In your Mustang Handbook this year, Judy and Gary represent the typical Welcome Week counselors who will be awaiting you when you arrive at Cal Poly. They are shown planning ways to help you get acquainted with Cal Poly—its staff, services, activities and traditions.

It is the aim of this Handbook to introduce you to Cal Poly's friendly campus, and to help you feel a little more "in the know" when you arrive. You will also find it a valuable reference book throughout the year to come.

Welcome to Cal Poly

It is our hope that you will always be happy that you chose California State Polytechnic College as "your" college.

From my 28 years' of experience at Cal Poly, I can offer you a few helpful hints that will make your life at college pleasant and rewarding.

Citizenship is important at Cal Poly. If you conduct yourself as a good citizen here and participate in some of the College's many constructive activities, you will be the richer for it. Naturally, you are expected to apply yourself faithfully to your classroom and laboratory assignments.

It is important to understand that Cal Poly is different from other State Colleges and universities. Cal Poly's basic purpose is to provide a thorough occupational education. This training will help make you useful to society and will provide you with specific career skills as well as with a background of general education. Cal Poly students are strongly urged to learn, not just for the sake of learning, but for a real purpose that will lead to action.

On the Cal Poly campus your curriculum will be "upside down." You will begin study in your major field in the freshman year, rather than first devoting two years to general education courses. Here you will get a specialized education and a general education—but for the most part you will take the general education courses after you have learned enough about your major field to appreciate the value of the general education courses.

While your education at Cal Poly will be occupationally centered, this is not the total goal. Your experiences here should prepare you not only for earning a living, but also for the duties of effective citizenship.

If you learn to work with others, try to understand both the "how" and "why" of instruction, do your share in campus activities, assume leadership responsibilities and maintain good scholastic standing, your Cal Poly days will be long remembered and invaluable.

Most sincerely,

JULIAN A. MCPHEE, President

Julian A. McPhee, President of California State Polytechnic College since 1933.

Sign up for a WOW Club here!

Gary, our cover counselor, packs rooters caps with Welcome Week vice chairmen Francie Harned, center, and Sally Brown.

WELCOME

Welcome Week is planned to help acquaint you with Cal Poly. It is hoped that through participation in it, you will make an easy adjustment both to classes and to co-curricular activities. Welcome Week will help you make new friends and to gain that "at home" feeling on campus.

During Welcome Week you will get acquainted with student leaders, faculty and staff members and other new students. You'll find answers to questions on student affairs, Cal Poly traditions and regulations.

When you arrive on campus, register at the Welcome Week Information Booth. You'll find it in front of the Men's Gym. When you register at the booth, you'll be assigned to a WOW (Week of Welcome) Club. WOW Clubs are composed of 20 to 25 new students and two Welcome Week student counselors.

With your WOW Club and your student counselors, you will participate in many educational and social activities. You'll have an opportunity to ask questions of your student counselors, and you'll share ideas with other new students in small discussion groups. Past experience indicates that new students form their first college friendships within the WOW Clubs.

You'll also do some traditionally collegiate things "just for fun." You'll climb to the "P" on the hill; you'll sing Cal Poly songs and learn the Mustang yells; you'll see a real Cal Poly rodeo; and you'll get acquainted with one another at dances, socials, teas and beach parties.

WEEK

Friendships form "round the fire" at Welcome Week Camp.

WELCOME WEEK CAMP

Camp is an important part of Poly's Welcome Week program. You'll be receiving a separate brochure telling you about it. Read the brochure carefully. The Welcome Week Camps are held 40 miles from the campus at Camp Ocean Pines and Camp Pinecrest near Cambria. Limited space permits only 400 new students to attend camp, so the first 400 students who return the camp registration card and the necessary $15 camp fee, will be the students who are able to have the additional wonderful experiences available only at camp.

Welcome Week Counselors

Mike Desch and Victor Dollente head the student Welcome Week committees. Mike is chairman of Welcome Week—Campus, and Victor is chairman of the Welcome Week Camps.

More than 200 student leaders chosen for their leadership and good campus citizenship, will be returning to the campus early to assist new students.

Welcome Week on campus is from Sunday, September 17 through Sunday, September 24. Welcome Week camps will be September 16-18 and September 18-20.

To get the right start at Poly, get to Welcome Week. Pick up your Welcome Week schedule at the WOW booth on arrival. Whether at camp or on campus, you'll find yourself stimulatingly busy every minute.

To learn your way around campus, take a WOW Club tour.

Student Personnel Services . . .

If you are like most Cal Poly students, you will find that about all of the student services described on the following pages will become important to you sometime during your college career. You will find that the people working in student personnel are dedicated to your total education.

Services range from the relatively insignificant making of a small loan to a major counseling decision involving your life goal. The counselors at this College are trained and skilled. They assist many students in overcoming problems which affect their success in College.

The activities program is designed to be part of your curriculum; in fact, it is called co-curricular. Skills in human relations and in leadership techniques are learned in this program. Our health service has but one aim, which is to see that you are in the best possible physical condition so as to gain the most possible from your education. An area which may not be as apparent to you is the work done by the people who keep your records. Your grades, your evaluations, along with many other items, are processed by the admissions and records staff.

Many of you will live on campus. It is our desire to make campus living a valuable addition to your learning experiences. We recognize that campus living is not without its difficulties, but we hope that you will join with us in making this a sound learning experience for yourself.

Two out of each three of you will need financial aid during your college career. It is ridiculous not to seek and use the financial aids available at this campus when you are in need. Note the section on Loans and Scholarships carefully.

As you approach your graduation, you will find our Placement Service effective in helping you obtain employment. Get acquainted early with this service so that you may receive maximum benefit.

I, as Dean of Students, coordinate and administer the student personnel program with its various services. Students are always welcome to come to my office at any time to discuss problems, or to offer objective criticisms of any phase of college life.

Best wishes,

EVERETT M. CHANDLER
Dean of Students

Everett M. Chandler, Dean of Students, plans Welcome Week convocations with Judy and Gary. Students are always welcome at Dean Chandler's office to discuss a problem or to offer an objective criticism of any phase of college life.

Admissions . . .

Judy gives Paul Winner, Associate Dean (Admissions and Records), an assist with the mailing of a few of the thousands of College catalogs mailed annually by the Admissions Office.

The purpose of the Admissions office is to assemble and evaluate your previous school records and to maintain a record of your scholastic achievements at Cal Poly.

Listed below are nine important items about which you may have questions.

1. SCHOLARSHIPS for the 1961-62 year have been awarded. Recipients should report to the Admissions Office, Administration Building, Room 125, to receive their scholarship money.

2. NON-RESIDENT TUITION FEE: According to California state law, a non-resident tuition fee of $258.75 for the regular college year is charged to all students who have not been legal residents of the State of California for one year prior to the date of registration. The non-resident tuition fee is charged at the rate of $86.25 per quarter for each of the fall, winter and spring quarters.

3. CHANGE OF PROGRAM: Students who find it necessary to change their course program after having registered for any given quarter should contact their departmental advisor regarding the proposed change. Proper forms for dropping or adding courses may be obtained in the College Record's Office, Administration Building, Room 102. It is the student's responsibility, once he has enrolled in a course or course section, to notify the course instructor in both the lecture and laboratory sections if it becomes necessary to withdraw from the course.

4. ATTENDANCE: Students are expected to be regular in attendance in order to keep the quantity and quality of their work high. Absence from classes is regarded as a serious offense. An excused absence can be allowed only by the instructor in charge of the class upon consideration of the evidence justifying the absence presented by the student. An excused absence merely gives the individual who missed the class an opportunity to make up work and in no way excuses him from the work required.

5. WITHDRAWAL: Students who find it necessary to withdraw from college should obtain proper withdrawal forms from the College Record's Office.

6. CHANGE OF ADDRESS: Student directory cards are maintained in the Record's Office and in the lobby of the Administration Building in order to locate students in case emergency calls are received. Address changes should be reported immediately to the Record's Office, Administration Building, Room 102, and to the switchboard operator in the lobby of the Administration Building.

7. TRANSFER STUDENTS: Students who transfer from a college or junior college should report to the Admissions Office, Administration Building, Room 125, to make arrangements for an evaluation of their transfer units if evaluation has not been completed previously.

8. GRADE REPORT: Each student is furnished with a complete copy of his quarterly grade report shortly after the close of any given quarter. Students may leave a self addressed stamped envelope in the Record's Office, Administration Building, Room 102, for grade report mailing otherwise this report is sent to the student through the College Post Office. A copy of the report is also given to the student's departmental advisor.

9. VETERAN STUDENTS: Veteran students who have problems regarding their enrollment under the various laws included in the G.I. Bill or California Veterans' Laws, should report to the Veterans' Clerk in the Record's Office, Administration Building, Room 102.

Loans and Scholarships

The College maintains an extensive loan program to help students. If you are in financial difficulty, either emergency or long range, discuss your problem with Everett Chandler, Dean of Students.

An emergency loan from one of the eleven short term loan funds may help you. If a short term loan is not feasible, plans may be developed for a long term educational loan for a larger amount. National Defense Education Act Student Loans are also available.

Scholarships for this college year have been awarded, but information regarding scholarships for 1962-63 is available in the Admissions Office.

Co-Curricular Activities

Dan Lawson, Associate Dean (Activities) shows Gary the master activity calendar. Students are invited to visit the Activities Office to check the calendar and schedule social events.

Taking part in organized group activities during your college years is one of the best ways to make friends, to discover your interests and abilities, to develop your initiative and responsibility, and to learn how to get along with people of every kind.

The average Cal Poly student participates in two activities each year, but some students have the ability and opportunity to take part in three or four activities.

Arlene Vokoun, Activities Advisor, (center) helps a student committee select records for a College dance.

Whatever organized activities you choose here at Cal Poly, your opportunities for personal and social growth are almost unlimited.

Dan Lawson, Associate Dean (Activities) and Arlene Vokoun, Activities Advisor, are here to help you find your own special place in the co-curriculum. The Activities Office is located next door to the Post Office on College Avenue.

Mr. Lawson and Mrs. Vokoun work closely with faculty advisors and student leaders in planning and evaluating group activities. Student self-government, Welcome Week activities, College Union functions, Homecoming and leadership training courses are all parts of their total service to the student body. They coordinate the campus activity calendar, publish "The Pony," a weekly calendar of student activities, and supervise campus bulletin boards.

A record of your activity participation will be kept during your years at Cal Poly. Your Activity Transcript will list your membership in organizations, teams, residence halls, and committees and will include an evaluation of your cooperation, dependability, thoroughness, tact and leadership as observed by the officers and advisor of each group.

Activity Transcripts are used by the Placement and Activities Offices in making recommendations for employment, military commissions and special appointments and by the Student Body Awards Committee for selecting individuals for honorary awards.

Health Services

Dr. Earl Lovett demonstrates for Judy and Gary the audio test which is given to all new students. This test is a part of the comprehensive medical exam given to entering students.

Whenever you are ill or feel that you are getting sick, check with the Health Center immediately. Dr. Earl Lovett and the Health Center staff are anxious to help you.

The purpose of the Health Service is to protect and maintain the health of the student during his stay at Cal Poly with the same understanding, interest and scope of care as the student's family physician would provide at home.

The 30-bed Health Center is only a year old. You will find it a well-equipped clinic and hospital, with facilities for minor surgery, and complete diagnostic and x-ray facilities.

Your medical fee, ($3.00 per quarter), covers most examinations, treatment and room, but not board, at the Health Center. It does not cover expenses incurred off campus or treatment for ailments existant at time of enrollment. Wives and families of students are not provided with medical care.

A physical examination is a required part of registration. If any unusual conditions are found, you will be asked to return to talk the problem over with one of the doctors. If you have a disability, the Health Center will attempt to help you. It can usually continue a treatment series begun at home, and it welcomes the recommendations of your private physician. Registration is not complete until a student has completed the physical examination satisfactorily or made other arrangements with the Dean of Students.

OFFICE HOURS: 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. without appointment and 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m., by appointment, Monday through Friday.

EMERGENCIES: 24-hour service. After 5 p.m., call LI 3- 8341. (not for a common cold, please!)

LOCATION: On Campus Way near the President's home.

During 1961-62 students will make many visits to the Health Center's outpatient clinic for its numerous services.

The Foundation . . .

The College Dining Hall can serve 2,400 students at each meal without crowding.

Eugene Brendlin, center, Foundation Manager, takes a coffee break with Don Watts, left, Housing Manager, and Jack Bertram, Cafeteria Manager.

The California State Polytechnic College Foundation is a non-profit corporation organized under the laws of California for the purpose of aiding and extending the educational program at the College.

The Foundation, by agreement with the College, operates and manages campus housing and dining facilities.

On January 1, 1961, the cafeteria moved to the new College Dining Hall. This facility includes two resident student dining rooms, capable of accommodating 2,400 students per meal, and a 400 seat snack bar. The College Dining Hall is the social center of the campus.

The cafeteria provides eighteen meals a week for both on and off campus residents—on either a meal ticket or individual basis. Meal tickets are $140 a quarter.

THE STUDENT PROJECT PROGRAM is one of the basic features of the Foundation. Student projects have long been a valuable part of the "learn by doing" Cal Poly instructional program. The Foundation, over many years, has accumulated a "project fund" of sufficient size to allow for the complete financing of all approved student projects other than breeding stock. Students purchasing dairy breeding stock can secure partial financing through the Foundation. Breeding herds and flocks are maintained by the Foundation for use in the instructional program.

THE BOOKSTORE

Registration and then to El Corral Bookstore for books, books, books.

THE EL CORRAL BOOKSTORE, located in the basement of the Administration Building, carries all the books and supplies needed for your courses. The Bookstore also stocks a large variety of candy, tobacco, personal items and stationery. Duke Hill is the Bookstore manager.

Housing . . .

For reading, relaxing, or greeting your date—It's the Hall lounge.

Bob Bostrom, right, Residence Hall Supervisor-Counselor, shows Gary and Judy the intercom which connects the Halls' desks with individual Residence Hall rooms.

Residence Hall living is a unique experience in the process of higher education and Cal Poly takes advantage of every opportunity to make it a profitable and enjoyable one.

The housing staff works to foster a stimulating intellectual and social environment in the Halls. Study is encouraged through the enforcement of regular quiet hours, but residents also have ample opportunity to participate in intramural sports, dances, receptions, lectures and many other activities.

Self-government is fostered through the Residence Hall Council which is composed of student representatives from all the Halls. Each Hall has its own student government organization for planning and carrying out its activities.

Room and board fees for campus residents are $230 per quarter. These fees are to be paid by the deadline indicated on the license. The board fees include three meals daily, Monday through Friday, lunch and dinner on Saturday, and Sunday dinner at noon, except during College holidays.

OFF-CAMPUS HOUSING

The College, in cooperation with the Engineering Department of the City of San Luis Obispo, has inspected all approved living accommodations to insure safe and adequate housing for students.

Single women students are expected to live on campus, at home, in approved College housing off campus, or in the homes of relatives or friends approved by parents in writing to the Dean of Students in advance of registration. Women students may live in unapproved housing only with advance written parental permission filed with the Dean of Students.

Married students live in homes and apartments in the San Luis Obispo area. There are several good trailer parks that cater to Cal Poly students. The Housing Office keeps in close touch with householders and landlords who accommodate Cal Poly students, and will make every effort to help you solve your housing problems.

Placement Office . . .

The services of the College Placement Office, headed by Placement Officer Eugene A. Rittenhouse, are available to all students, graduates and former students of California State Polytechnic College. The Placement staff is always glad to help you with your employment problems.

PART-TIME EMPLOYMENT

The Placement Office maintains listings of part-time jobs available both on and off campus. On campus jobs include clerical and maintenance jobs and work in the cafeteria and library. Off campus employment may be virtually anything from yard work to car hopping. Between September 1, 1960 and March 31, 1961, over 975 part-time off-campus employment opportunities were filled. In the College Dining Hall, 1,381 specific two hour or more employment assignments are filled by students each week.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

Each year employers send representatives to the campus to interview students who are interested in summer work. The jobs offered vary from those demanding specialized experience to those requiring little skill. The Placement Office emphasizes the correlation of work with your major course of study. Many students who establish themselves with employers through summer employment are offered full-time jobs after graduation.

TEACHER PLACEMENT

Candidates for teaching credentials must register with the Placement Office to initiate their confidential teacher placement folders. These folders are maintained permanently by the Placement Office. Copies are sent to school administrators who are considering applicants for teaching positions.

Eugene A. Rittenhouse, Placement Officer, and Carol Hollingsworth, Placement Supervisor, explain to Judy the many employment services available to students through the Placement Office.

EMPLOYMENT OF GRADUATES AND ALUMNI

A continuous flow of employment opportunities are referred to the Placement Office by staff members, alumni and employers. A large number of companies and individuals send representatives to the campus to interview graduating seniors and students who have completed a training program. During the 1961-62 recruitment season it is estimated that more than 400 employer representatives will visit the campus and conduct 4000 individual interviews.

Counseling and Testing . . .

The Counseling Center offers counseling services to students whenever they ask for assistance. The Counseling Center feels that most students can, and want to, solve their own problems—but that this problem solving often can be accomplished most quickly with skilled counseling assistance to help in clarifying attitudes and in procuring facts.

Dr. J. B. Stone is the Associate Dean, Counseling. New members of the counseling staff include Dr. Arthur Rogers and Dr. Dean Trembly.

The Counseling Center does not advise. It helps a student advise himself. It cooperates with the student directly on a self-referral basis and it cooperates with the faculty advisory system by invitation on a consultative basis.

The Center looks upon changes-of-major, academic failure in spite of ability, poor social adjustment, and the many other problems exhibited by college students as symptoms to more-or-less deep seated attitudinal conflicts. Students with attitudinal conflicts resolved generally show little difficulty in solving their vocational or educational problems.

The Counseling Center provides students who come for counseling with a method for looking at and attempting to solve future problems.

Associated Student Body . . .

Services to you from the ASB Office

- Club mimeographing and typing (minutes, meeting notices, etc.)
- Post office boxes for all student organizations.
- Directory of student officers of all recognized groups.
- Tickets to Student Body functions (athletic events, etc.)
- Records, constitutions and reports of all recognized organizations.
- Forms for purchase orders, payment requests, meeting notices, etc.
- Information on almost anything involving student affairs.

STUDENT BODY CARD

You will soon discover that $15.00 of your yearly fee goes toward your Associated Student Body card. This card entitles you to all the privileges and responsibilities of membership in the Associated Student Body of California State Polytechnic College.

The money paid for your ASB card is combined with that of the 5,000 other students attending Cal Poly to completely finance all of the 45 budgeted student activities such as athletic events, Homecoming, Music, El Mustang, Agricultural Judging Teams, Poly Royal and Welcome Week.

STUDENT BODY OFFICE

The Temporary Associated Student Body Office (TASBO) is located next to the Post Office on College Avenue. There you will find the Graduate Manager, the three Student Body Officers, the Student Body bookkeeper and the Student Body stenographers.

Graduate Manager Bob Spink is employed by the ASB to be its fiscal officer and to administer its budget. He helps all recognized groups with their expenditures, and Mrs. Phyllis Stewart, the ASB bookkeeper, supervises the bookkeeping for all committees, clubs, classes and teams. Mrs. Judi McIndoe is the ASB stenographer.

YEARBOOK ORDERS

Orders for "EL RODEO," the College yearbook, are now being accepted at the ASB office. The yearbook costs $5 and must be ordered in advance. Place your order during Welcome Week or at registration.

Bob Spink, Graduate Manager, and Judy examine a copy of the yearbook, "El Rodeo." Mr. Spink is responsible for administering the Associated Student Body budget.

HEALTH AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE

Health and Accident Insurance, at group rates, can be purchased through the Associated Student Body Office. Students are urged to avail themselves of this service. Additional information on insurance will be available at registration and at the Associated Student Body Office during Welcome Week.

Student Affairs Council

The legislative and executive body which transacts all Associated Student Body business is called the Student Affairs Council, usually shortened to SAC. You'll hear a lot about the SAC, for this group is responsible for all student boards, councils, committees, clubs and teams through authority and responsibility delegated to it each year by President McPhee.

This delegation of authority does not relieve the president of any responsibility for the total program of the College. It does, however, grant the SAC the privilege of carrying out the responsibilities of student government, as set forth in the Constitution, By-Laws and Codes of the Associated Students.

SAC meetings are held on Tuesday at 7 p.m. (Check "The Pony" for location). All students are cordially invited to attend at any time and may present opinions on the business being transacted.

The SAC is composed of the president, vice-president and secretary (elected by the Associated Student Body); (2) the chairmen of the following boards: Athletics, College Union, Publications, Music and Poly Royal; (3) a representative from each of the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes; (4) three representatives from each divisional council and (5) two advisors.

Lee Foreman, right, Student Body President, and Dave Hettinga, Student Body Vice-President, share a victory hand clasp with Mary Fran Crowe, Student Body Secretary, after winning the 1961-62 Student Body Election. Lee is a junior business major, Mary Fran is a senior in agricultural journalism and Dave is a senior in dairy management.

Message from Lee . . .

First of all, on behalf of the student body and myself, let me welcome you to our rapidly growing family. I am very pleased that you decided to become a part of it. I hope that your stay with us will be a very profitable and beneficial one.

College is a privilege of which you should take full advantage—not only through academics, but also through co-curricular activities. I am very proud of our activity programs and form of student government here at Cal Poly, and feel that you, as a member of our family, should take full advantage of them.

This is your student government. Every item of business transacted by the Student Affairs Council concerns you. I heartily encourage you to attend the Student Affairs Council meetings, and to express your own views and feelings on matters concerning your Student Body.

May I sincerely wish you a very successful college career. There are many opportunities that you can benefit from here at Cal Poly, so put them to your best use.

Sincerely,
LEE FOREMAN
A.S.B. President

Tom Cable, chairman of the Fall Leadership Conference, points to the 1961 Conference dates, October 6, 7 and 8. More than 120 student leaders will gather at Camp Ocean Pines for three days of "shared thinking" on the moral and ethical responsibilities of leadership.

Tom Bragg, Chairman of the Finance Committee, struggles with balancing the budget. The Finance Committee is responsible for the management of the $160,000 Student Body budget.

There's a place for you in . . .

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The following committees are standing committees of SAC. Look them over—if you are interested, stop in the ASB Office and talk to Lee Foreman, Dave Hettinga or Mary Fran Crowe about an appointment.

THE AWARDS COMMITTEE establishes policies and criteria for awards, recommends students for "Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities" and coordinates senior awards. Chairman: Mary Fran Crowe.

THE CONSTITUTION AND CODES COMMITTEE reviews constitutions and codes of all student organizations and makes recommendations on codes and by-laws to SAC. Chairman: Dave Hettinga.

THE DONATION DRIVE COMMITTEE processes applications from student organizations wishing to hold donation drives. Chairman: Dave Hettinga.

THE ELECTION COMMITTEE conducts all ASB elections, formulates and enforces election rules, prepares and counts ballots and reports the results of an election to the SAC. Chairman: Dave Hettinga.

THE FALL LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE COMMITTEE set aside its code this year to permit the Sociology 253 Class to plan and carry out the Conference. The Conference will be held October 6-7-8 at Camp Ocean Pines near Cambria. It is anticipated that more than 120 student leaders will participate in group discussions and seminar sessions based on the theme, "The Moral and Ethical Responsibilities of Leadership."

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE carries the responsibility for annually preparing a balanced budget for the Associated Student Body. It makes recommendations on all financial affairs referred to it by the SAC. Chairman: Tom Bragg.

THE HOMECOMING COMMITTEE plans and conducts, in cooperation with the Alumni Association, a program of Homecoming activities of interest to both students and alumni. Plans for this year include selection of a queen, a large parade, a Coronation Ball with a "name" band and many "open houses." The Homecoming theme is "Polynesian Holiday," and the date is October 28. Chairman: John Quinn.

THE INTRAMURAL COMMITTEE is planning an expanded program of intramural sports for all students. Staff Director for Intramural Sports: Larry Ricker.

RALLY COMMITTEE promotes college spirit by organizing the rooting section and selecting and working with yell leaders and song girls. It sponsors half-time stunts at football and basketball games and organizes rallies. Chairman: Bob Schieve.

Judy takes a ride with Geornel Spain, College Union Board Chairman. The improvised auto was a prop in College Union's Poly Royal booth.

"Egad What A Cad," an old-fashioned melodrama, was presented by the College Union Drama Committee during Poly Royal. It was student produced and student directed. Three or more plays are presented by the C. U. Drama Committee each year.

COLLEGE

College Union plans the all-campus social, cultural and recreational program at Cal Poly. Dances, concerts, plays, weekly movies, hobby contests, outings — all are planned by College Union.

The Union gives valuable training in leadership and citizenship by encouraging self-directed activities. It tries to help you develop your personality to the utmost by giving you opportunities to use your free time activity in a manner which will complement and implement your classroom studies.

Participation in College Union activities is a lot of fun, and you'll find it an excellent way to meet people who share your interests. Committee membership is open to all interested students. If you'd like to know more about College Union, come to the ASB Office and talk with Geornel Spain, College Union Chairman.

C. U. Committees

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE—Plans educational and cultural programs for "College Hour," Thursdays at 11 a.m. It also presents several evening programs each year. Top attractions last year were The Limelinters and Bud and Travis. Chairman: Kay Smith.

FINE ARTS SUB-COMMITTEE—Organized this year, the Fine Arts Sub-Committee has many plans underway. It will present Theodore Ullman, famous pianist, in concert on February 2. Classical music listening hours are held in the Library Patio each Thursday at noon, and a Fine Arts movie series is planned. Three art exhibits will be held by this sub-committee during 1961-62. Chairman: John Ellis.

Last year's productions included "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "The Beautiful People." Tryouts for the fall 1961 play will be held October 11 and 12. Chairman: Dave Harper.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE—Sponsors Las Vegas Night, International Night and Campaign Carnival as well as receptions and small socials. Chairman: Luis Cisneros.

SPRING SING SUB-COMMITTEE — Cal Poly's first Spring Sing was held last spring. The excellence of, and the participation in it, indicate that Spring Sing, a competitive Sing between clubs and campus organizations, will be one of Poly's big events in the spring of 1962.

FILM COMMITTEE — More than 30 good films have been booked by the Films Committee for 1961-62. These will be shown on Friday evenings in the new Little Theatre. If you'd like to usher, take tickets or help choose films, join the Film Committee. Chairman: Jim McLain.

Several hundred foreign students participate in the annual International Night sponsored by College Union. A display of handicrafts and artifacts from foreign lands and a two hour floor show delight the audience and encourage international understanding.

A pretty picture anytime—The Woman's Glee

Jim V. Clark is chairman of the Music Board of Control which establishes general policies for the various music organizations.

If you like to sing or play an instrument, come try out for one of Cal Poly's famous musical organizations. We're proud of each one of these groups, and you'll soon be too.

THE MEN'S GLEE CLUB is a large, but closely-knit group. You may be surprised to learn that over half of the members of this organization have never sung in a glee club or chorus before coming to Cal Poly. The old members choose the new men, and they look for men who have a pleasant tone quality, can sing a part, and will be congenial and faithful members. In the spring, 40 to 50 men are chosen from the group to make the annual Music Tour throughout the state. The Men's Glee Club also gives a yearly Home Concert, along with the Collegians and Women's Glee, and puts out a long-playing record.

MUSIC

THE MAJORS AND MINORS is a twelve-man group which specializes in barbershop music and fancy mustaches.

THE COLLEGIATE QUARTET is another important group from the Glee Club.

THE WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB appears in the Home Concert, on the county tour and at College Hour programs.

THE WOMEN'S SEXTETTE, a specialty group within the Women's Glee, earned many praises last year.

THE MARCHING BAND is a high-stepping, fast-marching group which presents tricky maneuvers at football games and parades. THE CONCERT BAND appeared at College Hour, gave a popular evening concert and went on the county tour. THE PEP BAND provides musical spirit at rallies and basketball games.

THE COLLEGIANS, a smooth sounding 15 piece dance band, play for college dances, at the Home Concert and on the Music Tour. The members choose the new men. Several vacancies are to be filled this year.

TRY-OUTS for music groups take place early in the fall quarter. Look for times and dates in "The Pony." If you have an instrument, bring it with you. If you don't own one, the College furnishes the department with several fine instruments. For answers to your questions about any of the music organizations, see Mr. Harold "Davy" Davidson, department chairman, or Mr. George Beatie, director of bands.

Department exhibits enthrall young and old during the College's Poly Royal Open House.

POLY ROYAL

Now in its 30th year, Poly Royal combines the traditional College Open House with the variety and color of a country fair. It is annually attended by nearly 20,000 persons. It is like no other show you've ever seen.

Each of the many departments of the College's three divisions—agriculture, engineering, and arts and sciences—present displays of work done in the respective departments.

Each display is designed to show Cal Poly's "Learn by Doing" approach to education.

Additional Poly Royal attractions include an Inter-Collegiate Rodeo, an outdoor barbecue of Poly-raised beef, a synchronized swim show, a band concert, a carnival, a student-produced play, carnival and western dances, and the grand climax of the weekend, the beautiful Coronation Ball where the Poly Royal Queen is officially crowned.

PUBLICATIONS

Do you have an urge to try your hand at writing or photography? Then there's a place for you in Cal Poly publications—regardless of your major. If you've got ambition, energy, a "nose-for-news," or some photographic experience; you'll find participation in a Publication activity fascinating and worthwhile.

The primary purpose of the Publications' Staff is to give Cal Poly a good, self-supporting, semi-weekly newspaper and a complete, attractive yearbook. The Board of Publications is a student board which supervises the production of the various College publications. Penny Gardner is chairman of the Board of Publications.

"EL MUSTANG," which is published twice a week, is the College newspaper. It is free to all students and employees of the College. "El Mustang" is tabloid size and carries news, features and advertising of interest to the Cal Poly campus.

You can earn one or two units of class credit per quarter by working on the "El Mustang" staff. From writing through actual printing, "El Mustang" is a product of student work. Technical Journalism Department staff members will be glad to discuss "El Mustang" work with you.

"EL RODEO," Cal Poly's yearbook, is completely student written and edited. It is an "all-school" project, welcoming staff members from all departments and providing one or two units of class credit. The editor for 1961-62 is Sherwood Smith, and he'd like to talk to you about yearbook work.

CLUB, ANYONE?

Cal Poly has many organizations, and undoubtedly there are some for you. For example, every student should plan to join his department club. It is here that you'll meet informally students and faculty with the same major interests as yours, will hear speakers, see movies, and take field trips of technical interest and help to you. Meetings are usually held on Thursday nights.

You ought to plan your study and work schedule, too, so that you'll have time to participate in at least one all-campus club. In addition to the activities listed under Student Government, and the five Boards, there are numerous hobby and interest groups which can broaden your interests and develop your skills. Watch for announcements of meetings, or talk to the advisor, listed below, of the group in which you're interested.

FOR RELAXATION

ON THE CAMPUS . . .

Your leisure time will be an important part of your 24-hour program at Poly. On the campus and throughout the County there are many opportunities for recreation.

Intramurals—Residence Hall and club groups compete in many sports, including softball, volleyball, touch football, basketball, bowling, boxing, wrestling, track and field, and swimming. Individual sign-up intramurals may be set up in tennis, golf, handball, horseshoes, foul shooting, and cross country. Each Residence Hall Club has an intramural manager. Keep in touch with him regarding the schedules for these sports.

Reading — The Library's Browsing Room contains many fiction and non-fiction books, comfortable chairs, and a restful atmosphere.

Swimming—The Cal Poly swimming pool (adjoining the Crandall gym) is open for recreational swimming Monday through Friday 3:00 to 4:00 p.m., Wednesdays 7:30 to 9:00 p.m., and Sunday 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. The sun-deck outside is available for basking, too.

Tennis—Cal Poly has many tennis courts, some behind Heron Hall, and others located near Poly Grove.

Relaxing—Television, table tennis and a piano are available at the Temporary College Union.

IN SAN LUIS OBISPO COUNTY . . .

Beaches—The closest beaches are Avila Beach and Pismo Beach (Highway 101 South) and Morro Bay (Highway 1 North).

Bowling — Bowling alleys are located in San Luis Obispo at 1234 Laurel Lane, in Atascadero at 5730 El Camino Real, in Paso Robles at 1329 Spring, and in Pismo Beach at 277 Pomeroy Avenue.

Boating — Try Morro Bay State Park and several other places in Morro Bay, Avila, and Cayucos. Nacimiento Dam and Atascadero are good for boating and water skiing.

Fishing — Try Santa Margarita Lake, Nacimiento Lake, Morro Bay, Avila Beach, Cayucos. Deep-sea-fishing with rented boats and equipment is also a specialty of Morro Bay and Avila Beach.

Golf—According to many pro golfers, the Morro Bay 18-hole public golf course is one of the most interesting courses on the West coast. Practice range and lessons are available. Atascadero also offers a 9-hole course with driving range and instruction.

Libraries—The San Luis Obispo City Library is located at 888 Morro Street, and the County Library at Bishop and Sierra Way. Closed on Sundays only.

Skating—A large roller skating rink is open daily at 179 Pomeroy Avenue in Pismo Beach.

Swimming — Public pools are located in San Luis Obispo (Nuss Memorial Pool), in Atascadero (Community Plunge), at Hidden Valley Hot Springs on Avila Road, and near Paso Robles (Resthaven).

Touring—The fabulous Hearst Castle, San Simeon, is open to the public, and is just 45 miles from San Luis Obispo. City attractions are the historical County Museum and Mission Museum.

Housing . . .

For reading, relaxing, or greeting your date—It's the Hall lounge.

Bob Bostrom, right, Residence Hall Supervisor-Counselor, shows Gary and Judy the intercom which connects the Halls' desks with individual Residence Hall rooms.

Residence Hall living is a unique experience in the process of higher education and Cal Poly takes advantage of every opportunity to make it a profitable and enjoyable one.

The housing staff works to foster a stimulating intellectual and social environment in the Halls. Study is encouraged through the enforcement of regular quiet hours, but residents also have ample opportunity to participate in intramural sports, dances, receptions, lectures and many other activities.

Self-government is fostered through the Residence Hall Council which is composed of student representatives from all the Halls. Each Hall has its own student government organization for planning and carrying out its activities.

Room and board fees for campus residents are $230 per quarter. These fees are to be paid by the deadline indicated on the license. The board fees include three meals daily, Monday through Friday, lunch and dinner on Saturday, and Sunday dinner at noon, except during College holidays.

OFF-CAMPUS HOUSING

The College, in cooperation with the Engineering Department of the City of San Luis Obispo, has inspected all approved living accommodations to insure safe and adequate housing for students.

Single women students are expected to live on campus, at home, in approved College housing off campus, or in the homes of relatives or friends approved by parents in writing to the Dean of Students in advance of registration. Women students may live in unapproved housing only with advance written parental permission filed with the Dean of Students.

Married students live in homes and apartments in the San Luis Obispo area. There are several good trailer parks that cater to Cal Poly students. The Housing Office keeps in close touch with householders and landlords who accommodate Cal Poly students, and will make every effort to help you solve your housing problems.

Placement Office . . .

The services of the College Placement Office, headed by Placement Officer Eugene A. Rittenhouse, are available to all students, graduates and former students of California State Polytechnic College. The Placement staff is always glad to help you with your employment problems.

PART-TIME EMPLOYMENT

The Placement Office maintains listings of part-time jobs available both on and off campus. On campus jobs include clerical and maintenance jobs and work in the cafeteria and library. Off campus employment may be virtually anything from yard work to car hopping. Between September 1, 1960 and March 31, 1961, over 975 part-time off-campus employment opportunities were filled. In the College Dining Hall, 1,381 specific two hour or more employment assignments are filled by students each week.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

Each year employers send representatives to the campus to interview students who are interested in summer work. The jobs offered vary from those demanding specialized experience to those requiring little skill. The Placement Office emphasizes the correlation of work with your major course of study. Many students who establish themselves with employers through summer employment are offered full-time jobs after graduation.

TEACHER PLACEMENT

Candidates for teaching credentials must register with the Placement Office to initiate their confidential teacher placement folders. These folders are maintained permanently by the Placement Office. Copies are sent to school administrators who are considering applicants for teaching positions.

Eugene A. Rittenhouse, Placement Officer, and Carol Hollingsworth, Placement Supervisor, explain to Judy the many employment services available to students through the Placement Office.

EMPLOYMENT OF GRADUATES AND ALUMNI

A continuous flow of employment opportunities are referred to the Placement Office by staff members, alumni and employers. A large number of companies and individuals send representatives to the campus to interview graduating seniors and students who have completed a training program. During the 1961-62 recruitment season it is estimated that more than 400 employer representatives will visit the campus and conduct 4000 individual interviews.

Counseling and Testing . . .

The Counseling Center offers counseling services to students whenever they ask for assistance. The Counseling Center feels that most students can, and want to, solve their own problems—but that this problem solving often can be accomplished most quickly with skilled counseling assistance to help in clarifying attitudes and in procuring facts.

Dr. J. B. Stone is the Associate Dean, Counseling. New members of the counseling staff include Dr. Arthur Rogers and Dr. Dean Trembly.

The Counseling Center does not advise. It helps a student advise himself. It cooperates with the student directly on a self-referral basis and it cooperates with the faculty advisory system by invitation on a consultative basis.

The Center looks upon changes-of-major, academic failure in spite of ability, poor social adjustment, and the many other problems exhibited by college students as symptoms to more-or-less deep seated attitudinal conflicts. Students with attitudinal conflicts resolved generally show little difficulty in solving their vocational or educational problems.

The Counseling Center provides students who come for counseling with a method for looking at and attempting to solve future problems.

Student Affairs Council

The legislative and executive body which transacts all Associated Student Body business is called the Student Affairs Council, usually shortened to SAC. You'll hear a lot about the SAC, for this group is responsible for all student boards, councils, committees, clubs and teams through authority and responsibility delegated to it each year by President McPhee.

This delegation of authority does not relieve the president of any responsibility for the total program of the College. It does, however, grant the SAC the privilege of carrying out the responsibilities of student government, as set forth in the Constitution, By-Laws and Codes of the Associated Students.

SAC meetings are held on Tuesday at 7 p.m. (Check "The Pony" for location). All students are cordially invited to attend at any time and may present opinions on the business being transacted.

The SAC is composed of the president, vice-president and secretary (elected by the Associated Student Body); (2) the chairmen of the following boards: Athletics, College Union, Publications, Music and Poly Royal; (3) a representative from each of the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes; (4) three representatives from each divisional council and (5) two advisors.

Lee Foreman, right, Student Body President, and Dave Hettinga, Student Body Vice-President, share a victory hand clasp with Mary Fran Crowe, Student Body Secretary, after winning the 1961-62 Student Body Election. Lee is a junior business major, Mary Fran is a senior in agricultural journalism and Dave is a senior in dairy management.

Message from Lee . . .

First of all, on behalf of the student body and myself, let me welcome you to our rapidly growing family. I am very pleased that you decided to become a part of it. I hope that your stay with us will be a very profitable and beneficial one.

College is a privilege of which you should take full advantage—not only through academics, but also through co-curricular activities. I am very proud of our activity programs and form of student government here at Cal Poly, and feel that you, as a member of our family, should take full advantage of them.

This is your student government. Every item of business transacted by the Student Affairs Council concerns you. I heartily encourage you to attend the Student Affairs Council meetings, and to express your own views and feelings on matters concerning your Student Body.

May I sincerely wish you a very successful college career. There are many opportunities that you can benefit from here at Cal Poly, so put them to your best use.

Sincerely,
LEE FOREMAN
A.S.B. President

Tom Cable, chairman of the Fall Leadership Conference, points to the 1961 Conference dates, October 6, 7 and 8. More than 120 student leaders will gather at Camp Ocean Pines for three days of "shared thinking" on the moral and ethical responsibilities of leadership.

Tom Bragg, Chairman of the Finance Committee, struggles with balancing the budget. The Finance Committee is responsible for the management of the $160,000 Student Body budget.

There's a place for you in . . .

"Egad What A Cad," an old-fashioned melodrama, was presented by the College Union Drama Committee during Poly Royal. It was student produced and student directed. Three or more plays are presented by the C. U. Drama Committee each year.

COLLEGE

College Union plans the all-campus social, cultural and recreational program at Cal Poly. Dances, concerts, plays, weekly movies, hobby contests, outings — all are planned by College Union.

The Union gives valuable training in leadership and citizenship by encouraging self-directed activities. It tries to help you develop your personality to the utmost by giving you opportunities to use your free time activity in a manner which will complement and implement your classroom studies.

Participation in College Union activities is a lot of fun, and you'll find it an excellent way to meet people who share your interests. Committee membership is open to all interested students. If you'd like to know more about College Union, come to the ASB Office and talk with Geornel Spain, College Union Chairman.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE—Sponsors Las Vegas Night, International Night and Campaign Carnival as well as receptions and small socials. Chairman: Luis Cisneros.

SPRING SING SUB-COMMITTEE — Cal Poly's first Spring Sing was held last spring. The excellence of, and the participation in it, indicate that Spring Sing, a competitive Sing between clubs and campus organizations, will be one of Poly's big events in the spring of 1962.

Several hundred foreign students participate in the annual International Night sponsored by College Union. A display of handicrafts and artifacts from foreign lands and a two hour floor show delight the audience and encourage international understanding.

A pretty picture anytime—The Woman's Glee

Jim V. Clark is chairman of the Music Board of Control which establishes general policies for the various music organizations.

If you like to sing or play an instrument, come try out for one of Cal Poly's famous musical organizations. We're proud of each one of these groups, and you'll soon be too.

THE MEN'S GLEE CLUB is a large, but closely-knit group. You may be surprised to learn that over half of the members of this organization have never sung in a glee club or chorus before coming to Cal Poly. The old members choose the new men, and they look for men who have a pleasant tone quality, can sing a part, and will be congenial and faithful members. In the spring, 40 to 50 men are chosen from the group to make the annual Music Tour throughout the state. The Men's Glee Club also gives a yearly Home Concert, along with the Collegians and Women's Glee, and puts out a long-playing record.

MUSIC

THE MAJORS AND MINORS is a twelve-man group which specializes in barbershop music and fancy mustaches.

THE COLLEGIATE QUARTET is another important group from the Glee Club.

THE WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB appears in the Home Concert, on the county tour and at College Hour programs.

THE WOMEN'S SEXTETTE, a specialty group within the Women's Glee, earned many praises last year.

THE MARCHING BAND is a high-stepping, fast-marching group which presents tricky maneuvers at football games and parades. THE CONCERT BAND appeared at College Hour, gave a popular evening concert and went on the county tour. THE PEP BAND provides musical spirit at rallies and basketball games.

THE COLLEGIANS, a smooth sounding 15 piece dance band, play for college dances, at the Home Concert and on the Music Tour. The members choose the new men. Several vacancies are to be filled this year.

TRY-OUTS for music groups take place early in the fall quarter. Look for times and dates in "The Pony." If you have an instrument, bring it with you. If you don't own one, the College furnishes the department with several fine instruments. For answers to your questions about any of the music organizations, see Mr. Harold "Davy" Davidson, department chairman, or Mr. George Beatie, director of bands.

It's "Yipee" and "Ride 'Em Cowboy" at the Poly Royal Rodeo

Emmet Mundy, General Superintendent of the 1961-62 Poly Royal, and Ann Miller, 1961 Poly Royal Queen, dust off the royal throne for the co-ed who will be chosen 1962 Poly Royal Queen.

Department exhibits enthrall young and old during the College's Poly Royal Open House.

POLY ROYAL

Now in its 30th year, Poly Royal combines the traditional College Open House with the variety and color of a country fair. It is annually attended by nearly 20,000 persons. It is like no other show you've ever seen.

Each of the many departments of the College's three divisions—agriculture, engineering, and arts and sciences—present displays of work done in the respective departments.

Each display is designed to show Cal Poly's "Learn by Doing" approach to education.

Additional Poly Royal attractions include an Inter-Collegiate Rodeo, an outdoor barbecue of Poly-raised beef, a synchronized swim show, a band concert, a carnival, a student-produced play, carnival and western dances, and the grand climax of the weekend, the beautiful Coronation Ball where the Poly Royal Queen is officially crowned.

PUBLICATIONS

Do you have an urge to try your hand at writing or photography? Then there's a place for you in Cal Poly publications—regardless of your major. If you've got ambition, energy, a "nose-for-news," or some photographic experience; you'll find participation in a Publication activity fascinating and worthwhile.

The primary purpose of the Publications' Staff is to give Cal Poly a good, self-supporting, semi-weekly newspaper and a complete, attractive yearbook. The Board of Publications is a student board which supervises the production of the various College publications. Penny Gardner is chairman of the Board of Publications.

"EL MUSTANG," which is published twice a week, is the College newspaper. It is free to all students and employees of the College. "El Mustang" is tabloid size and carries news, features and advertising of interest to the Cal Poly campus.

You can earn one or two units of class credit per quarter by working on the "El Mustang" staff. From writing through actual printing, "El Mustang" is a product of student work. Technical Journalism Department staff members will be glad to discuss "El Mustang" work with you.

"EL RODEO," Cal Poly's yearbook, is completely student written and edited. It is an "all-school" project, welcoming staff members from all departments and providing one or two units of class credit. The editor for 1961-62 is Sherwood Smith, and he'd like to talk to you about yearbook work.

CLUB, ANYONE?

Cal Poly has many organizations, and undoubtedly there are some for you. For example, every student should plan to join his department club. It is here that you'll meet informally students and faculty with the same major interests as yours, will hear speakers, see movies, and take field trips of technical interest and help to you. Meetings are usually held on Thursday nights.

You ought to plan your study and work schedule, too, so that you'll have time to participate in at least one all-campus club. In addition to the activities listed under Student Government, and the five Boards, there are numerous hobby and interest groups which can broaden your interests and develop your skills. Watch for announcements of meetings, or talk to the advisor, listed below, of the group in which you're interested.

Red Letter Days . . .

College Union advertises Las Vegas Night at the Activities Carnival. The Carnival, an annual event which gives clubs and student organizations an opportunity to explain their programs, is scheduled for College Hour on October 12.

"Slow Boat to China," The Associated Students' entry in the annual Pasadena Tournament of Roses Parade, won first prize in Class H., Educational Organizations. The float was constructed on the Kellogg-Voorhis campus with the assistance of students from the San Luis Obispo campus.

Activities affecting nearly everyone on campus occur three or four times a quarter. Here are some of the red-letter events . . .

FALL QUARTER

Homecoming is planned for October 27 and 28. In addition to the football game against The Marines, there will be a parade, rally and dances.

Christmas Formal, one of the most gala dances of the quarter, will be held on Saturday, December 9, in the Men's Gymnasium.

The Latin American Combo contributed its tantalizing rhythms to International Night, Las Vegas Night, Spring Sing Reception, Poly Chi's Chinese New Year Party and many other campus events.

WINTER QUARTER

Religion-In-Life Week, January 13 through 19, features outstanding leaders of many religions and denominations who appear as speakers and discussion leaders.

Las Vegas Night is an evening of gambling (mock), floor shows and dancing in true Las Vegas style.

SPRING QUARTER

Home Concert, the annual show by Music Department groups, is a highlight of the spring quarter.

Spring Weekend, sponsored by College Union, includes Spring Sing, Poly Picnic and Spring Prom. It will be your "Weekend To Remember." It is planned for May 18, 19 and 20.

SPORTS PICTURE

Fight! Fight! Fight!

Up and In!

Cal Poly has twelve sports in which Varsity athletic awards are given. It has become nationally known in some of the sports and is nearly always in the upper portion of the CCAA Conference in all sports.

Head football coach, Roy "Silver Fox" Hughes will be coaching his last Mustang team this year and would like to make this a winning season. The team will be made up almost entirely of sophomores and junior college transfers.

Coach Dick Anderson's swimming squad should again be the best in the CCAA and also in the State Colleges. Almost all members are returning, including two all-Americans, Frank Brooks and Jack Adam.

This will be a season of building for Coach Ed Jorgensen and his basketball team. Jorgensen lost six of his nine lettermen and will have to rely on a group of good sophomores and three lettermen.

Cal Poly could very well be the CCAA baseball champions this year. Coach Hicks will have 16 returning lettermen and some outstanding sophomores. The winner of the CCAA is always considered one of the best teams in the nation.

Wrestling Coach Sheldon Harden is expecting great things from his team this year. All lettermen are returning. Last year the Mustangs won 11, lost 2.

Both tennis and golf will have nearly all their team members returning as will water polo and cross country.

Track Coach Walt Williamson may come up with several national champions. Tom Pagani will return for the shot and hammer throw. Dennis Jones will return for the high jump. Both placed high in the Nationals in Philadelphia last June.

First Down!

If you are interested in any type of varsity competition, contact the coach of the sport in which you are interested. The coaches will be glad to talk with you about athletic participation at Cal Poly.

Although Cal Poly is a state institution and non-sectarian, it recognizes the importance of religious experience in the individual and in society, and encourages students to become active in the church of their choice.

The Inter-Faith Council was organized by the various student religious groups of Cal Poly to promote a greater emphasis of spiritual matters on the campus. Eleven groups are now participating, including those of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths, and all others are invited to do so.

Religion-In-Life Week, to be held this year from January 13 through 19, is a project of the Inter-Faith Council. Speakers and discussion leaders of many faiths participate in Religion-In-Life Week and the emphasis is on relating life and its problems to faith and on helping those who are struggling to find spiritual guidance.

The Library

Your College library provides an excellent and expanding workshop, staffed with librarians to assist you in finding information. The reading rooms seat 428 students and there are four floors of book stacks, a curriculum library, and an audio-visual service department.

The best way to get acquainted with your library is to use it. A short time spent learning about the library early in your college career can save you many hours in preparing class assignments. It will equip you to use other libraries as well.
