Ryan Ermeling is in his fourth full year as an assistant athletic media relations director at Cal State Fullerton. In addition to serving as the contact for baseball, he works with the Titans' volleyball program and serves as the department's web master. Ermeling's 2001 baseball media guide was judged Best in the Nation by the College Sports Information Directors of America and his 2003 guide placed second. Ermeling, 28, previously spent two-and-a-half years as the sports information director at Fullerton College. He graduated from Concordia University in Irvine, Calif., in 1997 with a bachelor's degree in communications. He and his wife, Lyndsay, live in Buena Park with their daughter, Alexis, who was born during the Titans' run at the 2001 College World Series. The couple is expecting another child in April.

■ Goodwin Field

All Cal State Fullerton home baseball games are played at Goodwin Field on campus. The field is located at the north end of campus, just east of Titan Stadium. Parking is available by:

- A) Using Lot G at Yorba Linda Blvd. and Associated Road and paying $3 upon entry for a daily permit (Monday-Thursday only). Parking is free on Friday nights and all day on Saturdays and Sundays.
- B) Obtaining a complimentary pass upon presentation of a news credential to the Visitors Information Booth located on the south side of campus, northwest of the corner of Commonwealth and Nutwood Avenues.

■ Media Credentials

Requests should be made by phone (714-278-3081), fax (714-278-3141) or e-mail (remmelg@fullerton.edu) as far in advance as possible and no later than 24 hours before game time. When time permits, credentials will be mailed. Otherwise, credentials can be picked up at the press will call.

■ Photo Credentials

Credentials will be issued on a per-game basis and must be worn in plain sight at all times. All photographers must remain in the camera wells located to the outfield side of each dugout. NCAA regulations regarding photography will be adhered to at all times.

■ Press Box

The press box is located on the walkway behind the home plate seating area. Limited seating is available with beat writers receiving priority. Radio positions and additional media seating will be allocated in the press box or in the rows immediately in front of the press box, if necessary.

■ Telephones

The press box phone number (for media scoring updates only) is (714) 278-5327. Additional lines are available on a shared basis in the press box or softball press box (located adjacent to the baseball facility).

■ Radio Lines

Up to two telephone lines can be made available to the designated radio station of the visiting team. Please make arrangements through the athletic media relations office well in advance.

■ High-Speed Internet

The press box is equipped with several high-speed data jacks for on-line browsing and transmission. Media members should bring their own network cables.

■ Interviews

Coaches and players will be available for postgame interviews on the field after a brief cooling down session and team meeting. Midweek interviews can be conducted before practices, which generally start at 1:45 p.m., or by special arrangement. Coach Horton can also be reached in his office at (714) 278-3780 before noon. Special requests should be made through the athletic media relations office. Interviews with visiting coaches or players should be arranged through the visiting team's SID, when available.

▼ Titans on the Air

Cal State Fullerton will again partner with KWRM 1370 AM this season to present more than 30 games on the air. In addition, all Titan games can be heard on the Internet via www.titansports.org. New this year, fans at the games can hear live Internet-only broadcasts on any transistor radio. The frequency for home games will be 87.9 FM. Road game frequencies will vary. Veteran baseball play-by-play announcer Rob Buska, previously the voice of the Rancho Cucamonga Quakes, an A-level affiliate of the Anaheim Angels, will call the action with various color commentators.

KWRM 1370AM

■ The George Horton Show

KWRM 1370-AM will again feature The George Horton Show this season, featuring Titan play-by-play announcer Rob Buska and Coach Horton in an informal setting at the Stadium Tavern, located on Wilshire Blvd. just west of Harbor Blvd. in downtown Fullerton. Fans will be invited to attend the live on-air shows and will have the chance to dialogue with Coach Horton and other guests. The live show is scheduled for select Tuesdays and Wednesdays (see schedule below) from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. with the broadcast running on a tape-delay basis from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. The show will also be available over the Internet at www.titansports.org.

▼ Titans on the Web

Information on all 17 Cal State Fullerton sports can be accessed via the Internet at www.titansports.org. The baseball home page is updated regularly with results, statistics and weekly releases and also contains player and coach biographies in addition to a downloadable version of the media guide. Links to live in-game statistics (most games) and live game audio play-by-play can also be found on TitanSports.org.

▼ Heading to Omaha

The Big West has enjoyed a tradition of representation at college baseball's premier event, the NCAA College World Series, a showcase of the nation's best teams battling for the national championship in Omaha, Neb. The Big West has featured a contender for the coveted crown on an almost annual basis. In fact, a Big West school has reached Omaha in 11 of the last 14 seasons. Cal State Fullerton brought home the Big West's first national title in 1995. Here is a breakdown of Big West participants in the College World Series over the years (baseball was not sponsored in the Big West from 1977-84).

1975 - Cal State Fullerton
 1988 - Cal State Fullerton, Fresno State
 1989 - Long Beach State
 1990 - Cal State Fullerton
 1991 - Long Beach State, Fresno State
 1992 - Cal State Fullerton
 1993 - Long Beach State
 1994 - Cal State Fullerton
 1995 - Cal State Fullerton (NCAA champ)
 1998 - Long Beach State
 1999 - Cal State Fullerton
 2001 - Cal State Fullerton
 2003 - Cal State Fullerton

▼ Big League Talent

The Big West boasts a sizable number of alumni who have moved on to baseball's highest level and are contributing to the successes of their respective major league clubs.

Some of the Big West's more prominent alumni wearing major league uniforms include Jason Giambi, the 2000 American League Most Valuable Player and 2001 National League All-Star Phil Nevin. Other notable major leaguers who honed their skills in the Big West are Chris Singleton, Mark Kotsay, Steve Trachsel and Brady Anderson.

The list goes on and on. And the supply does not appear to be in danger of shortage. The Big West produces an annual bumper crop of players in the major league baseball amateur draft that ranks the conference among the highest represented in the nation. In the 2001 MLB amateur draft alone, an incredible 38 Big West players were selected, including first-rounder Bobby Crosby of Long Beach State. Cal State Fullerton's Chad Cordero, the 20th overall pick of the 2003 MLB draft by the Montreal Expos, made a quick ascent to the parent club with his appearances in relief throughout the 2003 season.

▼ Key Dates in Big West Conference History

July 1, 1969 - The desire to form a Division I football conference sparks the formation of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association (PCAA) with seven charter members: Fresno State, Long Beach State, San Jose State, UC Santa Barbara, Pacific, Cal State Los Angeles and San Diego State. The conference sponsors 11 men's sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, gymnastics, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field, water polo and wrestling. J. Kenneth Fagans is named commissioner on a part-time basis.

June 3, 1976 - The conference approves the split of the PCAA baseball league into two leagues separate from the PCAA. The Southern California Baseball Association (SCBA) and the Northern California Baseball Association (NCBA) consist mostly of members of the PCAA and the West Coast Athletic Conference. PCAA Commissioner Jesse Hill agrees to govern the SCBA.

June 8, 1979 - SCBA member Cal State Fullerton wins the NCAA Baseball Championship with a 2-1 victory over Arkansas.

May 17, 1984 - The conference council approves the reformation of PCAA baseball for the 1985 season, thus eliminating the SCBA and the NCBA.

June 10, 1984 - SCBA champion Cal State Fullerton wins its second NCAA Baseball Championship. The Titans prevail over the University of Texas, 3-1.

July 1, 1988 - The conference changes its name from "PCAA" to "Big West Conference."

May 14, 1995 - Cal State Fullerton defeats Long Beach State, 8-4, to claim the title in the inaugural Big West Baseball Tournament in Long Beach, Calif.

June 10, 1995 - Cal State Fullerton claims its third College World Series title with an 11-5 win over USC. The Titans become the first No. 1 seed in College World Series history to win the title. In addition, CSF becomes the 14th team in CWS history to advance through the regionals and series undefeated.

January 8, 1996 - Sacramento State and Cal State Northridge are invited to join the Big West as associate members in softball starting in 1997. Sacramento State's baseball team is invited to join the league as an associate member also in 1997.

February 9, 2000 - Cal State Northridge and UC Riverside are formally invited to join the Big West beginning with the 2001-2002 season.

May 26, 2003 - For the first time ever two Big West schools were given regional host-bids by the NCAA. Long Beach State hosted its first regional, while Cal State Fullerton hosted its third. Each would advance to the Super Regional.

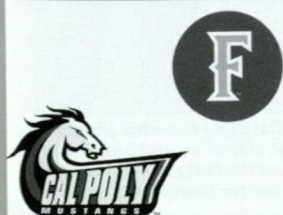

June 8, 2003 - With a 7-1 victory over Arizona State, Cal State Fullerton advanced to its 12th College World Series and ninth as a Big West member. The Titans would come one win shy of reaching the inaugural best-of-3 championship series.

Goodwin Field, formerly known as Titan Field, became the home of Cal State Fullerton baseball on April 18, 1992, when the Titans swept a doubleheader from Loyola Marymount, 8-2 and 11-3. It is the third on-campus diamond to serve Cal State Fullerton, which has also played "home" games at city parks such as Amerige in Fullerton and Boysen in Anaheim as well as borrowing junior college fields at Fullerton, Santa Ana, and Orange coast Colleges during the installation of lights in 1983.

Goodwin Field has become an undeniable home field advantage for the Titans. In the 11-plus seasons they've played at Goodwin Field, the Titans are 259-79 (.766 winning percentage) and won their first 22 games at home in 2003 before finishing with a 31-3 mark. The Titans are 12-4 in NCAA postseason play at the facility and have won their last four postseason tournaments.

The first Titan diamond was laid out to the west of Titan House, located to the southeast of the current stadium. Home plate was in the southeast corner of the field plowed out of the citrus groves. A new field was built around 1970 on today's site, but with home plate located where the current left field foul pole rises. The largest crowd to see a game at that field, with small portable bleachers and plenty of standing room, was estimated at 5,000 in 1979, when Fullerton hosted the University of Hawai'i and heralded pitcher Derek Tatsuno.

The most recent facelift to the facility came in the way of a $3 million project completed just prior to the 2001 season. The stadium's seating capacity has been expanded from 1,750 to nearly 3,500 and for the first time, the stadium boasts an on-site clubhouse-style building, which connects to the adjoining softball stadium. The clubhouse includes locker rooms, coaches offices, umpire quarters and a VIP viewing and entertainment area. The stadium's name was officially changed from Titan Field to Goodwin Field (in honor of benefactors Jerry and Marilyn Goodwin) in a ceremony prior to the Titans' game against Long Beach State on April 14, 2000.

Thanks in part to the extensive renovations and a commitment by the university to transform the field into a state-of-the-art facility, the NCAA has named Goodwin Field as a regional site in three of the past four seasons. Fullerton also hosted super regionals in 2001 and 2003. The Titans had been on the road for the first 21 Regional appearances in their history and had qualified for more College World Series appearances (10) by winning on the road than any other school. When Fullerton hosted Mississippi State in its first home super regional in June of 2001, consecutive then-sellout crowds of 3,412 cheered the Titans on as they swept the Bulldogs to clinch a CWS berth in front of a home crowd for the first time.

Goodwin Field is also home to the prestigious Kia Baseball Bash, which will mark its fifth annual tournament in 2004. The three-day round-robin event is considered one of the best tournaments in the country. Of the 16 teams that have competed in the tournament over the last four years, nine have reached the super regionals and five have advanced to the College World Series.

Goodwin Field has had several other renovations over the years. Its playing surface sported a brand new look for the 1996 season, thanks in part to the efforts of the Sports Turf Managers Association led by Steve Guise. The organization donated materials and labor in rebuilding the pitcher's mound and batters' box, along with planting new grass in the outfield. Turf was added to the warning track. Additional landscaping has been placed on the outside of Goodwin Field, including palm trees along the batting cages in left field.

THIS IS TITAN BASEBALL

Twelve College World Series appearances. Three national titles. Twelve consecutive trips to the NCAA playoffs. Not one losing season in 29 Division I seasons. Cal State Fullerton's baseball program and excellence seem to go hand in hand.

The excellence starts with a coaching staff comprised entirely of former Titans, coaches who understand what it takes to be successful. None of the Cal State Fullerton coaches have ever experienced a losing season. At any school. At any level.

It's passed on to a highly talented and dedicated group of players who are equally successful... Successful on the field - the Titans made their 12th trip to Omaha in 2003. Successful in the classroom - witness Jon Smith's selection as a first-team Academic All-American in 2001. Successful in the community - the Titans continue to sponsor Baseball Buddies, a program that links Titan players with elementary school students in the classroom and on the playground.

And it doesn't end there. Cal State Fullerton's players go on to highly successful careers in professional baseball. Nearly 40 former Titans were members of professional teams last season and several were flourishing in the Major Leagues. Just more examples of excellence.

Head Coach
8th Season
309-132-1 (700)
Cal State Fullerton (1978)

The Titan baseball tradition is alive and thriving, thanks to Head Coach George Horton, the 2003 Baseball America National Coach of the Year.

Since Horton, 50, took over for Augie Garrido on Sept. 4, 1996, after six years as Garrido's associate head coach, the Titans have posted a 309-132-1 record, celebrated a Big West Conference title five times (by way of tournament or regular season crown) and made three trips to the College World Series. They have almost always been ranked in the national Top 25 polls and briefly ascended to the top spot in the polls in 1999, 2001 and 2003.

Horton's .700 winning percentage is fifth among active Division I coaches (minimum five years). Of the 24 teams – many of which are nationally prominent – that Horton has faced five or more times, only two (Stanford and Wichita State) have managed winning records against Fullerton. A recent study by Boyd's World – a web site devoted to the statistical analysis of college baseball – found Fullerton to have the second-best standard of success over the past five seasons and the third best over the past three seasons.

Horton authored a storybook season in 2003, guiding the Titans to one of their best starts in program history (15-1) and leading them to a program-best record of 31-3 at Goodwin Field. After sweeping through the regional at Goodwin Field, the Titans beat Arizona State – the top offensive team in the country – in a super regional to advance to Omaha for the 12th time in their history. Fullerton quickly shot out to a 2-0 record in Omaha before Stanford knocked off the Titans twice en route to the championship series. Nonetheless, the Titans finished as the consensus No. 3 team in the nation for the second time in the past three years. For the Titans' efforts, Horton was named the National Coach of the Year by Baseball America, the highest reputed baseball publication. He was honored in December at the 2003 Baseball Winter Meetings in New Orleans.

The two-time Big West Conference Coach of the Year has been at his best in series play. Heading into 2004, Fullerton owns a 79-21 overall record in three-game regular season series and the Titans have won 50 of 61 (82 percent) Big West Conference series. Fullerton has been swept just four times while the Titans have recorded 43 series sweeps. Perhaps an even bigger credit to Coach Horton has been his success on the road: the Titans have won 26 of Horton's 30 conference series away from Goodwin Field.

Horton, who is one of nine men to have appeared in Omaha as a player and a head coach, has seen 46 Titans selected in the Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft during his tenure, including nine in 2001 and 11 in 2003. Aaron Rowand was a "sandwich" pick in 1998, Adam Johnson was the second overall selection in 2000 and Chad Cordero was the 20th overall pick in last June's amateur draft. Already, nine former Titans who played for the current coaching regime have ascended to the Major Leagues, including Cordero, who pitched exceptionally well in relief last year for Montreal, just two months after leading the Titans at the College World Series.

Horton's Titans also carried the Fullerton flag to Omaha in 2001, when they secured a berth at home for the first time and carried the national No. 1 seed to Rosenblatt Stadium. After holding off local favorite Nebraska in the opener, the Titans lost a pair to Stanford with a win over Tulane sandwiched in between. The Titans finished No. 3 in all three national polls. Under Horton's eye, the 2001 squad posted several memorable moments during the regular season as well. They won 24 of 25 over one stretch and became the first team ever to sweep a three-game series against eventual national champion Miami at Mark Light Stadium.

The 2000 Titans, the unanimous preseason pick to win the conference and the consensus No. 2 team in the country, had a two-game lead on Nevada with three games to go in the Big West race. But the Wolf Pack swept Pacific in the final series and Fullerton lost two of three to Long Beach State, so the Titans had to settle for a co-championship. However, the Titans did host a regional for the first time, which was won by USC.

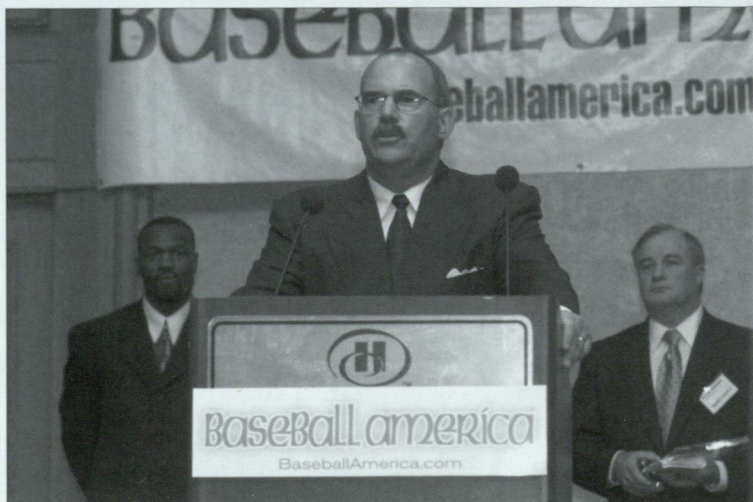

In 1999, the Titans again went 25-5 to win the BWC by four games. They swept three games at the Notre Dame Regional and then overcame an assortment of disadvantages to triumph in three games in the Super Regional at Ohio State to qualify for the school's tenth College World Series, where they went 1-2.

In 1998, the Titans used a remarkably balanced squad to start strong and then dominate the Big West Conference regular season with a 25-5 record. But they stumbled at home in the Big West Tournament and then ran into a powerful buzz saw in Baton Rouge in the NCAA regionals, placing second at 3-2 with a pair of losses to the host LSU Tigers.

In Horton's debut season in 1997, the Titans struggled to a 23-19-1 start, but then rattled off 15 victories in their final 18 regular season games. They lost the opener of the Big West Conference post-season tournament at home to Pacific ace Dan Reichert, but then came back to win four games in a row at Blair Field. They swept a doubleheader on the final day against host Long Beach State to capture the league championship and the automatic NCAA tournament bid. At Stanford, the Titans went 1-2 to place third, losing to Santa Clara and Fresno State.

Horton fulfilled a lifelong dream of being a Division I head coach when he was promoted to replace Garrido, who left to take over the program at the University of Texas. A 1978 CSF graduate, Horton had returned to the campus in 1991 when Garrido came back after a three-year stint at Illinois. In the next six years the Titans posted a 264-99 record and made three trips to the CWS, winning the 1995 crown with a phenomenal 57-9 season. Horton had input on virtually every aspect of the Fullerton program with his primary concern being the development of the pitching staff. His organizational skills, patience as a teacher and his attention to detail provided the backbone of the Titan coaching staff.

During the years Horton was responsible for the pitching staff, nine pitchers received All-America honors and James Popoff (1992), Matt Wagner (1994) and Ted Silva (1995) won Big West Conference Pitcher of the Year honors. Dan Naulty became the first Titan pitcher under Horton's guidance to reach the major leagues when he made the 1996 opening-day roster for the Minnesota Twins. He later earned a World Series ring in 1999 with the Yankees. Another Horton product, Brent Billingsley, made two appearances for the Florida Marlins early in the 1999 season. Eleven more of Horton's former pupils – both pitchers and position players – have ascended to the Major League ranks over the last few years.

Horton also worked with Phil Nevin (San Diego Padres), who in 1992 was the Golden Spikes Award winner, Baseball America player of the year, baseball's No. 1 draft pick (by Houston) and the College World Series MVP. Nevin has gone on to a successful pro career as have former Horton pupils Mark Kotsay (Oakland A's) and Jeremy Giambi (Los Angeles Dodgers).

Kotsay and Nevin along with Brian Loyd and Jason Moler – all tutored in part by Horton – were Olympians and Kotsay was chosen the college player of the decade by Baseball America.

Horton began his head coaching career at Cerritos College in Norwalk, where he guided the Falcons to three junior college state championships in six years. He compiled a 226-53 record and won the California titles in 1985, 1987 and 1989. Each of those years he was selected National Junior College Coach of the Year. His best season was 1987 when the Falcons went 46-5. He had a South Coast Conference record of 102-28 (.785) and was a four-time South Coast Conference Coach of the Year (1985, 1987, 1989 and 1990).

He had many players graduate to the major leagues including Brian Hunter, who played for the Atlanta Braves in the 1991 World Series. Other names include Mike Benjamin, Craig Worthington, Ever Magallanes, Al Osuna, Joel Adamson, Dan Patterson, Luis Medina, Jeff Hearn, Nauty and Olympian and major leaguer Bret Barberie.

Horton was a player on the Cerritos College teams in 1972 and 1973. As the Falcons' team captain in 1973, he won the Dallas Moon Award and was a member of the state championship team. Horton played two seasons for Garrido at Cal State Fullerton in 1975 and 1976 and won All-PCAA honors as both a junior and a senior. He was on the first Fullerton team to go to the College World Series in 1975. He batted .308 as a junior and .290 as a senior while playing first base. He graduated in 1978 and went on to earn a master's degree in 1980 at Cal Lutheran.

Horton's coaching career began as an assistant at Cerritos in 1976-77 and he went to Los Angeles Valley College the following three seasons where he coached with former Long Beach State Coach Dave Snow. In 1980, he moved back to Cerritos as an assistant to Gordie Douglas before taking the head job in 1985. In addition, he coached during the summer for the Fairbanks Goldpanners (1981 and 1983) in Alaska and the Hutchinson Broncos (1982) in Kansas. A few famous names played for him on those summer teams such as Shane Mack, Oddibe McDowell, Joe Magrane, Dan Plesac, Phil Stevenson and Roger Clemens.

In 1994, Horton was inducted into the California Community College Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame. He was also inducted in the Downey High School Hall of Fame last May.

Horton was born on Oct. 5, 1953. The Yorba Linda resident and his wife, Francie, have four daughters: Michele (24), Heather (20), Loyal (15) and Rebecca (13), and two granddaughters: Angelica (4) and Alyssa (2).

Dave Serrano, in his eighth season as Cal State Fullerton's pitching coach and recruiting coordinator, has established himself as one of the top assistant coaches in the country. Baseball America has called Serrano the top assistant coach on the West Coast and tabbed him as a finalist on more than one occasion for national Assistant Coach of the Year.

His recruiting efforts have played a large part in Fullerton's ongoing success. Twice in the last four years, his recruiting classes have been ranked among the top two in the nation. Since Serrano's arrival, each of the Titans' recruiting classes has ranked among the top 20 nationally, including the 2005 class, which was tabbed the 18th best by Collegiate Baseball.

During his watch at Fullerton, 22 pitchers have been drafted, and, already, six of his Fullerton products (Matt Wise, Adam Johnson, Brandon Duckworth, Kirk Saarloos, Erasmo Ramirez and Chad Cordero) have reached the Majors. Serrano also coached a pair of future Major Leaguers on the 1996 Tennessee team in Mike Lincoln and R.A. Dickey.

Cordero, the All-American closer for the Titans the past three seasons, ascended to the Major League ranks just two months after pitching for Fullerton in the College World Series last June.

Of the 21 Titans to earn All-American honors at Fullerton since Serrano's arrival in 1997, 14 have been pitchers. In 2001 alone, four Titan pitchers earned a total of 14 All-American citations, including Saarloos, who was a finalist for virtually every National Pitcher of the Year award. Again last season, four pitchers earned All-American recognition, with three of those returning for the 2004 campaign. Serrano has also coached 21 all-conference hurlers, including three of the last six conference Pitchers of the Year (Benito Flores in 1998, Johnson in 2000 and Saarloos in 2001).

Serrano's staffs have led the conference in ERA in five of his seven seasons and have ranked among the nation's top-25 in ERA in each of the last four seasons (17th in 2000, 14th in 2001, 24th in 2002, 3rd in 2003). Last year, Serrano helped mold perhaps the deepest staff in all of college baseball as the Titans' 2.87 ERA was the first sub-3.00 ERA at Fullerton in 25 years.

Serrano, 39, in nine years of coaching at the Division I level, has already been to the College World Series four times with two different programs. He was the pitching coach and recruiting coordinator in 1995 and 1996 at the University of Tennessee for Head Coach Rod Delmonico. He helped the Volunteers reach the College World Series in 1995, the first time they had visited Omaha in 44 years. At Fullerton in 1999, Serrano molded an assortment of question mark arms into an exclamation point staff that propelled Fullerton to its 10th Omaha bid.

Serrano has coached more than two dozen pitchers who are currently playing professional baseball. At Tennessee, he coached a pair of first-round draft picks in Dickey and Todd Helton, the latter of whom has blossomed into one of the best hitters in baseball after having also pitched at Tennessee.

This is Serrano's second go-around as an assistant to Horton. He worked with him at Cerritos College for three years (1988-90) before Horton moved to Fullerton in 1991 as an assistant to Augie Garrido.

Serrano remained at Cerritos through the 1994 season. In his seven-year tenure, Cerritos won a state championship (1989) and six conference titles, including 1991, when Serrano was the Falcons' head coach and earned South Coast Conference Coach of the Year honors.

Serrano graduated from Cerritos High School in 1982 and played two seasons at Cerritos College. In 1985, he went 12-1 and earned junior college All-American honors while helping the Falcons go 39-5 and win the state championship. Serrano then pitched for Cal State Fullerton in 1986, posting a 3-4 record with one save in 15 appearances.

Serrano, who holds a bachelor's degree from Trinity College and University, lives in Buena Park with his wife, Tracy, and their sons, Kyle (8), Zachary (6) and Parker, who was born late last summer.

Rick Vanderhook is in his 18th season as an assistant coach for the Titans. He will again coach the outfielders and hitters, set the defense and handle third-base coaching duties. He is also a key evaluator of talent in the recruiting process and is the director of Titan Baseball Camps.

"Hook" has coached four first-round draft picks (Mike Harkey in 1987, Phil Nevin in 1992, Dante Powell in 1994 and Mark Kotsay in 1996) and a supplemental pick (Aaron Rowand in 1998) as well as 14 All-Americans since 1991. He also played a key role in the development of 2003 Big West Conference Player of the Year Shane Costa, who was selected in the second round of last year's draft by Kansas City.

As camp director, Vanderhook oversees all aspects of the Titan Baseball Academy, which help young players (7 to 17-years-old) reach their top performance level. Among the graduates of Titan camps are former Titans Steve Chatham, Rowand, Darric Merrell, Kyle Boyer, Jason Corapci and current Titan Dustin Miller.

Vanderhook, 41, first coached at Cal State Fullerton from 1985 to 1988. After serving as a bullpen coach and working with the pitchers and catchers in 1985 and 1986, he stepped into the third-base coaching box in 1987 and began working with the hitters and defense a year later. In 19 seasons with the Titans as a player and a coach, Vanderhook has been to the College World Series eight times.

Vanderhook spent 1989 and 1990 with Coach Bill Kernen at Cal State Northridge. In 1990, the Matadors posted a 39-22 record and were the NCAA Division II runners-up. Vanderhook returned to Fullerton, along with Head Coach Augie Garrido, prior to the 1991 season.

Vanderhook has coached some of the most explosive Titan offenses in the program's history. The 1999 Titans, who made the school's 10th College World Series appearance, set school records for single-season batting average (.338) and runs per game (9.2). He also helped fine-tune the 2003 squad, which was 10th in the nation in hitting (.329), 20th in scoring (7.9 runs per game) and among the top 30 in doubles per game and triples per game.

Vanderhook has also coached for Fairbanks in Alaska and helped the Goldpanners finish third in the nation in 1986.

A product of the prominent Cerritos College program where he played for George Horton, Vanderhook originally came to Cal State Fullerton in 1983 and redshirted his first season with the Titans before becoming a member of the Titans' 1984 national championship team.

Vanderhook prepped at Lake-wood High School under Coach John Herbold, now the head coach at Cal State Los Angeles.

He currently resides in Yorba Linda with his wife, April, daughters Noelle (8) and Autumn (6), and son R.J., who will turn 4 in April.

Chad Baum is in his fourth season as the Titans' volunteer assistant coach after serving in a student assistant capacity in 2000.

Baum, who graduated from Cal State Fullerton with a degree in kinesiology in 2000, was a Titan team captain in 1998 and again in 1999, when Fullerton reached the College World Series. Baum appeared in 38 games over the two-year stretch and hit three home runs in just 44 at-bats. He was also reliable behind the plate, turning in a perfect 1.000 career fielding percentage (70 chances).

Prior to his pair of seasons in a Titan uniform, Baum spent a season each at Santa Ana College and Golden West College. Baum batted .306 in 1997 for the Dons, who were ranked No. 1 in the country during most of the season. He was selected in the 42nd round of the 1997 draft by the San Francisco Giants.

Baum prepped for Coach Mike Najera at Canyon H.S. in Anaheim Hills and earned honorable-mention All-Century League honors. While at Canyon, Baum hit one of nine home runs that set a one-game CIF record for the Comanches.

Baum, 26, lives in Anaheim Hills and is currently pursuing his master's degree at Cal State Fullerton.

Long-time Orange County baseball supporter Todd Rogers is in his first year as the Director of Baseball Operations at Cal State Fullerton.

In his role, he coordinates the Titans' travel plans and oversees special activities, such as the alumni weekend.

Rogers has coached youth sports for 24 years and spent several years with the Placentia Mustangs 14-and-under travel team. During his time with the Mustangs, the team won three national AAU championships. Rogers also served on the booster club for El Dorado High School's baseball team and ran the National Classic at Goodwin Field.

Rogers has also been involved in the restaurant business and previously owned Homer's, the popular Titan "hang-out" located just a mile from campus.

Rogers, 39, lives in Placentia.

PREVIEW & PLAYERS

BOYD SAYS: Cal State Fullerton's baseball program was recognized as the third best in the nation over the past three years and the second best over the past five years by Boyd's World, a web site devoted to the statistical analysis of college baseball. The rankings are the results of calculations designed to measure the quality of a team's performance by combining their winning percentage with the difficulty of their schedule with appropriate emphasis on inter-regional games. Stanford was ranked first in both lists, while Rice also edged Fullerton in the three-year rankings.

SOPHOMORE SENSATIONS: Fullerton returns four players who earned freshman All-American honors last season and a few more sophomores who could fill starting roles this season. Outfielder Danny Dorn (.348, 7 HR, 54 RBI), infielder Justin Turner (.326, 1, 39) and starting pitchers Dustin Miller (9-2, 3.33) and Ryan Schreppel (5-3, 2.45) made dazzling debuts at the Division I level in 2003 en route to All-American recognition. Lefthander Ricky Romero (3-0, 3.20) was also superb as a freshman, but didn't get as many innings because of the depth of the Titans' staff. And, Sergio Pedroza (.325, 4, 24) was also good enough for all-conference honors. This year, outfielders Bobby Andrews and Shawn Scobee and infielders Neil Walton and Blake Davis will also battle for key roles, meaning the Titans could feature as many as seven sophomores in everyday positions.

TOURNEY TALK: The Titans have made 25 NCAA Regional appearances in their 29-year Division I history and have not missed the playoffs since 1991. Their 12-year run is the fifth-longest active streak in the nation. Only Miami (31), Florida State (26), Clemson (17) and LSU (15) have longer streaks. Fullerton has advanced to Omaha 12 times, with College World Series titles in 1979, 1984 and 1995.

HOME SWEET HOME: Fullerton had one of the best home records (32-3) of any team in the nation in 2003. The Titans also drew a record 69,254 fans through the gates to rank 23rd in the nation. Their attendance average of 1,979 ranked 26th nationally and trailed only Arizona State, Fresno State and Stanford on the West Coast. The Titans drew more than 2,000 fans 15 times and saw more than 3,000 fans come through the gates on eight occasions.

▼ Titans Hoping for Return Trip to Omaha

The Cal State Fullerton baseball program was recently ranked as the fifth-best program in all of college baseball over the past three years and the third-best over the past five years.

George Horton's thoughts?

"I'd like to be the best in 2004.

"It's nice to get that kind of recognition, of course," said Horton, referring to the rankings by Boyd's World, an independent web site devoted to statistical analysis of college baseball. "But, to be honest, we've still got a sour taste after coming up short last year. We're hungry to get back and get another shot at the title."

Those who follow college baseball think the Titans, ranked as high as fourth in the preseason polls, have a solid chance at reaching the College World Series in 2004. If they prove the experts right, it would mark just the second time in the program's history a team went to Omaha in back-to-back seasons.

They'll begin their quest on Jan. 30 with a three-game series against Stanford, which contributed to the sour taste last year. The Cardinal beat the Titans back-to-back days in Omaha last June to deny the Titans a berth in the first CWS championship series.

"That's all a distant memory," said Horton. "What we've seen with this team is that we have a lot of talent and some experience back, but we've got a lot of youth on this team."

Much of the preseason praise is based on the Titans' returning corps of players – namely the three pitchers who were the weekend starters by season's end and a quartet of players who earned freshman All-American honors.

However, unlike last year – when the Titans boasted their lowest team ERA in 25 years and finished third nationally in that category – the strength of this year's squad might be the overall talent and athleticism of the everyday position corps.

"On the mound, we certainly have some talent returning, but we're not as deep there as we were a year ago," said Horton. "We'll need to stay healthy from a pitching standpoint."

"Offensively, I think we'll still be able to do some exciting things and we're hoping to generate some more power. That was probably the one thing missing from last year's team."

■ Infield

The left side of the infield should look just like it did in Omaha last June, with Ronnie Prettyman manning third base and Justin Turner at shortstop.

Turner, who played most of the 2003 season at second base, moved to shortstop – his high school position – late in the season and was just as brilliant defensively there.

"He is clearly our best defensive infielder and maybe one of the best in the country," said Horton of the sophomore who made just five errors in 61 infield starts.

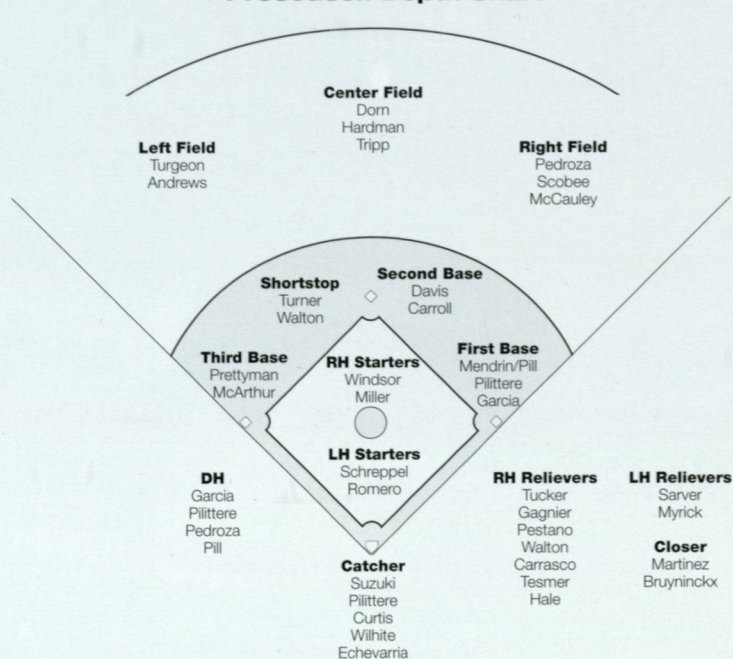

At the plate, Turner and Prettyman are the prototype Titans. They bunt exceptionally well, put the ball in play, run well and hit for average.

"We'd be satisfied with both of them from an offensive standpoint even if they just improved slightly from last year," Horton said.

Turner ended the year on a bitter-sweet note, earning all-tournament honors at the College World Series, but getting knocked out of the Titans' final game against Stanford when he was hit in the face, an injury that also kept him from traveling to Tucson to audition for Team USA.

Prettyman was a pleasant surprise for the Titans, turning in a solid Division I debut season as one of the top 10 hitters (.344 average) in the Big West Conference. The Titans will again look for Prettyman to set the table as the leadoff hitter.

There are question marks on the right side of the infield, though there is probably no "wrong answer" for Horton and the Titans.

A quartet of players are vying for the first base job with sophomore Jake Mendrin and redshirt freshman Brett Pill a step ahead of junior transfer Felipe Garcia and senior P.J. Piliittere.

Mendrin was Richie Burgos' back-up last season, so he didn't see much time. But he has again made his case for a starting job with a strong fall. However, it's been Pill – who was recruited as a pitcher – who's made the biggest impression in the early going.

"Brett has really shown the signs of being an impact first-year player," Horton said. "He is a lot stronger this year and has improved defensively."

Meanwhile, Garcia, an all-state first baseman at Cypress College, is a legitimate Division I hitter, and could provide some power that has been sorely missing from the Titans' lineup over the past couple of years.

And Piliittere, the fifth-year senior who has become a fan favorite and earned all-tournament honors at the College World Series last season, has worked out at first base as well to try to loosen the logjam behind the plate.

That leaves second base, which will feature a player new to the Titan diamond, whether it's redshirt freshman Blake Davis or Loyola Marymount transfer Mark Carroll. "Blake functions a lot like a Jason Corapci or Justin Smyres," said Horton. "He executes consistently, sprays the ball around and has a grasp of the small game. He plays what we call total offense. Mark drives the ball a little bit more."

The Titans also hope to get contributions from JC transfer Evan McArthur, who has worked out at several positions. Neil Walton continues to work out in the infield, though his future in a Titan uniform might come on the mound.

Outfield

The Titans have several options in the outfield, though Horton is the first to concede that they'll dearly miss Big West Conference Player of the Year and All-American Shane Costa.

"It would take a special player to replace Shane," he said. "His numbers were one thing, but his presence on the field and the intimidation factor are hard to replicate."

But Horton hopes someone emerges to fill that role.

Sophomore Danny Dorn, who had one of the best freshman seasons in Titan history, seems the most likely candidate.

Dorn was among the conference leaders in nearly every category and broke Phil Nevin's freshman RBI record despite missing the final 10 games of the regular season with a broken thumb.

"Honestly, he reminds me of a Garrett Anderson type," said Horton. "He just sort of glides and makes everything look easy."

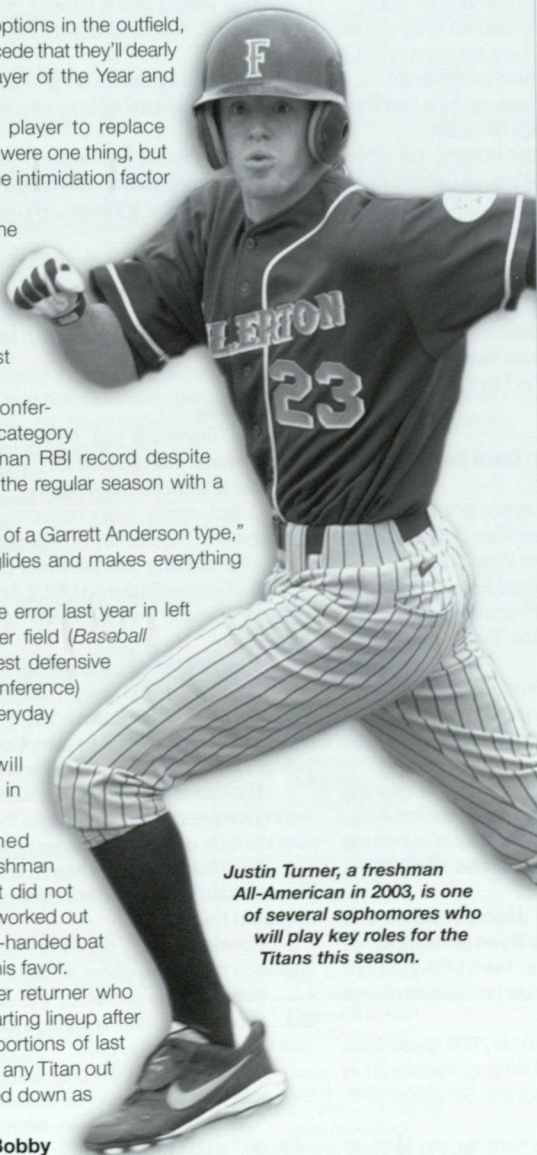

Dorn, who made just one error last year in left field, stands to move to center field (Baseball America tagged him as the best defensive outfielder in the Big West Conference) and bat third in the Titans' everyday line-up.

A handful of players will contend for the corner spots in the outfield.

Sergio Pedroza earned all-conference honors as a freshman designated hitter last year, but did not play one inning defensively. He worked out all fall in the outfield and his left-handed bat could swing the pendulum in his favor.

Joe Turgeon is the other returner who could work his way into the starting lineup after flirting with a starting role for portions of last season. Turgeon was as hot as any Titan out of the gate last year, but slowed down as the season wore on.

In terms of raw talent, Bobby

Justin Turner, a freshman All-American in 2003, is one of several sophomores who will play key roles for the Titans this season.

Andrews and Shawn Scobee might have the edge to crack into the outfield spots.

Andrews is a speedster who has improved immeasurably since last year, when his role was limited to primarily pinch-running. Scobee, who came into the Titans program after spurning the Cubs as a fifth-round draft pick, might be ready to live up to the billing after a somewhat disappointing freshman campaign.

"Scobee's been coming on like gang busters," said Horton. "I think he suffered last year a little from the system and the newness of everything. But he's got a grasp now and he looks like the player we recruited so highly."

Newcomer Clark Hardman has also come on strong and could work his way into the lineup.

■ Catching

One of the most intriguing storylines of 2003 developed behind the plate, where Kurt Suzuki and Pilittere platooned...and still became best friends.

Pilittere was voted the team's most improved player after raising his career average from .233 to .298 with an all-conference caliber season. His .380 average paced the Titans, though he was just a couple of at bats shy of qualifying to be among the conference leaders.

Suzuki, meanwhile, turned in more clutch hits than any Titan, including a memorable walk-off homer against Long Beach State in the regular season finale that might have secured home field advantage for the Titans throughout the regionals and super regionals.

Horton hasn't ruled out a similar platoon scenario for 2004.

"The mindset last year was that the system worked very well for them," he said. "It certainly kept them fresh. There are parts of it that we don't like, but ultimately, we'll do what's best for the team."

With that in mind, Suzuki – who was a walk-on as a freshman – might have a slight edge to see more innings this year.

"He has all the defensive ingredients," said Horton. "He shows leadership, he works well with the pitchers, he's got a cannon for an arm."

Horton is quick to note Pilittere's defensive strengths as well, but said that Pilittere could see action at first base or DH again, as he did down the stretch last year.

Redshirt freshman John Curtis has improved "leaps and bounds" and will push for time behind the plate as well. Jon Wilhite is fourth on the depth chart, though he, too, has impressed the coaching staff with his quick absorption of the Titan system.

■ Pitching

Last year, it was hard for pitching coach Dave Serrano to go wrong.

Of the 11 pitchers he sent to the mound at one point or another during the season, no one had an ERA higher than 3.89 and even that ERA belonged to preseason All-American Wes Littleton.

As a team, the Titans posted the third-best ERA in the nation and the first sub-3.00 ERA by a Fullerton staff since 1977.

Much of the depth has departed, but the Titans are still very top-heavy.

They return the three pitchers who were in the weekend rotation by season's end, a big reason the Titans are so high in the preseason polls. Perhaps Rice is the only team in the nation with a more vaunted starting trio.

"Anytime you're successful in baseball, it's with your pitching staff," said Serrano. "So to have the key starters come back is a big, big plus. I think the key this year is with the depth. A lot of our young guys are untested and we just don't know what roles they'll fill yet and how well they will fill them."

Though, with preseason All-Americans Jason Windsor and Dustin Miller in the fold and sophomore lefty Ryan Schreppel – a freshman All-American who earned an invite to Team USA trials last summer – Serrano hopes he won't have to use his bullpen all that much.

Windsor will be the Friday starter based on his 2003 credentials: an 11-2 record and a 1.98 ERA that ranked among the top 20 in the nation. He'll be followed by Miller (9-2, 3.33) and Schreppel (5-3, 2.45).

"If we can stay healthy, it's going to be hard for any team to take two out of three from us," said Serrano. "You might catch one of those guys on an off-day, but probably not two in the same weekend."

On the brink of a starting job is sophomore Ricky Romero, who might have the best stuff of anyone on the team. Romero was 3-0 with a 3.20 ERA last year in 23 appearances and in one of his six starts, he shut out Pacific and struck out 14 Tigers. Romero will be the first to fill in or could be the midweek starter or first line of defense in the bullpen.

"He could be a weekend starter on just about any team in the country," said Serrano. "So we certainly need to find a way to take advantage of his talent."

There will be no replacing Chad Cordero, the former All-American who holds the Titan career record for saves and needed just two months to ascend from college ball to the Major Leagues.

But Serrano thinks fifth-year senior Mike Martinez has the makings of a top-tier closer.

Martinez was recruited to Fullerton as a pitcher, but was the starting shortstop as a freshman and dealt with a variety of injuries over the past three years. But the makeover is complete and Martinez is healthy.

"Martinez has really solidified himself as a high-level Division I pitcher," said Serrano. "We'll miss Chief (Cordero), but we aren't going to be worried at all about handing Mike the ball."

That leaves the middle relief and set-up duties and that's where most of the question marks are.

Veteran John Tucker is the only experienced arm in the bullpen and he could very well become the set-up man for Martinez.

That means that a handful of newcomers – mostly freshmen – will have to reload what was the deepest bullpen in America last year.

Nolan Bruyninckx is the "closer in waiting," but could be used in middle relief if Martinez is as effective as the coaching staff believes he will be.

Transfer Scott Sarver and freshmen Lauren Gagnier, Vinnie Pestano and Armando Carrasco are the frontrunners to staff the pen. Also in the mix is Walton, who was the Titans' backup shortstop last season.

"The mindset is to mold the best pitching staff we can before the conference season starts," Serrano said. "Perhaps the depth isn't there like it was last year, but if our freshmen can mature to this level and our other guys pitch to their abilities, we could be very strong."

■ Schedule

The Titans will play 25 nonconference games this season against teams that qualified for the NCAA Regionals last year. That's the most of any team in America.

In fact, nearly every nonconference series will be one of the best series in the country on any given weekend.

After opening with perennial power and rival Stanford in Palo Alto, the Titans will take on UNLV, Arizona and Houston – three programs that made the postseason last year and are on the upswing this year.

Then, it's time for the annual Kia Bash, which again will draw the top talent in the country. Fullerton will join Georgia Tech (its first regular season ACC foe since 1997), USC and Oklahoma. Of course, the Sooners are coached by Larry Cochell, who piloted the Titans to a pair of College World Series trips in his three-year stint at Fullerton.

The Titans will match wits with another former coach the following weekend, when they make their first trip to Texas since Augie Garrido took over the Longhorn program in 1997.

The Titans round out March with series against Minnesota and Fresno State before a nonconference tilt with Long Beach State at Goodwin Field.

Conference play opens on Apr. 8, with Fullerton traveling to Stockton for a three-game set against Ed Sprague's Tigers.

Fullerton was picked by the coaches to win the conference, but Long Beach State came in a close second with UC Riverside and UC Irvine closely in tow.

In all, the Titans will play 25 games at Goodwin Field, where they won their first 22 games last year and went 31-3 in all.

"Our fans and our facility have created a great home field advantage," said Horton. "I think other teams know it's tough to beat Cal State Fullerton at Goodwin Field."

TITANS '03: Granted a redshirt season.

TITANS '02: Suffered through another injury-riddled season, which kept him from realizing preseason expectations • Started seven consecutive games early in the season before sitting out the ASU series with hip pain • Made just three starts after Feb. 19 before getting the call to start all three NCAA Regional games • Made his first career start on the mound vs. LMU on Feb. 19, allowing four runs in two-plus innings, though he did strike out four • Had a career game in the Titans' 17-11 win over Fresno State on Feb. 9, going 4-for-6 with 11 total bases and eight RBI • Blasted a pair of two-run homers and had a three-run double • Followed with an RBI-single in his first at bat in the next game • Had a six-game hitting streak snapped at LMU on Feb. 19.

TITANS '01: Had a rough sophomore season by all accounts • Entered the season as the Titans' incumbent at shortstop, but made four errors in his first two starts and lost the job to Mike Rouse • Then, missed about six weeks with an ankle injury suffered during batting practice on March 17 • Appeared in 19 games and started 14 (four at shortstop, 10 at third base) • Batted .119 with four RBI • Had just two hits in his first 28 at-bats for a .071 batting average, but began to turn things around when he started the Titans' final four regular-season games in place of Shawn Norris • Making his first start since March 16, he had a three-run double in a crucial 6-4 win over UCSB on May 13 • Also had a season-high two hits in a 16-6 win over LB State on May 18 • Made just two more errors after the four in his first two games and played a steady third base.

TITANS '00: A true freshman who may have had as much offensive and defensive impact on his team as any freshman in the Big West Conference • Started in all but eight games at shortstop (a finger injury prevented him from playing in five of those games) • Committed just two errors in his first 15 games and three in his last 15 • Turned 24 double plays and had 148 assists • Was one of the Titans' most consistent offensive players (his batting average hovered between .272 and .283 over the last 17 regular-season games) • Was 0-for-9, however, in the NCAA Regionals • Hit all three of his home runs on a seven-game road trip to Nevada, Oklahoma and New Mexico State, during which he also collected 12 of his 28 RBI • Had his best game against New Mexico State on March 30, when he went 4-for-5 (and walked) with a home run, two doubles, five RBI and four runs • Had a six-game hitting streak snapped in the regular season finale • Batted .378 (17-for-43) with runners in scoring position.

KATELLA H.S.: All-state, All-Orange County, All-CIF and All-Empire League selection for Coach Tim McMenamin as a senior • Had a 12-1 record with a 2.75 ERA and batted .444 • Played outfield and shortstop as well as pitcher.

PERSONAL: Born on April 12, 1981, in Downey, Calif. • Parents are Robert and Cheryl Martinez • Has an older sister (Michelle) and a younger brother (Mitch) • Majoring in kinesiology • Has worked at a Christmas tree farm and a dog show • Says people who knew him in high school thought he was shy • Was recruited to Fullerton as a pitcher • If he doesn't make it to the majors, he'd like to work in the medical field • Favorites... Atlanta Braves (team), Alex Rodriguez (player), sunflower seeds (food), TitanCentral.com (web site), Gladiator (movie).

TITANS '03: Was the Titans' most improved player, raising his career average from .233 before the season to .298 by season's end • Paced the Titans with a .380 average and would have ranked second in the Big West if he had just two more at bats • Honorable mention All-Big West Conference selection • Split time behind the plate with Kurt Suzuki for most of the season (30 starts at catcher) before assuming DH duties in the postseason • Capped his memorable season with a berth on the College World Series all-tournament team after batting .500 (6-for-12) with a double, triple, homer and three RBI in four games in Omaha • Named to the Fullerton Regional all-tournament team as the DH, after going 4-for-8 with three RBI, but went just 2-for-11 in the super regional • Batted a team-high .411 (23-for-56) against ranked teams • Was batting as high as .479 (Apr. 6), but never had enough at bats to qualify for the Big West or NCAA leader board • Went 3-for-5 with a pair of doubles and three RBI in the regular season finale vs. Long Beach to snap a 1-for-20 skid • Batted .482 with the bases empty/.275 with runners on base • Did not have an error in 244 chances last season and had just three passed balls • Titans were 18-3 when he scored a run.

TITANS '02: Was the Titans' starting catcher most of the season, starting 42 games • Was batting .298 before a 3-for-24 slump over the last five games dropped his average to .269 • Was much better with the bases empty (.304 average) than with runners on (.237) • Delivered the go-ahead single in the eighth inning of an 8-6 win over Pepperdine on Apr. 16 • Had a career-high four hits and delivered his first career extra-base hit (a solo HR) vs. Fresno State on Feb. 9 • Committed an error in each of the Titans' games vs. Fresno State • Drove in a career-high three runs vs. UNLV on Feb. 15.

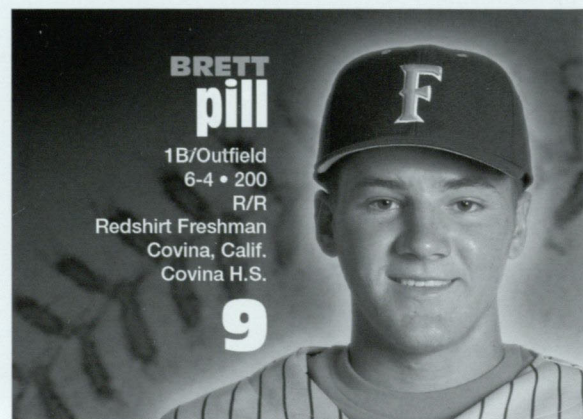

TITANS '01: Began the season as the No. 3 catcher on the Titans' depth chart and wound up as Fullerton's starting backstop over a 16-game stretch when Brett Kay suffered a broken thumb and Lachlan Thorburn played himself out of the spot • In 27 games, he batted just .154, but performed admirably in the absence of Kay • In fact, the Titans were 14-3 with Pilittere as the starting catcher and recorded a three-game sweep at Miami • Had more RBI (11) than hits (10) • Did not collect an extra-base hit in 65 at bats • Picked up a hit in his first collegiate at bat against Arizona State on Feb. 23 • Had his first multiple-hit game at Miami on April 1, when he was 2-for-3 with a season-best three RBI • Also had a two-run single in Fullerton's 28-0 win over Pacific on April 8 • Had just five at bats over the last seven weeks • Had just one error (.994 fielding percentage) and just three passed balls.

BISHOP AMAT H.S.: Baseball and football standout at Bishop Amat H.S. in La Puente, Calif. • As a senior, Pilittere was honored with first-team All-Del Rey League and honorable mention All-San Gabriel Valley recognition • Was the starting catcher in the San Gabriel Valley All-Star Game • Batted .457 with four homers, five triples, four doubles, 22 runs batted in and nine stolen bases in nine attempts as a senior • Played for Coach Ken Kendrena • Made the honor roll all four years and graduated with honors.

PERSONAL: Born on November 23, 1981, in San Dimas, Calif. • Full name is Peter John Pilittere • Parents are Pete and Debbie Pilittere • Has an older sister (Angela) • Majoring in broadcast journalism with hopes of pursuing a career in television broadcasting • Currently writes for the school paper, the Daily Titan • Most memorable sports thrill was hitting a home run at the College World Series • Would like to see Florida State added to the Titans' schedule • If he won the lottery, he would buy two English bulldogs, one for him and one for his dad • Favorites...New York Mets (team), Mike Scioscia (player), P.F. Chang's (restaurant), Blue Crush (movie), BuffaloBills.com (web site), Jack Black (actor).

2003 IN REVIEW

scorecard

BACK HOME IN OMAHA: The Titans earned their 12th trip to the College World Series by beating Arizona State in a three-game super regional at Goodwin Field. Fullerton quickly shot out to a 2-0 record at the CWS with wins over LSU and Stanford, but the Cardinal came back to beat the Titans twice and keep them out of the inaugural best-of-three championship series.

IN THE POLLS: For the second time in three years, the Titans finished the season as the consensus No. 3 team in the country. The Titans were ranked in top six in the three major polls from Feb. 10 on and reached No. 1 in the country for a couple of weeks in late April.

HOME SWEET HOME: Fullerton had one of the best home records (32-3) of any team in the nation. Fullerton had to pull off last at-bat wins five times and even rallied from eight runs down in the ninth inning to beat Nevada, 10-9, in 14 innings on Feb. 21. The Titans also won a thriller in the regular season finale when Kurt Suzuki blasted a two-out, full-count, three-run walk-off homer to beat Long Beach State, 9-7.

DRAFT DAY: Cal State Fullerton junior pitcher Chad Cordero learned from pitching coach Dave Serrano in practice on June 3 that he had become the ninth Titan to be selected in the first round of the Major League Baseball draft. Cordero was taken with the 20th overall pick by Montreal. Following closely was outfielder Shane Costa (Kansas City, 2nd round) and pitcher Wes Littleton (Texas, 4th round). Other Titans drafted through the first 20 rounds were outfielder Kyle Boyer (Chicago Cubs, 7th round), pitcher Darric Merrell (Colorado, 8th round), infielder Justin Smyres (San Diego, 11th round) and pitcher Sean Martin (San Francisco, 14th round). The 2003 team tied the 1984 and 1985 clubs for the most players selected through the first 14 rounds (seven). Going on the draft's second day were Richie Burgos (Detroit, 22nd round), Jason Corapci (Houston, 29th round) and redshirts Nick Lovato (Florida, 37th round) and Mike Martinez (New York Yankees, 44th round).

BETTER SCORE EARLY: The Titans' bullpen was arguably the deepest in the nation. Fullerton relievers combined to post a 18-5 record and a miniscule 2.28 ERA. The bullpen helped the Titans go 43-0 when they led after seven innings. Most of the glory went to All-American closer Chad Cordero, who saved eight games to bring his career tally to a school record 34.

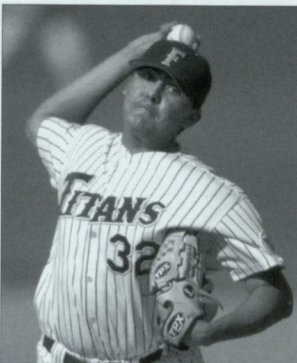

ALL-AMERICANS: The Titans had seven players earn All-American recognition, the most in the program's history. Junior outfielder Shane Costa, junior closer Chad Cordero and junior pitcher Jason Windsor were all honored and infielder Justin Turner, outfielder Danny Dorn and pitchers Ryan Schreppe and Dustin Miller were named freshman All-Americans.

NO FREE PASSES: On the season, Fuller-

▲Fullerton fans had a lot to cheer about in 2003 and they also helped provide one of the best home field advantages in America. The Titans won their first 22 games at Goodwin Field and finished with a 31-3 mark at home.

▲Chad Cordero eclipsed the Titan career record for saves in June. Less than three months later, he was pitching for the Montreal Expos.

▲Shane Costa was named the Big West Player of the Year and was taken in the second round of the draft by Kansas City.

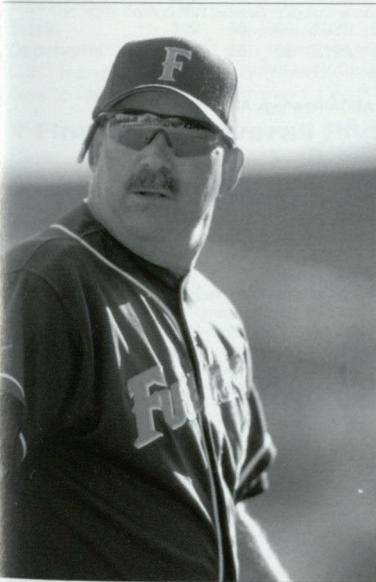

▲Moment of the year? Perhaps. Kurt Suzuki brought the Goodwin Field fans to their feet in the regular season finale when he capped an improbable ninth-inning comeback against Long Beach State with the Titans' first walk-off homer in years.

▲Augie Garrido and George Horton shared a smile before Garrido's first trip to Fullerton since taking over the Texas program. Garrido wasn't all smiles afterward...the Titans walloped the defending national champions, 14-4.

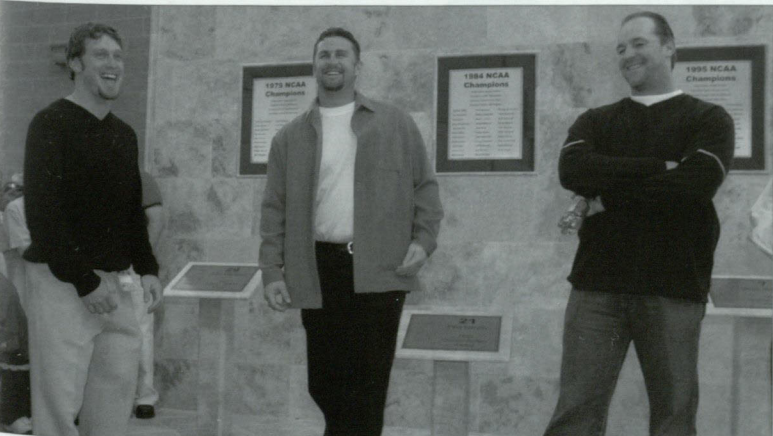

▲ Fullerton clinched its 12th College World Series appearance with an impressive showing against Arizona State at an NCAA Super Regional at Goodwin Field. The Titans' vaunted pitching staff held the top-hitting team in the nation to just nine runs in the three-game series.

▲ Smashmouth lead singer Steve Harwell delighted the Titans players and fans when he took the stage at the College World Series opening ceremonies wearing one of the Fullerton shirts that had been specially designed by Underarmour for the CWS. Harwell had been presented the shirt by Titan play-by-play announcer Rob Buska moments before taking the stage.

◀ Titan Coach George Horton was named the Baseball America national Coach of the Year after leading the Titans to a consensus No. 3 national ranking. Horton guided the Titans to a program-best 15-1 start and took them to Omaha for the third time in five years.

ton pitchers struck out 508 and walked just 132 for a 4 to 1 ratio. The Titans averaged just 2.0 walks per nine innings, which shattered the 12-year-old school record of 2.5.

OUCH: The Titans were hit by 117 pitches last season, which ranks among the top five in a single season in the NCAA record books. Fullerton was hit by 11 pitches in four College World Series games with Kurt Suzuki entering the record books for most HBP in a game (three) and a series (four).

DISH DUO: Titan backstops P.J. Plittiere and Kurt Suzuki split time behind the plate this year...primarily because both were too hot to ride the bench. Combined, the pair hit .366 with 59 RBI and 66 runs scored and neither committed an error behind the plate.

WINS FOR WINDS: Junior Jason Windsor quietly became one of the best pitchers in the nation. He was 11-2 with a 1.98 ERA, the second-lowest mark in the Big West and the 19th-best mark in the country. Windsor picked up the wins in each of the Titans' postseason openers (vs. San Diego in the regional, vs. Arizona State in the super regional and vs. LSU in the College World Series). While he started 12 times, Windsor was just as effective out of the bullpen: in 23 innings, he was 4-0 with a 0.78 ERA.

CHECKING THE STATS: The Titans were one of just two teams in the nation (Arizona State was the other) to rank among the top 20 in hitting (10th), pitching (third) and fielding (20th). Fullerton was also 20th in scoring and seventh in winning percentage.

DIRTY DOZEN: A Big West Conference record 12 Titans were named all-conference this season, including junior outfielder Shane Costa, who was the first Titan named conference Player of the Year since Spencer Oborn in 1999. Costa was joined on the first team by closer Chad Cordero. Second-team Titans were infielder Justin Turner, first baseman Richie Burgos, outfielder Danny Dorn and right-handed pitcher Jason Windsor. Honorable mention picks were shortstop Justin Smyres, catcher P.J. Plittiere, outfielder Kyle Boyer, designated hitter Sergio Pedroza and right-handed pitchers Dustin Miller and Wes Littleton.

ALCS TOUR: Fullerton had the opportunity to play in the stadiums of the two teams that battled for the American League pennants last October. The Titans played a three-game set with Minnesota in the Metrodome (home of the Twins) from March 7-9 and even used wood bats in a May 5 game against USC at Edison Field (home of the Angels).

EIGHT IS ENOUGH: The Titans notched their greatest ninth-inning comeback ever against Nevada on Feb. 21 when they scored eight runs to tie the Wolf Pack before eventually winning, 10-9, in 14 innings. Fullerton was no-hit by Nevada starter Mateo Miramontes through four innings, was shut out through seven innings and had the bases empty with one out in the ninth. But Fullerton went to work against a parade of Nevada relievers and 10 consecutive batters reached base (via five walks, four singles and a hit batsmen). The tying run in the unthinkable inning came home on a Kyle Boyer fielder's choice that would have ended the game had Nevada's second baseman gone for the sure out at first base. Boyer also drove in the winning run, singling in Shane Costa in the 14th.

W: Tucker (1-0); L: Manship (0-1)

Time: 3:03 Attendance: 3,131

Notes: Freshman Danny Dorn drilled a three-run triple to center field in the seventh inning to break a 3-3 tie and propel the Titans to their first season-opening win since 1999...The Titans used five consecutive singles to plate three runs in the first...John Tucker threw 2.2 scoreless innings to pick up the win in his debut...The crowd of 3,131 set a Goodwin Field record for a regular season game.

▼ In the Beginning

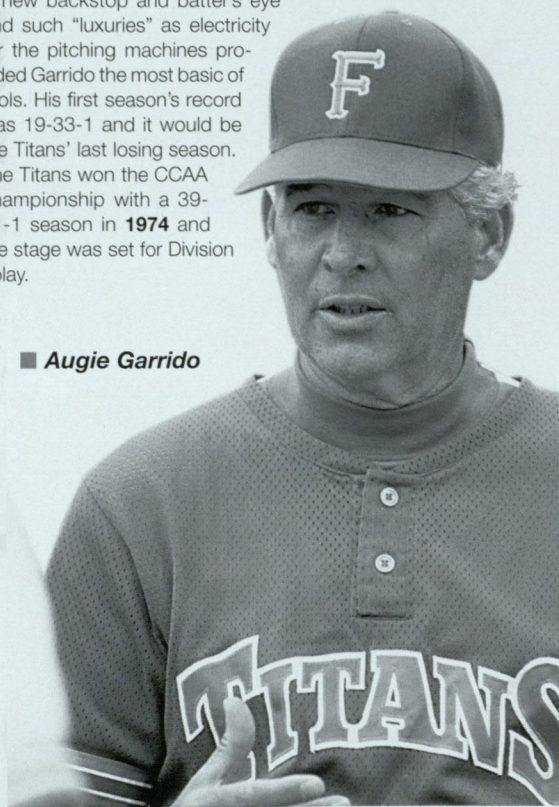

1964 thru 1974

Titan baseball began in the most modest of fashions as a club team in 1964. The founding father was University physical plant employee Beryl Kempton, who carved a diamond out of an orange grove, literally establishing the foundation for what has become arguably the most successful facet of a University now in its fifth decade and educating more than 30,000 students each semester.

Home plate of the first diamond was located near an old orchard residence, the John Hetebrink House built in 1886, which has served a variety of functions for the campus and now houses athletic department offices. The first-base line ran north and the third-base line went to the west paralleling what is now called Gymnasium Drive.

The first coach was Warren Beck, a physical education faculty member who gave way to Bill Fulton when the team assumed intercollegiate status in 1965. The Titans played at the College Division as members of the California Collegiate Athletic Association along with Cal Poly SLO, UC Riverside, Cal State Northridge and Cal Poly Pomona. The Titans had limited resources and were competitive at best until the arrival for the 1973 season of Coach Augie Garrido from Cal Poly SLO.

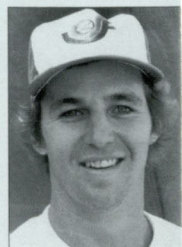

A new backstop and batter's eye and such "luxuries" as electricity for the pitching machines provided Garrido the most basic of tools. His first season's record was 19-33-1 and it would be the Titans' last losing season. The Titans won the CCAA championship with a 39-11-1 season in 1974 and the stage was set for Division I play.

■ Augie Garrido▼ New Bully in the Neighborhood

1975 thru 1984

Garrido's Titans made an instant splash in 1975 as a little fish in the biggest pond. They captured the Pacific Coast Athletic Association championship and then served notice by snapping USC's string of five consecutive national titles by winning their first NCAA regional tournament at Dedeaux Field. They earned their first trip to the College World Series where they were quickly eliminated by losses to Arizona State and Oklahoma. Pitcher Dan Boone, catcher Andy Pasillas and first baseman George Horton were key players that year and initiated a pipeline into the fertile California junior college ranks.

The Titans were dominant in the regular season for nine more years, running their string of conference championships to 11 in a row. They won the PCAA in 1976 and won every Southern California Baseball Association pennant through its 1977 to 1984 run. And in the post-season they proved their mettle against regional and national competition despite always playing on the road.

■ Tim Wallach

In 1976 they took Washington State to a final game in Pullman and in 1977 they lost to the Cougars again in Tempe. USC and Arizona were their nemesis in 1978 in Los Angeles but the Titans struck paydirt in 1979 in Fresno. After an opening loss to UCLA, they came back to beat Portland and Fresno State before sweeping a Sunday doubleheader with the Bruins to earn a return trip to Omaha. There they repeated the championship formula, falling immediately into the losers' bracket with a loss to Mississippi State before rolling through Connecticut, Arizona, Arkansas, Pepperdine and Arkansas again to win the first NCAA Div. I men's championship in school history. First baseman Tim Wallach was the College Player of the Year, pitcher Tony Hudson was the MVP of the CWS and Dave Weatherman hurled a complete-game 2-1 victory in the championship game on no day's rest.

■ Dave Weatherman

The Titans would return to Omaha twice more in the next five years and it would have been more but for the strength of the western region in that era. In 1980 they went to the Tucson regional and Arizona went on to win the national title. In 1981 they went to Tempe and were ousted by the Sun Devils, the eventual national champs. Behind the play of Mike Rubel, Mark Pirruccello and freshman John Fishel, the Titans went through powerful Arizona State in Packard Stadium in 1982 to get back to the World Series, which was now being televised nationwide on the new ESPN network. Unfortunately, the Titans left their game in Tempe and became the first CWS team to go scoreless in losses to Wichita State and Maine.

In 1983 the Titans were sent to Tempe for the third consecutive year and they were eliminated by Fresno State. But the Bulldogs had to sit and watch the next year as Fullerton won the 1984 regional over Mark McGwire's USC team and Chris Gwynn's San Diego State squad in

1984

The Titans strike gold in Omaha again, beating Texas, 3-1, to win their second national championship.

1987

The Titans stumble against LSU in the regionals as pitcher Longo Garcia's mitt comes apart on what should have been a routine come-backer.

1990

A freshman named Phil Nevin hits 14 home runs as the Titans again reach Omaha, where they quickly bow out with losses to Okla. St. and The Citadel.

1979

In just its fifth year at the Division I level, Cal State Fullerton wins its first College World Series, defeating Arkansas, 2-1, in the championship game.

1985

The Titans suited up seven future Major Leaguers, but couldn't manage a conference title and had their string of NCAA postseason appearances snapped at 10.

well over 100-degree weather in Fresno. John Bryant's single in the 11th inning of the finale scored Bob Caffrey and the 8-7 win over the Aztecs sent Fullerton to Omaha for the fourth time in its 10 years of Div. I competition.

Bryant was a hero again in Omaha. After beating Michigan, Miami, Arizona State and Oklahoma State, the Titans used Bryant's triple for a 2-run rally that was the difference in a memorable 3-1 victory over Texas and gave the Titans their second NCAA championship. The Titans won 37 of their last 42 games. Fishel was the series MVP but 6-foot-7, 133-pound lefthander Eddie Delzer captured the headlines in Sports Illustrated with his courageous 7-inning mound effort to get the win that was preserved by Scott Wright with his NCAA record 22nd save. Caffrey would go on to become the first Titan Olympian and join Wallach as a first-round draft choice, also by Montreal.

▼ A Couple of Blips on the Radar

The Titans returned a solid nucleus for 1985 and ended up with a roster that featured seven players who would eventually play in the major leagues. But they failed to win the conference championship and the string of consecutive NCAA playoff appearances was snapped at 10 when they lost a PCAA playoff series at Fresno State and did not get an at-large berth with a 36-32-1 record.

The 1986 team wasn't much better, posting a 36-21 record that again left Fullerton out of the top spot in the standings and out of the NCAA Tourney. The 1987 team restored order with a 42-15 regular season record and an 18-3 PCAA championship mark. But the Titans stumbled in the post-season when sent out of the West for the first time. In New Orleans, they lost an improbable opening game to Southern and converted reliever Allan Ratliff in a 1-0 game in which the defensively-suspect Southern infielders had no chances. Mike Harkey and Larry Casian tossed shutouts to give Longo Garcia another start, vs. LSU. But the unlucky Garcia lost again, this time victimized by his fielder's mitt coming apart on what should have been a routine come-backer.

When Garrido left to accept a lucrative offer from University of Illinois Athletic Director Neale Stoner, who had hired him at Fullerton 15 years earlier, it appeared the Titans' national prominence was waning.

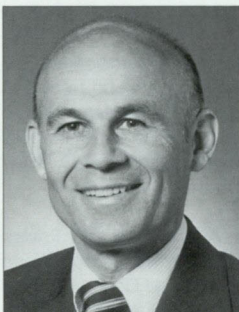

▼ Cochell Does Even Better

1988 thru 1990

Well-traveled Larry Cochell replaced Garrido and a different style and approach still produced success similar to what Garrido had manufactured. The Titans won a pair of regional tournaments in unlikely spots - Mississippi State and Texas - to earn Fullerton its fifth and sixth trips to Omaha in Cochell's 3-year term.

The 1988 team looked like it might be a team of destiny. After a 5-6 start, Garrido's players adapted to the Cochell style. Despite a late-season slump after a 30-5 run, they ventured to Starkville for the NCAA playoffs. With reliever Paul Johnson turning in a clutch performance, the Titans twice beat the host Bulldogs and then posted a 5-run ninth inning capped by a two-out, three-run home run by Mike Ross to beat top-seeded Texas A&M. In Omaha, they took control of the revamped format with wins over Miami and Stanford behind Garcia and Mark Beck. But the Cardinal came back to beat both Titan aces on their way to the NCAA title.

■ Larry Cochell

Fresno State and UNLV sparked a 14-5 finish and a 13-5 record good enough to win the Big West and an NCAA berth. Behind two solid starts by righthander James Popoff, the Titans went 4-0 at the Austin regional, beating Texas twice. In Omaha, the Titans were stunned twice. They lost to Oklahoma State in a game that saw outfielder Rich Gonzales carried off the field after crashing into the steel wall in left field. And they lost in extra innings to The Citadel when a catcher took the mound and shut down a Titan rally.

▼ If You Build It, He Will Come...Back

1991 thru 1996

Cochell accepted a lucrative financial offer to go to Oklahoma and, with construction of a new field underway, Garrido returned from Illinois to launch the Titans' most successful decade yet. Baseball America would rank the program No. 3 for the decade behind only LSU and Miami.

It started in bitter disappointment. The 1991 team won 10 of its last 12 games to post a 34-22 record that the Titans thought was sufficient to earn an at-large NCAA berth considering the circumstances of Garrido's late return, the strength of schedule, playing at Amerigo Park downtown and the strong finish. The team would have gotten the Big West's automatic bid as a Big West tri-champion, but Long Beach State lost its season finale to Pacific, leaving a 2-way tie with Fresno State that worked to the Bulldogs' advantage. An at-large berth was not forthcoming (the third-place 49ers got one) and Fullerton was left to focus its frustration on the 1992 opposition.

Led by juniors Phil Nevin and Jason Moler, the Titans christened their long-awaited new stadium with a return to the national championship game. An overpowering performance at Baton Rouge - they outscored the opposition 35-3 - earned the Titans their seventh trip to Omaha. They beat Florida State twice and Miami two out of three times, the last time in a heavy rain shower, to get a shot at unbeaten and well-rested Pepperdine. Two schools located about 50 miles apart put on a classic show almost 2,000 miles away for a national CBS television audience with the Waves winning, 3-2, thanks to the pitching of Patrick Ahearne, a home run by light-hitting shortstop Eric

Kevin Costner throws out the ceremonial first pitch at the Titans' new campus stadium on May 4. A month later, the Titans lost to Pepperdine, 3-2, in the championship game of the College World Series.

1996

Mark Kotsay caps his brilliant three-year career for the Titans and is eventually named College Player of the Decade by Baseball America.

1997

George Horton takes over the reins of the program from Augie Garrido.

1994

Yep, more happy times as the Titans pack their bags for Omaha for the eighth time. Fullerton is knocked out of the CWS by Nomar Garciaparra's Georgia Tech squad.

1995

Fullerton posts perhaps the most dominant college season ever, winning its final 18 games, including an 11-5 triumph over USC in the national title game.

1999

A school-record .338 batting average and 9.2 runs per game propel the Titans to Omaha for the 10th time and the first under Coach Horton

Ekdahl and a brilliant eighth-inning play by second baseman Steve Rodriguez. Nevin nevertheless earned MVP honors after being selected college Player of the Year. His also was the first name selected in the pro draft a week earlier. Both he and Moler were selected to the U.S. Olympic team and Nevin joined Wallach as a Golden Spikes Award winner.

The 1993 team couldn't overcome the losses to graduation and the pro draft. The Titans placed second in the Big West and twice lost to USC, whom they had beaten twice in the regular season, to be eliminated from the NCAA Regional in Austin and finish 35-19. It would turn out to be the only year Fullerton High School product D. C. Olsen would miss a trip to Omaha in four years in a Titan uniform.

In 1994, Fullerton staged an early season Anaheim Hilton & Towers Classic and it would be a preview of that season's College World Series. The Titans beat San Diego, Oklahoma and Georgia Tech in February and all but USD would be reunited in Omaha. Fullerton earned its eighth trip with a dramatic regional victory at Oklahoma State. The Titans had to beat Memphis in oppressive afternoon heat and humidity and then come back at night and beat a rested Cowboy team on its home field. A ninth-inning, 2-out pinch-hit single by Brian King tied the game and Robert Matos was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded to win it in the tenth.

innings with Garciaparra's home run the difference when the Titans couldn't score Dante Powell from third base with no outs in the bottom of the 12th and had to settle for third place.

A year later, the Titans were not denied as they compiled perhaps the best college season of all time. With Olympians Kotsay and Brian Loyd and future major leaguer Jeremy Giambi pacing the offense and Ted Silva and Kotsay anchoring the pitching staff, Fullerton went virtually wire to wire as the No. 1 team in the nation. They won everything in their reach - the Hilton Classic with Olsen the MVP; the Big West regular season; the Big West Tournament with Loyd the MVP; the regional at LSU with Jack Jones the MVP and the CWS behind MVP Kotsay. They won their final 18 games to finish 57-9 and become the first No. 1 seed at Omaha to win the title. Kotsay won Fullerton's third Golden Spikes Award after batting a then school-record .422 with 21 homers and 90 RBI. To this day, Kotsay holds College World Series career records for batting average and slugging percentage.

The momentum continued into 1996. The Titans opened the year with a 38-4 record before hitting an inexplicable slump where they lost 12 of their final 19 games. Fullerton tumbled to fourth place in the Big West and was eliminated from the BWC tourney at home by UNLV, but still got an NCAA berth at Wichita State. Kotsay tied a NCAA record with nine RBI in a rout of Delaware and a victory over Rice set up a showdown with the host Shockers. Wichita State got a great pitching performance from tourney MVP Brandon Baird and Rice ended the Titans' season and Kotsay and Loyd's collegiate careers with a come-from-behind 13-10 decision. As part of its millenium edition, Baseball America selected Kotsay the college player of the decade.

▼ And the Beat Goes On 1997 thru 2002

Garrido left again for greener pastures, this time the historical program at Texas. His former first baseman and associate head coach for six years, George Horton, took over. Again, the program marched forward.

The 1997 team won 11 of its last 13 regular season games and then bounced back from an opening game loss to win the Big West Tournament, sweeping Long Beach State at Blair Field for an automatic NCAA bid. Good pitching and an aborted ninth-inning rally knocked the Titans out of the regional at Stanford. The 1998 squad reversed the pattern, winning the Big West regular season title but losing the tournament at home to Long Beach. They got sent to Baton Rouge for the third time in the decade and won two games before taking a big lead over the host Tigers behind pitching ace Benito Flores. But LSU flexed its muscles and came back to beat Fullerton twice.

The most productive Titan offense ever - .338 batting average and 9.2 runs per game - carried Cal State Fullerton back to Omaha in 1999. Again, the Titans advanced via the road, winning the regional at Notre Dame and capturing the super regional at Ohio State. But the bats went quiet in Fullerton's 10th trip to Omaha, where they

Georgia Tech, with a quartet of future major leaguers - Brad Rigby, Nomar Garciaparra, Jason Varitek and Jay Payton - beat the weary Titans and Mike Parisi in the CWS opener, 2-0. Fullerton then pounded LSU for 11 runs in the first inning of a 20-6 victory and freshman Mark Kotsay drove in seven runs in a 10-3 win that eliminated Florida State and set up a rematch with the Yellowjackets. This one went extra

The Titans win four championships: the Kia Baseball Bash, the Big West Conference title and regional and super regional titles. They are also seeded No. 1 in the NCAA Tournament and for the first time, the Titans clinch a College World Series berth in front of a home crowd.

shared in the 50th Anniversary celebration. The Titans sandwiched a win over Texas A&M between losses to Stanford and Florida State en route to a fifth-place finish.

■ George Horton

The Titans' 38 wins in 2000 marked their fewest since the 1993 campaign, but they still captured a share of the BWC championship. The season also marked the start of a $3 million renovation to the Titans' facility, which saw its official name changed to Goodwin Field. With the complex's increased seating capacity, Fullerton finally was named to host an NCAA regional after 22 on the road, but the second-seeded Titans couldn't get by red-hot USC. Adam Johnson was named BWC Pitcher of the Year after leading the nation in strikeouts and he was selected second overall in the MLB Draft.

After a sluggish start, the 2001 Titans traveled to Miami and became the first team ever to sweep the eventual national champion Hurricanes on their home turf at Mark Light Stadium. The sweep was the highlight in a stretch that saw the Titans go 24-1 and claim the No. 1 spot in the nation in one poll. Fullerton, seeded first in the nation for postseason play, won a regional and super regional at Goodwin Field to clinch a CWS berth in front of a home crowd for the first time. After beating sentimental favorite Nebraska in the CWS opener, Fullerton ran into Stanford, which beat the Titans twice, though Fullerton was able to sandwich in a win over Tulane. Senior Kirk Saarloos, who pitched the third no-hitter in Titan history, led a quartet of All-American pitchers.

The 2002 Titans thrived on pitching as usual, but Fullerton's offense was anemic more often than not. No Titan hit more than five home runs and the team total of 40 was the fewest since 1976. Despite fading down the stretch to finish tied for fourth in the conference, Fullerton earned its 11th consecutive NCAA berth. The Titans lost to Stanford and All-American Jeremy Guthrie – who earned a 13-inning complete-game win – in the regional opener, came back to beat San Jose State, but were ousted by Long Beach State, whom they met for the first time in NCAA postseason play. Wes Littleton was the only Titan to earn All-American honors, though Chad Cordero was again brilliant in the closer role, pacing the conference with 12 saves.

Perhaps the deepest pitching staff in the country led the Titans to a stellar showing in 2003. Fullerton won 15 of its first 16 games and went on to win 50 games for the second time under Coach Horton. The Titans, who went 31-3 at Goodwin Field, hovered in the top five in the country for nearly the entire season and reached Omaha for the 12th time with a super regional win over Arizona State. The Titans shot out to a 2-0 record at the CWS before Stanford came out of the loser's bracket to beat the Titans twice and keep them out of the inaugural championship series. Fullerton had a record 12 players named all-conference and seven earned All-American honors. Shane Costa was named Big West Player of the Year and was selected in the second round of the draft. Chad Cordero was again an All-American and was pitching for the Montreal Expos just two months after the College World Series.

▼ History at a Glance

■ Cal State Fullerton won national championships in 1979, 1984 and 1995. Its most recent championship capped off a 57-9 season where the Titans finished the 1995 campaign with an 18-game winning streak. They became the first No. 1 seed to win the national title since seeding began in 1988 and the 14th team to advance through the NCAA Regionals and College World Series without a loss.

■ Cal State Fullerton is one of only three schools (Arizona State and Florida State are the others) to have three Golden Spikes Award winners. The award is given annually by USA Baseball to the top amateur player in the nation. The Titans who won the award were Tim Wallach (1979), Phil Nevin (1992) and Mark Kotsay (1995).

■ Cal State Fullerton is among the top five collegiate suppliers to Team USA. Wes Littleton, Shane Costa and Chad Cordero were all members of Team USA in 2002. Mark Kotsay and Brian Loyd represented Cal State Fullerton and the United States at the 1996 Olympics in Atlanta, Georgia. In winning the bronze medal as part of Team USA, Kotsay and Loyd joined three other Titans who have been members of Olympic teams (Bob Caffrey in 1984 and Phil Nevin and Jason Moler in 1992).

■ Thirty-nine Titans have gone on to play Major League Baseball. Three former Titans made their debuts in 2003, including Reed Johnson, who had a stellar rookie season with Toronto, and Chad Cordero, who was pitching for Montreal just two months after pitching in the College World Series.

■ Cal State Fullerton is 97-53 (.647) in NCAA postseason play and is ranked in the top five all-time in winning percentage for teams that have played more than 100 postseason games.

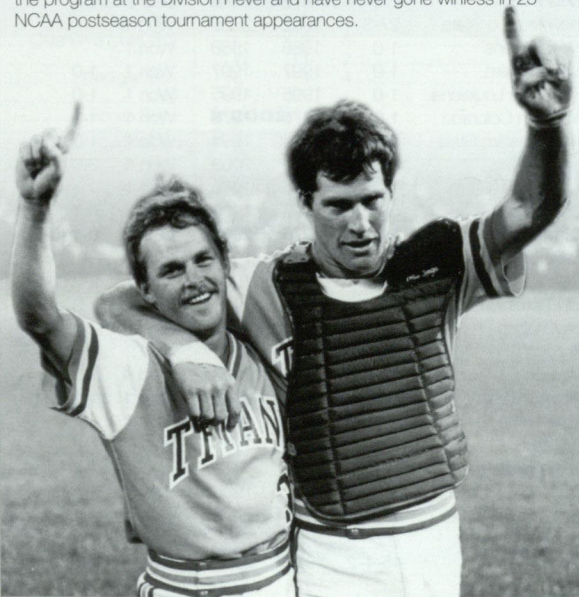

■ No school has made more trips to Omaha, Nebraska and the College World Series by winning on the road. Cal State Fullerton has won 10 Regional titles and one Super Regional title on the road. The Titans' last two CWS berths (2001, 2003), however, have been clinched at Goodwin Field.

■ In 29 years at the Division I level, the Titans have made it to the NCAA Tournament 25 times. Their current streak of 12 consecutive NCAA appearances is the fifth longest active streak in the nation.

■ Chad Cordero became the ninth Titan to be selected in the first round of the Major League Baseball draft when Montreal selected him in June, 2003. Other Titans selected in the first round: Mark Kotsay (Florida, 1996), Tim Wallach (Montreal, 1979), Bob Caffrey (Montreal, 1984), Mike Harkey (Chicago Cubs, 1987), Brent Mayne (Kansas City, 1988), Phil Nevin (Houston, 1992), Dante Powell (San Francisco, 1994) and Adam Johnson (2000).

■ Cal State Fullerton has had 58 All-Americans and 131 first-team all-conference selections in its 29-year Division I history. CSF first joined the Pacific Coast Athletic Association in 1975 when it made the jump to Division I. The baseball conference was not in existence from 1977 to 1984 (CSF played in the SCBA), but returned in 1985. On July 1, 1988, the PCAA officially changed its name to the current Big West Conference.

■ The Titans have never had a losing season in the 29-year history of the program at the Division I level and have never gone winless in 25 NCAA postseason tournament appearances.

▼ Titans & Team USA

Cal State Fullerton's baseball program was tied for fourth in a recent USA Baseball study that identified the top 50 collegiate baseball programs in terms of representation on USA Baseball National Teams since 1984.

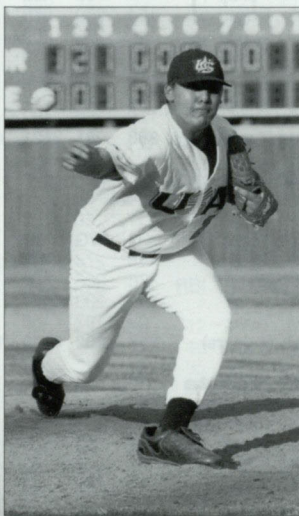

The Titans' program tallied 38 points, trailing only Stanford (70 points), Georgia Tech and Miami (41 points each), while matching USC's tally. Points were awarded in three categories: total number of players to play for Team USA, number of years participated by those players and number of years with a representative on the team.

Fullerton has had 12 players make 15 appearances in 11 different seasons. Wes Littleton, Chad Cordero and Shane Costa were the most recent national team members when they all wore the Red, White and Blue in 2002.

Other Titans to play for Team USA since 1984 were Bob Cafrey, Longo Garcia, Phil Nevin, Mark Kotsay, Brian Loyd, Dante Powell, Ted Silva, Ryan Owens and Kirk Saarloos.

Kirk Saarloos (above) was dominant for Team USA in the summer of 2000 (3-0, four saves, 0.34 ERA in 26.2 innings) and Chad Cordero (right) followed suit in 2002 (0-1, two saves, 0.00 ERA in 13 appearances and 17.1 innings).

▼ Notes on Titans in the Pros

■ Dann Howitt got the last hit allowed by Nolan Ryan – a grand slam home run.

■ Andre David hit a home run in his first major league at bat.

■ Greg Mathews started a game for St. Louis in the 1987 National League Championship Series against San Francisco.

■ Dan Boone is a distant relative of the fabled frontiersman.

■ Tim Wallach made the National League All-Star team five times in his 17-year career.

■ Andy and Jose Mota are sons of former Major League outfielder and Los Angeles Dodgers Coach Manny Mota.

■ Harkey, Schooler, Turner, Fishel, Reimer, Casian and J. Mota were all on the 1985 Titan team which failed to win the PCAA championship and snapped Fullerton's string of 10 consecutive trips to the NCAA playoffs.

■ Catcher Brent Mayne became the first Major League position player in 32 years to post a pitching win when he worked a scoreless 12th inning in Colorado's 7-6 win over Atlanta on Aug. 22, 2000.

■ Frank Charles played for nine years in the minor leagues before finally making his Major League debut for Houston on Sept. 5, 2000.

■ Phil Nevin was one of just five players in the National League in 2001 to hit .300 or better with at least 40 homers and 100 RBI. The others were Barry Bonds, Sammy Sosa, Todd Helton and Luis Gonzalez.

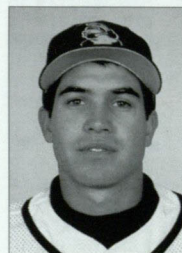

■ Adam Johnson, the second pick in the 2000 draft, was also the second player from that draft class to appear in the Majors. He struck out Mark McGwire in his debut against St. Louis on July 16, 2001.

■ Kirk Saarloos, the 2002 SportsTicker Minor League Pitcher of the Year, was named the National League Rookie of the Month in July, 2002, when he went 3-0 with a 1.77 ERA for Houston.

■ The 1988 team posted one of the most dramatic postseason moments in Titan history. Playing in the NCAA South Regional in Starkville, Miss., Fullerton rallied for five runs in the ninth inning to upend top-seeded Texas A&M in the championship game. Mike Ross' two-out three-run homer sealed the comeback and sent the Titans to Omaha for the fifth time.

■ The 1998 Titans went 22-2 to end the regular season. They earned a bid at the NCAA Regional in Baton Rouge and were en route to winning their third straight game at the tournament before the host Tigers rallied from a 7-0 deficit for a 13-11 win. LSU went on to beat the Titans again, 14-3, to win the regional and advance to Omaha.

▼ One for the ages...

Mike Rouse banged out five hits – including two homers – and scored five runs in a 28-0 win over Pacific on April 8, 2001, but his feats almost went unnoticed. Instead, the spotlight was on Kirk Saarloos, who threw the third no-hitter in Cal State Fullerton history. The Titans coaching staff had thoughts about lifting Saarloos after the Titans grabbed a 24-0 lead in the fifth inning. But perhaps the staff saw destiny at work and Saarloos certainly took advantage of the opportunity. He allowed just two base runners, retired 22 batters over one stretch and wrapped things up in 2:41, despite the Titans' offensive onslaught.

■ Dan Boone...No. 12...LHP...1975-76...A member of Fullerton's first Division I team, Boone became the first Titan to pitch in the majors when he debuted for San Diego on April 11, 1981...Earned a pair of first-team all-conference bids while going a combined 22-6 with a 2.29 ERA over his two seasons...His career ERA is still the third lowest in Titan history and his single-season marks of 2.26 (1976) and 2.32 (1975) are among the nine best...Drafted by California in the second round of the secondary phase in 1976.

■ Bob Caffrey...No. 14...C...1982-84...A pure physical talent behind the plate, Caffrey was a key cog on the Titans' 1984 College World Series championship team...Set the school single-season record for home runs (28) – which he still holds – and drove in 90 runs, but was overlooked on the All-American teams...Picked to the CWS All-Tournament team...Was the first Titan to play in the Olympics when he wore the Red, White and Blue in Los Angeles in 1984...Became the second Titan to be drafted in the first round when Montreal selected him in 1984.

■ John Fishel...No. 12...OF...1982-85...Textbook definition for "every-day player"...Holds seemingly unbreakable NCAA records for career games (295) and at bats (1,114)...Is also first on the Titans' career list in hits, RBI, doubles and total bases...Second-team All-American pick by Baseball America in 1984, when he batted .378 with 16 homers and 88 RBI...Capped the season by earning MVP honors at the College World Series, where he banged out 13 hits in six games to help the Titans to their second title...Drafted in the ninth round by Houston in 1985.

■ Augie Garrido...No. 16...Head Coach...1973-87; 1991-96...Took the Titans from the most limited of resources to seven College World Series appearances, one runner-up finish (1992) and three titles (1979, 1984, 1995)...One of just two coaches to have won national titles in three different decades...Named National Coach of the Year in 1975, 1979, 1984 and 1995...Posted an 875-341-5 record (.719 winning percentage) in his 19 seasons with Fullerton at the Division I level...Won conference championships his first 11 seasons and 16 of 19 overall...Was the driving force behind the construction of Titan Stadium (now Goodwin Field)...Now the head coach at Texas.

■ Mark Kotsay...No. 7...OF/P...1994-96...Arguably, the best and most decorated player to ever wear a Titan uniform...Three time All-American and only Titan ever to earn consensus first-team All-American honors twice...Among the top five career leaders in virtually every Titan offensive category, including first in batting average (.404), second in home runs (45) and second in RBI (216)...Named collegiate player of the decade (1990s) by Baseball America...Earned Golden Spikes Award and Smith Award in 1995 as college baseball's top player...Also named Player of the Year by Collegiate Baseball...Named College World Series MVP in 1995 after batting .563 and slugging 1.250...Is still the career CWS leader in batting (.517) and slugging (1.103)...Member of the 1996 US Olympic team, which captured a bronze medal in Atlanta...Drafted in the first round by Florida in 1996.

■ Phil Nevin...No. 21...3B...1990-92...Exploded onto the national scene in 1992, when he hit .402 with 22 homers and 86 RBI...Claimed the Golden Spikes Award as the nation's top amateur and was named Baseball America's Player of the Year...Also earned first-team All-American honors from the ABCA but was relegated to the second-team by Collegiate Baseball...Led the Titans to a runner-up finish at the College World Series and became just the first player since 1973 to earn CWS MVP honors despite not winning the title...Played on the 1992 US Olympic team in Seoul...Was selected by Houston with the first overall pick of the 1992 draft.

■ Dante Powell...No. 11...OF...1992-94...Perhaps the most highly regarded recruit to ever come to Fullerton...Was the 42nd overall selection in the 1991 draft out of high school, but honored his commitment to the Titans...A speedster who still holds school career records for stolen bases (109) and triples (18)...Earned All-American honors all three years, including a pair of first-team citations in 1993, when he batted .335 with 12 home runs, 57 RBI and 41 stolen bases...Played for the US National Team in 1993...Drafted in the first round by San Francisco in 1994.

■ Ted Silva...No. 12...RHP...1993-95...Had one of the best pitching seasons in NCAA history in the Titans' 1995 national championship season, going 18-1 with a 2.83 ERA and 142 strikeouts...A consensus first-team All-American and the Big West Conference Pitcher of the Year...Was the winning pitcher in the Titans' 11-5 win over USC in the CWS championship game and earned a bid on the all-tournament team...Almost overlooked is his 1994 campaign in which he saved 13 games and had a 2.29 ERA on his way to Collegiate Baseball second-team All-American honors...Pitched for the US National Team in the summer of 1994...Drafted in the 21st round by Texas in 1995.

■ Tim Wallach...No. 29...1B...1978-79...The first national high-profile player at Fullerton, Wallach won the 1979 Golden Spikes Award, was named The Sporting News Player of the Year and was a consensus first-team All-American after leading the Titans to their first CWS title...Batted .391 with 23 home runs and a still-standing school-record 102 RBI...Earned CWS All-Tournament honors...Batted .394 with 16 home runs and 80 RBI in 1978...Selected in the first round of the 1979 draft by Montreal.

California State University, Fullerton plays a major role in the intellectual, cultural and economic lives of Orange County. Given the charge of teaching as a member of the state's three-tiered system of higher education, Cal State Fullerton does an exceptional job of educating the residents – and future – of Orange County.

Now in its 45th year, the university points proudly to its product, more than 137,000 graduates who occupy key spots in business, industry, government, the political arena and education.

The university – with its main campus in Fullerton, a branch campus in El Toro and satellites in Garden Grove, Irvine and Santa Ana – is one of the county's largest employers and purchasers. Its presence is a key factor in the prosperity and progress of this area. With more than 30,000 students currently enrolled and about 5,000 faculty and staff members, Cal State Fullerton generates more than $800 million in economic activity annually and supports nearly 12,000 full- and part-time jobs

With a mission of making learning preeminent, the university's 1,900 full- and part-time faculty members combine the best qualities of teaching and research universities to work in close collaboration with students and staff to expand knowledge. The instructional program is offered by seven colleges: The Arts; Business and Economics; Communications; Engineering and Computer Science; Human Development and Community Service; Humanities and Social Sciences; and Natural Sciences and Mathematics.

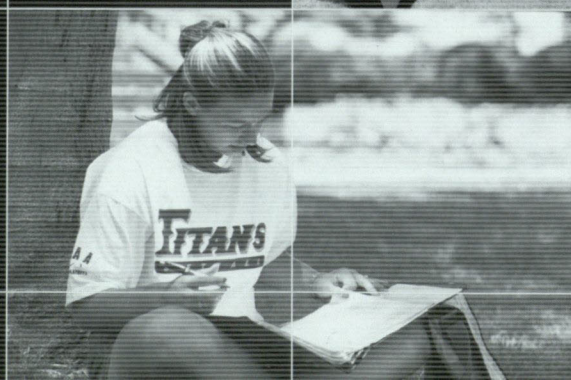

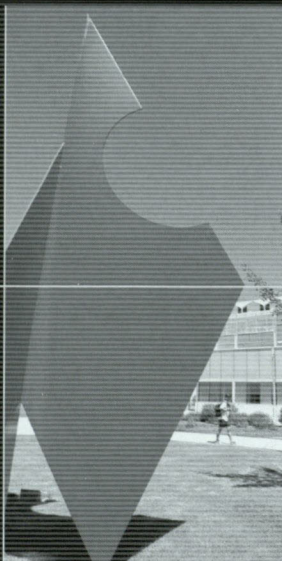

With full accreditation for its overall program, Cal State Fullerton has national recognition for its programs in art, athletic training, business, chemistry, communications, communicative disorders, computer science, dance, engineering, music, nursing, public administration, teacher education and theater. In all there are 100 degree programs

The National Science Foundation ranks Cal State Fullerton fourth among master's colleges and universities for the number of graduates who will earn sciences and engineering doctorates.

- with 46 of them at the graduate level - plus a wide variety of credential and certificate programs.

Students are provided the best of current practice, theory and research and integrate professional studies with preparation in the arts and sciences. Through experiences in and out of the classroom, students develop the habit of intellectual inquiry, prepare for challenging professions, strengthen relationships with their communities and contribute productively to society.

Cal State Fullerton is the most affordable and ethnically diverse university in the area. It ranks sixth nationally in the overall number of bachelor's degrees awarded to minority students.

An extended education program, with open enrollment, offers individual courses, seminars and workshops, as well as more than 50 certificate programs ranging from entrepreneurship and sales management to creative writing.

Community members also may visit the campus for theater, music and dance performances and art exhibits of off-campus artists, plus those of university students and faculty members. While on campus, both the Fullerton Arboretum and Heritage House are worth touring. And, an extensive recreation program aimed chiefly at students, also is open to the public.

Volunteer opportunities are open through Cal State Fullerton's many support groups, such as the Art Alliance, Music Associates, Patrons of the Library and President's Associates. One such group, Continuing Learning Experience, holds many of its programs in the Ruby Gerontology Center, which serves as an educational and research facility for the study of successful aging.

In four decades, Cal State Fullerton has taken its place as a primary force in the growth and prosperity of Southern California.

Mission Statement

Learning is preeminent at California State University, Fullerton. We aspire to combine the best qualities of teaching and research universities where actively engaged students, faculty and staff work in close collaboration to expand knowledge.

Our affordable undergraduate and graduate programs provide students the best of current practice, theory and research and integrate professional studies with preparation in the arts and sciences. Through experiences in and out of the classroom, students develop the habit of intellectual inquiry, prepare for challenging professions, strengthen relationships to their communities and contribute productively to society.

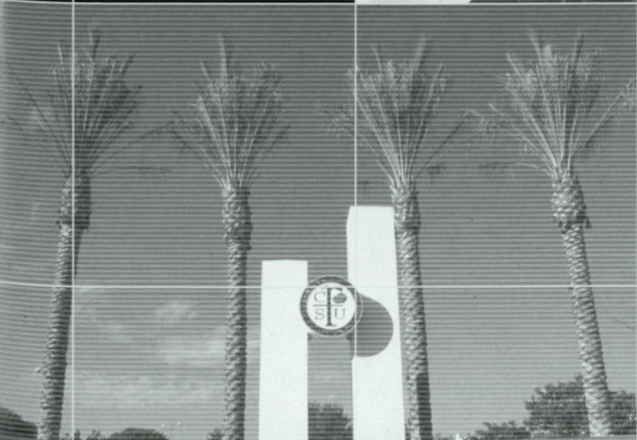

We are a comprehensive, regional university with a global outlook, located in Orange County, a technologically rich and culturally vibrant area of metropolitan Los Angeles. Our expertise and diversity serve as a distinctive resource and catalyst for partnerships with public and private organizations. We strive to be a center of activity essential to the intellectual, cultural, and economic development of our region.

The Titan Tradition...

From modest beginnings and never with abundant resources, the Cal State Fullerton Titans have achieved successes that are the envy of many older and larger institutions across the country.

"Titan Pride" has been the rallying cry for 11 national team championships in seven different sports, hundreds of individual All-Americans, dozens of eventual professional athletes, numerous national coach of the year award winners, Olympic basketball players, a Miss America candidate and the subject matter of a Walt Disney film.

The tenor was set by the first intercollegiate team - men's basketball. In only his second season, Coach Alex Omalev advanced the Titans five rounds into the NAIA playoffs in 1961-62. Sixteen seasons later, the nation watched another "Cinderella" Titan Five advance to within one victory of the "Final Four" as Bobby Dye's 1977-78 team won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association postseason tournament and then beat nationally ranked New Mexico and USF to gain the finals of the NCAA Western Regional.

The basketball tradition began even stronger on the women's side. Recent Naismith and Women's Basketball Hall of Fame inductee Billie Moore coached the Titans to the national championship in 1970 and star forward Nancy Dunkle was one of her players on the women's 1976 silver-medal winning Olympic team. The most recent Titan All-American was center Genia Miller Rynecrow in 1991.

The Titans earned gold in 1984 when point guard Leon Wood directed the men's Olympic team to victory in Los Angeles. The first-round draft pick of the Philadelphia 76ers went on to a 6-year National Basketball Association career and is now a veteran NBA referee, only the second former NBA player to make that career switch.

Future NBA performers Richard Morton, Henry Turner, Cedric Ceballos and Bruce Bowen (a member of the 2003 NBA champion Spurs) were some of the stars of the 1980s and 1990s, when the Titans made NIT appearances on both the men's and women's sides. Ceballos gained notoriety for winning the NBA Slam-Dunk contest one year while the women can point with pride to Autumn Hollyfield, the nation's top 3-point field goal shooter in 1993-94, and Koko Lahanas, the nation's scoring leader in 1994-95. Miller still holds NCAA records and came back from a career in Japan to earn a spot with the Los Angeles Sparks before venturing to Fullerton this year as an assistant coach.

Gymnastics has brought Fullerton considerable fame. Former men's Coach Dick Wolfe won three college division NCAA titles (1971, 1972 and 1974) and had subsequent teams in the Top Ten at the Division I level while winning 10 PCAA titles in a row. His 1987 squad was ranked No. 1 in the nation. Coach Lynn Rogers began the women's program in 1976 and the Titans have finished sixth or better in the nation 12 times and won the national title in 1979. One-armed Carol Johnston was an All-American and star of the Disney film, "Lefty," while Tami Elliott (1984-86) won 10 All-American awards before becoming Miss Virginia and competing in the Miss America pageant.

Baseball exploded onto the national scene behind former Coach Augie Garrido by breaking the USC monopoly in the NCAA western regionals in 1975. The Titans won the national title in 1979 behind Tim Wallach, who would play 17 major league seasons. They won the College World Series again in 1984 and John Fishel was the MVP of the CWS. They were national runners-up in 1992 with another MVP in third baseman Phil Nevin, who also was the first pick in the amateur draft by the Houston Astros.

The Titans placed third in the CWS in 1994 and came back with their best season ever in 1995, going 57-9 en route to their third national championship. Leading the way was Player of the Year Mark Kotsay, now with the San Diego Padres, and one of 36 former Titans to have played in the majors. Fullerton has made three more trips to Omaha under Coach George Horton, the Baseball America 2003 national coach of the year.

Women also have sparkled on Fullerton diamonds. Hall of Fame Coach Judi Garman founded the softball program in 1980 and won more games (913) than any previous coach. The Titans have made eight trips to the College World Series and 22 regional appearances. They brought home an NCAA Championship in 1986 and boast three national players of the year in pitchers Kathy Van Wyk, Susan LeFebvre and Connie Clark.

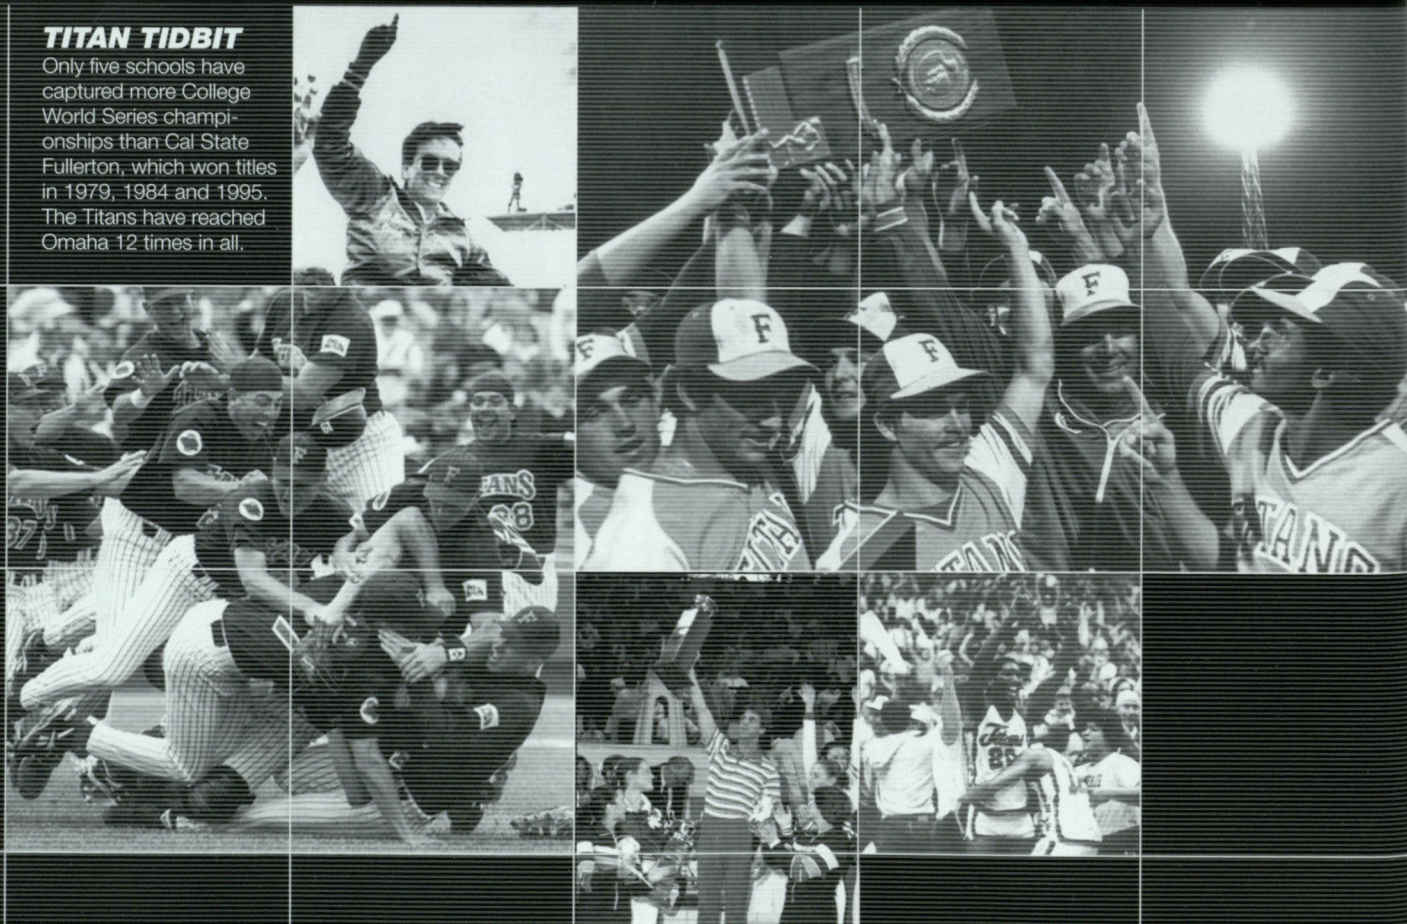

The now-defunct football program made great

ATHLETICS TRADITION

TITAN TIDBIT

Only five schools have captured more College World Series championships than Cal State Fullerton, which won titles in 1979, 1984 and 1995. The Titans have reached Omaha 12 times in all.

strides in Division I-A after its humble Div. II beginnings in 1970. Coach Gene Murphy guided the Titans to two conference championships and four runner-up finishes between 1983 and 1989. Titan products included Super Bowl rookies Bobby Kemp (Cincinnati in 1982) and Mark Collins (New York Giants in 1987). Titans have had remarkable success in the Canadian Football League. Allen Pitts was the CFL's all-time leading receiver and Damon Allen, who was still active this season, is the all-time leading passer. Mike Pringle is the No. 2 all-time rusher and could become No. 1 if he stays healthy.

With the loss of football, Head Coach Al Mistri's soccer program filled the void in Titan Stadium. A women's squad was launched in 1993 and it coincided with a memorable men's season that saw the Titans climb as high as No. 3 in the national rankings. They were led by All-American forward Eddie Soto – now an assistant coach with the program – and competed at the NCAA Final Four, placing third. There have been three subsequent trips to the playoffs and a No. 2 national ranking in 1996. On the international level, former Titan Brian Dunseth captained the U.S. Olympic team in the 2000 Sydney Olympics.

There have been national titles in men's cross country (1971) and women's fencing (1974) and individual standouts such as golfer Martha Wilkerson, runner Mark Covert and wrestler Laszlo Molnar, who finished second in the nation in 1994 at 167 pounds. Heather Killeen became the Titans' first Div. I cross country All-American in 1994, won three events at the 1995 Big West Conference track championships and was one of 10 finalists for 1995 NCAA Woman of the Year Award.

Several current and former Titans garnered national recognition last summer at the Pan Am Games in the Dominican Republic. Jenny Topping suited up for the USA softball squad, Nadia Hernandez and Marlene Sandoval were members of the Mexican national soccer team and Giovanni Lanaro placed fifth for the Mexican nationals in the pole vault.

Why the nickname?

"It was the students' decision in a vote," explained Dr. Ernest Becker, founding Dean of Students, of the nickname "Titans." "More than a hundred names were suggested, and the Student Council took on the job of narrowing the list down to a few for the purposes of an election. The vote was close, with Titans narrowly prevailing over Aardvarks and Rebels."

It was a unique student body, all upper division students until 1963. There were 453 of them, mostly female, in 1959, the first year of classes at what was then known as Orange County State College.

"Even when it was decided that 'Titans' would be the nickname, there was confusion as to what it represented," said Becker. "I was thinking of a large mythological figure from Greek history, not unlike Tommy Trojan, but with perhaps straighter, more modern lines. In the same vein, the original dormitories were named Othrys Hall. There were others, however, who related the name to the Titan missile then in prominence."

Nothing official was done but then along came the "First Intercollegiate Elephant Race in Human History."

What began as a practical joke attracted elephants from universities around the nation and even Oxford from England. A crowd estimated at more than 10,000 people turned out on "Dumbo Downs" as the hastily graded field became known that spring afternoon in 1962.

To publicize the event, a circus-like elephant called Tuffy the Titan was used and it began appearing on sweaters and notebook covers around the campus. With no other mascot, the elephant was unofficially adopted. Several revisions of the caricature have been made to create a more tenacious Tuffy, or Titus as he also was called in an attempt to make him Greek. The costume that brings the mascot to life also has changed. Tuffy even attracted a female Tiffy in 1992.

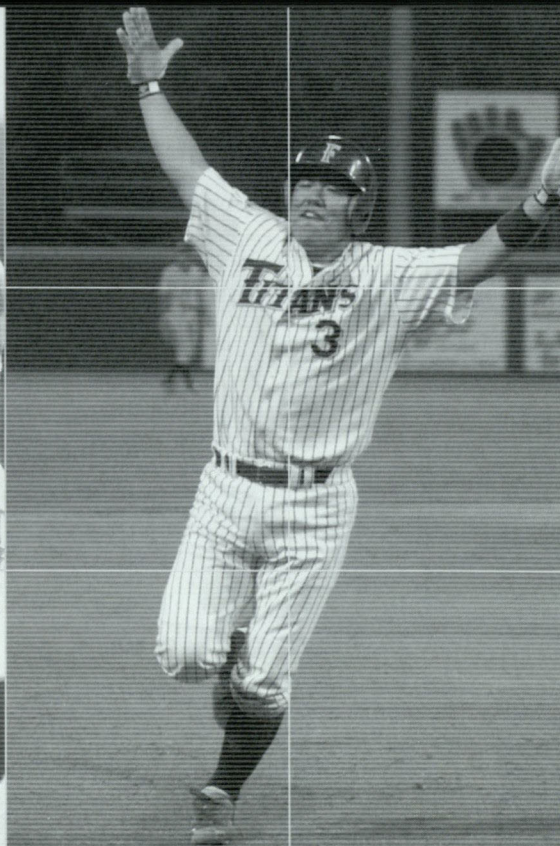

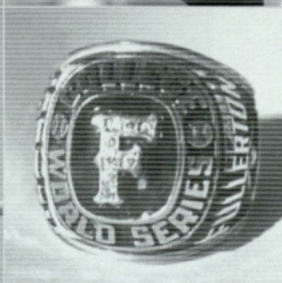

The origin of the school colors also bears discussion. The students voted for royal blue and white, but the athletic equipment manager at the time thought orange was appropriate on uniforms for a school known as Orange County State College. The unofficial color was "adopted" and finally was formally acknowledged by the Athletics Council in 1987. A change to a navy blue was initiated in 1992 with a de-emphasis of the orange.

CAL STATE FULLERTON

ATHLETICS TRADITION

TITAN TIDBIT

Cal State Fullerton led the Big West Conference in the 2002-03 NACDA Cup all-sports competition based on NCAA team finishes.

Headed by Dr. June Kearney, the Athletic Academic Services department, tabbed as Titan Scholars, provides effective support services to help student-athletes reach their academic goals. The academic services staff takes a proactive role by coordinating study plans, study skills workshops, tutoring sessions, study halls, faculty and peer mentoring and campus services referrals. Staff members also monitor progress toward graduation, assist student-athletes in selecting and registering for classes and teach a Life Skills 100 class.

Coaches rely on Athletic Academic Services to track student-athletes' progress in classes and to alert them and the students to any potential problems. The department has an "early warning" system in place, which utilizes periodic grade checks and clear communication with faculty members when student-athletes may require additional academic support.

The department also provides a re-entry program for former student-athletes who return to Cal State Fullerton to complete their degree.

NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills

Cal State Fullerton is a participating institution in the NCAA's CHAMPS/Life Skills program, which is aimed at enhancing the quality of the student-athlete experience within the university setting. Throughout their career, Cal State Fullerton student-athletes are provided with resources that will assist their development in five primary areas: academics, athletics, personal development, career development and community service.

The athletic training program at Cal State Fullerton plays a major role in maintaining the health of Titan student-athletes. Team physicians, three full-time certified athletic trainers, two certified graduate assistants and more than 20 student assistants comprise a program that is generally regarded as one of the very best in the country.

Titan athletic training personnel specialize in preventive medicine, recognition of injuries and rehabilitation. Student athletic trainers who are admitted into the highly selective ATEP (Athletic Training Educational Program), which is administered through the Department of Kinesiology and Health Promotion, must meet demanding requirements. In addition to taking 100 units of kinesiology and athletic training courses, they must serve five semesters and 1,500 clinical supervised hours. Before becoming certified, candidates must pass the National Athletic Trainers' Association Board of Certification examination. Since 1997, nearly 80 percent of Cal State Fullerton graduates have passed on their first attempt, compared to the national rate of about 30 percent. Since the inception of the program, dozens of alumni have moved into coveted positions across the country (see below).

Head Athletic Trainer Julie Max

Julie Max, Cal State Fullerton's Head Athletic Trainer, has been the driving force behind the development of an athletic training program that has received national acclaim. Max is in her 24th year at her alma mater since replacing her mentor, the late Jerry Lloyd. Recently, Max was elected to a second two-year term as president of the 25,000-member National Association of Athletic Trainers (NATA). Max, the first female president in the organization's history, previously served a six-year stint on the organization's board of directors and a one-year term as its vice president. In 1997, Max was honored with the NATA Service Award, which recognizes out-standing service to the athletic training profession at the state and Titan Gym currently is undergoing major renovations. In the past few years, chairback seats have replaced most of the bleachers, portable basket supports have replaced the fold down backboards, new paint and banners have been applied to the walls and the playing surface has been redone. Recently completed was an expansion that features numerous classrooms, physical testing laboratories and a new practice facility upstairs. A new "drop down" scoreboard over center court was installed in the spring of 2003. The facility also features practice and match rooms for the wrestling, gymnastics and fencing programs.

Goodwin Field has played host to three NCAA Regionals and a pair of Super Regionals. Every one of the Titans' postseason games at the facility in 2003 was nationally televised by College Sports Television or ESPN. A $3 million expansion project, spearheaded by a $1 million gift from Jerry and Marilyn Goodwin, has transformed the field into one of the premier collegiate facilities on the West Coast. The field now features the Wilson Clubhouse – which includes lockerrooms, a reception area and offices for the coaches – and the Doubek VIP Room.

Titan Stadium is considered among the finest soccer facilities in the nation and regularly hosts professional and international soccer matches in addition to the Titan men's and women's programs. The facility, completed in 1992, was home to the Titan football program for one year before the sport was dropped after the 1992 season. The stadium is also a hot-spot for the entertainment industry and is regularly featured in television commercials and programs. UCLA also utilized the facility this year for its fall football camp.

Having received a complete makeover since the 2000 season, the Titan Softball Complex boasts one of the top facilities in the nation. Utilizing the adjacent Wilson Clubhouse and Doubek VIP Room, the two-diamond complex can now adequately serve as a host site for postseason competition (it was the site of a 2003 NCAA Regional) in addition to the annual Kia Classic, the top regular-season tournament in the nation.

The middle row features a wide view of the stadium seating, a close-up of the infield dirt and base paths, and a view of the outfield seating. The bottom row shows a view of the baseball field from the stands, a view of the infield dirt and base paths, and a view of the outfield seating.

Cal State Fullerton student-athletes have year-round access to the services offered by the Strength and Conditioning Program, under the direction of Mike Nagler. Aimed at developing speed, power, strength and endurance in Cal State Fullerton's student-athletes, the program plays a key role in the success of Titan teams.

Individual workouts are designed, implemented and regularly adjusted by Nagler to help each student-athlete develop the stamina needed to maintain the rigorous year-round workouts associated with Division I sports.

Located inside Titan Stadium is a 6,000 square-foot weight room facility featuring eight platforms, eight squat racks, plyometric devices and nearly 8,000 pounds in free weights. The facility will service more than 300 student-athletes over the course of the year.

Mike Nagler was named Cal State Fullerton's first full-time strength and conditioning coach on Jan. 4, 2000. Nagler had spent the previous 17 months as assistant strength coach at the University of Iowa. At Iowa, Nagler was in charge of developing and implementing weight lifting programs for women's basketball, volleyball, women's soccer, men's and women's track, gymnastics, softball and men's and women's golf. He also assisted with the men's basketball program.

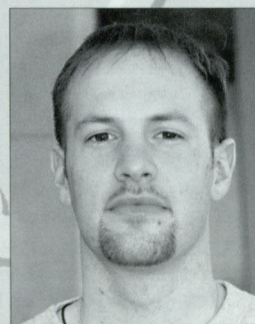

He also previously worked as an assistant at Baylor University, the University of Washington, UNLV and Washington State and served as an intern with the NFL's Seattle Seahawks.

Nagler, 32, earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science from Washington State in 1993 and picked up a master's degree in kinesiology from UNLV in 1996.

Nagler and his wife, Jill, reside in Buena Park.

Equipped with the best...

- Eight complete lifting stations:
Platform, Squat Rack, Lifting Blocks, Adjustable Pull-up Bars
- Four multi-purpose lifting stations:
Bench, Incline, Squat, Push Press
- Eight complete Uesaka bumper sets
- 4-foot by 24-foot plyometric runway with adjustable jumping box mats
- Various weighted medicine balls
- Dumbbell sets ranging from 5 to 120 pounds
- Numerous selectorize machines
Lap Pulldown, Leg Curl, Reverse Hyperextension, Glute Ham, Jammer Hip Press, Leg Press
- Twelve physio-balls for therapeutic and core training and Dyno disc for ankle and balance training

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Brian Quinn assumed the post of director of athletics at Cal State Fullerton on Jan. 14, 2002.

Quinn, 62, was assistant dean and AD at Loyola Marymount University from 1985 through 1998. During his tenure the Lions won nine West Coast Conference titles and advanced to the NCAA men's basketball tournament three times. Both the baseball team and the women's volleyball team made five trips to the NCAA Playoffs with the baseball team reaching the College World Series in 1986. Among his accomplishments away from competition were bringing the department into full Title IX compliance and earning a 10-year NCAA accreditation without conditions in 1997.

In June of 1998, Quinn was appointed executive director of athletic development and promotion. He was responsible for major gift solicitation to build new recreation and health facilities, new athletic offices and auxiliary services as well as improved playing facilities.

Quinn graduated from Loyola in 1963 with a degree in business. He was a starter for the Lions in both baseball and basketball and was captain and most valuable player of the latter for the 1962-63 season. He was inducted into the LMU Athletics Hall of Fame as both a player and administrator.

Quinn began a teaching and coaching career at St. Anthony H.S. in Long Beach in 1968 and earned a master's degree at Long Beach State in 1973. He moved on to St. Bernard H.S. in Playa Del Rey, University H.S. in Irvine and Irvine H.S., where he was the head basketball coach. He was a part-time physical education instructor at Saddleback College (North campus) and assistant principal at Woodbridge H.S. in Irvine from 1980-85.

Quinn and his wife, Collette, live in Manhattan Beach. They have four adult children: Andrew, who lives in Atlanta; Janet, who lives in Rye, New York; and two recent LMU graduates in daughters Suzanne and Maureen. The Quinns have three grandchildren — Brendan, Ryan and Dylan.

Dr. June F. Kearney is in her 17th year at Cal State Fullerton, where she continues to wear numerous hats.

She was appointed Senior Woman Administrator for the Titans in June, replacing Dr. Maryalycce Jeremiah, who relinquished that role to again coach the women's basketball team. Dr. Kearney has been Assistant Director of Athletics, Compliance since 1995 and in 2001 she gained the added duties of supervising the student-athletes' academic assistance program.

Dr. Kearney came to Cal State Fullerton in 1985 to serve as an assistant women's basketball coach during Dr. Jeremiah's first tenure (1985-86 thru 1991-92). During those seven seasons, the Titans were 112-93 including a 25-9 performance in 1990-91 that included a trip into the second round of the NCAA Tournament. She coached one more season (1992-93) under head coach Debbie Ayres.

Dr. Kearney also assisted Dr. Jeremiah for three seasons at Indiana University, but the roots go even deeper. Kearney coached Jeremiah at Cedarville College in Ohio when the latter was an aspiring student-athlete. Kearney coached four sports for the Yellowjackets and had a lifetime winning percentage of nearly .600. Her basketball teams won 70 percent of their games.

Dr. Kearney played basketball at Taylor University in Upland, Indiana, where she earned a bachelors degree in 1962. She gained a masters degree from Wittenberg University and her Ph.D from The Ohio State University.

CAL STATE FULLERTON

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Milton A. Gordon was selected the fourth president of Cal State Fullerton by The California State University Board of Trustees and assumed his duties on Aug. 9, 1990.

His university leadership includes serving as vice president for academic affairs at Sonoma State University for four years, as dean of the College of the Arts and Sciences for Chicago State University for more than eight years and as director of the Afro-American Studies Program at Loyola University of Chicago for six years.

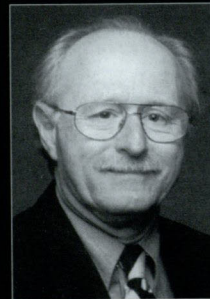

President Gordon also taught at the Illinois Institute of Technology and in the Chicago public schools and served as mathematician at the University of Chicago's Laboratories of Applied Sciences.

He is the vice chairman of the NCAA Presidents Commission and was a member of the committee that appointed Myles Brand as the NCAA president. He also is the California state representative to the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and serves on the governing boards of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, California Coalition for Mathematics, Orange County Chamber of Commerce, Orange County Community Foundation, United Way of Orange County, YMCA of Orange County and Fullerton Chamber of Commerce. In addition, he is on the advisory boards of St. Jude Medical Center and The California State University's Institute for Teaching and Learning.

The President has a Ph.D. in mathematics from the Illinois Institute of Technology, an M.A. in mathematics from the University of Detroit and a B.A. in mathematics and secondary education from Xavier University of Louisiana.

Cal State Fullerton is nestled in sun-drenched

Orange County, with its mountains, amusement parks, professional sports, cultural showcases and seashores among the top attractions. Students can reach ski slopes in 45 minutes and the beach in less than a half hour. Los Angeles, with its never-ending cultural and entertainment opportunities, lies just 30 miles northwest of the campus and San Diego is 100 miles to the south. The city of Fullerton itself, which has a fascinating history dating back to the late 19th century, boasts a beautiful historic downtown area that features dozens of restaurants, museums and shops.

The extensive development of the 42 miles of beaches in Orange County and attractions such as Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, the Laguna Festival of Arts and Pageant of the Masters, the Arrowhead Pond of Anaheim, Edison International Field and the Orange County Performing Arts Center continue to make tourism an increasingly important activity. So does the Mediterranean-type climate, with rainfall averaging 14 inches per year, and generally mild days (either freezing or 100-degree temperatures uncommon) with frequent morning fog during the summer.
