

The View

January 28, 1991 Vol. 1. No. 5

Save these dates

February is Black History Month, see page 2 for details.

From California
State
University
Hayward

Committees move toward March campus visits by vice presidential candidates

The search committees organized to review candidates for the positions of provost and vice president, Academic Affairs and vice president, Student Services are in the process of developing a pool of semifinalists. In each search, approximately twelve candidates will be interviewed by phone with six of these selected for campus visits. In the final phase of the process, the names of three finalists for each position will be forwarded to President Rees for final selections. Each committee anticipates campus visits in March.

According to Russ Merris, chair of the search committee for provost and vice president, Academic Affairs, the campus visits are primarily to see if there is a "match" between the individual and the campus. "A vice president is more than just a set of qualifications. He or she is an individual who is going to be a leader of the academic community. During a visit, you try to see behind the facade to the individual and try to find a match with our own needs, as well as giving each candidate an opportunity to look at us."

Over 140 applications or nominations were received for provost and vice president, Academic Affairs and over 100 for vice president, Student Services. According to Del Della-Dora, chair of the committee reviewing the applicants for vice president, Student Services, "We're getting applications from very experienced people and from quite a wide range of individuals from throughout the United States. It's a positive sign that the University has broad appeal for people from various backgrounds."

Both committee chairs feel their committees reflect a diversity of opinions and expectations that strengthens the search process. "All perspectives and views are being discussed and deliberated upon," according to Merris. "We're covering all of the bases."

"As in the presidential search, we're getting a diversity of views from committee members. It's refreshing to see the energy of staff and students as well as faculty," says Della-Dora, who also served on the presidential search committee. "If this process turns out as well as the process for selecting the president, I'll be very pleased." His committee is still in the initial stages of reviewing the large pool of applicants and he encourages campus input. —Linda Schneider

A busy winter quarter begins

This issue of The View is bursting at its margins with news of events coming up over the next several weeks. Celebrations and coordinated activities honoring African-Americans, the Pilipino family, and French writer Marguerite Duras will all take place in February, along with the annual recognition of AIDS Awareness Week. The quarter began with a lecture by Hungarian economist Janos Kornai, right, and a tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. by Dr. J. Alfred Smith, Sr., senior pastor of the Allen Temple Baptist Church in Oakland. Also participating in the King tribute was the Cole Elementary School Choir, below.

University will host Citizen Planner Conference on managing growth in the Bay Area

Thirty-one groups co-sponsor February 2 event

By the year 2000, the Bay Area's population is projected to increase by almost a million people, according to the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG). This rapid growth will have a tremendous impact on our public service agencies and will threaten the quality of our environment.

Campus and community members are invited to help shape the future of the Bay Area by participating in a Citizen Planner Conference, Saturday, February 2, 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in University Union. Anyone concerned with growth management is invited to attend. "Citizen planners" are zoning board members, planning commissioners, community activists, environmentalists, affordable housing advocates, and social activists representing the poor and ethnic groups.

A draft report of the Bay Vision 2020 plan will be presented. The "Bay Vision 2020 Report" is the most important plan for regional growth and governance in many years. Issues include the greenbelt, air quality, economic growth, affordable housing, transportation, and land use. Conference participants will be able to provide comments for the final report and work toward a common approach to regional problems.

According to conference organizer Sherman Lewis of the political science department, this conference is the only opportunity for citizen planners to comment on the Bay Vision 2020 commission's work. "We would like to influence the commission's report to make it even more effective in dealing with environmental and social programs in the Bay region," says Lewis.

Keynote speaker Bob Mang, the past president of Greenbelt Alliance, is currently involved in real estate development in San Mateo County and a member of the 2020 commission. Sara Connor, past president of the League of Women Voters of the Bay Area, will present the report followed by perspectives from Professor Lewis, author of "Managing Urban Growth in the S.F. Bay Region."

Lewis predicts a regional government will evolve. "It will not be a new government, but a better organization of existing regional governments combining the Association of Bay Area Governments, the Metropolitan Transportation Commission, and the air quality districts."

The conference is sponsored by The Center for Public Service Education & Research, a division of the Department of Public Administration, California State University, Hayward. The thirty-one co-sponsors include the Sierra Club, Greenbelt Alliance, Greenpeace, and the Non-Profit Housing Association of Northern California. Lewis attributes the wide level of support for the conference to "increased awareness of the importance the commission report will have on the future of the Bay region and a recognition that local power must be better managed when it affects regional issues."

Registration is $20 in advance or $25 at the door; it includes breakfast and lunch. For more information or to register, call Professor Lewis at (415) 538-3692 or (415) 881-3221. —Ruth Carlson.

AIDS Awareness Week delivers serious message with creativity and fun

"One in seventy-one Cal State Hayward students may be infected with HIV," proclaims Cal State Hayward's theme for AIDS Awareness Week, which begins February 11. The one in seventy-one figure is based on statistics issued by the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, which monitors the number of AIDS cases on a national basis.

For four years, the campus has participated in this event during Valentines Day week. "This year the ideas are different" says Ed Rueling, associate vice president of Student Services. "AIDS awareness is changing, students are becoming more sophisticated and pamphlets and brochures aren't read. The techniques of presenting AIDS awareness information need to change."

New ideas for AIDS Awareness Week include an appearance, February 13, by "Bleachman," a dashing superhero, who emphasizes that bleach is the most effective disinfectant for needles. Musical entertainment will be offered in the Agora and between sets a dialogue will be delivered about AIDS and the value of keeping sexual communications open and honest.

New kid in town—Bleachman emphasizes bleach's role in killing the Human Immunodeficiency Virus on needles. A concept of the San Francisco AIDS Foundation, Bleachman will visit campus.

Posters and banners will decorate the campus with the week's theme and important AIDS awareness messages. In front of the University Union a contest will be held. Prizes will be given to those who guess the correct number of condoms in displayed jars. A continuous "MTV style" video with simulated commercials of AIDS messages will be shown along with a short documentary on making the video.

Meyer Labs will be participating in AIDS Awareness Week. It has donated condoms for the event and will have displays set up exhibiting its products. The California Nurses Student Association will sponsor a bake sale. Some of the baked goods will have

See AIDS Awareness—back page

Harry Edwards leads long list of Black History Month speakers

The Associated Students invites the campus community to attend Black History Month activities. Events scheduled are as follows:

January 31—Beyond the Dream Part III (teleconference). 10am-noon, UU 311. A retrospective and introspective journey from the year 2041 to reflect on the struggles and accomplishments of African descendants. Speakers include Lindiwe Mabuza, Amiri Baraka, James Farmer, Asa G. Hilliard III, Ntozake Shange, Kadeem Hardison, Wynton Marsalis, Stevie Wonder, Minister Louis Farrakhan, Living Colour, Edward Perkins, Randall Robinson, Antoinette Malveaux, Dr. Orville Kean, Professor James Turner, and Julian Chambers. Sponsored by the Faculty and Student Mentoring Program in collaboration with the African American Faculty and Staff Association.

February 4—Bay Area Blues Society, Caravan of All Stars featuring "Steppin Stone." 11:45. Agora Stage.

February 6—"Remember the Struggle." Noon. UU 101A. A public discussion of religion and its role in the African-American struggle. Rev. Floyd Thompkins, associate dean of the Chapel, Stanford and Don Sutton, director of Outreach Ministries, True Vine Baptists Church, Oakland.

February 13—Dr. Harry Edwards on "Changing Priorities in the Struggle for African-American Advancement." Noon. UU101A.

February 18—Rap group Frank J & the Legion. 11:45. Agora Stage.

February 20—"Remember the Struggle: Wake Up African-Americans." Noon. UU 101A. A discussion on higher education as it relates to African-Americans featuring: Ron Temple, director, School of Education Special Programs, California Department of Education; Dr. Barbara Young, associate dean, Outreach, Academic Affairs, Educational Support, CSU, Chancellor's Office; Dr. Charles Ratliff, senior policy analyst, California Postsecondary Education Commission; Dr. Afriye Quamina, director, Children's Educational Research Development, Inc., Oakland.

February 25—Nancy Hicks Maynard, senior vice president, The Tribune, reporter and commentator, KTVU, and director, Institute of Journalism, UC Berkeley. Noon. UU 307C.

February 27—"Remember the Struggle: Wake Up African-Americans." Noon. UU 101A. A discussion of careers focusing on African-Americans in management with Audrey Oliver, president, Integrated Business Solutions, Inc., San Ramon and Michael Wilingham, director of management, U.S. Department of Energy, Washington, D.C.

A different role—Political science professor Emily Stoper, center, will play the part of Mother in Cal State Hayward's production of Eden Cinema. Karine Collet will play Suzanne and Berwick Haynes is Mr. Jo.

Production highlights in-depth look at French writer Marguerite Duras; Eden Cinema opens February 1

For the second year, Rhoda Helfman Kaufman of the theatre department is organizing a series of events to bring attention to the work of an outstanding, internationally-respected woman writer. The work of Marguerite Duras will be explored in activities including the production of her play Eden Cinema, films, a video, lectures and staged readings. Last year Professor Kaufman brought the Italian writer Dacia Maraini to campus in conjunction with the American premiere of her play Mary Stuart.

Duras is a well-established French woman of letters, highly regarded as a playwright and screenwriter. Her theater work bends the general assumptions about what theater should be, as she uses familiar film techniques, such as flashbacks, voice overs, and stop action throughout her plays.

The highlight of the week's activities will be the performance of Eden Cinema, Duras' autobiographical play about her girlhood in Indochina. The play runs February 1 through 10 in the Studio Theatre. Kaufman will direct. On Monday, February 4, an interview with Duras, which originally appeared on French television, will be shown at noon in Warren Hall UM 30. Yolanda Patterson of the French department will provide translation and commentary. Hiroshima Mon Amour, a breakthrough film based on a Duras screenplay, will be presented in a continuous showing February 5 in LI 2195.

Mary Kay Martin, a lecturer in writing and acting at the University of California, Santa Cruz, will speak February 7 on the use of film techniques, the use of memory, and the relationship between spectator and spectacle in Duras' plays. Dr. Martin has translated and directed many of Duras' works. The lecture will take place at noon in the Biella Room.

On February 6, a staged reading of "La musica," with Ric Prindle of the theatre department and Sabrina Klein, will be held at noon also in the Biella Room. Edgardo de la Cruz of the theatre department will direct this one-act play.

All events except the performances of Eden Cinema and the light French dinner which precedes the February 7 performance are free. Tickets for the play are $5/general admission and $4/students and senior citizens.—Diana Cohen and Linda Schneider

PERS enacts retirement change

Recent legislation, Senate Bill 2465, provides a significant benefit improvement for state members who retire on or after July 1. If a member retires on July 1, 1991 or later, PERS will use the highest twelve months of compensation (rather than thirty-six) as the "final compensation" period in the calculation of their retirement allowance. On average, using a twelve-month final compensation period results in an allowance approximately five percent greater than one calculated with a thirty-six month final compensation period.

Any member interested in receiving an estimate of potential retirement benefits should contact JoAnne Hill, Personnel Services, ext. 3634.

Get a stamp or send a fax at Associated Students office

The Associated Students Business Office offers the following services or products to the entire campus community: check cashing (maximum of $15), postage stamps, payment of PG&E bills, A/C bus passes, fax machine, notary public, and discount movie tickets. The Business Office is located in University Union, Room 314. The phone number is ext. 3901.

January

Through February 12

- Robert Hartman Retrospective. Paintings and photographs. Gallery hours: M-W 11am-3pm; Th 1-7pm; Sun 1-4pm.

Through 31 Thursday

- Bülbül Cartoon Exhibit. University Union art exhibit area.

30 Wednesday

- Economics Seminar. "Foreign Aid and Economic Growth," Don Snyder, Saint Mary's University. 2:40-4:30pm. MB 2605.
- Campus Physical Planning Committee meeting. President's Conference Room. 3pm.

31 Thursday

- Black History Month event. Beyond the Dream Part III. 10am-Noon. UU 311.
- Men's tennis vs. Cal State Bakersfield. 2pm.
- Biology Seminar Series. "Targeting of proteins to organelles," Dr. Gilbert Keller, Genentech, Inc. Science N 321. Noon. Refreshments.

February

1 Friday through 10

- Eden Cinema by Marguerite Duras. February 1, 2, 8, 9 at 8pm; February 10 at 2pm; February 7 at 6pm. Studio Theatre. $5/general admission, $4/students and seniors.

1 Friday & 2 Saturday

- Winter Dance Concert choreographed by John Henry, Laura Renaud-Wilson, and students. 8 pm. PE 140. $4 general/$2 faculty, students & seniors. 881-3061 for information.

1, 8, 15 and 22 Fridays

- "Self-Protection for Women" taught by Penni Savage. A progressive four-part course sponsored by Public Safety. 12-1pm. PE 152.

2 Saturday

- Citizen Planner Conference on the Bay Area's future. 8:30am-2:30pm. $20/$25. University Union 101. 881-3221 or 538-3692 for information.
- Swimming and diving. Hayward Invitational (men), Humboldt State (women). 11am.
- Baseball vs. UOP. 1pm.
- Men's tennis vs. University of Nevada, Reno. 1pm.

4 Monday

- Black History Month event. Bay Area Blues Society. 11:45. Agora Stage.
- Video interview with playwright Marguerite Duras. Noon. Warren Hall UM 30.
- Baseball vs. Cal Poly, SLO. 2pm.

5 Tuesday

- Hiroshima Mon Amour. Screenplay by Marguerite Duras, directed by Alain Resnais. Continuous showing. LI 2195.
- Men's tennis vs. Santa Clara University. 2pm.
- Women's tennis vs. Foothill Junior College. 2pm.

6 Wednesday

- Blood Drive. 9am-3pm. For appointment, call ext. 3471.
- Black History Month event. A discussion of religion and its role in the African-American struggle. Noon. UU 101A.
- Chemistry Seminar Series. "Strategies for Management at a Large Research Center," with James Evans, deputy associate director, and Gwen Evans, technical publications specialist, Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory. Noon. Science N 320.
- Staged reading of "La musica," a one-act play by Marguerite Duras. Noon. Biella Room.
- Economics Seminar. "World Energy Forecast," Tom Burns, Chevron. 2:40-4:30pm. MB 2605.

7 Thursday

- Biology Seminar Series. "Egg activation: Intracellular signals and extracellular matrix modifications," Dr. Caroline Larabell, director, UC Berkeley. Noon. Science N 321.
- "The Theatrical Media of Marguerite Duras," by Mary Kay Martin, UC Santa Cruz. Noon. Biella Room.
- Women's tennis vs. College of Notre Dame. 2pm.
- Twilight Thursday supper prior to performance of Eden Cinema. 5pm. Theatre Lobby. $5. Ext. 4299 for information.

8 Friday

- Women's tennis vs. University of San Francisco. 2pm.

8 Friday & 9 Saturday

- "Roots of Haiti" performing ensemble, Blanche Brown, artistic director. 8 pm. PE 140. $4/general admission,$2/faculty, students and seniors. 881-3061 for information.

9 Saturday

- Men's tennis. 9am vs. College of Notre Dame. 1pm vs. Cal State Los Angeles
- Softball. Alumni Reunion Day. Noon.
- Invitational Band Festival. Guest high school bands participate in clinics, workshops and performances. Events will conclude with a concert by the CSUH Symphonic Band and Wind Ensemble at 3pm. Feature works are Mennin's "Canzona" and Schoenberg's "Theme and Variations." Free. 881-4299 for information.

February (cont.)

- Basketball vs. Sonoma State. Women's 6pm. Men's 8:15pm.

10 Sunday

- Baseball vs. Cal State L.A. 11am.

11 Monday through 15

- AIDS Awareness Week. Videos, music, contests, prizes. See page 2.

12 Tuesday

- Jazz Ensembles, traditional and contemporary big band jazz. 8 pm. University Theatre. $5/general admission, $3/students and seniors. 881-4299 for information.

13 Wednesday

- "Management of Communication Disorders Following Traumatic Brain Injury," a workshop by Kathryn M. Yorkston, University of Washington. 10am. University Union 311. $25/CSUH faculty and students before January 31, $40/CSUH faculty and students at the door, $60/$80 professionals not affiliated with campus.
- Black History Month event. Dr. Harry Edwards on "Changing Priorities in the Struggle for African-American Advancement." Noon. 101A.
- Chemistry Seminar Series. "Reminiscences from the Discoveries of Elements 104 and 105," James Harris, Lawrence Berkeley Lab. Noon. Science N320.
- Economics Seminar. Michael Bernstam, Hoover Institution. 2:40-4:30pm. MB 2605.

14 Thursday

- Biology Seminar Series. "Valentine's Day-VD: The gift that keeps on giving," Dr. Robert Benjamin, director of Communicable Diseases, Alameda County Health Department. Noon. Science N321. Refreshments.

15 Friday through 7 June

- "The Philippines and Its People." C.E. Smith Museum. Opening February 16 , 5:30-7:30pm. This exhibit is part of several events to be held in honor of Pilipino heritage.

15 Friday

- Softball vs. Humboldt State. Noon.
- Northern California Pilipino-American Student Association conference. 3-5pm.

16 Saturday

- A daylong celebration of the Pilipino family with food, sports, exhibits, music, dancing and games. Evening entertainment and variety show. University Theatre.
- Softball vs. Sonoma State. Noon.

18 Monday

- Black History Month event. Rappers Frank J & the Legion. 11:45pm. Agora Stage.

20 Wednesday

- Black History Month event. A discussion on higher education as it relates to African-Americans. Noon. 101A.
- Chemistry Seminar Series. "Microbial Methane Oxidation," Dr. Mike Droege, scientist, Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory. Noon. Science N 320.

Festival to benefit Center for Philippine Studies

The Center for Philippine Studies at Cal State Hayward has planned a two-day festival, February 15-16, to honor the opening of the Philippine Exhibit at the C.E. Smith Anthropology Museum. The Northern California Pilipino-American Student Association (NCPASA), a coalition of Pilipino-American student organizations at various Northern California campuses, will be formally launched during the festival.

"Preparing for the festival has taken a lot of time and effort," says Ricardo Singson, director of the center. "It is important because it is going to bring many members of the Philippine community together. It will make the University more accessible to them and help the University to be more responsive to the educational and cultural needs of the community."

A variety of activities will take place celebrating the Philippine family. On Friday, February 15, a conference will be held by the NCPASA from 3 to 5 p.m. The conference will be followed by a formal opening reception with an exhibit at the C.E. Smith Museum.

On Saturday, food, sports, exhibits, music, arts, dancing, children's games and more will be found in the Meiklejohn Hall area. Before Norma Rees, president of the University, presents her welcoming remarks, the NCPASA teams and community organizations will parade to the Agora. Volleyball and basketball tournaments complete with a spirit rally will take place along with demonstrations in cooking, painting and other Philippine crafts. The entertainment will last until 9:30 p.m.

The festival is a fund-raising event for the Center for Philippine Studies. According to Professor N.V.M. Gonzalez, a prolific writer and one of the center's founders, the center is the first of its kind at a major university on the West Coast.—Brenda McConnaughy Items in this section are printed in the order in which they are received in the Office of University Relations and Development. We receive numerous submissions each week and print them as space allows.

Steven Benson (Biological Sciences) co-authored a paper with undergraduate Sandy Chuppa entitled "Differentiation in vitro of sea urchin micromeres on extracellular matrix in the absence of serum." The paper was published in Journal of Experimental Zoology, Vol. 256, 222-227. He also co-authored a paper with Gary Wessel of Brown University entitled "Sea urchin primary mesenchyme cells require and autonomously produced nonfibrillar collagen for spiculogenesis." The paper was presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Society for Cell Biology in San Diego, December 9-13. At the meeting he co-chaired a mini-symposium on isolation and characterization of collagen genes in invertebrates.

Ron Schusterman (Psychology) gave a talk at the Psychonomic Society Meetings in New Orleans in November. He spoke at the Oakland Zoo Wildlife Lecture Series, January 30 on "Communication and Kinship in Sea Lions."

Terrence A. McVeigh (English) published his article, "A Tragic Senex Amans: Eugene O'Neill's Ephraim Cabot in Desire Under the Elms," in the Fall, 1990 issue of the Journal of Classical and Modern Literature.

Helen Shoemaker's (Human Development) proposal to the Clorox Company to augment the tape duplication system has been funded. On November 26, the department received a check for $1,000.

Paul Staudohar (Management and Finance) published "Free Agency Won't Set Players Free" in the Sunday, November 25 edition of The New York Times.

Gloria Enguidanos (Counseling Services) has been selected to participate in the first phase of a technical assistance program sponsored by the Office of Programs for the Homeless Mentally Ill, the Associate Director for Special Populations and the Division of Applied and Services Research, National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH). The most promising individuals will be expected to submit a grant in response to a relevant NIMH announcement.

Darril Hudson (Political Science) is presently resident director for the International Program in Germany. He can be contacted at OIP, Lauerstrasse 1, 6900 Heidelberg, Germany.

Mark Van Aken (History, emeritus) took part in a publisher's party in Montevideo, Uruguay on October 25 to celebrate the appearance of his history of the Uruguayan student movement. His study is entitled Los Militantes: Una Historia del Movimiento Estudiantil Uruguayo, published by the Fundación de Cultura Universitaria.

Jay L. Tontz (SBE) spoke to the Hayward Rotary Club, January 7 on "The Recession of 1991."

Anne L. Makus (Speech Communication) published "Stuart Hall's Theory of Ideology: A Frame for Rhetorical Criticism," in the Western Journal of Speech Communication, Fall, 1990.

Dan Lunsford (Public Safety), a lieutenant colonel in the Marine Corps Reserve, is on active duty as an air operations reconnaissance officer on the Joint Staff of the U.S. Pacific Command located at Camp Smith, Hawaii. He reported for duty in Hawaii on January 12. Any subsequent assignment is contingent upon developments in the Persian Gulf and could include continued service in the Pacific or a posting in Washington D.C. or the Middle East.

National speech pathology conference on campus

Kathryn M. Yorkston of the University of Washington at Seattle will lead a workshop for the National Student Speech Language and Hearing Association conference, February 23. Her topic will be "Management of Communication Disorders Following Traumatic Brain Injury." The conference will be held in University Union 311 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Cal State Hayward faculty and students can enroll for $25 if their registrations are received by January 31. Registration at the door is $40 ($80 for professionals not affiliated with the University). The conference should be of interest to students and faculty in speech pathology, nursing and special education. For more information, contact Bonnie Stenstrom or Judy Halper at ext. 3233.

AIDS Awareness (continued from front page)

"surprises" inside. The group will also hold a drawing with a grand prize of two roundtrip tickets to anywhere in the United States.

As in previous years, valentines containing condoms will be distributed. "One thousand were passed out last year, and we hope to do it again," says Penni Savage, director of Disabled Student Services and a member of the AIDS Awareness Week committee, "but it depends on the amount of condoms that are donated." Volunteers make and stuff the valentines.

Thursday, February 21, at 8 p.m., University Union will sponsor a benefit with comedian D'Alan Moss in the Puzzle. Tickets are $4 for students and $5 for the general public. Proceeds will go toward AIDS education on campus.

After the formal week of AIDS awareness, the committee plans to continue featuring AIDS prevention messages on a monthly basis.—Brenda McConnaughy and Linda Schneider

Pioneer Heights gets new address

The new address for Pioneer Heights, the student apartment complex, is Pioneer Heights, 1901 Harder Road, Hayward, CA 94542.

With a little help from my friends—IRS publications available in library

Copies of forms 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ, along with instruction booklets, and schedules A and B are available at the Reference Desk in the Lower Mall. The following publications are at the Reference Desk for use within the library and/or for photocopying: Pub. 17, "Your Federal Income Tax"; Pub. 910, "Guide to Free Tax Services"; Pub. 1132, "Reproducible Tax Forms"; and Pub. 1194, "Tax Information Publications."

View

The View from California State University, Hayward is published every other Monday except during academic recesses. Deadline for submission of material is Monday, 5 p.m. two weeks prior to the publication date. Please address all copy to The View, 908 Warren Hall. All copy over 50 words must be submitted on a disk or through e-mail to ~View. Copy may be edited for style, length and appropriateness.

The View is a publication of the Office of University Relations and Development.

Managing Editor: Linda Schneider
Photography: Chris Chenard

Publication Dates

Listed below are the remaining dates of publication for The View for 1990-91.

Feb. 11 - Copy Deadline: Jan. 28
Feb. 25 - Copy Deadline: Feb. 11
Mar. 11 - Copy Deadline: Feb. 25
Mar. 25 - Copy Deadline: Mar. 11
Apr. 8 - Copy Deadline: Mar. 25
Apr. 22 - Copy Deadline: Apr. 8
May 6 - Copy Deadline: Apr. 22
May 20 - Copy Deadline: May 6
June 3 - Copy Deadline: May 20
June 17 - Copy Deadline: June 3

Printed on recycled paper