

HURRY KIDS, IT'S SNACK TIME!

An early development of the child feeding program was the inception of the twice daily between meal snacks for the youngsters.

The nursery helpers were women in each section to take charge of their section's children. The mess halls were used in the issuance of the snacks.

AT THE MESS HALL SUPPLY HOUSE

Most of the Center residents who took their meals for granted every day probably never realized the existence of the supply warehouse, the three large walk-in iceboxes, the central butcher shop, the vegetable preparation room, and the pickling department.

The daily preparation of thousands upon thousands of pounds of different kinds of foods for the mess halls three times daily necessitated quick, efficient and sanitary methods and the various departments developed for that purpose. Personnel with past experience in the different lines were chosen in order to insure more efficiency.

G. Morimoto
S. Ikeda
T. Jitsumyo
M. Kai
H. Marubayashi

J. Ota
R. Sahara
K. Arakawa
M. Kinoshita
K. Nagai
K. Arakawa
T. Dakuzaku
S. Tamura

(See Vegetable Crew on pg. 34)

HOUSING DEPARTMENT HEADACHES

Trying to keep up with the Center residents who took a sudden notion to pack up and move in with their Uncle Yamamoto or next door to friend Watanabe kept the housing department under Ernie Nishinaka on its toes from the very beginning of the Center.

Besides issuing all properties pertaining to housing in the Center except, of course, bridal suites, and tabulating the nightly police check, the housing department received and adjusted all grievances pertaining to housing.

They also took charge of all induction and release.

Ernie Nishinaka
Kiyoko Hiwano
Lily Yamane
Anne Isogawa
Mary Yamamoto
H. Abiko
Maya Kaku

THE "BLUE MONDAY" CREW

Every week day was wash day for the women of the laundry crew who were relegated the job of washing the endless amount of ticks with only a small, overworked washing machine.

H. Chono
T. Chono
F. Fukano
I. Shimojo

S. Tsuji
S. Yamanaka

THEY FILLED THE STRAW TICKS

The mattress crew boys were swamped with orders for straw ticks for the thousands of evacuees who quickly filled the Center during the first few busy days. That was the start of a busy routine of keeping the residents supplied with fresh ticks at regular intervals.

J. Osaki
I. Tamura

M. Sugita
S. Kinoshita

T. Saisho

RIDING THE COAL TRUCK

Anyone who hated to fill the wood box at home back in the old days didn't belong in the coal crew. Every evening at 6 o'clock these energetic boys loaded up at the coal pile and filled all the bins at the mess hall kitchens. They did a hard, dirty job well.

T. Aragaki
K. Ogusuku
G. Yuki

J. Iwatsuru
S. Ochiai

H. Onishi
G. Yamamoto

THE ARMY OF "FORGOTTEN MEN"

Cleanliness of community facilities and buildings is a vital necessity in order to maintain proper health standards.

Known at times as the army of the "forgotten men," the men and women who composed the janitors and attendants were doing a job which was just as important as the job of feeding, or clothing, or providing recreation for the people.

It is true that their job was looked on by some as very menial and perhaps lowering. Yet the people occupied in this line were people who were broad enough to recognize the necessity of a job that had to be done. The desire to do a community service motivated their accepting these jobs.

Janitors-(Administration)

Teruo Chono
Toshio Soga
Jack Tanaka
Masuichi Kamikawa
Sawaichi Matsubara
Goichi Hayashida

Janitors-(Laundry Room)

Mary Shirai
Masako Nakaoka
Setsu Yamada
Saki Koyama
Florence Sayegusa

Janitors-(Men's Shower & Toilets)

Chuzo Kano
Genso Matsunaga
Susumu Shinozaki
Takaichi Hanoka
Kurao Asanuma
Susumu Takagi
Kamesaburo Aki
Tamaichi Ochiai
Kumazo Takeda
Hyakutaro, Yamamura

Attendants-(Women's Shwrs. & Tifs.)

Mrs. Ishi Shiimori
Mrs. Sueno Matsunaga
Mrs. Kameno Kawahara
Mrs. Akiye Mitsui
Mrs. Kazue Aoki
Mrs. Harumi Hoshiko
Mrs. Kotsuru Fujimoto
Mrs. Mineko Tanihara
Mrs. Shigeko Hayashi
Mrs. Momoyo Kiino