In memory of all those who have lost their lives in the search for peace and justice, and in conjunction with the performance of the Mozart Requiem, President McCune has directed that all campus flags be flown at half staff today, Tuesday, May 19.

The performance of the Mozart Requiem, scheduled at noon in the inner courtyard of Meiklejohn Hall, will feature student soloists, a student-faculty chorus, and a student-faculty orchestra. Although the directors and members of nearly all of the College music groups will participate in preparing and performing the Requiem, this event is, at the request of the students, in addition to the previously scheduled concerts and recitals which will be occurring within the next few days and weeks.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE DEFINES STATUS OF LECTURERS

It is the opinion of the Executive Committee that Article III, Section 2 and Article IV, Section 2 of the constitution excludes participation of lecturers as regular members of the College faculty. (Action taken May 5)

CAL STATERS IGNORE GOVERNOR'S ORDER

In spite of Governor Reagan's order to shut down all activity on campus May 7-10, the Finch family inhabiting the Cal State Weather Station produced five new eggs. The first 1970 crop of young finches had just flown off, when the second nest was constructed on the other side of the hygromograph (providing a fine example of peaceful coexistence between the physical and natural sciences).

CONCERT OF RELIGIOUS MUSIC

A concert of religious music will be presented by two Cal State choirs on Tuesday, June 2, 8:15 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church on Grove Way in Castro Valley.

Major works included on the program are "in the Beginning" by Aaron Copland and "Missa Brevis" by Zoltan Kodaly.

Eleanor Cohen is director of the choirs and Marcia Murray and Lee Ann Stevens are rehearsal accompanists. Gary Schultz will provide the organ accompaniment. The groups performing are the College Chorus and the Community-College Chorus.

The public is cordially invited to attend the concert and reception immediately following.

MARK STRAND TO OFFER POETRY WORKSHOP

Mark Strand, one of the judges who will award the 1970 Bollinger prize for poetry, will offer a Poetry Workshop in the English Department's writing program this coming Summer Quarter. Mr. Strand's work has appeared in such publications as Partisan Review, New York Review of Books, Atlantic, Yale Review, and many other quarterlies and national magazines.

He is a regular contributor to The New Yorker, and for a time served as its poetry editor. He compiled and edited the World Publishing Company's anthology titled The Contemporary American Poets: American Poetry Since 1940. He is the author of three books of poetry: Sleeping With One Eye Open, Reasons For Moving, and Darker, his latest collection, which will be published by Atheneum this fall. Random House recently published a collection of his translations of selected poems by Carlos Drummond de Andrade. An anthology of his translations of contemporary Mexican poetry will also appear this fall.

For several days before he begins teaching at Hayward, he will participate in a symposium on poetry at San Francisco State, along with Mark Linenthal, director of the poetry program there, and Marvin Bell, 1969 winner of the Lamont Poetry Selection.

MEETINGS FOR PREMED, PREVET, AND PREDENTAL STUDENTS

On Tuesday, May 26, the Medical Sciences Committee is sponsoring concurrent sessions for students interested in three professional areas. All of the meetings will begin at 4:30 p.m. and will feature informal discussion of current application procedures and aspects of professional school training.

Dr. Robert L. Hunter, Chairman, Department of Anatomy, University of California School of Medicine at Davis will meet with premedical students in North Science 336.

Dr. Blain McGowan, Jr., Associate Dean, School of Veterinary Medicine, University of California, Davis, will talk with preveterinary students in North Science 336.

Mrs. Marybeth G. Monti, Assistant to the Dean, and Miss Harriet Weller, Head Admissions Counselor, University of California School of Dentistry (San Francisco) will advise predental students in South Science 213.

DENTAL ADMISSION TESTING PROGRAM

Copies of the 1970/72 Dental Admission Testing Program are now available in North Science 229. The next dental admission test will be given September 25 or 26, and applications must be received in Chicago by September 7.

ACTIONS OF THE ACADEMIC SENATE

At its meeting on April 28 the Academic Senate took the following action:

Elected Profs. Frauke Gries, Foreign Languages and Richard Rivenes, Physical Education to fill the vacancies which existed on the Committee on Graduate Studies for the Spring quarter, 69-70 BEC 17.

delete "a major" and insert after the word "department" the following: "or committee offering specific courses in that field."

COLLEGE RECEIVES $24, 368 NSF GRANT FOR IN-SERVICE BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE PROGRAM

Dr. Harvey I. Scudder, Director, and Dr. Frank E. Carus, Co-Director of the National Science Foundation Cooperative College-School Service Program in Biological Sciences (special materials for the non-academic student), submitted last summer, have received notification of its approval. Workshops for 40 biology teachers will be held for three weeks in August, 1970, and during the 1970-71 school year.

The NSF grant is for $24, 368.

The proposal was prepared cooperatively with Cal State, Hayward, the Alameda and Contra Costa County School Departments, and five school districts -- Oakland, Hayward, San Lorenzo, Mt. Diablo, Richmond. Teachers from other districts will also be eligible to participate if the five districts involved do not use their full quota of teachers.

The request for this program was brought about by the recognition that a unique orientation is required to work with the unsuccessful learner, for whom the materials are designed. Local teachers who have worked with the unsuccessful student, and who recognize the peculiar problems involved, will comprise an integral part of the instructional staff.

OUTSTANDING CHEMISTRY STUDENT

Every year the Chemistry Department selects from among the students enrolled in General Chemistry the outstanding student based solely on performance in the lecture and laboratory of this demanding course. The Department is pleased to announce that the winner of the award for the year 1969/70 is Mr. Kylan I. Tanner. Mr. Tanner will receive a copy of the Chemical Rubber Company Handbook as an award for his excellence.

WRITER'S WORKSHOP

David Hilton, who took the M. A. in English at Cal State, Hayward and worked in the department's writing program, has five poems appearing in the current issue of Poetry: A Magazine of Verse. He is currently working toward the Ph. D. at the University of Wisconsin.

STAFF, FACULTY AND GUSTS

Another gala buffet dinner, hosted by "Charlie and Bill" will be held:

DATE: Friday, June 12, 1970
TIME: 6:30 to 10:30 p.m.
DINNER: Buffet - $1.50 per person
(FREE REFRESHMENTS & DOOR PRIZE)
PLACE: Burgermeister Brewing Company
470 Tenth Street
San Francisco, California

Tickets are available in the Office of Executive Dean, ext. 491 or from Charlie Bullaro, Plant Operation, ext. 220.

DONALD STANFORD, PRISCILLA JENKINS JOIN ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Donald Stanford, Professor of English at Louisiana State University and, with Louis Simpson, co-editor of the Southern Review, will teach courses in nineteenth century American literature this summer in the English Department. Mr. Stanford took the Master's degree in English from Harvard and the Ph. D. from Stanford. His work has appeared in Southern Review, Kenyon Review, American Literature, Yale Univ. Press, and in many critical studies published by LSU Press. He has also published two volumes of his own poetry: New England Earth, by Colt Press, and The Traveler by Cummington Press.

Miss Priscilla Jenkins, a member of the English faculty of the University of East Anglia, will offer courses in Chaucer and Shakespeare in the English Department this coming summer quarter. Miss Jenkins is a graduate of Oxford University. She taught for several years at Edinburgh University and is currently working toward the Ph. D. at East Anglia. She is the author of articles on Piers Plowman and the contemporary English novel. She is also a reviewer for Spectator, Oxford Magazine, Review of English Studies, and Blackfriars.

AMERICAN PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY MAINTAINS SMALL RESEARCH GRANT PROGRAM

The American Philosophical Society (founded in 1743 and "Held at Philadelphia for Promoting Useful Knowledge") has for many years sponsored a small grants program for basic research in all fields of learning. Grants in recent years have ranged from $300 to $5,000 but have averaged $1,000.

Awards are made by the Society's Committee on Research which meets five times a year in early February, April, June, October and December. An application must reach the office at 104 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19106 at least six weeks in advance of the meeting at which it will be considered.

The application form consists of three pages plus four referee letter forms. Each applicant is expected to have achieved the terminal degree in his discipline. Guidelines under which grantees are selected include the following:

1. Grants are intended to assist investigators by providing for costs of research work, such as the collection of scientific and literary materials; preparation of photographs, microfilms, and other records; purchase of supplies; necessary travel; and other incidental expenses of research.
2. Grants are not made toward the payment of salaries of members of the staff of an educational or scientific institution. Grants may not include institutional overhead. When a grant is made to a member of an institution to assist him in research or scholarly writing, it is expected that the institution will cooperate in facilitating the work.
3. Grants are not made for:
 - a) salaries, fellowships, scholarships, or other projects involving personal expenses over long periods;
 - b) subsidies for publication;
 - c) usual or permanent equipment for the institution involved (but may be made for special apparatus needed in the proposed research);
 - d) for predoctoral research or in connection with the preparation of a dissertation to be submitted for the doctor's degree;
 - e) travel to meetings;
 - f) expenses of grantee's family.
4. Support of a long continuing project is not undertaken, except in its initial stage.

The Research Office will help you to prepare a preliminary sketch of your ideas and to secure forms.

EPDA EMPHASIS CHANGES

The child, rather than the teacher, will be the major target for educational training in the year ahead. According to Don Davies, the emphasis shift will focus on three major areas - programs to beckon new kinds of people into schools and to increase effectiveness of educational services - programs to lessen educational shortages and - programs which will assist personnel in meeting serious problems in the school. In the future, EPDA proposals will be judged on the performance level and the proposal which involves the idea of a long-term consortia will have a better chance of funding.

NEW PROGRAM AT NSF

Dr. William D. McElroy, Director of the National Science Foundation, has announced plans to initiate a new program in fiscal year 1971 to support student-initiated, student-planned, and student-directed research aimed at solving some of the pressing problems of our present-day society. Called Student-Originated Studies, the new program will provide support to interdisciplinary groups of students proposing to attack either a single problem or a group of related problems focused on the general area of environment. Guidelines will be available in late May from the Division of Undergraduate Education. The proposal deadline is December 1, 1970. Funds for this program are included in the Foundation's budget request for FY 1971, now under Congressional consideration. The actual establishment of the program is subject to availability of funds.

VETERANS MAY NOW RECEIVE EDUCATIONAL BENEFITS FROM BOTH NSF AND VA

Prior to the enactment of P.L. 91-219, Section 1781 of Title 38 of the United States Code prohibited the payment of Veterans Administration educational benefits where such payments constituted a duplication of benefits from the Federal Treasury, except that legislation enacted in October 1968 exempted certain programs in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. However, by virtue of the enactment of P.L. 91-219, effective March 20, 1970, the receipt of educational benefits from the Veterans Administration will no longer be considered by the National Science Foundation as payments supplementary to support from the Foundation, and may be received concurrently with such support.
