Cal State Fullerton is the only school on the West Coast with a baseball television contract.

The most recent facelift to the facility came in the way of a $3 million project completed just prior to the 2001 season. Since construction began prior changed from Titan Field to Goodwin Field in a ceremony prior to the Titans' game against Long Beach State on April 14, 2000.

Thanks in part to the extensive renovations and a commitment by the university to transform the field into a state-of-the-art facility, the NCAA rewarded Cal State Fullerton with its first home Regional last spring. The Titans had been on the road for all 21 Regional appearances in their history and had qualified for more College World Series appearances (10) by winning on the road than any other school. The Titans promptly set a facility attendance record in the regional opener, when 2,976 fans came out to see Fullerton meet Loyola Marymount.

Goodwin Field's playing surface sported a brand new look for the 1996 season, thanks in part to the efforts of the Sports Turf Managers Association led by Steve Guise. The organization donated materials and labor in rebuilding the pitcher's mound and batters' box, along with planting new grass in the outfield. Turf was added to the warning track. Additional landscaping has been placed on the outside of Goodwin Field, including palm trees along the batting cages in left field.

Omaha Tradition

The Big West is a regular in the NCAA College World Series, a showcase of the nation's best teams battling for the national championship in Omaha, Neb. The Big West has a contender for the coveted crown on an almost annual basis. In fact, a Big West representative has played in 10 of the last 13 CWS extravaganzas. Cal State Fullerton brought home the Big West's first national title in 1995. Here is a breakdown of Big West participants in the College World Series over the years (baseball was not sponsored in the Big West from 1977-84):

1975 - Cal State Fullerton
 1988 - Cal State Fullerton, Fresno State
 1989 - Long Beach State
 1990 - Cal State Fullerton
 1991 - Long Beach State, Fresno State
 1992 - Cal State Fullerton
 1993 - Long Beach State
 1994 - Cal State Fullerton
 1995 - Cal State Fullerton*
 1998 - Long Beach State
 1999 - Cal State Fullerton

In the Bigs

Those are just a few names of major leaguers who have played in the Big West Conference. A total of 64 major leaguers have played for teams that currently compete in the Big West, including Jason Giambi, the 2000 American League Most Valuable Player. Former Big West member schools have also accounted for a sizable number of players in "The Show."

The Big West produces an annual bumper crop of players in the major league baseball amateur draft that ranks the conference among the highest represented in the nation. In the 2000 MLB amateur draft alone, 18 Big West players were selected by 13 different ballclubs. Cal State Fullerton's Adam Johnson was drafted second overall by the Minnesota Twins.

Important Dates in Big West History

July 1, 1969 - The desire to form a Division I football conference sparks the formation of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association (PCAA) with seven charter members: Fresno State, Long Beach State, San Jose State, UC Santa Barbara, Pacific, Cal State Los Angeles and San Diego State. The conference sponsors 11 men's sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, gymnastics, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field, water polo and wrestling. J. Kenneth Fagans is named commissioner on a part-time basis.

June 3, 1976 - The conference approves the split of the PCAA baseball league into two leagues separate from the PCAA. The Southern California Baseball Association (SCBA) and the Northern California Baseball Association (NCBA) consist mostly of members of the PCAA and the West Coast Athletic Conference. PCAA Commissioner Jesse Hill agrees to govern the SCBA.

June 8, 1979 - SCBA member Cal State Fullerton wins the NCAA Baseball Championship with a 2-1 victory over Arkansas.

May 17, 1984 - The conference council approves the reformation of PCAA baseball for the 1985 season, thus eliminating the SCBA and the NCBA.

June 10, 1984 - SCBA champion Cal State Fullerton wins its second NCAA Baseball Championship. The Titans prevail over the University of Texas, 3-1.

December 22, 1985 - Pacific wins the NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship - the first national title for a PCAA women's member. The Tigers defeat Stanford in three out of four games to capture the title.

July 1, 1988 - The conference changes its name from "PCAA" to "Big West Conference."

April 2, 1990 - UNLV wins the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship, defeating Duke by the record-breaking score of 103-73. It is the first men's basketball title for the Big West.

May 14, 1995 - Cal State Fullerton defeats Long Beach State, 8-4, to claim the title in the inaugural Big West Baseball Tournament in Long Beach, Calif.

June 10, 1995 - Cal State Fullerton claims its third College World Series title with an 11-5 win over USC. The Titans become the first No. 1 seed in College World Series history to win the title. In addition, CSF becomes the 14th team in CWS history to advance through the regionals and series undefeated.

January 8, 1996 - Sacramento State and Cal State Northridge are invited to join the Big West as associate members in softball starting in 1997. Sacramento State's baseball team is invited to join the league as an associate member also in 1997.

December 19, 1998 - Long Beach State captures the NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship with a 3-2 victory over Penn State. The 49ers become the first undefeated team (36-0) in NCAA volleyball history. It is also the sixth women's volleyball title won by a conference member.

February 9, 2000 - Cal State Northridge and UC Riverside are formally invited to join the Big West beginning with the 2001-2002 season. The Big West also announces that the men's and women's basketball tournament will be moved to the Anaheim Convention Center for three years beginning in 2001. New Mexico State and North Texas are granted their release from the Big West beginning May 1, 2000 for North Texas and July 1, 2000 for New Mexico State.

2001 Preview & Personnel

GRADE-A CLASS: Cal State Fullerton's incoming 2001 recruiting class has been hailed as the best in the nation by Collegiate Baseball and was tabbed second by Baseball America. Recruiting coordinator Dave Serrano has brought in 18 new players, including what has become known as the "Temecula Four," a quartet of highly regarded recruits from Temecula Valley H.S. in Riverside County. That group – RHP Darric Merrell, infielders David Garcia and Cole Hilt and outfielder Kyle Boyer – combined for 59 home runs last season while helping the Golden Bears to a 26-4 record.

GOING FOR FOUR: Senior second baseman David Bacani has a chance to become the first player in the Big West Conference's 23-year baseball history to earn first-team all-conference honors four times. Bacani has already become just the fifth three-time honoree, joining a list that includes MLB all-star pitcher Bobby J. Jones. If the past is any indicator, the lead-off-hitting Bacani is in for an outstanding season. He has improved his key numbers every year: batting average (.317, .332, .358), RBI (29, 33, 44) and stolen bases (10, 17, 25).

SUPER SAARLOOS: After last season, Kirk Saarloos was already regarded as one of the best closers in college baseball, but he cemented that reputation with an exceptional summer on the USA National Team. Saarloos posted a 3-0 record with four saves and a 0.34 ERA to help the Nationals to a 27-3-1 record. He struck out 35 batters and allowed just 10 hits and seven walks in 26.2 innings. Saarloos was named a summer All-American by Baseball America and a preseason All-American by Collegiate Baseball.

BRAINIAC: Senior lefty Jon Smith is on track to graduate this spring with perfect 4.00 grade point average. The two-time Verizon/CoSIDA Academic All-American hasn't posted bad numbers on the mound either. His three-year career record stands at 18-4 (.818 winning percentage) is the eighth highest in school history) and he had a career ERA of 3.41.

TALKING TITLES: The Titans have won three of the last four Big West Conference titles [and a division pennant in 1998] and have captured the conference crown in eight of the last 16 seasons. Fullerton shared the title with Nevada last season, but the Wolf Pack have relocated to the Western Athletic Conference, leaving Fullerton alone in its defense of the title.

GOODWIN FIELD: The Titans will begin their ninth full season at Goodwin Field (formerly known as Titan Field) with some welcome additions to the facility. The seating capacity has been expanded to 4,000 and players and coaches can now utilize an on-site clubhouse that features locker rooms, coaches' offices and a VIP viewing suite.

High expectations are nothing new for the Cal State Fullerton baseball program. When Collegiate Baseball ranked the Titans' 2001 incoming class as the best in the nation and Baseball America later tabbed the class as the second best, there was no talk among the coaching staff about extra pressure.

"I really don't think it changes anything about our program or our outlook," said fifth-year Coach George Horton. "We want to be recognized year-in and year-out as a potential national champion. If there aren't high expectations for your program, then I think that's when you need to be concerned."

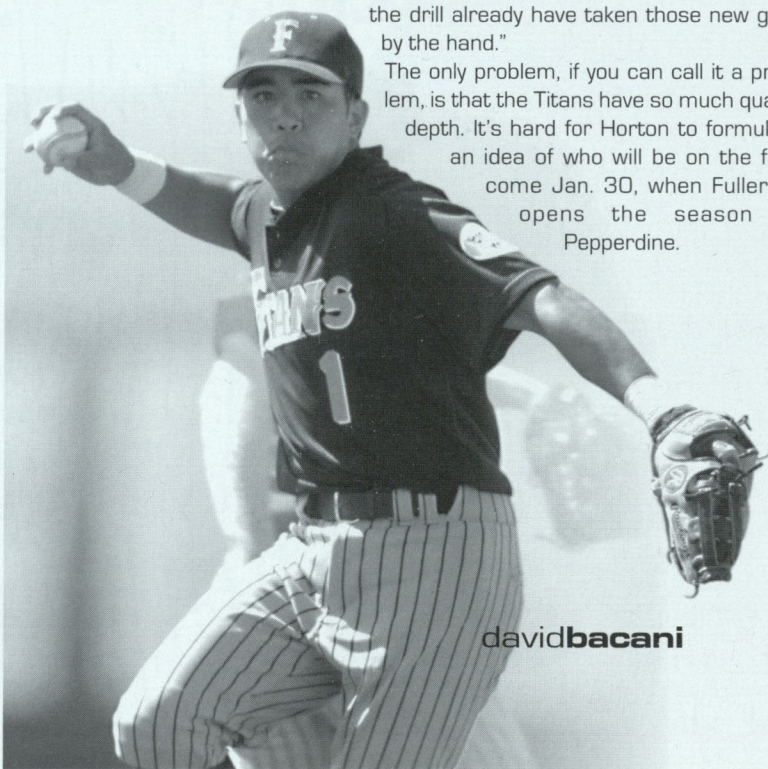

Admittedly, the Titan coaching staff is excited about the prospects for the 2001 season and much of that enthusiasm does indeed stem from a recruiting class that features 18 newcomers, including 14 freshmen.

Assistant coach and recruiting coordinator Dave Serrano had already landed a couple of solid recruiting classes in his first four seasons, but he may have scored a coup this season. Most of the talk has centered around four prized recruits from the highly regarded Temecula Valley High School program, but there's plenty of new talent from other areas as well.

Mix the newcomers with a veteran group that includes seven returning position starters and a couple of All-American candidate pitchers in seniors Kirk Saarloos (7-5, 8 saves, 2.32) and Jon Smith (9-3, 3.69), and the Titans hope they have the recipe for their 11th trip to Omaha.

"We have been really pleased with the chemistry of this team," said Horton. "The newcomers have been wide-eyed and anxious to learn and the guys who know the drill already have taken those new guys by the hand."

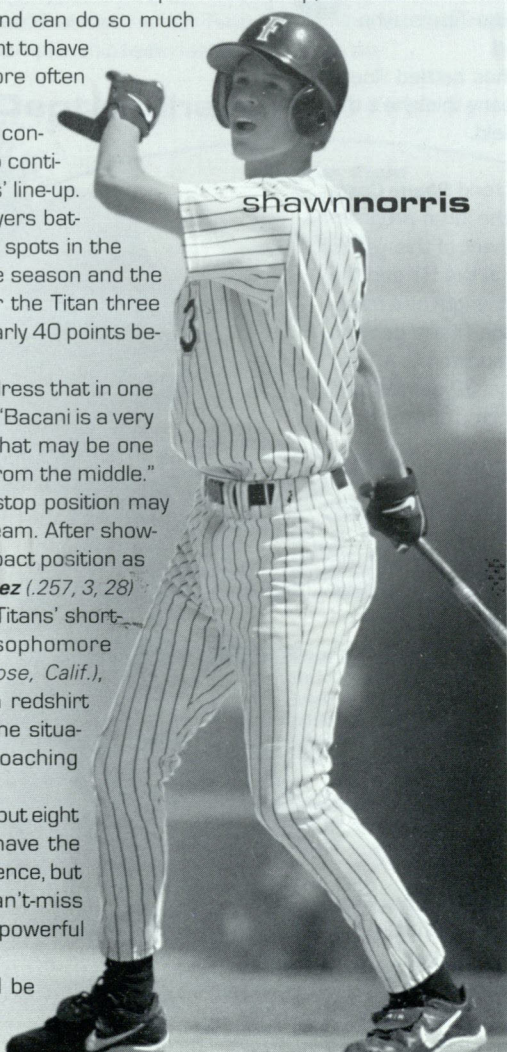

The only problem, if you can call it a problem, is that the Titans have so much quality depth. It's hard for Horton to formulate an idea of who will be on the field come Jan. 30, when Fullerton opens the season at Pepperdine.

"In one sense, we'd certainly like to have continuity in our lineup – more than we did last season – but it's unfair for me to say these nine guys are going to start and that's final," said Horton. "We have enough talent that I think guys are going to be competing for jobs throughout the season."

The Titans have 14 true freshmen on their 2001 roster.

Sophomore Jason Corapci (.330, 2, 34) will undoubtedly see time – he started 44 games at five different positions as a freshman – but it is likely to be at designated hitter.

Matt Belfanti (.338, 1, 15) has come back from a bicep injury suffered late last season and hopes to challenge for a spot in this, his senior season, and Josh Weller (.176, 1, 3) is in the same boat.

"Those two are very important if we're to have a successful season," said Serrano, who also serves as the pitch-

A quartet of talented freshmen – Chad Cordero (Chino, Calif.), Darric Merrell (Temecula, Calif.), Travis Ingle (Cypress, Calif.) and Wes Littleton (Oceanside, Calif.) – has been compared to the group of freshman throwers that the staff brought in four years ago in Smith, Saarloos and Johnson.

Sophomore righty Sean Martin (1-1, 2 saves, 4.57), who pitched brilliantly with the exception of two outings, is the leading candidate to take over the closer duties with Cordero and Littleton also in the running. Junior Shane Waroff (Walnut, Calif.) from Fullerton College will be one of the Titans' top set-up men. Senior Mike Nunez (San Jose, Calif.) hopes to rebound from a disappointing junior season and freshman Travis Esquibel (Vista, Calif.) will also be a important component in the bullpen.

Kay's supporting cast is led by junior Lachlan Thorburn (Queensland, Australia), the standout catcher on Riverside Community College's state championship team last season.

"Losing Nevada won't help, but I think the addition of UC Riverside and Cal State Northridge and UC Irvine in a couple of years will help in the long run. Those programs all have the opportunity to rise to national prominence in short order."

GEORGE HORTON

Head Coach
5th Season
174-76-1 (.695)
Cal State Fullerton
(1978)

The Titan baseball tradition is alive and well, thanks to fifth-year Head Coach George Horton.

Since Horton took over for Augie Garrido on Sept. 4, 1996, after six years as Garrido's associate head coach, the Titans have posted a 174-76-1 (.695) record, won three Big West Conference championships and a divisional pennant and captured a pair of regional titles in 1999 to earn a trip to Omaha. They have usually been ranked in the national Top 25 polls and even reached No. 1 according to Collegiate Baseball for one week late in the 1999 season.

Horton won his 100th game as Titans' head coach on Mar. 7, 1999, vs. Houston in only his 147th game (100-46-1) to easily beat predecessors Augie Garrido (100-69-2) and Larry Cochell (100-64) to that benchmark. He already owns two Big West Conference Coach of the Year awards. Twenty-three Titans have been selected in Major League Baseball's draft since Horton's tenure began, including standout pitcher Adam Johnson, who was selected by the Minnesota Twins as the second overall pick in June of 2000.

In Horton's debut season in 1997, the Titans struggled to a 23-19-1 start, but then rattled off 15 victories in their final 18 regular season games. They lost the opener of the Big West Conference post-season tournament at home to Pacific ace Dan Reichert, but then came back to win four games in a row at Blair Field. They swept a doubleheader on the final day against host Long Beach State to capture the league championship and the automatic NCAA tournament bid. At Stanford, the Titans went 1-2 to place third, losing to Santa Clara and Fresno State.

In 1998, the Titans used a remarkably balanced squad to start strong and then dominate the Big West Conference regular season with a 25-5 record. But they stumbled at home in the Big West Tournament and then ran into a powerful buzz saw in Baton Rouge in the NCAA regionals, placing second at 3-2 with a pair of losses to the host LSU Tigers.

In 1999, the Titans again went 25-5 to win the BWC by four games. They swept three games at the Notre Dame Regional and then overcame an assortment of disadvantages to triumph in three games in the Super Regional at Ohio State to qualify for the school's tenth College World Series appearance.

The 2000 Titans, the unanimous pre-season pick to win the conference and the consensus No. 2 team in the country, had a two-game lead on Nevada with three games to go in the Big West Conference race. But the Wolf Pack swept Pacific in the final series and Fullerton lost two of three to Long Beach State, so the Titans had to settle for a co-championship.

Horton fulfilled a life-long dream of being a Division I head coach when he was promoted to replace Garrido, who left to take over the program at the University of Texas. A 1978 CSF graduate, Horton had returned to the campus in 1991 when Garrido came back after a three-year stint at Illinois. In the next six years the Titans posted a 264-99 record and made three trips to the CWS, winning the 1995 crown with a phenomenal 57-9 season. Horton had input on virtually every aspect of the Fullerton program with his primary concern being the development of the pitching staff. His organizational skills, patience as a teacher and his attention to detail provided the backbone of the Titan coaching staff.

During the years Horton was responsible for the pitching staff, seven pitchers received All-America honors and Matt Wagner (1994) and Ted Silva (1995) won Big West Conference Pitcher of the Year honors. Dan Naulty became the first Titan pitcher under Horton's guidance to reach the major leagues when he made the 1996 opening-day roster for the Minnesota Twins. He later earned a World Series ring in 1999 with the Yankees. Another Horton product, Brent Billingsley, made two appearances for the Florida Marlins early in the 1999 season. Last year, Horton saw four of his former pupils - Mike Lamb, Steve Sisco, Matt Wise and Frank Charles - make their Major League debuts.

Position players recruited and coached by Horton include Mark Kotsay (Florida Marlins), Jeremy Giambi (Kansas City Royals and Oakland A's) and Dante Powell (San Francisco Giants, Arizona Diamondbacks and St. Louis Cardinals). Horton also coached Phil Nevin (San Diego Padres), who in 1992 was the Golden Spikes Award winner, Baseball America player of the year, baseball's No. 1 draft pick (by Houston) and the College World Series MVP.

Kotsay and Nevin along with Brian Loyd, Jason Moler and Bret Barberie – all tutored in part by Horton – were Olympians and Kotsay was chosen the college player of the decade by Baseball America.

Horton, 46, began his head coaching career at Cerritos College in Norwalk, where he guided the Falcons to three junior college state championships in six years. He compiled a 226-53 record and won the California titles in 1985, 1987 and 1989. Each of those years he was selected National Junior College Coach of the Year. His best season was 1987 when the Falcons went 46-5. He had a South Coast Conference record of 102-28 (.785) and was a four-time South Coast Conference Coach of the Year (1985, 1987, 1989 and 1990).

He had many players graduate to the major leagues including Brian Hunter, who played for the Atlanta Braves in the 1991 World Series. Other names include Mike Benjamin, Craig Worthington, Ever Magallanes, Al Osuna, Joel Adamson, Dan Patterson, Luis Medina and Jeff Hearron.

Horton was a player on the Cerritos College teams in 1972 and 1973. As the Falcons' team captain in 1973, he won the Dallas Moon Award and was a member of the state championship team. Horton played two seasons for Garrido at Cal State Fullerton in 1975 and 1976 and won All-PCAA honors as both a junior and a senior. He was on the first Fullerton team to go to the College World Series in 1975. He batted .308 as a junior and .290 as a senior while playing first base. He graduated in 1978 and went on to earn a master's degree in 1980 at Cal Lutheran.

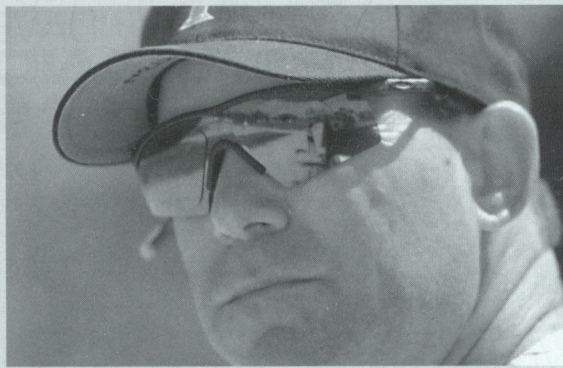

Horton's coaching career began as an assistant at Cerritos in 1976-77 and he went to Los Angeles Valley College the following three seasons where he coached with current Long Beach State Coach Dave Snow. In 1980, he moved back to Cerritos as an assistant to Gordie Douglas before taking the head job in 1985. In addition, he coached during the summer for the Fairbanks Goldpanners (1981 and 1983) in Alaska and the Hutchinson Broncos (1982) in Kansas. A few famous names played for him on those summer teams such as Shane Mack, Oddibe McDowell, Joe Magrane, Dan Plesac, Phil Stevenson and Roger Clemens.

In 1994, Horton was inducted into the California Community College Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

Horton was born on Oct. 5, 1953. The Yorba Linda resident and his wife, Francie, have four daughters: Michele (20), Heather (16), Loyal (11) and Rebecca (9) and a granddaughter, Angelica (1).

THE HORTON FAMILY: George and Francie in back with (from left) daughters Heather, Rebecca, Loyal and Michele, granddaughter Angelica and son-in-law Nick.

Coach Horton is one of just eight men who have been to the College World Series as a player and as a head coach.

Assistant Coach
Pitching/Recruiting
5th Season

Dave Serrano, in his fifth season as Cal State Fullerton's pitching coach and recruiting coordinator, has quickly established himself as one of the top assistant coaches in the country. Baseball America has called Serrano the top assistant coach on the West Coast and praised his strength as a pitching coach.

In 2000, Serrano's pitchers posted a 3.95 ERA, the 17th best mark in the nation and the first sub-4.00 ERA by a Titan team since the 1995 College World Series championship season. Included in that group was Adam Johnson, the hard-throwing right hander who developed under Serrano's tutelage and was selected second overall in last year's draft.

As a recruiter, he has been just as effective. Collegiate Baseball named the Titans' incoming 2001 class as the top recruiting class in the country and Baseball America tabbed the class as the second best in the nation. Since Serrano's arrival, each of the Titans' recruiting classes has ranked among the top 10 nationally.

Serrano, 35, in six years of coaching at the Division I level, has been to Omaha twice with two different programs. He was the pitching coach and recruiting coordinator in 1995 and 1996 at the University of Tennessee for Head Coach Rod Delmonico. He helped the Volunteers reach the College World Series in 1995, the first time they had visited Omaha in 44 years. At Fullerton in 1999, Serrano molded an assortment of question mark arms into an exclamation point staff that propelled Fullerton to its 10th Omaha bid.

Serrano has coached more than two dozen pitchers who are currently playing professional baseball. At Tennessee, he produced a pair of first-round draft picks in R.A. Dickey and Todd Helton, the latter of whom has blossomed into one of the best hitters in baseball after also having pitched at Tennessee.

During his watch at Fullerton, 10 pitchers have been drafted, including Matt Wise, who broke into the Major Leagues with Anaheim late last season. He has also coached 11 All-Big West Conference hurlers, including a pair of conference Pitchers of the Year (Benito Flores in 1998 and Johnson in 2000). Serrano's staffs have led the conference in ERA in every season except 1999, when Pacific's 4.29 ERA barely clipped Fullerton's 4.44 mark.

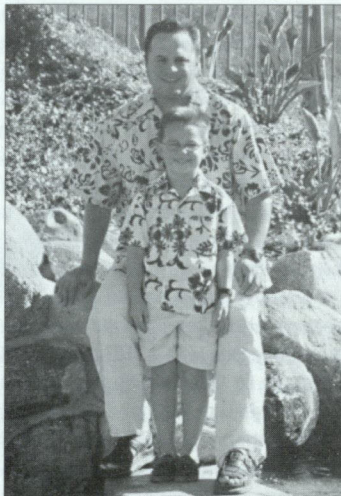

This is Serrano's second go-around as an assistant to Horton. He worked with him at Cerritos College for three years (1988-90) before Horton moved to Fullerton in 1991 as an assistant to Augie Garrido.

Serrano remained at Cerritos through the 1994 season. In his seven-year tenure, Cerritos won a state championship (1989) and six conference titles, including 1991, when Serrano was the Falcons' head coach.

Serrano graduated from Cerritos High School in 1982 and played two seasons at Cerritos College. He earned all-conference and JC All-American honors in his final season. Serrano then pitched for Cal State Fullerton in 1986, posting 3-4 record with one save in 15 appearances.

He resides in Fullerton with his son, Kyle (5).

RICK VANDERHOOK

Assistant Coach
Hitting/Outfielders
15th Season

Rick Vanderhook is in his 15th season as an assistant coach for the Titans. He will again coach the outfielders and hitters, set the defense and handle third-base coaching duties. He is also a key evaluator of talent in the recruiting process and is the director of Titan Baseball Camps.

"Hook" has coached two first-round draft picks (Dante Powell by the San Francisco Giants and Mark Kotsay by the Florida Marlins) and a supplemental pick (Aaron Rowand by the Chicago White Sox in 1998) as well as 12 All-Americans since 1991.

As camp director, Vanderhook oversees all aspects of Titan baseball camps, which help young (7 to 17-years-old) players reach their top performance level. Among the graduates of Titan camps are former Titans Steve Chatham and Rowand and a handful of freshmen on this year's squad.

Vanderhook, 38, first coached the Titans from 1985 to 1988. After serving as a bullpen coach and working with the pitchers and catchers in 1985 and 1986, he stepped into the third-base coaching box in 1987 and worked with the hitters and defense in 1988. In his 14 previous seasons with the Titans as a player and coach, they have reached the College World Series five times.

Vanderhook spent 1989 and 1990 with Coach Bill Kernen at Cal State Northridge. In 1990, Northridge was the Division II national runner-up. Vanderhook returned to Fullerton prior to the 1991 season. He has coached for Fairbanks in Alaska and the Goldpanners finished third in the nation in 1986.

A product of the prominent Cerritos College program and a player for George Horton, Vanderhook originally came to Cal State Fullerton in 1983 and redshirted his first season with the Titans before becoming a member of the Titans' 1984 national championship team.

Vanderhook prepped at Lakewood High School under Coach John Herbold, now the head coach at cal State Los Angeles.

Volunteer Assistant Coach
2nd season
Cal State Fullerton (2000)

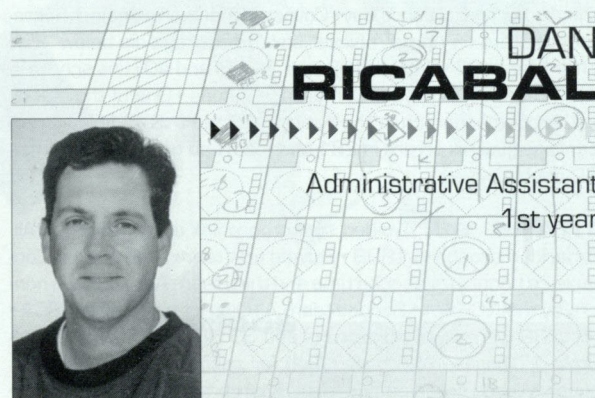

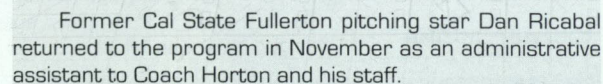

Baum, who graduated with a degree in kinesiology last spring, was a Titan team captain in 1998 and again in 1999, when Fullerton reached the College World Series. Baum appeared in 38 games over the two-year stretch and hit three home runs in just 44 at-bats. He was also reliable behind the plate, turning in a perfect 1.000 career fielding percentage (70 chances).

Prior to his pair of seasons in a Titan uniform, Baum spent a season each at Santa Ana College and Golden West College. Baum batted .306 in 1997 for the Dons, who were ranked No.1 in the country during most of the season. He was selected in the 42nd round of the 1997 draft by the San Francisco Giants.

Baum prepped for Coach Mike Najera at Canyon H.S. in Anaheim Hills and earned honorable-mention All-Century League honors. While at Canyon, Baum hit one of nine home runs that set a one-game CIF record for the Comanches.

Baum, 23, lives in Anaheim Hills.

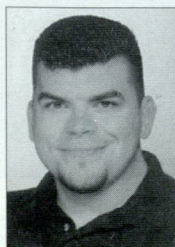

Administrative Assistant
1st year

Ricabal, 28, pitched professionally for five-and-a-half seasons, retiring after the 1999 season after playing for the San Francisco Giants Shreveport farm team. He served as pitching coach last season for Len Mohny at College of the Canyons in Santa Clarita.

After transferring from Cerritos College, Ricabal posted a 23-4 record for the Titans in the 1993 (11-3) and 1994 (12-1) seasons. His career winning percentage of .852 is the fifth best in school history.

He posted four NCAA post-season victories in 1994, winning two games at the regional tournament in Stillwater, Oklahoma and capturing both Titan victories in a third-place showing at the College World Series in Omaha. He won All-America honors in 1993.

Ricabal lives in Burbank.

2000 Season in Review

RECORD WATCH: With his red-hot NCAA Regional performance, Steve Woodward finished the season with a .431 batting average, which set a Cal State Fullerton single-season record. Woodward was batting .412 entering the Regional, but went 10-for-16 in the four games to surpass Mark Kotsay's 1995 mark of .422. Other records set in 2000:

- Adam Johnson set the single-season [166] and career [365] records for strikeouts.
- David Bacani set the career record for number of times hit by a pitch [50].
- Matt Sorensen became the all-time winningest undefeated pitcher with a 17-0 career mark.
- Titan pitchers combined to strike out 8.9 batters per nine innings, eclipsing the mark of 8.2 set in 1997.

OTHER NOTABLES:

- Chris Beck finished his career with a .368 batting average, the sixth highest mark in school history. Beck had dropped all the way out of the top 10 before he finished the season on a torrid eight-game hitting streak, during which he batted .567 (17-for-30). Only Mark Kotsay (.404), Tim Wallach (.392), Brent Mayne (.373), Jerome Alviso (.370) and Chris Powell (.369) finished with higher career averages.
- Kirk Saarloos' 33 appearances tied him for fourth on the single-season list and left him eight shy of the career record of 110, held by Scott Wright (1981-84).

BLACKOUT: After hitting 16 home runs in a seven-day trip that included stops in homer-happy Reno and Las Cruces, the Titans hit just 12 home runs over their last 32 games (and two in their last 12). Additionally, the Titans' top two home run hitters - Jake Epstein and Aaron Rifkin - combined to hit just two home runs after April 1. The Titans still outomered their opponents, 44-41.

KKKKKKKKKKK....: Besides setting school strikeout records, Johnson finished first in the nation in whiffs and was fifth in the nation in strikeouts per nine innings (12.5). As a team, Fullerton averaged 8.9 strikeouts per nine innings, which easily bested the former single-season record of 8.2, set by the 1997 Titan squad. In fact, the bullpen averaged more whiffs (9.1) than Johnson and the starters (8.8).

ABOUT TIME: After 22 consecutive NCAA Regionals on the road, the Titans finally got to play host. Goodwin Field was the site for Fullerton's first regional, which included USC, Loyola Marymount, and Virginia Tech. Fullerton drew a total of 13,042 fans (an average of 2,174) to the regional. The weekend included a Goodwin Field record crowd of 2,976 to the Titans' first-round game against Loyola Marymount and a crowd of 1,693 for a game that didn't start until 10 p.m. on Saturday.

A year-long residence in the national Top 20 rankings, a share of a conference championship and, finally, the first home berth in an NCAA regional tournament represented the legacy of the 2000 Cal State Fullerton baseball team. Significant accomplishments, for sure, but in the context of historical Titan baseball, there was a sense of a lack of fulfillment after the uniforms were hung up for the final time.

The Titans began the season a consensus No. 2 behind Stanford in the national polls on the strength of a veteran pitching staff and a significant returning portion of their most productive offense ever. But there were some question marks that kept the 2000 Titans from developing the consistency necessary to rank them among the school's best teams.

Cal State Fullerton never found the power lost to professional signings off the 1999 roster. Newcomers stepped forward to carry the lion's share of the offensive load but also two runs or less on nine occasions. Veterans Adam Johnson, Jon Smith and Kirk Saarloos pitched up to form but injuries and wildness impacted the balance of the staff. Freshman Mike Martinez stepped up to solidify the infield defense but no one ever emerged as the primary catcher. Coach Horton would ultimately use 35 different starting lineups.

Swept in three games at Stanford to open the season, the Titans struggled out of the gate. A home series win over Big 12 power Baylor and a home sweep of UNLV helped get them above the .500 level, but two losses at Cal left them at 8-7 on Mar. 11. Then came their best extended stretch of the season as Big 12 transfers Steve Woodward and Jake Epstein paced the offense and freshmen Martinez and Jason Corapci made major contributions.

Fullerton pulled out an extra-inning win at Cal on Mar. 12 and won at Arizona State two days later to ignite an eight-game winning streak. The Titans opened Big West Conference play with a home sweep of Pacific, compliments of a ninth-inning rally on Sunday, and then swept a trio of games at Nevada. A one-run loss at Oklahoma was the only blemish on a continuing road trip that was capped by a three-game Big West sweep at New Mexico State. The Titans then pulled out a win at USC with a five-run ninth inning only to hit a bump in the road in the form of pesky Sacramento State.

The Hornets, who had just won two of three games against Long Beach State, did the same in Fullerton to drop the Titans' conference mark to 10-2. The 49ers then came into Fullerton and won a series to take over first place and a rare loss to Cal Poly left the Titans with six losses in an eight-game span.

Fullerton rallied to win a pair of close contests at Cal Poly and then beat UCLA for a second time. But with Matt Sorensen sidelined with an elbow injury, the Titans had trouble winning on Sunday the rest of the year. UC Santa Barbara salvaged the final game of a series in Fullerton and a week later Nevada would do the same with a two-out, four-run explosion in the ninth. Don Price's bloop double would ultimately earn the Wolf Pack a share of the conference title.

Ahead of slumping Long Beach by one game and Nevada by two games with six to play, the Titans had to finish the schedule on the road. They broke open a close game on a Sunday in Stockton to complete a sweep of Pacific while Nevada was doing the same at home to Long Beach State. Thus, the Titans went to Long Beach State needing one win to clinch a tie and two victories to claim their third Big West title in four years under Coach Horton.

One pitch beat Adam Johnson, 2-1, on Friday before the Titans held on behind strong-finishing Ronnie Corona and Kirk Saarloos for a 4-2 win on Saturday that nailed down the automatic NCAA Tournament berth. But another Sunday failure, this time letting a 5-0 lead turn into a 9-5 loss, deprived the Titans of an outright crown and blunted their momentum going into their 22nd NCAA Tournament.

Despite the hoopla surrounding the Titans' inaugural home regional and a Goodwin Field record crowd of 2,976, Loyola Marymount jumped on Johnson for five runs in the first three innings of regional opener. The Titans crawled back and loaded the bases in the ninth inning before eventually succumbing to the Lions, 6-4. Fullerton rallied for a pair of wins on Saturday to stay alive. Chris Beck's two-run ninth-inning home run gave Fullerton an 8-6 win over Virginia Tech and the Titans rode the arm of Corona to beat LMU, 5-2, in a game that concluded at 12:25 a.m. on Sunday. The Titans staked an early 2-0 lead over USC in Sunday's contest, but the top-seeded Trojans scored six runs off Smith and went on to claim the regional title.

Fullerton had its share of individual accolades following the season. Johnson was named an All-American by Collegiate Baseball and The Sporting News and was tabbed the Big West Conference Pitcher of the Year. He became the Titans' eighth first-round draft selection when Minnesota selected him second overall. Seven other Titans were named to the all-conference team and five others were picked in the draft.

Garrido left again for greener pastures, this time the historical program at Texas. His former first baseman and associate head coach for six years, George Horton, took over. Again, the program marched forward. In four years, Horton has won three conference titles, gone to the NCAA Regionals four times and taken the Titans back to Omaha for a tenth visit.

The 1997 team won 11 of its last 13 regular season games and then bounced back from an opening game loss to win the Big West Tournament, sweeping Long Beach State at Blair Field for an automatic NCAA bid. Good pitching and an aborted ninth-inning rally knocked the Titans out of the regional at Stanford. The 1998 squad reversed the pattern, winning the Big West regular season title but losing the tournament at home to Long Beach. They got sent to Baton Rouge for the third time in the decade and won two games before taking a big lead over the host Tigers behind pitching ace Benito Flores. But LSU flexed its muscles and came back to beat Fullerton twice.

Titan Coach Augie Garrido presents President Clinton with a Cal State Fullerton hat and jersey at the Titans' visit to the White House following their 1995 College World Series championship.

Fullerton hat and jersey at the series championship.

The Titans' 38 wins in 2000 marked their fewest since the 1993 campaign, but they still captured a share of the Big West Conference championship. The season also marked the start of a $3 million renovation to the Titans' facility, which saw its official name changed to Goodwin Field. With the complex's increased seating capacity, Fullerton finally was named to host an NCAA Regional after 22 on the road, but the second-seeded Titans couldn't get by red-hot USC, which later advanced to the College World Series. The Titans' Adam Johnson was named BWC Pitcher of the Year after leading the nation in strikeouts and he was selected second overall in the MLB Draft.

History at a Glance ▶▶▶▶▶

► Cal State Fullerton won national championships in 1979, 1984 and 1995. Its most recent championship capped off a 57-9 season where the Titans finished the 1995 campaign with an 18-game winning streak. They became the first No. 1 seed to win the national title since seeding began in 1988 and the 14th team to advance through the NCAA Regionals and College World Series without a loss.

► Cal State Fullerton is one of only three schools (Arizona State and Florida State are the others) to have three Golden Spikes Award winners. The award is given annually by USA Baseball to the top amateur player in the nation. The Titans who won the award were Tim Wallach (1979), Phil Nevin (1992) and Mark Kotsay (1995).

► Mark Kotsay and Brian Loyd represented Cal State Fullerton and the United States at the 1996 Olympics in Atlanta, Georgia. In winning the bronze medal as part of Team USA, Kotsay and Loyd joined three other Titans who have been members of Team USA (Bob Caffrey in 1984 and Phil Nevin and Jason Moler in 1992).

► Thirty-two Titans have gone on to play Major League Baseball. A quartet of former Titans made their debuts in 2000: Mike Lamb (Texas), Steve Sisco (Atlanta), Matt Wise (Anaheim) and Frank Charles (Houston).

► Cal State Fullerton is 82-45 (.646) in NCAA postseason play and is ranked in the top five all-time in winning percentage for teams that have played more than 100 postseason games.

► No school has made more trips to Omaha, Nebraska and the College World Series by winning on the road. Cal State Fullerton has won 10 Regional titles and one Super Regional title, all on the road.

► In 26 years at the Division I level, the Titans have made it to the NCAA Tournament 22 times and have won 18 conference championships.

► Adam Johnson became the eighth Titan to be selected in the first round of the Major League Baseball draft when Minnesota selected him second overall in June, 2000. Other Titans selected in the first round: Mark Kotsay (Florida, 1996), Tim Wallach (Montreal, 1979), Bob Caffrey (Montreal, 1984), Mike Harkey (Chicago Cubs, 1987), Brent Mayne (Kansas City, 1988), Phil Nevin (Houston, 1992) and Dante Powell (San Francisco, 1994).

► Cal State Fullerton has had 45 All-Americans and 120 first-team all-conference selections in its 26-year Division I history. CSF first joined the Pacific Coast Athletic Association in 1975 when it made the jump to Division I. The baseball conference was not in existence from 1977 to 1984 [CSF played in the SCBA], but returned in 1985. On July 1, 1988, the PCAA officially changed its name to the current Big West Conference.

► The Titans have never had a losing season in the 26-year history of the program at the Division I level and have never gone winless in 22 years of NCAA postseason competition.

California State University, Fullerton plays a major role in the intellectual, cultural and economic lives of Orange County. Given the charge of teaching as a member of the state's three-tiered system of higher education, Cal State Fullerton does an exceptional job of educating the residents - and future - of Orange County. It prepares highly skilled and well-prepared university graduates.

Now in its 42nd year, the university points proudly to its product, approximately 120,000 graduates. With 85 percent of them remaining within a 50-mile radius of campus, they occupy key spots in business, industry, government, the political arena and education.

The university - with its main campus in Fullerton and satellites in Mission Viejo, Garden Grove and Santa Ana - is one of the county's largest employers and purchasers. Its presence is a key factor in the prosperity and progress of this area. With nearly 28,000 students currently enrolled and about 4,000 faculty and staff members, Cal State Fullerton's economic impact is $490 million annually.

With a mission of making learning preeminent, the university's 700 full-time faculty members combine the best qualities of teaching and research universities to work in close collaboration with students and staff to expand knowledge. The instructional program is offered by seven colleges: The Arts; Business and Economics; Communications; Engineering and Computer Science; Human Development and Community Service; Humanities and Social Sciences; and Natural Sciences and Mathematics.

With full accreditation for its overall program, Cal State Fullerton has national recognition for its programs in art, athletic training, business, chemistry, communications, communicative disorders, computer science, dance, engineering, music, nursing, public administration, teacher education and theater. In all there are 98 degree programs - with 44 of them at the graduate level - plus a wide variety of credential and certificate programs.

theory and research and integrate professional studies with preparation in the arts and sciences. Through experiences in and out of the classroom, students develop the habit of intellectual inquiry, prepare for challenging professions, strengthen relationships to their communities and contribute productively to society.

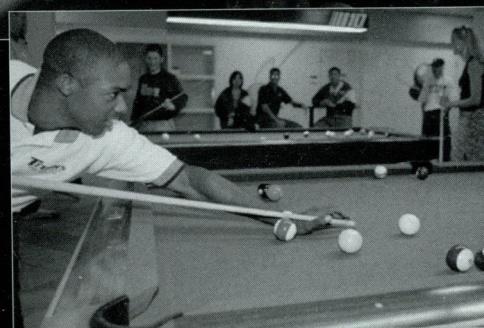

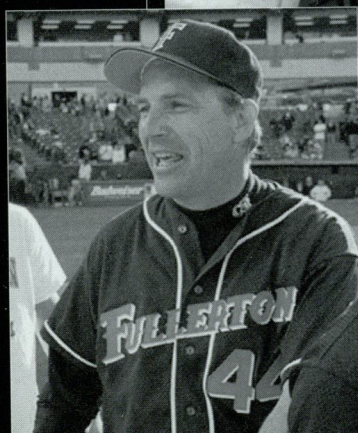

Cal State Fullerton is the most affordable and ethnically diverse university in the area. It ranks 10th nationally in the overall number of bachelor's degrees awarded to minority students.

An extended education program, with open enrollment, offers individual courses, seminars and workshops, as well as more than 50 certificate programs ranging from entrepreneurship and sales management to creative writing.

Community members also may visit campus for theater, music and dance performances and art exhibits of off-campus artists, plus those of university students and faculty members. While here, both the Fullerton Arboretum and Heritage House are worth touring. And, an extensive recreation program aimed chiefly at students, also is open to the public.

Volunteer opportunities are open through Cal State Fullerton's many support groups, such as the Art Alliance, Music Associates, Patrons of the Library and President's Associates. One such group, Continuing Learning Experience, holds many of its programs in the Ruby Gerontology Center, which serves as an educational and research facility for the study of successful aging.

In four decades, Cal State Fullerton has taken its place as a primary force in the growth and prosperity of Southern California.

HISTORY & TRADITION

← Lynn Rogers led the 1979 women's gymnastics squad to the AIAW national title just four years after launching the program.

→ Leon Wood, who later played in the NBA for six years, led the celebration after the Titans upset No. 1 UNLV in Titan Gym in 1983.

← Judi Garman, who eventually retired as the winningest collegiate softball coach, led the Titans to the NCAA title in 1986.

→ Considered by many the best college baseball team ever, the 1995 Titans finished the season on an 18-game winning streak en route to the program's third national title.

TITAN ATHLETICS...A PROUD HISTORY

From modest beginnings and never with abundant resources, the Cal State Fullerton Titans have achieved successes that are the envy of many older and larger institutions across the country.

"Titan Pride" has been the rallying cry for 11 national team championships in seven different sports, hundreds of individual All-Americans, dozens of eventual professional athletes, numerous national coach of the year award winners, Olympic basketball players, a Miss America candidate and the subject matter of a Walt Disney film.

The tenor was set by the first intercollegiate team - men's basketball. In only his second season, Coach Alex Omalev advanced the Titans five rounds into the NAIA playoffs in 1961-62. Sixteen seasons later, the nation watched another "Cinderella" Titan Five advance to within one victory of the "Final Four" as Bobby Dye's 1977-78 team won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association postseason tournament and then beat nationally ranked New Mexico and USF to gain the finals of the NCAA Western Regional.

The basketball tradition began even stronger on the women's side. Recent Naismith and Women's Basketball Hall of Fame inductee Billie Moore coached the Titans to the national championship in 1970 and star forward Nancy Dunkle was one of her players on the women's 1976 silver-medal winning Olympic team. The most recent Titan All-American was center Genia Miller in 1991.

The Titans earned gold in 1984 when point guard Leon Wood directed the men's Olympic team to victory in Los Angeles. The first-round draft pick of the Philadelphia 76ers went on to a 6-year National Basketball Association career and he currently is in his third season as a referee, only the second former NBA player to make that career switch.

Future NBA performers Richard Morton, Henry Turner, Cedric Ceballos and Bruce Bowen were some of the stars of the 1980s and 1990s, when the Titans made NIT appearances on both the men's and women's sides. Ceballos gained notoriety for winning the NBA Slam-Dunk contest one year while the women can point with pride to Autumn Hollyfield, the nation's top 3-point field goal shooter in 1993-94, and Koko Lahanas, the nation's scoring leader in 1994-95. Miller still holds NCAA records and came back from a career in Japan to earn a spot with the Los Angeles Sparks of the WNBA as Eugenia Rycraw.

Gymnastics has brought Fullerton considerable fame. Former men's Coach Dick Wolfe won three college division NCAA titles (1971, 1972 and 1974) and had subsequent teams in the Top Ten at the Division I level while winning 10 PCAA titles in a row. His 1987 squad was ranked No. 1 in the nation. Coach Lynn Rogers began the women's program in 1976 and the Titans have finished sixth or better in the nation 12 times and won the national title in 1979. One-armed Carol Johnston was an All-American and star of the Disney film, "Lefty," while Tami Elliott (1984-86) won 10 All-American awards before becoming Miss Virginia and competing in the Miss America pageant.

Baseball exploded onto the national scene behind former Coach Augie Garrido by breaking the USC monopoly in the NCAA western regionals in 1975. The Titans won the national title in 1979 behind Tim Wallach; who would play 17 major league seasons. They won the College World Series again in 1984 and John Fishel was the MVP of the CWS. They were national runners-up in 1992 with another MVP in third baseman Phil Nevin, who also was the first pick in the amateur draft by the Houston Astros.

The Titans placed third in the CWS in 1994 and came back with their best season ever in 1995, going 57-9 en route to their third national championship. Leading the way was Player of the Year Mark Kotsay, now with the Florida Marlins, and one of 31 former Titans to have played in the majors. Fullerton made its tenth trip to Omaha in 1999 under third-year Coach George Horton.

Five players have become Olympians with Kotsay and Brian Loyd helping the U.S. win a bronze medal in 1996 in Atlanta. Nevin, Jason Moler and Bob Caffrey are the other Fullerton baseball Olympians.

Women also have sparkled on Fullerton diamonds. Hall of Fame Coach Judi Garman founded the softball program in 1980 and won more games (913) than any previous coach. The Titans have made eight trips to the College World Series and 19 regional appearances. They brought home an NCAA Championship in 1986 and boast three national players of the year in pitchers Kathy Van Wyk, Susan LeFebvre and Connie Clark.

The now-defunct football program made great strides in Division I-A after its humble

HISTORY & TRADITION

CAL STATE FULLERTON ATHLETICS

Div. II beginnings in 1970. Coach Gene Murphy guided the Titans to two conference championships and four runner-up finishes between 1983 and 1989. Titan products included Super Bowl rookies Bobby Kemp (Cincinnati in 1982) and Mark Collins (New York Giants in 1987). Titans have starred in the Canadian Football League led by receiver Allen Pitts of Calgary, 1995 MVP Mike Pringle of Baltimore and perennial quarterback star Damon Allen.

With the loss of football, Head Coach Al Mistri's soccer program filled the void in Titan Stadium. A women's squad was launched in 1993 and it coincided with a memorable men's season that saw the Titans climb as high as No. 3 in the national rankings. They were led by All-American forward Eddie Soto and competed at the NCAA Final Four, placing third. There have been three subsequent trips to the playoffs and a No. 2 national ranking in 1996. On the international level, former Titan Brian Dunseth captained the U.S. Olympic team in Sydney last September.

There have been national titles in men's cross country (1971) and women's fencing (1974) and individual standouts such as golfer Martha Wilkerson, runner Mark Covert and wrestler Laszlo Molnar, who finished second in the nation in 1994 at 167 pounds. Heather Killeen became the Titans' first Div. I cross country All-American in 1994, won three events at the 1995 Big West Conference track championships and was one of 10 finalists for 1995 NCAA Woman of the Year Award. The Titans have a rising star in junior Brandon Campbell. He became the first Titan to compete in the Pan-Am Junior Games and won a silver medal in 1999 while establishing a school record in the high jump at 7-1. He holds several other records and also plays on the basketball team.

WHAT ABOUT THE NICKNAME?

"What exactly is a Titan?"

"Why do you have an elephant for your mascot?"

Those are two of the first questions that arise when a Cal State Fullerton athletic team makes its inaugural visit to an area. While the relatively young institution carved out of the Orange County citrus groves may be too new for many traditions, there are some recognized legends.

"It was the students' decision in a vote," explained Dr. Ernest Becker, founding Dean of Students, of the nickname "Titans." "More than a hundred names were suggested, and the Student Council took on the job of narrowing the list down to a few for the purposes of an election. The vote was close, with Titans narrowly prevailing over Aardvarks and Rebels."

It was a unique student body, all upper division students until 1963. There were 453 of them, mostly female, in 1959, the first year of classes at what was then known as Orange County State College.

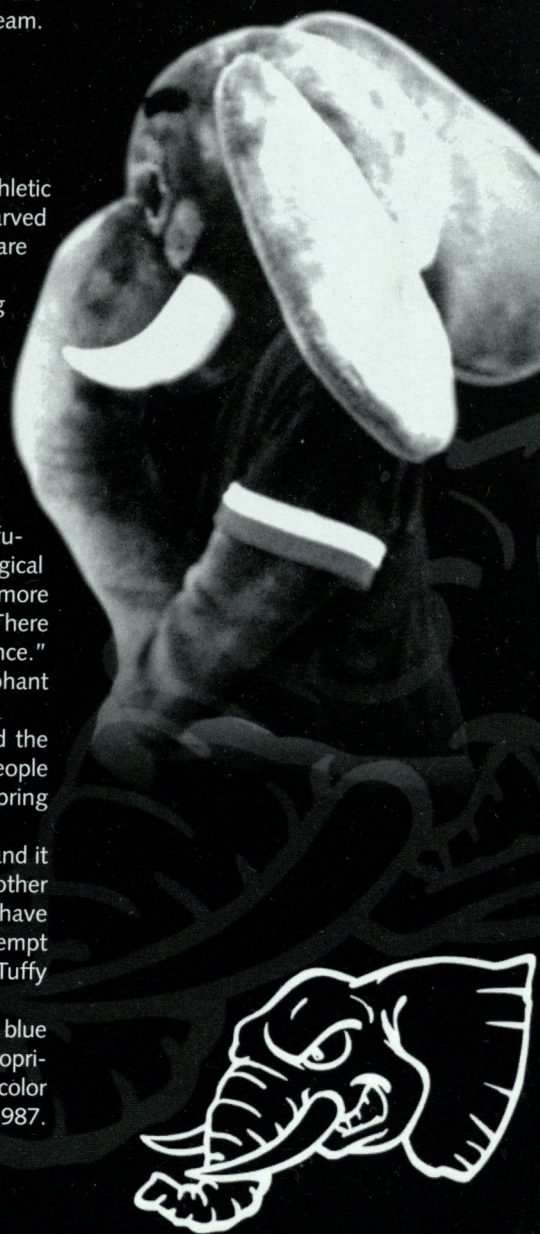

"Even when it was decided that 'Titans' would be the nickname, there was confusion as to what it represented," said Becker. "I was thinking of a large mythological figure from Greek history, not unlike Tommy Trojan, but with perhaps straighter, more modern lines. In the same vein, the original dormitories were named Othrys Hall. There were others, however, who related the name to the Titan missile then in prominence."

Nothing official was done but then along came the "First Intercollegiate Elephant Race in Human History."

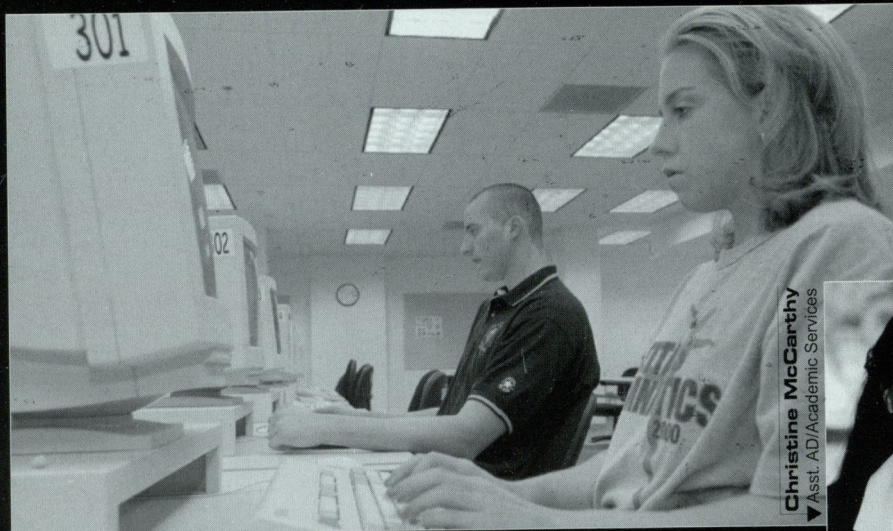

What began as a practical joke attracted elephants from universities around the nation and even Oxford from England. A crowd estimated at more than 10,000 people turned out on "Dumbo Downs" as the hastily graded field became known that spring afternoon in 1962.

To publicize the event, a circus-like elephant called Tuffy the Titan was used and it began appearing on sweaters and notebook covers around the campus. With no other mascot, the elephant was unofficially adopted. Several revisions of the caricature have been made to create a more tenacious Tuffy, or Titus as he also was called in an attempt to make him Greek. The costume that brings the mascot to life also has changed. Tuffy even attracted a female Tiffany in 1992.

The origin of the school colors also bears discussion. The students voted for royal blue and white, but the athletic equipment manager at the time thought orange was appropriate on uniforms for a school known as Orange County State College. The unofficial color was "adopted" and finally was formally acknowledged by the Athletics Council in 1987. A change to a navy blue was initiated in 1992 with a de-emphasis of the orange.

TITAN SCHOLARS

Christine McCarthy
▼ Asst. AD/Academic Services

Headed by Christine McCarthy, the Athletic Academic Services department, tabbed as Titan Scholars, provides effective support services to help student-athletes reach their academic goals. The academic services staff takes a proactive role by coordinating study plans, study skills workshops, tutoring sessions, study halls, faculty and peer mentoring and campus services referrals. Staff members also monitor progress toward graduation, assist student-athletes in selecting and registering for classes and teach a Life Skills 100 class.

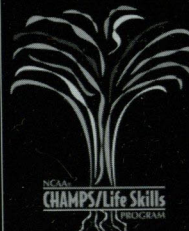

Coaches rely on Athletic Academic Services to track student-athletes' progress in classes and to alert them and the students to any potential problems. The department has an "early warning" system in place, which utilizes periodic grade checks and clear communication with faculty members when student-athletes may require additional academic support.

The department's services are available to all past and current student-athletes. "Not all student-athletes are able to graduate in four years, because of professional opportunities or personal commitments," says McCarthy. "We developed a re-entry program for former student-athletes who wish to complete their studies."

NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills

Cal State Fullerton is a participating institution in the NCAA's CHAMPS/Life Skills program, which is aimed at enhancing the quality of the student-athlete experience within the university setting. Throughout their career, Cal State Fullerton student-athletes are provided with resources that will assist their development in five primary areas: academics, athletics, personal development, career development and community service.

Jon Smith, pictured with head baseball coach George Horton at the 2000 Academic Recognition Dinner, was named Cal State Fullerton's Male Scholar-Athlete of the Year in 1999-2000. Smith, who sports a 4.00 GPA, was also a first-team GTE CoSIDA Academic All-American. Smith was among dozens of Titan student-athletes honored at the annual event, which is organized by the Academic Services department.

ATHLETIC TRAINING

The athletic training program at Cal State Fullerton plays a major role in maintaining the health of Titan student-athletes. A team doctor, three full-time certified athletic trainers, two certified graduate assistants and more than 20 student assistants comprise a program that is generally regarded as one of the very best in the country.

Titan athletic training personnel specialize in preventive medicine, recognition of injuries and rehabilitation. Student athletic trainers who are admitted into the highly selective ATEP (Athletic Training Educational Program), which is administered through the Department of Kinesiology and Health Promotion, must meet demanding requirements. In addition to taking 100 units of kinesiology and athletic training courses, they must serve five semesters and 1,500 clinical supervised hours. Before becoming certified, candidates must pass the National Athletic Trainers' Association Board of Certification examination. Since 1997, nearly 80 percent of Cal State Fullerton graduates have passed on their first attempt, compared to the national rate of about 30 percent. Since the inception of the program, dozens of alumni have moved into coveted positions across the country (see below).

Max is in her 22nd year at her alma mater since replacing her mentor, the late Jerry Lloyd. Recently, Max was elected the first female president of the 25,000-member National Association of Athletic Trainers (NATA). The two-year term comes after a six-year stint on the organization's board of directors and a one-year term as its vice president. In 1997, Max was honored with the NATA Service Award, which recognizes outstanding service to the athletic training profession at the state and district level.

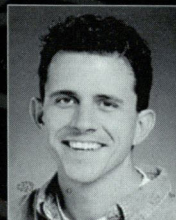

More than 20 Titan student athletic trainers are available to assist Cal State Fullerton's 300-plus student-athletes.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES

undoubtedly has a place in Cal State Fullerton lore, having served as the backdrop for such memorable triumphs as the men's basketball team's 1983 upset of No. 1 UNLV. Titan Gym also has an impressive international history — it served as the venue for 1984 Olympic team handball — and political history — former President Ronald Reagan made his last Orange County appearance at Titan Gym while campaigning for his successor, George Bush. The facility is scheduled to undergo an expansion in the near future, which will add significant office space and a practice facility.

Tennis Facility

was the host site for Cal State Fullerton's first NCAA Baseball Regional in the spring of 2000. A $3 million expansion project, spearheaded by a $1 million gift from Jerry and Marilyn Goodwin, has transformed the field into one of the premier collegiate facilities on the West Coast. The adjacent softball field also received a complete makeover as part of the project. Both fields now share a clubhouse-type facility that includes locker rooms, offices and a VIP-area. Both fields serve as the sites for premier in-season tournaments and figure to be regulars in the NCAA postseason.

Titan Track

is considered among the finest soccer facilities in the nation and regularly hosts professional and international soccer matches in addition to the Titan men's and women's programs.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Cal State Fullerton student-athletes have year-round access to the services offered by the Strength and Conditioning Program, under the direction of Mike Nagler. Aimed at developing speed, power, strength and endurance in Cal State Fullerton's student-athletes, the program plays a key role in the success of Titan teams.

Individual workouts are designed, implemented and regularly adjusted by Nagler to help each student-athlete develop the stamina needed to maintain the rigorous year-round workouts associated with Division I sports.

Now located inside Titan Stadium is a 6,000 square-foot weight room facility featuring eight platforms, eight squat racks, plyometric devices and nearly 8,000 pounds in free weights. The facility will service more than 300 student-athletes over the course of the year.

Individual workouts are developed, implemented and adjusted for each of Cal State Fullerton's student-athletes by strength and conditioning Coach Mike Nagler.

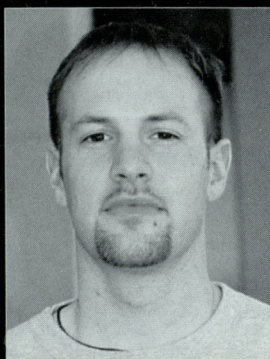

The weight room located above Titan Gym is one of several on-campus facilities utilized by Cal State Fullerton's student-athletes.

Mike Nagler was named Cal State Fullerton's first full-time strength and conditioning coach on Jan. 4, 2000. Nagler had spent the previous 17 months as assistant strength coach at the University of Iowa. At Iowa, Nagler was in charge of developing and implementing weight lifting programs for women's basketball, volleyball, women's soccer, men's and women's track, gymnastics, softball, and men's and women's golf. He also assisted with the men's basketball program.

He also previously worked as an assistant at Baylor University, the University of Washington, UNLV and Washington State and served as an intern with the NFL's Seattle Seahawks.

Nagler, 29, earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science from Washington State in 1993 and picked up a master's degree in kinesiology from UNLV in 1996.

AREA ATTRACTIONS

Cal State Fullerton is nestled in sun-drenched Orange County, with its mountains, amusement parks, professional sports, cultural showcases and seashores among the top attractions. Students can reach ski slopes in 45 minutes and the beach in less than a half hour. Los Angeles, with its never-ending cultural and entertainment opportunities, lies just 30 miles northwest of the campus and San Diego is 100 miles to the south. The city of Fullerton itself, which has a fascinating history dating back to the late 19th century, boasts a beautiful historic downtown area that features dozen of restaurants, museums and shops.

TITANS IN THE COMMUNITY

Community service has always been a cornerstone of the Titan baseball program. Just this year alone, the Titans....

- Joined forces with Pacific Elementary School in Fullerton in a program tabbed "Baseball Buddies." Once a week during the off-season, the Titans visit the school and spend an afternoon with hundreds of students on the playground and in the classroom.
- Welcomed the Challenger Little League, a baseball league for challenged and developmentally disabled youth, to Goodwin Field for a baseball clinic.
- Participated at several "official" events, such as the city of Brea's celebration of a new downtown area last fall. Titan players were on hand to sign autographs and talk with local youngsters.
