Subject: Congratulations from Renee Chanon and National Women's History Project

Dear Lupe,

I was thrilled to attend the event at UCLA last Monday honoring you and your contribution to the Archives. What a great evening. I tried to get up front to congratulate you in person, but there were just too many people. I had to leave right after the speeches because I had to catch a plane to Oakland very early on Tuesday to do women's history performances.

You and I got acquainted at the NWHF Networking Conference last October in Little Rock. In fact we met at the airport and rode together on the shuttle to the hotel.

Anyway, I'm really sorry I can't be at the big event this coming Wednesday in Washington, D.C., but I'll be there in spirit when the Project honors you and all your achievements.

Travel safely!

All best wishes,

Renee Chanon
