Dec. 22, 1930.

Dear Miss Morgan :

I judge from Byne's letters that he is rather hopeless of ever getting the Alcantara stuff out of Spain. If he is not, I am, because the revolutionary attitude of the people over there would make it dangerous to go contrary to their wishes.

However, I think we should ask Byne to proceed if ever he gets a safe opportunity.

The thing that I am most anxious to get are the vaulted ceilings, both of the library and the corridors, that we had hoped to make into a wonderful library room for Wyntoon.

I am certainly disappointed not to have this material. But I think we might as well think up some other way of treating Wyntoon.

Sincerely,

W R Hearst
