By Lois Atz

Sure cure for the summertime doldrums will be the appearance of organ keyboard artist Karen De-Salvo in the AR at 7:30 p.m. on Thurs, July 28. Tickets are available for a donation of $2.50 each and are being snapped up briskly at the ticket window in the Rec Center See CONCERT Pg 26

acting recreation director

Richard Mathes is acting Recreational Facilities manager, replacing George Thomas who stepped up to the job of General Manager in June.

Richard began his employment at LV in April 1985 as night custodian, then was promoted to custodial supervisor, before this new job. Previously he was owner-manager of a janitorial business, where he gained experience in budgeting and purchasing, valuable experience for his LV post.

The Rec Facilities manager directs four lifeguards, three custodians, one custodial supervisor, one receptionist-clerk and one maintenance repair man. He also oversees any building or remodeling projects in or around the Rec Center.

Although Richard coordinated volunteers and food preparation or purchase for the July 4 picnic, he is quick to credit the generous help of Piff De Simone and George Thomas.

Pardee hopes to build senior hotel east of plaza

Residents at the end of planned. the 300 number cul-desac of V15 have received letters from Matthew A. Boden, Director of Camarillo Planning and Commudevelopment nity enclosing a draft negative declaration report submitted by Gregory Chazanas, project architect for Pardee Construction Company, requesting approval for a 136-room senior hotel to be built on the south side of Santa Rosa Road, directly east of Santa Rosa Plaza. Those eight residents who received letters are living within a 300' radius of the planned construction.

The letter, dated July 5, asked for any objections to be in Camarillo City Hall by July 15.

The two story connected buildings are to be arranged around two courtyards with a 43' high tower emphasizing the main entry. One Hundred forty parking spaces are

200000000000 Bazaar Date To Be Changed

The annual Women's Club Bazaar will take place this year on Oct 15 instead of the usual last weekend in September. This change was made because of many conthe flicts in community. The Bazaar has traditionally markded the birthday of Leisure Village and a number of other clubs take part. So this year we will be saying "Happy Birthday" to the Village just a little later. ------

Big Bang Test Residents' Readiness

By Betty Murray

With a loud explosion, the underground transformer which supplies electricity in the area of Village 4 blew up at 5:50 p.m. Sun, June 26. Repair crews from So. Calif. Edison were on the job very quickly, and General Manager George Thomas, summoned from Ojai, was on the scene. Power was restored in about 61/2

The sun was still shining when the incident occurred, and residents had time to locate their flashlights, candles and matches before dark. Some folks were cheated out of their hot after-dinner coffee, and they had to wash dishes by hand. There was concern about frozen food in the refrigerators, and also concern about a resident who required an electric motor for medical treatment.

Where Do You Fit In?

The Staff of ILV in talking with residents realize that many only vaguely understand just how the Village operates. In fact, there are some who actually believe that Board members receive a salary. NOT SO. They are volunteers that the majority of us have elected to run our Village according to the CC&R's.

On page three we show the organization chart for Leisure Village. As can be seen, the Board has under its jurisdiction a salaried staff who report directly to the Board.

In addition there are regular standing committees, volunteers, appointed by the Board for a year's term beginning in September each year.

If you feel that you have expertise in a certain area, or if you have a complaint about how our system is working, now is the time to do something about it. A new year for the various working committees in the Village starts in September. Choose the area in which you can get the most done to suit your interest or settle your biggest beef and volunteer for the committee that seeks to implement those factors that you want to change.

Recommendations of the committees go directly to the Board of Directors where action is taken one way or another. Every volunteer thus can be a factor in governing the Village.

Committee sign-up sheets will be available in the Rec Center in August. Take one. Volunteer to serve.

If you are appointed you will be expected to attend monthly meetings and to accept responsibilities of the committee. The only salary we can guarantee is the psychic income that goes with knowing that you, too, are doing your part in making this Village the great place it is to live.

Benefit Flood Control

By John Lauten

On June 14, 1988, the Board of Supervisors of Ventura County levied a benefit assessment on all parcels of developed property in the County to provide supplemental financing of planning, operation and maintenance. and construction costs of flood control facilities. In Zone 3 of the Ventura County Flood Control District (VCFCD), which includes all the drainage area of Calleguas and Conejo creeks, the benefit assessment is expected to raise almost $2.5 mil-

Benefit assessments are based on "proportionate storm water run-off from each parcel." In calculating the assessments formulas are used which take into consideration the area, use and imperviousness of each parcel. Assessments vary from $4.82 per acre for farmland to $203 per acre for residential condos. apartments, shopping centers, manufacturing plants. The assessments in Leisure Village have been reported to be $12.18 per unit.

The report submitted by the VCFCD to the Board of Supervisors in support of the benefit assessments included an explanation of flood control needs, declining sources of revenue, and the need for additional funding. The District recommended that benefit assessments be utilized to meet such needs.

It is doubtful whether the writer of the previous editorial or whether a large number of those who voted for Proposition A were fully aware of how its passage would have seriously and adversely affected a considerable number of LV residents. I refer to the 26 garden plots that would have been completely eliminated had the woodworking shop been erected in the garden area.

As the editorial stated, "...isn't the use of the garden plots just as therapeutic as the twirl spa?" Then whay vote to destroy almost a third of them!

The placing of such a proposition on the ballot despite negative votes by both the Finance Committee and the Education and recreation Committee, together with the dangerous precedent-setting effect of expanding one activity or facility at the expense of another, certainly raises a question as to just what motivates our Board in such matters.

There is no denying the need for expanded facilities for the woodshop, but let us hope that future Boards can find a better way of meeting this need than by tapping a reserve fund and impacting upon the rights of others.

Fred Eisman, V.39

Editor's note: In reference to the Reserve fun, the nature of the account has been explained at Association meetings. For further information you may refer to the C.C.&R.'s, Article 4, Paragraph 4.9.

Comment: ILV, June 23. In the meantime, Prop A has been turned down, I understand (do not know officially). I voted "no" because of (quote from ILV), "Whether the reserve funds (which had been set up by Leisure Tech for fees collected in advance and which no longer serves its purpose) should be transferred to an account which could be utilized for the benefit of LV." "Which no longer serves its purpose" has never been explained! However, my greatest reason for objection is that when this is used up. we still face the need of raising the monthly fee.

The problem will have to be faced that it takes more than anticipated to protect our property.

Many more things need to be done other than new wall lights in the AR. The walks are in deplorable condition. When we have to start re-roofing and repairing outside walls, it will make the painting schedule look sick. I can hear, "yes, just because you can afford more charge." But I believe that investment in real estate is a precarious business and must be protected by upkeep. My children hope to take residence in my home when I am gone. With good planning and God's help, it will be desirable property for generations to come - not an eyesore.

Florence Krueger, V.13

Editor's note: In reference to garden plots: A viewgraph presentation for renovation of the Recreational buildings was made by Dan Davis at the June Assn meeting. Included was an alternate plan which would result in additional plots. (The current area has unnecessarily wide aisles).

Oxnard College Tele-Courses May Be Offered By Ch 12

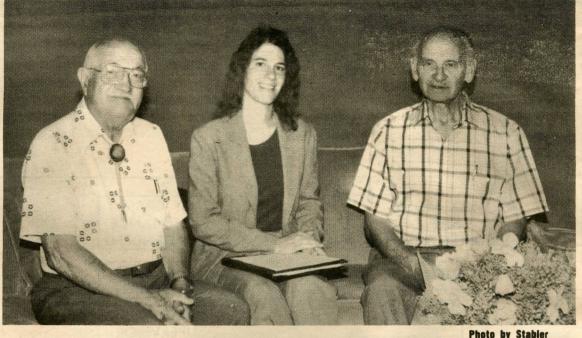

By Jack Whalen

Plans are now being formulated with Oxnard College which could result in several college-level telecourses being made available on Ch 12.

A series of meetings between Kitty Merrill, a TV production specialist from Oxnard College and Ch 12's Gerry Sills have narrowed the selection of courses that might be of interest to a good segment of LV residents.

The programs run from 7 to 15 hours and are all in the 1/2-hour format. There would be a modest charge for textbooks and study guides.

Said LV's Joe Gaynes, who is helping in the promotion of these progams: "What a marvelous means of enriching our

Profile: Henry and Edith Baker

His best friend was her brother. Naturally, she did meet him and that was 'way back in 1926. By 1932 they were going "steady," were engaged 1935.

In order for all of this to happen there was much traveling involved by both emigrated to the U.S. (Dein 1913.

Her mother was born in Industries. Poland, her dad in Romania and they met through a matchmaker, would you believe, in South America? They soon came to Los Angeles where she was born in 1915.

Let's meet Henry and Edith Baker, residents of Village 20 for some 10 years. Both were educated in the Los Angeles area but Henry had to leave school early to help support his family.

He started in the wholesale button business and soon branched into the textile industry. This was a fascinating business as cottons, silks and manmade fabrics came into the clothing world.

Edith plunged into volunteer work at hospitals, with time out to raise two lovely daughters. Music was also high on her agenda and she plays both the piano and accordian very well.

As Henry's career flourished, so did his involvement with civic and social groups, especially with the Merchants' Club, an auxiliary of the City of Hope. He is particularly proud of the "Spirit of Life," a clock-weather plaque, presented by the City of Hope for his efforts in securing a $1-million dollar donation to that fine organization.

He has also been involved with the Conference of Christians and Jews, attained 32nd Degree with the Masonic Organization, worked for the United Way, United Welfare and in the 60's was named "Man of the Year" for the LA Textile Association.

While the Bakers lived in 1933 and married in in many areas of Los Angeles, including West LA, Silver Lake and Pacific Palisades, they made the big move to Leisure Viltheir parents. Al and I wish to express our thanks to all our friends and neighbors for the care and concern and thoughtfulness shown to us during my recent surgery. Thank you for your prayers, good wishes, cards, phone calls, visits, dinners brought in to us, and donations made in my behalf. Leisure Village is truly the most wonderful place to live with so many beautiful people. God bless you all! I love you all! Dottie Sickels, V. 5

Our hearts are full of gratitude for your caring, your gifts, your food, phone calls, flowers, visits and cards. To say "Thank

We love you all, God bless you.

There are conventions and conventions

By Romaine Lambert

Conventions are a dime a dozen and of little interest to most of us unless we are a part of the activity involved. Many villagers were involved recently when the National Square Dance Convention took place at the Anaheim Convention Center. Those who had attended the convention there in 1976 were no doubt overwhelmed by the thought of some 30,000 square dancers assembled in one place, but it wasn't just the size of the turnout which was exciting.

There were separate areas for all levels of dancing, from beginning to advanced, exhibits, demonstrations, color and enthusiasm. Gerry Fuller who belongs to the Swingers and who, with Norman, gets around to many of these affairs, was thrilled with the exhibitions and says that the Style Show was the greatest. Dancing exhibitions are intriguing to watch, but in WHEEL-CHAIRS? Some with motorized chairs and some manually operated what a performance to watch. But there was another phase of this show which was especially touching to the Swingers.

Last year, Al and Ruth Siegel, life members of the Club, attended the National Square Dance convention in Houston. They were especially impressed with an exhibition by the group called "Pensacola Special Steppers,' Florida's Ambassadors of Square Dancing and when they returned to LV Ruth appealed to the Swingers to make a contribution to the group. Of course the Swingers came through and later received an appreciative letter in return.

"The Special Steppers," you see, are all mentally retarded. The group started as a fun activity at the Assn for Mentally Retarded Citizens by Frank and Nancy Cherry who happened to be square dancers. But Frank had to learn to call and then to teach square dancing to a group of 16 (in 1978) and which in 1988 has grown to 65. The program consists of three levels of dancing, Fun Bunch, Exhibition Class and Exhibition Squares. The Club's two purposes are to promote public awareness of the capabilities of persons who are mentally retarded and to provide recreation and social development opportunities for the dancers.

The Exhibition Squares performed at the 1983 Convention in Florida and every year but one since at the Nationals. Convention managers have set aside a special room for them, and in Anaheim this year for the first time had the opportunity to enjoy dancing with other handicapables in their own hall.

This Group has performed throughout the land not only at Square Dance affairs but at the World's Fair in New Orleans, in Nashville and in Washington, D.C. in the Inspire, 85 sponsored by the President's Comm on Employment of the Handicapped — the only disabled group to attend, and in 1987 at the Intnat'l Summer Special Olympic games at Notre Dame University.

What an inspiration not only to those who were fortunate to see these exhibitions, but even to us who were not so privileged. Ruth Siegel's usual lovely smile evidenced the satisfaction she felt as she proudly announced at the Swingers meeting that at least some members had the opportunity to see where our small contribution went.

The incident was a gentle (?) sample of what a large catastrophe could be like. All we lost was our electricity - we still had running water, a secure home, our normal transportation, our neighbors and there was light in the neighboring villages. The admonitions of the Emergency Services Organization now seemed more relevant: prepare your home, get emergency supplies, drinking water, extra batteries.

There was a pleasant side-effect to the electrical emergency. The evening was balmy and warm, the moon was nearly full. As the sky darkened, neighbors stayed outside, walked about and visited, and the sound of laughter which accompanies easy bantering talk drifted across the way. Sociability was returned to the neighborhood even as televisions were removed from service.

'55 Alive Course For August

By Will Janoff

The mature driving course will be held next month on Aug 15 and 16 from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. All residents may register for an $8 non-refundable and non-transferable fee. Although it is obligatory for insurance companies to offer discounts on auto insurance some companies may reguire, at their option, that all drivers insured take the course. These classes are much in demand. It is advisable to apply early. For registration and inquiries for the August class phone Sylvia Altes, 484-8338.

Although Leisure Village did not experience a great emergency, this was a very small reminder of what a real disaster might require.

How's this for no-fault insurance?

By Jeanne Carlson

Many villagers have been signing up for the excellent AARP on safe driving. This indicates a strong interest in both good driving and automobile insurance. A number of changes in insurance are being proposed several types of "no fault insurance."

Just for fun, ILV has borrowed from a small local paper, The Los Angeles Times, to show you excerpts from claim forms collected by an insurance company for in-house sharing.

How did the accident happen?

"The telephone pole was approaching fast. I was attempting to swerve out of its path when it struck my front end."

"My car was legally parked as it backed into the other vehicle."

"To avoid hitting the bumper of the car in front, I struck the pedestrian."

"A pedestrian hit me and went under my car."

You can open your garage door when the power goes off

By Frances Gold

You probably know that while the mechanism of your garage door opener is engaged, the door is locked even though the electricity is off. But do you know how to open it when the electricity and / or the mechanism fails?

Through conversation with villagers, ILV has estimated that perhaps as many as one-fourth of villagers do not know how to do it. It is possible that in an emergency you may need to get your car out quickly so it is imperative that you be able to understand how to release the locking mechanism that will allow you to open it manually.

It is a very simple threestep operation. Hanging down from the machine is a cord. Mine has a bright red tag on it but when the car is in the garage it is over the trunk and impossible to reach from the floor. I have added about 2 feet of light but strong cord which trails harmlessly over the top of the car when I drive in but is easy to reach when the car is in place.

The Procedure

1. Even if the electricity is off, disconnect the source. This may be some distance from the button that is supposed to activate the door.

2. Now grasp the cord dangling over the trunk and pull it firmly down and slightly away from the garage door until you feel it disengage.

3. Lift the door manually as you did before you ever heard of a garage door opener.

To reconnect, reverse procedure. It would be wise to do this once for practice before a need arises, then it will be easy to remember without pan-

Emergency Services Organization

By Bob Atz

Recent failures in the SCE power distribution system serving Leisure Village have been giving villagers the opportunity to experience, to a limited extent, conditions that could prevail during a major emergency. Other services such as telephone and water probably would be unavailable during a major emergency. The loss of electric power, even for short periods, reminds us that we need a portable radio, flashlights, spare batteries and an extra water supply, as a minimum.

Use these incidents as memory-joggers to review your preparedness for coping with emergency situations.

Nature does her best to teach us. The more we overeat, the harder it makes for us to get close to the table.

LETTER Village Safety

Since the good weather and long days have come. I have noticed villagers indulging in a very dangerous practice — walking on the golf course. Actually they are not on the golf course; those I have seen are on the out-of-bounds greenbelts alongside the third fairway and the eighth fairway, but a golfball does not know that it is not supposed to go outof-bounds. A golfball strike can range from being very painful to very serious or even fatal and simply being careful isn't enough to avoid them. For your safety, don't take your "healthwalk" on the greenbelt; don't take a shortcut across the golf course to a neighbor's house and don't walk your dog on the green belts.

What it means to be an American

By Sol Robin

Independence Day has a deeper meaning for Americans than the opportunity to shoot of fireworks. It would be more patriotic to use the occasion to review the origins of this holiday and devote some time to consider its true meaning.

July 4th is the birthday of our democracy. It marks the success of a people's revolution against the dictatorship of a king who denied the rights of American colonists who believed in the principles of self-government. These early Americans fought and died for these principles of freedom which we enjoy today. On July 4th we honor their courage and vision which made possible the founding of our democratic republic.

In order to understand the true meaning of our American democracy, we must ask ourselves what constitutes an American. Not color, nor race, nor religion. Not the pedigree of his family nor the place of his birth. Not his social status nor his bank account. Not his trade nor his profession. An American is one who believes in justice for all people and in their right to enjoy the blessings of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness regardless of race or religion.

We can truly say that we understand the meaning of democracy when we learn to estimate an individual according to his ability and character. Then we shall find, if we were to select the best of mankind, that all races and nationalities would be represented.

We are a nation of many nationalities, many races, many religions — bound together by a single unity, the unity of freedom and equality. Whoever seeks to set one race against another seeks to enslave all races. Whoever seeks to set one religion against another seeks to destroy all religions.

The fact that racial and religious prejudice should, in any form, exist in a democracy like ours is an incredible mockery of the very word — democracy. Racism should be considered in the light of a personal disgrace to every citizen of that same democracy. A disgrace as shocking and as tragic as that of the discovery that a near and dear member of one's family has become a hardened criminal. For prejudice is a crime. It is a crime against the democratic ideal, a crime against the teachings of Christianity and Judaism, a crime against human decency and a crime against just plain common sense.

Democracy is the only form of government that is founded on the dignity of man, not the dignity of some men, of rich men or of white men — but of all men and women regardless of their race or religion. Anyone who fails to recognize this basic concept of our democracy is guilty of treason and should forfeit his right to be considered a loyal American.

Is Your Television Set Delivering Channels 18-23?

By Jack Whalen

All villagers who have cable-ready television sets as well as most others who have a VCR (video casette recorder) attached to their set are able to receive six additonal channels. If yours is not adjusted for them, perhaps a relative, friend or neighbor might be able to help you. It is not a difficult chore and you may find some of these channels quite interesting. See Ed Salzer's article in this issue on Cable Traps.

Channel 18 — TEMPO. The schedule for programs is not listed in any local paper. The format seems to be one of informational programs such as cooking classes, travel promotions and quest speakers on selected subiects.

Channel 19 — HEAD-LINE NEWS NETWORK This station features utes of it) every hour on the half hour.

Channel 20 — C-SPAN I — This is the House of Representatives in action. When the House is in session, this program is live and repeats around the clock. It's a 24-hour station and you will find the daily schedule in the Los Angeles Times. When Congress is not in session you'll be informed through political sessions and items of interest concerning the Washington scene.

Channel 21 - CNN -This is the widely watched Cable News Network bringing you not only news but sports, weather, finance, the entire spectrum of what's going on in the world. The daily schedule is listed in the L.A. Times.

Channel 22 - TBS -This is Ted Turner's super station from Atlanta that brings a wide variety ofshows: feature films, sporting events and specials. The daily schedule is headline news (15 min- listed in the L.A. Times.

Channel 23 — C-SPAN II - This station, while not listed in a newspaper, is the Senate in action and follows closely the format of C-SPAN I.

Harry Becker, the driving force behind the placing of both C-SPAN stations on our TV system, states that many viewers tell him they often enjoy these two because they can be viewed any time of the night or day.

Harry also stated that he recently spent some time as a hospital patient and "They didn't even have PBS (our Channel 6) on their system."

Harry concluded, "We are mighty lucky in Leisure Village, having such a fine variety of stations available. And just as important is the fact that, for the most part, we get very fine reception with clear pictures.'

Removing Cable Traps

By Ed Salzer

It is possible that some homes may still have traps in the TV cable entering the residences. Traps were installed in 1982/83, and all but a few were removed in 1985. During the last few years many of the remaining traps were taken out.

Here is how to tell if you still have a trap in your system: If you have a cable-ready set, and most sets sold during the past 6 or 7 years have been cable-ready, check your manual.

With a cable-ready set you should be able to receive our cable stations 18, 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23. If you receive only cable stations 22 and/or 23, a trap may still be located in the cable entering your home. A trap looks like a 3-inch cylinder. If this is your situation, contact the Association office, and they will arrange to have someone check and determine if you have a trap. If so, it will be removed at no cost to you.

Cotillion dancers perform at Sat Night Ballroom dance

By Anne Janoff

What a treat those of us who attended the June 11 Saturday Night Ball-room Dance enjoyed by the return performance of the Cotillion Ballroom Dancers who entertained us last year. This group of eighteen young men and women did precision and formation numbers for us during the intermissions which brought resounding applause during as well as after each presentation.

The first dance was a nostalgic "soft-shoe" duo which was delightful to watch. It was followed by an exciting "two-step" routine with intricate formation patterns that was beautifully performed. During the second intermission, a rousing "Charleston" was done that had the audience toetapping and body-swaving as familiar steps of that by-gone era were brought back with the vigor and charm of these youthful dancers.

On June 25, another festive and very enjoyable dance was held in celebration of the 12th Anniversary of the Saturday Night Ballroom Dance. Acknowledgement of the Board and Committee members who work so hard during the year to provide these dances for our Village was given. In addition to the lovely decor and really good dance selections played all evening, the champagne and cake refreshments served, and pleasant so-ciability made this a very memorable event.

Sat, July 23, will be our "Hawaiian Night" Dance so get out your "island" attire and plan to join us. This is always a fun evening. Casual dress is, of course, appropriate if you prefer. Hosts will be Eddie and Reva Saeta and Paul and Luella Kelwin. Our following dance will be on Aug 13, and our 'Summer Dance' Aug 27, 8:00 - 11:00 p.m. in the AR.

By Marguerite Abdelnour

At the Swing Disco Jazz, Stars and Stripes July 2nd Dance, Marge Purdy greeted our Neighbors and friends. Acting Host Henry Carfagna welcomed all, and commented favorably on those who wore the combination colors of our national flag.

In honor of the birthday of our country, Director Ed Abdelnour called for a March and played Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Emcee Emil Sitka, flagbearer, selected Beatrice "Bea" Robbins as his partner to lead the Patriotic March. Bea was well deserving of this honor, because the knitted blouse she was wearing had the image of our Lady of Liberty woven into it.

After the show, we were invited to partake of yummies and the dancing to Ed Abdelnour's ball-room tapes — is that what is called a 'busman's holiday'?

On July 12, installation was held at the Peking Inn. Installed were Doris Siegel, Pres; Dor Karlin, VP; Trudy Orsan, secy; Shirley Heller, treas, and Sophie Lebetkin, parl. Of course, Helen and Sophie are our permanent dance directors.

A program "The Originals" was enthusiastically received. "Harvesting the Sea" was the unusual topic at the Garden Club meeting on July 14. Ray Lewis, Ph.D., University of California Santa Barbara, spoke of commercially grown oysters, mussels, abalone and seaweed. Food and medicine are processed and provide major benefits for mankind. Gardening the sea is a good food source. Science is developing agrichemical products and energy sources from the sea. Dr. Lewis told of mariculture research being conducted in the laboratories at the Santa Barbara site. He presented slides of commercial seaweed cultivation in Japan, China and the Philippines.

In place of a regular meeting Aug 11, there will be the usual annual good 'ole summertime picnic in the L.V. picnic area behind the Rec Center. Tickets can be obtained from Jeanette Krasner (484-9332), llene Evans (388-3366) and Ginny Leffingwell (482-0318).

Rhythmettes The marched out to the picnic area on July 4 in their red and white outfits, with flags fluttering. A good crowd enjoyed their music, then lined up for hamburgers, beans and salads, with more music yet to come. There were vocal solos by Ruth Hart and Lucille Matson, and a kazoo solo by Ada Jensen, between a variety of numbers by all the Rhythmettes. This successful program was made possible by the expert directing of Piff de Simone, (who danced to "Sidewalks of N.Y."), and accompaniment of Selma Simon, pianist. Ed Abdelnour took care of recording and public address system as always.

The Rhythmettes are out "doing their own thing" now, while having their summer hiatus.

Last month we reported that the Gem and Mineral Club would meet July 27, but we have to correct this. The Leisure Village Orchestra appreciates the letter from Lil Ballonoff, published in the June ILV in which she said that Village musicians should come play in the Orchestra. We have said nearly the same thing several times. Probably one out of every hundred villagers plays or has played an instrument, and if they would come and share their talents, we would have a 40-piece orchestra. If they are all Itzhak Perlman, James Galway, or Barny Green level, we'd have a great orchestra; if they are "haven't played since high school" level, we wouldn't be so great, but it wouldn't take long to get back into it. Most LV musicians are somewhere between those levels so we should be capable of producing a "good" orchestra. Even Perlman and Galway make mistakes occasionally, but nobody shouts them down, and we don't here, either. So even if youare "Perlman" caliber, come share your talents, as Perlman does.

We rehearse every Thursday evening, 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the MPR. Anybody know a timpanist?

Bernice and Morris Silverstein of Village 17 were the lucky winners of the "In the Good Old Summertime" sweepstakes that Carmen Read of Coldwell Banker Real Estate awarded.

The grand prize was a picnic basket chuck full of everything you need for a picnic--Wine glasses and wine, two place settings, inculding coffee cups and cloth napkins, cheeses, sausages, smoked oysters, caviar, olives, assorted crackers and "bon apetit".

Bernice, "I've never won a thing in my life before". Well, Bernice, may this be the beginning of many more, said Carmen. Leisure Villagers have been receiving the sweepstakes flyers of 1988 in the six sweepstakes that Carmen has helped provide to make life happier and say Thank You friends and neighbors.

The Pancake breakfast was a huge success. Thanks to all the people involved. All the credit is due the planners, cooks, bartenders, servers and cleanup crews. The R.V. meeting will Sept. 20, so mark your calendars.

The Roamers had a great outing at the Santa Maria Elks Rodeo, and look forward to the July outing at Monterey. Plans for the August camp-out have not been finalized, however an outing in September, led by wagon-masters Earl and Rowena Mettler and assisted by Joan and Bill Johnson, has been planned for the Shoreline Park in Long Beach.

Birds Of Leisure Village

Fledgling Orioles

By Frances Gold In July and August there are many birds coming to greenswards and bird baths that look vaguely familiar but seem to defy identification. That "vaguely familiar" is the key phrase, so look again, more closely this time. Check the total conformation and the beaks. Do they look almost but not quite like the female oriole you watched building a nest last spring? Chances are that they are those same little balls of feathers that fluttered so awkwardly from limb to limb, half hopping and half flying just a few weeks

Once they are out of the nest and exercising their wings, baby birds de-little fledglings are now teenagers as birds go. By late July as I write this, they are almost as large as their parents (who are perhaps a little slimmer.) They seem to share human teenage contradictions, too, for they are pert as any human 15 year old and yet insecure as well. This seeming insecurity is manifest in their need to continue to stay with siblings so they are seen together in groups of two's and three's. This is different from the grouping by flocks for migration later in the fall.

Although somewhat less colorful and slightly mottled for protective camouflage, they seem as elegant and sleek as your grandchildren in their prewashed designer jeans. Except for the slightly slimmer body profile and the mottling, both immature male and female look very much like their mothers. The males, however, velop quickly. Those fat can be distinguished from their sisters by a black patch under their chins--a sort of bowtie effect. Those bright colors that are so distinctive of the male oriole will come when the next full molting is completed, and will be his mating plumage.

Just now they are as slim and sleek and perky as the brightest young people around us. Watch for them and see if you don't think so, too.

Most birdwatchers keep a lifelong list of birds sighted in the field and definitely recognized. Mine is haphazard but I usually add one or two a year usually seen while on vacation. Certainly I never expected to see a new one here in the Village. However, early in June I was amazed to see a brilliant flash of the brightest yellow in the very top of a tall tree outside my patio. I was dismayed for my first thought was that someone's pet bird had escaped. Usually tame birds are not able to survive because they are not 'streetwise' enough to protect themselves from predators. This one's bright color would be against him, too.

Then he flew away and he looked very familiar not like a member of the parrot family but in flight exactly like an oriole. I'd seen lots of orioles - the brilliant orange-breasted Baltimore and the more common and duller orchard oriole but never one so yellow. A few days later I saw him again; he certainly looked like an oriole. I dug out Roger Tory Peterson's "Field Guide to the Western Birds" and sure enough, there he was. "Scott's oriole" brilliant lemon yellow with black markings, ranges Southern California. Welcome to the Village, Mr. Scott's oriole. Perhaps if you are fortunate you'll see him around, too, because he is one of the brightest handsomest birds about.

High 12 Club

By Gabriel Barkley

The LV High Twelve Club had a nice attendance at the June meeting. Main feature was our trip to Port Hueneme and a guided tour through the Port. Mary Campbell, our guide, after showing an interesting film of the history of Port Hueneme, walked us to the various berths explaining how the Port operates and the day-to-day unloading and loading of the ships. We all left with the knowledge as to how vitally important a seaport can be to the growth of an area such as Ventura County.

At our meeting on Mon, Aug 15, we will have Dr. John Bull, M.D. from the Channel Islands Urological Medical Group. His talk will be on the physical problems of incontinence, impotence and the prostate and ways to reduce these problems so common with men in their later years. We will have our usual social get-together with coffee and donuts at 9:30 with the meeting beginning at 10:00. Everybody is invited. Come one, come all.

Women's Club July meeting was full of all kinds of news.

First there was the sad news of the sudden passing of our valuable member and friend, Esther English. Esther was a long-time member and hard worker. She had served last year as Program Chrm and 1st V.P. and was in charge of table decorations this year. She will be greatly missed.

Then came the announcement that the Bazaar date will be Oct 15. This is two weeks later than usual. President Kay LaPrell explained that the reason for this change was that last year there were many conflicts within the community.

Kay also announced that the Bazaar theme will be patriotic — "Wave the Flag." Tickets for the big Bazaar drawing are now obtained — $1.00 donation. Prizes will be: 1)

3) hand-made afghan; 4) toaster-oven; 5) dinner for two at Ellington's Restaurant. Treas. Doris LaPrell distributing them.

Kay then pointed out that the year is already more than half over and it is time to appoint a Nominations Committee for 1989 officers. Jeanne Carlson will chair the group. Other members will be Bea O'Brien, Piff DeSimone, Beverly Peck and Vi Harley. Work will begin in August since the slate must be presented at the November meeting. Election will be in December. If you are asked to run, please accept, if possible. Remember that you are really neded and you will recieve lots of support. Women's Club's motto is "Fun and Serready and can soon be vice" and it fills a real need in Leisure Village.

Dorothy Fencl, Bazaar $300 cash; 2) $100 cash; and Workshop Chm talked about current happenings and said that preparations are really humming. She also introis in charge of tickets and duced three workers: will be asking for help in Mary De Carlo who recently made a number of decorative pillows plus fourteen aprons; Connie Myer, who made the gorgeous white afghan for the recent drawing; and Bea Schreiber, who makes quantities of slippers for the sale.

> Betty Walker, Membership Chm, gave our present total as 541.

Gertie Dorward, Trading Post Chief Exec., told the group that the all-day outdoor sale had been an outstanding success and her workers were looking forward to another big sale at the Bazaar. Remember the year when someone accidently sold Gertie's purse?

Sandy Linka, Program Chm, announced that Bill and Joan Lowe of Camarillo would sing folk songs and original compositions for the program in August.

Sandy then introduced "The Olde Time Fiddlers," Ventura County professionals consisting of a trio: Adrian Bush, Chesley Wills, and Truman Bounds. They delivered a whole concert of what they called "happy and fun music." They have a wonderful repertoire and played many favorites such as "I Laid Aroun' and Played Aroun'" and some lowdown hoe-downs. The audience could not keep from joining in the songs. Everybody loved the fid-

I traded a house full of empty rooms for a life full of friends.

It was lonesome rattling around in a big empty house. And getting out to shop meant depending on busy people to drive me. Still, I was reluctant to think about moving.

Until my Bobby and his wife found Hillcrest Inn and took me to see it. So here I am, in a luxurious building with my own apartment. I still have my independence. Only now I have lots of happy, healthy friends and wonderful activities to share with them.

Maid service is included and they serve three delicious meals in an elegant restaurant setting. It's delightful to be around the young people who serve us; they're so helpful and cheerful. There's also a beauty salon and a chauffeured van to take me shopping and to my doctor appointments.

And the kids have peace of mind knowing that there are the latest security and safety systems and a caring staff to help me if I need it.

The surprising thing is it doesn't cost me any more to live here than it did in my old house.

They say it's a new idea in senior living. For me, it's a lifesaver.

I cannot go to you, Wherever you may be, And all the tears I've shed Won't bring you back to me. I could not die with you, Nor could you live for me, And all the years we shared Are now a memory. While these might well be the "lazy, crazy days of summer," you may be certain that Channel 12 members are continuing to work on bringing good programming your way.

We are especially looking forward to a "Happy 98th Birthday, Dring Needham'' program scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at 5:00 p.m. Aug 3, just one day before this distinguished Villager reaches his 98th birthday. Dring, a longtime judge in Iowa, is a fully-alert, active man who enjoys life to the fullest. Tune in to capture a vibrant man, the eldest male in Leisure Village.

Immediately following this special will be an indepth interview with Dan Davis, Chairman of the Architectural committee. His comments should be of special interest to any home owner who might be considering building an addition and/or making changes within the house.

Elsewhere in this issue of ILV will be a story on a possible arrangment with Oxnard College whereby selected college courses will be shown on Ch - 12 in 1/2 to 1 hour segments.

The Board of Director's meeting for August will be held at 10:00 a.m., Monday, Aug 1. It will be telecast live and a repeat showing will follow the following Saturday, Aug 6 at 10:00 a.m.

Sally and Harry Becker have already had a full summer. First Harry went in to the hospital and came out with excellent news. Then ten days later they celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary with a visit from their son, daughter-in-law, and two grandchildren. An anniversary party hosted by their son was attnded by more than 70 friends and relatives at the Velvet Turtle.

Alma and Jack Duncan in a loving picture photographed by their daughter

V. 4, are really the "sixties generation".

This summer they traveled to Pullman, Washington to celebrate their sixtieth wedding anniversary as well as the sixtieth reunion of their high school graduation class.

Miss Alma Barton and

Alma and Jack Duncan, Mr. Jack Duncan were married at nearby Moscow, Idaho almost immediately after their high school graduation from Pullman High School.

> The senior class at Pullman consisted of 61 students. This year 31 were able to attend. This same class has met for its 40th, 45th, and 50th graduation parties.

> The Duncans also attended a family reunion of 70 relatives at Pullman. Their daughter Karon Appling was present.

ILV would be interested to know if Jack and Alma hold the LV record for long marriages.

Avonelle & Jim Dobbins

Avonelle and Jim Dobbins, V.4, were treated to the very first surprise party of their lives in celebration of their 55th wedding anniversary. The wedding took place on June 22, 1933, at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn, Glendale. Neighbors Margarete and Jules Nayfack arranged the party to honor the Dobbins in their home on June 25.

Surprise guests included the Dobbins' son David from Eureka, his wife and a niece, grandson Christopher and girlfriend from Lawndale, neighbors and friends in the Village.

Mon and Fri mornings and Wed afternoon.

Karen De Salvo entertained here two years ago, appearing in a benefit concert to help pay off the debt on the new LV Yahama theater organ. She is a professional musician, organ teacher and entertainer, and will play Broadway show hits, old favorites and current hits on July 28.

The concert is sponsored by the LV Organ Club. This is the first event of the club's new year, with Jules Nayfack as president. The Organ Club presents a musical evening for the whole Village about five times a year.

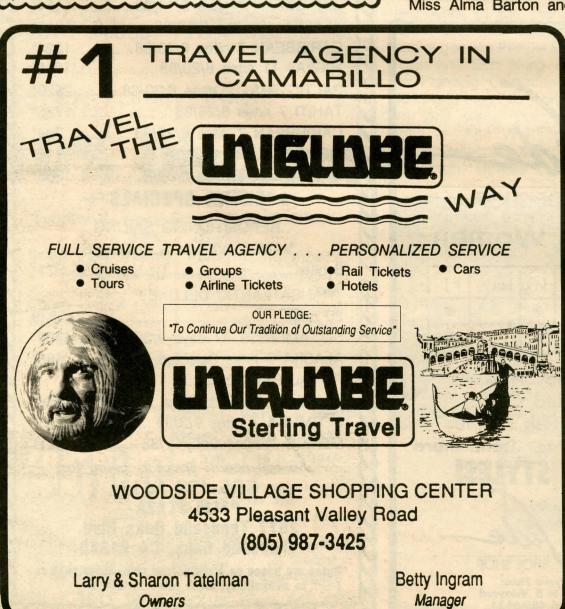

Karen DeSalvo is the daughter of Nick and Piff DeSimone, V.11. Karen and her family will be here for a week's visit from their home on the east coast.

LV Organ Club meets Fri, July 22 in the AR at 1:30 p.m. Musical theme for the day is "Ladies Names," when members play songs for each other on the organ or piano. Interested listeners as well as players are invited to attend.

During a brief business session, details for the July 28 concert in the AR will be checked. On that date keyboard artist Karen DeSalvo will play on the LV theater organ.

BAZAAR DATE TO BE CHANGED

The annual Women's Club Bazaar will take place this year on Oct 15 instead of the usual last weekend in September. This change was made because of many conflicts in the community. The Bazaar has traditionally marked the birthday of Leisure Village and a number of other clubs take part. So this year we will be saying "Happy Birthday" to the Village just a little later.

An apology and a confession

By Romaine Lambert

Inside Leisure Village, as does most newspapers, makes its share of boo-boos which are promptly reported to staff, usually on the morning of issue. We abhor these errors, even though in many cases they are not necessarily our fault, because we have worked so hard to be correct.

as it understandably does everyone else, is when we report a death which has not (fortunately) taken place. This has happened not once, but twice, both times to this same coodinator.

The first time, last November, while I felt consternation and concern for the family involved, I did not feel entirely responsible because someone whom I thought was reliable gave me the incorrect information.

Last month, however. we included in the Memoriam column, NELDA ANN MINNICK, V. 13. It is ILV's practice, if we see an obituary published in the Camarillo Daily News, to look up the name in our directory. The NAME as reported is correct. Nelda Ann Minnick is deceased. but she did not live in the Village. NELLIE MINNICK does live in V. 13, and we are happy to report, is very much alive. I, as Coordinator of the Month of June, take full responsibility for the blunder, and can only blame my weariness at the time due to working over 75 contributions day and evenings to have a perfect (?) issue. that I did not read the entire obituary to learn that Nelda had no husband. If I had, then I would have realized that neither Nellie nor Nelda belonged in our Memoriam.

I offer this lengthy explanation because many villagers cannot understand how a thing like this can happen. This did happen in spite of the fact that I had loyal and experienced editors working with me.

Both Albert and Nellie Minnick received a prompt apology from the Editor that they contacted the day of issue, but I want them to know that I apologize publicly because I, of all people, know how they must have felt, because you see, the same thing happened to me and my husband.

Early in my first mar-What really upsets us, riage we moved to the Highland Park area of Los Angeles and immediately registered at our new parish. Attending our first Sunday service, my husband picked up a bulletin, and while waiting for services to begin, flipped through it. I suddenly felt him jump in the pew beside me, and heard him gulp. I thought he was ill, until he pointed a shaking finger at an entry in the bulletin. There, under Prayers for the Dead, was my name, not his, just mine! I tried to calm him down, as I did a little gulping myself, and thought I had succeeded until it came time for announcements from the pulpit. Lo, the Pastor lead the prayers for the dead, naming each, including me. At this point I found myself literally holding down my husband, fearing that he was going to rise up and announce, "It isn't so."

Leaving church we noticed a registrar of voters at a table on the sidewalk and realized we needed to register there, too. Just as I stated my name, I looked up and saw a young priest standing there, mouth open and eyes wide. I promptly verified my existence and he stammered that he was new to the has "Thinking Straight" parish, too, and the note was on his desk and he thought he had the correct reason. The mystery as to why me, and not my husband, too, was never explained. To this day I have the clipping, but no legitimate reason for a boo-boo like that.

This whole unfortunate situation also reminds me of the beginnings of ILV when members of our Creative Writing Group proposed a volunteer newspaper to our Board of Directors. The Board registered their disapproval to us and among the objections stated: "No editorials, no letters to the Editor, NO OBITUAR-IES."

As for me, about this time, I'm inclined to believe they were right. NO MEMORIAMS!

Editors Note: You can help us greatly in this matter if you as family or as close friend or neighbor will call one of the editors to verify any death in the Village. This would be especially helpful when the death takes place away from the Camarillo

Remember, ILV is your paper, too. Our staff could never do it alone.
