

I got a surprise in my college mail when I called by for it — a $25.00 check for my talk to Dr. Naylor's Summer Institute. 25 Juli, 1965
In der Mitte des Nachmittags.

Patricia,

Meines teuren Liebchen:

Es freut mich sehr, dir einen kleinen Brief zu schreiben.

I too, am looking forward to tomorrow.

Also, I am looking forward to dinner with you on Wednesday. Let's try one of the places on El Camino — not too far out of San Jose.

There are three or four that fall within the limits of Santa Clara.

However, if you want to go further, this will be agreeable. Also I am looking forward to our first session on suggestion, meditation, and/or yoga after-ward.

I think it will be good to have a first session before we head for Washington.

For I believe we can relax each other's tensions during the Washington stay. Wonderful as it will be — and Washington is a fascinating city, we are certain to develop a little weariness and foot-tiredness trying to crowd as much as possible into those few days. The chance to use already familiar techniques in reducing tensions & tiredness may easily increase our potential by twenty-five per cent! We can have a couple of sessions in our rooms after evening programs and as a prelude to the restful night that should follow each exciting day. It all makes me excited just to think and write to you about it.

After our beautiful days here and a truly wonderful week in Washington, we'll have a summer long to be remembered!

Will - I'll see you tomorrow at 9:00. I got some real ideas on sports jackets & slacks in my $1\frac{3}{4}$ hour leisurely tour of San Jose shops. I'm going out to the ranch at Cupertino now & for dinner but will come home rather early. I'll drive by your apt. & if the lights are on, I'll give you a buzz when I get to mine. Mit Luck - Carl.
