

The baby-sitter

When you're a professor of English, such as Mrs. Lois Wilson, a child can really become a burden.

And when there is reading to be done, you can't put the young lady down for she may wander away. The problem can be solved with a handy-dandy-you-carry-your-own-child rucksack.

It's cheaper than hiring a baby-sitter, Mrs. Wilson said.

Erin, who is eight months old, watches all the action from her perch while her mother goes about her business.

Head American Nazi to speak here

George Lincoln Rockwell, leading proponent of Naziism in the United States, will discuss his philosophy here Thursday.

Titular head of the American Nazi Party, Rockwell plans to run for governor of Virginia, has led anti-Jewish rallies, and has been sentenced to 12 months hard labor for assaulting a Jewish boy.

Rockwell will speak in the Main Auditorium from 2:30 to 3:30. Tickets are available at Hut T-1 for 25 cents, and students must show their student body card to purchase a ticket. There is a limit of one ticket per student, with a maximum of 750 seats available.

Proceeds from the tickets will go toward a scholarship for a needy SF State student, and $50 to pay Rockwell, Chuck Griffin, public relations man for the Forensics Union which is sponsoring the event, said.

America's leading Nazi and his "storm troopers" have borne the brunt of mob attacks throughout the United States.

A major incident occurred in 1961 when Rockwell and his men were touring the country in a German-made "hate bus" to picket the movie "Exodus." A crowd estimated at 10,000 swarmed on the Nazis in New York City.

Rockwell, who once called Elijah Muhammed the "Adolph Hitler of the black man,"

Gater error

The Gater made a mistake in quoting Eugent Grundt, English instructor, in yesterday's article "Globs of Asilomar." Grundt did not say "I'd even prefer to teach than go there." He said, "I'd prefer to teach than go to Asilomar."

was struck by a San Diego State College student of Jewish descent when he spoke there two years ago.

Official concern on Nazi

Two city officials and campus student leaders met here yesterday to determine tactics for handling any problems which may occur when George Lincoln Rockwell speaks Thursday.

Frank Quinn, director of San Francisco's Human Relations Commission, and Revels Cayton, one of his commissioners, met with Claire Salop, activities counselor; Associated Students representatives; and heads of various campus organizations.

The consensus was: no picketing, no violence, and mass silence inside the Main Auditorium when the self-styled leader of the American Nazi Party speaks.

Some type of protest is needed, Jeffrey Freed, head of campus Friends of SNCC, SF State students were urged to volunteer for precinct and election work yesterday at a "Get - Out - the - Vote" rally held at the Speaker's Platform.

Josiah Beeman, San Francisco "Get - Out - the - Vote" Chairman, John Burton, Democratic nominee for the Twentieth Assembly District and George Moscone, San Francisco County Supervisor were guest speakers.

The speakers urged re-election of President Johnson and the defeat of Proposition 14, stressing the role students could play in the election.

Moscone said that America began to move ahead with the election of John F. Kennedy and that November 3, 1964, would be "the largest step toward progress since F.D.R." "Never has your vote meant so much," he added.

'... step toward progress'

Burton called November 3 "the most important day in our history." He said that he, the President, and other Democratic candidates were pledged to "working for a world of peace, equality and dignity."

Students are needed to work on election day if President Johnson is to carry San Francisco by 85,000 votes, Burton said.

He explained that the large number of votes were needed in San Francisco to offset an expected Goldwater victory in Southern California.

"We need your help on election day to get out the vote

'... need your help'

and defeat the reactionaries," Beeman added.

Terry McGann, rally moderator, said that the Students Opposed to Proposition 14 were responsible for canvassing 300 blocks before election day. He asked students to sign up to help with this, explaining that it took about two hours to cover a block.

He said that information would be available at a table in front of the Commons for students who were interested in precinct or election day work.

The rally was sponsored by SF State Republicans for Johnson, Students for "No on Proposition 14", and Students for Johnson and Young Democrats.

JOHN BURTON

'peace, equality and dignity' and mass silence is the best way to protest.

"No audience would be the best," Quinn said. "But cold silence is good. It is a sophisticated approach."

Ken Heiges, acting head of campus Young Americans for Freedom, said some members of his group had talked of picketing Rockwell.

"If the Zionist groups can contain themselves from picketing, your group should be able to," Gary Young, head of campus Zionists, said.

"I know how people like to picket," Quinn said. "But Rockwell is nothing new. He thrives on that type of treatment."

"You don't picket just to picket," Cayton said. "Sometimes you have to lay low."

Lloyd Crisp, assistant professor of speech, said Forensics Union members would be ushers and wear arm bands with the organization's name on them.

A further precaution to ensure audience control is anyone attending the speech must be SF State students, faculty and staff.

And they have to prove they are when they buy the 25 cent admission ticket at Hut T-1.

Gater briefs . . .

• About 90 people have signed up to help the blood drive, as of yesterday.

Appointments will continue to be taken today and tomorrow from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. in front of the Commons and the Library.

• A general information meeting for those interested in studying abroad under the International Programs will take place today at 12:30 p.m. in HLL 345.

• Jack Barnes, organizer of the Young Socialist Alliance, speaks today on "The Myth of American Liberalism" in ED 320 at 12:30 p.m. The speech is sponsored by the Forensics Union.

• Six Russian film makers will be on campus today inspecting SF State's Radio-Television facilities. The group will be in CA 119 from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. to meet interested students.

Letter to the Editor

Reply to Pope

Editor:

Before answering Mr. Bill Pope's letter dated October 7, I would like to express my thanks for his interest in the campus and the student government. During the last campus election, the ATAC promised to create a more active campus. We cannot do it alone. I hope students on this campus will reciprocate and make an active campus a reality.

In answer to the first point, it is illegal to support direct curricular programs of the college with student body fees and other kinds of student money.

We always try to get the best people for our Lecture Series at a minimum cost irrespective of whether they are on the "lecture circuit." Last year the maximum money we spent on one speaker was Dr. Margaret Meade, which was $300.00. We spend as little as $25.00 for some speakers.

Regarding part number three, whenever student money is spent, we try to hire as many students as possible to help them "earn and learn." During our football games and creative arts activities, we hire students only.

Regarding that $1200 college sign, the Associated Students had nothing to do with how that sign was going up or how it was to be constructed. We were not consulted or told anything about the erection of the sign by the administration.

Regarding part number four, I completely agree with Mr. Pope's idea that those vending machines should be owned and operated by the Associated Students. Right now these are operated by the lowest bidder. I will recommend to the Foundation that they purchase and operate the vending machines in the Tubs so that the profits can be shared by the students.

Professor and the Playgirl

Jack Cook has an unconventional attitude towards a playgirl. He's fascinated by her fan mail.

With the aid of SF State nursing instructor Donna Harris, the young drama professor has compiled an interesting collection of letters received by Playboy's June Wilkinson.

None of the letters concern June, but center around the personal problems of the writers.

June thinks it's all very interesting and has been cooperative by sending her mail to Cook.

Cook met June on a professional level when she appeared as the top half in "Pajama Tops."

"She's an honest to God lady," Cook said. "She's an unusually charming girl, a conscientious artist with a wide theatrical background."

"It's funny," he continued, "but off-stage she dresses so that you're not even aware of her unusual proportions." (43-26-36)

Maybe that's why he's fascinated by her fan mail.

Walking With God

Urgently needed in this dying world are men and women who are willing to walk with God. No High Theology or Advanced Preparation is required. (In fact, many popular theologians are not even Christians at all!) God is known by faith and personal commitment of one's will to Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior. Christian growth is by "in-service training;" a daily walk with the Lord Jesus is more important than all the head knowledge and doctrine in the world. The Apostle Paul abandoned his intellectual, theological background that he might know God and walk with Him: "But what things were gain to me those I counted loss for Christ. Yea, doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ." (Philippians 3: 7,8)

God meets individuals today on a man-to-man basis. No human mediators or priests are necessary. Anyone who wishes may know God and walk with Him in the deepest way possible.

God is able if you are willing to meet Him on His terms. But it is you who must be willing to change. While some speak of the high price of holy living, a higher price is paid in the long run by those who insist on carnal living or independence from God. To walk with God is to be changed and transformed into the kind of person He would have you to be. "And we all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord, are being changed into His likeness from one degree of glory to another, for this comes from the Lord who is the Spirit." (2 Corinthians 3:18)

The presence of sin in your life will quickly quench the Holy Spirit and bring you down to the same harsh, cold world which the unbeliever lives in every day. Sin is basically acting in independence of God, hence the vital importance of total surrender: "Whatever is not of faith is sin" (Romans 14:23). Thus, to walk with God involves a total surrender, in every area of life, to Jesus Christ.

Those who chose to run the race, to seek the living God who inhabits eternity, never regret the abandonment of their lives to Him. "... that I may know Him and the power of His resurrection, and may share in His sufferings, becoming like Him in His death, that if possible I might attain the resurrection from the dead. Not that I have already obtained this or am already perfect; but I press on to make it my own, because Christ Jesus has made me His own. Brethren, I do not consider that I have made it my own; but this one thing I do, forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward calling of God in Christ Jesus. Let those of us who are mature be thus minded; and if in anything you are otherwise minded, God will reveal that also to you." (Philippians 3:10-15)

Perhaps you have not yet met Jesus Christ. This is an essential first-step in walking with God and getting acquainted with Him. But many who do know Jesus in a personal way know nothing of the victorious and exciting life of faith walking in total surrender and commitment. Why be content with a mediocre life which will never be more than second-best? Those who walk with the Lord Jesus Christ have always said that life with Him is life as it should be lived by all. What's keeping you from finding out for yourself?

Contemporary Christians on Campus, Box 11791, Palo Alto

First conference win

Gators crush Davis, 34-14

By George Boardman
SF State played brilliant football for 23 minutes last Saturday at Cox Stadium.

But that was long enough to beat the Cal Aggies, 34-14, for the Gators' first Far Western Conference win of the year.

The display of first-class football came after the Gators, imitating the Brothers of Charity, gave the Aggies a 14-7 half-time lead.

But SF started the second half with vengeance in its heart and victory in its mind.

Gator defensive tackle Guy Simerson started the 27-point avalanche by partially blocking an Aggie punt, which was dawned on the Cal 13.

Fullback Jim Crum, who gained 88 yards in 16 carries, hit the middle for four, went to the left for eight, and then went over center for the tying touchdown.

Quarterback Don McPhail ended the third quarter with a 31-yard pass to end Mike Meyer on the Aggie 16.

McPHAIL TO MEYER

On the first play of the final period, Meyer took a sideline toss from McPhail, bounced off Cal defender Ron Conway at the four, and dove into the end zone to put the Gators ahead, 21-14.

McPhail, who completed 13 of 26 passes for 188 yards, covered 51 yards with three passes the next time the Gators got the ball. Fullback Jerry Brown spun over the middle for the final three to make it 28-14.

Finally, linebacker Dennis Drucker intercepted a pass at the Cal 23 and ran it back to the five. After a 15-yard holding penalty, Randy Ketlinsky ended the sweet misery by the final score.

The SF State defense kept Cal inside its own 23 and didn't allow one first down during the entire scoring feast.

Drucker led the way with two interceptions as the Gator front line gave the Aggies only 93 yards net in the second half.

Even Howard Q. Moody, the bare foot punter, got into the act. He kicked out of bounds on the Cal one to set up SF State's tying TD.

In all, the defense gave Davis 235 yards net, an achievement that made a substantial contribution to the Gators' third win in a row and fourth of the year.

The contribution was sorely needed, especially in the first half.

LOST 5 TIMES

SF State's offense lost the ball five times — two interceptions and three fumbles — in the first 30 minutes as the Aggies bottled up McPhail and running ace Tom Piggee. But Crum kept the Gators close.

The 5'11" junior was most of the offensive show, especially the second time the Gators got the ball in the first period.

After Piggee went over the right side for five, Crum went up the middle and cut to the right to move the ball 12 yards to the Gator 35.

McPhail passed 17 yards to Meyer, the first of seven tosses the left end caught for 113 yards. Crum then went for 24.

The Gators lost eight when tackle Paul Richards recovered a McPhail fumble. But then the 5'11" signal caller threw a flat pass to Crum for an 18-yard gain.

BROWN SCORES

Brown, in the game for the first time, raced through the same trap Crum used. He bounced off three Aggies to score from the 14 and give the Gators a 7-0 lead with 2:33 in the first period.

Then strange things started to happen. First, McPhail threw a pass 10 yards over wingback Mike Burke's head and into the arms of Aggie Clyde MacDonald, who ran it back to the Gator 31.

Davis moved to the 12, but was penalized 15 yards when guard Tom Russell wandered down field on a pass play.

Fullback Glenn DuFour picked up six before quarterback Jim Wilcox passed 20 yards to Dick South on the Gator one. DuFour then tied the score at 7-7 with a plunge.

Then the spirit of Alphonse and Gaston entered the game.

McPhail passed to Burke for six, but Cal's Mike Winter spun the wingback so hard he fumbled. On the next play, Wilcox threw toward South, who was waiting on the Gator 20.

But defender Tim Tierney was also waiting, and he grabbed the ball and ran it back to the 40. Three plays later, Crum fumbled into the hands of the ever-present Mac Donald on the Aggie 17.

After Cal's Larry Hagan missed a 30-yard field goal, SF State got the ball on its own 20. But wait, there's still more!

McPhail went back to pass and was hit by Aggie Ray DeGuillo, causing the field general to drop the ball. DeGuillo knocked McPhail down as he dove for the ball and tackle Clark Lyons recovered on the 29.

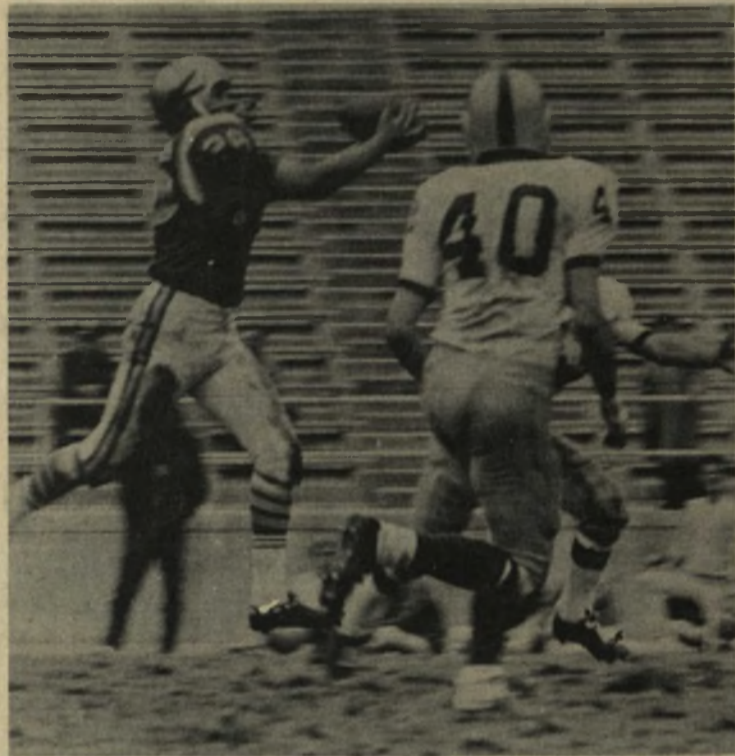

After two incomplete passes, Wilcox tossed one five yards over end Jerry Lilley's head. However, Tierney jumped for the ball and knocked Lilley down. The resulting interference penalty gave Davis the ball on the Gator eight.

Lilley ran to the goal line on the next play and cut in front of Rusty Hubbard to take the TD pass that gave Cal a 14-7 lead with 22 seconds left in the half.

After a 20 minute intermission, the Gators started to play football.

McPHAIL TO MEYER BULLSEYE—Gator end Mike Meyer snags a 31 yard aerial between two Aggie defenders. Number 40 is defensive back Tom Hill. On the next play Meyer caught a McPhail 16 yard toss for a touchdown and a 21-14 SF State lead.

Gator wetballers beat Wildcats, 8-7

Almost overtaken by a five-goal Chico State rally in the fourth quarter, SF State's water polo team hung on to defeat the Wildcats, 8-7, last Friday in Far Western Conference competition.

Chico State had been termed "the team to beat" in the conference this year and the Gators did just that — building up a 5-2 lead after three quarters only to have their defense falter in the final period.

Jim Dunn and Don Davis spearheaded the SF State attack by slamming in three goals each. Single tallies were recorded by Rusty Mills and Frank Sansot.

As the Gators face Chico State only once during the season, the one win will count for two in the FWC records, raising SF State's season conference mark to 3-2.

Last Thursday the Gators once again were smothered by a more experienced Stanford squad, 15-4.

Dunn was again the big gun in the Gator offense, netting three goals. Jim Murray added the other SF State tally.

Foothill Junior College, the scoring 65 points to SF State's strongest team in northern California, will be the Gators' next opponents tomorrow. On Friday the Gators resume FWC action against UC Davis who handed them a defeat earlier in the season.

Distance runners finish behind LA

SF State's cross country runners finished second in Saturday's triangle meet with LA State and the Cal Aggies.

Chuck Lero led the LA State victory as he charged over the Gators' Lake Merced course in 21:03, a new home course record by six seconds.

SF State team captain Keith Stapleton hit the tape in 21:17, placing second. His was the fastest Gator time that has been run over the Lake Merced course this season.

Cal Aggie distance men lagged behind both teams

44 and LA State's winning margin of 25 points.

SF State thinclads ran within two minutes of each other in the quick-paced, close-packed race.

Following leaders Lero and Stapleton were Gator runners Bob Dalton (21:41), Paul Koski (22:34), George Joseph (22:40), Mike Alter (23:04), Chuck Turner (23:08), and Mike Eash (23:19).

The State cross country team leaves their own misty course for warmer weather at Arcata against the Humboldt State Lumberjacks next Saturday morning at 11:00 a.m.

Win skein stopped

JV booters lose to Spartan frosh

San Jose State's soccer team spoiled SF State's junior varsity's undefeated record last Tuesday, defeating the Gators, 2-1.

Daniel Doniama scored the only Gator goal in the first half but with the contest tied 1-1 he was kicked in the shoulder and taken out of the game.

Doniama's exit proved to be the turning point as State was unable to mount a serious offensive effort after that.

Last Saturday the JV players met the Stanford Indians. The teams compromised, 3-3.

Doniama scored all three goals for the Gators. He has scored nearly 20 goals this season, more than two-thirds of the entire JV tallies.

The junior varsity record now stands at 5-1-1.

Varsity players found success for the first time this season against San Quentin on the prison field when they downed the inmates, 5-0.

Earlier in the week The Gator varsity lost 6-0 to the San Jose State Spartans and 3-2 to Stanford.

In the win over San Quentin the varsity borrowed Doniama from the JVs. He scored one goal.
