

Why are some parents so inconsistent that they will not let their children have candy because they believe it is harmful, but they will give them a car with no thought of the hazards?

It's so hazardous I would not do it if my life depended on ~~it~~ doing it.

Any environmentalist that smokes is a phony.