

FRESNO CITY COLLEGE OLD ADMINISTRATION BUILDING – A VALLEY ICON

Thursday, June 9, 2011 – 6:00 p.m.

Fresno City College Campus

Once threatened and now newly restored, the Old Administration Building on the Fresno City College campus is again alive with school activity. You'll have a special evening to explore the newest reason to be proud of Fresno's past as you join us for an al fresco dinner in the interior courtyard of the OAB. Russ Minick, editor of the book "Fresno City College: California's First Community College," which celebrates FCC's Centennial, will be on hand to share his knowledge of the College's long and distinct history. There is more in store after dinner: you'll be treated to an exclusive tour of The Gary Soto Literary Museum led by author and namesake himself, Gary Soto.
