ECOLOGY POETRY CONTEST

$250 Awards

February 16-20, 1970

A. GENERAL INFORMATION

A Humanities 160, Contemporary Issues, class at San Jose State College is presenting a Survival Faire to be held at San Jose State College, February 16-20, 1970. The purpose of the Faire is to present to the College and to the surrounding Bay Area communities the problems of ecology; to create a general awareness of the problems of environmental survival of man and the space ship earth; and to stimulate the participants to act throughout their particular community on the many ecological problems.

The Faire will be a week of activities, events and exhibits intended to encourage active participation in all aspects of ecology. The program will include speakers, panels, workshops, films, exhibits, plays, a funeral procession and a nine hour Wake (dance) to celebrate the burial of a 1970 automobile. In addition, the Faire will sponsor an Ecology Film Festival, a Photographic Essay Contest, a Graphic Contest, a Creative Re-use of Waste Contest, and a Poetry Contest.

The Survival Faire will be held in the new College Union at the College. All activities and events, other than those held outdoors on the campus, will be contained in the new multi-story Union. The Faire is supported and financed by the Associated Student Body of San Jose State College and by private donations.

B. PURPOSE

The Poetry Contest, through a creative interpretation of the ecological crisis, will offer yet another avenue to insight into this subject of maximum importance to all people on Earth.
