

Two review committees selected; input sought

Associate Vice President, Research and Faculty Affairs

The Committee to Review the Associate Vice President, Research and Faculty Affairs, for 1992-93 has been announced. Members include: Benjamin Bowser, Sociology and Social Services, committee chair; Nancy Harrison, Presidential Appointee; Valerie Helgren-Lempeis, Teacher Education; Anne Makus, Speech Communication; Ann McPartland, Chemistry; Detlef Warnke, Geological Sciences.

The committee solicits information from University faculty, staff and administrators regarding the performance of Dr. Lawrence Alfred. Written comments may be sent to any member of the committee by April 14. There will also be an opportunity to meet with the committee to discuss Dr. Alfred's performance on Wednesday, April 7 and 14 at 10:30 a.m. in WA 967. If these are not convenient meeting times, please contact a committee member to set an alternative time and date. All written and oral comments are confidential.

Dean and Associate Dean, SBE

The Committee to Review the Dean and Associate Dean of the School of Business and Economics for 1992-93 has been announced. Members include: Vernon Kam, Accounting and Computer Informations Systems, committee chair; Anthony Lima, Economics, recorder; Mack Lovett, Presidential Appointee; Bruce MacNab, Marketing; Beatrice Pressley, Educational Psychology; Richard Zock, Management and Finance.

The committee invites written comments or requests for interviews. Please direct all comments to the committee by April 9 in care of the Office of the Provost, Academic Affairs. All written and oral comments are confidential.

Statewide drill to be held for earthquake preparedness

On Tuesday, April 6, CSUH will participate in the statewide "Duck and Cover, and Hold" drill to increase awareness and develop the correct response to the shaking during an earthquake.

The exercise will take place at 10:10

"Getting below the level of a desk or chair can break the fall of objects that would otherwise cause serious injury or death. Response must be automatic, which only comes with practice."

—Sue Hirschfeld

a.m. when all faculty, staff, and students should duck, cover, and hold for twenty seconds. No evacuation will be required for this drill.

Faculty are encouraged to discuss the duck and cover procedure with their students and to participate in the drill. Members of the Education Committee on Emergency Preparedness stress that the campus' effectiveness in responding to a damaging earthquake depends on how well the campus community has been educated in earthquake survival and basic response procedures. According to committee co-chair Sue Hirschfeld, "Getting below the level of a desk or chair can break the fall of objects that would otherwise cause serious injury or death. Response must be automatic, which only comes with practice."

To give the campus community an opportunity to further increase its awareness, purchase survival kits and other preparedness supplies, an Emergency Preparedness Fair will be held in the Agora, Wednesday, April 21 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Common purpose—In honor of International Women's Week, fourteen faculty members participated in an event entitled "A Common Language" on March 11. Each woman read a piece of her own choosing drawing on writers from many cultures and languages. Yole Correa-Zoli, above, read "Lui e io" by Natalia Ginzburg. Her colleagues pictured above are, from left, Emily Stoper, Eleanor Levine, Virginia Ireys, and Mary Cullinan. Also participating were Judith Stanley, Helen Schulak, Norma Rees, Rhoda Kaufman, Elsa Garcia, Sara McAulay, Teresa Myintoo, Iliana Holbrook and Eileen Barrett.

Students win in Las Vegas

Theatre students returned from this year's American College Theatre Festival in Las Vegas with an impressive number of awards in design. Four student designers received $100 cash awards. They are Kevin Goold for his sound design of Caligula, Greg Ojeda for his costume design for The Raven's Tale, Casandra Sheetz for her makeup design for The Empress of China, and Jess Amoroso for his costume design for Caligula. In addition Caligula and The Empress of China were included in the invitational scenes presentation at the festival.

Other activities at the festival in which CSUH students participated were scholarship competitions and interviewing and auditioning for theatre companies and graduate schools.

Cal State Hayward will host the 1994 regional festival February 15-20 with Chabot and other local community colleges.

Popular CSU faculty institute announces program

All faculty are invited to participate in the 1993 Teacher/Scholar Institute. Sponsored by the Faculty Affairs, Human Resources division of the Office of the Chancellor, the institute will be held at San Francisco State's Guest Center from June 14 through June 17.

Complete program brochures will be received by all CSU faculty. Registration is April 12-May 14.

The institute has become a highly rated annual event. Although some places will be reserved for all campuses, openings will be filled as registration forms are received. Faculty are urged to apply as early as possible.

The workshops for this year are "Effective Teaching Techniques for Professors of Science, Engineering and Mathematics," "Using Cooperative Learning Structures with a Di-

Brown bag series focuses on parents and parenting

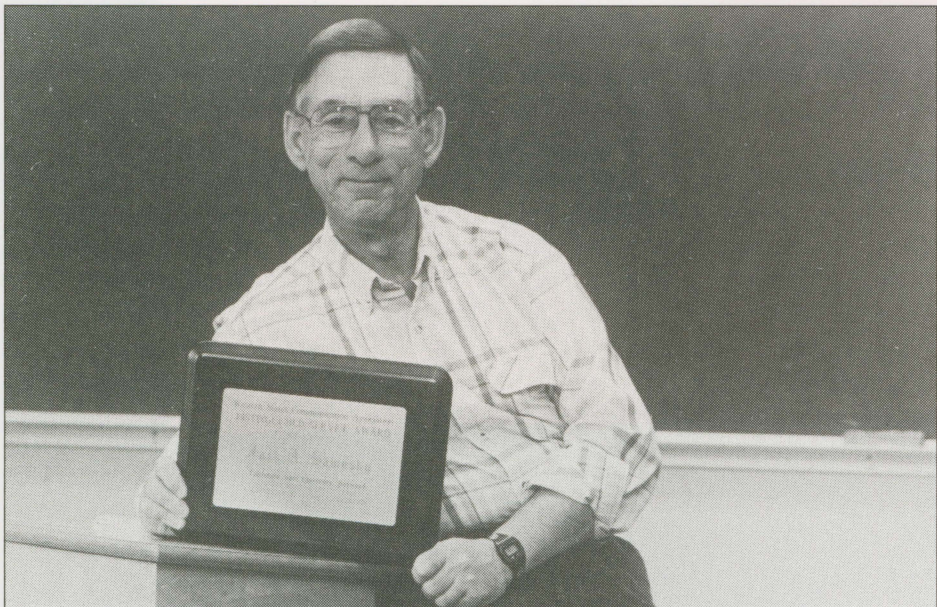

Staff Assembly in conjunction with Health Net is sponsoring a "Lunch 'n' Learn Series." The series began in March and runs through April.

The April 7 workshop is on "The Sandwich Generation: Caring for Your Aging Parents." Jeanne Robinson will conduct the workshop. Robinson provides gerontology advisory services to individuals, their families and care givers, as well as being a continuing education provider for nurses and teachers.

On April 21, Linda Artel will conduct "Parenting in the 90s." Artel is a career counselor with a special interest in the concerns of working parents.

Both workshops will be held from 1-2 p.m. in Library 2195. Soft drinks are provided by Health Net.

To attend these free workshops call Personnel Services, ext. 3634.

Distinguished service—At the annual convention of the Western States Communication Association, Jack Samosky, chair of the Department of Speech Communication received the Distinguished Service Award, the highest award given by WSCA, which has some 1500 members from the thirteen western states. The award recognizes contributions made by a member over a period of years rather than for any one particular accomplishment. The convention was in Albuquerque in February.

Fulbright materials ready

The Fulbright Scholar Program for 1994-95 includes some 1,000 grants for research, combined research and lecturing, or university lecturing in nearly 135 countries. Stays range from two months to a full academic year. Virtually all disciplines and subfields participate. Application materials are available in the Office of Research and Faculty Affairs, WA 977, ext. 4212.

Items in this section are printed in the order in which they are received in the Office of University Relations and Development. We receive numerous submissions each week and print them as space allows.

Maria deAnda-Ramos (Admissions and Outreach) was appointed by Chancellor Munitz to the Financial Aid Advisory Council for a three-year term ending in August 1995.

Robert Terrell (Mass Communications) recently delivered a lecture at the University of Colorado's Center for Media Research entitled "Global Responsibilities of the U.S. Press during the Post-Cold War Era."

Donald Chu (Kinesiology and Physical Education) was a speaker at the National Strength Coaches Association National Convention in Philadelphia in June. He presented a symposium on "Lower Back Concerns in Strength Training" and a lecture on "Plyometrics for Cycling." He also served as the master of ceremonies for the Awards Banquet. Chu also presented "New Concepts in Periodization of Tennis Training" and an on-court presentation of innovative conditioning techniques at the United States Tennis Teachers Conference held in conjunction with the U.S. Open. He was selected for an International Sports Exchange Program between the sister cities of Funabashi, Japan and Hayward because of his expertise in Conditioning for Basketball. He also recently participated in a roundtable discussion on "The Role of the Strength Specialist in Rehabilitation." This roundtable was published as part of a continuing series in the Journal of the National Strength Coaches Association, Vol. 14, No. 3, 1992.

Jay L. Tontz (School of Business and Economics) spoke on February 11 to the Hayward Lenders on "More Data Support Forecast of an Economic Expansion in 1993," and to the Pleasanton Rotary on "Clintonomics: Tax Increases: Individuals, Corporations and The Middle Class Too!" Tontz also spoke on February 2 to the Dublin Rotary on "CSUH Programs for International Entrepreneurs: Russian Executives," and on February 4 to the Purchasing Management Association of Northern California on "Consumer Psychology and the Economic Expansion of 1993."

Steve Benson (Biological Sciences) presented a seminar on February 5 to the biochemistry department, UCSF School of Dentistry entitled "Cellular and Molecular Aspects of Skeleton Formation in the Sea Urchin Embryo." Benson also co-authored a paper with graduate student Laura Page entitled "Analysis of Competence in Cultured Sea Urchin Micromeres." This paper was published in the journal Experimental Cell Research 203, 305-311.

Steve Bloom (Mass Communications) was recently named San Francisco correspondent for Money Magazine. Bloom had a 5,000-word article, entitled "The Family Heart-Health Handbook," printed in the February 23 issue of Family Circle Magazine. On February 28, West Magazine, the Sunday magazine of the San Jose Mercury News, published his cover story on the life and times of Inez Burns, a San Francisco abortionist who performed over 50,000 illegal abortions from 1926 to 1960. Bloom has also co-authored "Shoedog," a two-act play about the relationship of three men in an old-fashion, family-run shoe store, which currently is in workshop production in San Francisco.
