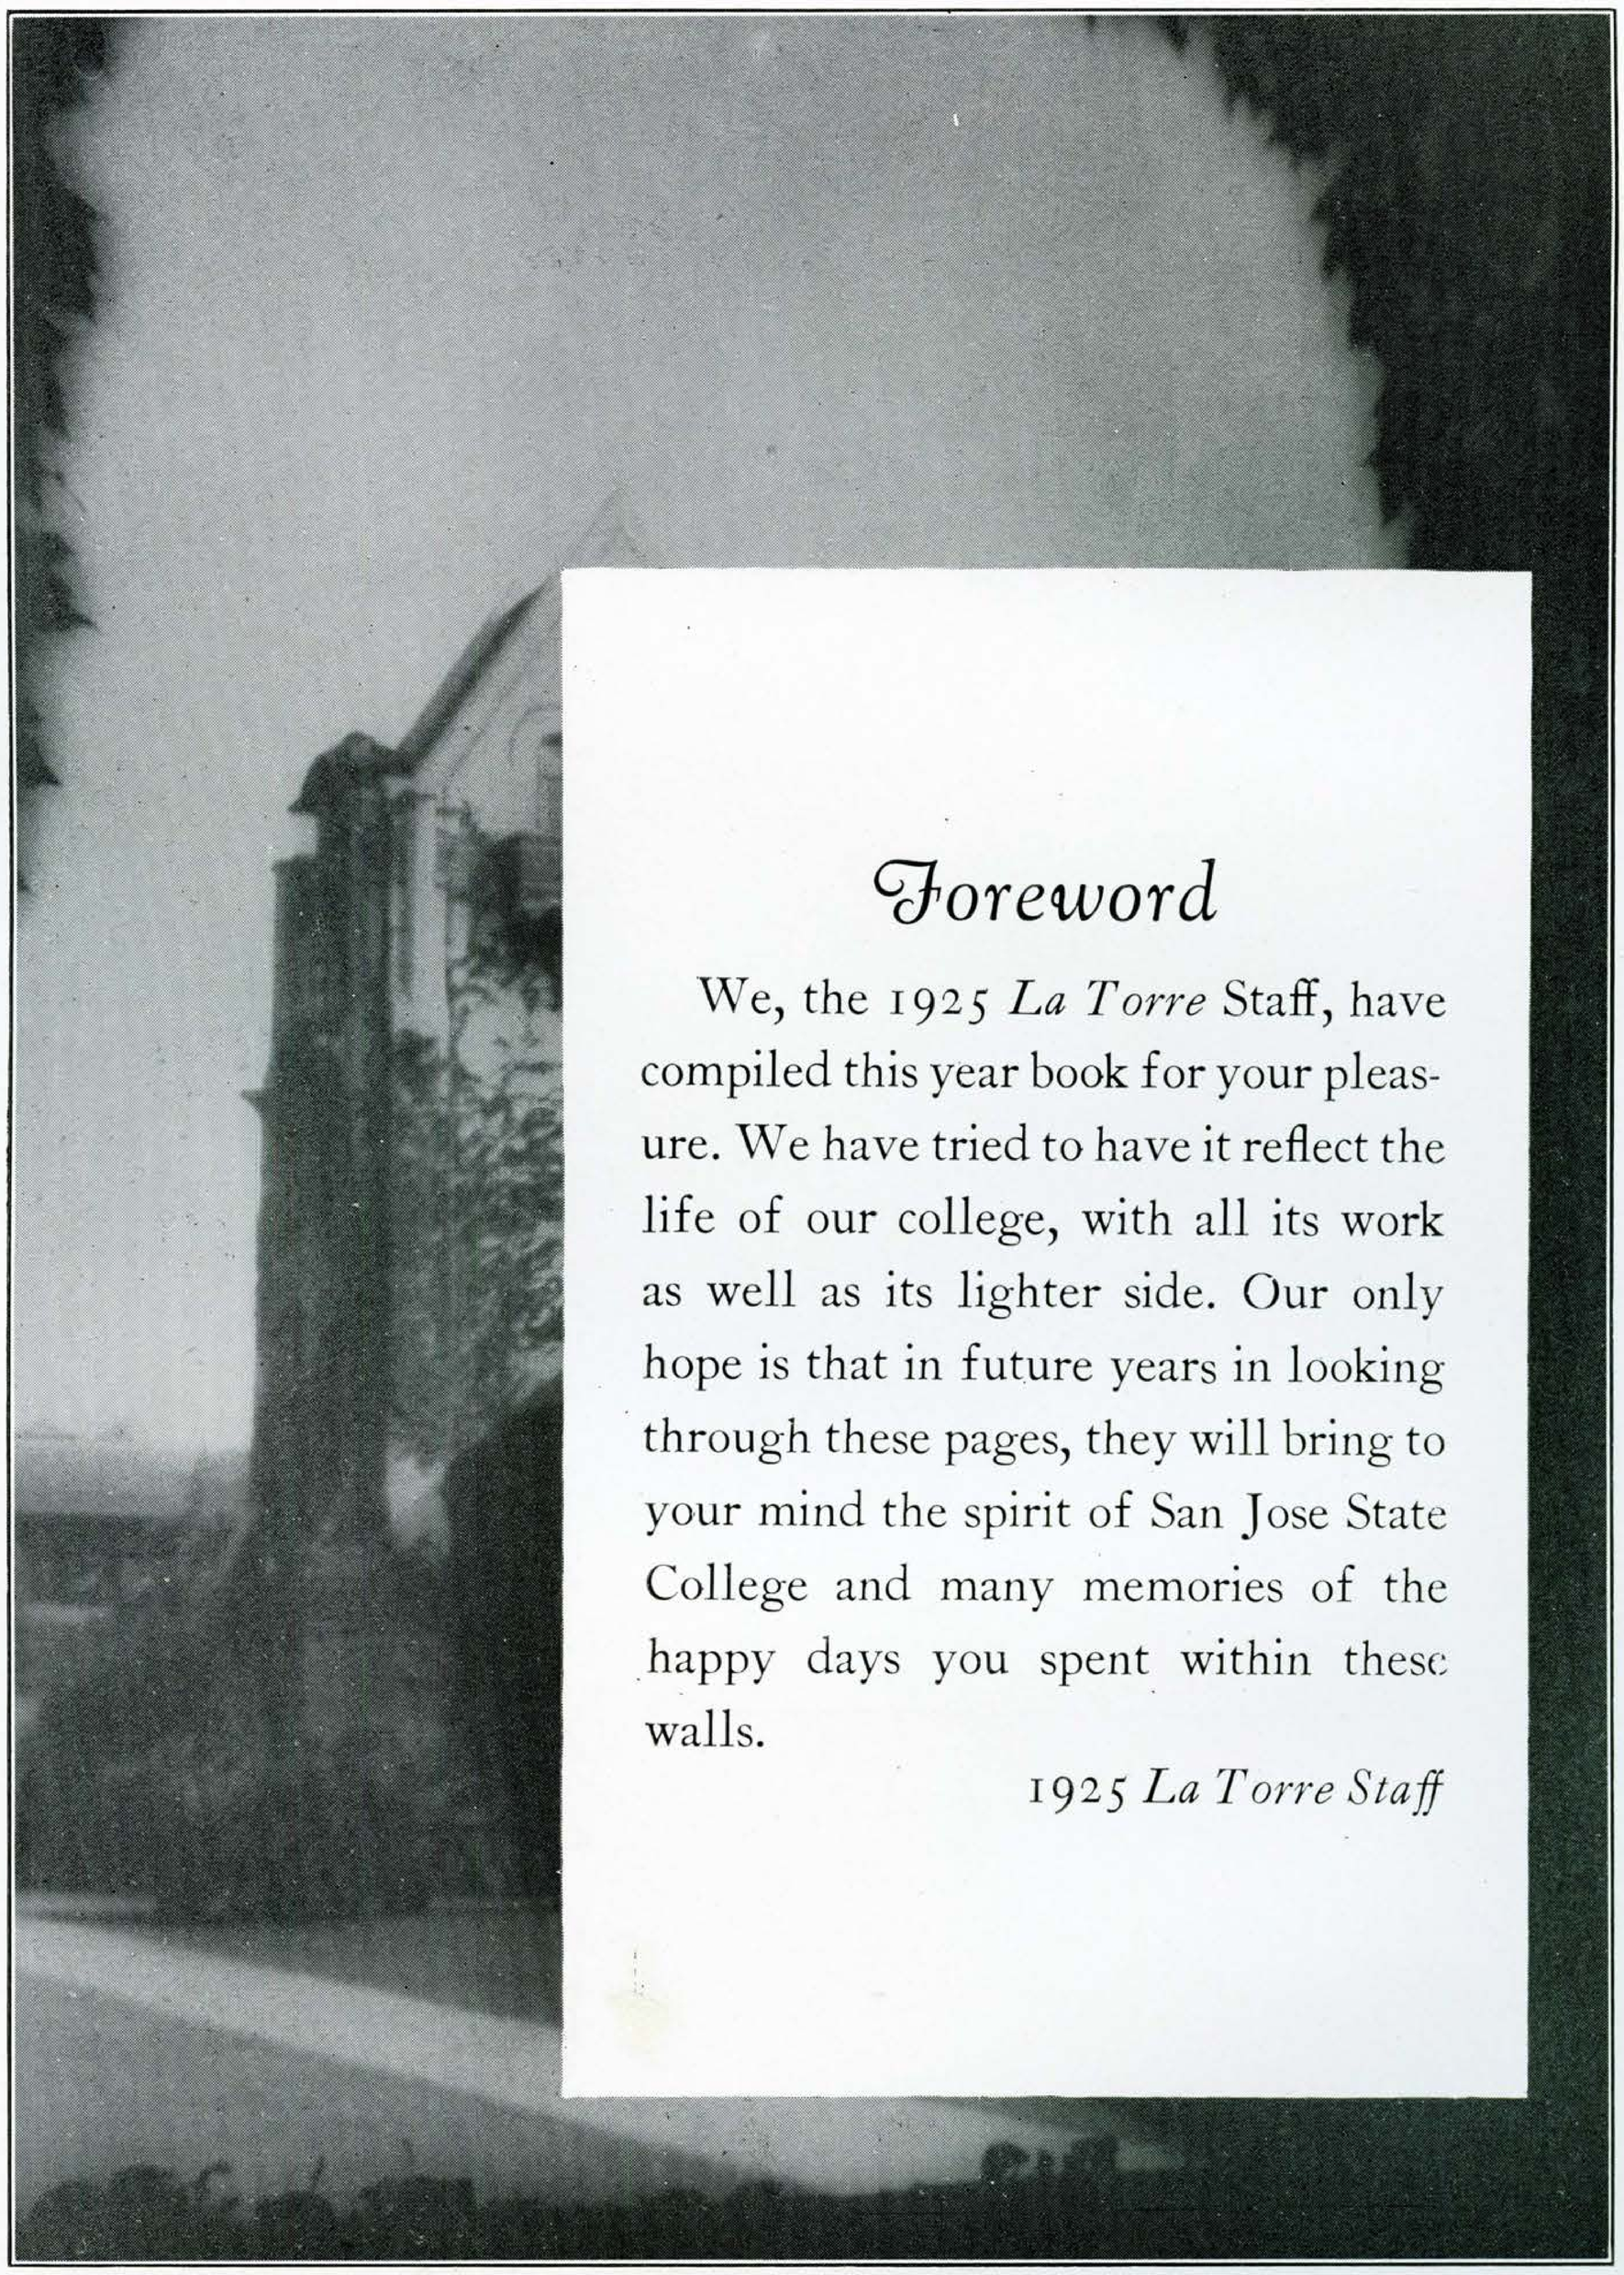

The students who have known her have loved her for the beauty which she gave them. Especially are those in the Junior College indebted to her for the ideals which she set before them and for the unselfish way in which she gave her whole being to lead them toward the attainment of those ideals. The light of her memory is radiantly showing the way toward great achievement that is based on the thoroughness with which the little things of today are accomplished.

All the students of the Teachers College are most grateful for the beautiful life that was so sweetly given to them and that has left its lasting inspiration in their hearts.

—M. E.

Foreword

We, the 1925 La Torre Staff, have compiled this year book for your pleasure. We have tried to have it reflect the life of our college, with all its work as well as its lighter side. Our only hope is that in future years in looking through these pages, they will bring to your mind the spirit of San Jose State College and many memories of the happy days you spent within these walls.

Friendship's Quest

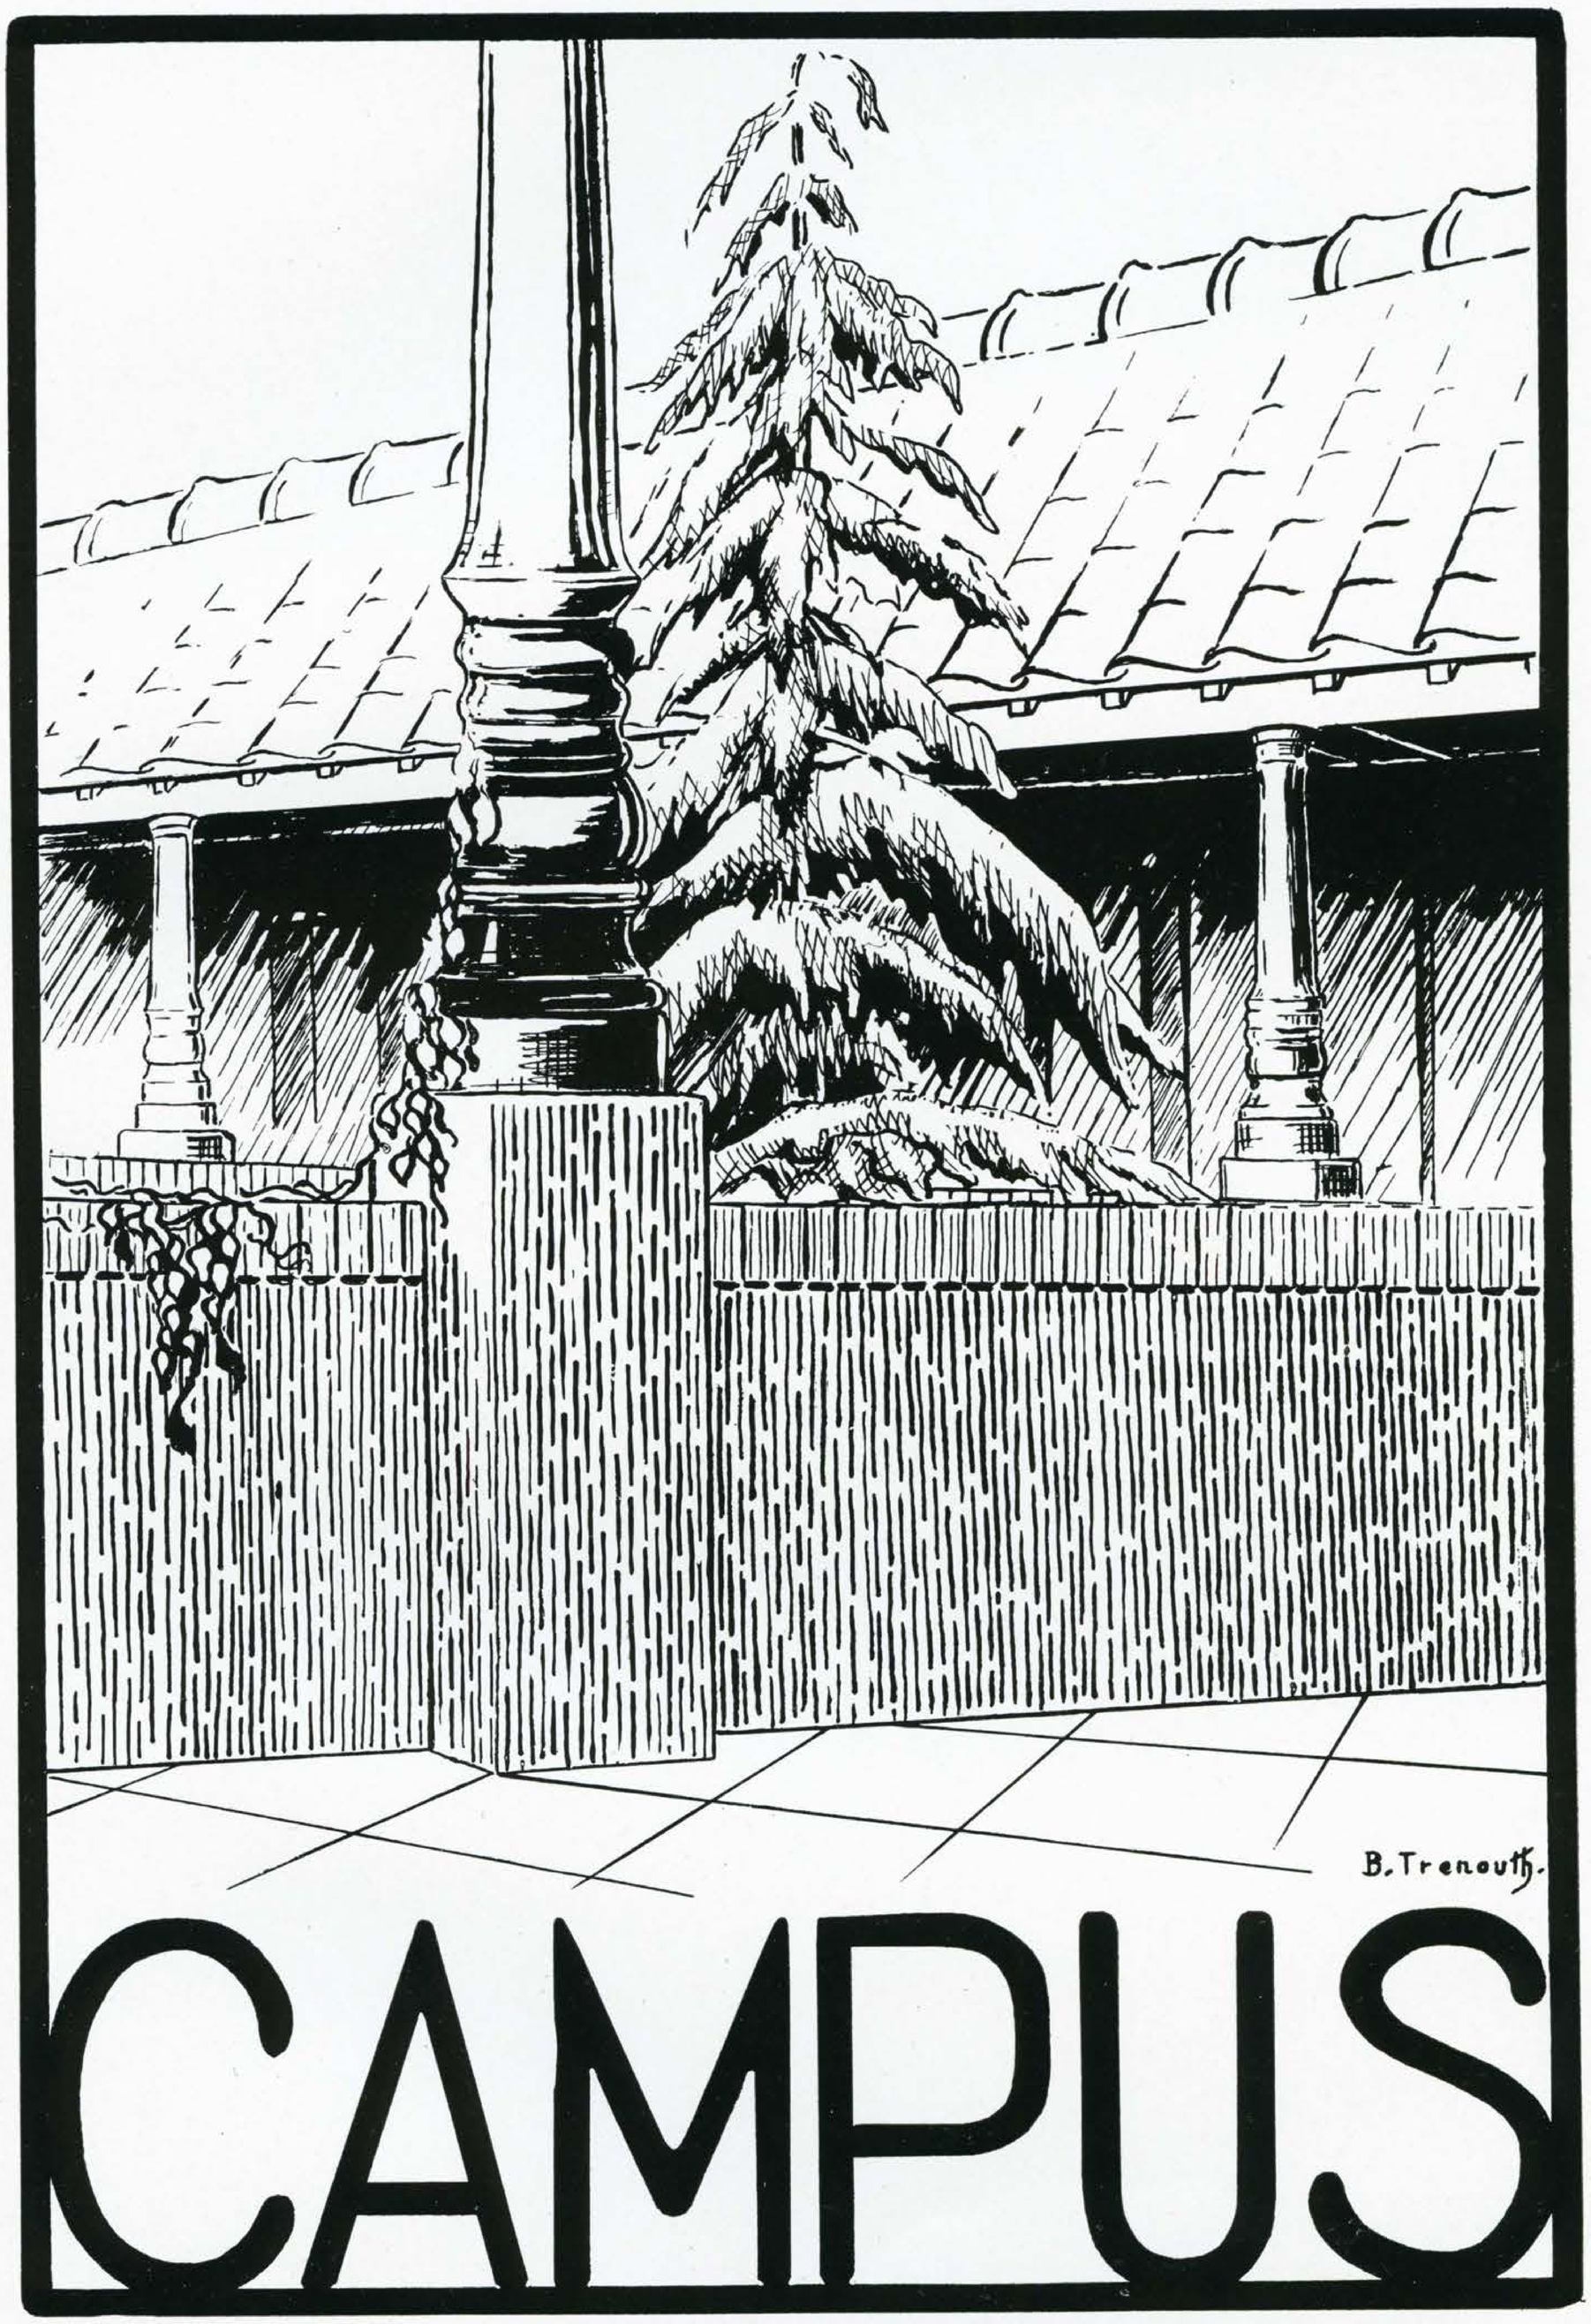

There's the friend we make in pleasure
And the friend we make at play,
Where friend meets friend in leisure,
In the free hours of the day.

But the near friend, the dear friend,
And the truest friend of all,
Is the friend we make at college,
Where the truest friendships call.

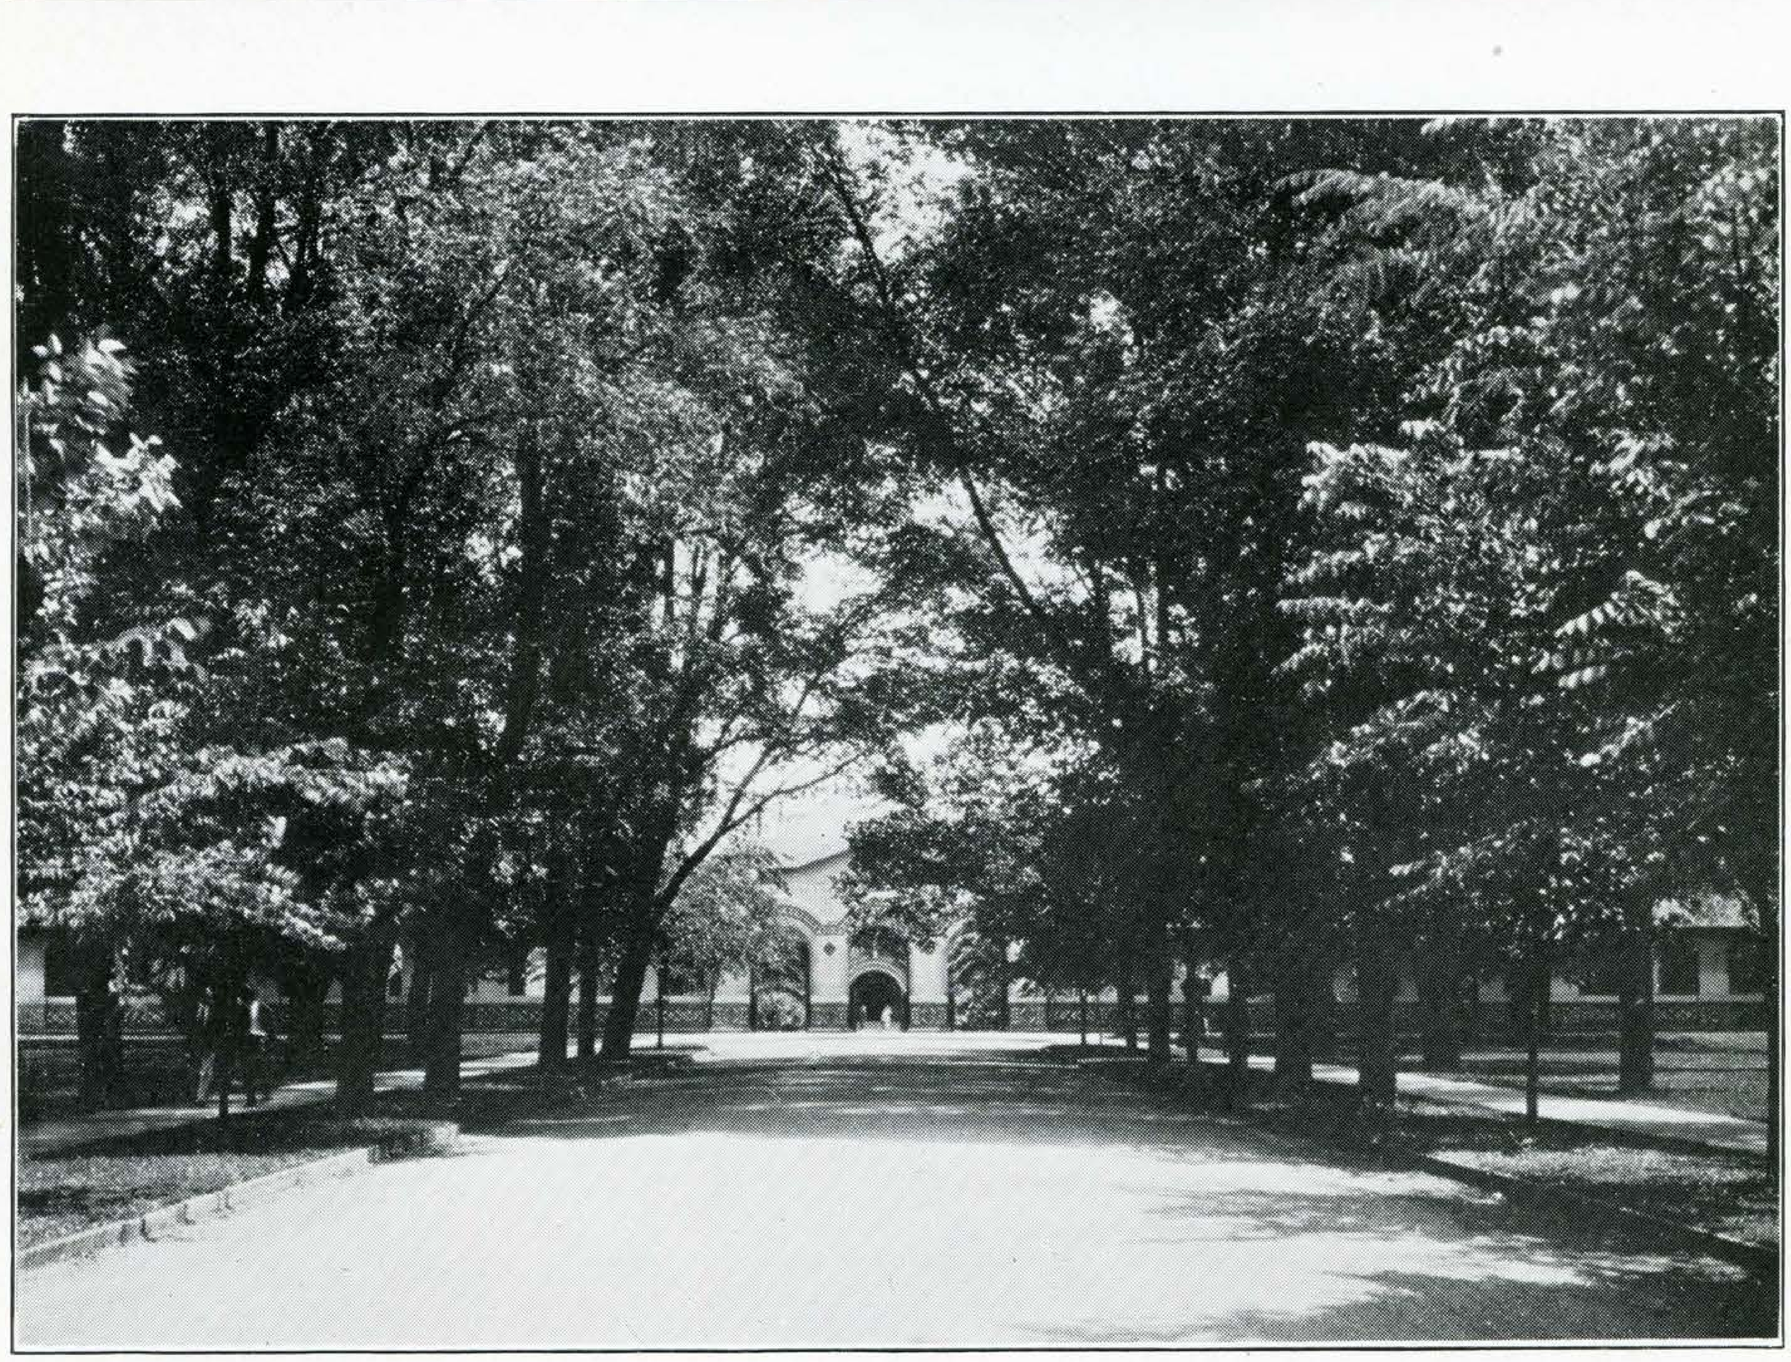

And the friend we make in trade,
There's the friend we make at labor
Where man meets man as neighbor
And is glad to give his aid.

But the near friend, the dear friend,
The friend whose friendship's best,
Is the friend we make at college,
Where we make our friendship quest.

Farewell

We love you, College Quad and Tower,
Flower fleck'd lawn and verdant bower,
Every arch with sunny view,
For Alma Mater, these are you.

Protection gleams from each stalwart stone,
Guidance, your Tower, stands alone;
Love shines forth from your wonder grounds,
And the joy of youth in your halls abound.

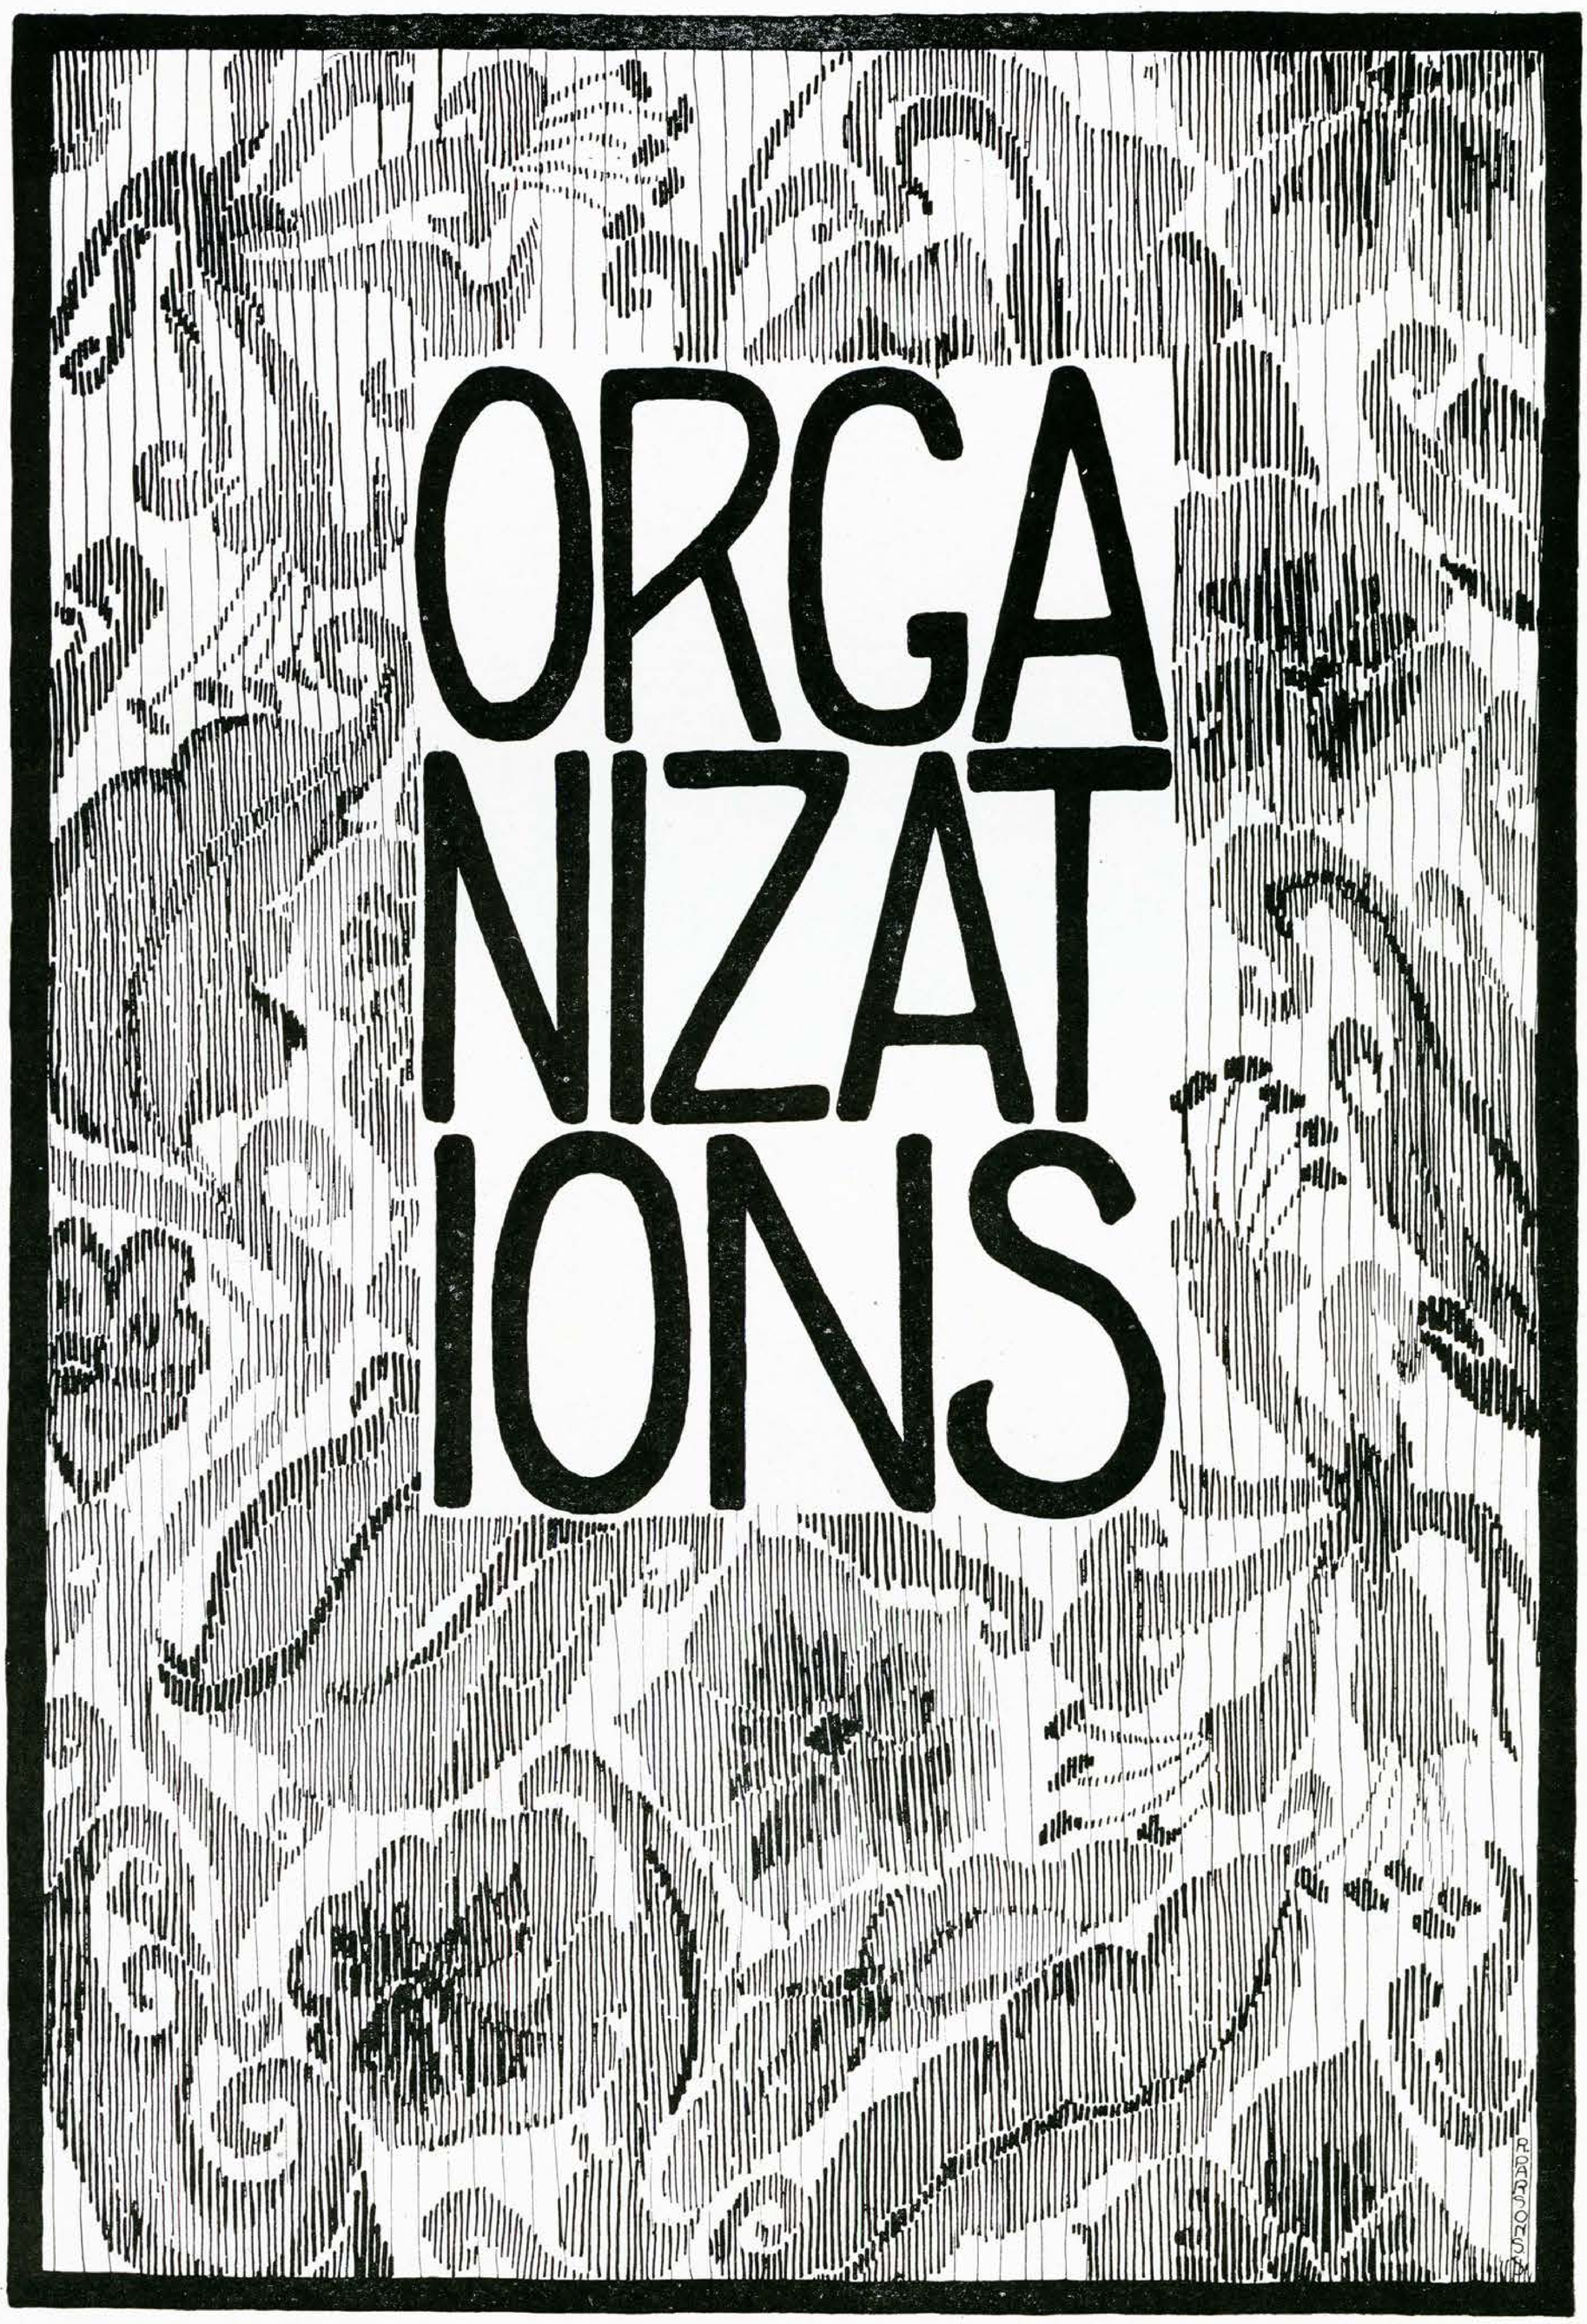

May God e'er bless you, and grant this, too,
That someday we may come back to you.

Associated Student Body

Helen Howell

To express the growth, accomplishments, and joy that have resulted from the associated efforts of over eleven hundred individuals is not easy.

There has been growth in the institution for whose interests we are voluntarily united and there has been growth in the minds and souls of each member of that institution. The full appreciation of this growth cannot as yet be fully known; that will come with the years.

But we can look back over our accomplishments, which we largely destined by the foresight and guidance of our two admirable Student Body Presidents. Helen Howell ably filled the executive office during the fall semester and Louis Monferino succeeded her as president for the spring semester. Both administrations wre supported by efficient and co-operative boards.

One of the most oustanding achievements of the year has been the improvement of the assemblies as a socialization center. Under the chairmanship of Dr. Freeland the assembly committee has carried out a plan whereby every department of the institution had charge of an assembly program, in which the essentials of its work were presented as assemblies were held bi-weekly, a schedule was arranged by which Student Body meetings were held once in every two weeks, motion pictures of an entertaining and educational nature were presented weekly, and many noted speakers addressed the students. The earnest co-operation of the Music Department made community singing an important part of the assemblies. Some new school songs and much school spirit have thus been evolved.

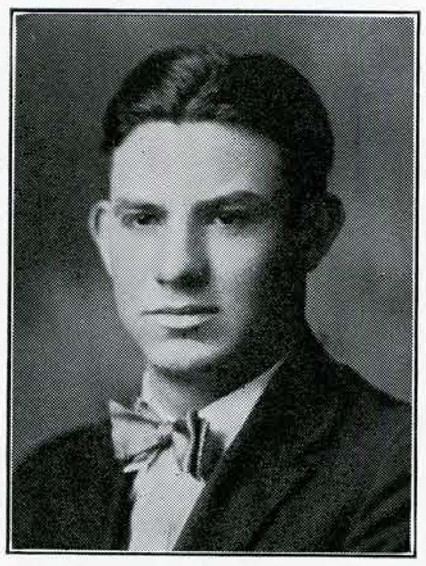

The yell leaders, Ed White, George Ebey, and Oxy Hulbert, should be given a great deal of credit for their splendid work this year. Never before has our school hymn been sung more than this semester. It has become the custom to sing it after every assembly. New bleacher songs were composed which added spirit and pep to the games.

Many programs were given throughout the year by students. Almost all the students who have any talent gladly lent it and it was greatly appreciated, as there was a good balance of sense and nonsense.

Another achievement of which we are justly proud was the Student Body purchase of the Edwin Markham

Miss Twombly

home as a permanent Health Cottage. The fall semester was filled with active student projects in remodeling and furnishing the then newly established but temporary Health Cottage. The Associated Students fostered a Christmas card sale, the proceeds of which were donated to the Health Cottage Fund.

Student interest has not been confined to campus activities alone. A fine spirit of co-operation was shown in the shoe shining, marcelling, and hair cutting campaign for the Student Friendship Fund. Again the students aided in sending a delegate to the Nation's capital to attend the Student Volunteer Convention. In two Community Festivals, Fresno's Raisin Day, and Saratoga's Blossom Day, students participated. College students also co-operated in making the David Starr Jordan Peace Day Celebration the great success that it was. In the afternoon all the college students lined up on both sides of the walk to honor Dr. David Starr Jordan. As he alighted from his car the Kindergarten children met him and scattered roses. An inspiring program was held in the Assembly Hall.

Much spirit and enthusiasm has been shown in the athletic rallies, and the appreciation of the students to our basketball champions found expression in a peppy basketball banquet. In the future the athletic representatives will be term the "Spartans," as that name was chosen by the students.

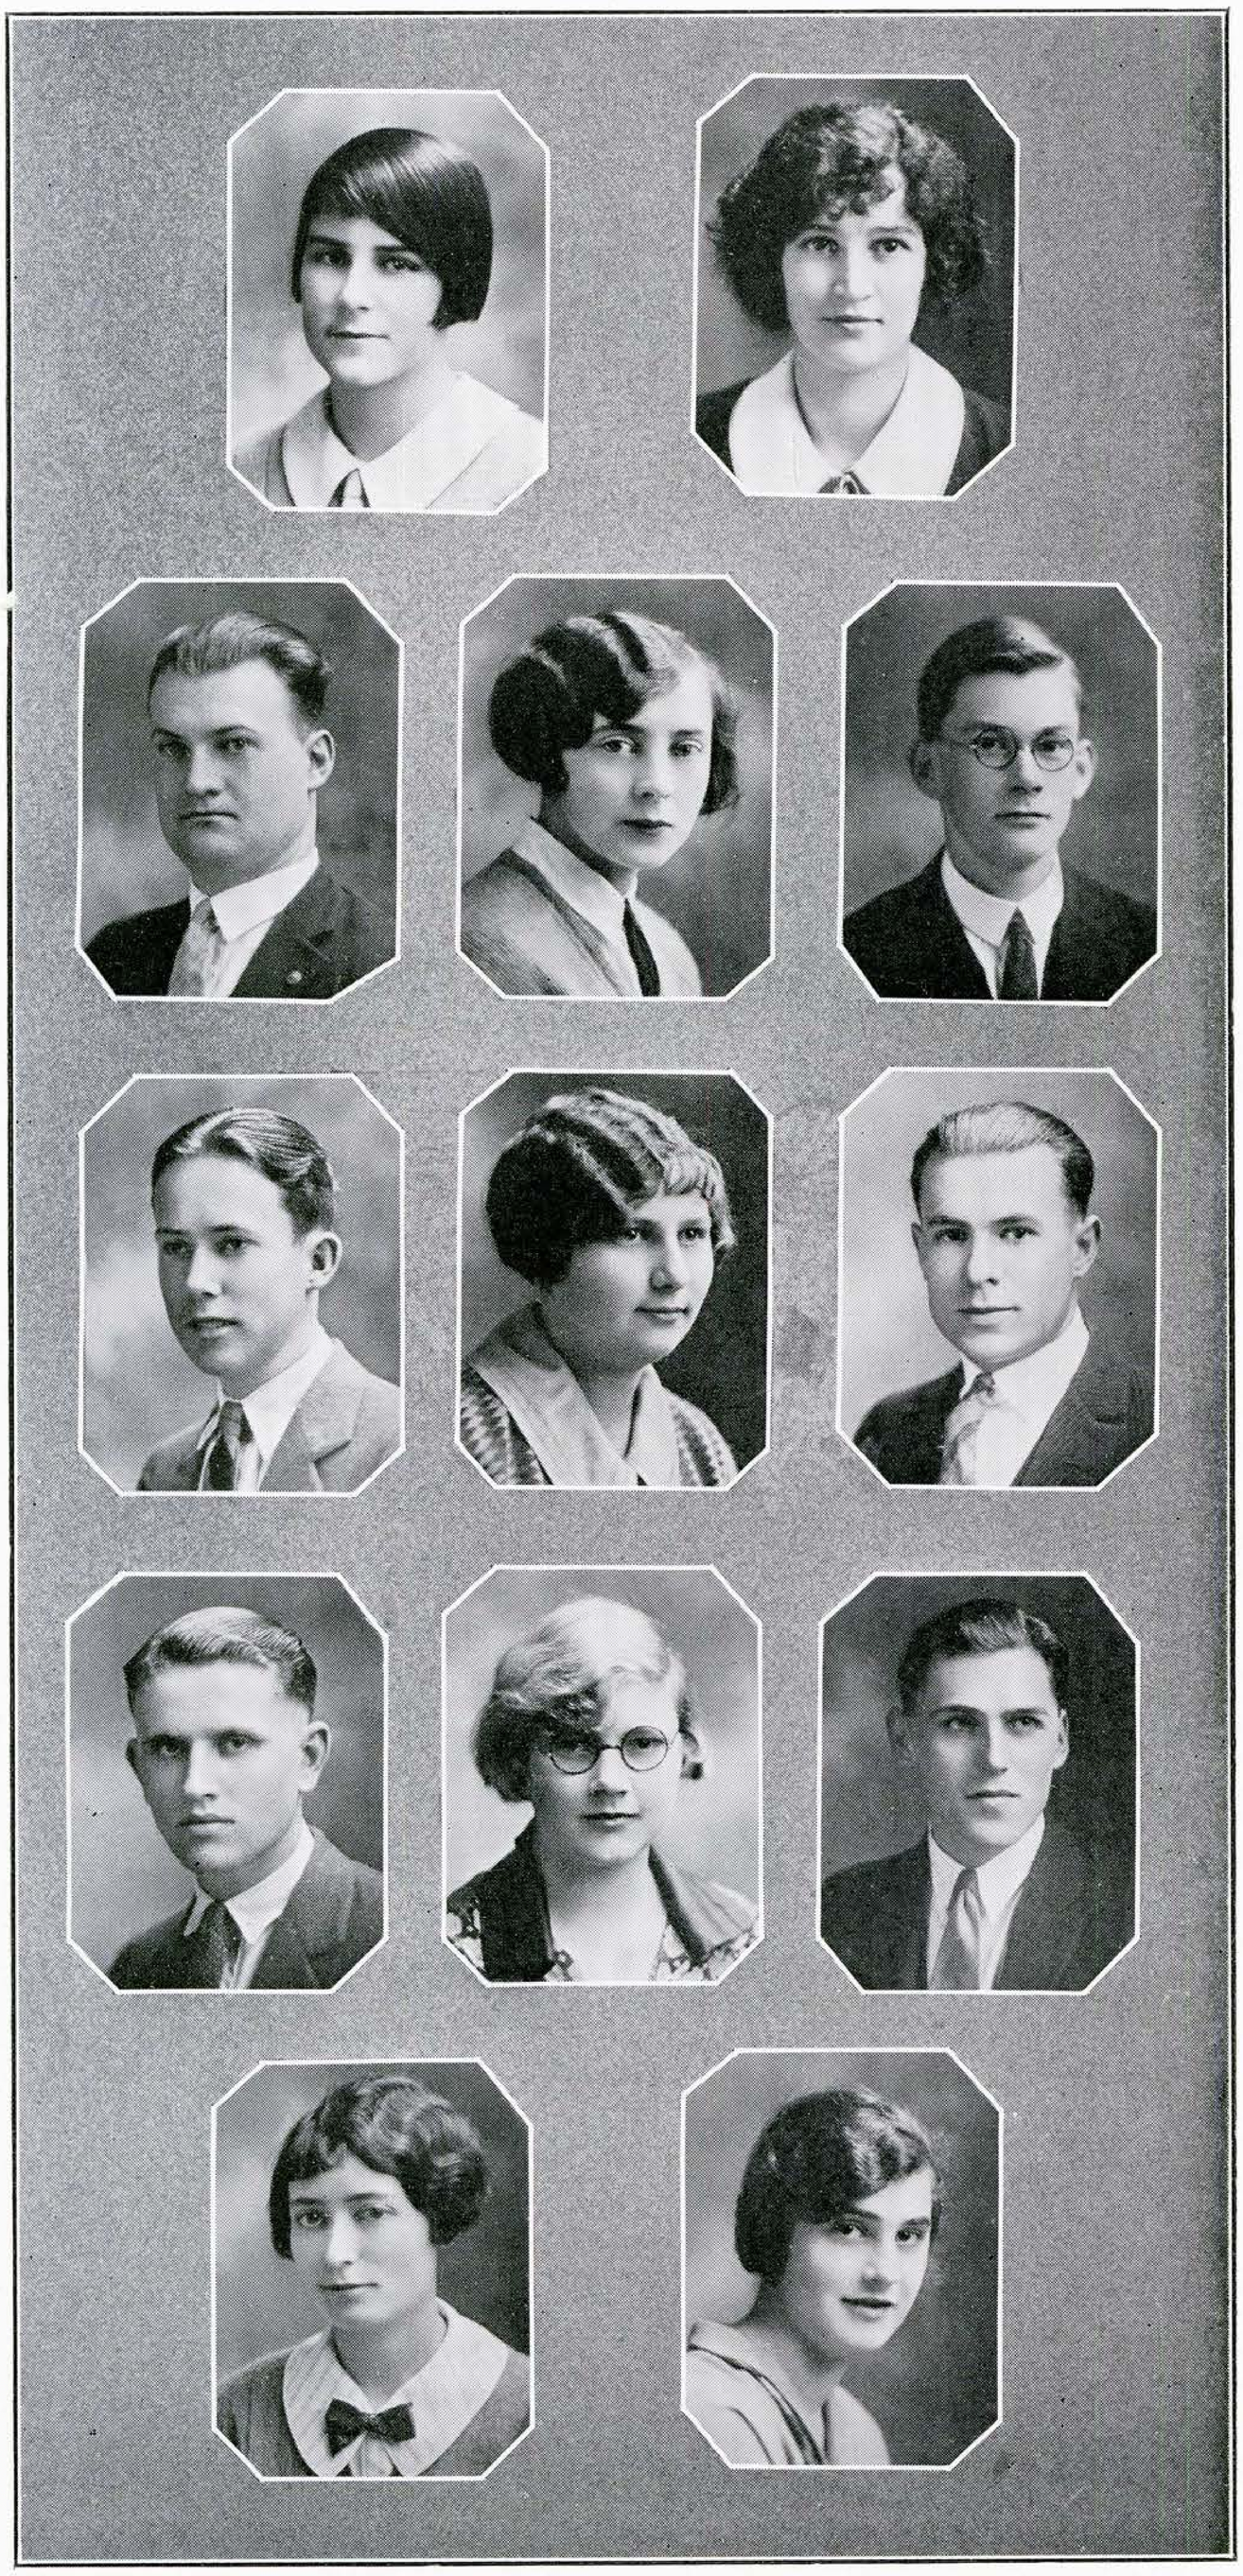

Speaking of elections, never before has more spirit been aroused than was called forth by a proposed constitutional amendment which provided that the school colors be changed from the traditional Gold and White to Purple and Gold. After a heated contest the amendment met defeat. The Gold and White still stands.

Social affairs have greatly prospered this year. Regular student body evening dances have been held every two weeks and by the large attendance we deem them most successful. One weekly noon dance helped to fill in the gap between the bi-monthly evening dances.

Thus we have briefly reviewed the accomplishments of the past year. As for the joy that has resulted from the associations of the students of this college, that you will find reflected in every student. It is through participation in Student Body activities, that students learn many lessons that will help them in their chosen work. The organization of the Student Body this year has given everyone a chance to do his share.

Associated Women Students

"A. W. S. for every girl and every girl for A. W. S."

This is the slogan that was chosen for the Associated Women Students Organization this year. It has been the goal during the three years of existence and this year has been most successful of all in striving to reach this goal.

The Association, which consists of all women students in the college, was organized in October, 1922, with Mary Philips as its first President. Since then the organization has been gaining prestige. In order to know the girls better, this organization is divided into many groups, each group having its own officers and one faculty advisor. Much has been done by these groups in helping to make the Health Cottage and the A. W. S. Club Room a success.

A. W. S. sees that all the new women students coming to our college are taken care of and become better acquainted. In order to make new students acquainted with old students and old and new students acquainted with the faculty, the A. W. S. gives many social affairs.

One of the most exciting functions of A. W. S. this year was the Girls' Jinks, held on Hallowe'en Night. This was a masquerade party, faculty and all masqued.

Alice Bradeen Juanita McDonald Marian McMillan
Faith Thomas Agnes Stoodley

An A. W. S. Club Room has been added to the credit of this organization. This room is used as a social gathering place for the women students and is fitted up for this purpose with rugs, desks, comfortable chairs, and a couch. It is opened to all Women students of this college.

All these activities have been made possible by the co-operation of girls, faculty, and the council, which is the executive board made up of group presidents and officers of the Association.

The interest and progress of the Women's Organization is sure to continue and the A. W. S. will become one of the organizations which is honored by all the college students.

Health Cottage

Probably the outstanding accomplishment of our student government during the past year, was the establishment of the Health Cottage. For a State College of our size, this was a tremendous undertaking, and its unqualified success has aroused much favorable comment.

From September last up to April 5th, the Rest or Health College has administered 360 days' nursing to 60 students, all of whom remained one or more nights. In addition to this, much help has been given to students with cuts, sprains, and bruises, giving them quick and free treatment.

Over $4,000 has been wisely invested in this project under the watchful guidance of Miss McFadden, the faculty advisor.

Miss Rowell's Citizenship Classes and other classes have aided in making the Health Cottage a comfortable place to stay. Furniture, screens and other necessities were contributed.

After beautifying the cottage, grounds were taken into consideration. Due to the efforts of different groups of students flowers are growing and the present cottage is an attractive place.

This summer will see the completion of permanent quarters on the lot now occupied by the "Markham Home."

Men's Club

The Men's Club of our college was started in the Fall of 1921. The club consists of all men students and faculty. All incoming men automatically become members through payment of registration fees. The purpose of the Club is to foster and increase fellowship and to regulate social activities of the men. The semester banquet and "tie-up" are among the important affairs and the Club Room is the official meeting-place and prized possession.

We were given our Club Room by President Snyder in the Fall of 1924, and the room was equipped with funds raised through a show given the year previous.

Co-Operative Store

One of the most important and active parts of our student body is the Student Co-operative Store. This store is run on a co-operative basis and all profits accrue to the student body and are used in the further purchasing of supplies. Although it has only been in existence for two and a half years it is a real live business enterprise, conducting a business of $16,000 during the fiscal year 1923-24.

The Co-op is conducted by a manager who is appointed for a term of one year. He is appointed by the four members of the Co-operative Board (two of which are elected each semester.) It is the duty of this board to also audit the books at the end of each Spring semester. By this means the students really select their own manager on his merits and are able to keep an accurate account of the business for the year.

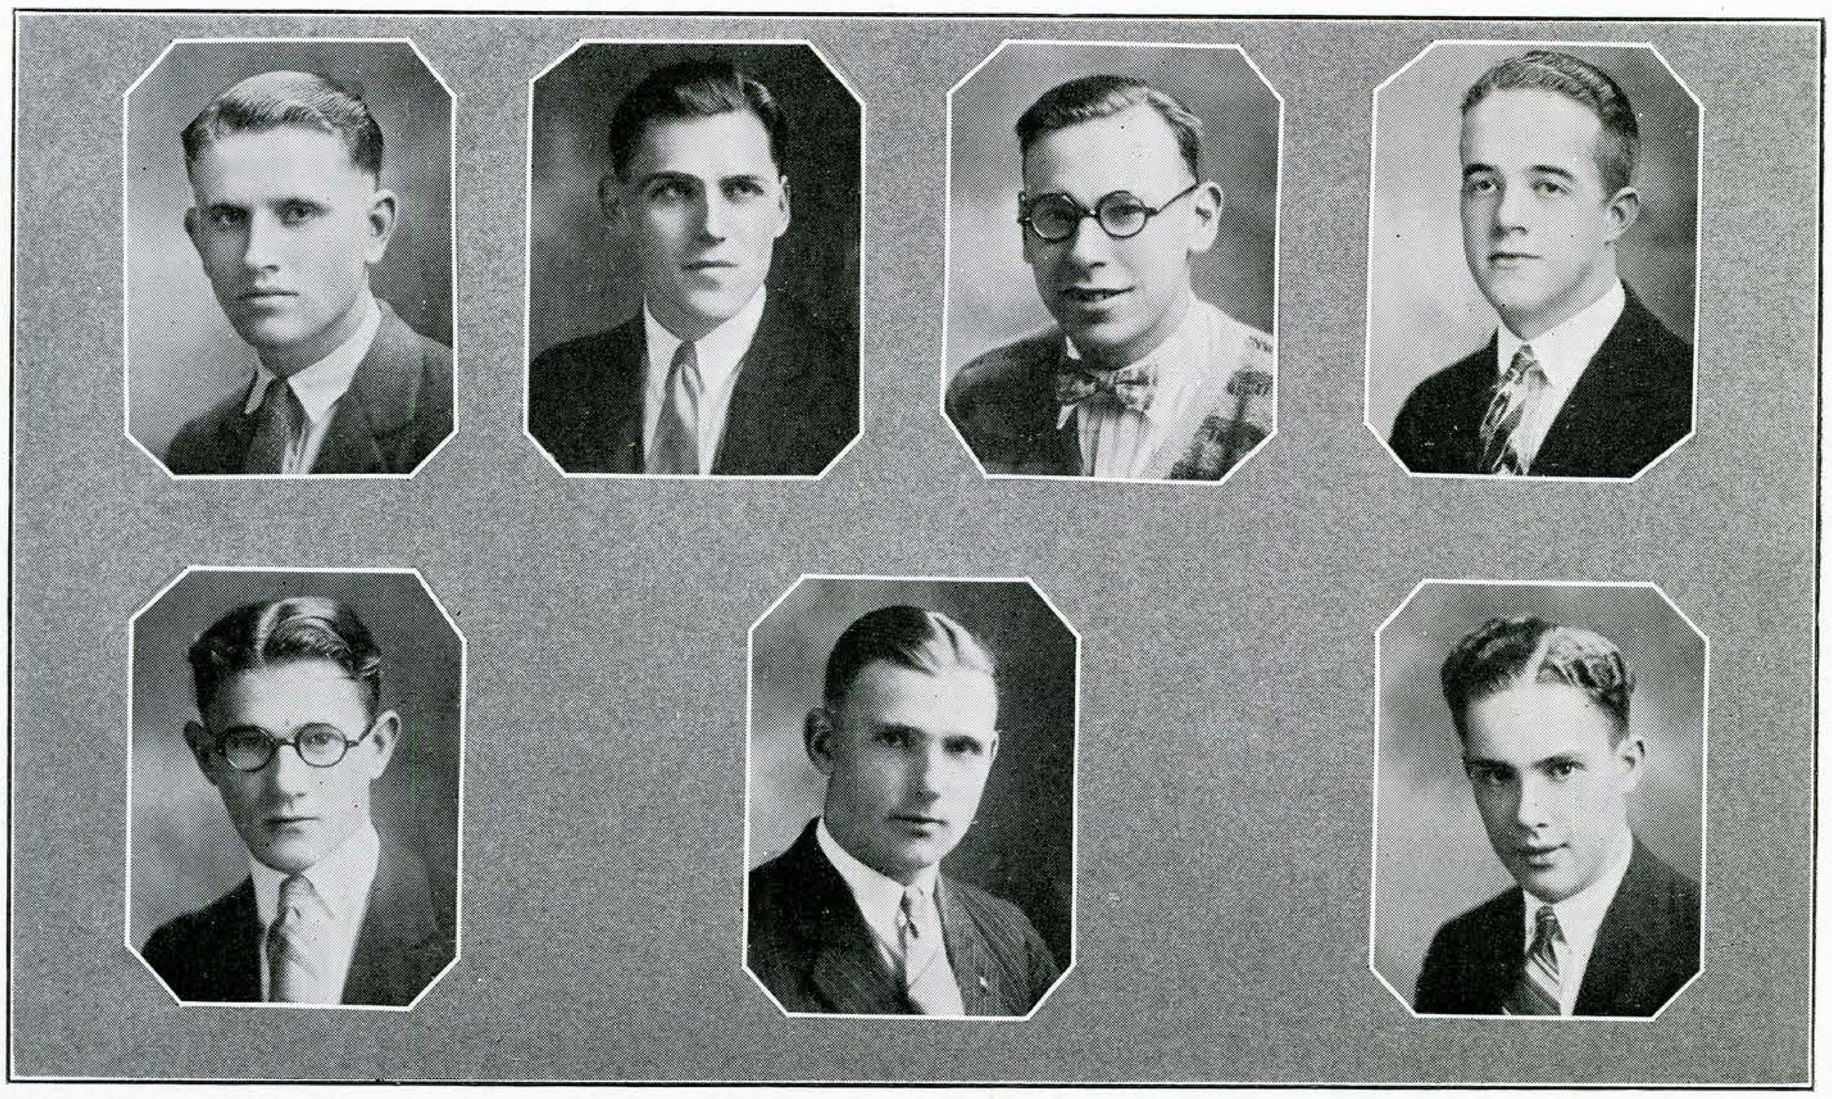

All supplies and books needed by the students are kept in stock along with a large assortment of stationery, candy, school emblems, etc. These are all retailed to the students at the closest to cost that is possible.

Student Affairs

Some people are born great, some achieve greatness, and others are on the Student Affairs Committee. Their duties are many and varied. If there is trouble at the dances, Student Affairs is paged; if the chaperones look lonesome, it's the Student Affairs to the rescue; if the dance does not get under way, Student Affairs do their duty.

Their real task is that of police, only that and nothing more, to make our Student Body Dances and noon dances affairs to which we can be confident in bringing our friends.

Originally, the Committee was a library corps, but it has lost that function, and in the last two years, turned its attention to the Student Body Dances with gratifying results. They are now affairs of which we can be justly proud.

The Student Body elects the chairman of the committee, and he selects his assistants, four in number; two men and two women.

Men's Athletic Board

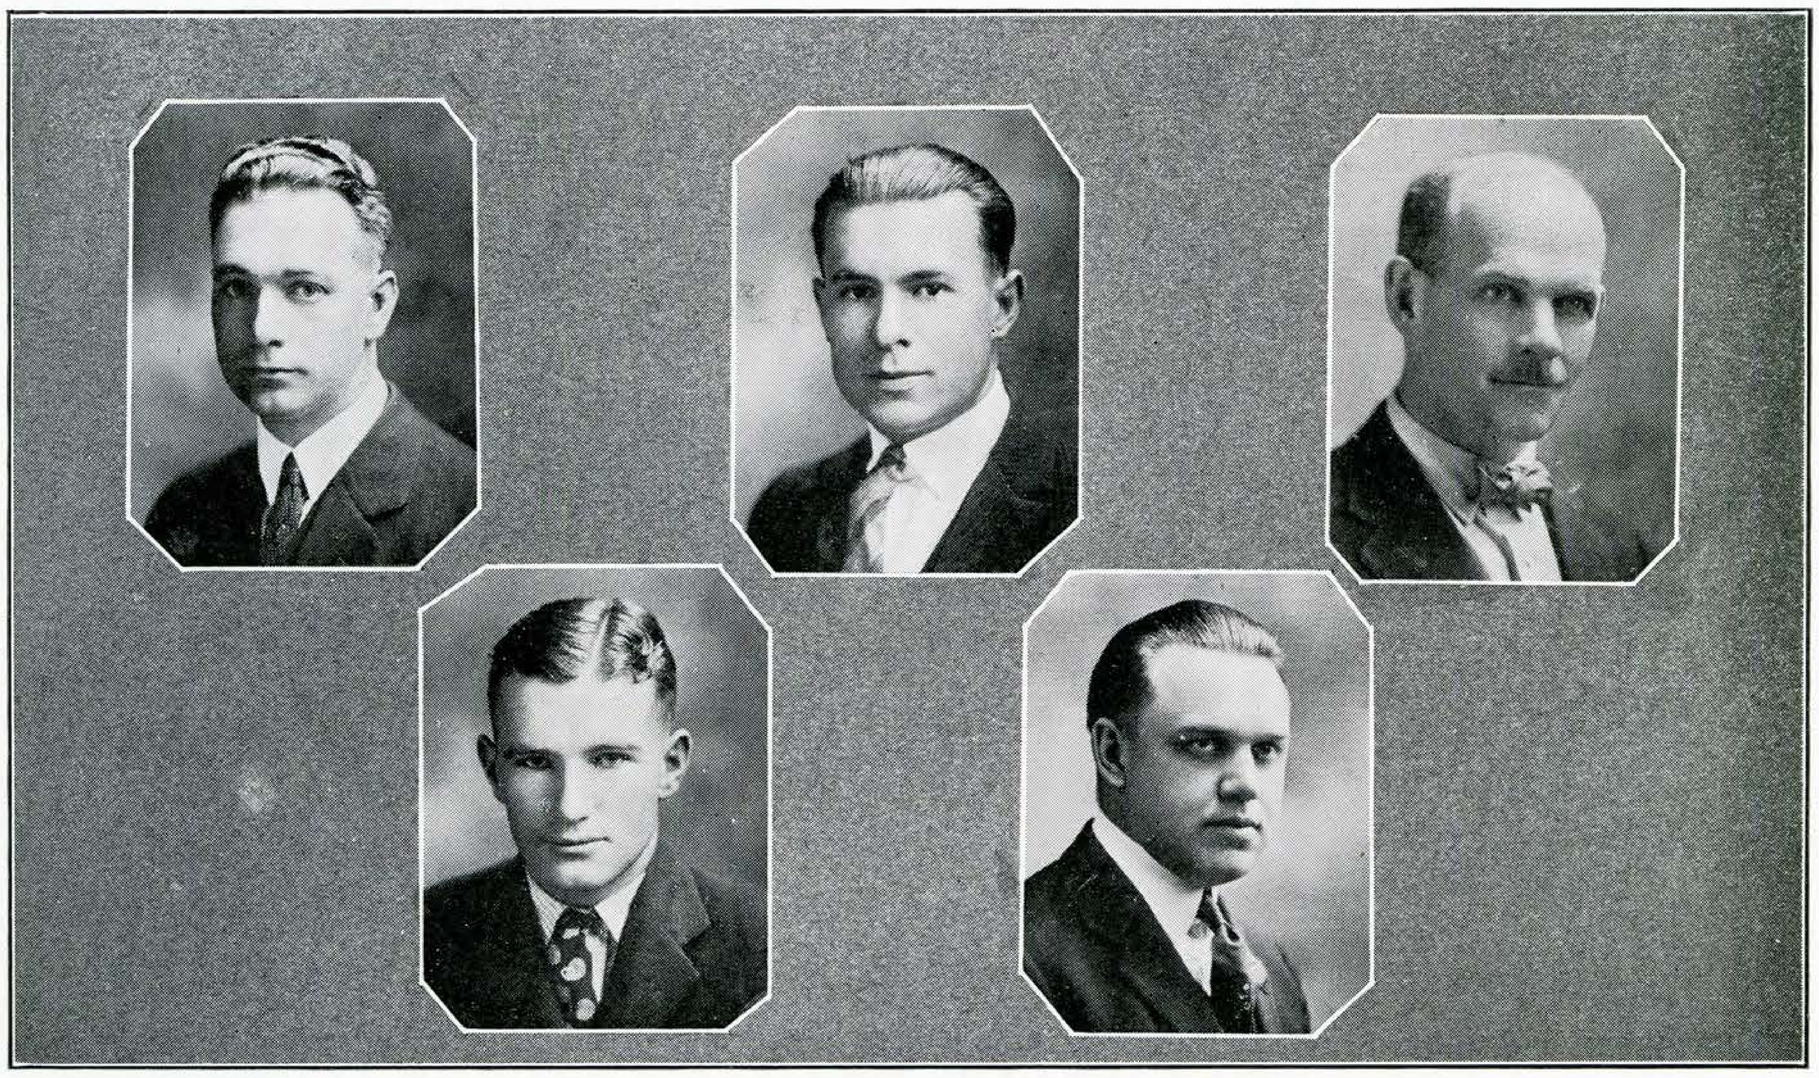

The Men's Athletic Board is one of the least known organizations of the college. It is an organization separate from the student body and is composed of five members—the two athletic directors, the general athletic manager, a faculty advisor, and a student representative. The duties of the athletic board are to decide on and shape the athletic policy of the college and to instruct the athletic manager in general. Reports, schedules, and finances submitted by the athletic manager are also passed upon. This year the board gave the college the best athletic program ever given to the institution. This was a complete schedule for five sports that were all very successful. Football, soccer, basketball, track, and baseball have all had successful seasons. Soccer was played for the first time this year. That these sports were all so successful was due in a large part to the efforts of the athletic board. The general athletic manager deserves a lot of credit for the capable manner in which he handled his work. Aarian Cakebread is one of the best, if not the best, athletic managers the college has ever had.

Members of the Men's Athletic Board were:

E. R. Knollin, head of the physical education department, and president of the board.

H. C. McDonald, assistant head and coach, acting as secretary.

Aarian Cakebread, general athletic manager. P. V. Peterson, faculty advisor. Edwin Mitchell, student representative.

Women's Block S. J. Society

The S. J. Society was organized this year by women who had earned the official monogram and sweater of the W. A. A. in athletics. Membership in this honor society is based upon participation on six first teams of students regularly enrolled in S. J. S. T. C. The purpose of the organization is to promote good sportsmanship, good school citizenship, and to further all activities that will promote the athletic welfare of the women of our college.

Junoir College

The Junior College is an organization with ideals, spirit, and the pep to put things over. It stands for loyalty and friendship, scholarship, and honor, and good times. The past year has been no exception to this attitude. It has progressed and added the record of new achievements and new joys to former ones. It has worked and played, by itself and with others. Its members take part in all the activities of the Teacher's College.

One thing brought sorrow to the Junior College, the death of Miss Hawkins on February the 16th, after an illness lasting nearly the entire fall semester. Miss Hawkins was adviser of the Junior College girls. In the past she has given them much in the way of friendship and wise counsel, and the members of the Junior College sincerely and deeply regret her death. They feel that her memory will continue as one of the fine, sweet things in the history of the Junior College.

Especial honor came to the Junior College this year in the election of Miss Alice Downs, a graduate of Phi Beta Kappa, National scholarship honor society. As in consideration for this honor credit is usually given only for work done in the University of California. Stanford also accepts Junior College students with full credit.

The Variety Show of November the 20th proved conclusively that the Junior College could handle a big affair in an effective manner, and that it could work in co-operation with the rest of the college. Much talent from the entire college was sought out and used in the various acts. The entire proceeds of the show went to the Community Chest.

Paul Thomas H. Hyde E. Hitchman

C. Sproule B. Ent

The climax of the social events of the year for San Jose State Teacher's College as well as for the Junior College, was the Junior College Prom, given at the Vendome Hotel, December 12th. The music, probably the most important of a dance, was very good, as were the decorations. The programs were unique. All of the couples who attended agreed that the Prom was one of the finest dances that the institution has put on for some time. The Prom of this year establishes a precedent, and it is hoped that the annual balls of the Junior College will continue to be called the Prom and will be the finest affair of each year.

The spring semester opened with a reception for new students for which apples were furnished by "Doc" Elder.

One of the most enjoyable events of the year was the spring picnic at which the girls acted as hostesses and the boys as guests.

Cosmopolitan Club

To promote good fellowship between foreign and American students, to encourage the interchange of ideas and information between them, and to forward world peace is the purpose of the Cosmopolitan Club. To establish here that type of organization, which David Starr Jordan has described as "the Corde Frotres of the world," was the aim of those who founded it in the spring of 1924.

Progress has been made for not only has the membership but also an increase in friendliness between foreign and American students has become evident. By meeting once a week at noon students from Hawaii, Cuba, China, Portugal, England, the Azores Islands, the Philippine Islands, and many parts of the United States have come together to think and talk about the places from which they came. Time has also been devoted to the consideration of international co-operation and concord with the hope of promoting worldmindedness. On several occasions outside speakers have come and inspired the members. Social events have also been enjoyed, among them being "A Night in the Philippines" in November and the Christmas Party. In every way possible the members have endeavored to welcome students and work with other groups in advancing their ideals. They have done much to help the World Fellowship Club in its various activities, particularly in sending a delegate to a conference in Washington, D. C.

Believing that "above all nations is humanity," the members have shown by the unity and harmony the possibilities for a true brotherhood of man.

World Fellowship Club

In November, 1924, students of the San Jose State Teachers College interested in Christian work met to form a Student Volunteer Club for the purpose of bringing together those students planning to go into Christian life service. Because of the lack of students actually signed up as Student Volunteers and in order to co-operate more efficiently with the Y. W. C. A. the name was changed to the World Fellowship Club.

During the year 1924-1925 the Club met once a week to study D. J. Flemmings's "Contacts With Non-Christian Religions," which deals with problems commonly met by missionaries on foreign fields. Under the leadership of the President, Miss Madeline Tillman, the club has grown until ten to fifteen students take part in the weekly discussions.

All students who are interested in this Club are cordially invited to join. The meetings are very interesting and will be helpful to any one intending to work in foreign fields.

Alumni

When Dr. E. R. Snyder came to San Jose State Teachers College, as the new president, one of his first acts was to appoint a faculty committee, headed by Miss Helen Mignon, who were to be in full charge of our first Home Coming Day. This occurred during the Educational Research Conference held in May, 1924, and was a great success. Miss Mignon, assisted by twenty-two members of the faculty, staged a very successful box luncheon on the south lawn which a jolly crowd of alumnus enjoyed thoroughly. Dr. E. L. Thorndike was the guest of the occasion.

On Friday, June 20, a second Home Coming Day was staged by the same committee, assisted by the student body. Over 300 alumni were entertained and fed.

Judge Wm. L. Langdon, 1892, and Miss Maude I. Murchie, 1907, were the principal speakers. The following officers were elected:

President, A. P. Hill, Jr., 1920 — Vice-President, Rowena Farman, 1921

Secretary-Treasurer, Marie Curtis, 1921

Executive Committee

Robert E. Lee, 1890		Emil Buchser, 1920
Lella Cameron, 1903	Helen L. Mignon, 1901	Barbara Kynaston, 1923

In January these officers published the first issue of the Alumni Magazine. The officers are now busy arranging for the biggest Home Coming Day we have ever had. This will occur Saturday, June 13, 1925.

Filipino Club

The Filipino Club of this institution has been in existence since 1922. This year perhaps will be the last year that we shall hear about the Filipinos taking part in the college activities, since most of the members are leaving the school, either graduating or merly transferring to a bigger college or university.

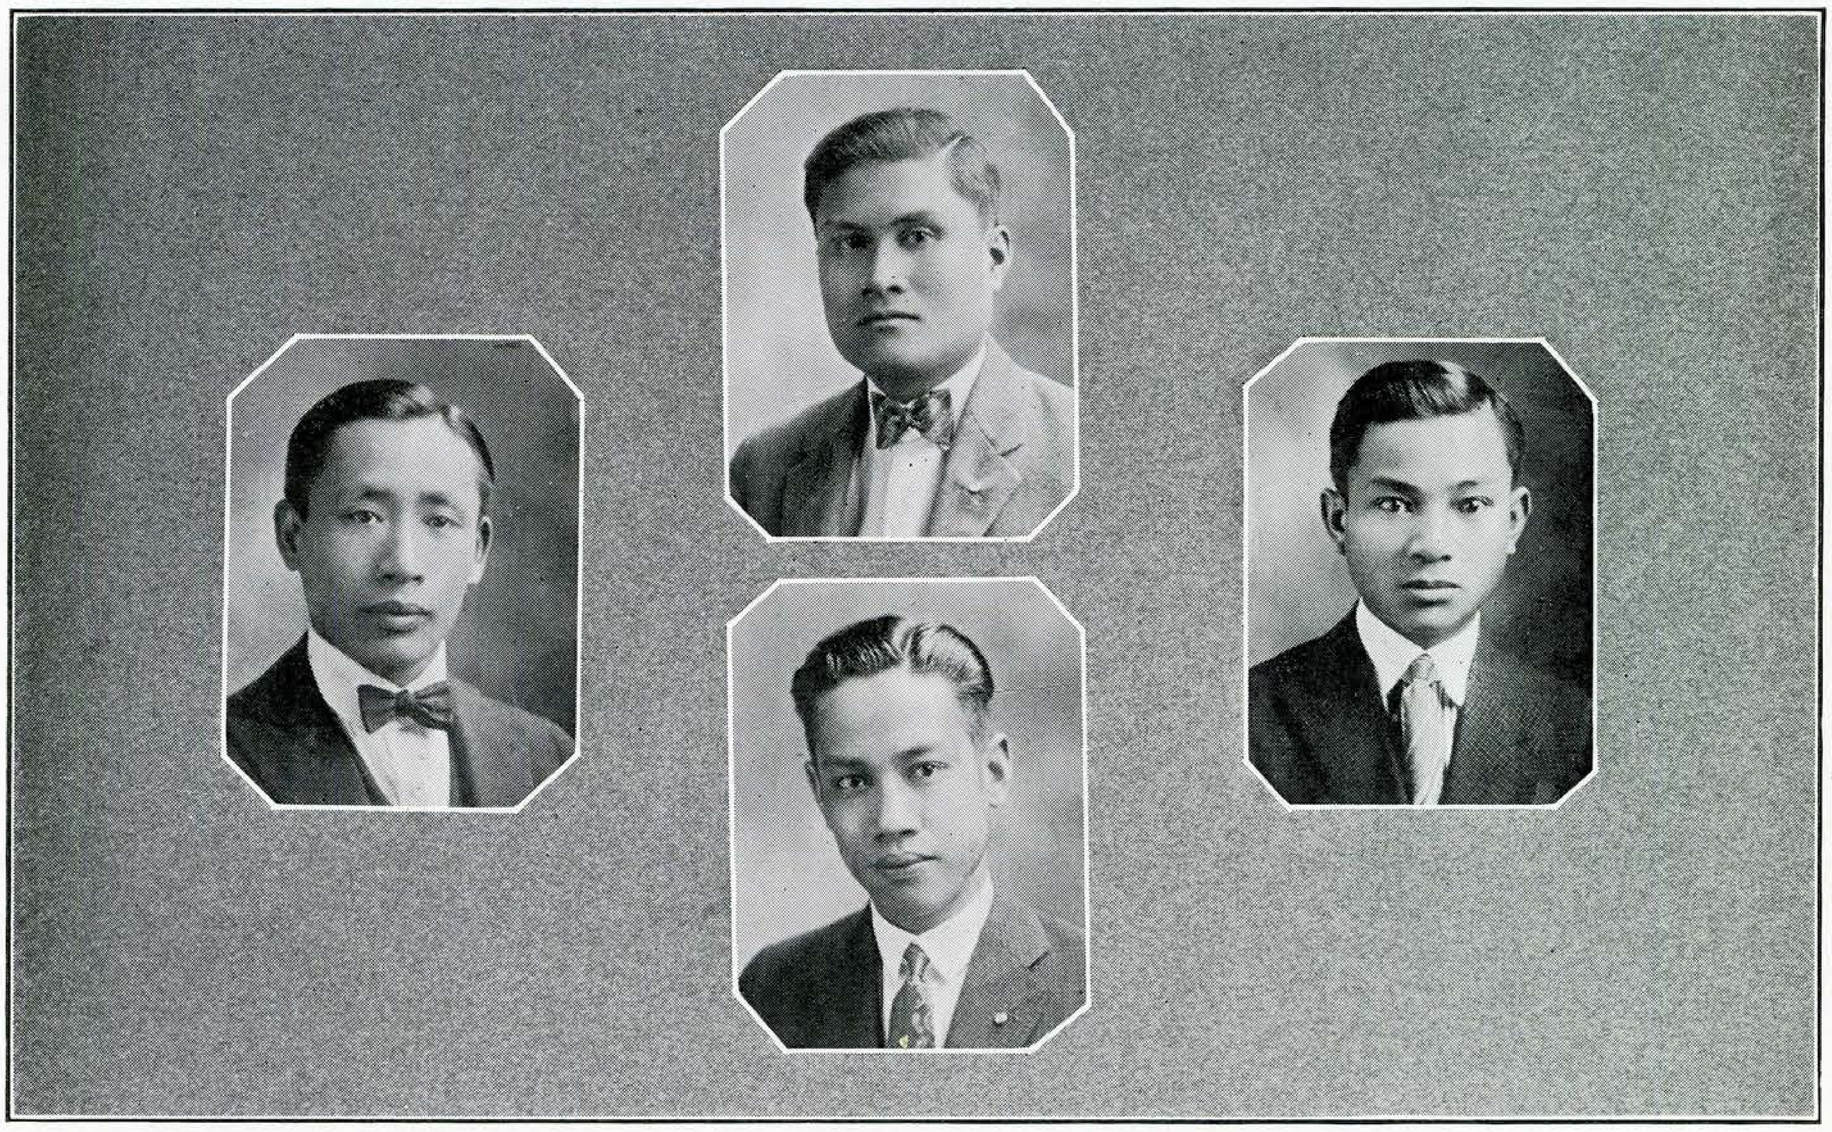

The club was organized for the purpose of fostering a better understanding between the American and the Filipino students, of promoting mutual help and co-operation among the members themselves, and for disseminating accurate information concerning the Philippine Islands whose people are often being misrepresented.

To accomplish this every member of the club must endeavor to give a talk about the Philippines before the members of different organizations or societies in the college and also before his class whenever opportunity affords him to do so.

Y. W. C. A.

The student Y. W. C. A. of this college is a part of the National Student Movement consisting of about 650 organizations in different universities and colleges. Through co-operation in National Biennial Convention summer conferences, and house-parties our association gains new life from others, and in turn gives from its experience.

Jenny Lind

The association has an advisory board composed of women of San Jose and women of the faculty who are in sympathy with the aim and purpose of the Y. W. C. A. Those who made up the board this year added to a good spirit of co-operation between the board and the association. Dorothy Pennell has been the student secretary of the association, and Jenny Marie Lind, the president. Two cabinets meet once a week, plan the activities of Y. W. and act as leaders in carrying out the purpose.

Every summer a conference is held at Asilomar, the National Y. W. C. A. Conference ground, where college students from Arizona, Nevada, Utah, and California gather.

This movement helps us to keep in touch with similar associations and with National. The conference lasts ten days and during that time the girls attending, from their thinking and playing together, and from contact with the leaders of Y. W. who come from National, gain inspiration and ideals with which to go during the ensuing year.

Ours is an organization with an inter-national and inter-racial scope of interest as well as local and national. At our regular association meetings once a month an attempt is made to give the girls this bigger feeling, this feeling of the responsibilities and the joys of being an active and thinking part of society. This year we have had discussion leaders who have tried to do this very thing. Grace Loucks, of New York, and Alice Hoyt, National Student Secretary for Pacific Coast. There have also been some very interesting skits presented by volunteer groups of girls.

A house party at Asilomar for both cabinets was held during the latter part of October. Besides being an enjoyable week-end, the girls did some splendid thinking along the lines of campus problems and ideals, and national questions.

M. Griffiths

The work of the association is carried on through the various committees, such as: World Fellowship, Social Service, Lost and Found, Meetings, Music, and so forth, The Social Service Club does most of its work outside the college. The Preventorium, Alms House, County Hospital come under its scope. Several auctions have been held under the supervision of Lost and Found Department.

J. Van Druten

A "Y" circus was held on February 27th. The purpose was to raise money for the Y. W. C. A. budget. Not as much money was made as was planned, but the spirit of co-operation between the association and the rest of the school was something new and remarkable. It is something to work for in the future.

The "Y" room is a cheery place open to all the girls in the school. Service is the aim here, too, for the "Y" room is the headquarters of Lost and Found, and furnishes an emergency sewing kit and ink for the use of all.

The San Jose Y. W. C. A. unites with other student associations throughout the country "in the determination to live unreservedly Jesus' law of love in every relationship, and so to know God." The members of the Cabinets who are partly responsible for the fine work accomplished this year are:

Y.M.C.A.

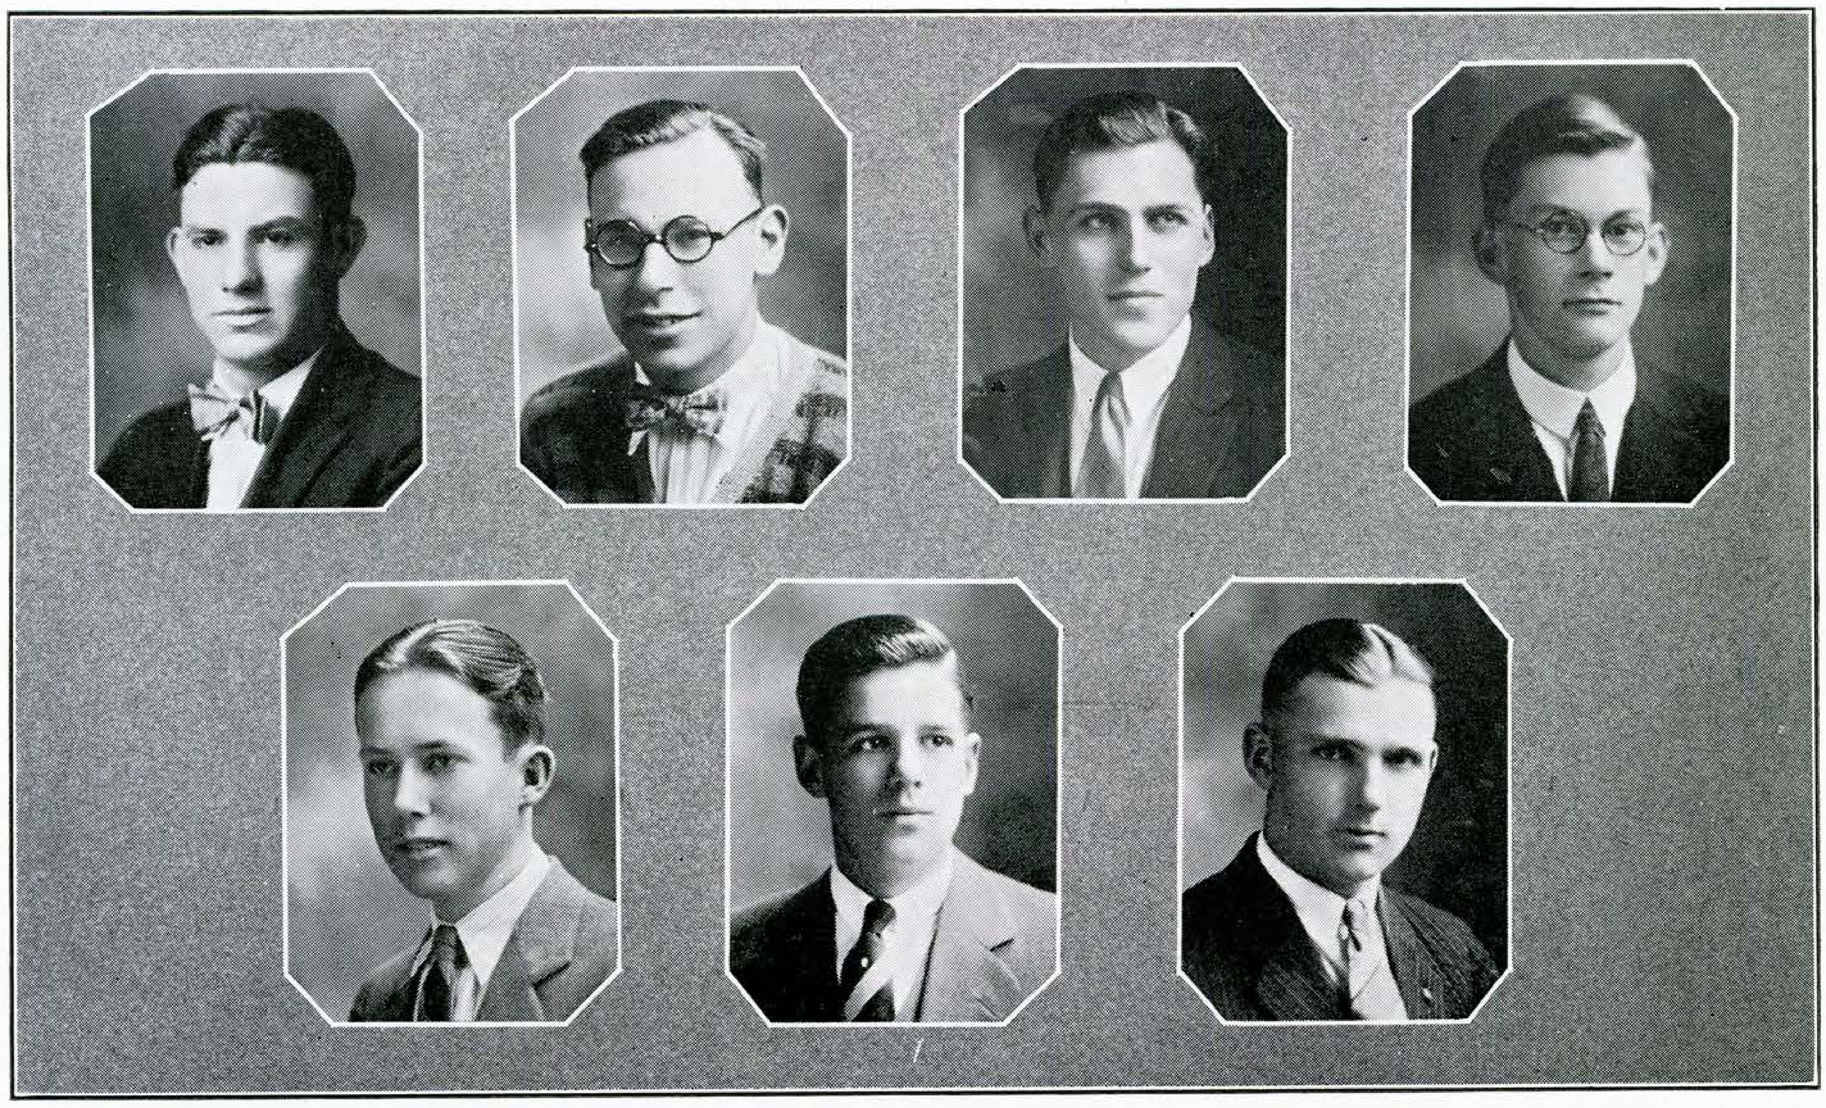

The College "Y" is an organization of College men who meet for the purpose of discussing such subjects as pertain to college life and to the problems that arise in the minds of thinking young men today.

The College "Y" during the first semester of this year under the able leadership of Louis Monferino, became a reality. During his administration it grew in enthusiasm and in numbers until it became a well organized group of men who are willing to make the most of their College education.

The College "Y" meets every week at the Y. M. C. A., where a banquet is held, followed by a lecture and discussion on some selected problem. The College "Y" has had such men as Professor Poytress of our College, and Doctor Morgan of Stanford University for speakers in a series of lectures.

This semester, under the leadership of William Kottinger, the College "Y" has offered to the men of San Jose State a type of lecture that has drawn a great number of men to the meetings. This group of young men has been organized to such a degree that it is now able to attempt things that will be of direct advantage to the college, namely, an eating club, an employment bureau, and other things that would directly serve the men of this College.

Delta Pi

The Home-Making Department has for some years had to face difficult problems. In 1916 the building housing this department burned down and since then the work has been carried on in the cottage which is now known as the Rest Cottage. The girls in the past faced these problems squarely and "carried on" in a splendid way. They dreamed dreams of a new building; then they helped plan a new building. Finally their dreams and their plans were carried through and in September, 1924, the Department was entirely housed in its new quarters, the fine building on the east side of the campus.

Sensing the feeling of unity which exists, now that the members are all under one roof, they desired to form a definite organization. At the first meeting of the A. W. S. groups the girls of the Home-Making group elected new officers and set about to start their club. The new name, Delta Pi, was chosen; the aims are to promote scholarship, to express good citizenship through social activities and to promote organized participation in school activities.

The initiation was held in the form of a Cross Word Puzzle party on March the 14th.

The closing event of the social year was the Spring Fashion Show of the garments made in the clothing department. This was held in the Assembly Hall before the student body.

Newman Club

Newman Hall, on South Fifth Street, was erected in 1911 as a place where Catholic students might meet and have the protection of the church during hours of recreation and study. The hall is open from ten to five for club members and friends. Monday afternoon, after school, regular meetings are held, and once every month a night meeting. Rev. Fr. Collins, who is the chaplain, has been present at most of the meetings and is always ready to advise, help and answer any questions that may arise.

Miss Evelyn Murphy, Resident Secretary, is always at the hall to welcome any members or their friends, who desire to spent a few minutes of leisure time there.

Newman Hall has had many enjoyable affairs this year including initiation, entertainments, lectures, musicals, receptions, and afternoon teas.

October was a very eventful month; the new girls were initiated, and a day was given to helping the Community Shop; this is an annual affair for the club members to devote one Saturday to this cause. October fifth was the day of dedication for the new building next to the club house. This building is to be the Catholic Women's Center. A reception was given in honor of Archbishop Hanna and a banquet in the evening at the Hotel Vendome.

The first night meeting of October was a delightful and fantastic one. The members and their friends came in costumes, George and Martha Washington were very quaint figures among the colorful chorus girls and wee youngsters with braids and hair ribbons. Even Charlie Chaplin was there and created quite a sensation.

Another delightful event of the fall semester was the reception given by Newman Club for the new Dean of Women, Miss Dimmick, and faculty members. A delightful entertainment was given by some talented members and later tea was served.

At Christmas the girls filled boxes for the veterans at the Base Hospital in Palo Alto and decorated one of the wards.

The New Year was started by the annual dance on January tenth at Newman Hall. The hall was artistically and effectively decorated with Chinese lanterns, colored panels and blossoms. Incense burned in the shadows, making it very oriental. Novel and colorful programs were given and a demure Chinese maid welcomed the guests. The dance was one of the most successful events of the year.

San Jose Players

Organized only a year ago, in April, 1924, by ten charter members, the San Jose Players of the State Teachers College have already a dramatic record to their credit, a savings account in the bank, an established place in the community. Beside the three-act comedy presented in March and the program of one-act plays given in November, the Players have presented fourteen programs for different community organizations and other communities. The three-act comedy was taken to Oakland for a special performance.

Every semester of the Players is an interesting one. Soon after registration try-outs are held, followed immediately by pledging service, and, a week later, by the initiation service. Plans for the semester are immediately drawn up. The plans include dates for regular luncheon meetings, the dramatic program, and many social days and evenings. The meetings are held every three weeks at noon, and the club either serves luncheon or buys luncheon for all the players from the school cafeteria.

The players are fortunate in having Miss Sanderson, Miss Sprague, Miss Masingale, and Dr. Bland for honorary members. Miss Sanderson is the director of all plays given by the San Jose Players and much more of their success than can be measured is due to her.

English Club

The English Club enjoyed a very successful year under the able leadership of Dr. Bland. The Dramatic Department staged a clever comedy at the A. W. S. Jinks. The members studied drama and many wrote one-act plays.

Short Story Department compiled some campus stories to be printed semi-annually. Poetry Department held a contest for selections to appear in the La Torre. Journalism Department published "Quill," filled with club and literary news.

Progressive Club

The Progressive Club was organized for the purpose of furthering debating as a school activity in the College. The club holds meetings every other week, at which time discussions are held on various topics of current interest or speakers give talks on subjects of importance.

The Progressive Club has held debates with the San Jose High School, Senate of Santa Clara, Senate of the University of California, Euphonia of Stanford University, and the A. P. G. U. of St. Mary's College.

It is a member of the league of college and university debating societies, comprising the societies of Stanford, St. Mary's, Mills, College of the Pacific, and Santa Clara University.

The members are: Rose Brecker, Esther Brooks, Gwendolyn Brunst, Lawrence Campbell, Lucille Carlyon, Merton Carlyon, Edward Cureton, Charles Greenleaf, Avery Keegle, Joseph King, Roy Liddicoat, Anna Mayo, Caroline Miles, Ruth Robertson, and Charles Vogelin.

Oc-Ho-Mecs

The Oc-Ho-Mec Club, consisting of the Occupations and Home Mechanics Majors, was inaugurated in March, 1925, under the suggestion of Mr. Spaulding, who with Mr. McDonald, are the faculty advisors.

The aim of the Oc-Ho-Mec Club is to foster a more fraternal and helpful spirit among men in the same profession, to have semi-monthly get-together luncheons, where all may "talk shop" to their hearts' content. All members will be card indexed and records kept of their various changes of schools and addresses.

There are now twenty-six members. In a few years California will be well covered with Oc-Ho-Mec men who will be bound together by the ties of fraternal and public service. Sometime a Oc-Ho-Mec man may be teaching within a short distance of a fellow club member; having a list of members, their positions, addresses, etc., he can thus look this man up, not with the feeling of meeting a stranger, but more in the spirit exhibited among the famous lodges.

The main idea of the club is service, we hear this word more and more among business and professional men. Notice the number of clubs which have as their motive the beautiful thought of service and, most important, interpreting "service" literally as the Oc-Ho-Mecs mean to do.

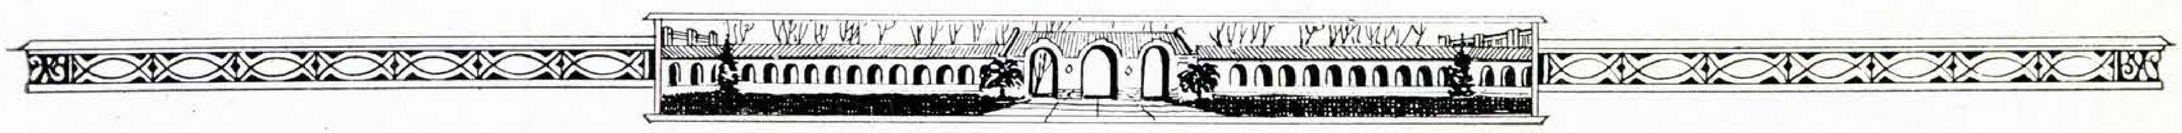

It is hoped that many will be attracted to this course. A beautiful new building houses the Home Mechanic Department. With the splendid courses that are open for any man interested and with such an organization as the Oc-Ho-Mecs, there is certainly no more attractive place to be for men interested in Home Mechanics.

Dramatics

The school year 1924-25 has been a particularly successful one from the standpoint of dramatics. Those who have witnessed all the performances of all the organizations have been entertained by comedy, pathos, melodrama, fantasy, pageantry, vaudeville, and musical comedy. Entertainments have been given for many causes. The Community Chest, the Faculty room, La Torre, the Health Cottage, and the treasuries of some of the school organizations are a few of the causes to which money has been added.

On October 20th, San Jose Players presented a program during the assembly hour. The first number on the program, a skit entitled "The Passport," was very well received. The part of the girl was well taken by Martha Kerwin, and the part of the boy was very satisfactorily filled by Graham Peake. Veronica Keegan made the second number mighty popular. She gave "The Goblins 'll Get You, If You Don't Watch Out." This was followed by an English monologue by Horace Burkett of which he is the very able author. The last number on the program was a fantasy entitled "The Maker of Dreams." Eleanor Zelman in the title role, Leonie Kerwin as Pierrette, and Julia Wyckoff as Pierrot received praise.

The San Jose Players' first evening performance for the year was presented on November 14th in the Morris Daley Assembly Hall. The orchestra kindly helped "The Players" by opening and closing the program, and by playing appropriate numbers between the acts. Isabelle Armstrong and Edward Ehorn opened the program in the amusing skit entitled "Extempore," in which we find things being done apparently on the spur of the moment. This was followed by "Double Demon," a comedy in which eleven women and one man on a jury attempt to arrive at a decision. The Forewoman was supposed to be the wife of the lone man, and such a situation was faced by him as few men have to face. The working out of the story makes an exceptionally funny comedy. The women are of all types and evident position in life. These types were well brought out by the cast, which follows: Eleanor Zelman, Forewoman; Martha Kermin, First Juror; Vivian Rhoades, Second Juror; Frances Deckman, Third Juror; Julia Wyckoff, Fourth Juror; Florence Williams, Fifth Juror; Rosalie Jacobson, Sixth Juror; Helen Campan, Seventh Juror; Elizabeth Short, Eighth Juror; Ida Wilcox, Ninth Juror; Veronica Keegan, Tenth Juror, and Charles Greenleaf, The Man. Graham Peake as the usher made the announcement that caused the curtain to fall with a thud amid the confusion. The program was finished by an East Indian mystery play, "The Drums of Oude." This wierd Oriental melodrama balanced well with the comedy situations found in "Extempore" and "Double Demon." In this play Captain McGregor (Stanley Mathewson) is forced to decide between blowing up a building and the woman he loves (Marion Roberts) or letting forty tons of powder fall into the hands of the natives. Such a plot with an East Indian background makes a very strong play. Miss Roberts and Mr. Mathewson deserve great praise for the way they put their parts over, as does Ralph Wells, who took the part of the brother. Neil Thomas and Bernhart Jensen were very military as Sergeant McDougal and Sentry Stewart. Albert Turner and Horace Burkett, as the Hindoostani servants of Captain McGregor, created a very mysterious atmosphere by their gliding motions and actions. The complete entertainment was coached by Miss Virginia Sanderson, director for the San Jose Players, and half the proceeds were given to the Faculty room.

On November 20th the Junior College sponsored a vaudeville entertainment for the benefit of the Community Chest. Much credit is due the Junior College as well as those who took part. The opening number was by the college jazz orchestra. They proved exceedingly popular. Ted Duncan played several numbers on the ever-popular saxaphone. The next number on the program was two delightful vocal solos by Celine Combatalade, one of which she composed. There followed a clever fencing drill by Elsie Upman, Carolin Wilson, Dorothy Miller and Evelyn Allen. Two well given musical readings by Lola Ball, two beautiful violin solos by Leon Jenkins, strikingly original numbers by the Boys' Glee Club, lovely piano solos by Elizabeth Stivers, and three lilting whistled solos by Francesca Scott showed us the variety of musical talent that we have here in our school. Dr. J. C. Elder, of Bionomics fame, took us on a trip into a beautiful part of Canada, by way of some stereopticon slides and an interesting lecture. In viewing "Between the Soup and the Savory," a comedy presented by the Fall Play Production Class, we were very sorry for a little kitchen maid who had no "young man to walk out with," and so got herself into difficulties by making one up. The parts were well taken by Ida Wilcox, Dorothy Nichols, and Marie Camp.

On Thursday, December 4th, the assembly was entertained by a skit given by Masque and Key. The skit was entitled "Coffee," only the one word, "coffee," was spoken thruout the whole play. This made the entire meaning depend on inflection and action, and it was very well put over by the cast. The cast was as follows: Ernest Williams, the cook; Stanley Matthewson and Graham Peak, the waiters; Neil Thomas, a man about town; Philip Rulon, a bon vivant; Joe King, a college student, and Albert Faxon, a connoiseur of good literature.

Christmas Play

This year the regular Christmas Play was produced by the San Jose Players, assisted by Masque and Key. It was under the direction of its author, our Miss Virginia Sanderson. The play, entitled "It Happened Long Ago in Judea," has a very definite plot that centers about the court of the cruel King Herod. The story of the Nativity is beautifully brought in, and, of course, is a very important part of the plot. Much time and effort was spent on the staging and the costumes, and these were very effective. The settings were under the able direction of Miss Gillett, and Miss Agnes Newman was costume mistress.

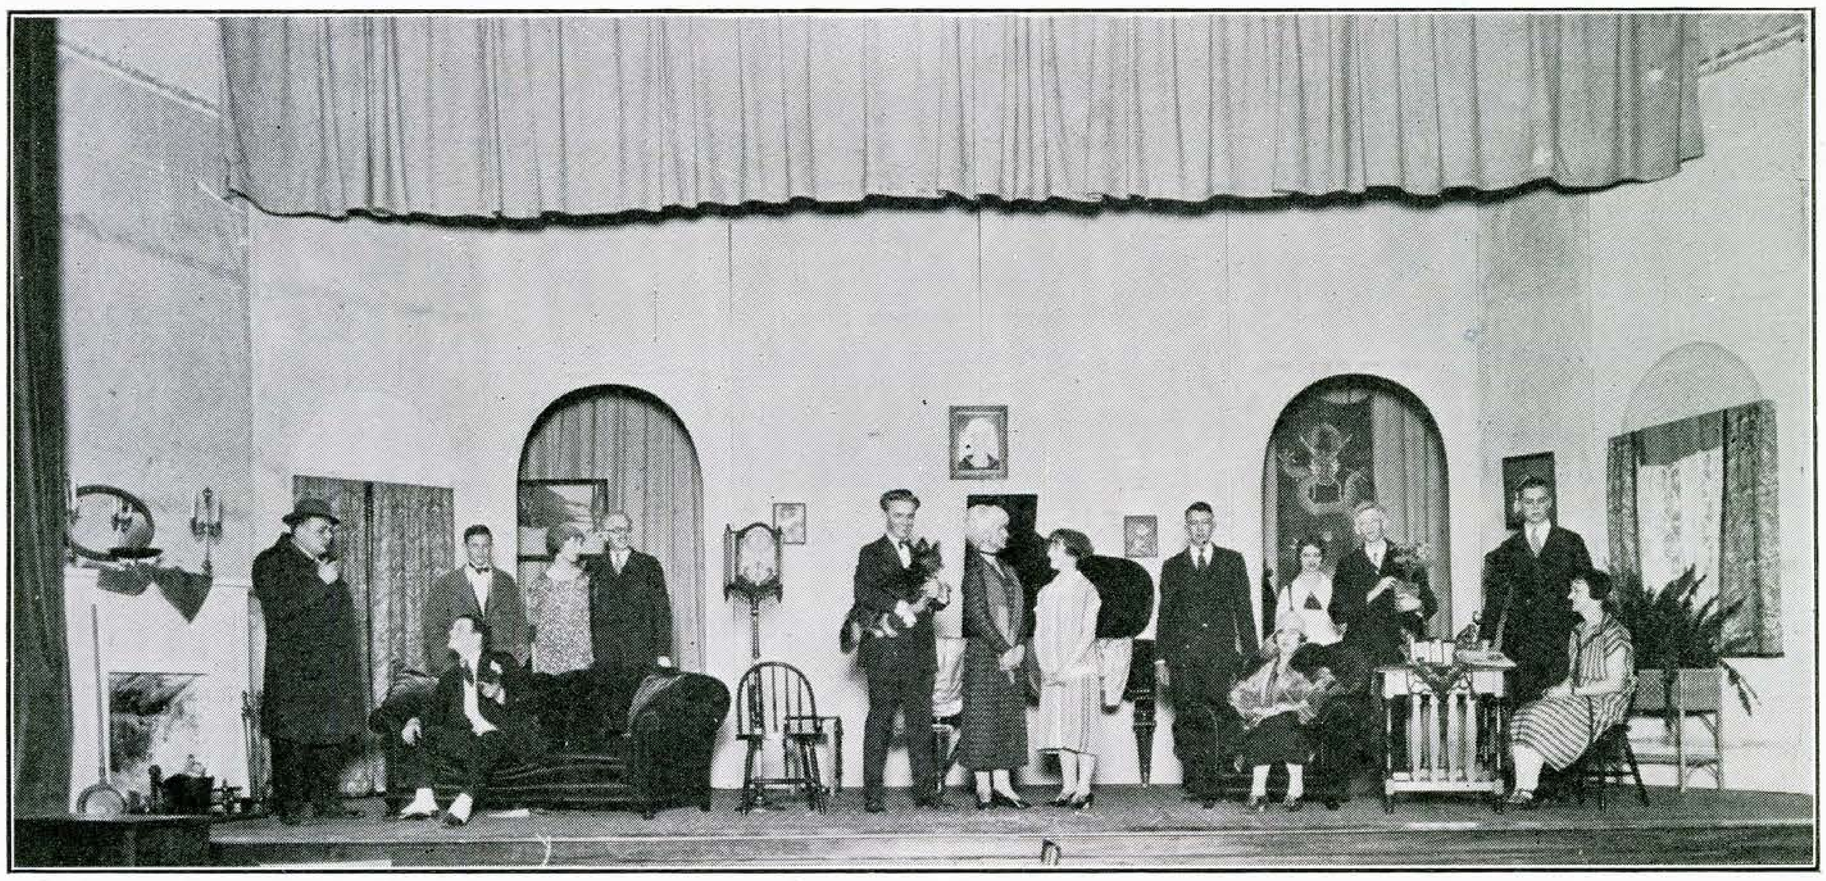

The audience was held spellbound by a scene in which Herod was tempted by his Bad Angel on one side, while his Good Angel on the other side sought to dissuade him from the massacre of the Innocents. Again, they gasped in awe and amazement at the beautiful Nativity scene in which a heavenly angel was poised over the cradle of the Babe. The lighting effects in these scenes were masterpieces of art. A very novel touch was given when the Three Wise Men with their Nubian slaves advanced to the Holy Manger down the aisles of the auditorium.

Ernest Williams made an excellent King Herod, whose favorite, Phares, was remarkably portrayed by Stanley Matheson. Marius, the spy, by Horace Burkett, and the two guards, played by George Warrenberg and Edward Ehorn, added greatly to the play. The parts of the two terrified slaves were well taken by Herbert Gans and Albert Turner. Albert Faxon, as Darius, the chief scribe, gave a wonderfully fine performance of that very aged man. The three kings of the Orient were well played by Joe King, Phil Rulon, and George Ebey. Leonie Kerwin, as Herod's Bad Angel, added another very successful character to her list. Herod's Good Angel was played impressively by Isabel Armstrong. Helen Blackford looked very sweet as Mary, the part of Joseph was well taken by Helen Campen, Florence Williams made a delightfully etherial angel, and Vivian Rhodes was an adorable Gabriel.

Music was rendered by the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, direction Miss Alma Williams.

"The Goose Hangs High"

"The Goose Hangs High," a recent comedy hit, was presented by the San Jose Players on the evenings of March 27th and 28th. This play is written by Lewis Beach, who centers the story around American family life. From the beginning to the closing of this comedy drama the typical atmosphere of American home life is felt.

"The Goose Hangs High"

"Maker of Dreams"

J. Wyckoff L. Kerwin E. Zelman

It would be difficult to name outstanding characters, in as much as almost equal opportunity was offered to all the members of the cast, who in turn made the most of their parts. The audiences were very enthusiastic over Grandma (Charlotte Kerwin) and the very modern twins (Evelyn Chapman and Ralph Wells). But then it was when Dagmar and Hugh (Julia Wyckoff and Stanley Matheson) had their dramatic love scene that the appreciating hush fell over the throng. And, too, Mother and Father (Helen Campen and Joe King), playing difficult roles, will not soon be forgotten. Charles Greenleaf made a typical Noel Derby, while Bob Rhodes, Thomas Topp and Ida Wilcox were well deserving of the parts in which they played. To finish up our comments on the cast, we add that we were sorry that Eleanor Zelman, Ernest Williams and Horace Burkett did not appear after the first act. Without exaggeration, they were exceedingly well cast and showed exceptional talent.

R.U.R.

The June and August classes of this year presented their Senior show jointly. On Friday and Saturday, May 15th and 16th, Karel Capek's strange and fascinating drama, "R. U. R.," was presented.

This is a drama that is tremendously well worked out. Though it is strange of plot, one found himself on the edge of his chair as if he were staring at reality. It's not an ordinary play—it is gripping! The classes are to be highly commended for choosing this type of play. It was a play really worthy of a Senior group of the State Teachers' College. The scenery was especially worked out for the play by Bernhardt Jensen. The play was directed by Miss Sanderson.

The cast to an individual was well selected, and is to be complimented on their presentation of this fascinating drama. George Bliss, as the General Manager of Rossum's, very cleverly showed his change of character between the acts when he changed from the young ardent lover to the older, more settled man of business worries. The leading girl's role, that of Helena Glory, was exceptionally well taken by June Williams. An outstading character was Mr. Alquist, the Head of the Works. This part was taken by Ralph Wells, and he is to be complimented on his portrayal of this character. Clever characterizations were also given by Charles Greenleaf as Dr. Gall, Abner Reed as Dr. Hallemeir, Bob Rhodes as Mr. Fabury, and Horace Burkett as Consul Busman. The comic role of the play, Nana, was filled by Veronica Keegan. It was well done.

College Times

A progressive spirit has been evident in the rapid growth of the "College Times" during recent years. This newspaper, published weekly, by the Associated Student Body, has grown from a twenty to a thirty-six column paper since 1923. With the increase in size there has been a corresponding improvement in the quality and variety of its contents.

In promoting their progress the policy of the staff of the fall semester was successful. The first issue was the Freshmen Edition which introduced the new students to the standards and customs of the Gold and White. This was followed throughout the season by issues which not only performed the regular function, but also gave particular recognition to Armistice Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day. The "Persimmon" marked the climax of the staff's effort, but the final edition honoring Dr. Synder was its greatest achievement.

Several changes in the "College Times" were made during the Spring semester, the most important being the reorganization of the staff with provision for frequent meetings and individual projects, the enlargement of the paper with a rearrangement of the contents, the introduction of construction measures at the Executive Board, and the maintenance of news columns in the San Jose Mercury Herald.

G. Delbon T. Byrns

A Valentine Party at the beginning of the semester started it well. The Spartan Edition celebrating the basketball championship was the first issue. It was soon followed by the biggest paper ever published here, the Pink Tea Edition, managed entirely by the women. The Alumni Edition brought to a fitting end the work of the year.

The Times offers any student who is interested in journalism a fine opportunity to gain some practical experience. At the beginning of every semester any student who is interested may try out for a place on the staff. The Editor then watches the work done and in about three weeks after the term has started the permanent staff is chosen. The business end of the Times gives the students as much experience along business lines and management as the journalistic side of the paper does.

Music

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Earl Towner, the music department has made excellent progress during this last year. Several new teachers have been added to the teaching force, and new courses added to the curriculum.

The Teachers' College can be justly proud of Mr. Towner. Besides the work done in the college, he led the music at the Annual Blossom Festival held in Saratoga on March 20th and 21st, and composed a Cantata especially for that event which was given just praise by many musical critics.

The orchestra and the men's and women's Glee Clubs have been worked out on a new basis this year. Tryouts were held at the beginning of the semester, and the best talent in the school chosen to participate in these different organizations.

The Women's Glee Club, known as the Bel Canto Club, under the directorship of Miss Alma Williams, had a very successful year. Besides singing at the Blossom Festival, the club gave interesting programs at assemblies and at various entertainments sponsored by the school. Two out-of-town performances, one at Saratoga Foothill Club, and one at the Los Gatos High School, proved very successful and it is hoped that more of this type of work may be done by the club next year.

The Men's Glee Club, with a membership of twenty, was directed by Mr. George T. Matthews. Besides participating in the Blossom Festival, the Men's Glee Club added greatly to the Christmas Play, and the Junior College Variety Show, and the Pop Concerts sponsored by the A. W. S. Music group. They also sang at various high schools in the county.

The music group of the Associated Women Students with Miss Lichthardt as advisor sponsored a series of afternoon concerts for the benefit of the Rest Cottage and the A. W. S. These concerts were such a decided success from both musical and financial standpoints that it is planned to have more of them next year.

Men's Quartette

At the beginning of the fall semester coincident with the organization of the Men's Glee Club, came a demand for a male quartette. To meet this demand Mr. Mathews chose one member from each section of the Glee Club, not because of their individual ability as singers, but because of the balance and blend of voices.

The Quartette has taken part in many programs. It appeared on the programs of the Senior Show, the Men's Club Vaudeville, also before the Rotary Club, the Illinois Society and several Student Body Assemblies.

The Quartette has had a very successful year.

Debate

A new era in the history of debating was started this year with the entrance of San Jose State into the Central California Intercollegiate Debating League. The league is composed of the following eight schools:

1. San Jose State
2. Fresno State College
3. University of Santa Clara
4. College of the Pacific
5. San Mateo Jr. College
6. Santa Rosa Jr. College
7. Modesto Jr. College
8. Bakersfield Jr. College

San Jose State came out second, having won five out of the six debates in which she participated. Unquestionably with the trained debaters that the school now has, our College will win the series next year. Fresno, who won this year's series, is bound to fall before the eloquence of our Spartan orators the next time that the two colleges meet.

The following is the debate schedule for the past year: December 5. Question: Resolved that in all criminal cases in California three-fourths of a jury be competent to render a decision. The negative upheld by Caroline Miles and Marie Camp won a 3-0 decision against Modesto. The affirmative upheld by Elmo Stevenson and Charles Greenleaf defeated San Mateo 3-0.

February 6. Question: Resolved that the United States subsidize the aircraft industry. San Jose won, 3-0, against Santa Rosa.

Mr. Barry — M. Camp — T. Duncan

E. Stevenson — C. Miles

March 13. Question: Resolved that the present tariff laws are, on the whole, harmful to the farmers of California. The negative defeated San Mateo 3-0. San Jose was represented by Caroline Miles and Charles Greenleaf. The affirmative, upheld by Elmo Stevenson and Joe King won a 2-0 decision against the College of the Pacific.

The team wishes, at this time and in this space, to acknowledge their appreciation and thanks for the untiring efforts that their coach, Mr. Raymond W. Barry, gave in aiding them in their work. Without his co-operation, guidance, and assistance, the team could never have made the success of the season that they did.

Mr. E. R. Knollin

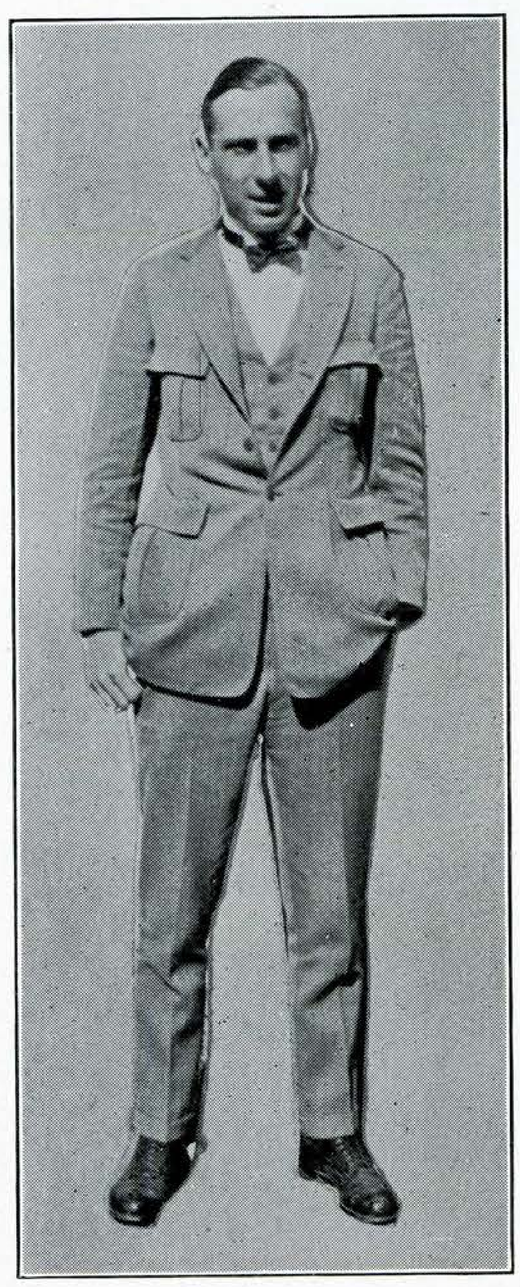

Director of Physical Education

Everybody in the college knows and likes Mr. E. R. Knollin, the new Dean of Men and Director of Physical Education.

Mr. Knollin is a graduate of Stanford University, and of the School of Physical Education in the University of Illinois, one of the best schools in the United States in this line. He has studied tumbling, football, baseball, and track, under some of the best men in the country.

As Coach of football and baseball, Mr. Knollin has done a great deal with rather weak material. Our football team of last fall was composed for the most part of first year men of very little experience. Around this nucleus, the Coach has established the beginning of a football system that promises great things for the future. In baseball the same condition of inexperienced men and inadequate equipment did not hinder the Coach from organizing a team that defeated our old rivals, Fresno and the College of the Pacific.

As Dean of Men, Mr. Knollin has given the Men's Club some invaluable advice. He has instilled into the men a new enthusiasm. It has been mainly through his encouragement and advice that the long talked of Men's Clubhouse has at last come to be a reality. All together, gang, six for Coach Knollin! Make 'em Big.

Lisle Norman

Soccer Coach

Lisle Norman played on the City of London School eleven in England. In 1921 he played for the San Francisco Olympic Club. This season he played for the San Jose Sons of St. George, being the leading scorer in the Peninsular Soccer League. Lisle had the difficult task of coaching, captaining, and playing on the team at the same time.

The excellent schedule was also largely a result of his work. The team tied Stanford this year.

The Spartan Basketball Team of 1925 gave to San Jose State more glory and honor in all probability than any other team that has ever fought for the Gold and White. It was a team represented by fighters who never quit until the whistle blew. Game after game they always had that last minute fight which always rewarded them with victory, and so the champions of the California Coast Conference were the Spartans of San Jose and the victories that they won, 19 out of 22 games, will stand out as one of the most successful records that any team has ever had that represented San Jose State Teachers College. Those men who made this possible were Jess Regli, the speediest man in the conference and who was second high point man. Jess was in there fighting every minute and his 200 pounds were a menace to any guard. Verne Sawyer, high point man of the team almost never missed under the basket even if there were a couple of guards hanging on. Clarence Burrell at center played a stellar game at center and his height was always to advantage. Captain Monferino and Aarian Cakebread were the fastest pair of guards in the conference and few slips were registered against them. Hawley and Ed Mitchell also played good games at forward and guard, Hawley being the man who turned defeat to victory in the championship series with Fresno. Fry was one of the best shots, but was rather small, while Trone at guard also played good ball while on the court. The season started the first of December and the first game resulted in a victory for San Jose.

SAN JOSE, 19; CAMPBELL HIGH, 5

This resulted in a victory for San Jose after the boys had a week's practice. It was a game for the main purpose of showing what part of the team was weak and how to correct the defects.

SAN JOSE, 42; SANTA CLARA, 12

This game showed the boys in much better form, the offense and defense working much better.

SAN JOSE, 21; MODESTO, JR. COLLEGE, 23

This was a hard defeat to take by two points but the varsity as yet was not in tip top shape.

SAN JOSE, 34; SANTA CRUZ HIGH, 10

The varsity began to show the making of a real team in this contest.

SAN JOSE, 49; HOLLISTER JR. COLLEGE, 9

This was the first real game played by the varsity and the players all showed up well, making baskets with seemingly apparent ease.

SAN JOSE, 64; SANTA CLARA HIGH, 10

The Spartans kept up the good work and once more snowed their opponents under. Sawyer, of the varsity, scored 30 points in this game.

SAN JOSE, 15; STANFORD, 16

This game meant more to the varsity than any other and if the boys had not been stage struck, would have probably easily beaten Stanford. The varsity had a 7-point lead in the beginning, but could not retain it.

SAN JOSE, 33; SANTA ROSA JR. COLLEGE, 11

The varsity once again started on a victorious pilgrimage.

SAN JOSE, 25; CHICO STATE, 15

In the first conference game the Spartans defeated Chico after a hard battle.

SAN JOSE, 40; SAN MATEO JR. COLLEGE, 23

SAN JOSE, 64; CALIFORNIA POLYTECHNIC, 23

SAN JOSE, 39; SANTA BARBARA STATE, 31

In one of the hardest fought battles of the year, San Jose finally defeated Santa Barbara. Jess Regli was easily the star of this game.

San Jose, 62; Santa Maria Jr. College, 7
San Jose, 22; San Mateo Jr. College, 16

The Spartans won the northern division championship by defeating San Mateo in the second game.

San Jose, 30; Humboldt State College, 0
San Jose, 59; Arcata Firemen, 0

The Spartans defeated the Arcata Firemen, champions of Humboldt county for four years.

San Jose, 38; Modesto Jr. College, 30

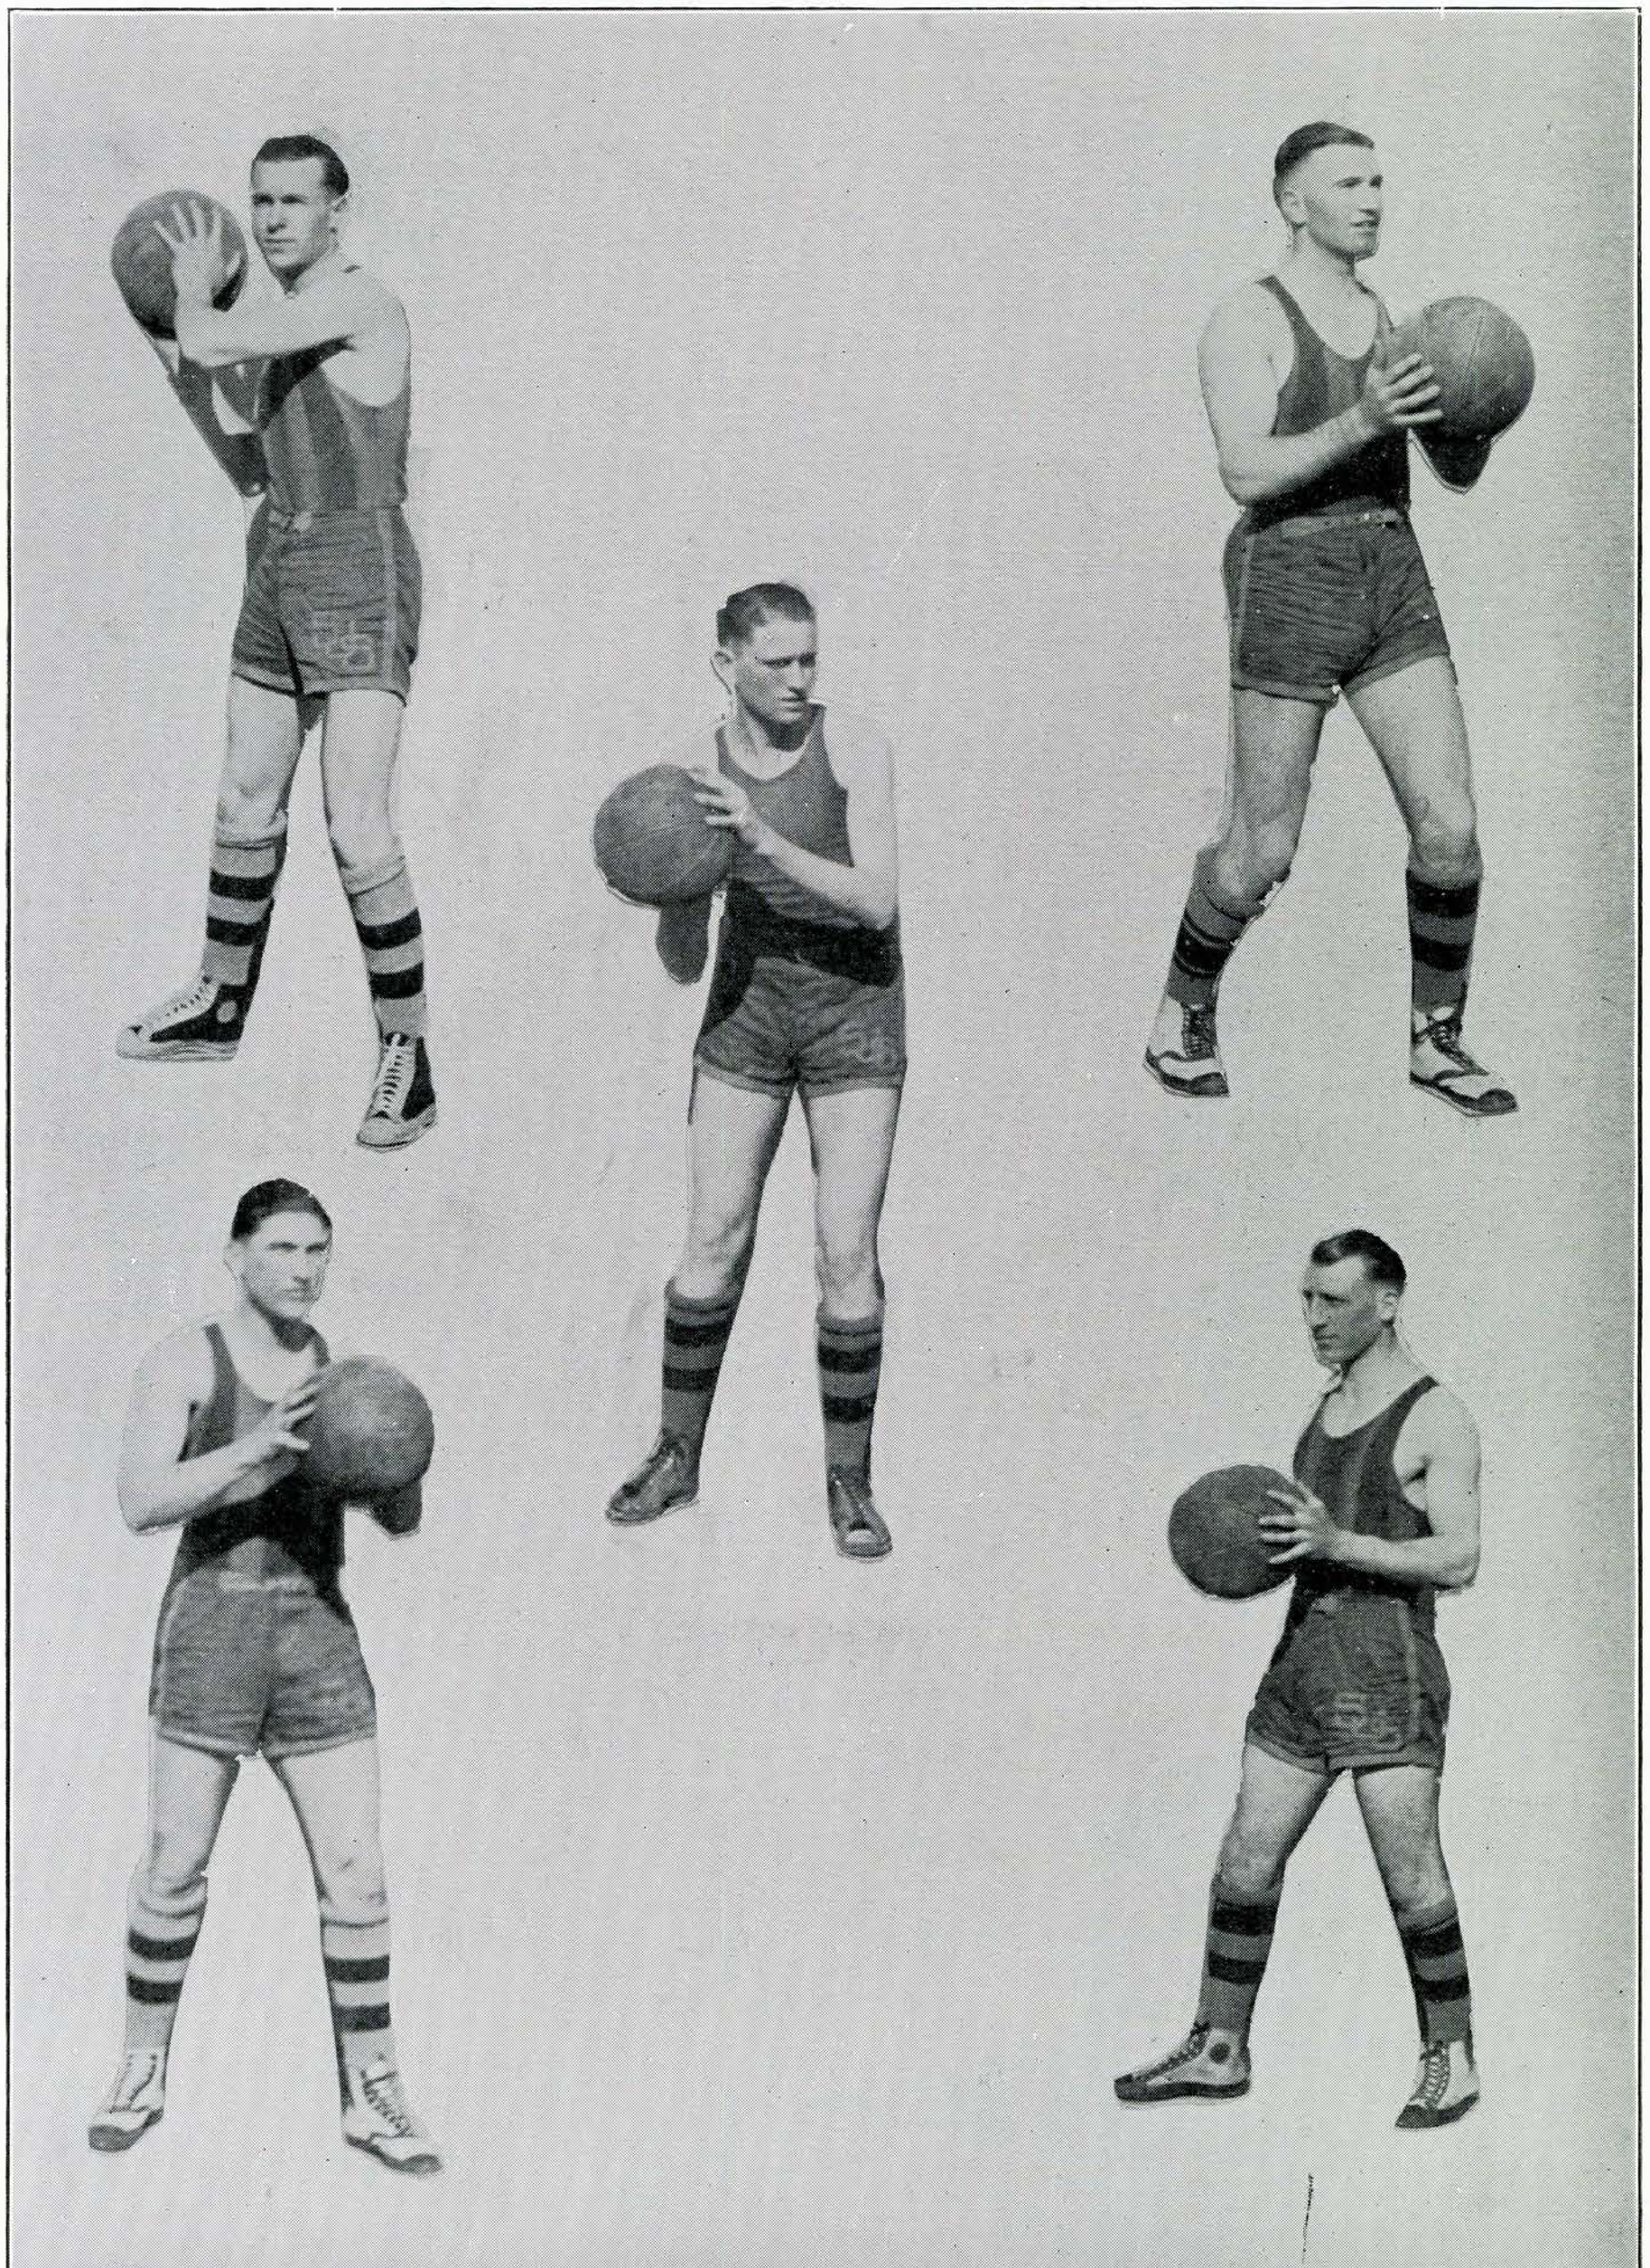

This was the most exciting game of the year.

CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

San Jose, 32; Fresno, 19
San Jose, 17; Fresno, 14
San Jose, 30; Fresno, 28
San Jose, 14; Fresno, 29

So ended the basketball season by the Spartans taking three out of four games from the Bull Dogs of Fresno. The Spartans came back on the last two games on their home court and thoroughly convinced the rooters who were the best team. Hal Hawley proved a real hero when he shot two baskets in the last few minutes of play. So ended the basketball season and to one, Coach McDonald, who led his charges to victory, should be given a great deal of credit. He worked incessantly for the varsity and San Jose is proud that Coach McDonald turned out a championship team.

Football

Taken from the standpoint of victories, the football season was not a success, but when one thinks of the previous football season, and remembers that our sum total of points throughout the season was 3 points, one must consider the football season of this year a success. The team scored 25 points in the present football year.

Coach Knollin, with his first year at San Jose State, must be congratulated upon this showing, as he did not intend to put out a winning team this year. Our men were mostly first year men, and many of the old players were assigned new places on the team. The fundamentals of the game were shown to the men this year with the hope of laying a firm foundation for future teams.

There were no stars throughout the season. If there is any man deserving of merit, it must be given to Captain "Poncho" Thompson, who was a fighter in every sense of the word. Poncho has been re-elected captain for the coming season, and as it is his last year for San Jose State, it will be his best. The fellows are assured of a good coach, a fighting captain, and many veterans for the coming season.

The players on the team were as follows:

Backfield Men: Paul Thompson, Jess Regli, Elgin Hurlburt, Joe Michell, Kenneth Edwards, Homer Cleary, and Long.

Line Men: Elmer Lear, Clarence Burrell, Frank Corwin, Verne Sawyer, Ralph Carlyon, Russel Cabot, Ed Mitchell, Wurtz, Ralph Herdman, Henry Sammett, Manuel Xavier, Ray McClintic, and Peel.

A synopsis of the games is as follows:

SAN JOSE STATE, 13; HOLLISTER JUNIOR COLLEGE, 0

The very first play of this game was a thriller. Hollister kicked off over the goal line, where Regli caught it, and ran through a broken field 107 yards to a touchdown. Regli also made the other touchdown on a 17 yard line buck. This was a splendid beginning.

SAN JOSE STATE, 0; SAN MATEO JUNIOR COLLEGE, 28

This loss must not be held too much against the Spartans, because San Mateo had one of the best backfield men in the state, Lawrence, who made all four touchdowns against us. San Mateo held the powerful Stanford Frosh team to a 0-0 score, so we were not greatly discouraged.

SAN JOSE STATE, 6; MODESTO, 26

The Blue Devils came up to San Jose with the reputation of being a strong team. They lived up to their reputation. Our touchdown was a result of a beautiful pass from Regli to Joe Michell, who romped over for a touchdown. The second half was all Modesto, who scored two touchdowns.

Soccer

The soccer varsity had a successful season this year, playing teams of the caliber of the Olympic Club, Stanford and American Legion. Interest was well sustained throughout the season, and the Olympic Club clash was watched by a large crowd. The varsities' best performance was against Stanford whom they held to a 1-1 tie. The first game at Stanford was lost 2-1 after a hard battle. Captain Lisle Norman coached the team, and it is largely due to him that soccer got off to a good start at San Jose State. When it is taken into consideration that Stanford and California are the only other colleges that have soccer teams it can be seen that San Jose is well to the front in this sport. The team did not hesitate to play all comers, but perhaps the most noticeable thing about the squad was its morale, which was chiefly responsible for its success. Every man on the team played well, some of the men such as Hurlbert, Laing, and Grimmer, doing remarkably well for first season men.

The position of goaltender was not filled all season, as there seemed to be no one capable to hold down this position. This weakness was responsible for fully three-fourths of the goals scored against our team. The following men were on the squad: Goal, Peel; Fullbacks, Norman and Morgan; Halfbacks, Cheo, Knight and Edwards; Forwards, Grimmer, Hansen, Hurlbert, Miller and Kendall. Substitutes, Wirtz and Laing; Halfback, Reed; Forward, Jensen, Goaltender.

The Hopper brothers who entered school this semester, played in the last game, and should go well next season. Kenneth Edwards managed the team. The squad played a good combination game and passed the ball about well. Next season they should do well.

The results of the games are as follows:

Palo Alto American Legion	4	Varsity 3	at Palo Alto
Olympic Club	9	Varsity 0	at Reed Field
Stanford	2	Varsity 1	at Palo Alto
Sons of St. George	1	Varsity 1	at Reed Field
Stanford	1	Varsity 1	at Reed Field
American Legion	1	Varsity 1	at Reed Field

Baseball

The baseball team of the Spartans have had a successful season under the guidance of Coach Knollin, who has put out a winning team, although they were not conference winners.

Second year men such as Captain Cleary, Lawless, Kendall, Cabot, and Thomas were back. New men such as Trone, Johnson, Sawyer, Edwards, Hurlburt and Whitaker were a great help to the team. George Warrenburg probably was the star of the Spartan season by his effective batting and base running.

The catching staff was composed of Thomas and Trone, who alternated throughout the season. Both caught steady games.

Johnson and Cabot were the hurlers, the former taking premier honors. Johnson pitched remarkable games against Fresno and Pacific, defeating both teams.

The infield was comprised of Sawyer, first base; Lawless, second base; Captain Cleary, shortstop; Kendall and Snyder, third base, and Whitaker, utility.

The outfield was made up of Warrenburg, Edwards, Hurlburt, and Faxon.

The following is the story of the Spartan season by games:

SPARTANS, 3; SANTA ROSA JUNIOR COLLEGE, 6

Failure to hit when hits were needed cost the Spartans the loss of the first real game. Johnson, southpaw hurler of the Spartans, featured with 15 strike-outs to his credit and yet lost the game.

SPARTANS, 13; SANTA ROSA JUNIOR COLLEGE, 12

This twelve inning victory for the Spartans in a return game at Santa Rosa wiped out the former defeat of the Spartans. Features of the game were the hitting of Trone, Thomas and Warrenburg, and the hurling of Johnson. Batteries were: Cabot, Johnson and Thomas, and Thompson.

SPARTANS, 5; FRESNO STATE, 1

This was an unexpected victory for the Spartans. Johnson struck out 13 Fresno men and allowed them two hits. The team played errorless ball and deserved to win. Spartan batteries were Johnson and Thomas.

SPARTANS, 4; CHICO STATE, 9

The team traveled to Chico and lost the game for the championship of the northern section of the C. C. C. in a loosely played game. Johnson was uneffective and the team played ineffectively. Spartan batters were: Johnson and Thomas, Trone.

SPARTANS, 3; PACIFIC, 2

This exciting game resulted in a victory over our old rivals, C. O. P. With the score 2 to 1 against us, Coach Knollin inserted Cabot as pinch hitter, who delivered with a hit, scoring two men. Spartan batteries were: Johnson and Trone.

SPARTANS, 4; MODESTO, 13

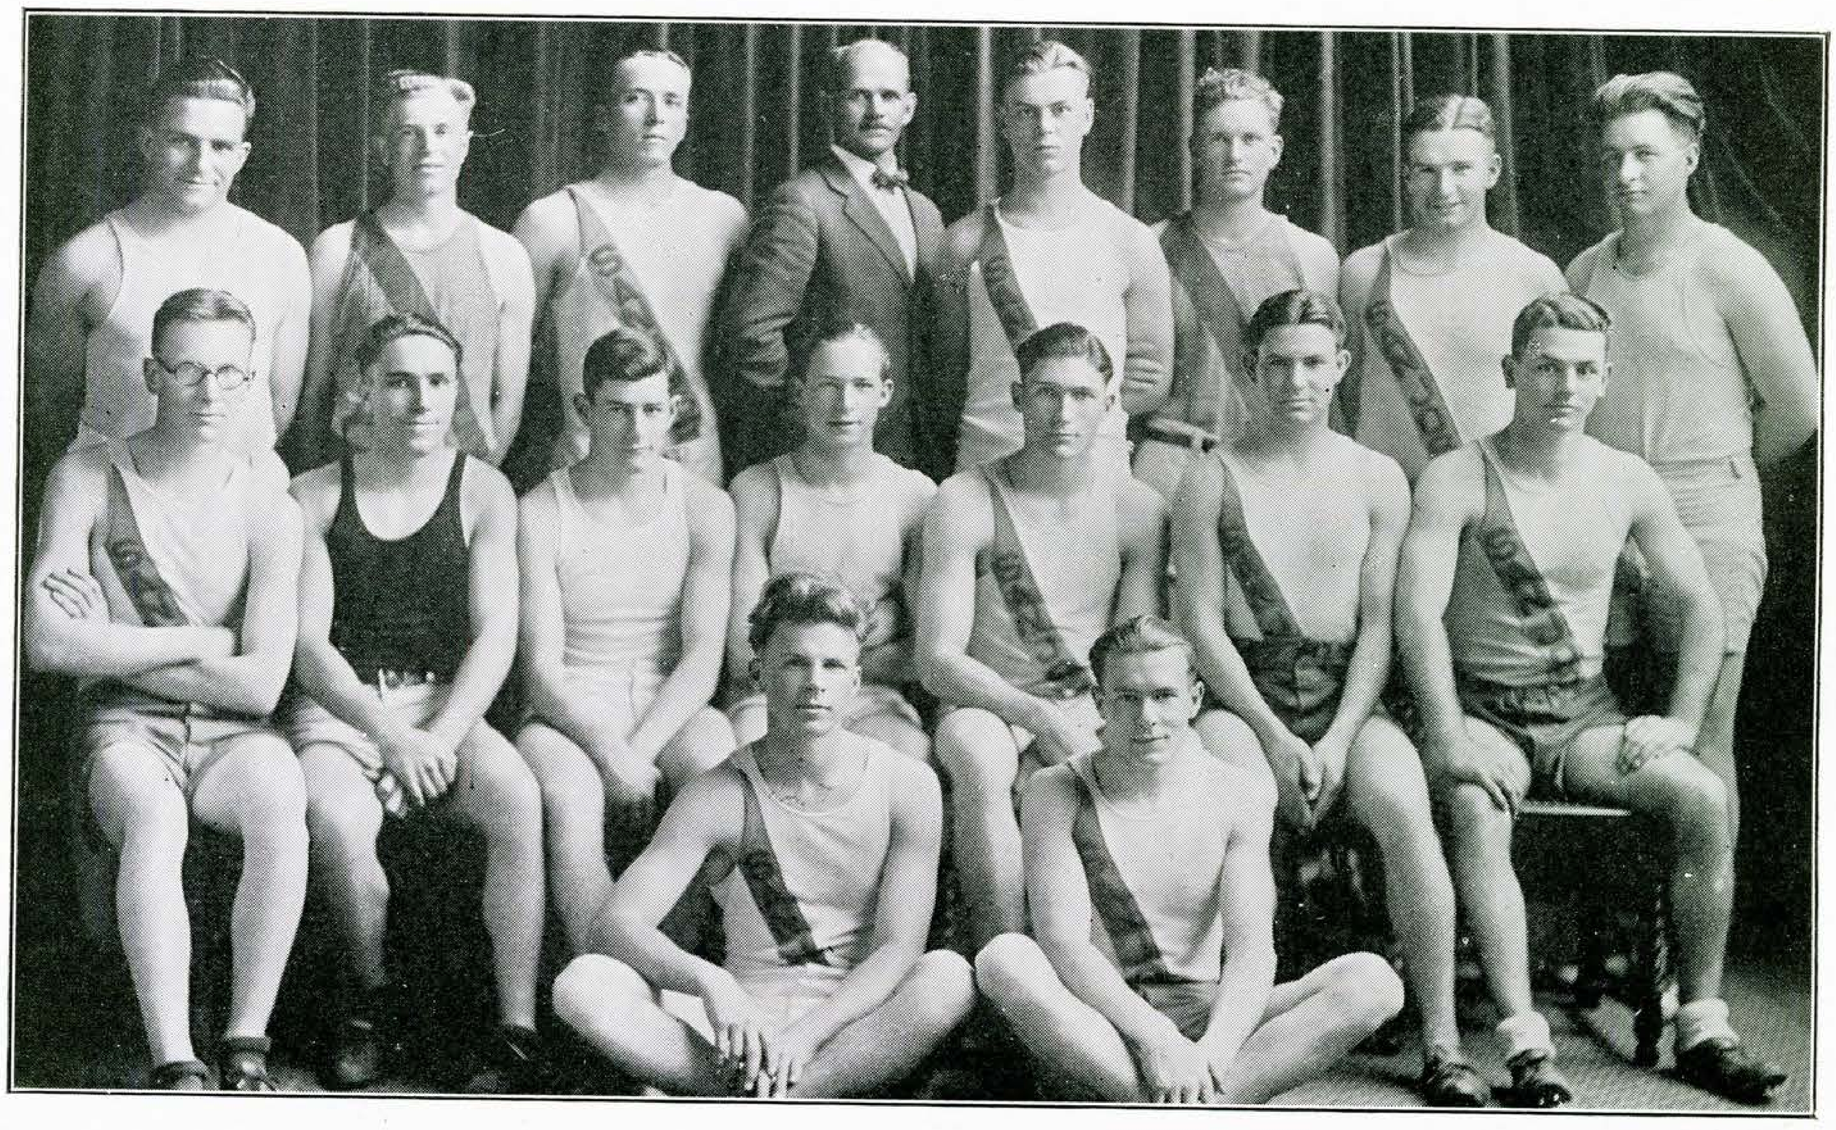

The team went to Modesto and lost to the Blue Devils. With the score 2-0 in Spartans' favor, Coach Knollin shifted batter from Cabot and Thomas to Johnson and Trone. The latter were ineffective, so Modesto scored at will. Spartan batteries were: Cabot, Johnson, Warrenburg, and Thomas and Trone.

SPARTAN, 5; SAN JOSE HIGH, 4

San Jose State won a practice game against the local high school. The features of the game were a steal to home by Warrenburg with the winning run, the pitching of Johnson and a triple play in the first inning, with men on second and third.

SPARTANS, 15; ARCATA STATE COLLEGE, 6

Spartans defeated Arcata in the last game of the season. The Spartans played consistent ball by hitting and fielding as a unit. Lawless played a wonderful fielding game around second. Spartan batteries were Cabot, Johnson and Thomas. The season ended with Spartans winning 6 out of 9.

Track

One other California Coast Conference Title was added to the Spartans' newly but rapidly growing athletic reputation in the track championship meet at Fresno on May 2nd. It was a nerve racking meet and was decided by the relay. San Jose boasts this year of the best balanced track squad to ever don the spikes for the Gold and White and it is the first time that a track squad from San Jose has won this high honor. Two championships in one season is indeed a remarkable record and one of the interesting things of the track squad personnel was that five of the stars of the track squad were members of the championship basketball team. The best man in the team was no doubt Jess Regli who was high point man in every meet. Jess received a beautiful cup at the state meet for high point honors with thirteen markers to his credit. In every meet Regli was good for fifteen points so that his value to the track team was no doubt invaluable. Hal Hawley also was an athlete who showed up good in every meet, being a star at the high hurdles. Hal made a record at the conference meet but it was not allowed because he knocked a hurdle down. Louis Monferino was our sttellar miler and 880 man and won most of his races. It is too bad that we lose Montie this year as he has been a sure winner for the Spartans for the last three years. Aarian Cakebread made a good teammate for Jess Regli as they almost always came in 1-2 in the 100 and 220. Cakebread was also a good quarter miler and ran a spectacular quarter in the relay at the state meet. Harvey Miller was the premier pole vaulter for San Jose and was always sure for a first in his pet event. Ed Mitchell turned in many good times in the low hurdles, and since it was the first year for him in this event, he made remarkable progress. (He also was close second to Miller in the pole value.) Kottinger was our best broad jumper when he felt good, Hawley and Bill taking first and second in most of the meets. Shaw was a high jumper and placed in every meet in this event. Some other good men were Mathewson, who ran the quarter and relay; Lear Veteran, high hurdler; Gibbs, who always ran a pretty mile; Kyle, dash man; Captain Carlyon, who on account of sickness was not able to compete in more than one meet; Xaxier, low hurdler; Corwin, weight man, and Warren Reed, who was a dash man, were other members of the squad.

Coach McDonald says that the fine spirit shown by the track squad had a great deal to do with its success. Coach McDonald did a lot in bringing forth this championship and with a veteran squad back next year with the exception of Monferino, San Jose State should win another championship. San Jose's record of winning 3 out of five meets is remarkable when you think that the track men got on the oval a month late due to the championship series in basketball and therefore they were not in condition for the first two meets. The meets resulted as follows:

Stanford Frosh	85½	San Jose 25½
Modesto J. C.	67	San Jose 55
Fresno State	60	San Jose 62
Pacific	40½	San Jose 81½

In State Meet San Jose 38 1/5

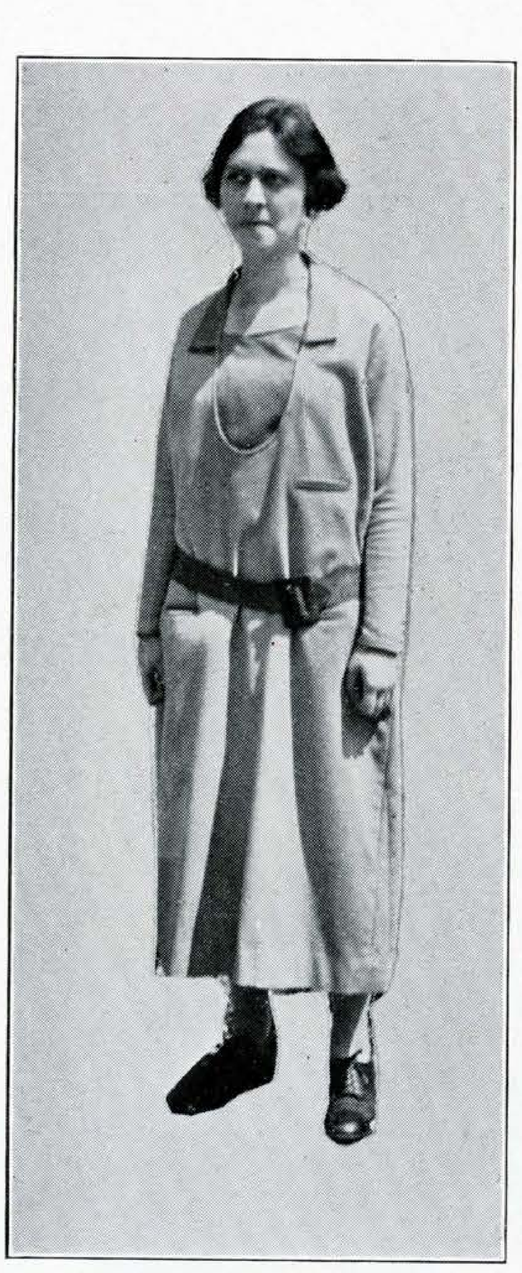

Women's Athletics

Most people around college have finally conceded that athletics for women are not only practical and possible but necessary. The fact that women as well as men can put out winning teams is proven by a look at the results of the basketball season, not one defeat: and the other teams, tennis, baseball, volleyball, and track are after the same goal. This athletic outlook has been due to a great extent to the leadership, organization and coaching of Miss Laura E. Herron, Head of the Women's Physical Education Department.

Despite her youthful appearance, Miss Herron has had several years of experience in the field of athletics as well as in general curriculum subjects; but above all she has maintained an enviable coaching reputation, not one loosing team has she turned out. According to Miss Herron, coaching does not consist of mere drilling in technicalities, it is something bigger and longer lasting. It is the development of a team morale of individual personality, of co-operation and all those related qualities that go to make up citizenship. She is strong minded, kindly, humorous, ever ready for fun or frolic, and as serious as a deacon when necessary. In her, one can boast of having a real friend.

The girls under Miss Herron are unanimous in giving three lusty cheers for the best coach the women of this college have ever seen.

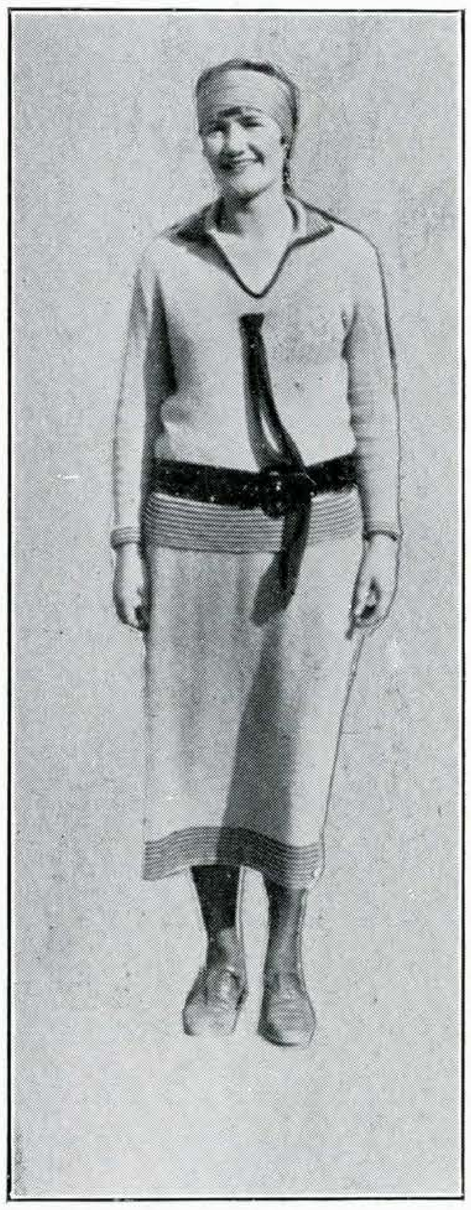

MISS RICH

To those who do not know her, we may describe Miss Rich as being the gym teacher who you cannot tell from the students. Also it is she who explains the intricacies of the mazurka, the cures for kyphoscoliosis and lordosis, the actions of the Latissimus Dorsi, the causes of pronated feet, hallux valgus, etc. Stated in English then, she not only conducts gym classes, but teaches folk dancing, individual gymnastics and Kinesiology; and for all that we have to take our hats off to her.

Miss Rich is a former graduate of this college and has just completed a course at the Columbia University. Besides all her other work, Miss Rich assists in athletics by running Intra-mural games and contests in her gym classes. She is always on hand to take the official scores and attend to the minor details of a game or track meet.

Like Miss Herron, she too is a friend well worth having. Her nature is more reserved, but the big qualities of a real woman and friend are all there. If you do not know Miss Rich, make her acquaintance for she is well worth knowing.

MISS FINLAYSON

Miss Finlayson has the distinction of being both an instructor and a student in our institution. Besides taking the Physical Education and General Elementary Courses, it is her work to coach all the volley ball teams and instruct the swimming classes, both advanced and beginning, which taken all together does not constitute an easy task. Her volley ball teams have met and defeated the fast Y. W. C. A. team, have won once and lost once to San Jose High, and have won and lost to Santa Clara High, which now holds the conference championship.

Miss Finlayson came here from Denver, Colorado, where she was attending the Colorado Agricultural College. Her ability and past experience have proved themselves as is shown by the successful volley ball teams and swimming teams which she is fast rounding into shape. She should be congratulated on the success of her work, and we all stand ready to give her the hearty hand-shake which means, "Well done, old friend, keep it up."

MISS BASSLER

Miss Bassler does not coach any special team but she has charge of part of the girls' gymnasium work that no one else could take. It is through training with Miss Bassler that the girls make such good material for teams. Her fencing class is unusual.

Miss Bassler has taken lessons with some of the best physical education instructors in Europe. She makes her fencing classes unusually interesting by telling of the old customs in different countries in regard to fencing and duels.

Women's Athletic Association

There is no more need to press W. A. A. into the limelight as it is there to remain and there is no disputing the fact that this organization has, since being established in 1920 enjoyed the most prosperous year. In fact if an athletic history of San Jose State Teachers College were to be compiled, the year 1924-1925 might be spoken of as the Renaissance of Women's Athletics. To say that there has been a tremendous revival of interest in sports for women is not enough, for never in the history of the college has there been such almost unusual participation in recreation and athletics. Its membership now is eighty-five and is steadily increasing and unless one is really a member of this live-wire association it is hardly possible to gain an idea of all the good times that go along with the work. It is an organization open to every red-blooded, fun-loving girl who likes the great out-of-doors and the companionship of her kind.

Past history and present plans show that W. A. A. has sponsored and boosted sports in every possible way.

As you know, Play Days have come to be the regular thing and the year would not be deemed complete unless at least one or two were held with our near neighbor, San Francisco. The friendly rivalry, the good times and healthy sports tend to increase their ever-growing popularity. The last play day was held at San Francisco and it was a day full of pleasure, the high spirits being exhibited around the festive board. Basketball was the main sport and anyone who was at the last Play Day can truly say, the faculty can certainly give the students a hard tussle, in fact run away with the honors. The Play Day of May doesn't need mentioning as it still lingers as a pleasant memory in the minds of all who attended.

L. Clark M. Lynn A. McCaughey F. Gleason

Clean-up Day was one grand sweep that swept the grounds cleaner than they had ever been. Almost so clean that we couldn't find our way around.

W. A. A. had its recognition and W. A. A. Day proved to be the best ever. Events went off with great precision and eats were beyond any comparison.

So far the successful conduct of inter-class and inter-college basketball, volley ball, baseball, swimming, track and tennis has been the outstanding effort of W. A. A. as these things form the basis of its existence. Social events are not neglected, however, and anyone who has attended the huge banquets at the end of each semester knows that good eats and good times are the main features. This annual banquet is held at some local Hotel and any woman student has the privilege of taking part

The Christmas dinner held this year proved to be everything that could be expected and will no doubt be repeated. The spirit of Christmas was manifested in the whole affair, and everyone who attended voted the dinner to be a big success.

However, actions speak louder than words, and the student body will always be aware of W. A. A. because of the active part taken.

JUNIOR TEAM

Basket Ball

Basketball was once again the year's most popular sport with college women. More than five hundred women took part in the intra-mural series, and about sixty in the interclass games with San Francisco. Coaches Herron, Rich and Finlayson organized several teams and played a number of informal games with high school teams during the preliminary season. The college teams scored consecutive victories over the San Jose, Santa Clara, Redwood and San Mateo High School.

INTER-COLLEGIATE INTERCLASS

Five basketball contests featured the annual Fall Play Day at San Francisco. The games were characterized by fine sportsmanship and were enjoyed by all concerned. The results:

San Jose Juniors	73	San Francisco	6
San Jose Freshmen	48	San Francisco	11
San Jose Sophomores	48	San Francisco	7
San Jose Second Freshmen	81	San Francisco	4
San Jose Second Sophomores	14	San Francisco	5

The interclass series produced much more than the usual interest, altho it was apparent that the Freshmen were almost sure to win first honors. The games were keenly contested and showed an excellent standard of basketball. the results:

Freshmen	23	Juniors	9
Sophomores	23	Juniors	18
Freshmen	18	Sophomores	12

The line-up of the champion team: Freshmen, Delbon (Captain), Ruth, Pearce; (Forwards), Brown, Lynn, Iverson; (Centers), Brier, Hoench, Miller, Berry (Guards).

INTRA MURAL

The intra mural series was instigated in an effort to interest all in athletic competition. Four teams took part and played in all nearly two hundred games. Hoench's team carried off first honors. Their line-up: Hoench (Captain), Schlosser, Schlieman, Rehdorf, Opie, Jensen.

FRESHMAN BASKET BALL TEAM

The Freshman cagers had an unusually successful season by winning every game played. When they downed the Sophomores in the final inter-class game, the title of Inter-Class Champions was bestowed upon them.

The forwards, Harriet Ruhl, Gerry Delbon, captain, and Mary Pearce, easily surpassed the playing of their opponents by the excellent team-work and accurate shooting, totalling a final score of 133 points in the four games played.

The success was largely due to the speedy action in the center of the court. The touch center, Aurelia Brown, and the side center, Miriam Lynn, made an exceedingly good showing with their clever signals and passwork. Margaret Miller and Hazel Iverson were always ready to enter the game at their respective places, making the loss of either of the other two unnoticed.

The ability of Sylvia Brier and Georgiana Hoenck to keep the ball from passing through the loop, kept the opponents to the small total score of 73. Amy Barry and Helen Miller were equally capable and enacted their share of the work in keeping the ball at the other end of the court.

All in all, if these same athletes are reunited next season, there should be no reason why their hopes will not be fulfilled in making it equally successful.

Volley Ball

The volleyball season of 1925 was one of the best in many years for the girls of San Jose State. Former seasons have witnessed few teams which could compare with those of 1925. Much of the credit for the splendid records is due Miss Catherine Finlayson, who so successfully coached the teams.

A great deal of enthusiasm was aroused by the introduction of the sport into the regular gym classes. This intramural competition revealed many fine players, and laid a foundation for next year's teams. These intromural leagues played off a regular schedule. The series was won by Helen Campen's team.

The games have been close, as shown by the final scores.

League I—

Chilton's team defeated Van Druten's team 27-15.
Chilton's team defeated Mundia's team 43-11.
Dunhan's team defeated Southwick's team 28-19.

League V—
Hansen's team defeated Gross's team 39-28.

League VI—
Field's team defeated Vicker's team 37-34.
Breckenridge's team defeated Conforti's team 32-29.

The players on the winning team were:

Sylvia Brier
Aurelia Brown
Gerry Delbon
Georgiana Hoenck
Harriet Ruhl
Miriam Lynn
Winnifred Roberts

The girls also developed a winning varsity, which lost only one game during the entire season. Games were played with the Y. W. C. A., with Santa Clara, and with the San Jose High School.

Those playing on the Varsity were:

Aurelia Brown
Sylvia Brier
Gerry Delbon
Bernice Graham
Miriam Lynn
Alice McGaughey
Harriet Ruhl
Allilion Miller
Olive Jensen
Winnifred Roberts

Once more the Freshmen fall heir to the title of champions. This time it is their superiority in the volleying game. Under the captainship of Georgiana Hoenck the team upheld the "Frosh Standard." With Aurelia Brown to "smash" the ball, Winifred Roberts and "Gerry" Delbon to serve, Sylvia Brier and Harriet Ruhl to bay them in the air, and Miriam Lynn to "pick" them up, the team could not be beaten. It was a team with real team work. The constant efforts of the players under the able coaching of Miss Finlayson were not in vain.

Baseball

Baseball this season has come up to expectations. Under the coaching of Miss Herron another year has been added to her ten years of building up undefeated baseball teams. The batteries of this triumphant team were: Margaret Jenkins and Mary Conforti, pitchers, and Lucille Carlyon, Roberta Hirschback, and Chris Otis, catchers. "Bobby" Hirschback met with a misfortune and necessarily took to the bench with a broken finger.

Gerry Delbon took her position on the initial bag with Fernie Gleason holding down second. Amy Berry, while not assisting in the pitcher's box, attempted to keep her opponents away from the third bag. Backing up the infield at every possible chance and letting no balls pass between second and third, was our clever little short stop, Miriam Lynn.

"Snagging" all the high balls in the field were Hazel Iverson, June Porter, Alillion Miller, and Margerite Williams.

After reassuring ourselves by defeating Morgan Hill in the first game of the season, we tackled the champions, San Jose High School girls' baseball team, who fell victims to the Teachers' College squad in an enjoyable and amusing practice. As the score would indicate, the game was loosely played by both teams. The high school girls collected only three hits, but the college pitchers were rather too liberal with bases on balls, which, coupled with a score of errors, accounted for the thirteen runs.

The Spartan maidens were strong with the willow, garnering seventeen hits, which they followed up by running well on the bases. Although there were many amusing features to the game, both teams did some clever playing on occasions, showing that they are mastering a few of the intricacies of the difficult pastime.

The Campbell nine then fell victim to our superior ball-playing and gave us a five-inning game with a score of 0 to 9. On April 29th we met San Mateo on their diamond and finally defeated them by the score of 10 to 11. This was the hardest game of the season but with "Marg" Jenkins in the box and Lucille Carlyon behind the bat, we were destined to win.

Now come the preparations for the inter-class games and San Francisco Day. Alice Bradeen captains the Junior tea, Miriam Lynn, the Freshman squad, and Lucille Moore, the "pick-up" team. We retain our expectations and raise our hopes that all three teams will easily down our San Francisco friends.

Track

Track and field work claimed a large share of interest this year, about fifty women trained for some of the various activities. Relay races were probably the most popular of all the track events, the chief relays being a 200 yard four runner relay, and a 500 yard ten runner relay.

The first meet of the year was held on April 3rd and resulted as follows:

50 Yard Dash—Brown, Iverson, Moore.
Broad Jump—Jensen, Koeck, Iverson.
Baseball Throw—Jensen, Iverson, Carlyon.
Discus Throw—Brown, Jenkins, Bradeen.
High Jump—Bomberger, Jensen, Koeck, Brier.
Javelin Throw—Jenkins, McCoy, Bradeen, Williams.
60 Yard Hurdles—Jensen, Bomberger, Koeck.
Hop, Step, Jump—Brown Jensen, Iverson.
Relay (ten runner) won by Freshmen.

Our interclass meet is scheduled for May 15th and exhibitions of track and field for San Francisco Day on May 23rd. Of the new records made this year the best are Brown's record of six seconds in the 50 yard dash and her thrown of 95 feet in the discus, and Jenkins' record of 202 feet in the baseball throw.

Tennis

Tennis is a favorite sport, so much interest has been shown in class tournaments by the women of this college. In the fall semester a class tournament was held, the results being as follows:

Freshman Champion: Miriam Lynn.

Junior Champion: Rosabel Smith.

Tennis is one of the big features of San Francisco Day, and all classes have turned out enthusiastic squads which under the efficient coaching of Margaret Jenkins, are preparing for this event. Practice tournaments were held with San Jose and Santa Clara High Schools.

Swimming

For the first time in years, swimming has taken its place in the women's sports of San Jose State. Permission to use the Y. W. C. A. pool has made possible the classes which have been the incentive toward increased interest.

Under the efficient handling of Coach Finlayson, the teams have developed form and speed in strokes, and straight and fancy diving. There are teams representaing the three lower classes, and a team composed of the best members of these teams, which will meet the San Francisco team on May 23d.

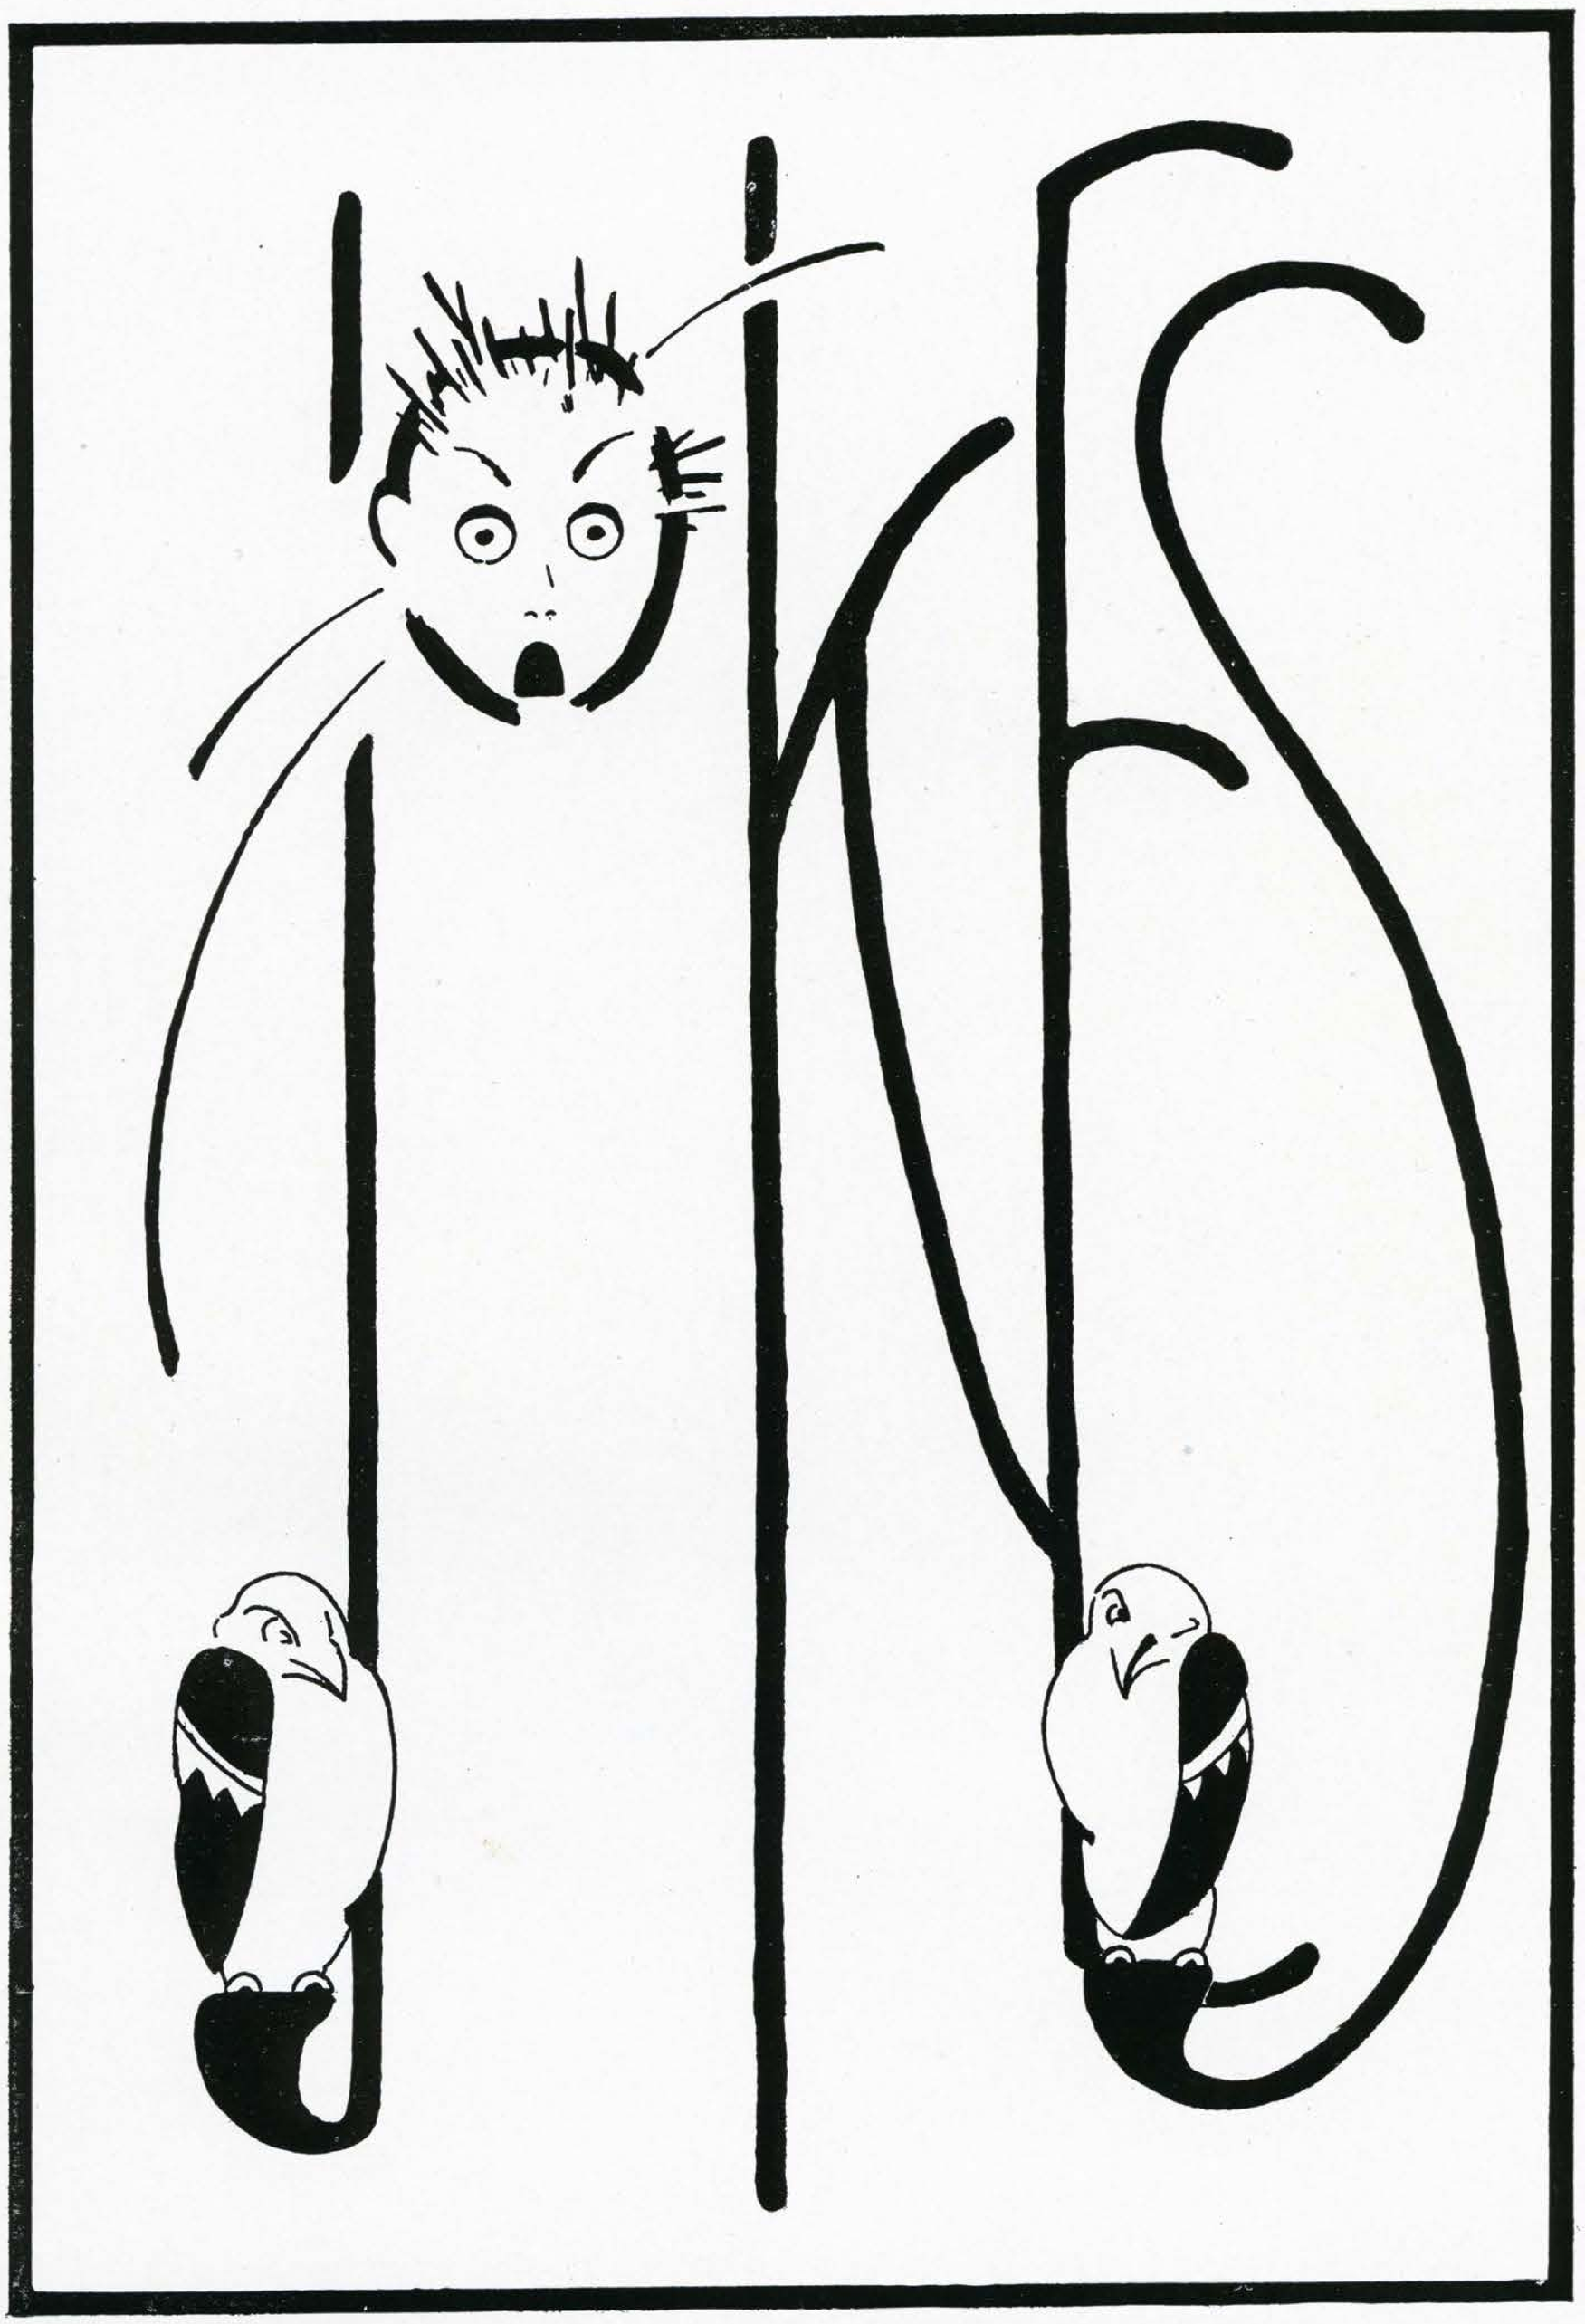

During this season, three meets were arranged, an inter-class meet, one with the swimming team from the high school, and the meet at the Vendome Pool with San Francisco. The inter-class meet has been already run off, on April 23d, at the "Y" pool. The Juniors won the meet, with a score of 48, the. Freshmen were second, with 44, and the Sophomores third, with 34.

Jane Noonan, Sophomore captain, was the individual star of the meet, making 28 out of 34 points, with five first places. Dorothy Graebe, Junior captain, tied with Rosabel Smith for second place, with 14 points each, and Geraldine Delbon, Freshman captain, tied with Chris Otis for third place

The meet with the high school will specialize in novelty events, consisting of lighted candle races, umbrella races, and so on. In the San Francisco meet, plunge for distance, high diving, and an exhibition of Red Cross Life-Saving methods will be additional features.

First Sheep: "Blaaaa!"
Second Sheep: "Blaaaa!"

GOOD GAL

He took her out for an ice-cream treat,
His pretty, blue-eyed Sal;
But fainted when he read the sign,
"Cream, ninety cents a gal."

SWELL

Russell: What's that lump on your head?"
Dunham: "Oh, I had water on the brain and it came to a boil."

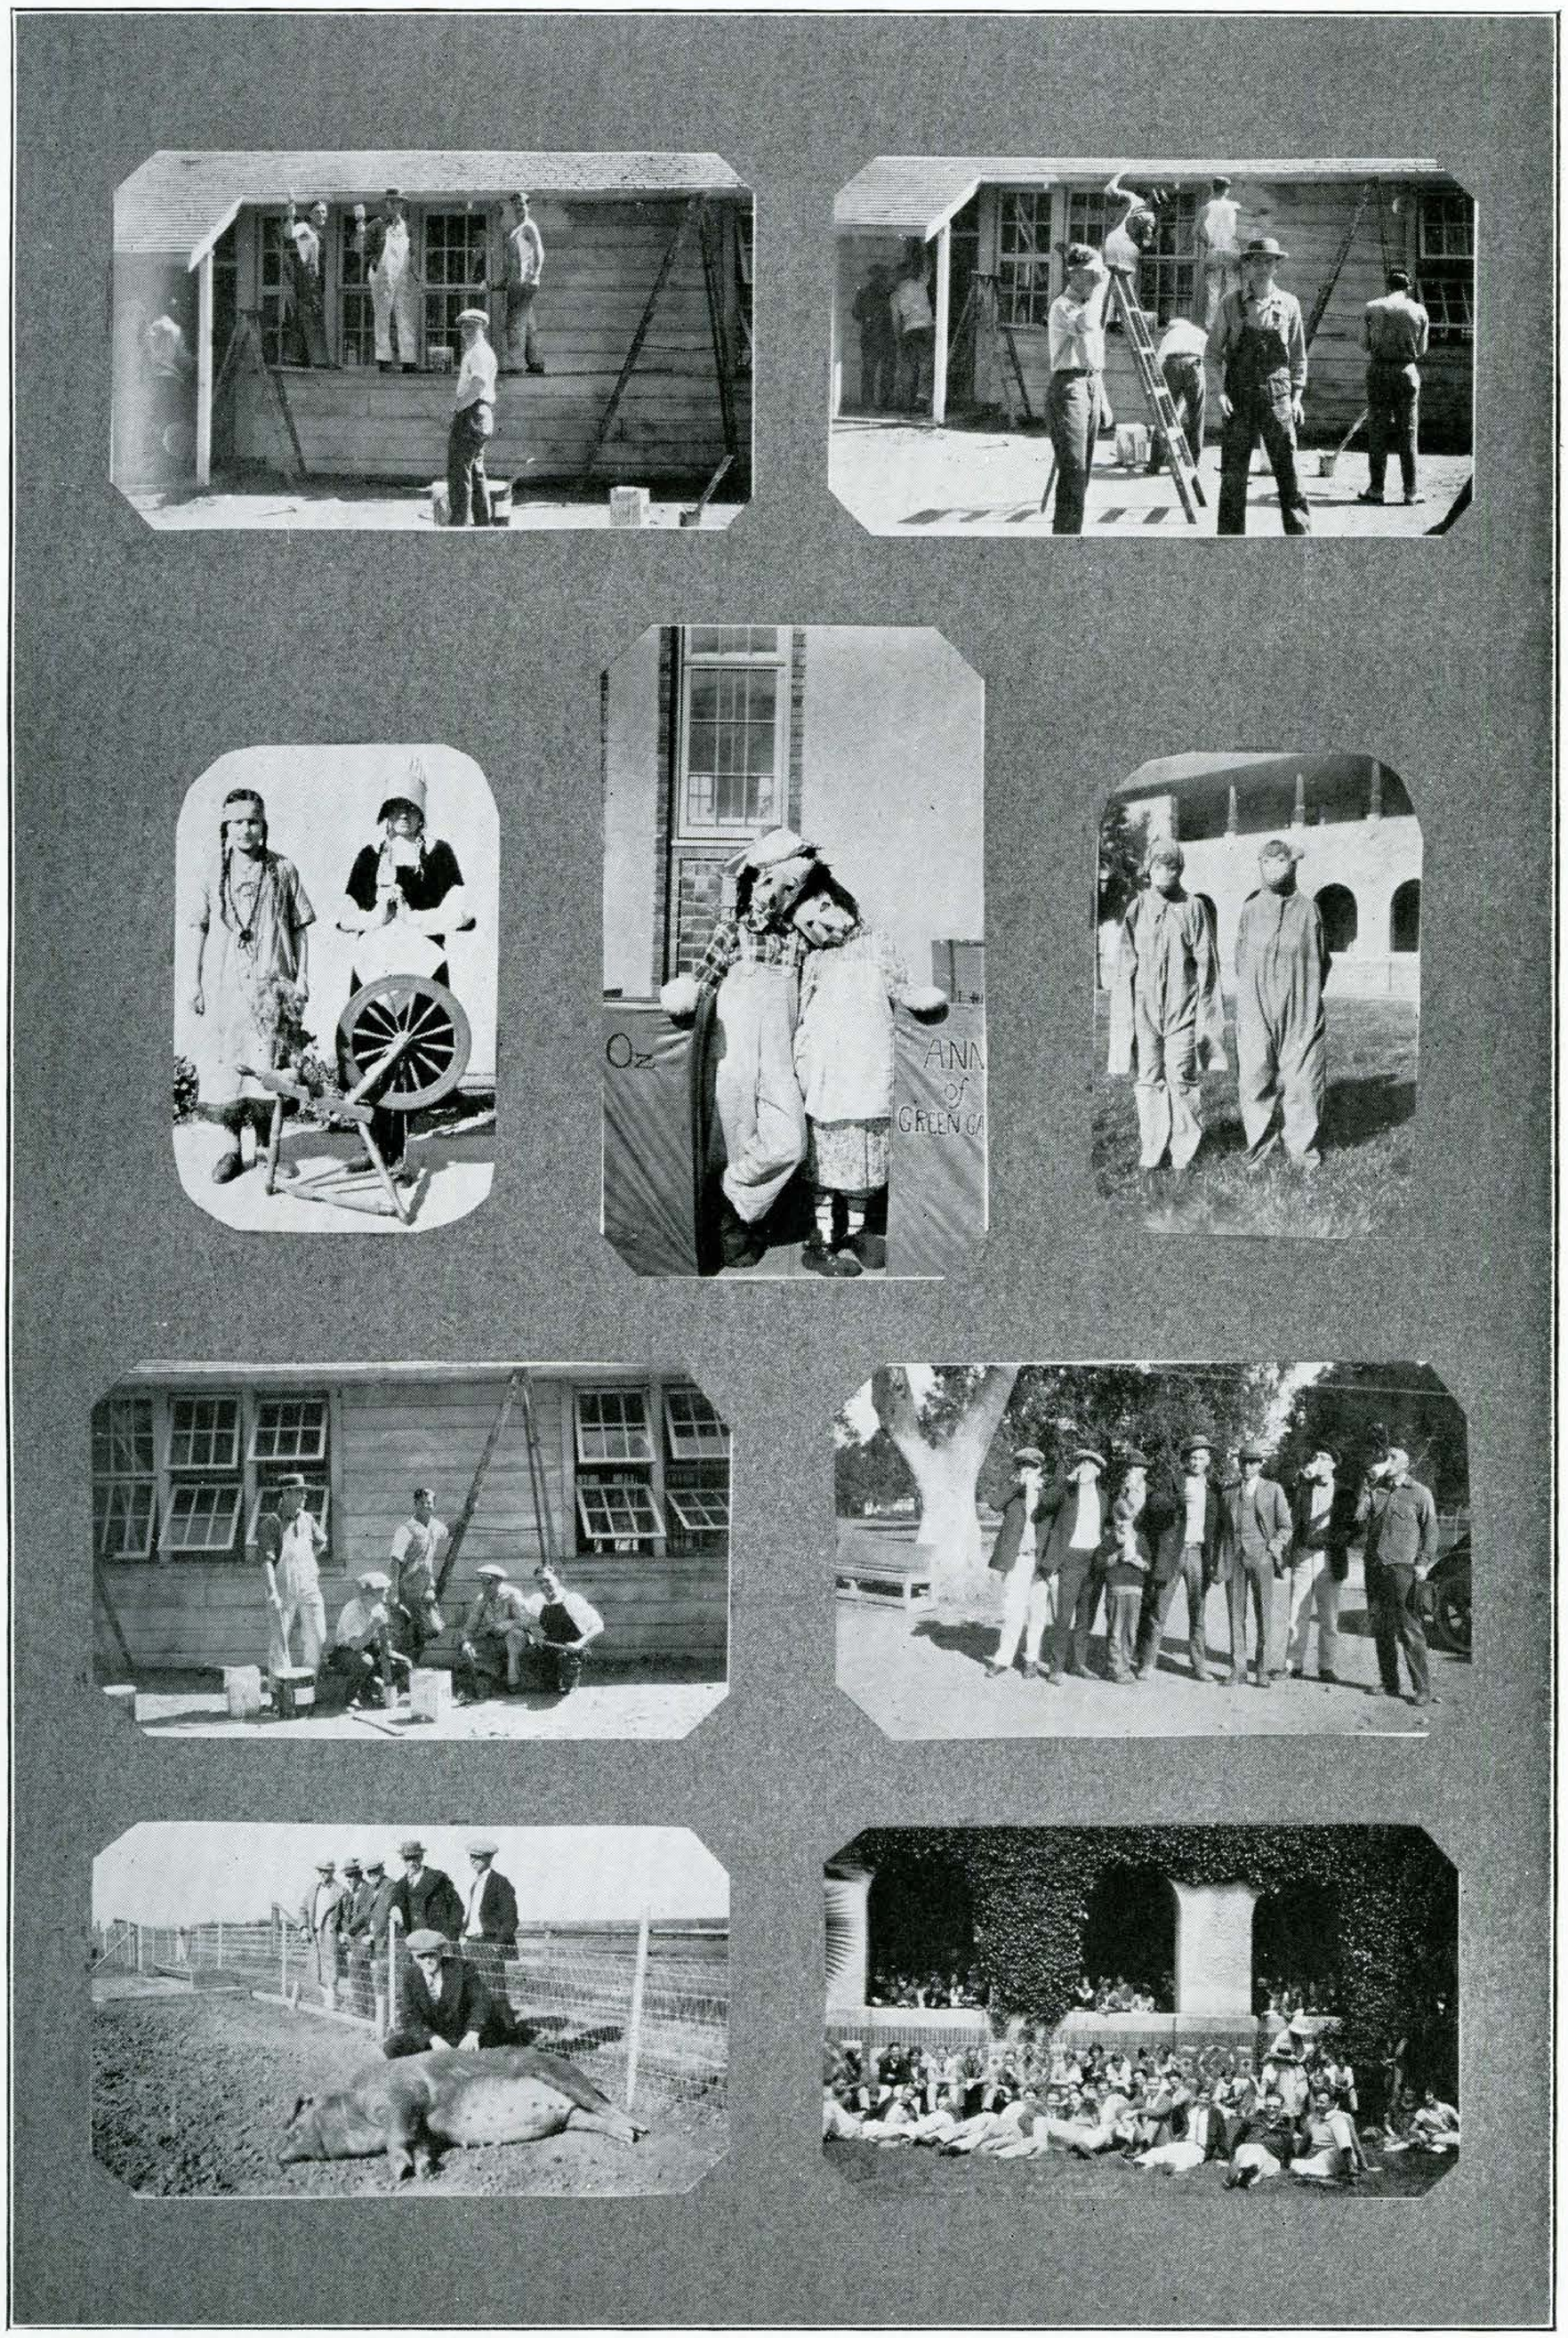

"What became of your service station friend?"
"He gave me the air."

Harry: "If you let me kiss you, I'll murder anyone who you don't want around."
Etta: "Does that include suicide?"

SEE-SAW

Ada: "I see that Jack takes you to lunch every day."
Ida: "No, you don't. I do."

Customer: "Waiter, there's a spider in the cottage pudding."
Waiter: "What do you want, the whole cottage?"

Oz
of
GREEN GA

Harlan: "Easty, are you going to the Libe tonight?"
Easty: "No, going to study."

Neil (to Pinkie): "I wish you would put that sign on the Co-op mail box."
Pinkie: "What sign?"
Neil: "Post no bills."

He (speaking of ancestors): "Yes, there is lots of Scotch on my side."
Room-mate: "Well, why be so stingy? Come across."

Cakie (to Paul): "Why did you put that guy out of the Co-op?"
Paul: "He looked suspicious, was trying to sell garters to Bernie and Pinkie."

THIS WAY

"Waiter, I'll have pork chops with French fried and I'll have the chops lean."
"Yes, sir; which way?"

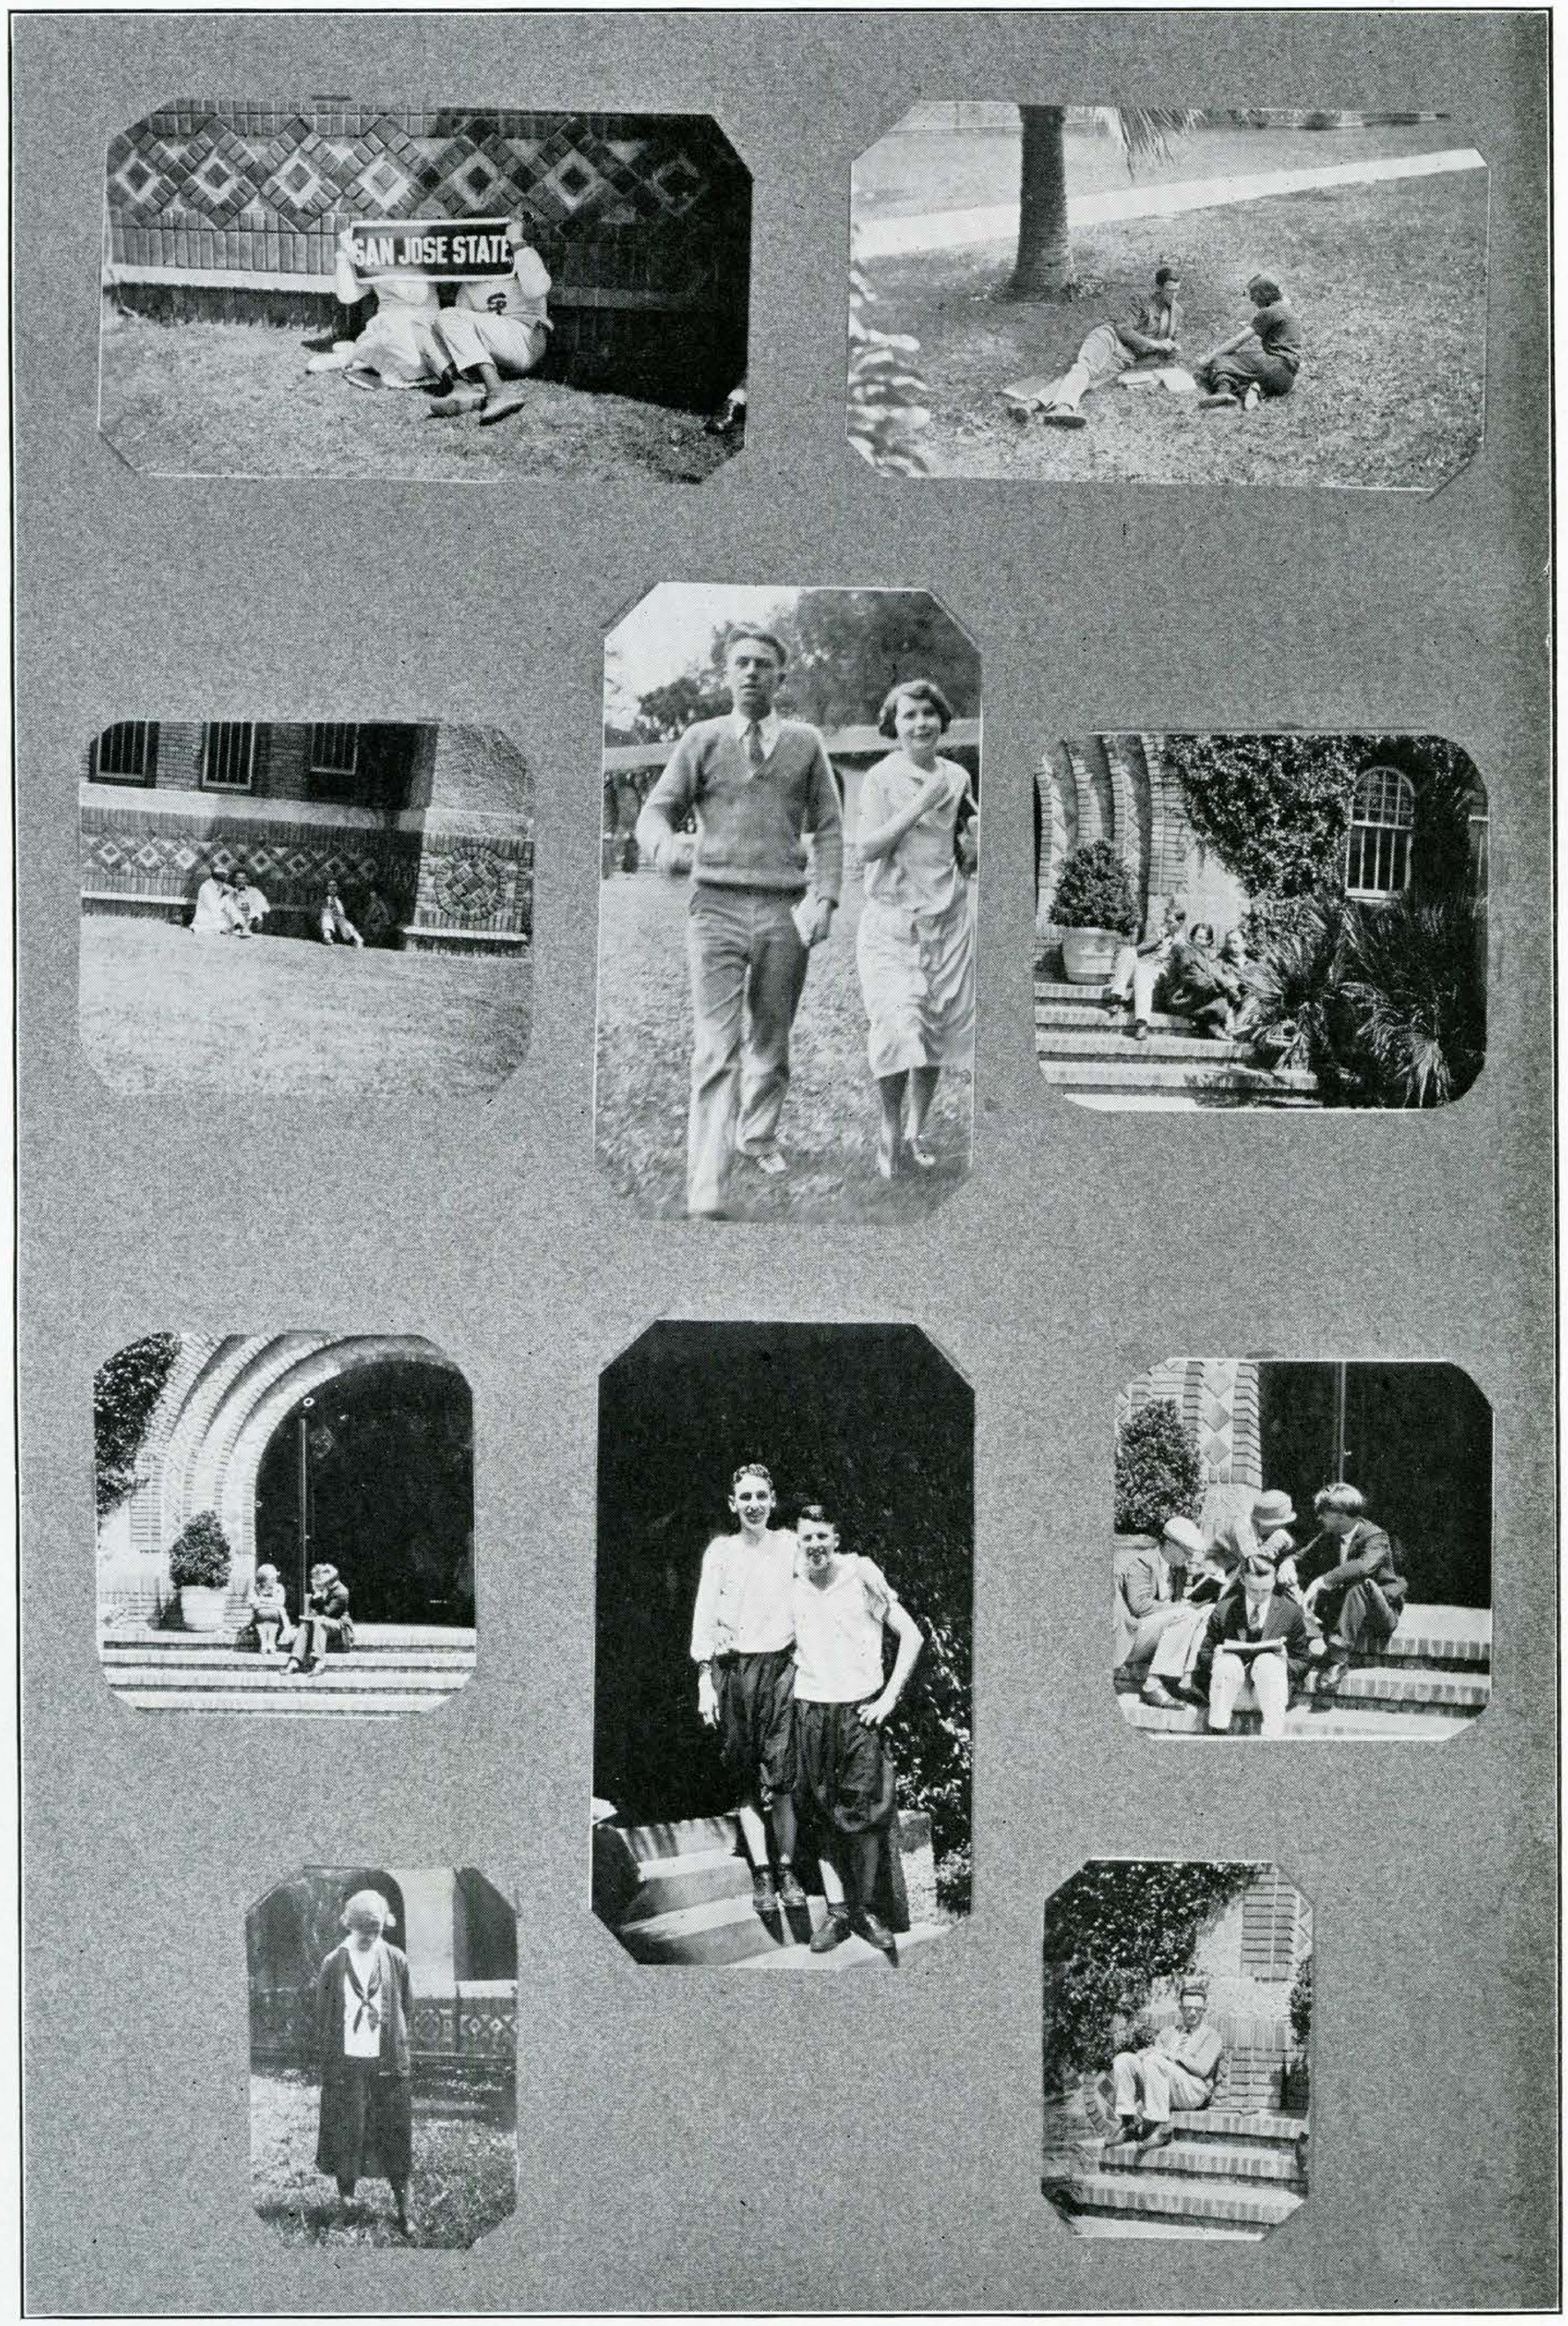

"I'm sorry I didn't dance better."
"That's all right, my dear, I've been pushing a wheelbarrow around all summer."

BRUISED

John: "If you wear that dress to the dance you'll get pinched."
Jean: "I don't care, so long as they don't go any further."

MUST BE NEARSIGHTED

The Customer: "I thought you told me these red flannels would not fade or shrink."
The Clerk: "Yes, and have you been having trouble, sir?"
The Customer: "Trouble? This morning when I got up my wife asked me what I was doing wearing her pink coral necklace!!"

SAN JOSE STATE

VOICE FROM A "FIERCE SPARROW"

Sheik: "Hello, kiddo, tired walking?"
Sheba: "Yeh!"
Sheik: "Then try sitting on the curbstone for a while."

Missionary: "And you know nothing whatever of religion?"
Cannibal: "Well, we got a taste of it when the last missionary came."

The tightest man in the world is the Scotchman who shot off a pistol outside his house on Christmas Eve and then came in and told the children that Santa Claus had committed suicide.

Horace: "What kind of a party did they sling last night?"
Greely: "Swell affair! Had everything; soup to nuts."
Horace: "Who fed it to 'em?"

Teacher: "Honest Is the Best Policy."
Son of Insurance Agent: "You're wrong, teacher. Twenty Pay Life is the best policy."

"Hey, black man, how come you high-hat me lately?"
'Ain't you got no brains, low nigger, I'se jus' got a new razor, and I'se itchin' an' flirtin' fo' an opportunity to try it out."

Muriel: "Did you give Dave any satisfaction when he asked you for a kiss?"
Jane: "Well—I hope so."

She: "Hast thou heard that Shylock is once more wealthy?"
He: "Yes he has been selling a correspondence course on 'How to Lose Flesh.' "

He: "Say something soft and sweet to me, dearest."
She: "Custard pie."

UP IN THE AIR

Balloonist (lost in fog): Hello, down there! Where am I?"
Farmer: "Ye can't fool me, young feller, you're up in that air old basket."

He: "Say, kid; would you like to see something swell?"
She: "Oh, yes."
He: "Just drop these beans in water and watch them."

"I know I'm funy looking, but my heart is beautiful."
"Then, my dear, you had better wear your heart out for me."

GYN

"Are those chords from Chopin?"
"No, they're Handel bars."

She (noticing some ashes): "Oh, someone has been smoking in this beautiful building."
He: "Be quiet, my dear. This is the crematorium."

RIGHT

Prof: "How many make a dozen?"
Class: "Twelve."
Prof: "How many make a million?"
Class: "Darned few."

MODERN

Shylock: "Shoot a pound of flesh?"
Antonio: "You're on. Let 'em speak."
(Shylock rolls natural.)
Antonio (mournfully): "That's a load off my chest."

Kindly Visitor (to warden): "I'd like to see convict 515, please, if he's in."

"And you're sure you realize the difference between driving an ambulance and driving an ordinary car?"

Applicant: "Sure. When y're drivin' an ambulance y' gotta go back an' pick 'em up."

CORNERED

Art: "What's all the noise down there?"
Dart: "Fella turned a corner!"
Art: "Well?"
Dart: "There wasn't any corner."

'25: "What'll we do tonight?"
'26: "Let's go out to the cemetery and dig up a few girls.

The professor who comes ten minutes late is very rare. In fact, he is in a class by himself.

"Women are wanton things, eh, what?"
"Yeah, always wantin' everything."

"They say that if you feel itchy that's a sure sign you're going to get something."

"No. It means you already have it."

Bride: "Dearest, you're my idol."
Groom: "Well, lay off the burnt offerings."

TOO MUCH

Frosh: "I gave her a muffler and she held my hand."
Soph: "Well, what of it?"
Frosh: "Do you know what a fur coat would cost me?"

Pedestrian (to highwayman): "I'm sorry, but I have no money with me. However, I shall be glad to advise all my acquaintances to walk down this lonely path here."

Green: "Did you get your Tux in time?"
Greener: "No, one time."

First Flapper: "The cheek of that conductor! He glared at me as if I hadn't paid my fare."
Second Flapper: "And what did you do?"
First Flapper: "I just glared back at him as if I had."

Dunn: "Smoking, hey?"
Hill: "No, Camels."

"Why does a cat whine?"
"If you had as many violin strings in you as a cat has, you would whine, too."

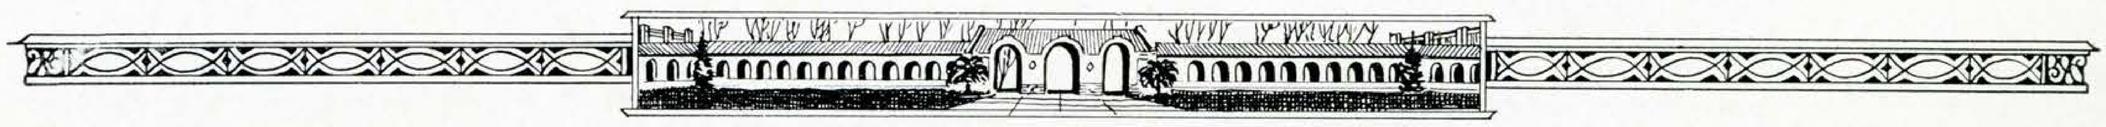

NEW

"Ah, my man, and why don't you get your hair cut?"
"Owah! Owah! I'm going to wash it and let it shrink."

"Papa, kin I go swimming?"
"They ain't no water, child."
"Don't need none. I kin do the sun stroke."

NO FIT

It was with considerable astonishment that the manager of a Minneapolis shoe store watched his new clerk, a tall Swede, deliberately throw a new pair of shoes into the wastebasket.
"What's the matter with those shoes?" asked the manager.
"Dey ain't any good," replied the clerk.
"How do you know?"
"I ban try 'em on half-dozen fallers and dey vouldn't fit non of dem."

Rufe Johnson's pet hound disappeared. Rufe put the following ad in the paper:

LOST OR RUN AWAY—One liver colored bird dog called Jim. Will show signs of hydrofobby in about three days.

The dog came home the following day.

"Didja ever dance the 'Elevator'?"
"No, what's that?"
"No steps."

"Do you ever take alcoholic drinks?" asked the temperance advocate of the candidate for office.

"I must know whether you put that as a question or an invitation before I give my answer," said the candidate.

The sign on the outside of a Western church—Revival Meeting to-night —subject, Hell. James Wilson, tenor, will sing, "Tell Mother I'll Be There."

"Well," said Donald, "thae's not so much comfort in smokin' after all. You see if you're smokin' yer ain bacca, you're thinkin' of the expense, an' if ye're smokin anither's, your pipe's ramm't sae tight it winna draw."

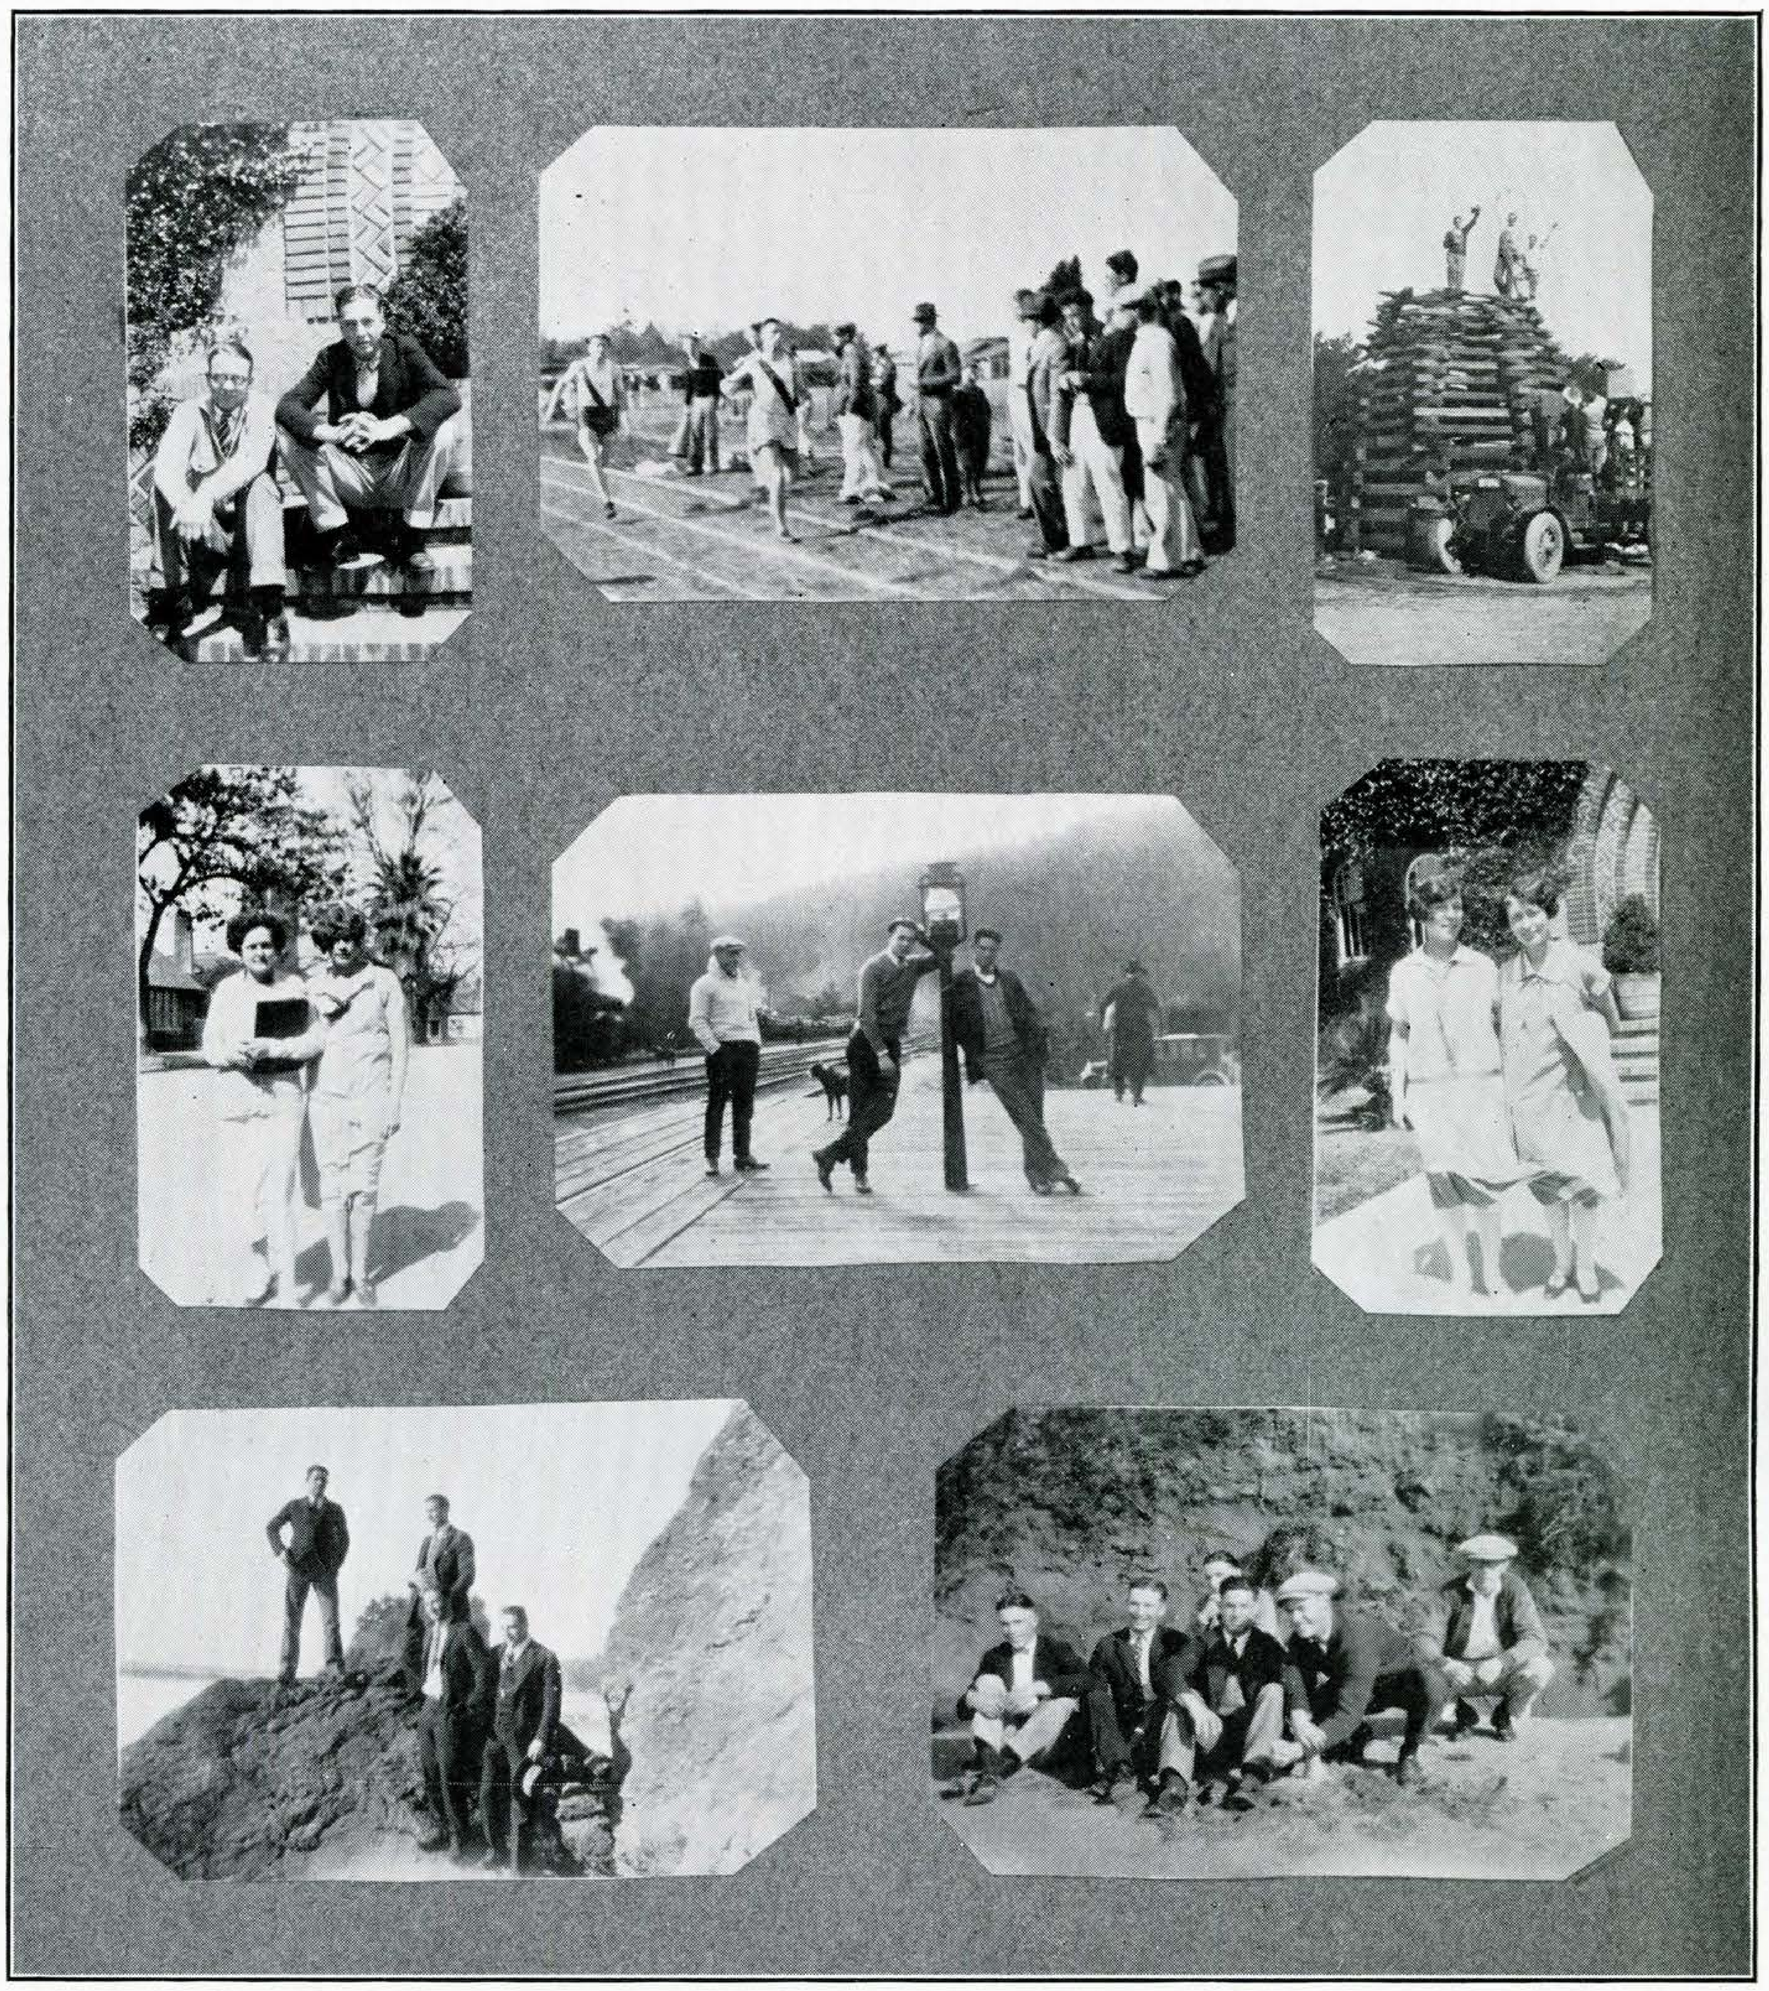

IN THE DESERT

I'm woe-begone,
My demijohn
Is now, alas!
A demi-tasse!

He (after a quarrel): "Look, darling, I have something here for the one I love best of all."

She: "What, a necktie?"

"What kind of a car is this 'F.O.B. Detroit' that I see advertised in all the magazines?"

Ed: "What's the matter, Cakie?"

Cakie: "Oh, I strained myself."

Ed: "Basketball?"

Cakie: "No, Gerry and I were enjoying ourselves when her dad walked in and I had to jump through the window screen."

"Are you engaged to that Brown man from Stanford?"
"Oh, he isn't usually that dark; that's just a coat of summer tan."

She: "That auto looks like a wreck."
R. West: "It ought to, it's the survivor of two Junior College picnics."

"How's the kid?"
"Who told you I had goat glands?"

TONGUE-TIED

Irate Mother (at dinner): "Johnny, I wish you'd stop reaching for things. Haven't you a tongue?"
Johnny: "Sure, but my arm's longer."

Q—Go for a row, Anastatia?
A—Wait till I get my water wings.

"The only hard thing," says Martin Pihl, "about those J. C. skating parties, is the floor."

Housekeeper: "What is your name?"
Applicant for job: "Miss Sweeney."
Housekeeper: "Do you expect to be called Miss Sweeney?"
Applicant: " 'Twont be necessary if you give me an alarm clock."

EASY

"Well, I finally got into the movies."
"How did you do it."
"Paid them a quarter."

George Bliss (to Editor): "What's the matter with these jokes?"
Editor: "Well, some of them I've seen before; the others, I haven't seen yet."

DODGE BROTHERS
MOTOR VEHICLES

FOR TEN YEARS–DEPENDABLE

Exceptional dependability has been a characteristic of Dodge Brothers Motor Car since the day the first of these sturdy cars was marketed.

Not once in a decade has it failed to uphold and enhance its reputation for faithful performance.

The reason for its consistent goodness and continued betterment points directly back to the ideals of the founders.

Instead of fluctuating between an endless series of annual models, they determined to concentrate on the perfection of a single chassis.

Dodge Brothers Motor Car today is the embodiment of that ideal—an ideal that will endure as long as the institution itself.

Forty Years of Successful Service to Thrifters

81 West Santa Clara Street San Jose, California

In days of old,
When knights were bold
And sheet iron trousers wore.
They lived in peace,
For then a crease
Would last ten years or more.
In those old days
They had the craze
For cast-iron shirts, and wore 'em!
And there is bliss
Enough in this:
The Laundry never tore 'em!

Two colored men were standing on the corner discussing family trees. "Yes, suh, man," said Ambrose, "I can trace my relations back to a family tree."

"Chase 'em back to a family tree," said Mose.

"Well, they ain't but two kinds of things dat live in trees: Birds and monkeys, and you sho' ain't got no feathers on you."

Have An Object In Life!

Why Not Strive To Be A Big Gun?

TRY to be the best qualified person in your town in whatever line you choose your life work. There are great successes and millionaires developed in every line of which you can think. Not all due to super-education but every one due to application and steady attention to business. Your business is now to learn the facts and principles expounded in this College. If you can distinguish the principles and see how to prove them, and know how they apply to practical uses, you can save much time, accomplish something, and get on your job quicker.

Education is more necessary as the population of the country becomes more dense, for there will be constantly more educated competition applying science in every detail. College bred leads to the big jobs.

It takes a little money to get started in whatever you undertake, no matter how bright you may be, money to buy clothes and feed yourself until your job pays sufficient to do so. The best successes in life come from among those who start with the least and learn how to save. Those who learn to save the pennies are pretty sure to see them grow into dollars. Those who start with more than barely enough, have a great handicap and generally lose out. Don't seek a white collar job until you have become the boss.

One of the greatest benefactions ever given the human race is the Savings Account. To facilitate saving the money you earn during vacation, put it in

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK of San Jose

and make it grow to abide the day you have to feed and clothe yourself.

A tramp knocked at the back door of a Portland house, and a smiling Chinaman appeared. "Say, John," croaked the tramp, "give me some grub. I'm starving."

"Like flish?" asked the Chinaman with his bland smile.

"Betcher sweet life, I like fish," said the tramp, eagerly.

"Call Fliday," said the Chinaman, and smiling more blandly than ever, he shut the door.

The office boy rushed into the boss' office with his hat on one side of his head and shouted: "Hey, boss! I want to get off to go to the ball game."

"William," said the boss, "that is no way to ask. Sit here at the desk and I will show you how."

He went from the room and returned with his hat in his hand, saying, "Please, Mr. Smith, may I go to the ball game this afternoon?"

"Sure," said Bill, "here is 50 cents for a ticket."
