La Cuesta Encantada
San Simeon, California

Dear Mr. Hearst:

Some years ago the Andrews Hotel in San Luis Obispo was taken over by a couple of middle-aged women, who did not succeed in making it pay. One of them is in type for a woman what George Loorz is for a man,--(only not as to "voice"), simple, direct and capable - and with a natural manner. The hotel rooms under her regime were always clean and the service efficient and kindly. I often thought she would make a good San Simeon housekeeper provided she were versatile enough. She may have re-located, but fairly recently she called here at the office asking if I knew of any possible opening. Her name is Mrs. Ada Drew, address 187 West 41st St., Los Angeles.

My eye has been on the Hill situation since you drew my attention to it some months ago. Two years ago Mrs. O'Brien would have been the first to have greeted the San Luis visitors, and to have taken every care of them, and the changed viewpoint is evident in very many directions.

As always

Yours truly
