

squawking and hollering for them. It seems that the only way to get results around here is to make fuss and strike. Doesn't it sound just awful. I do. But that's the only possible way to receive anything.

Well, I believe I've related to you too many things that are on the bad side so shall close and let myself cool off so that I may be able to write something more pleasant the next time.

Please excuse all my grammatical and typographical errors, but I'm pretending that I'm busy and am pounding on this typewriter as fast as my fingers will carry me. And Mr. Hayes has his eye on me too.

With the sincerest wishes from us Tanakas to you and your family, I remain,

As always --
