

SCHOOL OF GRADUATE STUDIES

Phyllis Welch Watts, Dean

Assistant Dean Robert L. Shacklett

The School of Graduate Studies embraces all graduate programs and activities in the college, including programs leading to the master of arts degree in 25 fields, the master of science degree in 9 fields, the master of business administration, the master of social work, and the master of city and regional planning. Graduate degree curricula are designed both as the first graduate degree for students contemplating doctoral study and as terminal degrees for persons engaged in business administration, public school teaching including junior college, social work, and other fields in which the master's degree is ordinarily the highest degree earned.

The Office of the Dean of the School of Graduate Studies is responsible for the general administration of graduate degree programs in accordance with the policies developed by the Graduate Council. Curricula and requirements are detailed in the Graduate Bulletin. Inquiries should be directed to the School of Graduate Studies, California State University, Fresno.

Student advisement and the instructional program in specific master's degree curricula are generally the responsibility of the department or school graduate committees, and are administered by the chairman of the graduate committee in that area.

Fresno State is authorized to grant the master's degrees listed below. Authorized options or concentrations under the degree program are also shown.
