The University

California State University, Fullerton is a broadly based liberal arts institution that also offers many professional studies such as business administration, education, engineering and nursing.

Classes were offered for the first time in 1959 and the first commencement — for five students — took place in 1960.

The University's 24,500 students come primarily from southern California with many from other states and other nations. Most students commute each day to and from classes, although nearly 400 now live on campus in recently completed residence halls.

Drawn from throughout the world, the 775-member faculty is noted for its commitment to effective teaching and scholarly activity. Research is actively pursued, typically with students involved.

The University is fully accredited and enjoys national recognition for both its array of traditional academic programs and a growing list of independently accredited professional programs, including art, athletics training, business, chemistry, communications, computer science, dance, education, engineering, music, nursing, public administration, speech and hearing and theater. All told, there are 85 degree programs — 41 of them at the graduate level — plus a wide variety of credential and certificate programs.

Reinforcing classroom instruction is an internship and cooperative education program that allows students to gain on-the-job experience while continuing their regular studies.

Another amenity is the extended education program. It provides classes, workshops, conferences and study tours without the formalities of regular admission to the University.

Still another strong point is the University's cultural events program. It includes a series that brings nationally known professional artists to the campus for residencies as well as public performances.

An extensive recreation program aimed chiefly at students but also open to community members is another highlight, as is the network of community support groups, including the Titan Athletic Foundation.

Further examples of community outreach are the new Ruby Gerontology Center, which serves as an educational and research facility for the study of aging and a meeting place for the Continuing Learning Experience support group.

Through a series of joint ventures started in 1979 with the establishment of the Fullerton Arboretum and continuing now with the October grand opening of the Marriott Hotel, the University and the City of Fullerton are working to complete an on-campus sports complex by mid-1992. Already in use are two lighted softball fields. When the main part of the sports complex is finished, it will include a stadium for football, soccer and other activities plus a pavilion for baseball.

To reinforce the University's commitment to high academic standards and community services, Cal State has embarked on a comprehensive fund-raising campaign. Its purpose is to raise the necessary non-state funding to make a very good university a great university.

Administration

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb, President

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb became the third president of Cal State Fullerton on Oct. 1, 1981. She has announced her retirement effective in July, 1990.

Dr. Cobb had served as dean of Douglass College at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, since 1976. There she also held the rank of professor of biological sciences. Prior to her Douglass appointment she was dean of Connecticut College and professor of zoology for seven years. Previously, she was professor of biology at Sarah Lawrence College in New York.

Known for her work in cell physiology, her promotion of the advancement of women in scientific fields and her activities on behalf of minorities, she is the first black woman to head a major public university on the West Coast.

Cobb earned her bachelor's degree from Talladega College in Alabama and her M.S. and Ph.D. in cell physiology from New York University. She also holds 17 honorary doctorates. She is the mother of a son, Jonathan, a graduate of the Cornell University Medical School now serving on a post-residency fellowship at the New York University Medical Center.

Athletics Department

Ed Carroll, Director of Athletics

The rapid climb of Ed Carroll through the ranks of the Cal State Fullerton athletics department culminated in his appointment as Director of Athletics on July 1, 1985.

University President Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb made the announcement on May 28, 1985, after a nationwide search and Carroll, now 39, immediately ushered in an era of "positive thinking" for Titan athletics.

"One of my priorities has been to enhance the image of our athletics program by stressing positives," says Carroll. "We must use the power of positive thinking to overcome our limitations and build our program to greater heights."

One of Carroll's first moves was to upgrade the football schedule. The Titans have played LSU, Florida and West Virginia in recent seasons and have dates with Georgia and Auburn in the near future. With the new stadium complex now firmly on the horizon, Carroll has signed Mississippi State, Colorado State, UTEP and Army to a home-and-home series.

Carroll scored his first hiring coup when he was able to replace Augie Garrido with equally successful Larry Cochell as the baseball coach for 1988. Cochell took the Titans to the College World Series in his first season and was selected national Coach of the Year by "Collegiate Baseball Magazine."

Building plans are being finalized and construction has begun indirectly for an on-campus Sports Complex to provide a playing facility for football, soccer and baseball as well as an all-weather track. An on-campus Marriott Hotel opened in October and the revenue it generates will help finance the $10.2 million athletics project, due for completion in 1992.

Fund-raising levels have reached record numbers during Carroll's tenure. The Titan Athletic Foundation's 1989 spring drive raised more than $450,000.

Carroll began his Fullerton athletic career as a wrestler. In 1972, he served as team captain and was selected the "Most Outstanding Wrestler" in the California Collegiate Athletic Association championship meet. He later served as an assistant to former head coach Don Matson.

Carroll earned bachelor's degrees in history (1972) and physical education (1974) from Fullerton as well as a secondary teaching credential. He taught physical education classes at Fullerton and earned a master's degree in recreation administration from Long Beach State.

After serving in various capacities in the Fullerton recreation department, Carroll left briefly in mid-1980 to serve as a recreational sports programmer and doctoral intern at Indiana University. He returned to Fullerton in November, 1980, as an assistant athletics director and later served as acting director of the Titan Athletic Foundation. He then served under athletics director Lynn Eilefson, who left in January, 1985.

Ed and his wife Connie live in Fullerton with young children Brandon and Kimberly.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The athletics department wishes to acknowledge the support of the CSUF Associated Students, Inc.; the Instructionally Related Activity (IRA) Committee and the CSUF student body they represent. Their support is critical to the success of the Titans' Division I program.

Titan Athletic Foundation

Walt Bowman, Executive Director

The Titan Athletic Foundation, or the T.A.F. as it is usually called, is a non-profit volunteer organization established solely for the purpose of generating financial and other support for the Cal State Fullerton athletics department.

Membership is open to everyone and the current rolls include not only alumni, faculty, staff and students but also a great many friends of the university, area businesses and respected community leaders.

Gifts received by the T.A.F. are used to provide a quality education for deserving student-athletes. Because the state of California is forbidden to allocate funds for the purpose of scholarships, the fund-raising efforts of the TAF are critical to the success of the entire athletics department. Gate receipts, road game guarantees and television income are insufficient to cover the full range of needs facing a quality and competitive intercollegiate athletics program on the Division I level.

The Spring, 1989 fund drive directed by Tom Mury was the most productive ever with more than $450,000 in cash pledged for 1989-90 scholarship aid.

All inquiries should be directed to: Titan Athletic Foundation, California State University, Box 34080, Fullerton, CA 92634-9480, or by calling (714) 773-3480.

Kevin Forth is the current president of the T.A.F., serving a second term. Other past presidents have included Ken Henderson, Don Karcher, Buck Johns, Pierre Nicolas, Larry Slagle, Jim Woods, Bud Steffen, Den Hood and Don Outlaw.

Walt Bowman assumed the role of executive director on April 10 after serving more than nine years as athletics director at Chapman College in Orange. While also serving as Associate Athletics Director for Development at Fullerton, Bowman oversees all external affairs of the athletics department including marketing and public relations.

Head Coach John Sneed

Second Year Career & at CSUF: 16-13 Long Beach State '71

"I hope the job's a little easier to keep than it was to get."

That was one of John Sneed's simple comments to summarize a complex story that was capped March 11 when he was named head men's basketball coach at Cal State Fullerton and signed a 3-year contract. The appointment after a thorough nationwide search came the day after the conclusion of an "interim" 1988-89 season that saw him bring energy and excitement to Titan basketball.

After three years as an assistant at Arizona and San Diego State and eight years under George McQuarn at Fullerton, Sneed was thrust into a head coaching role last Nov. 3 when McQuarn resigned. What Sneed lacked in time was compounded by other shortcomings — no returning starters, a roster of barely 10 healthy players and no chance to hire another assistant coach.

"I told the players that we could hopefully surprise one another and surprise others out there," Sneed recalls.

The Titans responded with a thrilling 16-13 season. Picked to finish ninth in the Big West Conference, they tied for fourth and gained the semi-finals of the post-season tournament. They went 8-2 in games decided by 3 points or less and were 5-1 in overtime games including their first win over UNLV in six years.

"A lot of people stood behind me last year in a difficult situation, and I am thankful to them," said Sneed, 41. "The faculty, administration and fans... everyone was very positive and gave me a lot of help. I was fortunate to get the opportunity. A lot of assistants never get that chance."

Sneed has paid his coaching dues. He began at Verbum Dei High School in Los Angeles as an assistant to McQuarn. After two years he succeeded McQuarn and immediately won the 1974 CIF Championship and Coach of the Year honors when he guided the Eagles to a 30-2 record and the mythical national championship by National Sport News Service. He followed that up with two more Camino Real League titles with 28-1 and 23-5 seasons for a three-year prep record of 81-8 (.910).

He went to Arizona as an assistant to Fred Snowden for the 1976-77 season, which saw the 21-6 Wildcats in the NCAA Tournament. He was at San Diego State under Tim Vezie for two years. The 1977-78 Aztecs won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association title but were eliminated in the post-season tournament by Cal State Fullerton.

After 11 years as a college assistant, Sneed has special compassion for the assistant coach and his chances of becoming a head coach.

"The goal I had for a number of years was to be a Division I head coach," he explained. "Sometime you don't get that opportunity, because it's not like a player, who can walk on to show his ability. A coach never has that opportunity."

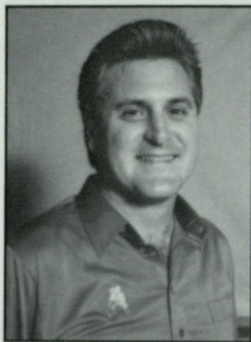

Under McQuarn, Sneed coordinated the scouting of opponents, recruiting and academics programs and tutorial services and also was the inspiration behind many promotional themes.

"One of my priorities will be to improve the academic situation at the university," said Sneed. "We have been working very hard at that, to bring about a change in attitude in our athletes and to raise our graduation rate. We're not going to complete that in a few months. That will be over a longer period of time."

Sneed and his wife, Rose, live in Anaheim with 2-year-old daughter Ashley.

Assistant Coaches

Dan Dion First year St. Mary's ('76)

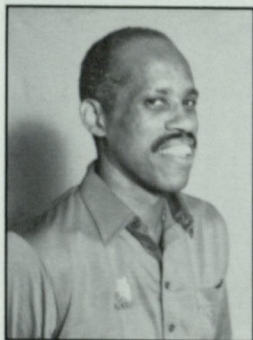

Dan Dion brings a wealth of experience in collegiate basketball in the west to the Cal State Fullerton program, where he will work primarily with the Titans' backcourt. Off the floor, he will be involved with academics, scouting opponents and recruiting.

Dion, 35, was an assistant to Coach Neil McCarthy the past seven years—three at Weber State and the past four at New Mexico State. The Aggies posted a 70-54 record during his tenure and annually were in the top half of the Big West standings. Dion also played for McCarthy at St. Patrick's High School in Vallejo and began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Weber State in 1976-77.

Dion was an All-Big Sky Conference selection as a sophomore at Weber State before transferring to St. Mary's, where he was team captain. He served as head coach for five years at St. Patrick's, where he had scored more than 2,000 points in an illustrious prep career.

"Dan is a quality addition to our staff," said head coach John Sneed of his April 19 appointment. "I've known Dan for several years and he is a hard worker with great knowledge on and off the floor. We are excited to have him join us."

Dan and his wife, Karen, have a 7-year-old daughter, Lindsay.

Keith Starr First year Pittsburgh ('76)

Keith Starr brings a winning tradition to the Titans' program, where he will work with the inside players in his first season in Fullerton. Off the floor, he will be involved in academics, scouting of opponents and, of course, recruiting.

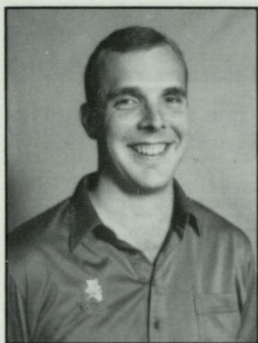

Starr, 35, spent the last four seasons on the staff of Coach Jerry Tarkanian at UNLV. He worked extensively with the Rebels' big men and ran UNLV's summer basketball camps. During his tenure in Las Vegas, the Rebels posted a 127-21 (.858) record and made four trips to the NCAA Tournament, reaching the Final Four in 1987.

"Keith has great knowledge of basketball talent in California and the Southwest and will be a great asset to our program," said Coach John Sneed of Starr's July 1 appointment. "He has been involved with winners at every level of basketball."

Starr was a premier player in the East at Pittsburgh and played briefly in the National Basketball Association. He was on the Panthers' 1973 NCAA Tournament team and graduated in 1976 with a degree in economics.

The Sewickley, Pennsylvania native lived in Las Vegas for 12 years after ending his playing career. Keith, a bachelor, enjoys reading and listening to jazz.

Brian Underwood

First year
Cal Lutheran ('86)

Brian Underwood joins John Sneed's coaching staff for the 1989-90 season as a part-time assistant. He will perform myriad duties including film exchange and recruiting mailings as well as assisting on the floor.

Underwood, 26, most recently served as an assistant coach at Cal Lutheran University in Thousand Oaks, his alma mater, the past two seasons. He was recruiting coordinator, academic advisor, fund raiser and director of the Kingsmen Classic summer camps. During the same time frame he originated and coached the Ventura-Santa Barbara Breakers club team.

A communication arts major at Cal Lutheran, Underwood graduated in 1986. He spent one season as a varsity assistant coach at Thousand Oaks High School and led the freshman team to a 16-5 record, its best mark in 10 seasons. He was head coach in the 1987 Ventura County All-Star Game, directing the South to a 122-103 victory over the North.

Underwood's playing career came at Corona del Mar High School in Newport Beach. He was a member of the Seakings' CIF playoff team in 1982.

Brian and his wife, Allyson, live in Placentia. His goal is to become a head coach of a competitive men's intercollegiate basketball program.

Academics Coordinator

Alison Cone

Seventh year
Washington State

Alison Cone is in her seventh year at Cal State Fullerton as Academics Coordinator, assisting student-athletes in reaching their academic goals. She organizes the tutorial programs, sets up study halls and conducts advisement sessions with each athlete.

Cone previously served as assistant athletics director and advising and eligibility coordinator at Cal State Dominguez Hills.

A native of Washington, Cone earned her bachelor's degree at Washington State and her teaching certificate at Central Washington. She coached tennis, basketball, track and soccer at Auburn High School and basketball and volleyball at Green River Community College in Washington.

Cone worked on her master's degree at Dominguez Hills, where she also lectured in physical education classes and served as women's tennis coach for the 1982-83 seasons. She is single and lives in Fullerton.

Season Preview

With four starters and seven of the top eight scorers back from a pressure-tested 16-13 team, the scenario for another exciting Cal State Fullerton basketball season in 1989-90 seems ready to be played out.

"Considering the difficulty of our non-conference schedule and the improvement of so many Big West teams, winning 16 games again this year will be a challenge," said Coach John Sneed, who proved the "experts" way off base just this past season. "I know what the expectations are, but I also knew what they were last year and look what happened."

With no starters back, player defections reducing the roster to 10 players and the head coach resigning on Nov. 3, the Titans' prospects for the 1988-89 season were gloomy at best. Instead, "interim" head coach Sneed orchestrated a memorable campaign that he parlayed into a 3-year contract as the head man.

Fullerton went 5-1 in overtime and overcame a mid-season 7-game losing streak by posting an 8-2 record in games decided by 3 points or less. The only regular from that team the Titans must replace is forward Derek Jones, who averaged 11.5 points and 6.9 rebounds in an inspiring comeback from serious gunshot wounds.

"Derek was the team leader and we will have to find someone to fill that role," said Sneed. "With the experience and the number of seniors we have, that should not be a problem."

Inside scoring is the Titans' main concern. Returning centers John Sykes (4.9) and David Moody (2.9) have not shown that quality so Sneed will be looking for it from the power forward spot. The immediate candidate is sophomore Agee Ward, a rugged 6-foot-5, 220-pounder from Washington High in Los Angeles, who was idled last year by Prop. 48. Another possibility, but not until he becomes eligible on Dec. 16, is University of Washington transfer Ron Caldwell. The former Crenshaw High School standout was a regular for the Huskies in 1986-87 but missed the next season due to a knee injury.

"Both of these players have the potential to be outstanding, but both are coming off a year of inactivity," said Sneed. "You never know what effect that will have."

The perimeter is the team's strength and it should be even better this year. All three starters are back and each will be trying to better post-season acclaim from a year ago.

Small forward Cedric Ceballos was first-team All-Big West and honorable mention All-American and again should challenge for Player of the Year honors. He led the conference in scoring (21.2 ppg) and was second in rebounding (8.8rpg). He was at his best against UNLV, AVERAGING 29.7 points and 12 rebounds in three contests.

Off guard Mark Hill was an honorable mention all-conference selection and probably deserved higher honors. He was the second best scorer in Big West play at 19.3 points per game and averaged 17.6 overall. He set school records in 3-point field goal proficiency and shot 42 per cent for the year.

Point guard Wayne Williams made the Big West all-freshman team and some thought he should have been Freshman of the Year. Starting all 29 games at the demanding position, he made the game-winning plays on at least five occasions, ranging from buzzer-beating 3-pointers to last-minute open-court steals. He averaged 8.3 points and 5.2 assists, fifth best in school history.

Back-ups or even challengers to this trio are plentiful.

Van Anderson returns for a full senior season. A mid-year addition to last year's team, the 6-foot-4 defensive specialist is a perfect complement to the offensive minded Ceballos.

Hill will be rested or tested by Dareck Crane, the co-MVP of the Orange Empire Conference from Orange Coast College. The 6-foot-2 junior scored 992 points last year, third-best in Pirate history.

Competing with Williams again will be senior Marlon Vaughn, a two-year letterman with plenty of experience in a relief role.

There also are two promising youngsters waiting in the wings in Bruce Bowen, a 6-foot-5 guard from Edison High of Fresno and Aaron Wilhite, a 6-foot-7 forward from Lincoln High in San Diego. The Titans also have two walk-on candidates in guards Jason Hart from St. Paul High School and 5-foot-6 Tom Parada from St. Francis High.

Van Anderson played a vital role in the Titans' strong finish last season and is expected to be a catalyst over the entire 1989-90 campaign... versatile performer who provides experience, aggressive defense and quickness to the Fullerton lineup at small forward... has offensive potential when needed... excellent all-around athlete.

LAST YEAR: Became academically eligible for the spring semester and joined team for Jan. 28 game at Pacific... played in every game down the stretch in relief of Cedric Ceballos... averaged 2.3 points and 1.7 rebounds... hit 5 of 11 attempts from 3-point range... most memorable performance came on Feb. 23 vs. Pacific when "3" became a magic number... in 16 minutes of play, scored 12 points on 3-for-3 shooting from 3-point land and 3-for-3 shooting at the foul line... grabbed 3 offensive and 3 defensive rebounds in 3-point Titan victory... total of 6 rebounds was season high... next best effort was against Utah State in Big West Tournament win when he scored 11 points and grabbed 4 rebounds in relief of Ceballos.

SOPHOMORE YEAR: Played in all 29 of Titans games, starting 20 of them including 17 of final 18... averaged 5.5 points and 3.8 rebounds... had high of 22 points in victory over Brown, hitting 9 of 11 field goal attempts and all 3 free throw tries... was also in double overtime in win at Pacific... hit game-winning bucket with 11 seconds to play in overtime win over Utah State in Big West Tournament.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: Led all California JC players in scoring with a 28-point average for state champion Ventura College in 1987-88... was third in rebounding at 11.2 per game... All-American selection... first-team all-state... Most Valuable Player in the Western States Conference... member of JC recruiting expert Rick Ball's 1988-89 pre-season All-American squad of incoming transfers as published in The Sporting News... coached by Phil Mathews, a former Titan assistant... also ran on the Pirates' track team.

HIGH SCHOOL: Played only one season of varsity ball for Coach Ernie Carr at Dominguez High School in Compton... averaged 12 points and 8 rebounds... higher scoring teammates were Ronnie Coleman (USC) and current Titan teammate Marlon Vaughn... team lost in the CIF playoffs to Muir, which was led by Stacey Augmon, last year's Big West Conference Player of the Year for UNLV... Ceballos averaged 25 points on the junior varsity.

PERSONAL: Communications major who hopes to get into the broadcasting industry after at least an opportunity to play professional basketball... also recruited by UCLA, LSU, Seton Hall, Long Beach State, USC and Loyola Marymount... enjoys music and cars... has a daughter named Jorza, "my pride and joy"... parents are Allen and Rochelle Ceballos of Los Angeles... was born on the island of Maui in Hawaii... was a spring write-in candidate for Associated Students' President... nickname is "Ice"... older brother Chris is a senior and back-court starter at UC Riverside after transferring from Fullerton, where he played only in a reserve role.

Jason Hart is a walk-on guard for the Titans who displayed an excellent jump shot in high school... three-year varsity letterman at St. Paul High School in Santa Fe Springs for coach Mike Dineen... two-time All-Angelus League and All-Rio Hondo Valley selection... second-team All-CIF pick as a senior when he averaged 19 points and 5 assists... as a junior averaged 17 points and 6 assists and had averages of 11 points and 4 assists as a sophomore... set single-season record for 3-point field goals with 103... came to Fullerton because of its "good academic program and engineering school plus the great competition and ability of the basketball team"... also considered Cal Poly Pomona... credits Coach Dineen of St. Paul and Kenny Eldisalde of El Rancho for greatest influences on his career... "Mike gave me the confidence to shoot my jumper whenever I felt I could make it go down. He made me feel I could hang with anybody. Kenny gave me all my solid fundamentals and the knowledge of the game. He made me believe I could be somebody"... breaking the 3-point field goal record in a first-round CIF playoff game is his biggest sports thrill... engineering major... has two sisters... parents are Larry and Darlyn Hart of Pico Rivera.

Mark Hill brings a potent long-range jump shot and aggressive perimeter defense to the Titans' lineup again in 1989-90... has potential to be an All-Big West Conference selection despite snub (honorable mention) last season when he was No. 2 scorer in league games, averaging 19.3 points in 18 regular season Big West contests... averaged 17.6 points overall while shooting 42 per cent from 3-point field goal range... relatively unheralded junior college recruit who developed rapidly at the Division I level... broke every 3-point field goal mark in the Titan record book... perfect complement to Cedric Ceballos, as his outside threat prevents teams from abandoning man-to-man alignment... has exceptional leaping ability and hang time and can drive, pull up and shoot over bigger defenders... presence of newcomer Dareck Crane should remove some of the scoring and defending burden from Hill this season. LAST YEAR: Started every game except home finale when he gave way to senior Randal Moos... averaged 17.6 points, 2.5 assists and 2.0 rebounds... in conference games only averaged 19.3 points, second in the Big West to Ceballos... overall, was No. 4 scorer behind Ceballos, Utah State's Reid Newey and Fresno State's Jervis Cole... only Newey (98) had more 3-point field goals... Hill was sixth in conference in 3-point percentage at .417, hitting 75 of 180... all three

David Moody will try to wrap up a five-year Titan career with a strong senior season "in the paint" for Fullerton in 1989-90... mobile big man with soft shooting touch... has shown flurries of scoring punch and has had some big rebounds and blocks... sat out the 1987-88 season and showed vast improvement last year when he started more regular season games at center than any other Titan... must stay out of foul trouble.

LAST YEAR: Played in all 29 games, 11 as a starter including five in a row in mid-season when Titans had string of dramatic victories... averaged 2.9 points and 2.9 rebounds... had second-best field-goal percentage on squad at .493... had best game of his career on Dec. 30 against powerful St. Mary's squad... scored a career-high 11 points and had 7 rebounds, a figure he matched against UNLV in the Big West Tournament... had a clutch offensive rebound and basket and blocked a shot in the final minutes of Dec. 20 win

John Sykes hopes to continue the momentum and consistency he gained as the Titans' starting center at the end of last season... will play a critical role inside for a Fullerton team loaded with perimeter scoring potential... was team's No. 2 rebounder last season and will be asked to concentrate on that role again... a fan favorite for his all-out hustle and enthusiasm over the past two seasons... elicits chants of "Psycho" for his exuberant play... made game-winning plays on several occasions last season.

LAST YEAR: Played in 27 games, 12 as a starter... made game-winning plays in back-to-back late-season games and rode that success to a strong finish... averaged 7 points and 9 rebounds over the last 10 games... in previous 8 games had averaged only 1.5 points and 4 rebounds... at San Jose State on Feb. 18, grabbed an offensive rebound and laid the ball up with his back to the basket to tie the game and draw a foul with 0:01 to play... after a Spartan timeout, he converted the free throw for a 70-69 victory... on Feb. 23 at home vs. Pacific, he made a reverse lay-up for a 71-69 lead with 0:54 to go in Titans' 72-69 win over the Tigers... was only Titan to shoot better than 50 per cent (.568) from the floor... was second to Derek Jones (56) in blocked shots with 38... made probably the most entertaining play of the

14 Marlon Vaughn G

Yr.: Senior Ht.: 6-1 Wt.: 160
 Age: 21* Birthdate: 2-4-68
 Residence: Los Angeles
 High School: Dominguez
 Major: Communications/Advertising

Marlon Vaughn performs an extremely difficult role for the Titans as a senior, backing up sophomore starter Wayne Williams at point guard... made the adjustment to reserve role last year and made a significant contribution... has perimeter scoring potential... reduced the turnover rate of his sophomore season and should be even more reliable in 1989-90.

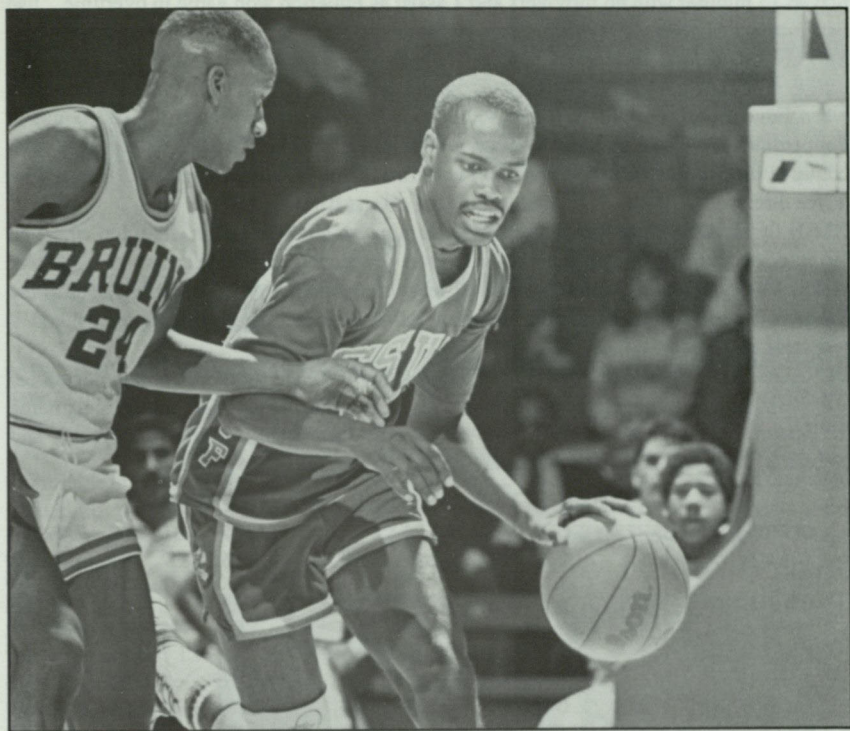

LAST YEAR: Played in 26 of team's 29 games... playing time dwindled in late season when Williams' level of play improved dramatically... played particularly well in the clutch in three close contests... appeared to be the hero in Dec. 27 game vs. New Orleans when he scored 14 points to match his career high... scored 6 of team's 9 points in first overtime and gave Titans a 3-point lead with 23 seconds to play... but Privateers forced a second overtime and won... Vaughn hit 6 of 7 shots... on Jan. 21 at home vs. Utah State, Williams fouled out at 2:53 mark and Vaughn ran the team down the stretch and preserved the victory... on March 4 replaced Williams after an ankle injury...

Aaron Wilhite is a physically impressive true freshman who could make a major contribution to the Titans' front line this season... was the San Diego CIF 2-A Player of the Year last season, averaging 24 points and 12 rebounds a game at Lincoln High for coach Ron Loneski... team compiled a 27-2 record, losing to Morningside in the state playoffs... was Central League Player of the Year... set a section record with 39 rebounds in one game vs. Hoover High... three-year basketball letterman... also competed in cross country (one year) and tennis (two years)... made the honor roll... biggest sports thrill was going to the state championship tournament... also recruited by Oregon State, Hawaii and San Diego State... chose Fullerton because of "good area, good coaches and good team"... electrical engineering major... credits coaches Loneski and Earl Woolridge at Lincoln for biggest influence on his career... "they both prepared me for the future"... oldest of four children... mother is Sylvia Davis.

10 Wayne Williams G

Yr.: Sophomore Ht.: 6-1 Wt.: 175
Age: 19 Birthdate: 3-8-70
Residence: Los Angeles
High School: Manual Arts
Major: Accounting

Wayne Williams is the veteran "quarter-back" of the Titans' squad despite his sophomore status... will try to build on a brilliant freshman campaign that saw him make numerous clutch plays and eventually earn a berth on the Big West Conference's All-Freshman squad... his mid-season emergence in 1988-89 coincided with the Titans' late-season surge that saw them win 11 of their final 16 games... earned the nickname "Buzzer Beater" from teammate Mark Hill after his mid-season heroics that saw him spark the Titans to consecutive wins over UC Santa Barbara, UNLV and UC Irvine... at his best running the fast break... will work on becoming a consistent outside shooting threat.

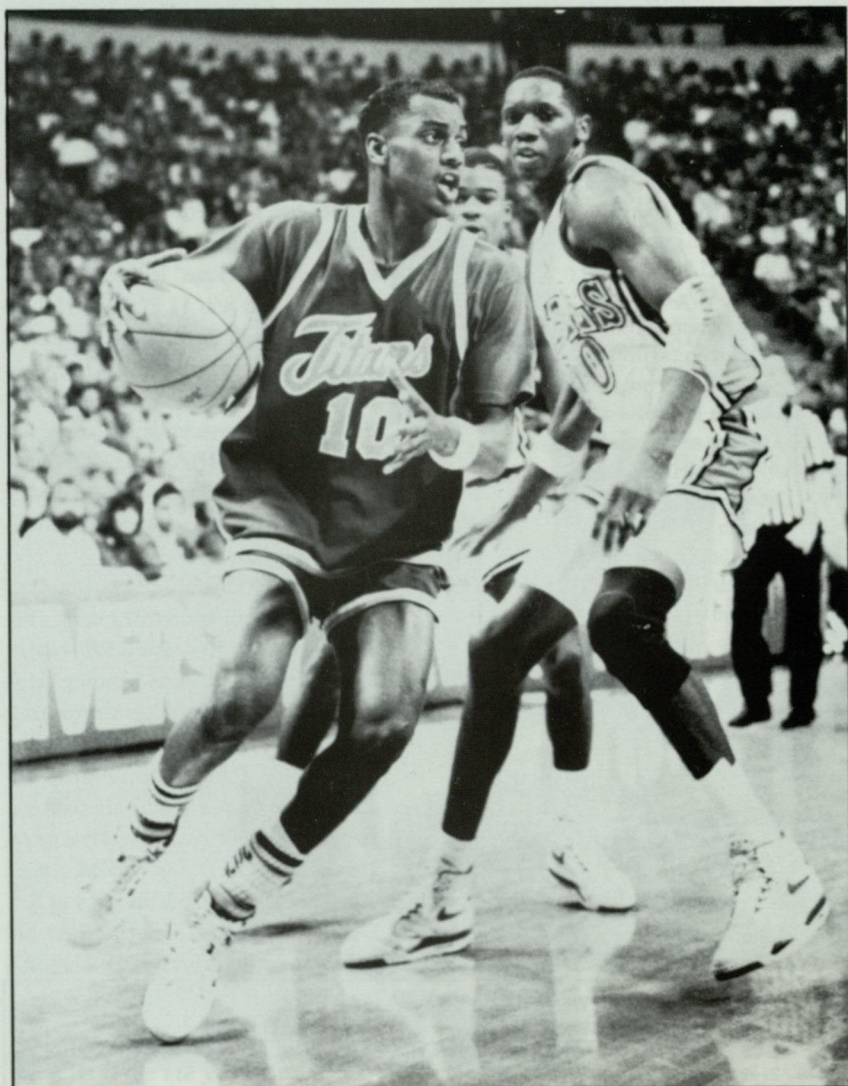

LAST YEAR: Started all 29 games and averaged 8.3 points and 5.2 assists... his season total of 150 assists is fifth best in Titan history... his game-winning heroics began in his first collegiate contest... his basket with 0:55 to play put the Titans ahead to stay at Utah in the season opener and his free throws at 0:07 clinched it... two games later it was his steal that set up Derek Jones for a last-second game-winning basket at the University of San Diego... two games later at Portland, his free throws at 0:37 clinched another win...

his mid-season streak was incredible and earned him Big West Conference Player of the Week honors... on Feb. 4 at home vs. UCSB, his 35-foot 3-pointer at the halftime buzzer catapulted the Titans to a win over the Gauchos... on Feb. 9 he hit a 25-footer at the buzzer in overtime to give the Titans a 93-92 win over UNLV... two nights later at UCI he scored a career-high 20 points including a 30-foot 3-pointer at the buzzer to give the Titans a 1-point halftime lead and then he converted a pair of one-and-one opportunities in the final 27 seconds for the decisive points in the 78-75 win over the Anteaters... during the 3 games he hit 8 of 9 3-point field goal tries... he preceded the run with a 12-assist home loss to UCI... over the four games he averaged 40 minutes and committed only 6 turnovers... suffered a sprained ankle in regular season finale at Long Beach State but came back to play effectively in the Big West Tournament.

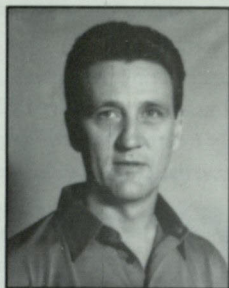

HIGH SCHOOL: Led Manual Arts High School of Los Angeles to a 27-3 record and the California large schools state championship in 1988... team upset city champion Crenshaw in the regionals and then beat Bishop O'Dowd of Oakland in the Oakland-Alameda Coliseum for the state title... Williams scored 25 points including the game-winning basket... in the regional, William scored a regional tournament single-game record 30 points in the 89-82 victory which avenged two earlier losses including a 16-point defeat in the city title game... averaged 18 points and 7 assists for the season... earned first-team all-state honors and was state's Most Valuable Player... two-time MVP and twice all-city... three-year varsity letterman... averaged 15 points and 5 assists as a junior and 12 points and 5 assists as a sophomore.

PERSONAL: Accounting major... credits Manual Arts coach Reggie Morris for the most influence on his career... "he taught me just about everything I know"... parents are Gilbert and Marie Williams of Los Angeles... has three older brother and one older sister.

Radio-TV Broadcasts

John Rebenstorf returns for his ninth consecutive season as the radio voice of Cal State Fullerton basketball in 1989-90 with all games to be carried LIVE on KMNY (1600 AM), with studios in Anaheim and transmitter in Pomona.

"We are pleased to continue our working relationship with KMNY," said Athletics Director Ed Carroll upon signing a five-year (1989-1994) contract that will cover all men's basketball games and selected other events such as baseball and women's basketball.

"Its strong signal gives Titan fans throughout southern California an opportunity to follow our teams."

This will be Fullerton's fifth season on KMNY (formerly KWOW), which features an all-business news format for its regular programming.

Rebenstorf began broadcasting Titan sports during the 1981-82 school year and has handled the play-by-play duties for eight seasons of football, eight years for basketball and four years for baseball. He has brought to Titan fans the excitement of the California Bowl, National Invitation Tournament men's basketball, NCAA Tournament women's basketball and the College Baseball World Series.

During the summers of 1986 and 1987, Rebenstorf was the voice of the Oklahoma City 89ers of the American Association. He previously did play-by-play for Cal Poly Pomona and UC Riverside as well as filling in for Long Beach State. His radio station work has included stops at KBON and KMEN in San Bernardino, KNTF in Ontario and KFI in Los Angeles.

Rebenstorf, who served as interim executive director of the Titan Athletics Foundation from December, 1988, through April, 1989, also serves as salesman for Titan radio and game program advertising. He can be reached at (714) 525-2475. His mailing address is:

J.R. Sports, Inc., Box 9097, Brea, CA 92622.

TELEVISION

Titan basketball will receive more television coverage this season than any other in school history. Two national games on ESPN, five regional games on Prime Ticket, three regional games on Sports Channel--Los Angeles and one exposure on KHJ-TV (Channel 9) in Los Angeles should whet the appetite for millions of present and future Fullerton basketball fans. All other home games on the schedule will be video-taped for delay broadcast on local cable outlets by Titan Sports Productions, produced by Professor Larry Ward. Ed Larkin and Greg Bunch are the cable commentators.

The ESPN broadcast from Titan Gym will be on Monday, Feb. 19 vs. Long Beach State. It will be the first nationally televised basketball game and the first of a Fullerton event since the early 1989 baseball game against Stanford. The Titans also will be seen on "Big Monday" at UC Santa Barbara on Jan. 29. The Prime Ticket games are Dec. 9 vs. Tulsa; Dec. 23 at UCLA (delayed); Jan. 13 vs. Pacific; Feb. 24 at UC Irvine and March 3 vs. UNLV. The SportsChannel games are Jan. 18 at Long Beach State, Jan. 25 vs. UC Irvine and Feb. 15 vs. UCSB. The KHJ game will be broadcast out of Las Vegas on Jan. 3.

The Big West Conference is conducting its second season of basketball competition since a name change from Pacific Coast Athletic Association. The switch, initiated on July 1, 1988, is seen as a simpler, more accurate description of the league's 12 member institutions -- Cal State Fullerton, Fresno State, Long Beach State, New Mexico State, San Diego State (women only), San Jose State, UC Irvine (no football), UC Santa Barbara (Div. III football), Hawaii (women only), UNLV, Pacific and Utah State.

When the league was formed in 1969, it consisted of seven charter members, all of which were located in the state of California. In its 20 years of existence, however, the conference has expanded to include universities from states which do not border the Pacific Ocean (Utah, Nevada and New Mexico).

Basketball success reached its apex in 1987 when the conference was the only one represented at the Final Four of both men's (UNLV) and women's (Long Beach State) competition. The Rebels have been permanent members of the Top 20 polls the past several years and have held down the No. 1 spot on several occasions, including many of this year's pre-season lists. Fullerton, UC Santa Barbara and New Mexico State have dented the Top 20 on occasion in recent years and Fresno State won the post-season National Invitation Tournament in 1983, beating DePaul in the title game at Madison Square Garden before a crowd that included nearly 2,000 Fresno residents.

A total of 29 starters return on the 10 conference rosters with at least two at every school. Defending champion UNLV has all five starters back while Fullerton and Pacific boast four each and UC Irvine and UC Santa Barbara each have three. Most of the individual statistical leaders return in top scorer Cedric Ceballos of Fullerton and rebound champion Eric McArthur of UCSB.

A new era in Titan basketball opened successfully before a large but stunned crowd in the Special Events Center. Coach John Sneed sent five new starters onto the floor and they overcame a 13-point second-half deficit to rally for a 59-57 victory.

Fullerton got off to a good start and held an early 11-5 lead after John Sykes' 3-point play. Utah won the rest of the half, however, 26-15, for a 31-26 advantage at intermission.

Utah appeared to put the game away when it scored the first 8 points after intermission for a 39-26 lead. Cedric Ceballos fueled a 22-6 run over the next few minutes for a 48-45 lead that set the stage for a see-saw finish. The Utes last led at 53-52 with 2:48 to play. Ceballos hit two free throws to put Fullerton ahead but the Utes tied it. Wayne Williams then converted a Sykes steal into a fast-break basket for a 56-54 lead and he hit a one-plus-one with :07 to go for a 59-55 lead to clinch the win, which matched the previous season's total of road victories and was the first in an opener since December of 1984.

The home opener proved an exciting but disappointing start to the John Sneed era as the Pepperdine Waves, under new coach Tom Asbury, outlasted the Titans, who were done in by cold shooting.

Fullerton took an early 12-7 lead behind the play of Cedric Ceballos and Derek Jones. But Tom Lewis inspired a 16-5 run that put the Waves up, 23-17. The lead changed hands a couple more times with Pepperdine getting five points in the last 35 seconds for a 34-30 margin at intermission.

The Titans, who shot only 32 percent in the first half, appeared to be out of the game when Pepperdine scored 15 of the first 19 points of the second half for a 49-34 lead with 14:06 to play. Ceballos scored 14 points in a 22-9 Fullerton run that cut the lead to 58-56 with 6:29 to go but the Titans could get no closer and lost on their home court for the first time in five meetings to the visitors from Malibu.

The Titans' second road game of the year looked remarkably like the first as they overcame a double-digit second-half deficit to pull out a victory at the buzzer.

Wayne Williams again was the catalyst, stealing the ball with 40 seconds to play and the score tied at 66-66. After a time out, the Titans ran the clock down and saw Derek Jones hit a 12-foot baseline jumper with :02 to go for the win.

It was a game of streaks. Fullerton started most quickly, breaking a 4-4 tie with an 11-0 run highlighted by two Mark Hill jumpers. But San Diego retaliated with a 23-10 run for a 27-25 lead. After the Titans got four points from Jones for a 29-27 margin, the Toreros scored the final eight points of the half for a 35-29 lead at intermission.

As in Utah, the Titans got out of the blocks slowly in the second half. San Diego scored the first eight points for a 43-29 lead. The Titans nibbled back at first, cutting the deficit to 51-41 before launching a 14-0 run for a 55-51 lead. The momentum seemed to return to San Diego when it got a 6-point possession on an intentional foul and good offensive rebounding for a 64-63 lead at 2:23.

Fullerton met the only non-Division I opponent on its 1988-89 schedule in Titan Gym and the Titans found a hustling Sonoma State team a determined challenger for 35 minutes.

The Cossacks immediately fell behind, 9-0, and it seemingly lulled Fullerton into complacency. Sonoma came back with seven unanswered points before Fullerton regained and then maintained its lead throughout the half. But it dwindled to only four at the half, 42-38.

After intermission, the Titans quickly stretched the advantage to double figures, initially at 50-38 on a spectacular dunk and 3-point play by Cedric Ceballos. The Cossacks hung tough, however, and it was only an 8-point game at 66-58 with less than six minutes to play. Four Ceballos points wrapped around a 3-point play by Wayne Williams extended the margin to 75-58 and the Titans blew it open by scoring the last 13 points of the game. The 26-point margin of victory would be the Titans' largest of the season.

Fullerton put its modest 2-game winning streak on the line in a trip to Portland's Chiles Center, the site of disaster a few seasons earlier. In December of 1985, in a game delayed a day by fog, the Titans lost not only the game but point guard Kevin Henderson to a fractured foot.

This time, against a Portland team that came in 0-6 and losers of 13 in a row going back to the previous season, the Titans captured their third successive road victory but with a different formula. Instead of coming from behind, the Titans built a big 18-point second-half lead at 62-44 only for the Pilots to respond with a 21-5 run to cut the margin to a bucket.

Cedric Ceballos countered with a free throw before Wayne Williams came through in the clutch again by converting a bonus situation for a 70-65 lead with 37 seconds to play.

At the outset, the Titans took an early 13-6 lead and held it until the Pilots edged ahead, 20-19. Portland maintained the advantage until halftime (35-33) but could build it no larger. Fullerton erased a 41-39 deficit with a 13-0 run sparked by Mark Hill and Williams.

A good team from the east visited Titan Gym in the person of the Northeastern Huskies from Boston and Fullerton responded with one of its best efforts of the year to run its winning streak to four games.

Guard Derrick Lewis carried the offensive load for the Huskies as expected, primarily from 3-point land, but it was forward Marcellus Anderson off the bench who surprised the Titans with a 17-point, 8-rebound effort.

Fullerton countered with Derek Jones' most productive game of the year — 22 points and 12 rebounds — and another solid effort from Cedric Ceballos.

Fullerton never trailed in the first half, but a lead that once was 9 points was only 1 at intermission. Northeastern led only once in the second half at 46-45 with 14:12 to play, but Fullerton could build the lead no larger than five. It was a 1-point game at 68-67, Titans, with 4:31 to play. Jones' 3-point play opened the gap to four and then, after two Huskie free throws, the Titans scored the last 10 points of the game starting with a clutch tip-in by David Moody at the 3:01 mark.

Fullerton's free-throw shooting, which had been excellent at 72 per cent in the early going, failed the Titans at an inopportune time and they saw their winning streak end at home to Weber State.

Rico Washington, who scored 13 points despite foul trouble in the first half, scored 13 more in the second half to lead the Wildcats, who got their biggest boost from guard Mike Ostlund, who usually is a reserve. When the Titans dropped back into a zone defense to combat Washington on the block and protect a 10-point lead with 10 minutes to play, Ostlund and then Fred Rollin hit 3-pointers to cut the margin to four in less than a minute.

Washington inside and Ostlund outside combined for Weber's next 12 points while the Titans managed only three points by Cedric Ceballos to fall behind, 75-70. A pair of free throws by Marlon Vaughn made it 75-72 but Ostlund hit another 3-pointer and the Titans started missing crucial free throws. Mark Hill's 3-pointer got Fullerton within 82-77 with a minute to go but the Wildcats scored the final six points.

An undersized New Orleans team invaded Titan Gym and the two teams played an even game for 50 minutes with the Privateers winning at the buzzer in double overtime. Remarkably, Cedric Ceballos scored a season-low 2 points despite playing 35 minutes.

Featuring virtually an all-guard lineup, UNO, the eventual American South Conference champion, forced the Titans to play zone defense because of match-ups. The Privateers then played deliberate offense and used most of the 45-second clock before taking high percentage shots.

Neither team led by more than four points in the first half and there were seven ties, including 22-22 at intermission. Fullerton scored the first 6 points of the half and led by as many as 8 before UNO went on a 9-0 run for a 33-32 lead. Neither team led by more than four the rest of regulation and neither team scored in the final 2:36 to force overtime.

Behind the play of Marlon Vaughn, Fullerton looked like a winner in overtime. After two field goals, Vaughn then converted a 1-plus-1 with 23 seconds to go for a 57-54 lead.

A 9-1 St. Mary's team which would win the WCAC title bounced back from its first loss of the year to Stanford to perform a methodical surgery job on the Titans in the final non-conference game of the year.

St. Mary's played aggressive zone defense and ran an efficient offense to gradually pull away from a Fullerton team that played well but shot only 43 per cent from the floor and 50 per cent at the line.

Fullerton fell behind by as many as 10 points in the first half at 22-12 but the Titans cut the margin to four at the half. Center Dan Curry was the Gaels' leader with 14 points, hitting 6 of 8 shots and taking advantage of the absence of John Sykes, who had been suspended for disciplinary reasons for one game.

St. Mary's came out of the chute with an 11-4 run to open the second half and an 11-point lead with 14:11 to play. The Titans shut down Curry but forward Robert Haugen exploded for a dozen points. The Titans never got closer than 8 points until the final minute when the outcome had been sealed.

The 3-game losing streak to end the calendar year and the non-conference schedule left Fullerton at 5-4 going into the inaugural slate of Big West Conference games.

A horrible shooting performance in the first half dug a hole too deep for the Titans to escape in their Big West opener and New Mexico State walked off with a 65-60 victory.

The Titans shot only 27 per cent in the first 20 minutes with Cedric Ceballos the coldest at 1 for 9. Meanwhile, for the Aggies, Johnny Roberson was 5 of 5 and Willie Joseph was 6 of 9 and the visitors led by 8 points. Fullerton had taken an early 7-4 lead before the Aggies went on a 13-0 run over a 4-minute span for a 17-7 lead. A 9-0 Fullerton spurt cut the margin to 2 points at 21-19 but the Aggies rallied again with a 9-3 spurt to close the half.

New Mexico State led by as many as 13 points early in the second half only for the Titans to get within 4 at 45-41 with 8:40 to play. The deficit was still four at 59-55 when Mark Hill hit one of his school record-tying six 3-pointers at the 1:46 mark, but the Titans got caught in a "Catch 22" situation. The Aggies weren't in the bonus situation yet so the Titans had to commit a couple of fouls to send Aggies to the foul line. But each time they did it re-set the 45-second shot clock. The strategy was moot when the Aggies hit 6 of 6 free throws in the final minute.

For one of the few times in the 1988-89 season, the Titans never were in their home contest with Long Beach State, which played a near flawless game. The 49ers scored the first 11 points of the game and shot 78 per cent in the first half and 67 per cent after intermission in racing to an 83-66 victory that pinned Fullerton with its worst Titan Gym loss of the decade.

How well did Long Beach shoot? Well, the 49ers had only 3 offensive rebounds in the entire game as there were only 12 misses to chase. Meanwhile, the Titans pulled down 19 offensive boards because there were plenty available on a 22 of 64 shooting evening.

After the opening surge, the 49ers let up only slightly. Fullerton drew to within 6 at the half but by then Cedric Ceballos had picked up a fourth foul. Long Beach scored the first 8 points of the second half and the outcome was virtually decided. Any doubts were erased at the 11:48 mark when Ceballos fouled out after playing only 18 minutes.

The victory was the first for Long Beach in Titan Gym since the mid 1970s.

What appeared on paper to be a one-sided game at national rankings conscious UC Santa Barbara nearly went down to the final buzzer as the Titans forgot about their 5-game losing streak and the pushed the once-beaten Gauchos to the limit.

With Cedric Ceballos bouncing back to early season form, the Titans played the Gauchos even for the first half. Ceballos hit all 6 shots and the Titans trailed by only three at intermission.

Center Eric McArthur began asserting himself after intermission and UCSB started to pull away, leading by 11 at 44-33. Fullerton went on a 7-0 run to make it interesting for awhile. UCSB regained control, much to the pleasure of a packed house of 6,000, and led by 12 at 62-50 with 3:48 to go before the Titans made one last surge.

A bucket by Ceballos and two by Mark Hill halved the margin to 62-56, but the Gauchos hit 6 of 6 free throws in the final two minutes to preserve the win and their run at the Top 20 polls.

A gutty performance by the Titans before a crowd of 18,405 got them nothing but a burning case of heartbreak. Fullerton overcame an 8-point deficit in the final four minutes only to see Greg Anthony bank in a 3-pointer from well beyond the top of the key with :03 to go to give nationally ranked UNLV a 66-63 victory.

It was amazing the Titans were even in the game. They failed to score during the last seven minutes of the first half until Wayne Williams hit a pair of free throws after the buzzer. They had committed a staggering 20 turnovers on their way to a school record-tying total of 27. They had shot only 27 per cent. But they hit all 8 free throws and UNLV was cold from the floor.

UNLV turnovers down the stretch gave the Titans a chance after being down, 61-53. Brent Calvin hit one free throw and Mark Hill hit a jumper after Stacey Augmon missed a free throw. Cedric Ceballos got a dunk after a steal by Williams and his free throws at 0:17 offset a pair by Augmon at the 1:48 mark to keep the margin 3 points at 63-60. Anthony then turned the ball over under the Titan basket and Ceballos tied the game with a 3-pointer with 11 seconds to go.

In one of the most bizarre situations in college basketball history, the Titans snapped their 7-game losing streak at the expense of a San Jose State team depleted by the desertion of all but three regular players.

A roster featuring four members of the Spartan football team, former Santa Clara star Craig McPherson and a handful of walk-ons including a student manager gave beleaguered coach Bill Berry a marvelous effort before succumbing to the Titans, 82-60.

A large media gathering including all the major television networks saw a team with hastily arranged uniforms and only one practice session under its belt take an early lead and then cut an 11-point halftime deficit to 5 points at 43-38 with 16:52 to play. But Mark Hill's 3-pointer ignited a 10-point Titan run and Fullerton's depth and conditioning prevailed.

McPherson, who was on Santa Clara's NCAA Tournament team in 1987, scored 6 of San Jose's first 9 points and finished with 20 while Johnny Johnson, a tailback and the nation's No. 2 all-purpose runner, scored an early 3-point play.

The San Jose State victory was hard to evaluate but there was no questioning the Titans' performance in beating a Utah State team that had been playing up to its pre-season billing for the previous two weeks. All 10 Titans scored and they combined to hit 12 of 16 free throws in the final 3 minutes to hold off the Aggies, 96-87.

Reid Newey was most of the Utah State attack as he tallied 19 first-half points to keep the Aggies within 7 at intermission after Fullerton had led by as many as 12. He hit a pair of 3-pointers as the Aggies opened the second half with a 14-4 run to take a 52-49 lead. Neither team could take control until the Titans went on an 8-0 run to change a 72-70 deficit into a 78-72 lead with 3:46 to play. The Aggies got as close as 3 points at 87-84 but a Marlon Vaughn basket and 5 Titan free throws kept the visitors at bay.

Ceballos completed a week that would earn him Big West Conference Player of the Week honors for the second time. He scored 30 points and had 7 rebounds to average 28 points and 13.3 rebounds for the week.

Fullerton rode the momentum of its 2-game home winning streak to log a road victory, its fourth of the year but first in Big West Conference play.

The host Tigers played inspired ball for the Prime Ticket television cameras. Guard Reggie Ricks hit 5 first-half 3-pointers and totaled 17 points and center Don Lyttle scored 13 in the second half to pace UOP. Fullerton, which saw returning starter Van Anderson activated after fall semester academic problems, got excellent balance with Mark Hill scoring 15 points in the first half and Cedric Ceballos tossing in 16 after intermission.

The game was close all the way. Neither team led by more than 6 in the first half and Pacific had the biggest lead at 5 points in the second half. A Hill free throw tied the game in regulation at 68-68 and each team missed a shot in the final 10 seconds.

Pacific took the lead three times in overtime. Twice Derek Jones hit jumpers to tie it before his 15-footer at the 1:14 mark put Fullerton ahead to stay at 76-75. Ceballos, who had hit a jumper to give Fullerton a 74-72 lead that was erased by a Lyttle 3-point play, hit two free throws with 0:17 to go.

Fullerton played its worst game of the year in losing at Fresno State in a game coach John Sneed called a "total embarrassment" before a boisterous 9,856 in Selland Arena, where more than one visitor has been embarrassed.

The Titans hit a season-low .310 from the floor, only .500 at the foul line, were outrebounded by 12 and committed 17 turnovers in dropping the second half of the first multi-game road trip of the year.

An early 10-9 Titan lead proved deceptive, as the Bulldogs scored 25 of the final 35 first-half points and ran out to a 34-20 advantage at intermission. Fresno State opened the second half with a 14-4 surge to double the score at 48-24 with 14:12 to play. The gap grew to as large as 62-34 and the Titans had to score the last 7 points of the game to cut the margin to as little as 21.

Fullerton returned to Titan Gym to open what would be a memorable two-week run in southern California with a narrow loss to UC Irvine. Both teams played very well and the difference came at the foul line, where the Anteaters hit 13 of 18 in the second half while the Titans were converting only 12 of 21.

Ricky Butler was the surprise star for UCI as the husky youngster led all scorers with 23 points on 9 of 13 shooting. UCI went a perfect 4 for 4 at the 3-point line to offset a more than respectable 7 of 14 showing by Fullerton led by Mark Hill's 5 of 10 night.

Butler pushed UCI to the early lead, which was as large as 9 points on 3 occasions before Fullerton cut it to 37-34 at the half. The Titans took control early in the second half and led by as many as 6 points at 53-47 with 11:49 to play on a Wayne Williams 3-point play. However, UCI countered with a 16-3 run over the next 4 minutes for a 63-56 lead. Back came CSF, tying the score at 69-69 with 2:58 to go on a 3-pointer by Williams. Jeff Herdman's basket 6 seconds later put UCI ahead to stay and Butler's basket with 0:37 to play doomed the Titans.

Redemption came two nights later as the Titans snapped a 5-game losing streak to UCSB with a surprising victory.

Eric McArthur, who had 25 points and 14 rebounds in the Gauchos' win at The Thunderdome, had only 8 points and 11 rebounds this night and Mike Doyle's 20-point effort couldn't offset the Titans' 1-2 punch of Cedric Ceballos and Mark Hill, who combined for 50.

CSF won the game with a pair of surges bracketing the halftime intermission. They closed the first half with an 11-0 run capped by Wayne Williams' 35-foot 3-pointer to beat the buzzer and opened the second half with a 15-6 spurt. The 26-6 total turned a 4-point deficit into a 16-point lead at 50-34 with 14:50 to play. Back came UCSB, however. The Gauchos scored the next 7 points before the Titans countered. They kept pecking and pecking away and finally came within 1 at 70-69 with a minute to go on Carlton Davenport's jumper. But Ceballos countered with a successful 1-plus-1 with 0:16 to go and Rashone Lewis blocked Doyle's 3-point attempt at a tie.

Six years of frustration including several near misses against UNLV disappeared in the 4 seconds it took Wayne Williams to dribble from the Rebels' free-throw line to near the CSF 3-point stripe to launch a 25-footer that beat the Rebels at the buzzer in overtime.

Derek Jones hit the only 3-point field goal of his career at the end of regulation for an 83-83 tie that set the stage for a win that snapped a 15-game losing streak to UNLV, whose problems at the foul line proved fatal.

David Butler hit only 3 of 10 in the first half. Misses by Greg Anthony at 0:28 of regulation and by Stacey Augmon at 0:04 of OT left the nationally ranked Rebels vulnerable to the clutch 3-pointers.

CSF opened the game with a flurry and stretched a 5-0 lead into a 27-14 advantage with a 7-0 run. But UNLV responded with a 14-0 burst to take a 28-27 lead with 9:11 to go in the half.

After CSF forged four second-half ties, UNLV moved out to a 7-point lead at 59-52 but John Sykes' string of 7 consecutive free throws kept the Titans within striking distance.

The euphoria of the win over UNLV didn't prevent the Titans from capping a truly remarkable 3-game run with their first regular-season win over UC Irvine in three years and their first in the Bren Center. Wayne Williams captured Conference Player of the Week honors with a career-high 20 points highlighted by 4 of 4 3-point shooting and the successful conversion of a pair of critical 1-plus-1's in the final 27 seconds.

The victory was accomplished despite a cold (5 of 22) shooting night by Cedric Ceballos and torrid (.500) 3-point shooting by the Anteaters. However, Kevin Floyd's try for 3 went in and out at the buzzer as Fullerton held on to win before a vocal crowd of 4,718 that featured nearly 1,000 CSF fans.

UCI led in the early going as it counters CSF baskets with 3-pointers on several trips down the floor. A 13-2 Titan run eliminated a 9-point UCI bulge and "Buzzer Beater" Williams hit a 30-footer for a 39-38 halftime lead. Fullerton built a 6-point lead in the second half and never trailed in the final 10:02.

Fullerton's 3-game winning streak came to an icy stop in Logan, where Utah State beat the Titans for the seventh consecutive year.

Derek Jones hit a short jumper to open the scoring, but then it was all Aggies for the next 6 minutes. Utah State scored 17 unanswered points with a blistering fast break that wasn't halted until Mark Hill's 3-pointer at 13:07.

The Titans cut the gap to 25-20 as Cedric Ceballos made three successive baskets. But the Aggies played inspired ball in the home finale for six seniors and opened the margin to 11 at the half and kept it in double figures until the final minute.

Only a phenomenal shooting display by Hill kept the Titans in the game. He scored 20 of Fullerton's final 26 points and he broke the CSF single-game record for 3-point field goals with 7 in 11 attempts. His 33 total points were a career high and the most a Titan would score all year.

Fullerton attained its goal of a split on the road trip but it was close. John Sykes converted a 3-point play with one second to play in overtime for a 70-69 victory at San Jose State.

The rebuilt Spartans played inspired ball in trying to snap a 12-game losing streak and appeared to have the win when Cedric Ceballos was well short on his hurried shot. But Sykes grabbed the rebound and put the ball back up over his head — backwards — to tie the game and draw a foul. After a San Jose timeout, he very confidently stepped to the free-throw line and swished the game-winning point. It was the only lead of overtime for the Titans, who had led for virtually all of regulation after hitting their first 9 shots of the game.

Tom Desiano gave the Spartans their first lead at 62-61 with a basket with 55 seconds to play but Ceballos hit a pair of free throws at 0:23 to put Fullerton back in the lead. Johnny Johnson made only one of two free throws at 0:08 for the tie.

Fullerton ended up shooting a season-high .556 from the floor.

Unlucky Pacific lost another close game as John Sykes figured prominently in another Titan victory.

The Tigers used a flurry of 3-point field goals to erode a Van Anderson-fueled Fullerton lead that was as large as 7 points and the Tigers forged a 69-69 tie with 1:25 to go. But Sykes took a pass from Cedric Ceballos and made a reverse layup for a 71-69 lead. Sykes then fouled Don Lyttle in a scramble for a loose ball at the 0:31 mark. Lyttle injured his ankle and Dan Embick had to come in cold off the bench to attempt the one-plus-one. He missed, but Sykes dropped the rebound out of bounds and Pacific had another chance.

Dell Demps' try for a go-ahead 3-pointer was straight but short and Mark Hill rebounded, was fouled and sank an insurance free throw for the final score.

Pacific led by as many as 7 points in the first half. Reggie Ricks and Demps combined for 11 3-pointers in 25 tries but couldn't get the decisive one. Anderson hit all 3 of his 3-point tries during a season-high 12-point effort in relief of Ceballos, who was benched for much of the second half as a disciplinary measure.

Fullerton atoned for its horrid performance in Fresno with a 71-56 victory over the Bulldogs that capped a memorable final game at Titan Gym for departing seniors Derek Jones, Brent Calvin and Randal Moos. The win guaranteed Fullerton at least a .500 season and put the conference mark at 9-7.

The Titans mastered the Fresno State zone defense and built a first-half lead to as many as 14 points at 25-11 before Jervis Cole and Kevin Stephenson sparked a late Bulldog rally that cut it to 30-26 at intermission.

The Bulldogs caught the Titans at 34-34 and it was nip and tuck for about 8 minutes before Fullerton spurted from a 47-45 lead to a 61-47 margin with a 14-2 spurt that saw five different players score. The most memorable basket came a few minutes later when John Sykes grabbed a loose ball and took off on a fast break. He took the ball all the way down court before a no-look bounce pass between his legs set up Wayne Williams for a lay-up and ignited the crowd and nearly took the roof off Titan Gym.

Fullerton and New Mexico State staged their annual defensive-oriented battle in Las Cruces and the red-hot Aggies came out on top to clinch second place in the Big West despite a 16-for-30 performance at the foul line.

The Titans, who trailed by 13 at 44-31 with 12:57 to play after a Jeff McCool 3-pointer, had a chance to tie or lead in the final minutes but missed their last 6 field-goal tries. With the score 57-54 in favor of New Mexico State, Mark Hill had a 3-pointer go in and out. Cedric Ceballos rebounded but missed the follow try. Wayne Williams converted a 1-plus-1 to make it 57-56 and the Titans had a chance to lead when Ceballos stole the ball and tried a jumper off the fast break. He missed and James Anderson hit one of two free throws for a 58-56 lead. Fullerton ran down the clock only to see Hill miss a long jumper and both John Sykes and Van Anderson ring the rim with follow tries.

William Benjamin hit a pair of free throws with 0:04 to go to clinch it and deny Fullerton its shot at second place. The Titans blocked 8 shots in the game, but both Derek Jones and Sykes fouled out.

The regular season came to a thrilling close for the Titans in Long Beach as Fullerton won its fourth overtime game of the year in most unpredictable fashion.

The 49ers, who got a fabulous game from Marco Fleming, appeared to have the victory literally in hand when, as they tried to inbound the ball under their basket with a 61-59 lead and only four seconds to play, Marlon Vaughn was cited for an intentional foul. Bobby Sears made one of two free throws and Long Beach got the ball back. The inbounds pass instead became a rolling loose ball that went straight to Mark Hill, who canned a 3-pointer to tie the game with one second to play. The 49ers called time out but couldn't get a good shot and it was overtime.

Cedric Ceballos went to work in overtime. He gave the Titans a quick 4-point lead that the 49ers erased but didn't overcome due to a pair of missed free throws. Ceballos then drove for a go-ahead layup at 0:06 and this time the 49ers failed to call time out, wasted most of the time bringing the ball up court and got only a futile half-court shot at the buzzer.

The Titans opened play in the Big West Tournament as the No. 4 seed and had to rely on their great track record in overtime to overcome the Aggies, who sizzled the nets at 57 per cent from the floor and 93 per cent from the foul line.

Utah State led most of the first half and by as many as 10 points at 42-32 before the Titans closed the gap to 4 at halftime. Fullerton caught up, at 58-58, at the 11:13 mark, but four minutes later, Wayne Williams re-injured his sore ankle and Cedric Ceballos was playing with four personal fouls.

Ceballos stayed on the perimeter and drilled in consecutive 3-pointers for a 69-64 Titan advantage but Reid Newey and Joel Youngblood brought the Aggies back. Gilbert Pete hit the last basket of regulation for a 77-77 tie that stood up when Derek Jones missed a last-second shot.

Jones scored twice in overtime with the second basket producing an 85-82 lead. But Youngblood hit a short jumper and Josh Grant was credited with a basket on a goal-tending call against John Sykes at 1:56. Each team wasted a possession before Ceballos got loose to drive the baseline for a go-ahead slam dunk that proved the game winner when Jones deflected an Aggies' pass and caused a turnover as time expired.

For the fourth consecutive year, UNLV ended Fullerton's season with a victory in the post-season tournament. The Rebels got a great performance from Stacey Augmon to offset an equally brilliant effort by Cedric Ceballos and UNLV advanced to the championship game against New Mexico State.

In Fullerton's earlier win at home and close loss at UNLV, the Rebels' guards had poor shooting nights. Not this time, however, as Anderson Hunt hit 4 of 7 3-pointers to lead an 8-for-16 UNLV effort that opened up the inside for David Butler and Moses Scurry.

UNLV jumped out to a 13-4 lead and the Titans never could catch up. With Ceballos having a 19-point first half, Fullerton cut the gap to as little as two at 25-23 but it was 8 points at intermission at 46-38.

Fullerton made a run early in the second half as baskets by Wayne Williams, Ceballos and Mark Hill made it 49-45. But UNLV went on an 11-2 run and its defense began producing points and the rout was on.

Nickname and Mascot

"What exactly is a Titan?"

"Why do you have an elephant for your mascot?"

Those are two of the first questions that pop into the minds of media and fans when a Cal State Fullerton athletic team makes its inaugural visit. While the relatively young institution carved out of the Orange County citrus groves may be too new for many traditions, here are the recognized legends.

"It was the students' decision in a vote," explains Dr. Ernest Becker, founding Dean of Students, of the nickname 'Titans.' "More than a hundred names were suggested, and the Student Council took on the job of narrowing the list down to a few for the purposes of an election. The vote was close, with Titans narrowly prevailing over Aardvarks and Rebels."

It was a unique student body at the outset, all upper division students until 1963. There were 453 of them, mostly female, in 1959, the first year of classes at what was then known as Orange County State College. They voted to organize as a student body and to assess themselves a fee of $10 per semester.

"Even when it was decided that 'Titans' would be the nickname, there was confusion as to what it represented," said Becker. "I was thinking of a large mythological figure from Greek history, not unlike Tommy Trojan, but with perhaps straighter, more modern lines. In the same vein, the original dormitories were named Othrys Hall. There were others, however, who related the name to the Titan missile then in prominence."

Nothing official was done about a mascot because no one knew quite what to do. Until, of course, the "First Intercollegiate Elephant Race in Human History."

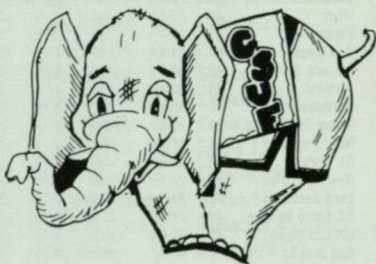

What began as a practical joke turned into probably the biggest "happening" on the campus to this day.

The "gag" attracted elephants from universities around the nation and even Oxford from England. A crowd estimated at more than 10,000 people turned out on "Dumbo Downs" as the hastily graded field became known that spring afternoon in 1962.

To publicize the event, a circus-like elephant called Tuffy the Titan was used and it began appearing on sweaters and notebook covers around the campus. With no other mascot, the elephant was unofficially adopted. Several revisions in the caricature have been made in recent years to create a more tenacious Tuffy, or Titus as he also was called in an attempt to make him Greek.

The mascot outlived the race. In 1963, one elephant charged the crowd causing minor injuries and an early sign of a now-common liability insurance crisis nipped a tradition in the bud.

The origin of the school colors also bears discussion. The students voted for royal blue and

An early Tuffy

The current emblem

white when they chose Titans, but the athletic equipment manager at the time thought orange was an appropriate color on uniforms for a school known as Orange County State College. The unofficial color was "adopted" and finally was formally acknowledged by the Athletics Council in 1987.

When Lynn Eilefson was appointed athletics director in 1982, he furthered the cause of orange because of its uniqueness and brightness compared to the wide variety of blues. Thus, the "Orange Crush" booster group was born and the color remains prominent in most team uniforms.

And, finally, there is the matter of the school's name. As mentioned earlier, the name originally was Orange County State College. It's also been Orange State College and later California State College at Fullerton or California State College, Fullerton. The change to university status necessitated a further change to California State University, Fullerton, but the school's address could not be changed from 800 N. State College Boulevard. And that's only the start of the confusion.

To out-of-staters, the picture clouds quickly because most don't realize there are two distinct systems of higher education in the state — the University of California and the State University system. So, the school has been called everything from Cal-Fullerton to UC Fullerton to California State Fullerton State to simply Fullerton State. The preferred moniker is Cal State Fullerton, with no hyphens, which is what most of the more than 80,000 graduates recognize. But since there are only two other major institutions known as Titans (University of Detroit and Oral Roberts University), just call Fullerton teams the "Titans!"

History of Titan Athletics

How many universities can claim national championships in seven different sports, a star major league third baseman, men and women basketball players in the Olympics, two rookies in the Super Bowl and the subject matter of a Walt Disney feature film?

The tenor was set by the first Titan intercollegiate team - men's basketball. In only their second season, the Titans of coach Alex Omalev advanced five rounds into the NAIA national playoffs in 1961-62.

Sixteen seasons later, the entire nation watched another "cinderella" Titan five advance to within one victory of the "Final Four" as Bobby Dye's 1977-78 team won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association post-season tournament and then beat nationally ranked New Mexico and USF to gain the finals of the Western Regional.

The basketball tradition, which included a women's national title in 1970 and coach Billie Moore and star Nancy Dunkle on the women's 1976 Olympic team, was continued in 1984 as Leon Wood helped the men to a gold medal before he became a first-round NBA draft choice. Coach George McQuam's teams were usually factors in the PCAA race and had national Top 20 rankings and a victory over the nation's No. 1-ranked and undefeated team to their credit. Fullerton also has competed twice in the post-season NIT Tournament while the women have recently been in both the WNIT and the NCAA fields.

Gymnastics has brought Fullerton more fame. Coach Dick Wolfe won three college division titles (1971, 1972 and 1974) and has had recent teams in the Top Ten at the Division I level while winning 10 PCAA titles in a row. His 1987 squad was ranked No. 1 in the nation led by former Chinese Olympian Li Xiao Ping. Lynn Rogers began the women's program in 1976 and the Titans have finished sixth or better in the nation every year but two and won the national title in 1979. One-armed Carol Johnston was an All-American and star of the NCAA Championship in 1986 and have been ranked No. 1 in the nation often during the past three seasons.

There have been national titles in men's cross country (1971) and women's fencing (1973) and individual standouts like golfer Martha Wilkerson and runner Mark Covert. Soccer finished second in the nation (1973) and coach Al Mistri has rejuvenated the program at the Division I level. His 1986 team shared the PCAA Championship and the Titans have flirted with national rankings the past few seasons as well while building a loyal fan following.

Football is the only sport that matches the popularity of men's basketball and the Titans have had their share of success on the gridiron as well.

Dick Coury was the inaugural coach in 1970 and he built an instant winner at the Division II level. The Titans were 27-16-1 over the first four years under Coury and successor Pete Yoder before the growing pains of moving up to Div. I were endured. But the program came of age under the guidance of Gene Murphy in the 1980s. The Titans won the PCAA title in 1983 and 1984 and played in the California Bowl in 1983. The team had finished first or second five of the previous six seasons going into the 1989 campaign.

Disney film, "Lefty," while more recently Tami Elliott won 10 All-American awards before suffering a fractured vertebra in her senior season.

Baseball exploded on the national scene with the arrival of coach Augie Garrido. He broke the USC monopoly in the western regionals in 1975 and won the national title in 1979 behind the play of Tim Wallach, now of the Montreal Expos. He won the College World Series again in 1984 with players such as pitcher Greg Mathews of the St. Louis Cardinals. The Titans won their first six-team regional and finished third in the CWS in 1988 under the direction of new coach Larry Cochell.

Women have sparked on the Fullerton diamonds, too. Coach Judi Garman founded the softball program in 1980 and the Titans have been a powerhouse, making seven trips to the College World Series in 10 years. The Titans brought home their first

Titans in the NBA

Ozell Jones

Greg Bunch

Mike Niles

Cal State Fullerton has been well represented at the professional level despite the relative youth of the intercollegiate basketball program.

Six Titans were drafted in the past six years and several more players have signed as free agents. The Titans hit it big in 1984 when two players made National Basketball Association rosters -- guard Leon Wood with Philadelphia and center Ozell Jones with San Antonio. Each was subsequently traded more than once. Wood played four seasons in the NBA and most recently was with the Santa Barbara Islanders of the Continental Basketball Association. Jones has been in and out of the NBA, most recently on the summer roster of the Indiana Pacers.

Recent stars Henry Turner and Richard Morton also have flirted with the NBA. Morton started the 1988-89 season with the Pacers and spent this summer with the Golden State

Kevin Henderson

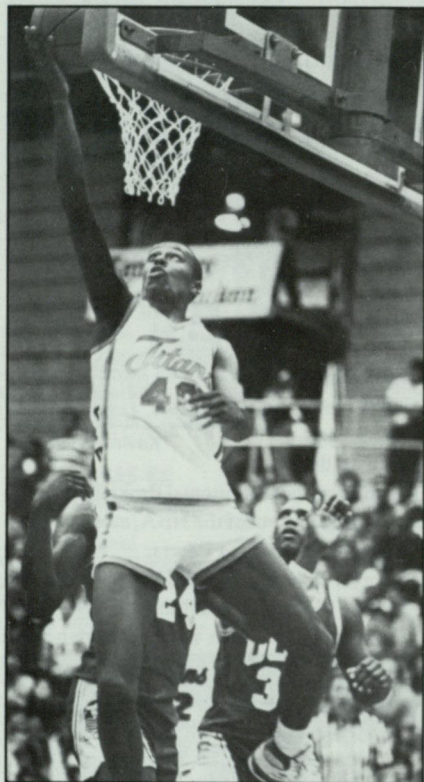

Leon Wood

Warriors. Turner, who was a teammate of Morton's last year in the CBA, was starting in October for the Sacramento Kings.

Another recent Titan to play in the NBA was guard Kevin Henderson, who played with Golden State and Cleveland. Other players drafted in the 1980s were Ricky Mixon (Lakers), Tony Neal (Lakers) and Kerry Boagni (Utah Jazz).

From the decade of the 1970s, the Titans saw forward Greg Bunch play for the New York Knicks and forward Mike Niles play with the Phoenix Suns. Foreign leagues have featured the likes of center Herman Webster, Boagni and sharpshooter Kevin Heenan to name a few.
