CAMPUS PROFILE

California State University, Fullerton is a broadly based liberal arts institution that also offers many professional studies, such as business administration, education, engineering and nursing.

Classes were offered for the first time in 1959, and the first commencement (for five students) was in 1960.

The University's 22,500 students come primarily from Southern California with many from other states and other nations. Many students commute each day to and from classes; some come to classes only in the evening.

Drawn from throughout the world, the 700-member faculty is noted for its commitment to effective teaching and scholarly activity. Research is actively pursued, typically with students involved.

The University enjoys full accreditation for its overall program. In addition, national recognition has been accorded to programs in art, athletic training, business, chemistry, communications, education, engineering, music, nursing, public administration, speech and hearing and theater. All told there are 94 degree programs — 44 of them at the graduate level — plus a wide variety of credential and certificate programs. Reinforcing classroom instruction is an internship and co-operative education program that allows students to gain on-the-job experience while continuing their regular studies. Another amenity is the extended education program. It provides classes, workshops, conferences and study tours without the formalities of regular admission to the University.

Still another strong point is the University's cultural events program. It includes a series that brings nationally-known professional artists to Cal State Fullerton for residencies and public performances.

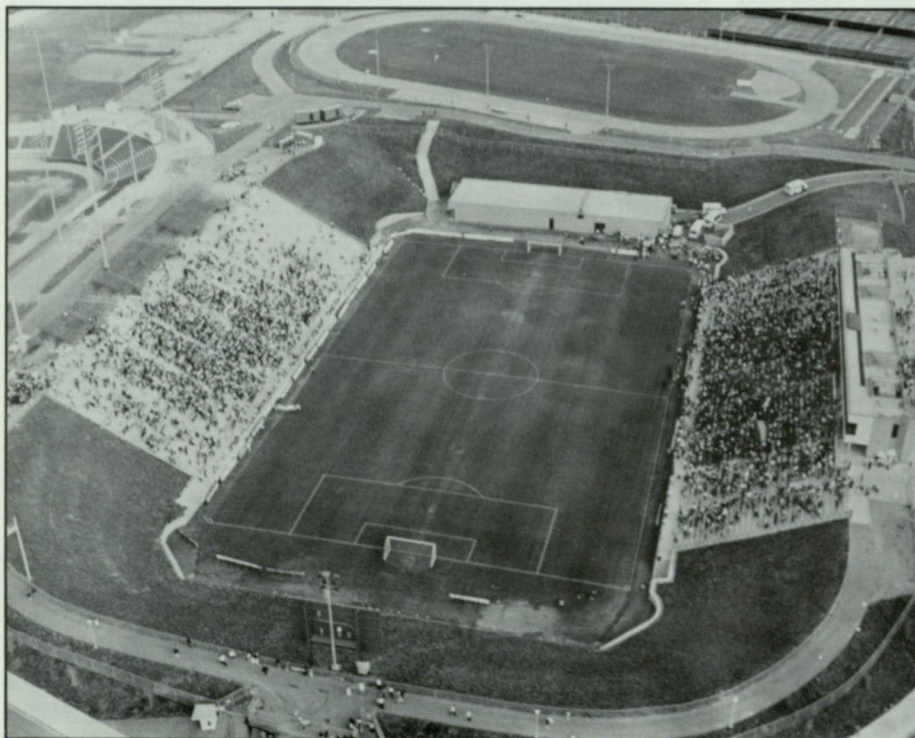

An extensive recreation program aimed chiefly at students but also open to community members is another highlight, as is the network of community support groups. Another is Continuing Learning Experience, which spearheaded the fund-raising campaign to build a gerontology center on campus.

The Ruby Gerontology Center serves as an educational and research facility for the study of aging and a meeting place for the Continuing Learning Experience.

Through a series of joint ventures started in 1979 with the establishment of the Fullerton Arboretum and continuing with the opening of a Marriott hotel on campus in 1989, the University and the city of Fullerton opened the Titan Sports Complex in 1992. A 10,000-seat multi-purpose stadium, an adjoining baseball stadium and a separate track facility are newly completed features of the complex.

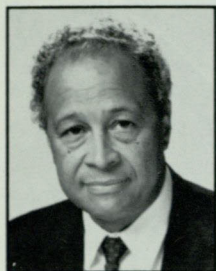

To reinforce the University's commitment to high academic standards and community services, Cal State Fullerton has embarked on a comprehensive fund-raising campaign. Its purpose is to raise the necessary non-state funding to make a very good university a great institution.

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Milton A. Gordon, President

Dr. Milton A. Gordon was selected the fourth president of Cal State Fullerton by The California State University Board of Trustees and assumed his duties on Aug. 6, 1990.

His university leadership includes serving as vice president for academic affairs at Sonoma State University for four years, as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Chicago State University for more than eight years and as director of the Afro-American Studies Program at Loyola University of Chicago for six years.

President Gordon also taught at the Illinois Institute of Technology and in the Chicago public schools and served as a mathematician at the University of Chicago's Laboratories of Applied Sciences.

He is the California state representative to the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and serves on the governing boards of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, California Coalition for Mathematics, Orange County Chamber of Commerce, Orange County Community Foundation, United Way of Orange County, YMCA of Orange County and Fullerton Chamber of Commerce. In addition, he is on the advisory boards of Pioneer Bank, St. Jude Medical Center and The California State University's Institute for Teaching and Learning.

The President has a Ph.D. in mathematics from the Illinois Institute of Technology, an M.A. in mathematics from the University of Detroit and a B.A. in mathematics and secondary education from Xavier University of New Orleans, Louisiana.

Bill Shumard, Athletic Director

Bill Shumard is in his third year of an eventful tenure as Director of Athletics at Cal State Fullerton. He has hired key new personnel and initiated his vision of the role of the athletic department on the campus and in the community while working under drastic budget constrictions handed down by the state and State University system.

Shumard, 42, assumed his post on Aug. 1, 1991. He immediately had to replace two of his associate athletic directors. Brad Holland was appointed men's basketball coach in April, 1992, and Deborah Ayres (women's basketball) and Mary Ellen Murchison (women's volleyball) were hired two months later.

Shumard has instituted a 10-year gender equity plan for CSUF athletics and helped prepare an accelerated marketing plan to showcase the new Titan Sports Complex that features football/soccer, baseball and track facilities. Fiscal integrity has been established as a cornerstone in the department in order to achieve much-needed credibility.

"The challenge before us is immense as we seek to set realistic goals and parameters for our program," said Shumard. "But despite the obstacles, CSUF never has been in a better position to realize its true athletic potential as we enter this new era and take advantage of our new facilities."

Shumard's athletic career terminated as a freshman quarterback at Compton Junior College. He graduated from Long Beach State and is working on his masters at CSUF. Bill and his wife, Kim, live in Brea. He has three sons -- David, 22; Matt, 18; and Mike, 15.

HISTORY OF TITAN ATHLETICS

Obstacles and adversity. Grass-roots support and coaches with "sandwich board" signs. Stunning upsets and courageous performances. All have been a part of Cal State Fullerton athletics as "Titan Pride" has taken limited resources to athletic successes disproportionate to such a young institution.

How many universities can claim national championships in seven different sports, a perennial All-Star major league third baseman, baseball and men and women basketball players in the Olympics, two rookies in the Super Bowl, the subject matter of a Walt Disney feature film and the first player selected in the major league baseball draft?

The tenor was set by the first Titan intercollegiate team - men's basketball. In only their second season, the Titans of coach Alex Omaliev advanced five rounds into the NAIA national playoffs in 1961-62.

Sixteen seasons later, the entire nation watched another "cinderella" Titan Five advance to within one victory of the "Final Four" as Bobby Dyce's 1977-78 team won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association post-season tournament and then beat nationally ranked

The most famous Titan female athlete is Carol Johnston. The one-armed gymnast won All-American honors on the balance beam and floor exercise in 1978 and was the subject of a Walt Disney TV movie called "Lefty."

New Mexico and USF to gain the finals of the Western Regional.

The basketball tradition, which included a women's national title in 1970 and coach Billie Moore and star Nancy Dunkle on the women's 1976 Olympic team, was continued in 1984 as Leon Wood helped the men to a gold medal before he became a first-round NBA draft choice. Coach George McQuarn's teams were usually factors in the PCAA race and had national Top 20 rankings and a victory over the nation's No. 1-ranked and undefeated team to their credit. Fullerton, which seemingly specialized in last-second wins behind 1992 NBA slam dunk champion Cedric Ceballos, also has competed twice in the post-season NIT Tournament while the women have recently been in both the WNIT and the NCAA fields. In 1991, Genia Miller was selected a Kodak All-American after ranking No. 2 in the nation in scoring and blocked shots and No. 7 in rebounding.

Gymnastics has brought Fullerton more fame. Former men's Coach Dick Wolfe won three college division titles (1971, 1972 and 1974) and had recent teams in the Top Ten at the Division I level while winning 10 PCAA titles in a row. His 1987 squad was ranked No. 1 in the nation led by former Chinese Olympian Li Xiao Ping. Lynn Rogers began the women's program in 1976 and the Titans have finished sixth or better in the nation virtually every year and won the national title in 1979. One-armed Carol Johnston was an All-American and star of the Disney film, "Lefty," while more recently Tami Elliott won 10 All-American awards before suffering a fractured vertebra in her senior season.

Baseball exploded on the national scene with the arrival of coach Augie Garrido. He broke the USC monopoly in the western regionals in 1975 and won the national title in 1979 behind the play of Tim Wallach, an all-star fixture with the Montreal Expos who came over to the Los Angeles Dodgers for the 1993 season. Garrido won the College World Series again in 1984 with players

Leon Wood is the most famous Titan basketball player by virtue of his Sporting News first-team All-America recognition (see clips below), Olympic gold medal (above) as the 1984 point guard for the United States and a 6-year NBA career.

HISTORY OF TITAN ATHLETICS

such as CWS Most Valuable Player John Fishel. The Titans won their first six-team regional and finished third in the CWS in 1988 under the direction of Coach Larry Cochell, who in 1990 guided them to a Big West title, a regional championship at Texas and a sixth trip to Omaha. A total of 20 Titan products have played in the major leagues (including 9 during the 1993 season) and now Garrido is back from a 3-year stint at Illinois. He punctuated his return with a share of the 1991 Big West title and a second-place finish in the 1992 College World Series despite losing his old diamond to construction for the new sports complex.

Fullerton had a 13-game winning streak in regional play -- all on the road at Starkville, Austin and Baton Rouge-- snapped in May. Key factors in maintaining that streak were two players on the 1992 Olympic team in Phil Nevin and Jason Moler, although the latter could not play due to an injury. Nevin, the College World Series MVP and Baseball America's College Player of the Year, also gained national attention as the first player selected (by the Houston Astros) in the 1992 amateur draft.

A classic trivia question in the making also features a Titan. Who got the last hit off Nolan Ryan? It was a grand-slam home run in the Seattle Kingdome by Dann Howitt, a Titan first baseman in 1986.

Women have sparked on the Fullerton diamonds, too. Coach Judi Garman founded the softball program in 1980 and the Titans have been a perennial powerhouse, making seven trips to the College World Series and 14 consecutive regional appearances. The Titans brought home their first NCAA Championship in 1986 and often have been ranked No. 1 in the country.

There have been national titles in men's cross country and women's fencing and individual standouts like golfer Martha Wilkerson and runner Mark Covert.

Football had its moments, too, at Cal State Fullerton. Dick Coury was the inaugural coach in 1970 and he built an instant winner at the Division II level. The Titans were 27-16-1 over the first four years under Coury and successor Pete Yoder before the growing pains of moving up to Div. I were endured. The program came of age under the guidance of Gene Murphy in the 1980s with a pair of conference championships and four runnerup finishes in a seven-year span between 1983 and 1989. Murphy's products the accomplishments performed first in 1979 and again in 1984 (pictured) by Coach Augie Garrido and the Titan baseball program.

include veteran cornerback Mark Collins of the New York Giants and muscular tight end James Thornton of the New York Jets.

But economic realities caught up with the program in 1990. The effects of playing murderous non-conference games on the road -- at Georgia, at Auburn, at West Virginia, at UCLA, etc. -- took their toll on the won-loss record, the players' bodies and their minds. The Titans fell to the bottom of the standings and the program was suspended at the conclusion of the 1992 season. Plans call for bringing the sport back on a "cost containment" Div. I-AA level to take full advantage of the year-old stadium complex now on campus.

Meanwhile, Coach Al Mistri's soccer program has tried to fill the void in the stadium. A new women's program was launched in 1993 and it coincided with a memorable men's season that saw the Titans move as high as No. 3 in the national rankings behind All-American forward Eddie Soto.

All-American Eddie Soto has led the Cal State Fullerton men's soccer program to a nationally competitive level. The Titans tied UCLA for the division championship in 1992 and were ranked as high as No. 3 in the nation during the 1993 campaign.

NICKNAME AND MASCOT

"What exactly is a Titan?"

"Why do you have an elephant for your mascot?"

Those are two of the first questions that pop into the minds of media and fans when a Cal State Fullerton athletic team makes its inaugural visit. While the relatively young institution carved out of the Orange County citrus groves may be too new for many traditions, here are the recognized legends.

"It was the students' decision in a vote," explains Dr. Ernest Becker, founding Dean of Students, of the nickname 'Titans.' "More than a hundred names were suggested, and the Student Council took on the job of narrowing the list down to a few for the purposes of an election. The vote was close, with Titans narrowly prevailing over Aardvarks and Rebels."

It was a unique student body at the outset, all upper division students until 1963. There were 453 of them, mostly female, in 1959, the first year of classes at what was then known as Orange County State College. They voted to organize as a student body and to assess themselves a fee of $10 per semester.

Tuffy found a Tuffette for the 1990s.

Mark Monninger brought Tuffy to life in the early 1980s.

There were others, however, who related the name to the Titan missile then in prominence."

Nothing official was done about a mascot because no one knew quite what to do. Until, of course, the "First Intercollegiate Elephant Race in Human History."

"Even when it was decided that 'Titans' would be the nickname, there was confusion as to what it represented," said Becker. "I was thinking of a large mythological figure from Greek history, not unlike Tommy Trojan, but with perhaps straighter, more modern lines. In the same vein, the original dormitories were named Othrys Hall. There

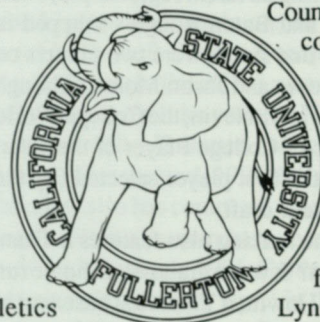

There

What began as a practical joke turned into probably the biggest "happening" on the campus to this day. The "gag" attracted elephants from universities around the nation and even Oxford from England. A crowd estimated at more than 10,000 people turned out on "Dumbo Downs" as the hastily graded field became known that spring afternoon in 1962.

To publicize the event, a circus-like elephant called Tuffy the Titan was used and it began appearing on sweaters and notebook covers around the campus. With no other mascot, the elephant was unofficially adopted. Several revisions in the caricature have been made in recent years to create a more tenacious Tuffy, or Titus as he also was called in an attempt to make him Greek. The costume that brings the elephant mascot to life also has changed as evidenced by the adjacent photographs. Tuffy even attracted a Tuffette in 1992.

The origin of the school colors also bears discussion. The students voted for royal blue and white when they chose Titans, but the athletic equipment manager at the time thought orange was an appropriate color on uniforms for a school known as Orange County State College. The unofficial color was "adopted" and finally was formally acknowledged by the Athletics Council in 1987. A change to a navy blue in uniforms and printing instead of the "reflex" blue of recent years was initiated in 1992 with a de-emphasis of the orange, originally furthered by former Director of Athletics

Lynn Eilefson in the mid 1980s.

And, finally, there is the matter of the school's name. As mentioned earlier, the name originally was Orange County State College. It's also been Orange State College and later California State College at Fullerton or California State College, Fullerton. The change to university status necessitated a further change to California State University, Fullerton, but the school's address could not be changed from 800 N. State College Boulevard. To its alumni of about 100,000, it's simply Cal State Fullerton.

Circuslike Tuffy, circa 1970, gave way to more natural, ferocious looking model above in the mid 1980s.

ACADEMIC ASSISTANCE

Going into this decade, universities and colleges around the country are making a concerted effort towards increasing their academic programs in the athletic department. Cal State Fullerton is no exception as the department places a high priority on the education and graduation of student-athletes. The Athletic Academic Services department was established by the University to help ensure the academic success of intercollegiate athletes.

The mission of Athletic Academic Services, according to Director Christine McCarthy, is to provide academic and effective support services to help each student reach his academic goals.

"We want all of our student-athletes to benefit fully from his or her educational experience at Cal State Fullerton," said McCarthy.

The department's many programs and services are directly aimed at this goal. The office is responsible for academic advisement, coordinating study plans, class schedules, study skills workshops, tutoring, study hall, faculty and peer mentoring and referrals to the many campus services available to the student-athlete.

The office is staffed by two full-time workers, McCarthy and Barbara Kempton, and four half-time graduate assistants who serve as academic counselors and peer mentors. Kempton has been at Cal State Fullerton for 27 years, and her knowledge of the campus and the athletic department is immensely valuable to student-athletes who may need help with administrative paperwork and problems.

Student-athletes at Cal State Fullerton take an average of 4 1/2 to 5 years to graduate, and some of that success can be credited to Athletic Academic Services. The staff members assist with selecting and registering for classes, referring students to faculty advisors and tracking and evaluating their progress toward graduation. The office's services are available to all past and current student-athletes.

McCarthy comments, "Not all student-athletes are able to graduate in four years, because of professional opportunities or personal commitments. We developed a re-entry program for former student-athletes who wish to complete their studies, offering them the same services which were available to them when they competed for us."

The office of Athletic Academic Services helps student-athletes feel comfortable in the CSUF environment and McCarthy's experience before coming to the department in July, 1992, helps the orientation process. McCarthy received her Masters in Social Science from Cal State Fullerton in 1987 and has been working in education since 1984. Previous to her appointment in athletics, McCarthy worked for three years as the Assistant Director of the Learning Assistance Resource Center at CSUF before budget cuts eliminated the department. At the LARC, she supervised 80 student employees who were responsible for the various tutorial, strategies classes, computer skills and study skill programs which were available for the university students. COACH BRAD HOLLAND

Brad Holland won rave reviews for the manner in which he revitalized the Cal State Fullerton men's basketball program during the 1992-93 season, his first as a head coach.

On the court, the Titans played hustling, entertaining and winning basketball. At 15-12, they posted the school's first winning record in four years while going 10-8 to finish in a tie for fifth place in the Big West Conference. Off the court, they grew from a disgruntled squad into a close-knit unit.

Holland, an assistant to Jim Harrick at UCLA for the previous four seasons, inherited three returning starters and one part-time performer from a 12-16 team whose top two scorers were seniors. He was able to recruit one player after his April 8, 1992, appointment and that man, Don Leary from Mt. San Jacinto Junior College, turned into the most prolific 3-point shooter in school history.

Despite a dangerously thin bench, the Titans joined Pacific as the surprise teams of the year in the Big West. Projected as a ninth-place club, they beat every opponent except New Mexico State and capped the year with an exciting 1-point home victory over nationally ranked UNLV. The win over the Rebels was only Fullerton's fourth in 33 tries and its series sweep of UC Santa Barbara was its first in nine seasons.

Attendance in Titan Gym increased due in part to a season-long promotion focused on Holland, who was rewarded when his original three-year contract was extended on April 22 through the 1995-96 season.

"I think we had a successful season," said Holland, 36, who never has been associated with a losing basketball season. "We were close to having a very successful season. It would have been a tremendous achievement for this team to go to postseason play. We were close to doing it. We had some excellent wins. I think we've got something to build on in recruiting."

Success as a head coach is merely the latest positive mark Holland has made on Southern California basketball. He was a basketball and football star at Crescenta Valley High School. He was a four-year basketball letterman at UCLA and played with the Los Angeles Lakers and two other National Basketball Association teams before retiring in 1982 due to a knee injury. He entered private business and also was a broadcaster for PrimeTicket from 1985 to 1988. He began his coaching career under Harrick in 1988-89 and helped the Bruins return to national prominence while compiling a 93-35 record that took them to four NCAA tournaments.

"Brad has been around the game of basketball all of his life," said Athletic Director Bill Shumard upon Holland's hiring. "He learned the game from and has been associated with some of the greats in basketball."

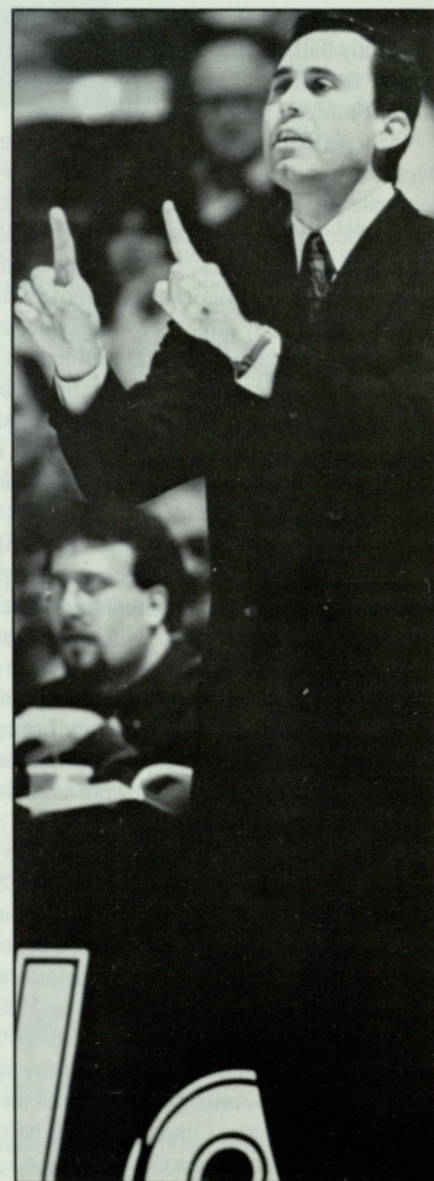

Holland was the last player recruited by Coach John Wooden and became a part of four Pac-10 championship teams at UCLA from 1976 to 1979, two under Coach Gene Bartow and two under Coach Gary Cunningham. The Bruins went 102-17 during Holland's playing career and he was an honorable mention All-America and second-team Academic All-America as a senior. That year he averaged 17.5 points and 4.8 assists and had a .598 field goal percentage, the best ever by a Bruin guard.

The Lakers drafted Holland in 1979 on the first round (the 14th player chosen) and went on to win the 1980 NBA championship. The rookie guard scored eight points in the decisive sixth game at Philadelphia. He finished his playing career in 1981-82 with Washington and Milwaukee.

Holland is the sixth head coach in Titan history following Alex Omalev (1961-72), Moe Radovich (1973), Bobby Dye (1974-80), George McQuarn (1981-88) and John Sneed (1989-92). He serves as Chairman of District 15 for the National Association of Basketball Coaches' All-American committee.

Holland and his wife, Leslie, live in La Canada with twin daughters Lisa and Kristin, 11, and infant son Kyle.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Bob Hawking

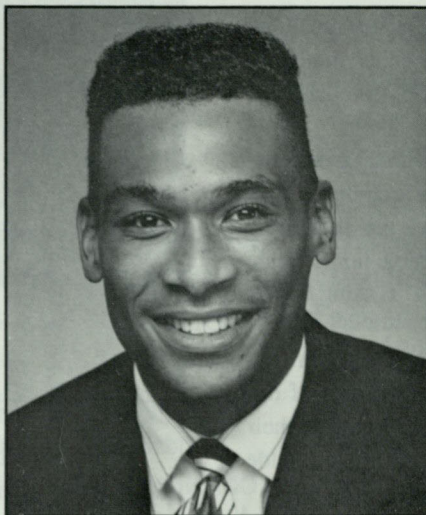

Bob Hawking enters his second year on Brad Holland's staff after two seasons at UC Davis with Head Coach Bob Williams.

Hawking, 44, has deep Southern California basketball roots. He served the previous two years as an assistant at Pepperdine after a long and successful career on the high school level. He was the head coach for 14 seasons at Simi Valley High School where he took his teams to the CIF playoffs nine times and won five Marmonte League championships. His 1987 team was ranked No. 4 in the state and the following year his team won the CIF championship and climbed to No. 3 in the state led by the play of Don MacLean, who went on to become the all-time leading scorer in the Pac-10 for UCLA. Hawking was selected CIF Southern Section AAAA Coach of the Year in 1988 and won similar honors from the Los Angeles Times in 1986 when Simi Valley was CIF runnerup. He was league coach of the year six times.

Hawking began his coaching career at Pater Noster High in Los Angeles before moving to Simi Valley in 1972 as the junior varsity coach. He has served as coach and director for numerous basketball camps and all-star games throughout California.

The playing career of Hawking began at Alemany High School in Mission Hills and continued at Pierce College in Woodland Hills and Cal State Northridge.

Bob and his wife, Jeannie, have three children. Kristin, 15, and Quinn, 11, are at home while son Butch is head coach of the Air Force Academy Prep School in Colorado Springs after graduating from the Air Force Academy a year ago.

Chris Brazier

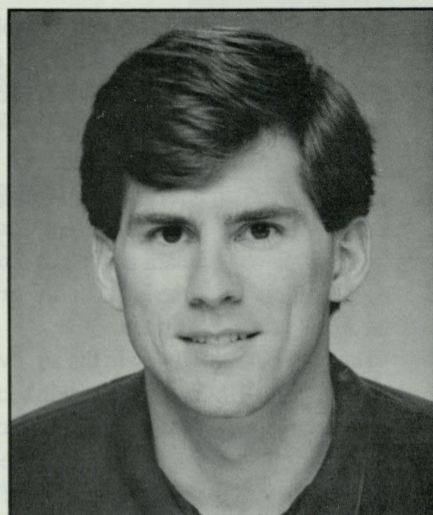

Chris Brazier is an experienced but still youthful member of Brad Holland's Titan coaching staff.

Brazier, 33, begins his eighth year as a collegiate coach, his third full season on a fulltime basis. He worked in 1991-92 as a full-time assistant to Ernie Kent at Saint Mary's College in Moraga after one season as a part-time coach at Santa Clara.

Prior to those West Coast Conference assignments, Chris was an assistant for two seasons (1988-90) at West Valley Community College in Saratoga where the Vikings won the Golden Gate Conference championship in 1989-90 after a second-place finish in 1988-89. In 1986-87 and 1987-88 he was at the University of the Pacific, first as a graduate assistant and then earning a promotion to a full-time position after a mid-season coaching change.

Two head coaches directed Brazier during his playing career as a small forward at Montana State. Bruce Haroldson was the coach during his junior year and Stu Starnier was the head man his senior season when Brazier was all-conference and the team's Most Valuable Player and Best Defensive Player. Chris received his bachelor's degree in Organizational Communications and earned a master's in Human Behavior at National University in 1990.

Brazier has coached in numerous camps and clinics and worked with the Los Angeles Slam'n Jam Development League. He is single and lives in Fullerton.

George Tuttle

Versatile George Tuttle joins the Titans' coaching staff for 1993-94 after a busy two years at Sheridan Junior College in Wyoming. Tuttle, 26, served as academic advisor and physical education instructor at Sheridan as well as sports information director in addition to his coaching duties.

Tuttle had the privilege of working under one of the winningest junior college coaches in America in Bruce Hoffman. Together, they compiled a 52-12 record including a 1992-93 season mark of 28-4 and a No. 12 national ranking.

He replaces Ed Goorjian, who came out of retirement for the 1992-93 season to help Coach Brad Holland. Goorjian was head coach at Crescenta Valley High School during Holland's illustrious playing career.

Tuttle served one year as a graduate assistant at the University of Texas for Coach Tom Penders in 1990-91. He has worked summer basketball camps around the country and coached on the prep level in Oklahoma and Texas.

Tuttle played on the St. Edward's University varsity basketball team in Austin and was a two-time academic all-conference and all-region selection. He earned his bachelor's degree at the University of Texas and has worked toward a master's degree at the Universities of Texas and Wyoming. He is single and lives in Orange.

SEASON PREVIEW

The second season of the Brad Holland Era at Cal State Fullerton possesses more of the signs of a typical inaugural campaign for a new coach as Holland scrambles to rebuild his second-year roster.

Holland and his coaching staff are the primary constants remaining from a 15-12 season in 1992-93 that included a 10-8 upper division finish in the Big West Conference and featured a sweep of UC Santa Barbara as well as a memorable home finale victory over UNLV. Gone is the entire "ironman" starting five as well as a couple of substitutes.

"The roster was really up in the air, even after classes already had begun," said Holland. "We didn't know how many of our junior college transfers were going to successfully complete their Associate Arts degree works to be able to enroll. All but one made it and he could still make it in December.

"It's obvious, we are going to have a completely new team. We will try to rebuild as quickly as possible and be competitive again. It's been a long summer waiting to see."

Shooting guard Don Leary (Mt. San Jacinto JC, Banning, CA), who teamed with four seniors in the starting lineup last year and averaged 13.3 points while setting several school records for 3-point field goals, suffered academic problems and is not eligible for the 1993-94 season. Backup guard/forward DiJon Bernard also failed to meet minimum academic requirements. That left guard Greg Vernon (University HS, Los Angeles) and forward Todd Satalowich (Rock Bridge HS, Columbia, MO) as the only veterans from last year's team and their combined scoring and rebounding averages were 3.0 and 2.9, respectively.

Three junior college transfers and University of Washington transfer James French (El Cerrito HS, Richmond, CA), who redshirted last season, will be counted upon to form the nucleus of this year's squad. Four talented freshmen have arrived and, given the absence of Div. I experience in front of them, will be given every opportunity to break into the regular rotation. The Titans also have some wild cards of sorts in sophomore David Frigout, a 6-9 transfer from Groupe Pigier University in France, and Fred Amos, a 6-7 walk-on from Rancho Santiago JC, who made the squad with impressive work in pre-season conditioning.

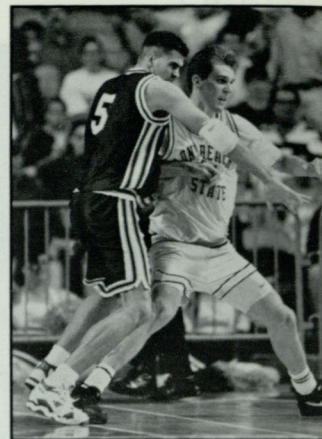

"We are optimistic we can be competitive with this group of newcomers," said Holland. "We won't be very tall but will have quickness and athletic ability to rely on. We hope to play an up tempo game and present some problems for people defending us. Of course, we will have problems against people with better height.

"This should be a deeper team than last year and we hope to play eight or nine guys. We look for the freshmen to come in with the attitude that all the positions are open and they have a chance to impact the program right away."

Satalowich appeared in all but one game last year, starting twice for Sean Williams. Satalowich averaged 0.7 points and 1.7 rebounds. Vernon is a three-year letterman who averaged 2.3 points and 1.2 rebounds in 1992-93.

Four underclassmen from last year's squad in addition to Leary and Bernard also left the program. Point guard Sharif Metoyer, who appeared in 22 of the 27 games as a walk-on freshman, has transferred to Long Beach City College. Freshman guard Casey Sheahan, redshirt freshman forward Ray Hooper and walk-on sophomore power forward Andre Toliver, none of whom played more than 32 minutes all season, also have moved on. Bernard averaged 2.8 points and 1.4 rebounds in 24 appearances.

French was a starter as a freshman at Washington but saw his playing time diminish as a sophomore. He averaged 4.3 points and 3.2 assists in 1990-91 and started all 28 games. In 1991-92 he started 9 of 27 games, averaging 3.9 points and 1.9 assist.

The four incoming junior college transfers are Darren Little, 6-7, who averaged 17 points and 11 rebounds at Palomar JC in San Diego; Winston Peterson, 6-6, who averaged 20 points and 12 assists at San Jacinto JC in Texas; Danny Robinson, 6-0, who averaged 12 points and 8 assists at point guard for Sheridan JC in Wyoming; and walk-on Amos, who averaged 13.8 points and 9.1 rebounds while setting school records for blocked shots in a game (9), season (101) and career (140). Jerome Washington, 6-5, who averaged 12 points and 6 rebounds at Mid-Plains JC in Nebraska, hopes to enroll in December.

Three of the four incoming freshmen were high school stars. Chris Dade is a 6-2 guard who dominated the San Diego County vs. Orange County all-star game on June 26 at Orange Coast College in Costa Mesa. The product of El Camino High School led all scorers with 19 points in leading San Diego to a 107-89 upset win. He was San Diego's Div. II Player of the Year after averaging 16.5 points while shooting 58 per cent from the floor and 78 per cent from the foul line. Josh King, a 6-7 small forward, averaged 16 points and 10 rebounds for the state champion runnerup Jesuit High School team from Carmichael. He shot better than 40 per cent from 3-point range his senior year. St. Clair, a 6-0 guard, was the Orange County Register's Player of the Year after leading Sonora High of La Habra to the Freeway League championship.

DeVaughn Wright, a 6-6 forward, was the second man off the bench for Mater Dei High's nationally ranked team. He won two CIF titles.

BIG WEST CONFERENCE

Commissioner Dennis Farrell

2 Corporate Park, Suite 206, Irvine, CA 92714 • (714) 261-2525/2528 Fax

The 1993-94 intercollegiate sports season marks the Silver Anniversary of the Big West Conference. The league, which began in 1969 as the Pacific Coast Athletic Association (PCAA) with seven charter members in California, has evolved to an 11-member conference with institutions in five western states. The name change was made in the summer of 1988.

Big West Conference members are nationally competitive and have won 12 NCAA Division I men's championships and 10 NCAA Division I women's championships.

Several major developments have given a new-look to the conference in the past 18 months. Dennis Farrell, who has worked in the conference office in a variety of roles since 1980, was named Commissioner in August of 1992. Fresno State, a charter member in 1969, moved to the Western Athletic Conference and was replaced by the University of Nevada for the 1992-93 seasons. And a football consortium has been created that brought Arkansas State, Louisiana Tech, Northern Illinois and Southwestern Louisiana into a scheduling combine to create a much broader Big West on the gridiron.

The conference's name was changed to reflect a simpler, more accurate description of the league's 11 member institutions -- Cal State Fullerton, Long Beach State, Nevada, New Mexico State, San Jose State, UC Irvine, UC Santa Barbara, Hawaii (women's sports only), UNLV, Pacific and Utah State.

Basketball success among Big West institutions has been growing over the years and reached its apex in 1989-90 when UNLV won the NCAA championship in convincing fashion over Duke yet couldn't even claim sole possession of the Big West championship. New Mexico State tied the Rebels for the regular season title and actually was the No. 1 seed in the post-season tournament in Long Beach. The league's third-place team, UC Santa Barbara, went on to beat Houston in the first round of the NCAA tourney and help the Big West top all other conferences in tournament play with a .778 percentage (7-2).

In 1990-91, UNLV was ranked No. 1 in the nation all season until losing to Duke in the semifinals of the Final Four. New Mexico State again was ranked nationally, but Cal State Fullerton was the only other team to avoid a losing overall season. In 1992, New Mexico State captured the nation's fancy by advancing to the Sweet 16. Last year, UNLV with new coach Rollie Massimino was left out of the NCAA picture and the conference was represented by Long Beach State and New Mexico State. For the 49ers, it was their first trip to the tournament since 1977.

The Big West Conference has adopted a "FAX on Demand" information system for the 1993-94 season. Conference and individual institutions' news releases, game results and cumulative statistics are available to media by calling (404) 399-3066. The Big West code number is 292 and prompts a directory.

The Brad Holland Era at Cal State Fullerton began on a winning note as the Titans ignored pre-season prognostications of a ninth-place Big West Conference finish to post winning records both in conference and overall play. The Titans relied on an Ironmen Five starting lineup and tied for fifth with UC Santa Barbara with a 10-8 Big West mark and finished with an overall record of 15-12. The winning season, Fullerton's first since 1988-89, continued a personal streak for Holland, who never has been associated with a losing year in his basketball career dating back to Crescenta Valley High School, UCLA and the Los Angeles Lakers.

New NCAA legislation cut two weeks off pre-season basketball practice, which seemed unfair to all new coaching staffs, particularly one such as Fullerton, directed by a coach who never had been a head coach before. Holland quickly learned that the time demands on a head coach are more diverse than on an assistant but he and his staff got the Titans into game form on schedule.

Fullerton did have the luxury of opening at home but faced a Saint Mary's team that already had a game under its belt but also had lost a starter to injury. The Titans won rather handily, 82-62, and the positive momentum had been started. A trip to the Midwest got off awkwardly when an Iowa snowstorm diverted the Titans' jetliner to Peoria, Illinois, and set up a long bus ride that wiped out practice. But the Titans came out strong against host Northern Iowa, scoring the first 13 points of the game, on their way to a 66-55 victory. Two nights later they started strong again but faded under a brilliant performance by Drake point guard Curt Smith and tasted defeat for the first time, 86-73.

A stubborn Cal State Northridge team hung close the entire game before suffering a 75-68 loss in the Matadors' Gym. Fullerton then came home for two rather easy victories over Eastern Illinois and Chapman to raise its record to 5-1 for Holland's return to UCLA and Pauley Pavilion. With Don Leary hitting his first five 3-point field goal attempts on his way to Fullerton school and Pauley Pavilion records, the Titans played the Bruins to a draw for 25 minutes. UCLA went on a 16-2 run but couldn't put the Titans away until the final minute for a 90-82 decision that left Fullerton at 5-2 heading into Big West Conference play.

The schedule makers did Coach Holland no favor, throwing the first-year coach to the two best programs in the conference and on the road to boot. The Titans' second and third consecutive games on the road with Top 25 teams went as expected as defeats, but Fullerton did hold a second-half lead at UNLV as it held J. R. Rider to a season-low 7 points.

Fullerton got back to its winning ways in friendly Titan Gym with impressive victories over Nevada and Utah State. Then came probably the key week of the season as Fullerton played its "commuting" road games in succession at UC Irvine, Long Beach State and UC Santa Barbara. The Titans got a win at UCI as Leary hit a follow shot in the closing seconds for a 2-point victory. After a 14-point loss at Long Beach State, the Titans regrouped to end their 8-year losing streak at UC Santa Barbara with an overtime victory.

The Titans came home again to beat San Jose State and Pacific in competitive affairs to raise their record to 11-5 and stamp themselves as the surprise team of the conference, having been picked for ninth place in the pre-season polls.

But that proved to be the high-water mark of the year. The Titans got off to a dreadful start at Utah State and lost by 25 points in their worst showing of the season. They bounced back with a nervous win at Nevada but off-court activities took precedence.

Coach Holland suspended four players including three starters for violating team rules and none of the players were allowed in the building as an 8-man Fullerton team lost to Houston, 77-63, in a non-conference game. UC Irvine then played a brilliant first half and pulled out an overtime victory to split its season series and start a remarkable string of down-to-the wire games for Fullerton.

The Titans came out on the winning side as Aaron Sunderland had a brilliant week in victories over Long Beach State and UC Santa Barbara. The Titans tasted the other side of the coin in one-basket losses at Pacific and San Jose State. Sunderland's and the team's slump continued in an 8-point home loss to New Mexico State but then the point guard redeemed himself with one basket - a game winner with two seconds to play as Fullerton capped a memorable home finale for the seniors and the fans by beating UNLV for the first time in four years and only the fourth time in 33 meetings.

Fullerton's run in the Big West post-season tournament lasted only one game, an 80-68 loss to eventual champion Long Beach State. The Titans lost for the first time in 13 games where they led at the half, letting a 36-28 advantage disappear as the 49ers forced turnovers with a full-court press and converted 24 of 29 second-half free throws.

Kim Kemp raises his arms in triumph as he is carried off the floor by exuberant fans after an 84-83 victory over UNLV that closed out the career of Kemp and three other senior starters.

Game No. 1

St. Mary's
Dec. 4, 1992 • Titan Gym

St. Mary's 21 41 -- 62
Fullerton 32 50 -- 82

The Titans ushered in the Brad Holland Coaching Era at Fullerton with a wire-to-wire win over Saint Mary's.

The Gaels, who had lost two projected starters in pre-season, lost a third to a knee injury in a season opening loss at Northern Arizona and fell to 0-2 after this loss.

With Sean Williams scoring 8 early points, the Titans jumped out to leads of 5-1, 9-3 and 22-10. They maintained a double digit advantage for all but the opening seconds of the second half when Saint Mary's twice cut the deficit to 9, the last at 34-25 with 18:49 to play.

But Fullerton then went on an 8-0 run keyed by Kim Kemp and Saint Mary's never got closer than 14 points again. Fullerton stretched the lead to as many as 26 points.

Williams blocked 6 shots and the Titans blocked 11 as a team. Saint Mary's would recover to beat Villanova in its home opener eight days later.

Game No. 2

Northern Iowa
Dec. 10, 1992 • UNI-Dome

Fullerton 32 34 -- 66
Northern Iowa 19 36 -- 55

Brad Holland got his first taste of the hazards of the road as a Div. I head coach but the Titans overcame a rugged trip to Iowa to score an impressive win.

It took the Titans 17 hours to get from Fullerton to their Cedar Falls hotel. Their flight into Cedar Rapids was diverted east to Peoria, Illinois, due to icy runways and wind. They sat on the plane almost three hours before unloading in Peoria only to climb on a bus and take a four-hour ride in a snow-storm back to Cedar Rapids, where they hooked up with their originally chartered bus for the 90-minute ride north to Cedar Falls.

After being cooped up all day, the Titans exploded on the Panthers. While blocking half of the first 12 NIU shots, the Titans bolted to a 13-0 lead. Northern Iowa finally scored at the 13:55 mark of the first half on a Jon Ellis basket but the Titans never let the Panthers closer than 9 points and led by 13 at the half.

The teams traded baskets after intermission until a 7-0 Fullerton spurt extended the lead to 50-35. NIU cut it to

Game No. 3

Drake
Dec. 12, 1992 • Drake Center

Fullerton 40 33 -- 73
Drake 48 38 -- 86

Fullerton had visions of a road trip sweep in Iowa, especially when the Titans jumped out to a 21-13 lead with 12:27 to go in the first half.

But the Drake backcourt had other ideas. Jeff Allen came off the bench to hit his first three 3-point field goal tries and the Bulldogs roared ahead, 29-24, with a 16-3 run. Point guard Curt Smith then took over. The transfer from Compton showed why he was the leading scorer in California JC ranks. After Fullerton pulled to within 31-30 on a Bruce Bowen layup at 6:24, Smith scored the next 13 Drake points to push the Bulldogs to a 48-40 halftime lead.

Fullerton got no closer than 6 points the rest of the way as Smith continued to throw in an amazing assortment of running and leaning bank shots.

The Titans were bothered by Drake's full-court pressure the entire game and committed 27 turnovers, only two shy of the school record. Point guard Aaron Sunderland had 10 assists but also contributed 7 of the turnovers.

Game No. 4

Cal State Northridge
Dec. 19, 1992 • Matador Gym

Fullerton 29 46 -- 75
Northridge 23 45 -- 68

A much shorter road trip confronted Cal State Fullerton as it made the drive across the basin to undersized Cal State Northridge, which was at an emotional peak for its home opener.

The Matadors used the occasion to honor John Flowers, a JC recruit from Phoenix, who lost both of his legs in an auto accident during the summer. But with its only size on the bench in the opening minutes due to disciplinary measures against Chris Yard and Peter Micelli, CSUN fell behind as Fullerton controlled the backboards.

The Titans never trailed after Don Leary's 3-pointer gave them a 9-6 lead but they never could shake the Matadors, either. They jumped to a 15-8 lead but the Matadors cut it to 15-14. Fullerton moved out 23-16 and the Matadors came back at 24-23. An 8-0 run to open the second half gave Fullerton a 37-23 lead, but Northridge got as close as 51-47.

Leary's efforts helped earn him Big West Player of the Week honors. Todd Satalowich got his first start of the year when Sean Williams was disciplined for being late to a practice.

Game No. 5

Eastern Illinois Dec. 21, 1992 • Titan Gym

Eastern Illinois ...26 34 --60
Fullerton45 41 --86

The Titans feasted on a smaller, slower opponent in an 86-60 victory that never was in doubt. Even Eastern Illinois coach Rick Samuels called it a "Fullerton feeding frenzy."

The Panthers came in with 1-4 record, a four-game losing streak and feeling the effects of an 11-day break between games. Not even a thundering dunk in the game's first few seconds by 6-9 Panther Darrell Young could wake EIU from its slumber.

The Titans streaked ahead 21-10 after a 9-0 run with 11:50 to go in the first half and used its superior athleticism to gradually push the lead as high as 20 before settling into halftime ahead, 45-26.

Fullerton's frenzied pressure defense effectively took the Panthers out of the game early as the Titans racked up their highest point total to date in the young season.

Titan guard Don Leary hit threemore long bombs, giving him 18 in five games and he was on his way toward winning the GTE Long Distance Award for most 3-pointers made in all of Division I.

Game No. 7

UCLA Dec. 30, 1992 • Pauley Pavilion

Fullerton41 41 -- 82
UCLA45 45 -- 90

Not often can USC be accused of doing UCLA a favor, but the Trojans' football team can be given an assist for helping the Bruin basketball team survive a record-setting shooting performance by Don Leary.

One night after USC took an underdog Fresno State team for granted and got humiliated in the Freedom Bowl, the Bruins focused on the task at hand.

Leary hit his first five 3-point attempts on his way to tying the Fullerton single-game record of 8. He broke the Pauley Pavilion records for treys made -- it was 7 by Litterial Green of Georgia -- and attempted -- it was 14 by UCLA's Reggie Miller -- on his way to a season's best 25 points. His sixth 3-pointer capped a 7-0 Titan run at the outset of the second half that gave Fullerton a 48-45 lead. The Titans still led by 3 at 54-51 with 16:09 to play before the Bruins went on a decisive 16-2 run with Ed O'Bannon scoring 10 of those points.

UCLA's lead was 12 points with 6:32 to go before the Titans rallied again.

Game No. 6

Northern Iowa Dec. 23, 1992 • Titan Gym

Chapman32 39 --71
Fullerton49 43 --92

Fullerton coach Brad Holland was not pleased. He'd seen his team's 19-point halftime lead cut to eight by a fired up Chapman squad. The media time out came just in time.

Whatever he said during that timeout worked. Leading 59-51, The Titans responded with a 19-0 run that started with 12:37 to go in the game and lasted until the 7:25 mark.

Chapman called two timeouts, but was unable to counter the intense Fullerton defense, led by an energized Aaron Sunderland. Though the point guard struggled offensively, during the run he keyed several fast breaks with his pressure defense.

Don Leary and Bruce Bowen did not struggle offensively. Leary hit seven three pointers and had 23 points while Bowen scored 10 of his 26 during the 19-0 run.

Center Sean Williams, who often towered over Chapman's defenders, scored 15 points and pulled down nine rebounds.

Game No. 8

UNLV Jan. 2, 1993 • Thomas & Mack Center

Fullerton34 31 --65
UNLV35 43 --78

A track meet of sorts broke out in the Thomas and Mack Center and the Titans didn't have the finishing kick to keep up with UNLV.

The No. 15-ranked Runnin' Rebels set a torrid early pace and with the officials letting both teams play, the pace was frantic. Only three free throws were attempted by both teams combined in the first half and only cold shooting -- 43 per cent by Fullerton and 37 per cent by UNLV -- kept the score reasonable.

Bruce Bowen scored 17 first-half points to keep the Titans in the game and was the key factor in J. R. Rider getting only 5 on his way to a career-low of 7 points. Reggie Manuel picked up the slack in the second half, scoring 14 points, many of them during a 13-2 UNLV run that turned Fullerton's last lead of 40-39 into a 52-42 Rebel advantage. Fullerton closed to 58-55 on a Sean Williams basket at 8:18 but an 11-0 Rebel run, 6 by Manuel, put the contest out of reach.

Game No. 9 New Mexico State Jan. 4, 1993 • Pan American Center

Fullerton24 43 --67
New Mexico St. ..38 40 --78

Fullerton observers thought the Titans had run out of gas at the end of their grueling 3-game road swing and lacked intensity at Las Cruces. The New Mexico State folks thought it was the best the Aggies had played since the Great Alaska Shootout.

Whatever the explanation, Fullerton was out of a game for the first time during the 1992-93 season. The Aggies overcame an early 12-11 deficit with a 16-3 run punctuated by a pair of 3-pointers by Corey Rogers and never looked back.

Fullerton rallied to within 7 points but the Aggies scored five points in the final three seconds of the half including a turnaround, 45-foot bank shot at the buzzer by Sam Crawford.

The Aggies' All-America candidate had been struggling, but that shot seemed to ignite him. He hit his first couple of 3-point attempts in the second half and the NMSU lead was always in double figures.

Game No. 11 Utah State Jan. 9, 1993 • Titan Gym

Utah State37 34 --71
Fullerton44 47 --91

Utah State came into Titan Gym on a roll. The Aggies were coming off back-to-back road wins against Nevada and UC Irvine, but would find Fullerton a less-than-receptive host. The Titans hit their first 18 free throws, a school record, and Bruce Bowen nailed a perfect 7 of 7 from the field in the first half as Fullerton built a 44-37 lead.

But the Aggies' problems were just beginning. After USU scored on the inbounds play to open the second half, the visitors went the next 11:35 without a field goal. Fullerton used the drought to push the lead to 16, 66-50, before the Aggies' Trent Rose and Jay Goodman nailed consecutive three-pointers to draw USU to within 10. It was as close as USU got. Bowen sank two free throws and center Sean Williams scored the next seven points and Fullerton was back up by 19, 75-56, with 5:48 to go.

The Titan lead fluctuated between 17 and 21 for the game's final minutes and settled at 20 after a coast-to-coast layup by Fullerton's DiJon Bernard. The bench contributed 15 points.

Game No. 10 Nevada Jan. 7, 1993 • Titan Gym

Fullerton39 42 --81
Nevada26 36 --62

Titan Gym was a welcome sight for the Titans after the 3-game road trip which was perhaps the most difficult 3-game run in school history.

Nevada, which burst into the Big West Conference in the Fall by winning the football conference championship, was rocked in its basketball debut. The Wolf Pack lost at home to Utah State before running into an aroused Fullerton team intent on snapping its 3-game losing streak.

Bruce Bowen came out smoking, scoring the first 7 Titan points on his way to a 27-point night. Nevada held its last lead at 12-11 and stayed close until the final 6:30 of the half. That's when Fullerton started a 13-5 run to ward a 39-26 halftime lead.

Nevada never seriously threatened. Each time it drew closer, the Titans would run off several unanswered baskets -- from 41-32 to 48-32 and from 70-58 to 79-58.

Fullerton fans held their collective breaths when Don Leary fell hard in the first half but he returned with only a strained wrist.

Game No. 12 UC Irvine Jan. 16, 1993 • Bren Events Center

Fullerton30 31 -- 61
UC Irvine30 29 -- 59

Don Leary's falling-down follow shot in the paint gave the Titans a memorable come-from-behind victory that was stained by an ugly post-game brawl.

After taking a 2-0 lead on Aaron Sunderland's layup, the Titans didn't lead again until Leary's basket broke a 59-59 tie. UC Irvine got a timeout with 2.7 seconds to play but Sean Williams batted away a length-of-the-court pass.

As the teams were shaking hands in front of the UCI bench, a scuffle broke out led by Anteater reserve Uzoma Obiekea punching and then kicking a fallen Bruce Bowen. Just as order was about to be restored, Obiekea rushed out to again kick Bowen, who still was down and receiving aid from trainers.

Fullerton rallied from a 20-10 deficit to forge a 30-30 tie at the half. UCI scored the first 11 points after intermission and led by as many as 12. It was 49-38 UCI with 12:01 to go when Fullerton began an 11-0 run to tie. Fullerton tied it again at 59 on Leary's 3-pointer with 3:32 to go. Stewart missed two jumpers for UCI and Fullerton missed twice before Leary rebounded his own miss and won it.

Long Beach State...32 40 -- 72

A Long Beach State team off to its best start in years took out the frustration of a 1-point loss at UC Santa Barbara three nights earlier on the Titans in the sold-out Campus Gym, where it had most recently defeated UNLV and New Mexico State.

The 49ers led from the outset against Fullerton, building a 15-6 lead as the Titans had trouble running their offense. With Sean Williams hitting his first six shots, Fullerton gradually battled back and caught up at 24-24 and 26-26. Chris Tower, who would score 21 more points than he did at UCSB, triggered a 6-0 run with a free throw and Fullerton would never get closer than 4 points again.

Tower shut out Williams from the floor in the second half while hitting 5 of 8 shots himself. Long Beach scored often out of its defense during a 16-6 surge that turned a 38-34 lead into a 54-40 edge at 10:13.

Bruce Bowen, held scoreless in the first half, and Don Leary were each held to season lows to date with 10 and 5 points, respectively.

Fullerton32 25 15 --72
UCSB28 29 11 --68

Fullerton snapped an 8-game losing streak at UCSB, silencing the Thunderdome with an overtime win that gave the Titans their fourth road victory of the year, more than in any of the previous three seasons.

Clutch free-throw shooting held off the rallying efforts of UCSB, which led only twice in the game at 55-53 and 57-55. The first lead came with 2:36 to play in regulation and capped a 9-0 run that began when a Todd Satalowich tip-in for Fullerton was overruled as offensive basket interference. After Sean Williams tied it at 55-55 at 2:18, Ray Kelly put the Gauchos up again with a driving layup only to have Aaron Sunderland tie it at 57-57 with a pair of free throws at 1:28. Both Kelly and Sunderland missed tries at go-ahead baskets in the final minute and Idris Jones' off-balance shot missed at the buzzer to produce overtime.

Bruce Bowen put the Titans ahead to stay with two free throws 23 seconds into overtime and Don Leary's 3-point field goal quickly made it a 5-point edge. From that point, the Titans hit 10 of 12 free throws as the Gauchos desper-

A much improved San Jose State team took the Titans down to the wire but Fullerton held on for its sixth consecutive home win of this season and 11th in a row overall.

The Titan players debuted new T-shirts during warmups carrying the slogan "House of Pain." But until the final seconds when Bruce Bowen made the final point of the game and then rebounded a miss to run out the clock, the only obvious pain was the expression on the face of Coach Brad Holland.

With Darryl Scott and Kevin Logan operating effectively in the paint, the Spartans matched the Titans almost bucket for bucket for 25 minutes, trailing only 42-40 with 15:05 to play. Fullerton went on a 9-4 run to build a 51-44 advantage with 8:58 to go but the Titans could never stretch it against a 5-9 team coming off back-to-back home wins over Nevada and Utah State.

In fact, the Spartans cut the margin to as few as 2 points on a couple of occasions, the last at 63-61 with 0:36 to play after the Titans turned the ball over

The largest home crowd of the year to date turned out on Alumni Association night to see two of the surprise teams of the first half of the Big West Conference battle for fourth place at the half-way pole. What they got was a spirited battle that the Titans won, in part because of the enthusiastic crowd. And, as a bonus, Fullerton moved into a tie for third place when UC Santa Barbara scored an upset win at Long Beach.

Pacific came in on a roll, having won 8 of its previous 11 games for its best streak in more than a decade. The Tigers led much of the first half, building their biggest lead at 26-20 with 5:05 remaining before intermission. But they didn't score again and Fullerton chipped away with 5 points plus saw Tony Amundsen pick up his third foul with 2:25 remaining.

Aaron Sunderland took advantage of timid defense by Amundsen and started to penetrate after intermission. He scored seven unanswered points to turn a 34-31 deficit into a 38-34 lead with 12:52 to play. Don Leary, held score-

Fullerton's opportunity for a win at Utah State, where it was winless since 1982 and 2-11 overall, seldom looked better.

The Titans had defeated the Aggies by 20 points, 91-71, at Titan Gym on Jan. 9, when the Aggies were on a 4-game winning streak. In Logan, they were catching the Aggies on a 6-game losing streak and a week removed from the announcement that Coach Kohn Smith's contract would not be renewed after the season.

It was all too good to be true. On Jan. 9, Fullerton outrebounded the Aggies, 40-25, and held Jay Goodman to only 13 points. But on this night, the Aggies had a huge rebounding advantage and Goodman scored 12 points in the first four minutes on four consecutive 3-point field goals and the Titans never were in the contest.

After a 5-5 tie, the Aggies went on a 19-1 run for a 24-6 lead with 13:23 to go in the

The suspension of Sean Williams, Aaron Sunderland and Kim Kemp, took the heart out of an interesting matchup between the Houston Cougars of the Southwest Conference and the Titans, who at 7-4, were off to their second best start ever in conference play.

Houston, ranked in the top 25 as it built an 11-2 record, had snapped a 4-game losing streak with a 12-point win two nights earlier at Nevada and came in with a 12-6 record identical to Fullerton's. The Cougars featured a strong and athletic front line led by NBA prospect Charles "Bo" Outlaw but they relied on a 3-point barrage to subdue Fullerton's makeshift lineup and 8-man roster.

The Titans got strong scoring efforts from Bruce Bowen and Don Leary and Bowen's free throw put Fullerton ahead, 19-18, with about 8 minutes to go in the first half. But Houston went on a 16-0 run and led by at least 8 point the rest of the way.

The Cougars set a school record by making 15 3-pointers and Venezuelan

Nevada, bogged down in a 5-game losing streak, was minus the services of center Rick Herrin, who had to serve a mandatory one-game suspension for his involvement in a fight during the previous game against UC Irvine. And Wolf Pack guard Melvin Jones was expected to be out with a sprained ankle.

Fullerton struggled at the outset but took the lead for good at 20-18 on a layup by DiJon Bernard. The Titans stretched the lead to as many as 12 points a couple of times including at 54-42 with 10 minutes to play.

But then the Titans hit an offensive pothole. Missed shots and turnovers kept the Titans stuck at 54 and the Pack chipped into the lead, drawing within 54-51 at 6:26 on a Jones layup.

Aaron Sunderland broke the drought with a jumper at 4:10 but Kirk Davidson countered with a basket. Fullerton boosted its lead to 6 but Rod Brown scored to make it 59-55 with 2:50 to

The rematch of the Fullerton-Irvine contest at the Bren Center was an even more thrilling game in Titan Gym without the post-game altercation. Fullerton had its three starters back from suspension and UCI was minus two players punished for the Jan. 16 fight.

Again the visiting team won on a shot with three seconds to play but this time it was in overtime as Shaun Battle took a feed from a penetrating Lloyd Mumford to dunk the game winner while being fouled. He missed the ensuing free throw but the Titans failed to call timeout on the rebound and got only a desperation toss from Don Leary at the buzzer.

Leary set up overtime and the game-winning shot by Battle by making 3-point field goals with 18 seconds to go in regulation and 28 seconds left in overtime. They were his only baskets after intermission.

Aaron Sunderland led a Fullerton rally from 15 points down with 10 minutes to play. He had 8 assists and 4 steals with only two turnovers to go with his career-high 28 points and 7 rebounds.

Aaron Sunderland continued his clutch play and that allowed the Titans to avenge an earlier defeat at Long Beach State.

The Titans and 49ers staged a physical defensive battle in the first half that saw the teams shoot a combined 31 per cent from the floor and each team had two players with three personal fouls.

Long Beach got into the more serious foul trouble after intermission as guard Jeff Rogers and forward Rod Hannibal each picked up No. 4 in the first two minutes. Meanwhile, the Titans scored the first seven points of the half to extend their lead to 35-25. They stretched it to 59-47 with 6:40 to go on two Bruce Bowen charities as Hannibal fouled out.

But Long Beach went on a 9-0 spurt before the Titans scored again and Kim Kemp fouled out for the Titans at 2:52. The 49ers eventually closed to 62-61 and had the ball with 1:40 to play. Lucious Harris missed a driving layin and Sunderland countered with a successful shot to put Fullerton ahead 64-61 at 1:02. Harris missed a tying 3-pointer and

The Titans closed out an exciting four-game homestand with another game that went down to the final buzzer.

The teams played a see-saw first half with two ties and 10 lead changes. UCSB gained the advantage early in the second half at 36-35 on a Doug Muse basket. Fullerton countered with a Bruce Bowen layup. UCSB went up 38-37 on Ray Kelly's drive but that would be its last advantage. Aaron Sunderland put the Titans ahead to stay at 39-38 and the Titans stretched it to 44-38 and eventually 65-57 with 1:15 to play when Sunderland scored.

But the Gauchos wouldn't quit and the Titans quit making free throws and started committing turnovers. The Gauchos got two Kelly baskets and a 3-pointer by Idris Jones at 0:18 to make it 65-64. Don Leary hit the second of two free throws at 0:07 to make it 66-64. Sunderland intercepted an inbound pass and although Kim Kemp missed two free throws, the the Gauchos got only a desperation toss at the buzzer.

Pacific32 24 --56

A battle for third place in the Big West Conference went the host Tigers' way when they made enough winning plays down the stretch against a Fullerton team severely weakened when Aaron Sunderland fouled out with 6:26 to play.

After a close first half and a second half that saw the Tigers blow a 5-point lead and the Titans squander a 6-point advantage, the score was tied at 48 when Sunderland went to the sidelines. DiJon Bernard made one of two free throws at 5:17, Sean Williams made a hook at 4:08 and Bruce Bowen tossed in a jumper at 3:12 to give the Titans a 53-48 lead.

But Glenn Griffin hit two free throws at 2:52 and the Tigers stole the ball in a full-court press and Robert Richardson put in a follow shot at 2:32. Pacific forced another turnover and Richardson made the game-winning basket at 1:02.

The Titans never got another shot. Sharif Metoyer turned it over at 0:23 and had to foul Michael Jackson, who made one free throw at 0:19. The Tigers used their sixth team foul on Bowen driving in the lane at 0:07 and finally Tony Amundsen deflected and stole an inbound pass from Kim Kemp to set up

San Jose State..28 32 --60

A San Jose State team on the brink of extinction from the Big West post-season tournament rose up to put the finishing touches on a forgettable Titan trip.

The Spartans, losers two nights earlier to UC Irvine in a battle for eighth place, came out of the blocks strong and took a 7-0 lead that caused Coach Brad Holland to yank his perimeter starters after seeing his team get two errant shots and four turnovers on their first six possessions.

Fullerton took a brief lead at 15-14 but then fell behind again as the Spartans controlled the backboards. It took consecutive 3-point field goals by Bruce Bowen and Aaron Sunderland in the final 98 seconds to get the Titans within a point at halftime.

Two baskets and a free throw by Sean Williams gave Fullerton a 32-30 lead but it would be its last. The Spartans went on a 7-0 "run" over the next five minutes and eventually led by 7 at 47-40 with 9:17 to play. Don Leary, shut out in the first half, erupted with three consecutive treys and later hit a fourth but San Jose State kept the lead. Bowen missed a jumper to tie with about a minute to go and Leary rushed a shot from the top of

New Mexico State ..36 42 --78

Aaron Sunderland suffered through one of the coldest shooting nights in Titan basketball history and Fullerton fell to eventual conference champion New Mexico State for its third consecutive loss.

Sean Williams was the only Titan starter to enjoy a good shooting night yet Fullerton found itself with a 1-point lead at 55-54 with 8:15 to play after a pair of DiJon Bernard free throws. The Titans were outrebounding the Aggies, had a slight edge in turnovers and held the upper hand in 3-point field goals. Suddenly, the last statistic turned on them. After two Marc Thompson free throws gave the Aggies a 56-55 lead, Sam Crawford hit the Aggies' first trey of the night and Corey Rogers hit one on the next possession and the Aggies had a 62-55 lead. After Williams dunked off an inbounds pass, James Dockery scored a basket and Rogers hit the Aggies' third and final 3-pointer and the game was virtually over at 67-57 with 4:27 to play.

New Mexico State scored the game's first six points and never trailed in the half. Fullerton caught the Aggies at 30-

Halfway through the first-round game of the Big West post-season tournament, Fullerton's chances were looking good. The Titans were sporting a 12-0 record in games in which they led at the half and on this occasion it was a healthy 8-point margin.

But the 49ers scored 7 points in the first 45 seconds of the second half to get back into a game in which they were trailing by as many as 13 points in the first half at 31-18. They first took a lead at 39-38 and boosted it to 48-41 to cap a 30-10 run that started them on their way to their first NCAA bid since 1977.

But the Titans fought back behind Aaron Sunderland and Sean Williams, who would score a career high 24 points in one of his best overall performances as a Titan. Sunderland's jumper tied it at 53 and Williams' lay-in put Fullerton ahead again at 55-53. Long Beach went ahead for good at 63-61 on two Lucious Harris free throws at 5:05 and the 49ers would eventually make 24 of 29 second-half free throws.

Redemption for Aaron Sunderland came less than 48 hours later as he picked up a loose ball and calmly drilled a jump shot from the free-throw line with two seconds to play to give the Titans only their fourth victory over UNLV in 33 tries.

Fullerton got its final opportunity after J. R. Rider missed a shot with about 40 seconds to play and UNLV on top, 83-82. After calling time out with 0:19 to play, the Titans cleared the lane for Sunderland to drive. He fumbled the ball away, saw it go through Dexter Boney's legs and hands, retrieved it on the back side and completed a full circle before hitting a shot in the same basket and on the same line but from about half the distance of Wayne Williams' memorable 3-pointer at the overtime buzzer for Fullerton's last win over UNLV in 1989.

A sellout crowd of 4,128 stormed the court after Sunderland's shot but had to be cleared when the officials put one second back up after a UNLV timeout. Dedan Thomas caught Evric Gray's 70-foot pass but could only put up an air ball at the final buzzer.

TITANS IN THE N.B.A.

Cal State Fullerton has been well represented at the professional level despite the relative youth of the intercollegiate basketball program.

Seven Titans have been drafted in the past 11 years and several more players have signed as free agents. The Titans hit it big in 1984 when two players made National Basketball Association the point guard on the United States' gold-medal 1984 Olympic team under Coach Bob Knight.

Cedric Ceballos of the Phoenix Suns

More recent Titan star Cedric Ceballos has become a fan favorite during three seasons with the Phoenix Suns after being a second-round draft pick. "Ice" cemented his place in the Valley of the Sun by winning the Slam Dunk competition at the 1992 NBA rosters--guard Leon Wood with Philadelphia and center Ozell Jones with San Antonio. Each was subsequently traded more than once. Wood completed a 6-year NBA career with Sacramento on Christmas Eve, 1990. He played last year in the CBA and in France and was touring recently with Magic Johnson's All-Stars in Europe. He expects to return to the CBA and maybe get one more shot in the NBA. He began his post-Titan career as

All-Star game with a blindfolded "hocus-pocus" performance. He is one of the NBA's most prolific scorers in terms of points per minutes played and has been a part-time starter. He injured his foot and missed the NBA Finals with the Chicago Bulls.

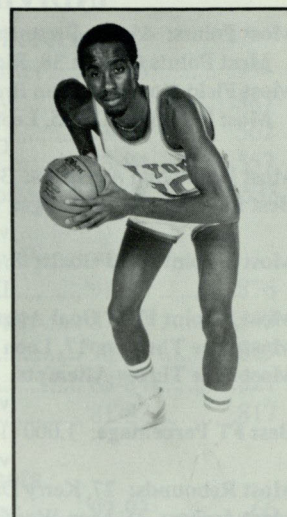

Forward Bruce Bowen hopes to make a CBA team this season. At press time, he was slated to play for High Five America in a series of exhibition games at such places as Duke, LSU and Memphis State.

Other former Titans in and out of the NBA and CBA the past few years were 1988 graduates Richard Morton and Henry Turner. Morton started the 1988-89 season with Indiana and later played with Golden State.

Turner, who was a teammate of Morton's in the CBA, spent much of the 1989-90 season with Sacramento. Morton was one of the top scorers in the CBA last season and made the loop's all-star team.

Another recent Titan to play in the NBA was guard Kevin Henderson, who played with Golden State and Cleveland. Other players drafted in the 1980s were Ricky Mixon (Lakers), Tony Neal (Lakers) and Kerry Boagni (Utah Jazz).

From the decade of the 1970s, the Titans saw forward Greg Bunch play for the New York Knicks and forward Mike Niles play with the Phoenix Suns. Foreign leagues have featured the likes of center Herman (Demone) Webster, Boagni and sharpshooter Kevin Heenan to name a few.

Greg Bunch played with the New York Knicks in 1979.
