

The View

September 9, 1991 Vol. 2, No. 5

From

California State University Hayward

American Language Program students produce lively newsletter

Would you like to know how to say "I love you" in fifteen languages, or how to cook French crepes or ducks feet in sauce? You can pick up knowledge like this by reading the American Language Program (ALP) newsletter.

The weekly newsletter features recipes, CD and movie reviews, poetry, artwork and even a gossip column called "Spy." The newsletter mixes the serious with the lighthearted. Articles on why women are marrying later in Taiwan, what makes a good marriage, cultural differences in dating, and commentaries on world affairs find space along side tidbits on parties and new romances and announcements about soccer matches and field trips to local museums.

Some of the articles were first prepared for classes, others are generated by the newsletter staff. The staff also lays out the newsletter using the old cut-and-paste method. Karen

McRobie, ALP instructor and advisor, feels that computerizing the layout of the newsletter would take away the team feeling of the process.

According to McRobie, the newsletter is "fun and a learning experience for students and gives them an opportunity to become leaders." McRobie created the newsletter in 1988 in response to requests by ALP students for more activities.

ALP has been on campus for sixteen years and is open to international students eighteen and older, who have studied English in their native countries. Students attend classes twenty hours each week to improve their reading, writing, listening and speaking skills.

Issues of the newsletter are distributed to some campus departments and copies are available in Extension Division, Warren Hall 851. Publication resumes this fall.—Dee Owens

The international press—Creators of the ALP's informative and entertaining newsletter are from left Liao Shih-chung (Derek), Taiwan; Ana Paula Chaud, Brazil; Luiz Gustavo Ghion, Brazil; Jun Ishida, Japan; Marie-Pierre Menier, France; and Karen McRobie, ALP advisor.

Nominations requested for CSUH Athletic Hall of Fame

Plans are underway for the February 8, 1992 Athletic Hall of Fame luncheon. Cal State Hayward's fourth class of inductees will be honored at a ceremony at the Holiday Inn, Union City, prior to the basketball game against San Francisco State.

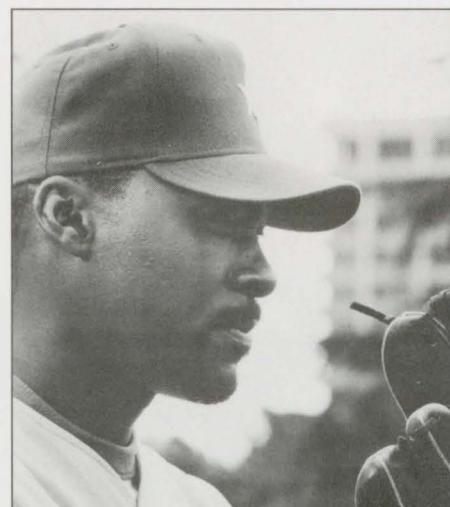

Nominations are now open for prospective inductees to the Hall of Fame, which was established in 1986 and accepts new members every two years. To be eligible, athletes must have played in one or more intercollegiate sports while attending Cal State Hayward. His or her last competition must have occurred at least five years prior to February, 1992. In addition to athletes, the Hall of Fame has a special award category for a coach, faculty or staff member, or any other individual who has made a positive impact on the University's athletic program.

Nomination forms can be obtained by calling the Athletic Office, ext. 3038. The deadline for submission of nominations is November 1.

Past experience shows that the luncheon sells out quickly. Reservations can be made by calling ext. 3528.

Future Hall of Famer

Dave Stewart of the A's was on campus in August with teammate Dennis Eckersley to make a video for an arcade game that gives players a chance to bat against them.

Inside Perestroika—Abel Aganbegyan, an economist and advisor to Mikhail Gorbachev, spoke to a crowded Biella Room audience on August 30.

Soviet crisis will deepen says "optimistic" economist

Abel Aganbegyan, one of the first Soviet economists to work with Mikhail Gorbachev on reforms in the U.S.S.R., visited campus August 30 to discuss management training programs with Jay Tontz, dean of the School of Business and Economics, and to deliver the first lecture sponsored by the Smith Center for Private Enterprise Studies.

Aganbegyan said that the Soviet Union has new determination following the failure of the recent coup, but that the country's economic crisis will deepen before it gradually improves. "A pessimist is someone who thinks it is impossible for our problems to get worse," he said. "An optimist is someone who thinks it is possible. I am an optimist."

He also believes that without some kind of economic union among the majority of the republics conditions will be "catastrophic." The Baltic republics, who will not join such a union, will find that they need the rest of the federation because they must rely on

Early morning aerobics added to recreational programs

The Associated Students recreational program for fall begins the week of September 30. To sign up, call ext. 3908.

The offerings are as follows:

Low-impact aerobics—Monday and Wednesday, 7:00-7:45 a.m.

Aqua-aerobics—Monday and Wednesday, noon-1p.m., six weeks only (September 30-November 6)

Aerobic fitness—Monday and Wednesday, 5:15-6:15 p.m.

Body sculpting—Tuesday and Thursday, 5:15-6:15 pm.

Open weight room—Monday through Thursday, 7-9 p.m., Friday, 1:30-3:30 p.m., $5 fee per quarter.

Save this date:

September 20: Annual Fall Staff Reception, 10:30 a.m., University Theatre.

September 23: Annual Fall Faculty Reception, 8:30 a.m., University Theatre.

September 25-26: Pioneer Days, 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m., University Union.

The View

The View from California State University, Hayward is published every other Monday except during academic recesses. Deadline for submission of material is Monday, 5 p.m. two weeks prior to the publication date. Please address all copy to The View, 908 Warren Hall. All copy over 50 words must be submitted on a disk or through e-mail to ~view. Copy may be edited for style, length and appropriateness.

The View is a publication of the Office of University Relations and Development.

Managing Editor: Linda Schneider
Photos: Tony Avelar, Peter Van Court

Publication Dates

September 30 -Copy Deadline: September 16

September

17 Tuesday

- Academic Administrative Retreat. 9am-4pm. Location TBA.

20 Friday

- Annual Fall Staff Reception. Reception: 10:30am. Program: 11am. University Theatre.

23 Monday

- Annual Fall Faculty Reception. Reception: 8:30am. Program: 9am. University Theatre.

25 Wednesday

- Classes begin for fall quarter.

25-26 Wednesday and Thursday

- Pioneer Days. 11:30am-1:30pm. University Union.

October

2 Wednesday

- al fresco. Music and Business Building Peristyle.

16 Wednesday

- "You Laugh, You Lose," audience participation game. 7pm. University Union.

31 Thursday

- Children's Halloween party sponsored by University Union Program Council and the Associated Students. 5:30-8:30pm. Children ages four-twelve are invited. Free.

November

1 Friday

- Smith Center Inaugural Lecture. Nobel laureate Milton Friedman on "Economic Freedom, Human Freedom, Political Freedom." 7:30pm. University Theatre.

7 Thursday 8-10

- The Inclusive University: Multicultural Perspectives in Higher Education. Parc Oakland Hotel.

9 Saturday

- Turkey Trot-Fun Race. 3.5 mile run around campus. 9am. $5/staff and faculty, $10/community.

11 Monday

- Veterans Day. University closed.

28 Thursday and 29

- Thanksgiving Day and rescheduled Columbus Day. University closed.

December

6 Friday

- Last day of classes for fall quarter.

Items in this section are printed in the order in which they are received in the Office of University Relations and Development. We receive numerous submissions each week and print them as space allows.

Sterling Sakai (Relations with Schools) has been appointed to serve on the Diversity Concerns Commission of the National Association of Collegiate Admissions Counselors for 1990-92.

Richard L. Kimball (ALP) presented a slideshow/lecture/discussion on "Protecting Precious Panda," at the Le Conte Memorial in Yosemite National Park for the Sierra Club on August 11.

Norman N. Goldstein (Biological Sciences) contributed an essay "Bioelectricity" to the text Human Anatomy and Physiology edited by Joan G. Creager.

Elizabeth Huttman (Sociology) recently had her seventh book published. The work Urban Housing Segregation of Minorities in Western Europe and the United States was published by Duke University Press. Huttman served as the editor as well as contributing four sections and co-authoring "American Suburbs: Desegregation and Resegregation," with Terry Jones. Her sixth book A Handbook on Housing and the Built Environment was reviewed in International Journal of Urban and Regional Research, July 1990. An article on housing aspirations of families appeared in the Summer 1991 issue of Journal of Comparative Family Studies. At the Oslo International Housing Policy conference in June, Huttman gave a paper entitled "Short Time Horizons: U.S. Policy for the Homeless."

Samuel I. Doctors (Management and Finance) has been appointed to the National Advisory Council on Environmental Policy and Technology. The council reports to the head of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Na'im Shabazz (University Union) attended the Association of College Unions-International, Committee on Multicultural Programs meeting August 4-7 at the University of Texas, Austin. He was selected as the vice chair for the national committee. He also spoke July 20 at San Quentin State Penitentiary on "Self Responsibility" and on August 17 at Masjidul Warithan in Oakland on early interventions for adolescents with drug and alcohol programs. The seminar was sponsored by African American Men Against Narcotics (A.A.M.A.N.).

Nancy E. Fegan (Geological Sciences) presented a paper entitled "Identification of Detrital Particles and Chemical Precipitates in Stream Water" at the annual meeting of the Fine Particle Society on August 2 in San Jose.

Elwood R. Brooks (Geological Sciences) was second author of the paper "Tamarack tuff: A Devonian submarine pyroclastic flow deposit in the northern Sierra Nevada, Plumas and Sierra counties," co-authored with June L. Legler (first author) and John S. Lull. The article appeared in the June 1991 issue of California Geology, pp. 130-137. Legler and Lull earned M.S. degrees in geology under Brooks' direction.

Paul Harkness (Purchasing) is appearing in Sherlock Holmes and the Curse of the Sign of Four at the Holiday Inn-Union Square. He is also appearing in Commedia on Broadway at Broadway Theater in San Francisco. The production runs Monday and Tuesdays through September 17.

Jay L. Tontz (SBE) spoke on August 15 to the Hayward High Twelve Club on "CSUH's Role in Educating Future Soviet Managerial Leaders."

The View

From California
State
University
Hayward

University Relations & Development, CSUH, Hayward, CA 94542-3004