No. 220

Home Again! California's flagship, the Golden Bear, slides into its berth at Morrow Cove at noon today after a 9,000-mile cruise in the Pacific with 131 midshipmen and 44 officers of the California Maritime Academy. Parents and relatives of many midshipmen were on hand to welcome home the boys who start a 10-day post cruise leave tonight. During its annual cruise in Pacific waters the ship stopped at Acapulco, Portland, Vancouver, B. C., Hawaii and other ports.

How It Works

An elaborate display-study board incorporating salient features of a big propulsion steam turbine was presented to the California Maritime Academy Tuesday by officials of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. Taking a look at the model are,
