

Being a first-generation student, and knowing how proud I had made my mother and loved ones on graduating. With COVID-19 happening my accomplishment was not able to be shown to my mother and loved ones. They were not able to see me walk the stage and make them proud. This picture represents how my graduation was taken from me because of COVID-19 and now going outside to take pictures means having to wear a facemask to protect myself and loved ones. Although, I was not able to walk the stage for my Bachelor's, I will be able to walk the stage after obtaining my masters at USF in Public Health. Farewell to my undergrad years at SJSU, they were good to me!
