The Fine Print: Over the past several years I have used the Fine Print section to discuss things that a few people might consider somewhat "controversial." I figured if readers were quickly thumbing through the magazine, they wouldn't really catch the section. Likewise, those who meticulously study everything in the magazine would be rewarded with some additional material that was both entertaining and informative. So, without further fanfare, I present another installment of the Fine Print.

I had opportunity to go down to the Action Sports Retailer show in San Diego in January of this year. For those of you unfamiliar with this twice-yearly event, it is the premiere trade show for the skateboard and surf industry. Of course, there's much more than just hard goods – the shoe, bikini and eyewear folks seem to take up the majority of space. The show is pretty surreal – lots of pros, lots of stickers/goodies and a carnival like atmosphere. I always joke that after about 15 minutes, I need oxygen. At this year's show, I lost my voice on the first day – I tend to see A LOT of people!

Of all the meetings that I attended, one of the most crucial for Concrete Wave was the IASC gathering. IASC stands for the International Association of Skateboard Companies. Over the past several years, this organization has done a tremendous amount for skateboarding. What's unique about this group is that many people who belong to it are fierce competitors in the marketplace and yet, they come together for the better good of skateboarding. This is admirable.

What struck me was a number of key board members were talking about change within skateboarding and the need to cultivate a wide range of skateboarders. "Holy crap!" I thought to myself, "these guys are finally starting to wake up to the fact that there are markets out there other than street skaters!" It dawned on me that after over a decade of trying to promote diversity and change within skateboarding, things might actually be headed in that direction.

It was at this moment I took an executive decision to plunk down a membership fee and take a seat at the IASC table. I have told our advertisers that Concrete Wave would be more than pleased to take up their concerns about the state of skateboarding when CW sits down at the next IASC meeting. Believe it or not, over 150 companies have advertised with Concrete Wave over the past three years. 150 is a number you can't ignore.

It appears the stage is set for change this year. You certainly could feel something in that IASC room and on the trade show floor. But it wasn't something that hit you over the head. Subtlety was the order of the day.

Change is inevitable in skateboarding. There are forces at work that will accelerate change this year. There are some who are petrified of what will happen and there are others who are quietly standing by, waiting for the right moment to jump in. The companies in this buyer's guide have already made their decision. They have jumped in and bet big. No matter what happens though, those who are willing to give back to skateboarding as much as they take will benefit the most.

While I can't predict what the next 12 to 18 months will be like, I can definitely state that the past can give clues to the future. As Bob Marley once sang... "If you know your history, then you would know where you coming from." Indeed, time will tell if skateboarding is ready to embrace true change.

Welcome to our second edition of Concrete Wave's Buyers Guide. This year's Buyer's Guide exceeds last year's by more than 100 products — it would appear that the future of niche skateboarding is bright! In fact, it is our contention that niche skateboarding really is the future of skateboarding. Many skaters who quit do so because they become bored of the same old thing — niches equate to anything but the same old thing. As we've said all along, skateboarding is comprised of so much more than just street. It just takes an open mind to see all the possibilities.

To the retailers out there who are willing to carry a variety of product in their shops, we say: Thank you! Thank you for supporting all aspects of skateboarding — your vision of satisfying all types of customers does not go unnoticed. To those shops out there that are hesitant to carry these types of products, we urge you to research what's happening out there. You might be surprised to learn how big this market really is and what it means for skateboarding.

We'd like to formally acknowledge all the longboard, slalom, pool, ditch, park and freestyle skaters out there — your efforts to promote all aspects of skateboarding are having an affect. The skate industry will be stronger due to your support.

Finally, we at Concrete Wave wish to send a huge THANK YOU to the dozens of companies who are part of this guide. Your contributions have brought millions of skaters around the world a huge amount of joy. While it remains to be seen just how large this market will become, one thing is for sure, the amount of fun you can have with these products is limitless.

Enjoy the guide,

OUST Bearings
"it's all about Speed"
www.oustbearings.com

OUST ALUMINUM HUB WHEELS:

The Patented design of the OUST Wheel allows the bearings and hub to spin on the same axis. This wheel can be spun up to 15,000 RPM with very minimal vibration. They also retain 4 to 5 times longer than a standard wheel. They spin extremely smooth and the tires can be changed at a minimal cost.

OUST BUSHING WASHER:

The OUST Bushing Washer is designed to retain the bushing under the washer at all times which eliminates bulging and guarantees optimum performance.

OUST SS AXLE:

The OUST SS Axle was designed and manufactured for strength, has been lightened by 15% with an increase in strength of approximately 50% and is totally corrosive resistant.

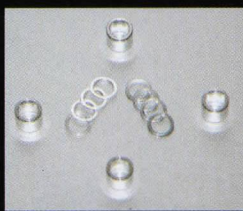

OUST METALIC OIL:

Met-ol is a blend of high and low molecular weight carbon molecules that retain their boundary lubricant properties at high temperatures and extreme torsional loads. Met-ol should be used weekly at PRO level.

OUST BEARING SPACERS:

The OUST Bearing Spacers are machined to specifically fit all OUST Designed products with tolerances of less than .001 of an inch. The washers are also beveled at a specific angle to insure that the washer only contacts the inner race of the OUST Bearings

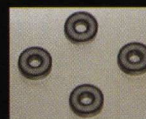

OUST SS KING PIN:

The OUST SS King Pin is made of a corrosive resistant Stainless Steel and heat treated to a specific hardness that makes it 5 times stronger than a standard king pin and 35% lighter because of its design.

OUST BEARINGS:

OUST SS bearings are built with the same spec as the MOC 9 AIR except it has the new high impact retainer installed with the oil hole. This bearing is almost indestructible

OUST SOLUTION

Oust will continue to release newly engineered skateboard products on a regular basis so that a skater can reach his maximum performance and enhance his technique.

In the mid-1990s, Seismic produced a 66mm 78A cruising wheel called the Richter 7.1, meant for sale on racing completes featuring Seismic trucks and Turner decks. That plan was a bit ahead of its time, but Seismic is now proud to continue the legacy of 3dm — the leader in traction-oriented carving urethanes, and maker of the world's winning-est slalom wheels. Stay tuned for more innovation in high-performance wheels — and decks — from 3dm by Seismic. Seismicskate.com

ABC BOARD SUPPLY is one of the only pro skater owned companies left that makes skateboards in the USA. The ABC woodshop makes boards for Scarecrow, Strike and Acme. Acme started in 1991. Scarecrow started up in the mid 90's by Russ Pope, and is now run by hometown friend Frank Hirata. Ghoulish, punk graphics are the order of the day for Scarecrow. Strike was started up in 2003 by former Blockhead artist Ron Cameron. Abcboards.com

ABEC 11 is The Real Wheel. Designed for skateboarding by World Champion Skateboarder Chris Chaput. The wider contact patch provides superior traction at high speed. A variety of sizes and durometers precisely match every skating discipline. Use the softer (72a to 88a) wheels for rougher, porous surfaces like asphalt and the harder (92a to 98a) wheels for smooth and polished surfaces like concrete. Whether carving, cruising, tearing up the parks, pools and pipes or racing downhill, streetluge or slalom, our high-performance urethane will keep you in the game. Abec11.com

AFROMAN skateboards has enjoyed 5 years of quiet success since it's Inception in 1999, while other "major" companies have come and gone in that time, Afroman has continued to grow and virtually dominate skateboards' hardcore underground. After making a conscious decision to defect from the traditional skateboard industry Afroman skateboards has seen it's stock continue to rise and become a global force with help from their domestic and international rep team." The best decision we ever made as a company was to never play the game the (skate) industry forces you into", says Jonny Day, co-owner. "The industry is so conservative and afraid of anything new... like when we came out in 99' no one was making mid-size pool boards and everyone laughed us off as a gimmick brand, but now people respect us 'cause pool skating is "cool" again, the skate industry is a joke..." CR LONGBOARDS is proud to present the Rhino Chaser "speed gun", the board which effectively blends soul skating with an all out hill-bombing mentality. The name "Rhino Chaser" is actually a term designated for large surfboard guns built for riding massive waves — an activity which takes a soulful attitude and places it in the face of pure adrenaline and bravado. At 60", the board is an entirely different ride. While offering a comfortable flex, and enough leverage to perform a quick in-town turn, its wheelbase is long enough to accomodate a seamless, stable ride at high speeds. The Rhino Chaser will take you to a new level of performance, while still maintaining the true soul and uniqueness that is longboarding.

KEBBEK SKATEBOARDS is a Montréal, Québec based manufacturer. We launched Kebbek in 2001 as a skateboard racing line after building boards for many other companies under the name of PM Skateboards. Our goal is to build only high-end boards that people can count upon in racing situations. That is not to say that the team doesn't like free-riding. In actuality, surviving on a road covered in hay-bails is one thing, but once you've seen how aggressive your average Quebecer is behind the steering wheel, you'd realize that surviving a free-ride session in Montréal is even more demanding. This environment plus the experimentation in robotic board building is what inspires Kebbek. Kebbek.com

POOL KING steps it up a notch with the addition of rider Mike Stefaun and veteran longboarder Jeff Tatum. Owner Michael Early makes it quite clear that his company is here to stay (as well as play) by bringing to you a much expanded product line. You won't see any cookie cutter popsicle decks in the Pool King quiver, these guys are artists in their own right. Tatum busts out some original art to compliment his deck series, while Stefaun gives us a very functional twin tipped shape. Both of these guys were hot property in 2004 and I commend Pool King for inking the deal. Other hardgood releases include the Pirate series, which features big thick oldstyle veneers like we used to get, and Pool King wheels, in a 60mm and 63mm diameter. poolkingskateboards.com

Hailing from the concrete playgrounds of the Pacific Northwest, POOLSIDE SKATEBOARDS is dedicated to providing high quality old school boards with shapes unique in style and function. Poolside has brought together a progressive concave and double kick with comfortable wheelbases affording the rider the maximum level of enjoyment. Each Poolside shape has its own unique personality and features. At Poolside, we felt it was time to bring back a little side cut and flare. Besides, it is nice to know which board is yours without having to flip it over and check the graphics. Poolside Skateboard products are proudly distributed by Blue Collar Distribution. Powell Classic K-10 Concave Decks incorporate classic Powell graphics with very functional contemporary larger shapes. K-10 classics feature a longer wheel base and a deeper, kick nose concave. Music has been the catalyst behind skateboarding since back when, and especially Punk rock. PUNK ROCK SKATEBOARDS (PRS) has truly fused the two together with a line of decks that reflect the music that feeds the aggression in skateboarding. Pro skater Kevin Staab is part of the mix with his mad scientist and pirate graphics that skaters from all generations love. Re-issues of Kevin's old school shapes are available from PRS and we hear that old school shapes with the band's graphics are surfacing too. Interestingly enough they offer their decks in lots of sizes, minis, from 7.75 to 9.25 pool deck. Their line up of bands is always increasing, so check their current line up at punkrockskateboards.com

RAINSKATES has been turning out custom old school decks for nearly 3 years. We can shape a replica from our collection of over 100 decks from the '80's, a one-off design, or a combo of new & old. All our boards are hand crafted, one at a time in the Alaskan Rainforest from American wood pressed for us in California. This offers you the chance to ride your favorite old shape & concave, without destroying an original. Our 65mm Tsunami wheels are available in orange/85a, and green/95a. Renowned for their magic combination of rebound, speed and grip, they were joined this year by the 62mm Yellow Jackets, in an even faster 98a formula. The success of the YJ's, and input from many stoked skaters has promoted us to bring this 98a urethane out in the 65mm size. Look for the Hornet to arrive in late spring. rainskates.com

ROCKETBOARDS are beautiful hi-performance longboards perfect for cruising, carving and aggressive downhill skateboarding. Rocketboards are made of hi-grade heat treated aluminum for great flexibility and powder coated for lasting durability. Rocketboards are stronger than wooden decks and will last a lifetime if not abused. Rocketboards come with multiple truck mounting holes at the rear of the deck to fine tune the deck to your specific needs. For cruising install the truck in the outboard position. This allows the board to flex more and gives a smooth effortless ride and ease of carving. For a more aggressive ride move the rear truck inboard to stiffen the deck. Rocketboards.net

If You Want It Done Right, Do It Yourself

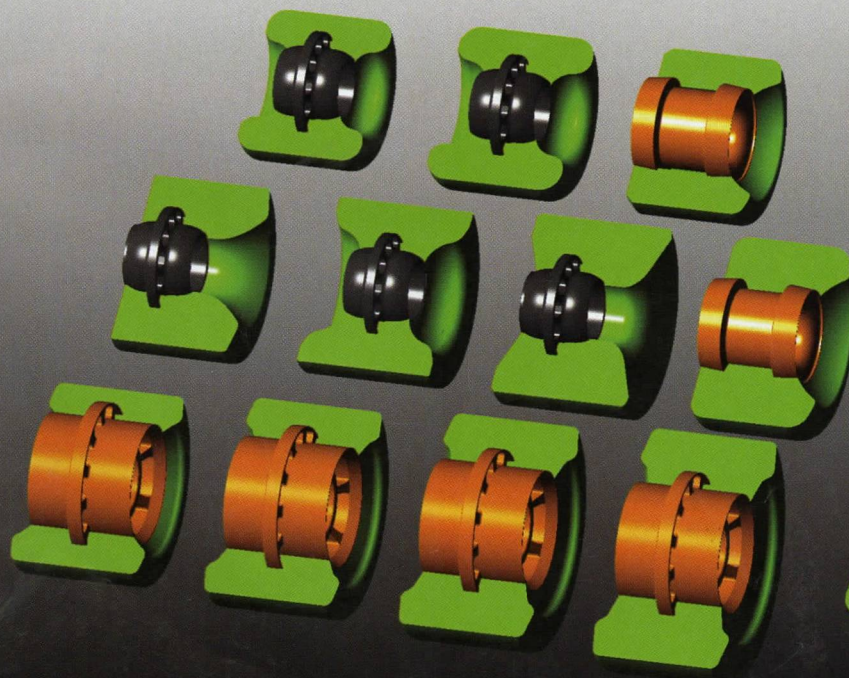

Texas Poolshark and Factory 13 rider RoNny RiPeR did it himself. He didn't complain about the freezing rain that fills the pools in the winter. He built his own bowl inside where it's warm and dry. He made it from 3 different pools and 4 different ramps. He made it with concrete coping - the only way to grind. He likes his boards FAT and his wheels to match. He rides Abec 11.

Abec 11 wheels are fat, fast and grippy. We want it right so we do it ourselves. We make 11 different wheels with your choice of durometers. We make real wheels for real skaters. Find out which Abecs are right for you. Get some and go skate. Anytime, anywhere, anyplace.
