New Lecturer Appointed at Calif. State U.

FRESNO, Calif. - Barlow Der Mugrdechian was recently appointed as a lecturer in Armenian Studies at California State University here for the fall 1985 semester. The appointment was announced by the Coordinator of the Armenian Studies Program at California State University, Fresno, Dr. Dickran Kouymjian. Der Mugrdechian will teach introductory Armenian language (Armenian 1A) and intermediate Armenian language (Armenian 2A) as well as a one-unit course on the Armenian Church.

Der Mugrdechian is a graduate of UCLA receiving a Candidate in Philosophy degree in the Department of Near Eastern Languages and Cultures, successfully passing his Ph.D. comprehensive examinations, both written and oral in June, 1985. He received his Master's Degree from UCLA in June 1983 with a major in Armenian Literature. Der Mugrdechian will continue his doctoral research in the field of modern Armenian Literature while at California State University, Fresno. The dissertation will be under the guidance of his thesis advisor Dr. Avedis K. Sanjian, Naregatsi Professor of Armenian Studies at UCLA.

Der Mugrdechian has been a Research Assistant at the G.E.

von Grunebaum Center for Near Eastern Studies, UCLA, working with Dr. Richard Hovannian, Professor of Armenian History at UCLA. He has been a recipient of numerous scholarships and fellowships including the AGBU, Knights of Vartan, and the Armenian-American Citizens League awards.

A native of Fresno, Der Mugrdechian is a graduate of Theodore Roosevelt High School and California State University, Fresno.

He is a former President of the Armenian Students Organization at Fresno State and also a former Chairman of the Central Council of the Armenian Church Youth Organization of California. He is a Deacon of the Armenian Apostolic Church and has served as Christian Education Director at St. Gregory Armenian Apostolic Church of Pasadena and Assistant to the Pastor at St. James Armenian Apostolic Church of Los Angeles.

Der Mugrdechian is the son of Bob and Norma Der Mugrdechian of Fresno and the grandson of Mrs. Siranouche Tavookjian of Fresno, and the late Garabed Tavookjian and the late Mr. and Mrs. Anoushavan and Rakel Der Mugrdechian of Fresno.

Armenian Studies Program at CSU Offers Courses on the Armenian Church

FRESNO, Calif. - The Armenian Church is the second of three one-credit Saturday courses offered by the Armenian Studies Program in the fall 1985 semester. The class will meet October 19 and October 26 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (with an hour for lunch) in Social Science Room 103 on the California State University campus.

The course will be coordinated and taught by newly-appointed lecturer in Armenian Studies, Barlow Der Mugrdechian and by Armenian Studies Coordinator Dr. Dickran Kouymjian. A variety of guest speakers including clergymen will be presenting their insights into this fascinating topic.

There will be in-depth analysis of the Divine Liturgy (Badarak) of the Armenian Church, a presentation on the Church liturgical sacred songs (sharagans) as well as discussions of Church history, doctrines, and beliefs.

Der Mugrdechian, a graduate of the Armenian Literature program at UCLA, will review the contribution of church clergy to literature, especially the role of the great mystic-poet-monk Krikor Naregatsi. The Armenian Church in relation to other Christian churches will be discussed with emphasis on the role of the Church in the life of the nation.

The third and final Saturday course on the Armenian Experience Through Film will meet December 7 and December 14, 1985. Dr. Kouymjian will discuss the history of Armenian filmmaking and show a select number of modern and historic films by William Saroyan, Rouben Mamoulian, and Henrik Malian. Dr. J. Michael Hagopian, the famous producer and director of Armenian documentary films, will be present on December 7 to introduce his latest film.

Enrollment for the Armenian Church course, Armenian Studies 120 T, as well as the other course is open to all. To sign up, contact the Armenian Studies Program (tel. 294-2669) or the University Division of Extended Education (tel. 294-2524). The fee for those not currently enrolled in the university is $54, for this one-credit course. For further information contact the Armenian Studies Program.

CalState Offers a Complete Armenian Studies Program

FRESNO — Armenian language has been taught for fifteen years at California State University, Fresno. Yet it has been only eight years since a permanent Armenian Studies Program was established there. Today, somewhere between sixty and one hundred twenty-five students take Armenian Studies classes each semester at California State University, Fresno.

For the fall semester the following courses will be offered: (History 108A) Armenian History from Ancient Times to Mongol Invasions, based on Armenian, Assyrian, Iranian, Roman, Byzantine, Arab, and Turkish sources; (Armenian Studies 10) Introduction to Armenian Studies, a general survey of Armenian history, geography, as well as the phases of development of Armenian literature, and culture, from pre-Christian period to our times, with the emphasis on Armenian and international sources and bibliography; (Armenian Studies 50T) Life and Writing of William Saroyan, A survey of the literary career of the famous Armenian-American author, analyzing his plays, novels, short-stories and memoirs; (Armenian Studies 120T) Armenian Experience through Film, presents films on Armenia and the Armenians, especially those produced by Armenian directors such as Rouben Mamoulian, Sergei Parajanov, Sarafian and Avakian, whose works are studies for form and content; (Armenian Studies 120T) History of the Armenian Church, considers foundations of the independent Armenian national Church, its doctrinal positions within Christianity, its influence on Armenian national life, as well as the influence of the Armenian Church on world religions; (Armenian Studies 120T) Modern Armenian Political Movements, an examination of recent Armenian political turmoil, the Armenian cause, and its purposes, as well as the relationship of that turmoil to the Armenian Question; Elementary and Intermediate Armenian Language, studies grammar and pronunciation of Western Armenian, written and oral practice and reading and composition.

The latter subject is taught by Professor Ralph Setian, who has taught Armenian and English at a series of universities, including the University of Pennsylvania, the University of Aleppo, American University Beirut, Columbia, and UCLA. He has also taught Armenian literature in institutions of higher learning in America and the Middle East. Professor Setian received his education at New York's Columbia University, Cairo University and the Sorbonne.

The other courses are taught by Dr. Dickran Kouymjian, who is at the same time the Coordinator of the Armenian Studies Program at California State University, Fresno. He has had not only long years of friendship and intimacy with William Saroyan, but is considered among the best Saroyan experts. Dr. Kouymjian is presently occupied with the preparation of a study of Saroyan. He is also nearly done with a work devoted to the famous Armenian historian of the 5th C. Ghazar Parpetsi. It was thanks in part to his efforts that Saroyan's literary archives were recently moved to the California State University, Fresno library.

The California State University, Fresno Armenian students have formed the Armenian Students Organization which publishes its own newspaper, Hye Sharzhoom. The paper has Armenian and English sections. The Student organization periodically organizes lectures for the public-at-large in Fresno. The most recent in that series took place in April (1985), when historians Dr. Richard Hovanessian and Dr. Dickran Kouymjian gave lectures. Los Angeles Times reporter (and former CSUF student) Mark Arax also spoke on media resources and the Armenian Question.
