“RAZZLE DAZZLE” —

The Rhythmettes are MASTER chefs! They have discovered the perfect recipe for successful entertainment.

Combine: 75 united, energetic and talented people

Add: A bit of ham

Fold in: Bright lights and flashy costumes

Top with: 1 creative, generous and patient director — Edith Ferrer Blend for three months, et voila — Showmanship Extraordinaire!

Capacity crowds filled the Assembly Room on two consecutive evenings to enjoy the long awaited annual performance of the Rhythmettes. This year, as every other year, the audience was overwhelmed by the high quality of entertainment.

The show was under the directorship of multi-talented Edith Ferrer, whose nimble fingers never left the keys while her eyes and head signaled the directions to the ladies. From the audience one could see the happy faces of the Rhythmettes intent upon their conductor at the piano.

The program was a cornucopia of entertainment including a variety of acts from vigorous choreography to nostalgic melodies, ballads, comedy, melodrama and some good country foot stompin' numbers. Oh, that music! The sounds that emanated from the Kitchen Band were amazing. With the zeal and professionalism of a full orchestra, the women played their cheese graters, washboards, wooden spoons, kazoes, monkey pod bowls, toy horns and somehow, somehow, achieved a terrific blend of music! Not a foot in the audience was idle; all were tapping to the infectious beat.

On stage was a myriad of talent. Act I included the high-kicking Rockettes and the vaudevillian team of Fitch and Kane. There was the sweet harmony of the Santa Rosa Roses and the glittering disco threesome of Bea Price, Mae Sheff and Marguerite Abdelnour. The talented sisters, Rosalie Beck and Piff De Simone, delighted the crowds with their rendition of “Second Hand Rose”. Lovely Ruth Hart left the audience spellbound with the flaming love song, “He Touched Me”. There was the perky dance of the Chimney Sweeps as well as the sultry coquettes who entertained in a modified Gypsy Rose Lee manner with the back-up of some very daring men strutting behind colorful fans.

The second act began with a very polished top hat routine performed by Shirley Heller, Ginny Cordell, Piff De Simone and Daisy Bien. This group was appropriately dressed in tails, top hats and very shapely, synchronized legs.

Good humor, excellent voices and some quick stepping moves made up the Villagers' interpretation of Hee Haw. The country cast delivered their rendition of “I'm Proud To Be An Okie From Muskogee” with their own lyrics:

*We are happy to be here in Leisure Village
Doing the things we want to do
We have many friends who live around us
We like them and we love you.*

*Oh, we're proud to be an L.V. from the Village
A place where even “squares” can have a ball
We still wave Old Glory down at the center,
And every day's the biggest thrill of all.*

Daisy Bien brought down the house with the dazzling number, “Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend” and Lucille Matson sang full and sure about the “good life” in Leisure Village:

This 'N That

by Esther Robbins

Some people take trips every year. The Canadian Rockies, Yellowstone National Park, New Orleans for the Mardi Gras, you name it, they've seen it. This year, because of the gas shortage, those who haven't already been, are planning a Caribbean cruise. Not us. We've already had our vacations for this year. Both of us have taken our annual "trip" to the hospital. It was supposed to be Tahoe this time, but, as usual, ours were "the plans of mice and men". We do this regularly, it seems, in lieu of vacational travels. There seems to be a magnetic force about a hospital that draws us there. It can't be the food. On my last "trip" I actually sent out to McDonald's for a hamburger. It certainly can't be the coffee! It's even worse than mine, and it's taken me years of practice to accomplish that. I've come to the conclusion that it has to be the beds. I've yet to find a hospital with beds that aren't soft and lumpy. Not that I'm complaining, mind you. I like beds that are soft and lumpy. I'm an incurable insomniac and strange as it may seem, I sleep much better on lumps. They seem to go well with my shape. Their lumps and my lumps sort of compliment each other and I actually find them restful.

For years now I've been telling my friends that I'm sure it's our mattress that keeps me awake. It was recommended by the doctor for my back problem, orthopedically designed and extra firm for health and comfort. I lay on top of it all night perched like a sea gull on a rock, expecting at any moment to take wing and fly away. My body doesn't make the slightest dent in its surface and every morning finds me so stiff that I feel as though rigor mortis has already set in. I've been threatening to buy a new one for a long time but Jerry refuses to part with it. I don't know what's so special about it. Washington never slept on it, and we've already used it for fifteen miserable years. It probably holds nostalgic memories for him. He

It's a great feeling being part of the aura of him, like a alternatives. I've been thinking seriously of a water bed but I'm rather afraid it is not for us. We're both subject to motion sickness and would have to get up every four hours for a dramamine. Now you can understand why we have never had the slightest inclination to go on a cruise. Both of us were seasick on a Pearl Harbor trip. I never even saw it. My only recollection of Pearl Harbor is lying on a bench crunching cracked ice. And as for Jerry, well, he almost died on a fishing trip. Thank goodness it was only a half day trip . . . he was only half dead. He was so sick that after tomato juice, ginger ale and all the usual remedies failed, I gave him the pills I took when I was pregnant. I was hoping he would have a girl but all he gave birth to was a whiplash. The doctor said he should go down in medical history as he was the first patient who ever suffered a whiplash from fishing. Sadly enough, he never even caught a fish. To be perfectly honest, he never even held the pole. One look at the water and one sniff of bacon frying in the galley and it was all over for him. All in all, it was an expensive and painful experience which resulted in his not speaking to me for a solid week. You see, it was really all my fault in the first place. This is probably very confusing to you, so let me start at the beginning and tell you how it all came to pass.

It all happened before Jerry retired and before coming to live in Leisure Village. He was in his own business then, working much too hard, without vacations of any length and I felt that too much work and too little play was "making Jack a dull boy". I decided that what he needed was a hobby. I tried to make him take up golf, cards, oil painting, even women, but Jerry wasn't interested in golf, cards, or oil painting. He wasn't even interested in women. He would answer my nagging with, "I'm in the Garment Industry. I've got a good hobby . . . worrying." Finally I decided to take things into my own, very capable hands and set up a fishing trip with some business associates. On the only day he was able to sleep a little later, I got him up at four-thirty in the morning and sent him out to "the briny blue" for some fresh sea breeze. The men stopped for a hearty breakfast. This was the first mistake. Jerry can't eat breakfast for at least an hour after waking. Then they all got into the car where they proceeded to smoke cigars with the windows closed. Error number two. By the time they reached the dock he was already feeling queasy. His friends made a big deal out of picking the "right pole" and the "proper place" for him, by this time, Jerry couldn't have cared less where they put him. He placed the "right pole" in the "proper place" and that was the last he saw of it. He tried to close his eyes and die peacefully but it wasn't that easy. The fellows told him he was lucky it was such a calm day, but to him each wave seemed ten feet high. By the time they brought him home, they had to carry him into the house and placed him gently but firmly on the living room floor with very evident relief. He spent the next week sleeping upright in a chair, to say nothing of a collar on his neck, and as I mentioned before, he stopped talking to me for a while. Needless to say, it was his first and last fishing trip. To this day I can't even cook fish without the inevitable protest, "Do we have to have that?"

When we moved to Leisure Village and I started to read the list of all the recreational facilities and opportunities to acquire a hobby, I thought he would hit me! "Look", he said, "stay off my back! Don't find me any hobbies. The last hobby you found me cost $250.00 in doctor's fees and weeks of misery. You want to participate, that's fine with me. Just leave me out of it!" In spite of his protests, he did his own activities without my help and lived happily ever after, which brings me to wonder why I told you this "fish story" in the first place—Oh yes, now I remember. It was the mattress. For those of you who are interested, we are still sleeping on it. Or at least he is!

*I found a life in Leisure Village
 Wandering alone I no longer do
 For me the sun is always shining
 For me the clouds hold a silver lining.
 I found a life here in the Village
 Doing the things that are offered here
 With all the fun that's displayed
 And the friends I have made
 I found a life here in the Village.*

We tip our hats to all involved in this creative endeavor. The enthusiasm and spirit of the group was felt and shared amongst the audience. Special plaudits go to those behind the scenes: Make-up Artists—Esther Beckel, Estelle Graff, Florence Hamroll and Rosamond Kohen; Lighting Directors—Irvig Litrownik and Max Lustig; Stage Crew—Dave Cline and Bruno Tavano; Sound Engineer—Mike Fazio; Tapes—Ed Abdelnour; Writing and Production Staff—Ethel Belanger, Millicent Hofmann and Lucille Matson; Creative Choreography—Marguerite Abdelnour; Costume Designers—Sylvia Feldman and Shirley Heller; Ticket Manager—Vi Kasner and Program Developer—Marion Tavano.

An extra thanks to Jack Zoller and Harry Holcombe for their time and effort and to all the other talented and giving men who participated in the show. And, last but certainly not least, orchids to the dedicated, talented director, Edith Ferrer and her assistants.

As in the past, the proceeds from this show will contribute to the enhancement of the Village. The Rhythmettes have generously donated substantial amounts towards the purchase of the Assembly Room organ, the Women's Club Room spinet piano, the spotlight in the projection room, as well as flats, backdrops and microphones for the stage.

The Village will anxiously await next year's gala performance after having witnessed the pièce de résistance, the 1979 show.

So Rhythmettes, for everyone's sake, KEEP COOKIN'!!

Happy wanderers of the April Utah excursion.

UTAH TRAVELS

by Lee Zimmerman

It is difficult to put into words the wonderful experience that was shared by 40 residents on a recent excursion to Utah. The trip, sponsored by the Leisure Village Travel Committee, began on April 27th and was ably directed by Lee Zimmerman and Jean Kane.

The six day adventure began with lunch in Palm Springs. Later that day, the group travelled a narrow, winding road through Joshua tree country arriving that evening in the charming town of Prescott. Following a comfortable night's stay, the bus journeyed to the South Rim of the Grand Canyon. This breathtaking natural phenomena was invigorating. No one wanted to leave and yet as the journey continued, all were pleasantly surprised by an equally gorgeous view—Lake Powell. The lake was a sight to behold with its azure waters rising from mammoth rocks, a sure sign of God's handiwork!

The following day the group started out for Bryce Canyon and were pleased to meet a familiar face. As last year, the travellers had the pleasure of employing as a guide, Mr. Pollack, a retired forester of the area. After touring Bryce it was the general consensus that this masterpiece in stone is certainly God's country! From Bryce the Villagers journeyed through Zion National Park amid the many-hued canyons of color. The graceful castles of stone were awesome.

Next the bus proceeded to Las Vegas, the city of lights, shows, slot-machines and gambling for a fun filled evening.

The trip back home was a pleasant one with time for sing-alongs, chats with friends and opportunities to relive the breathtaking sights of the previous days. The feeling of togetherness amongst this group was as inspiring as the awesome encounters with nature. All were sorry to see the journey end. And so, on June 7th, the forty travellers gathered together to recapture the unique experiences via a slide show. The warmth and friendliness of these neighbors truly made this trip a joyful and meaningful event.

HI NEIGHBORS! Inasmuch as everyone doesn't participate in everything going on in the Village, here's an "in" on some of the happenings. Take, for instance, the recent Cinco de Mayo celebration co-hosted by Max and Helen Lustig and Joe and Charlotte Romero. Charlotte (muy bonita in a sequin-skirted, South of the Border creation), and exuberant husband Joe, spiced up the evening with their lively Mexican dances. As for the Lustigs, they have played an important part in the organization and promotion of all Saturday night dances and as co-hosts, deservedly shared in the plaudits.

Folks celebrating their anniversaries that night were Mary and Emil Farkas of Village 13—54 years (we Hofmanns were there 54 years ago to dance at their wedding!), and Mae and Charles Sheff—10 years. Also, an interesting bit of news was divulged when we learned that Helen Orr, past prexy of L.V. Women's Club, had just become engaged to Village 13's George Dennis! Present at the dance were Sonia and Jack Myers of Pretoria, South Africa, guests of Rosamond and Norbert Kohn. There is always a special touch to our ballroom dances! On one occasion, Villager O.C. Marler surprised his wife, Ruth, by providing champagne and raspberry tarts for everyone, in celebration of their first anniversary! How nice!

Villager, John Zoller, still active in television and movies, graciously took over the last meeting of the Village Players' Workshop and gave his audience an "inside" on professional casting techniques. He has consented to assist in the selection of performers for the Players' next offering, "The Second Time Around". Not only has John added two characters to the script replacing those unsuited to the membership, but he has also promised to invite well known actor, Hans Conreid (who starred in this play), to attend a workshop meeting and give our budding actors a few pointers on how things are done among the pros! Incidentally, Ailsa Muldoon, Players' Director-Producer, is becoming quite famous in these parts for her singing and self-accompaniment on her Irish harp. She was a recent guest artist at the Santa Paula First Christian Church. Ailsa and husband, Bill, are off to a long anticipated visit to the "Ould Sod".

The Bocce Club's Spring Dinner-Dance was a huge success with good company, good eatin' and good dance music! It was heart warming to learn that the San Fernando Banjo Band, who kept us stepping, donates their earnings to charity. Greater love hath no man! Two Villagers performed extemporaneously: Pioneer Villager, Abe Plann gave a fine rendition of "Won't You Come Home Bill Bailey" and Lou Hoffman did a real classy tap routine. Lou was so good, I had an inkling he must have been a pro and when questioned, I learned that he had done Tap, Buck and Wing routines a long time ago on the R.K.O. circuit. After a few years of the "big time", he quit show biz because his papa insisted he go back to school to prepare for a more permanent career. The Hoffmans are familiar figures in many facets of Village life. Edna, a pianist, is now an active member of the Rhythmettes adding her own special verve to their performances.

Sounds of music emanating from Chorale and Rhythmette rehearsals hint of exciting programs in the offing—something to look forward to!

Some of our residents occasionally go off (although a bit reluctant to leave the good life they have here!), to traipse around the world, as did Martie and Esther Beckel, Rosamond and Norbert Kohn, Bob and Bea Price, Irv and Sylvia Feldman, Lou and Edna Hoffman, Nat and Mina Rubell, Dave and Hannah Hurwitz and Bernard and Sylvia Zittell—all bragging they were the same good friends on their return as when they embarked on their cruise of the Caribbean via the Panama Canal!

Seasoned travellers, Morrie and Sylvia Altes, returned from their visit to Israel all aglow as they were there when Begin and Sadat shook hands over the long awaited peace pact. It was not until their return that they learned that Villagers, Nathan and Miriam Hockman, were at the same hotel, at the same time, celebrating the same historic event!

Caught a glimpse in a recent newspaper of a smiling face that looked familiar—and who was it but our own Millie Silberman, publicized for being aboard the World Airways plane which had just launched a coast-to-coast service. Radiant Millie and her husband, Max, have been floating on air since their daughter, Rebecca, won a full scholarship to three different graduate schools. Proud parents are bursting their buttons! Congratulations!

Another face in the news is Rudy Eis who was recently named Adult Volunteer of the Year by the Camarillo Boys' Club, where he works as a games room counselor and playground director. He also keeps busy collecting aluminum cans from Villagers, cleaning and repairing Boys' Club equipment and publicizing the Boys' Club Story. Nice work, Rudy!

And so it goes. Ciao for now!

UNDER THE OLD ALDER TREE

The picnic area in Leisure Village is ready for summer picnics and bright sunshiny days. Leisure Technology recently donated 20 alder trees to enhance the beauty of the Village and to provide additional shade and comfort for the residents.

Representing Leisure Technology in the tree planting action was S. Gene Giannulli, President of the Corporation and former professional in landscape architecture and design. Representing the Leisure Village Association were Esther Malkin, Larry Jenkins and Aaron Gaines, members of the Building and Grounds Committee.

Men's Golf Association

by Walt Smuske

Our 1978-79 fiscal year is over. This past year has brought several favorable surprises. Our early scheduled program of 44 events was revised to total more than 60. The number of new members increased to about 350—an all time high. Since the increase in membership brought more revenue into our treasury, more prize money was allocated and some subsidies were approved. The dues money was carefully spent on member participation at our planned events and on necessary items or required improvements.

I am pleased with all the help given me, and thank the Executive Board and the committeemen for a job well done. Approximately 80 men took part in carrying out the big and little jobs to help make the L.V. M.G.A. a better organization. Their names are in the minutes, the Voice, on the golf shack notice list or bulletin board. I thank each and everyone who helped and participated.

The officers who served during 1978-79 were: Walt Smuske as President; Dick Schafer, Vice-President; Pat Maher, Secretary; Fran Doyle, Treasurer. The other Executive Board members were past President, Dan Gutermann as Ex-officio and six Chairmen of the following standing committees: Bud Coffin, Membership; Art J. Wilson, Handicaps; Walt Whitaker, Long Golf; Jack East, Bar and Special Events; Geo Huddleston, Greens; Al Podewils, Budget. The Tournament chairman was ably assisted by Bob Anderson.

Several temporary committee chairmen were appointed as needed in accordance with the M.G.A. constitution. Past President, George Holtfrerich was Parliamentarian; Past President, Harvey Shirk, Constitution & By-Laws; Don Jackson, Rules & Education; Al Podewils, Publicity; G. Huddleston, Trophies; Chas Bellante, Nominating; Mike Fazio, P.A. Systems; Frank Tavano, Entertainment; Leo Gesseck, Special Assignments, and others as previously posted. Also, each month two Captains were appointed to help run the golf tournaments or special scheduled events.

Every Tuesday from 8 A.M. 'till 1 P.M. is men's golf day. A sign-up sheet is posted on our bulletin board one week in advance and golfers sign-in selecting an available tee off time. Foursomes start 6 or 7 minutes apart. About 140 sign up to play. To date this system has been working very well on Tuesdays and on other tournament days. The cooperation of players has made this sign-up system a success for both the M.G.A. and the male non-member resident.

Long-Golf was scheduled once a month, but both May and June had two Long-Golf outings. May was a busy month with five golf tournaments scheduled and in June, seven tournaments were scheduled.

The last program of the year was the M.G.A. Installation Luncheon held at the Hungry Tiger restaurant in Thousand Oaks on June 27th. All past Presidents and all the officers, both new and outgoing, were honored. The 1979-80 officers named were: Niels Pedersen, President; Abe Milman, Vice-President; Bill Weigel, Secretary and Bob Anderson, Treasurer.

Best of luck to all of them!

Leisure Village Stamp & Coin Club

by Morris Katz

The Leisure Village Stamp and Coin Club, originally organized in September 1974, now has a membership of 40 residents. We welcome our new members and know that they will enjoy these educational and challenging hobbies.

During the month of April, a beautiful stamp and coin display was on exhibit in the Atrium prepared by Morris J. Katz. Sheets, plates, Zip and Mail Early blocks, single stamps (foreign & domestic) and foreign and domestic currency and coins were shown.

In May, we enjoyed a return visit of Mr. Wally Tolman, International Champion, who presented a slide show of his Battle of Lexington & Concord stamp exhibition. Also at this meeting, President, Morris Katz, spoke on the history of the U.S. postal service.

We are happy to announce the completion of half of our great project. All of our easels are now built and we are getting ready to start constructing the frames. When this project is completed, the club will be ready to exhibit our material at the Leisure Village Sixth Anniversary celebration to be held on September 29th and 30th.

Meetings of the L.V. Stamp & Coin Club are held on the first and third Tuesday of each month at 7:30 P.M. Residents are welcome to join us as limited membership is still being offered.

The Village Swingers Square Dance Club

by Romaine Lambert

The Village Swingers Square Dance Club completed another successful year and elected a new slate of officers on May 22nd. The outgoing Board, Bob and Joan Guhl—President, Gene and Lucy Coke—Vice-President, Tom and Romaine Lambert—Secretary, Art and Mae Gregerson—Treasurer, feel that it has been a term of accomplishment. This was made possible by the enthusiastic support of the membership and by the good work of committee members, such as Bill and Phyl Bilharz — Activities Chairmen, Glenn and Frances Rominger — By-laws and Historian, Vern and Elsie Weetz — Hospitality and Fred Detmers — photographer.

One of the most significant events of the year was the adoption of the Club's first set of by-laws. This was accomplished under the chairmanship of the Romingers with the assistance of the Gregersons. Another worthy happening was Contra Dancing, introduced last August by Leif and Anna Lee Hetland from Orange County. Contra Dancing has continued in popularity on the second Sunday of each month. The "Fifth Tuesday Dances" were initiated, featuring such outstanding callers as Ray Godfrey, Bruce Johnson, Jon Hed, Mort Simpson, Ray Orme, Bill

Siebert and Sam Atkinson.

The Club also boasts of a Village first as a result of a bona fide Square Dance Wedding, when Marilyn Dick and Art Duerrstein spoke their vows before the surprised and delighted dancers.

For members interested in Round Dancing, Joan and Bob Guhl started weekly instruction which has proved worthwhile. There was the picnic, the bus trip to Glendale for a benefit dance and the semi-annual, special Sunday dances to keep our members going. The latest innovation was the use of a numbering system to break up squares so that all members had the opportunity to dance with each other. And in May there was a one-hour workshop to accommodate our new dancers.

Special appreciation goes to instructor/caller, Wyane Simpson, who worked so hard for the benefit and enjoyment of the Club. The Board had his utmost cooperation.

The installation of officers took place at a potluck dinner on June 5th. For his leadership, the Club presented Bob Guhl with a handsome western-style belt buckle, created by Ray Chryst. Joan received a lovely matching pendant of tigerseye, also made by Chryst.

The new officers include: Bob and Joan Guhl elected to serve another term as President, Art and Marilyn Duerrstein—Vice-President, Al and Ruth Siegal—Secretary and Les and Marian Cornils—Treasurer. The outgoing officers say thanks to all, and congratulations to their successors.

Outgoing officers and committees: Romingers, Weetzs, Lamberts, Guhls, Gregersons, Bilharzs, Cokes, Detmers.

Saturday Night Ballroom Dance

by Ginny Dunnion

Dancing on Saturday evenings to the taped music of the big bands is one of the nicest parts of living in Leisure Village. Good music, good friends—what more could we ask!

Each taped dance is a festive occasion, but some are really special. On May 5th, in celebration of Cinco de Mayo, we had a gala evening hosted by Helen and Max Lustig and Charlotte and Joe Romero. The tables were gaily decorated with the Mexican colors, pinatas hung from the ceiling and the stage was beautifully ornamented. Each table had some of Charlotte's special cheese dip and crunchy tortilla chips—delicious!

We were graciously entertained by Charlotte and Joe Romero who danced two graceful numbers, the "Jarabe Tapatio" and the "Chiapanecas", and then they helped us learn the "La Raspa".

Another event to look forward to is the Anniversary Dance in celebration of the anniversary of the first ballroom dance. Special plans are being made and the event will be hosted by Dorothea and Charles Ward and Elise and Elmer Eymann.

So many nice people work hard to make our dances special; some choose music for the tapes, others do the taping, some make the refreshments, and others act as hosts. To all of these, we offer a big THANK YOU. Of course, the reason for so many willing workers is that we have such good times. So come and join us. Everyone is welcome!

Charlotte and Joe Romero.

Leisure Village Women's Golf Association

by Lucille Markley

Our beautiful Camarillo weather finds Leisure Village women golfers out in full force.

On May 10th the men's and women's "Scotch twosome" was played at Camarillo Springs. Eighty players enjoyed 9 holes of golf with a delicious dinner following. Winners of the event were Dorothy and Chet Caster for low gross and Marie and Leslie Mack for low net. It was a fun day and a big success!

The month of June was a busy time for all golfers. The last of the four major tournaments, "The President's Cup", was played June 6th and 13th for 9 hole and 18 hole women golf members. Only members with an established handicap were eligible to play.

The Las Posas Country Club was the setting for the Annual Women's Golf Installation Luncheon. The 1979-80 officers named were: President—Ginny Cordell, First Vice-President—Shirley Johnston, Second Vice-President—Corky Milman, Third Vice-President—Emma Norvig, Secretary—Blanche Lindman, Treasurer—Katie Anderson and Advisor—Marge Long.

Special thanks goes to Art E. Wilson for contributing a set of Lady Country Clubs by Wilson which was raffled at the installation luncheon.

Congratulations to recent "hole in one" winners Wilma Tooker and Rose Telfer for their amazing achievement!

Many thanks to our retiring Board and their committee members for their splendid job this past year and best wishes to the incoming officers.

Rhythmettes

by Lillian I. Skellenger

Razzle Dazzle was so much fun but the time has come for us to leave "cloud nine" and get back to the mundane routine of "business as usual".

On April 10th, President Lillian Skellenger selected a nominating committee comprised of Margaret Grayson, Sylvia Plann and Violet Kasner. A slate of candidates for the coming year was presented with the following nominations: Virginia Schafer—President; Bea Price—Vice-President; Lillian Anderson—Secretary; Florence Friedman—Treasurer. The election of officers was held on June 12th and the new Board shall be named in the next issue.

With the greatest of pleasure, a group of Rhythmettes serenaded "dads" with "Oldies but Goodies" at the Father's Day Picnic held on June 16th.

The Rhythmettes are now busy practicing songs and exciting marches for the super 4th of July celebration. Hey, remember the old-fashioned picnic with the sack races, three legged races and egg rolls? Well, you're in luck! By now you are old enough that you don't have to do that anymore!! But we are still going to have a wonderful time. See you there.

Travel News

by Sylvia Altes

Travel is still very popular for those Villagers who enjoy getting away now and then. The Travel Committee has been busy researching places of interest that would induce the feeling of travel.

The horses will be off and running on July 12th at Hollywood Park and we will be there to see it. Other scheduled tours will include a visit to the Riverside Mission Inn, the Ramona Play in Hemet, Lake Tahoe, the Dinah Shore Show, San Diego and Tijuana, Yosemite and Sequoia, Catalina Island and last but not least, another super visit to Las Vegas.

There is surely something for everyone in our group travels so please join in on the fun!

Until we meet again . . . keep traveling you-all!

Village Players Workshop

by Ailsa Muldoon

The die is now cast . . . and soon the cast will be cast! The Fall play for the Village Players Workshop will be "The Second Time Around" by Henry Denker . . . everything you ever wanted to know about second marriages but were afraid to ask. However, it's been our observation, that afraid to ask or not, no one in Leisure Village seems to be reluctant to give love a second chance!

We know new talent comes in all the time and we are anxious to capture it. The only requirement for newcomers is that they join the group if they audition and "land a part". Fair enough! What fun you'll have participating! However, if you don't want to be "on stage", there are many other back stage talents needed. You'll find your niche in the group . . . and we'll be very happy about that.

Professional actor, John Zoller will co-direct the Fall production with Ailsa Muldoon. The performance is scheduled for November 9-10-11, so mark those dates on your calendar now and be prepared to enjoy some very entertaining evenings with your own Village Players Workshop.

The following officers for the 1979-80 season were elected at the May 17th meeting: President—Dring Needham; Vice-President—Rosalie Beck; Recording Secretary—Lori Kaye; Corresponding Secretary—Donnie Weigel; Treasurer—Herman Taylor.

Leisure Village Chorale

by Ethel Goldfarb

Leisure Village Chorale, under the dynamic direction of Lois F. Bello of Oxnard College, presented a unique and exciting musical event on the evening of June 8th in the Recreation Center. The 60 voice Chorale was complimented with the interplay of dance and musical instruments. Rich and colorful tones of sheer beauty electrified the audience.

The diversified program included sacred and secular classics, Negro spirituals, favorite American folk songs, excerpts from Broadway musicals, opera and much more.

The beautiful voices of the Chorale soloists, Otilia Boyd, Oscar Kane, James Williams, Joan Woodenschek and the lead choir of 25, enriched the program. Guest singers Amelia Gamboa, Tom Fuentes and Paul Lincoln Smith, added to its excellence.

The dance sequence of the program was artfully choreographed by Dolores Doran of Oxnard College. The accompanists were Miriam Dubowsky, pianist; Frances Asuncion, pianist-organist; and Betty Murray, organist.

The able assist of Lighting Directors, Max Lustig and Irving Litrownik; Stage Managers, Frank Goldfarb, Morrie Altes, Jack Heller and Frank Tavano; Ticket Sales, Joan Woodenschek, Eva Sugg and assistants; Door Managers, "Woody" Hart and Sam Bookbinder; Publicity, Ethel Goldfarb and many others, helped to make this event a success.

The extraordinary performance and response to this program proved again that music is a Universal language which brings an audience together in harmony and joy. May it always be so!

We take great pride in our Director, Lois Bello, who with her husband Victor, are new residents. Lois's Summer plans include conducting the Philippine Concert Choir in an operatic tour of San Francisco, Lincoln Center in New York, Washington D.C., Chicago, and other cities. We wish her well!

Arts and Crafts group

Yes, we are indeed fortunate—not simply because we are living “the good life” in Leisure Village, but also for the opportunity we are given to discover and utilize the many talents that many of us were unaware we possessed.

We are most grateful to have as our teacher Sharon McNutt, whose talent and dedication helps unleash our creativity. Time spent in Sharon's class is most rewarding and relaxing. It is a wonderful feeling to point with pride to a beautiful work that you have created, such as a memory book, a decoupage picture, gold leafing, flowers and many other artistic achievements learned in her class.

The weekly classes consist of a series of eight, three hour sessions. They are held on Mondays from 1 PM to 4 PM, and on Thursdays from 9 AM to 12 noon. There is a charge of $20 for the eight lessons. Classes are limited to twelve students to allow for individual instruction.

This is an excellent opportunity for the many new residents to participate and discover hidden talents. If there are any questions about the classes, please feel free to call on me.

The High Twelve Club

by Ken Mac Kaig

The High Twelve Motto, “To Reflect Upon Truth, to Talk Little, to Hear Much”, was certainly in evidence with the recent appearance of Dr. Kenneth A. Carlson. Dr. K. Carlson, now retired from the ministry, is an accomplished platform speaker in great demand (we booked him eight months in advance), and we thank the Glendale Federal Savings and Loan Co. for making his appearance possible.

In his speech, Dr. Carlson emphasized that we residents should appreciate this beautiful place in which we live and should reflect upon the blessings that we have been given. He stressed that we should become involved in the workings of the community and should keep as physically active as possible.

At the Ladies' Night Dinner a capacity crowd enjoyed a delicious dinner prepared by Bill and Kathryn Berry, residents of Leisure Village. The Berry's, who usually don't cater dinners, put on the High Twelve Ladies' Night dinners as a labor of love. Fred Franz was Master of Ceremonies with Herb Arnold and Bill Rassmussen also taking part. Introduction was made by Dr. Wales Smith, long-time friend and fellow pastor of Dr. Carlson. Bethel 302 of Job's Daughters, Oxnard, were the serving ladies. Lee Herzoff was his usual splendid self at our electric organ.

Guest speakers scheduled for upcoming meetings will be John Dodds, Director of Education and Recreation at Leisure Village, and Mr. John Rush, Mayor of Camarillo.

The Nomination Committee is hard at work selecting a new slate of officers to be voted upon at the June meeting. The Installation will be our big affair in September.

Just a reminder, all Village men are invited to the Monday morning meetings held on the third Monday of each month, except in August and December.

Leisure Village Women's Club

by Dorothy Fencil

Two Villagers were recently honored as 'Man of the Year' at a picnic sponsored by the Leisure Village Women's Club. Both Paul Wudke and Bob Fitch were recognized for their services to the Women's Club and the Leisure Village Association. Those attending the celebration enjoyed a performance of the Rhythmettes and a general sing-a-long with pianist, Edith Ferrer.

Our Tuesday morning workshop is going great. We thank the dedicated women who are giving so generously of their time. Many beautiful items are being made for our Annual Bazaar which will be held on September 29th and 30th. All Village women are invited to join in on this project of love and fellowship!

Shuffleboard Club Officers: Betty Moore, Betty Walker, Tom Moore and Howard Bell.

Shuffleboard Club

by Howard Bell

The Leisure Village Shuffleboard Club sponsored a barbecue on Thursday, May 24, 1979 in the picnic area. Over 200 people enjoyed the good 'fixings' which included hamburgers, cole slaw, potato salad, beans, cake, coffee and tea, as well as the good company of fellow club members.

Winners of the recent Ladies' Tournament were Betty Moore, Championship flight and Thora Carr, Consolation flight. The victor of the Men's Tournament was Howard Bell, with Carl Cabins capturing the Consolation flight title.

Diesel
By Cadillac

SEVILLE for 1979

Diesel powered Cadillac can change your mind about Diesel motoring. The vision of truck-like automobiles has vanished and in its place comes the magnificent Seville, Eldorado, Coupe De Ville and Sedan. Cadillac Diesel gives you an estimated highway cruising range of over 600 miles plus an estimated 29 m.p.g. highway and 21 m.p.g. city. (Remember — use these estimates for comparison, your mileage may vary.) Economy in your pocket, luxury at your fingertips, that's Cadillac Diesel for 1979. Come see them all at the Westlake Auto Center and let our competent sales staff show you how to buy or lease a new Cadillac Diesel.

NOTICE!! There will be a showing of Photographic Art entitled "Moods and Moments" by Villager, Joshua Fallick, in the Sight and Sound Gallery of California State University, Northridge from June 29th through July, which makes this perfect timing to present:

THE JOSH FALICK STORY

by
Millicent Hofmann

This pleasant, witty man, whose warm smile radiates from behind a close-cropped, red speckled beard, has become a familiar figure in our community. You check him off as a nice person to know and soon learn that there is an artist behind that interesting facade.

Josh Fallick is no newcomer to the salon and exhibit scene. His photographic experience, training and artistic expression span forty-five years. Until he entered the military where he was trained in aerial photography, Josh was a free lance photographer in and around New York City. He did the usual weddings, baby pictures and news photos. The most exciting of all recognitions during this period was by Life Magazine, who used his exclusive coverage of a military plane crash-landing in the surf at 4 A.M. on a Coney Island beach in 1942.

In civilian life, he worked with Fairchild Aerial Surveys in Los Angeles. In recognition of exceptional and creative photo lab techniques, Josh and his colleagues were awarded a Presidential Citation and Commendation. Following this period, he worked in a Portrait Studio and managed a camera shop and photo-finishing lab in Beverly Hills. Later, in 1967, Josh created and produced his first audio-visual 35mm slide program for the Lock Industry.

Soon after, Josh began his painting career. He studied for one year with Maurice Harvey, now a leading artist of the Americana Galleries of Carmel. Although Josh's own style is clearly evident, his admiration of the work of Andrew Wyeth has influenced both his photography and painting. In his photography, Josh combines the sensitivity of Impressionism with Realism to enhance the mood and emotional content of his work.

In addition to teaching at L.A. Pierce College, Josh has conducted private workshops on his subject, "Photography As An Art Form". In underscoring the need to work in color, he says, "We live in a world of color and tend to take it for granted. We lose sight of the unlimited, exciting nuances and combinations of colors reflected through our eyes to our imagination. Because of the limitations of black and white, the most creative challenge in photography is in the field of color photography."

Josh has had a number of one man shows in and around the Los Angeles area and in the State of Colorado. As a member of The Centre Gallery, his works have been featured in several invitational shows including Granada Hills Public Library, State and Municipal Legislator's offices. Bullock's department store had selected Josh as "Artist of the Month" displaying and selling his work at their Sherman Oaks, Northridge and Torrance stores. Many of his works are in private collections in the United States, Hawaii, Canada and in Israel.

As a resident, busy Josh has become involved in a few of our activities including the Writers' Workshop, bridge and an occasional game of chess. His wife, Bea, is a member of the Rhythmettes and the Village Choral. She was lured to these organizations by her love for music and the desire to make use of her pleasant voice.

The Fallicks are examples of the interesting calibre of folks illuminating our roster of residents.

Sports Stuff

by Al Podewils

The end of June brings new officers to head many of our organizations. They will offer fresh ideas, energy and leadership in carrying on the work of those who preceded them. We welcome them and promise to assist them in their many duties. We owe much to those who started it all. This is the sixth year for us "ancient" residents as members of the two oldest clubs in Village sports—the Men's and the Women's Golf Associations. Five sets of officers have left their imprints during that time.

Let's take the M.G.A., for instance. About a dozen golfers met to form the club in the summer of 1974, elected officers and started planning activities. Tournament play was easy to arrange—sometimes the greatest difficulty was finding enough golfers. Contests were easy to run, scores were no problem to record. Prizes were simple to divide and award. The early officers were kept busy in their efforts to build up interest in the club. Many of the most popular events of today's clubs were begun by them. In the first year, the two golf Clubs started a joint tournament on the last Sunday of each month with a party afterwards. That party, known at various times as the Tenth Hole Party or the Nineteenth Hole Party, has always been successful and continues as one of the oldest scheduled affairs in the Village.

Today, the Men's Golf Association is approaching 350 in membership. Growth has created problems which have been successfully resolved by recent officers. Our long golf division, once consisting of a couple of foursomes, now sends a hundred golfers out at a time to play our neighboring courses. Our own contests at the Village course sometimes draw up to 120 participants. Contest chairmen have become scheduling wizards. Each year we seem to find more of these wizards ready to do their share and more. Elective officers, appointed committee members, and volunteers, come forward to perform their duties, ask little and do much. Guess we could quote the old one from Churchill, "Never have so many owed—", but we won't.

This year we say, "well done!" to Walt Smuske—President, Dick Schafer—Vice-President, Francis Doyle—Treasurer, and Pat Maher—two-term Secretary. Installed for the coming year at a luncheon at the Hungry Tiger in Thousand Oaks on June 27th, were Nels Pederson, President; Abe Milman, Vice-President; Bob Anderson, Treasurer; and Bill Weigel, Secretary. May their tenure be fortunate and pleasant.

Joan Johnson and Walt Whitaker scheduled a special event for May 10th that turned into one of the fun times of the year. It was a nine-hole, mixed couple, Scotch-two-some, blind bogie, followed by a chicken dinner—all at Camarillo Springs Golf Club. The dinner also gave Joan and Walt a chance to pass out numerous awards including one to Chet and Dorothy Caster for low gross 44.

The Leisure Village Seniors Mixed Bowling League closed its season on May 11th and topped the year with a splendid Annual Luncheon organized by Ben Cazier and his co-chairman, Irv Kanner. The gravy was distributed to what then became greasy palms. Record holders were acclaimed. Pat Maher, outgoing President, handled the distributing and acclaiming. Officers for the next year were announced. Blanche Follen will take over as President, Marie Bremberg as Vice-President, and Ernie Nika and Marge Grayson will remain as Secretary and Treasurer, respectively. May they be as successful as our well-wishes can make them.

The league had a great year! Twenty-two teams went through the season—88 regular bowlers plus numerous part-time substitutes to replace them for round-the-world trips or whatever. The winning team was #22: Sam Shapiro, Kay Berry, Ray Fencil and Esther Naimark. Team #2: Paul Moyer, Andy Orsan, Dick Van Horn, and Teo Kamola, finished second tied with Team #15: Leo Gardarian, John Rice, Adele Young and Cy Hoover.

High team single game (722) and team three games (1943) were both rolled by Team #21: Walt Patterson, Mary Smith, Lew Gardner and Lillian Anderson. Individual highs were Chet Caster with 234 and Mimi Grace with 237 for one game and Leo Gardarian with 604 and Paula Lawless with 547 for three games. Vince Alongi and Harold Pedersen also rolled even 600 totals for three games. Matilda Shapiro achieved that rarity—a triplicate 133-133-133. Most improved bowlers were Teo Kamola (improved 36!) and LaVerne Sartori (up 18).

And so into the summer of 1979. Let us expect much of it.

Leisure Fair
by Donna Andreen

In the last issue I talked about Spring and spring cleaning. Now it's Summer and it's time to talk about patio living, bar-b-ques, etc. Summer means good times on the patio, sitting in a chaise lounge or chatting at a brunch table (under an umbrella of course!). Leisure Fair is now carrying patio furnishings and if you order now, you can have your patio furniture for the "Summer of '79".

Another alternative to too much of the old summer sun is to add a patio cover. By this time of year most of us are so anxious for "Old Sol" to show his face and yet when he does, we are sometimes overwhelmed and uncomfortable. Many people are not prepared to handle the extreme heat. Too much sun exposure can damage carpeting, furniture, draperies, etc. One must take into consideration the type of sun exposure a particular window gets when selecting drapery fabric. A patio cover is sometimes the answer to too much sunlight but sometimes a cover darkens the house too much.

There is always a way to solve your individual problems and Faye Ogden and I are here to help with your specific needs. So, come into Leisure Fair and talk to us about patio furniture, patio covers, draperies or whatever you need!

From the Sales Manager
by Jim McBride

Today a resident of Leisure Village went into Camarillo to shop, did his banking, stopped at the post office, attended a class in ceramics, played bridge with friends, returned a book to the library, took a quick swim after a set of tennis, went to a potluck dinner-dance and returned home—EXHAUSTED—but never took his car out of the garage! This is a major way that Leisure Village is dealing with the current topic of the day, "Where did you buy gas?" or, "How much did you pay per gallon?" or, "How long did you wait in line?"

Running a close second to the gasoline situation seems to be the problem of the high cost of living—food prices, clothing prices, the cost of services, and interest rates on home loans, etc. We're constantly bombarded by all forms of the media with doom and gloom and at times it's difficult to maintain your composure and positive attitude about life.

On a day to day basis, the Sales Counselors have to deal with the prospect's concerns about coping with the unsettled economic situation. A great deal of time is spent explaining the monthly homeowners association fee. Upon serious examination, an analysis of the monthly fee seems to provide a bright spot amid the economic obscurity of the day.

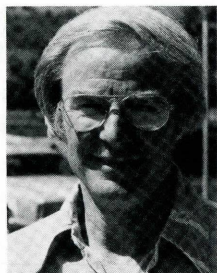

In addition to the active and involved lifestyle you hear so much about, there are some dollar and cents advantages to living in Leisure Village. Think for a moment about what leverage the combined buying power of two thousand homes does for your Association, and ultimately for you. When you owned your previous home you had to bargain in the marketplace as an individual for all necessary maintenance, transportation, trash pick-up, etc. It's obvious that the costs of these services will continue to rise wherever you live, but as long as you live in Leisure Village, you'll always have the combined purchasing power of all the homes here. Bargaining on your behalf, will be the skilled and experienced Board of Directors, who as residents, will be just as concerned as you about the rising costs. Down the years, I feel that the record will show the strength of the Association will serve as a buffer between you and the escalating cost of living.

All of us, from time to time, have felt trapped. At these times, it would appear that we are without alternatives. I say "appear" because we are seldom, practically never, without alternatives. We are simply temporarily unaware of the potentials within and around us.

It is my experience that Leisure Village is an environment which opens people and creates pathways to exciting alternatives. It is a milieu in which the joyful enthusiasm of growth flourishes.

In the short time that I have been here, I have seen the Solo Set rapidly outgrow the Multi-Purpose room. Under the warm and companionable guidance of Thora Carr, the Solo's dinners have generated an Assembly Room-sized gathering.

Off in another direction, the World Travel Club has exploded like a roman candle. Under the leadership of Joe Ellenbogen, the World Travelers are opening new vistas with every meeting. It is this exhilarating characteristic of the Village that helps create so many new alternatives. It is this liberating quality that helps stimulate all of us to reach out and join a new freedom and awareness of life.

Recently, a group of high school students from Van Nuys visited the Village. They were impressed by the diverse opportunities for growth and were amazed by the many programs available for physical, intellectual, artistic, and spiritual development.

They came to the Village from a society that has taught them to fear aging; a society that is living with a constant anxiety of losing its youth. At Leisure Village they discovered an oasis of people growing together and creating new alternatives. They did not find a depressed group of people fearing tomorrow, but found instead, people eagerly embracing each sunrise ready to see a new horizon.

It's a great feeling being a part of the aura of creative alternatives.

Book Corner

by Frank Heron

The book business has a lot of fun attached to it. Dorothy and I have just been to the big book convention where we joined twenty thousand other book people in viewing the new works, seeing the new ideas and meeting authors and other celebrities. A convention of this size is by nature a tremendous amount of work but it's also a big thrill to mix with people such as Gerald Ford (I didn't notice if he was chewing gum), Steve Martin, and yes he IS a WIIILD and CRAAAZY guy. His new book is called CRUEL SHOES and it was his real reason for being at the convention. Ray Bradbury was there, and James Baldwin, and literally hundreds of other names who make up our business. We attend the ABA Convention each year and it does wonders for re-charging our batteries and reminding us why we got into this business in the first place.

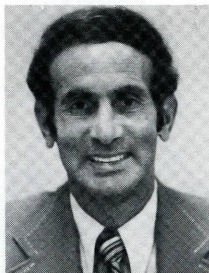

We are still in stock, but just barely, with the PRITIKIN PROGRAM FOR DIET & EXERCISE, the new book that has been sweeping the country. We have had it in stock these past three weeks, and have reordered heavily, so with luck, we'll not be out of stock at all.

How about some word on the paperbacks that are being talked about these days? Alright, take SCRUPLES . . . millions have. It's Judith Kranz's raunchy novel set in the Beverly Hills area, and while it isn't my type of book, it is selling by the ton. It lasted for most of last year on the hardcover best seller lists across the country and it looks like it will repeat that now that it's out in paperback. Another new major paperback released is MORTAL FRIENDS, James Carroll's account of the Irish, the "Troubles" and the lives of some of those who left Ireland and came to America. I just started it and it is a strong one I look forward to getting at it over the weekend.

THE WORLD ACCORDING TO GARP managed to make it to the Number One spot on almost every book list across the country in less than three weeks. I get really strange reactions to this book. About half the people who come in after reading it tell me they couldn't finish it, and the other half come in laughing and tell me they've never read anything they enjoyed so much. I thought it was fantastic . . . and the one thing I also find is that very few people are neutral about it. Love it or hate it . . . that's GARP.

You know how I love to name drop? I mean, I always let you know when authors or stars turn up in my store. Well, I just learned that we have a fair number of interesting names living nearby at LEISURE VILLAGE. One of them is author Dorothy Daniels, whose sales have passed the eleven million mark. We do our share, Dorothy . . . in fact, I'm practically sold out of your titles again. We're re-ordering.

Come on over to BOOKMARK THOUSAND OAKS. We're at the corner of Moorpark and Janss Roads.

From Your Homeowners' Association

by Stan Berman

The time has come when some of your Homeowners' Board of Directors will be finishing their term of office. We extend our plaudits to all who have so diligently served the Association. Needless to say, this Board has made quite an impact on the operation of the Association. They have worked together as a united body, always considering what was best for the overall Leisure Village community. The efforts of this Homeowners' Board will make it much easier for subsequent Boards to follow. We enjoyed working with and drawing upon their years of past work experience.

The financial operation of your Association is a big business requiring the guidance and direction of interested homeowners. We have been fortunate in the past to have capable residents serving on the Board and would be remiss not to recognize the efforts of the past Board members as well.

We look forward to working with the incoming Board members and wish them every success.

We wish to express our sincere congratulations to the outgoing Board for the excellent job they have done. Thank you, Karl Joehnck—President, Thomas O'Brien—First Vice-President, Joseph Gaynes—Second Vice-President, Donaldine Weed—Secretary, and Henry Malkin—Treasurer.
