We usually begin this column by stating that the political views and opinions expressed here are the writer's. It has been called to our attention that the term We, often used by your columnist, may be misconstrued to mean the Forum or the EXCENTRICO. To clarify this point, may I say that when the term We is used, per example, "We should support a Mexican American for the City Council in 1965!"

We means You and I, the person reading this column, or the Mexican American voters and I.

The Forum, being a nonpolitical organization, cannot endorse or support any candidate or party. However, its members as American citizens, may vote for the candidate or party of their choice, and the American GI Forum encourages them to do so.

Oops, I goofed, the Sweetheart Dance held by the Santa Clara Forum was held at the American Legion Hall and not the YLI as we announced in our last column. Also the San Jose Ladies Auxiliary will hold the annual fashion show and queen contest at the Sainte Claire Hotel and not at the Havenly Foods. Women may change their minds, regardless of deadlines.

FORUM NOTES

Betty Mendias and Alice Castro setting an example for the Auxiliary by spending all of their time cooking those yummy tacos at the Sweetheart Dance. Andy Ramirez, Louis Castro, and Yours Truly engaging in a taco eating contest. Louis Castro emerged as the champ. The music at this dance was furnished by Los Music Masters, a group of teenagers. (Son muy alegres) and we would like to give them a boost. If we don't give our youngsters a break, who will?

A good report on the state board of directors meeting, made by Ike Hernandez, TV personality of the month, who gets some of the credit for Bob Rodriguez's hard work on the Forumeer in this month's issue of the News Bulletin.

I have my new member signed up. Have you? A sincere effort will double our strength. Let's get with it.

Connie Caudillo, who recently joined the San Jose Forum, will furnish the music for the Union City Annual Dance, April 27th. One more reason for making this a must.

VETERAN NOTES

A pat on the back to the United Veterans Council for their stand on the proposed theatre and convention center. We expressed our views on that issue in our last column.

Did you know that only 6% of the Veterans in Santa Clara County belong to a Veterans organization? That of these only 2% are World War Two and Korean affair Veterans. In view of the many benefits the veteran enjoys, GI home loans, tax exemptions, Cal Vet Loans and many others, every veteran should belong to some organization. Join the one of your choice, but join.

For once we agree with the San Jose News. Its editorial on the Fair Housing Proposal stated that the Real Estate dealers and apartment owners have been given a chance to regulate their own business. Unless they do, some form of fair housing control will be passed.

DON'T FORGET: The United Food Drive Talent Show, March 2nd, and the dance on March 3rd, at the IES Hall, San Jose.

WOW! FASHION SHOW AT ST. CLAIRE HOTEL MARCH 31st

If you missed last year's Fashion Show sponsored by the San Jose GI Forum Ladies Auxiliary you really missed something. The 1963 show will be held at the St. Claire Hotel on March 31st starting at 1 P.M. A new array of models will be wearing the works from furs to bikinis. The men really had a ball last year at this event and a capacity crowd is expected.

In conjunction with the Fashion Show, Miss American GI Forum of San Jose will be selected from a bevy of beauties sponsored by the local clubs. The winner here goes to San Diego to compete for the state title and on to Chicago for the National title if victorious. I've been selected again to MC the Beauty Contest and am getting my lace underwear ready. Call Marge Lopez, CL 1-1395, for tickets to this top event of the social season.

NOTA de DUELO

por Maria de la Luz Sanchez

Querida y buena amiga Amadita - descansa en paz.

Causas ajenas a mi voluntad mis columnas en este magazine estuvieron interrumpidas por algunos meses, coincidiendo esta interrupcion con el triste acontecimiento de la desaparicion de este mundo de la virtuosa y afable creatura que fue en vida la señora Amadita Ortiz, persona a quien yo profesaba particular afecto por ser de las primeras amistades que cultive al venir a radicar en esta bella ciudad, y por que siempre y en todo momento me manifesto e hizo objeto de un cariño y una ternura casi maternas.

Ella era una de esas creaturas dulces, calladas, sufridas y humildes que parecen estar dotadas del prodigioso don de amparar, servir, y en ocasiones consolar a cuantos las rodean. Siempre tuvo en sus labios una palabra amable y una sonrisa cautivadora para propios y extraños. Cuando el flagelo de una terrible enfermedad la postró en el lecho del que no habria de levantarse mas, ella siguió conservando en todo momento su gran resignacion y su dulce sonrisa. Murio así, tranquila y callada como fue su vida. Murio sonriendo y bendiciendo como mueren los justos.... y se fue llevandose muchos cariños y dejando muchos recuerdos. Le sobreviven sus hermanos Jose, Faustino, Maria Salud, Y Consuelo; sus hijos David, Albina Fidel, y su hija politica Lupita, así como sus nietecitos Jorge Ortiz Garcia, Miguelito y Lucia Ortiz Espinosa, quienes desde el día de su muerte acaecida el 24 de Septiembre del pasado año desearon vivamente consagrarle este recuerdo en las paginas de este organo publicitario en el que palpitan las alegrías y las tristezas de nuestra colonia.

La proporcion del crecimiento de estudiantes para 1967 sera de 22% de Elementary Schools, 30% de Junior High Schools y 34% de Senior High Schools. Para resolver este problema se necesitan 12, 500, 000, doce millones quinientos mil dolares que se pagaran aumentando las contribuciones a los propietarios de fincas en un promedio de $0.74 Setenta y cuatro centavos mensuales.

Los doce y medio millones de dolares se emplearan en construir un Junior High School, un Senior High School y seis Elementary Schools, ademas de mejores y adaptaciones necesarias en los planteles ya existentes.

Elenore Solarez

I'm sorry to disappoint Bob that I did not get hit by a train! Its getting so nowadays it isn't safe to park. Not even with your parents in the back seat; especially with your parents in the back seat!

My sincere thanks to my friends for the wires and flowers. Right now it is too late for sweets and too soon for flowers.

ODDS AND ENDS

Okay buddy boy---who is this Rogelio Cevallos??? Nobody even heard of him. I haven't even been gone that long.

Notice how Gil puts in all his girlfriends in his Personalities of 1962. Oh well, what's green to him is yellow to us!!! Says he, "If Esther Medina could do it so can I!"

Toni Barela---what's this I hear that you are reluctant to have a certain Mr. Personality take you home because he talks too much!

Diane, why don't you stop playing the part and marry McDaniel? Don't you ever get the feeling that life is passing you by?

Let's put a stop to all these rumors that I write Gilbert's column. This is absolutely and positively not true. I dictate it, he is very capable of writing it himself.

Three guys that have risen to popularity are Tony Raffalo, Joe Perez, and Ken Herman. True, they all date the same girls but that's neither here nor there.

Funniest thing I heard was when Velia Duran wanted to hurry home because a certain guy was going to call her. Oh Velia let's not show too much enthusiasm.

Jovita Martinez please stop calling me Auntie Eleanor in public it's getting embarrassing. Why don't you give Sergio a break. He'd like to be more than friendly.

Carmen Molina's mother is getting pretty upset, everybody is referring to her as Mrs. Walt Disney.

Since Valentines Day was here, I'd thought I'd play Cupid and give my opinion of who looks good with who.

Tony Guillen and Anna Avila you don't know each other but I think you should. Bonnie Reyes the girl with a real swinging personality and the guy with no personality Rudy B. George Plata the bottle swinger with Clara Aguilar the Darling of the Barber College. Yolanda (Lookie) Fuentes with Art (I'm Tired) Cuellar. Jerry Hernandez with Rachel Duprez. Two people with the best sense of humor. Gloria Fuentes with Tony Toro. Carmen Molina and Tony Carvajal. J. J. Rodriguez and Rachel Andres. Candy Velliz and Mary Hernandez. David Navarro and Helen Solarez. Helen says if I don't put her name down with him she will break my other leg.

Sergio Cerna is destined to become one of the most popular young men in San Jose. One of his greatest talent is conducting an orchestra especially if its on stereo. Now maybe Jovinsky will notice you if you come out in the Excentrico.

Now I'll say a few nice things. Just a few... Jose Ramirez she is real nice; Tony Guillen he is real nice too. That's enough let's not over due a good thing.

Esther, Lupe and Marylou what give with you kids. Let's see your faces around more often. The world won't bite you.

Nora Elia Terrasa your a real nice kid and I like you but, please please don't sit in back of me at the movies. You talk too much!

Diane Hathaway stop being such a snob, I heard your not really such a bad egg if you like them cracked. Oh you do have a sense of humor! Don't you????

Mary Hernandez and Trudi Jimenez. Remember the good old days when we were young and beautiful?

Zanzarees don't let the Elites get away with not giving you a party. They promised you.

Rachel Andres latest hearthrob goes by the name of Bruce. They made quite a striking couple at the ULAC Banquet. Also there at the social affair at Havenly Foods were the following J. J. Rodriguez & Gloria Fuentes (Gloria what will Ray say?) Gasper Espinosa and Patti Tamez, Gilbert Solarez and Caroline who surprised all with the lovely song she sang.

Cumpleaños

Es para mi un imperioso deber de gratitud dar un publico testimonio de gratitud a mis buenos y bien probados amigos que me acompañaron en mi ultimo cumpleaños celebrado el día 6 del pasado mes de enero del año actual. Muy especialmente quiero agradecer a los señores Ruben y Conchita Hernandez que facilitaron su casa y tanto trabajaron porque la fiesta organizada en mi honor resultara, como resultado simpática, alegre y cordial en un ciento por ciento. Mis gracias mas expresivas para mi muy estimable director Sr. Humberto Garcia Director y Editor de EL EXCENTRICO, quien con la maestría que lo señala como uno de los mejores fotografos de la ciudad tomo las excelentes y lindas fotografias que engalanan esta cronica que publico no tanto por tratarse de mi humilde persona, sino porque siempre he juzgado un deber agradecer favores.

En la casa marcada con el numero 227 de la Avenida Almaden se dieron cita numerosa personas que cultivan buena amistad con quien esto escribe, y a las 7 de la noche del dia citado hicieron acto de presencia en casa de la familia Hernandez, quien sirvio a los concurrentes una sabrosísima cena a base de tamales de diversos sabores, ensaladas y el clasico y rico atole, complemento de rigor en las tamaladas estilo Jalisco. Gracias mil a los locutores de KLOK Radio Internacional Eduardo El Guero, Lalo Caballero, Carlos Graham, y Pedro Valente por haberme dedicado todos sus respectivos programas en ese día en que hubo en mi corazon una nueva floracion de cariño y gratitud por tantas y tan finas atenciones que en el recibí, las que si no merezco, si se agradecerlas con toda mi alma. De un modo especial quiero agradecer a mi particular amigo Eduardo El Guero el emotivo y bello programa a base de musica netamente jalisciense que me dedico a las 8.15 de esa memorable mañana. Gracias, muchas gracias a todos por su compania, por sus lindos regalos, y por todas sus maestras de simpatia que nunca olvidare. Gracias a mi maestro D. Simon Villa y al inventor Sr. Caro que desde Union City vinieron a acompañarme, gracias por las actuaciones artisticas que tanto realizaron mi fiesta, gracias por todo, y para todos con mi cariño, la certidumbre de mi recedera gratitud.

MACLOVIO ALVA HONORED GUEST IN SAN JOSE

Maclovio "Mac" Alva, President of the National Wine Guzzlers Association, was a recent visitor in the Garden City. He was accompanied by Chimi-lakitas Yoro of Fresno. Mr. Yoro is National Vice President of the aforementioned organization.

Alva and Yoro were on an inspection tour of Santa Clara Valley vineyards on behalf of their organization which is vitally interested in the juice of the vine.

Alva is shown here speaking to a gathering of the faithful which took place at San Francisco. While in the Bay City, Alva visited many of the famous watering spots where his favorite beverage is dispensed.

Being an avid fan of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Alva made an inspection tour of Candlestick Park and pronounced it unfit for human occupancy. "They ought to let the seagulls have it," he said.

Mr. Alva, in a press conference at his 20 room suite at the Mark Hopkins Hotel, said that in his opinion San Francisco would never catch up with Los Angeles as a metropolitan city until they got rid of the pigeon manure in Union Square, got rid of those noisy, slow, useless Cable Cars, got rid of their Republican Mayor, cleaned up Market Street, and sent the Giants back to Harlem where they belong. He also offered to comb the hair of San Francisco women who are the poorest excuses for women he's ever seen in California. "And that goes double for the witches in San Jose!" he exclaimed wisely.

The City of San Jose stinks, as does Alviso and Milpitas. Someone should flush it, he says.

He says the City of San Jose has more phonies per capita than any other city in the nation. "Just because some people get their picture in EL EXCENTRICO they think they're celebrities," he says.

Then he rode away on his pink horse with TL-70!

CLUB
San Felipe

Candy Veliz

The San Felipe boys will be wearing new basketball uniforms starting this coming Sunday the 17th. Our sincere thanks to Dan and Maria Aguirre, owners of MARIA'S NITE CLUB on North 13th Street. They are our sponsors. Again we thank them. Maria's is the place to go for the best nite club dancing in town. Include it in your rounds.

The United Food Drive is in full swing. We have as chairman Gil Solarez. Gil as well as the rest of the other chairman will do a good job so lets all support this wonderful cause. The Talent Show will be at the Rainbow Ballroom Saturday, March 2, from 1 to 5 P.M., and the dance will be at the IES Hall on E. Santa Clara Street, Sunday, from 2 to 10. Admission will be one can of food or any donation. The music will be provided by four or five of the best bands in town. Tentatively we have Bobby Zamora, Beto Torres, Dave Gary, Chris Carmona and another band yet to be selected.

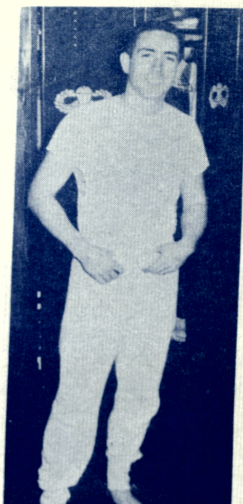

Attend, it's a worthy cause!

I misspelled the name of the young man that played in our Baile Ranchero. His correct name is Chris Carmona and Band.

This is Antonio Cesar Isais a prominent member of Club San Felipe, now with Uncle Sam. Cesar made the all star team in softball and is an all around athlete. The club sure do miss him.

Lots of luck while you are given Castro hell.

Happy birthday to lovely Velia Duran Feb. 2nd. Happy birthday was sang to her by Bobby Zamora & Combo and also by Teddy Rodriguez & combo at Maria's Nite Club where everybody was having a ball. Gil Solarez also had a birthday that same day and received equal treatment.

The Capri INN is owned operated by Mr. and Mrs. Mike Rodriguez. Its on the corner of Vestal and North 13th. Good food reasonable prices and friendly atmosphere. Visit them they are nice people.

Jess Medina did an excellent job of keeping score when we played Los Toros but got little support from the boys. We lost 31-27. Joe Gonzalez was outstanding and carried the game. Keep up the good work, Joe.

On February 26 there will be a school bond. MAPA urges you to vote yes. We need it, and we needed it bad.

Congratulations to Joe (Nene) Arredondo & Cecilia Gomez. They became Mr. and Mrs. on Feb. 17.

San Felipe beat Rivera 57 to 36. For a while we thought we were playing the United Nations team.

LA ARQUITECTURA COLONIAL EN PUEBLA

Al principio de la conquista española, las obras coloniales fueron sencillas y fuertes construcciones, hechas para dar albergue y seguridad. Algunas veces desempeñaron el doble papel de templos y fortalezas, como los templos de San Francisco en Huejotzingo y Tepeaca. Mas tarde comenzaron a construirse los castillos y las moradas. Luego dando paso a la influencia religiosa, se levantaron los templos y conventos y por fin, ya en plena época de abundancia y mayores necesidades, se hicieron las ricas residencias, las iglesias de complicadas fachadas, los monumentos de afiligranados dibujos, las fuentes, etc.

De esta época colonial perduran numerosas reliquias en mi natal ciudad, en mi querida Puebla de Los Angeles, y que bien quisiera demostrar ampliamente a ustedes, pero, ante la imposibilidad de hablar detalladamente de todas y cada una de estas joyas, me limitare a hablar someramente de las características de la arquitectura colonial poblana y brevemente de sus templos y edificios.

El siglo XVII fue el siglo de oro de Puebla. Se levantaron los mas bellos templos y algunos edificios civiles. El barroco adquirio en Puebla características propias que lo distinguen del de otras ciudades. En el siglo XVIII la originalidad de la arquitectura poblana culmina con la combinación en las fachadas y cupulas, de azulejos y ladrillos, cantería gris y atauriques en mezcla blanqueados. En Puebla tenemos las cupulas de mejores formas y mas vivos colores.

Una de las características que distinguen al colonial del plateresco o del barroco es la búsqueda del contraste del color entre las partes del edificio, para lo cual, se revistieron los entrepaños con materiales de colores vivos. En el Distrito Federal, entre la piedra chiluca y el tezontle rojo se uso este en aparejos variados, formando así el fondo del contraste. Sin embargo, como en Puebla no tenemos ese material, hubo la necesidad de utilizar el ladrillo igualmente en diapositivos muy variados, en combinación con el azulejo, resultando esta combinación todo un éxito, ya que hace resaltar los adornos de jambas, cornises y frisos. Detalle sobresaliente de la arquitectura colonial es, el uso de un lambrin de piedra gris, que para protección de la pared se uso en las casas y que ademas de darle fuerza y solidez presenta una bella sucesión de colores: gris (el lambrin) - rojo (el ladrillo) y azul y amarillo (el azulejo) produciendo un maravilloso efecto de colorido. Otra característica de las construcciones coloniales es la concentración de ornatos en las portadas.

Refiriendome a las portadas y fachadas, tenemos en Puebla otra cosa notoriamente local y colonial para adornar estas; el material llamado "pegostre" o "pegote" pasta para tallado, hecha de cal y arena finamente cernidas, mezcladas y aglomeradas en pequeñas piezas que, frescas aun, se van pegando para formar el bulto que posteriormente se talla. Flores, ramazones, roleas y figuras geometricas se tallan a punta de cuchillo, vaciando con suma paciencia los bultos antes dichos y previamente formados con el pegostre.

Empleando este material estan hechas fachadas enteras, como las de la casa de Alfeñique, La Casa de San Martin, La Casa donde se encuentra el Departamento de Salubridad y otras.

Cuando Tu Vuelvas

Cuando tu vuelvas a mi lado entonces....
Toda mi dicha volvera a nacer,
La luz en mi alma alumbrara los bronce
Donde esculpido esta todo tu ser.

Te fuistes de mi lado y prometistes
Volver a el sin lastimar mi amor,
Paso el tiempo y ni siquiera me escribistes,
Y ahora solo, sufriendo mi dolor.

Esta mi corazon atormentado
Cargado de tristeza por tu ausencia,
El cielo de mi alma esta nublado
Y el llanto de mis ojos sin clemencia.

O que triste es estar así en la vida,
Lleno de desconfianza y de temor,
Sin saber si tu luz esta encendida,
Sin brillar la esperanza de tu amor.

Cuando tu vuelvas a mi lado entonces.....
Toda mi dicha volvera a nacer,
En toda mi alma brillaran los bronce
Donde esculpido tengo tu querer.

Club Riviera

A few weeks ago I attended the first meeting of the United Food Drive Organization. It amazed me to see so many people who are willing to relinquish some of their spare time to help those people that are so badly in need of help. We, the people of San Jose should be thankful and proud to have such an organization in our community. Mr. Lopez stated in the last EXCENTRICO issue that last year was the most successful year that they have ever had. If you can find it within your means to contribute just a little something I believe that last year could be surpassed. Lets all get behind this great organization and show those underprivileged that we care.

CONGRATULATIONS: Mr. Abel Perez and Miss Patricia Clausen exchanged nuptial vows in Reno on February 8, 1963. A reception was given in their honor by his brother and was attended by friends and relatives.

Mr. Perez is employed as a aluminum welder by FMC of San Jose. At the present time they reside at 329 South 5th Street, San Jose.

Club Riviera would like to thank Benito Moreno, Proprietor of the Veteran's Market, 401 corner of Keyes & Ninth Street, San Jose. the money will be used to buy basketball jerseys and equipment. The store is open daily from nine A.M. to two A.M.

They will feature a cocktail hour from 6:30 followed by a dinner at 7:30. Dancing will be provided by a band for your dancing pleasure from 9:30 to 1:30. Pictured are two of the officers of the UNITED FOOD DRIVE, publicity chairman Joe Lopez and President Gilbert Solarez looking over assignments for the TALENT SHOW to be held at the RAINBOW BALLROOM on Saturday, March 2, from 1 to 5 P.M.

The big dance will be on Sunday, March 3, at the IES Hall on E. Santa Clara Street from 2 to 10 P.M. Admission food cans or donation.

If you come home from work one day and find the dishes in the sink, the floor unswept, diapers undone and magazines and papers on the sofa. Don't blame it on the little woman. Blame it on the bossa nova.

JOSE GRECO and Troupe

JOSE GRECO, who has won wide fame as the world's foremost male Spanish dancer, also has earned recognition as one of the keenest judges of new dancing talent in the world. A firm believer in the theory that new blood strengthen any organization, GRECO has devoted part of his brief vacation every year to searching throughout Spain for outstanding artists who he can add to his company. The past autumn was no exception and seven new performers will make their debuts with the GRECO troupe when the company of singers, dancers and musicians comes to the stage of the San Jose Civic Auditorium for one performance only on Thursday evening, Feb. 28 at 8:30.

Heading the list of newcomers is NANA LORCA. A native of Murcia, Spain, and a dancer since the age of nine, she has been hailed on the Continent as one of the finest exponents of the Spanish dance medium. Other performers making their American debut with the Greco troupe include MARTIN VARGAS, CORAL DE LOS REYES (a fiery young specialist in the gypsy idiom and of pure gypsy blood herself), LUIS SANCHEZ and PEPE DE ALGECIRAS, a seventeen year old flamenco singer. Two new guitarists will also launch their memberships in the Greco company with this current tour, RICARDO MODREGO and MANOLO BARON.

Tickets for Jose Greco and his company of Spanish dancers, singers, and musicians are on sale at Wendell Watkins Box Office located at 89 South First Street, San Jose, in the Sherman-Clay Music Building from 10:30 to 5:30 daily, except Sunday. Phone and mail orders are accepted.

To live in hearts we leave behind
Is not to die

- Thomas Campbell

Sitting in the Senior Class Home Room, nostalgia enveloping his entire being, bringing back again and again only the most pleasant experiences and thoughts of his high school past, Dick tried to establish everything that he thought, every single moment of bliss, every scene that passed before his mind, for posterity.

Darlene Duvall, the cute cheerleader, passed in his line of vision. Dick wondered if he'd always remember her the way he saw her now. Her cute turned up nose, blonde hair and blue eyes, the way her clothes fit. How does she get in 'em, was a question that had never been answered. He wondered if he would always remember the way she leaped high in the air at the football games. Raising school spirit. And temperatures.

Harlen Porter arose and left the room. He was Mr. Football at Em High and you could tell it by the way the girls looked at him. Feminine eyes followed the immense shoulders and lithe body which seemed to overshadow everything in the room. He wondered if he would ever forget how Porter almost singlehandedly had demoralized arch rival Miller Falls High and led the Cardinal & White to victory when defeat stared them in the face last winter.

"Moreno!" he heard the whisper.

That would be Johnny Santos, one of his best buddies, wanting to sneak down to room 75, the boys' room, for a smoke. Dick didn't feel like a smoke just now and pretended not to hear Johnny.

"Moreno!"

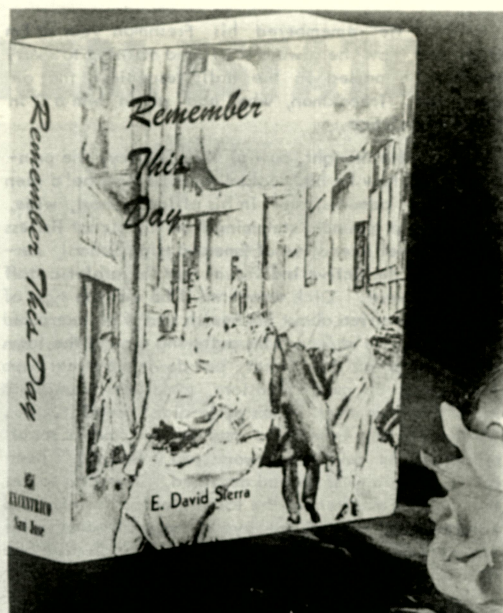

"Moreno!"

Dick's mind was a million miles away as he turned around very slowly, caught Santos' eye and raised his left hand and gave him the bird. A brief smile crossed his face as he saw Santos grin.

"Later, man!" he said, and turned to put his head down on the desk, wrapping his arms around it to shut off light and help him concentrate.

He thought about Johnny Santos and tried to recapture everything that he knew of Johnny in his mind....the time at the Junior-Senior Dance when he had demonstrated his adeptness at doing the Samba, giving most of the kids reason to believe that ALL youngsters of Latin American extraction are endowed with dancing skills which seem somehow to elude other kids. He remembered the day in the school library when Santos and himself were caught by music teacher Mr. Walton squirting water at each other from small water guns. He smiled when he recalled Walton confiscating the weapons and backing away from the two boys and letting fly with a short burst of water at each of them, an act which pot even slightly befitted a man of his cloth.

Dick wondered too about Mr. Walton, how he continued to turn out very good high school musicians year after year and how the Em High band always won Superior Rating at the State High School Band Festival. Most of his students didn't like Mr. Walton personally, Dick knew that from talking to Harlen

Porter, but they were first to defend him when anyone inferred that Emerson High didn't have a good band instructor. That seemed to be the basic reason for his perennial success: to study music and play in the Emerson High band you really had to like music, Walton or no Walton.

Moreno thought now of Mrs. Brooks, his English IV teacher. She was a silver-haired picture of might, extremely tall for a woman, and at the same time kind beyond belief. Her height had made many a freshman smart-aleck buckle down to his studies, though she was quite soft spoken and cheerful. Her knowledge of the subjects she taught was recognized throughout the Emerson school system and her love of good books and good music apparent to all her students. She was a widow, the happiest widow in the world, he thought. Dick remembered the time one of her students, a freshman, had asked her about her husband. Tears filled her brown eyes instantly and her hand went instinctively to her purse, seeking a handkerchief.

"He was killed at Ploesti....in Rumania, on a bombing mission," she continued, to erase the upraised eyebrows of those who didn't read the war news.

"He was a B-24 pilot with the 15th Air force in North Africa...." she couldn't go on.

"Will you please take over the class, Marilyn?" she said, leaving the room.

Dick remembered too the time in World History when he had asked Mr. Haskins if he might sit closer to the windows, the better to gaze out over the campus and watch the girls playing tennis on the school tennis courts. Haskins had smiled, given him a devilish grin and acquiesced.

He remembered his Freshman year at Em High and how he always said good morning to every teacher he passed in the halls, especially that old toad, Mrs. Treeckman, who had given him a D in General Science.

He thought now of Mr. Shelley, the principal, and how he had looked the first time he'd seen the portly administrator in his office. Short, wide, and with a paunch stemming from his almost listless life as chief executive of Emerson High School, certainly not the active individual that the athletic staff members were. Dick wondered if he was the type of man that worried about his health and if he exercised at home. He'd seen him puttering around the lawn of his home on Hull Street, just down the street from the school on many occasions, sometimes seeming to mow the lawn when it obviously didn't need it. Mr. Shelley didn't belong to any of the town's social organizations and Dick wondered if he hadn't been asked to join or if he had declined. It was no secret that various members of the local Lions, Kiwanis, and Rotary clubs didn't see eye to eye with some of his school policies. Dick wondered if Mr. Shelley had ever seen a good, hot, smoker!

Abruptly his mind was brought back to the present with the shrill of the bell, heralding the end of First Period. Dick took one last long look at the room, edged toward the door, and pushed himself through the milling students in the main hallway. School yearbook under his arm, pencil mounted over his left ear, and a frown spread over his face, he shuffled toward the next doorway down the hall, the Library-Study Hall.

He was still lost in thought when a gentle tug at his elbow awakened him to the fact that someone was talking to him.

"Dick, will you sign my annual," Shirley Kirkland asked.

"How about during 7th period, Shirley? Okay" he answered, "I'll have thought of something to write by then."

"Okay," she replied, smiled, and walked away. His eyes followed her out of the room.

Most of the students generally gathered in the study hall and library to sign yearbooks, shoot the breeze and loiter, taking full advantage of their last day in school. Taking a seat near the row of windows on the east side of the study hall, Dick gazed across the campus and watched couples with joined hands stroll lazily over the green lawns between the gym and the new Science wing, getting their last look at the campus together.

Looking toward the football stadium and its now-empty bleachers he remembered the cold days of winter when the field had overflowed with fans cheering Emerson on to victory after victory. He remembered the cheers echoing across the campus "E-M-E-R-S-O-N H-I-G-H S-C-H-O-O-L!!!!" He recalled the shock on the Em fans' faces seeing Denby High's Jerry Hillard return the opening kickoff 96 yards to a touchdown, and later the relief when the Cardinals registered a 9-7 triumph on a 23 yard field goal by Harlen Porter. He remembered Shirley Kirkland at the Monroe game, cheering wildly as her big

Remember This Day

6'3" cousin, Charlie Kirkland, failed in his attempt to spark an underdog Panther eleven to victory over the heavily favored Emerson Cardinals.

"I'm happy anyway," she said after the game, "he played a real good game and we won!"

Now as always when he thought about his school days his mind turned to Shirley Kirkland. Miss Shirley Kirkland. Shirley. Shirley. She was a Senior also in 1944 and they had shared three classes in their last year at Em High. He thought about Shirley and about the first time he'd seen her. It was during a English class in their sophomore year. Dressed in a white peasant blouse with red, green, and orange trimming, and a tight blue skirt, she had looked just beautiful to him. Dick remembered the first time she looked at him and how she had blushed as he smiled at her. He tried to look at her in class, awed at her simple beauty, a mouth cherry-red in color which to an immature sophomore boy seemed to invite a kiss. Her brown well kept hair done in a ponytail and the sparkling green eyes which avoided as much as possible focusing on his, completed a picture of classic beauty which was too much for Dick to take for granted. The blouse she wore stretched taut in front, indicating firm though youthful feminine monuments of beauty. He couldn't help staring at her. Now and then she would turn toward him and Dick would feel all warm and wonderful inside. Then he blushed.

Now he thought about all the hours he had spent conversing with her in the study hall, about pestering Mr. Walton for permission to talk to "the girl in the seat behind mine." Mr. Walton always walked quietly to Shirley's seat and whispered in her ear if it was all right for him to grant Dick permission to talk to her. Shirley always turned to look at Dick, smiled, then would nod her head, "Yes!"

Shirley Kirkland always seemed eager to talk with him and this was what he had always admired about her. She was never too busy with her studies to bring a little sunshine into his life with conversation which to her may have seemed like a mild form of relaxation but to him meant almost a necessity. He remembered telling her one day in study hall that someday, if he ever amounted to anything he would write a song and a poem in tribute to her loveliness. She had blushed, then laughed, and asked him not to for fear that he be run out of town for such audacity. Then it had been his turn to laugh.

What REALLY happened in the band room after school? Read the next installment of REMEMBER THIS DAY in the next issue of El Excentrico.

LA DRAMATICA HISTORIA DE UNA MADRE QUE
RODO POR LOS OSCUROS CAMINOS DE LA VIDA
POR CULPA DE SUS HIJOS....

Es la historia de una madre heroica y abnegada que tuvo varios hijos y recibió por parte de algunos de ellos, en pago de todos sus sacrificios y desvelos, el desdén y el desprecio, obligando a esta santa mujer a sepultarse en un asilo de ancianas en donde tenía que lavar pisos para su sostenimiento, precisamente por falta del apoyo y la ayuda necesaria de los que estaban obligados a velar por su seguridad.

Es la eterna historia. La dura, la atroz enseñanza que nadie ha tenido que inventar, sino recoger de la entraña misma de la vida, con sólo asomarnos a sus abismos.

Uno de los hijos era bueno y fué la víctima. Otro era pervertido, inmoral, desenfrenado y vicioso. La otra estaba en pecado de indiferencia, cuando con su voluntad podía evitar el destino dramático, el derrumbe, de su madre.

El resto del elenco está compuesto por Miguel Angel Ferriz, Luis Beristain, Josefina del Mar y Emma Rodríguez, brillando de un modo muy particular en el marco de esta recia historia.
