STUDENT ACADEMIC PETITIONS

The Student Academic Petitions Committee has the authority to permit exceptions to University degree requirements when such requirements create a significant hardship for a student.

The Committee will take action only upon the submission by the student of a formal petition which sets forth the facts and circumstances that may warrant special consideration. For further information contact the Office of Advising Services.

Protests alleging prejudicial or capricious grading also are lodged with the Committee by following established University procedure, a copy of which may be obtained from the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs. (See Advising Services—Academic Petitions)

RESEARCH ON HUMAN SUBJECTS

California State University, Fresno, has adopted provisions for the conduct of research which employs or influences humans. All research at the university must comply with these provisions. Students must familiarize themselves with the provisions by inquiring in the departmental offices or the office of the dean of their school.
