1979 & 1984 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

The 1979 Cal State Fullerton team celebrates after defeating the University of Arkansas, 2-1, in the NCAA National Championship game. Titan skipper Augie Garrido and first baseman Tim Wallach hold the championship trophy.

Titan players carry Augie Garrido off the field after Fullerton's 3-1 victory over the University of Texas for their second national championship in 1984. As in 1979, the Titans came out of the losers' bracket to win the College World Series.

ON THE COVER

More than 300 players and coaches have contributed to the successful tradition of Titan baseball over the past two decades and their names are listed around Coach Augie Garrido and their major accomplishments -- four regional championship (1975, 1982, 1988, 1990), one national runnerup (1992) and two national championship (1979 and 1984) trophies along with the new on-campus stadium. The stadium was opened on Apr. 18, 1992, with a doubleheader win over Loyola Marymount and dedicated on May 4, 1992, before an 8-2 victory over UC Irvine. The stadium, part of the multi-venue Titan Sports Complex, was built through a unique partnership involving the university, the city of Fullerton and the on-campus Marriott Hotel. There are 1,520 chair-back seats with room to expand.

California State University, Fullerton is a broadly based liberal arts institution that also offers many professional studies such as business administration, education, engineering and nursing. The main campus is located in Fullerton and a Mission Viejo campus was opened in August, 1989. The latter offers only upper-division and graduate courses.

Classes were offered at Fullerton for the first time in 1959 and the first commencement — for five students — took place in 1960.

The University's 25,500 students come primarily from Southern California with many from other states and nations. Most students commute each day to and from classes, although nearly 400 now live on campus in residence halls opened in 1988.

Drawn from throughout the world, the 775-member faculty is noted for its commitment to effective teaching and scholarly activity. Research is actively pursued, typically with students involved.

The University is fully accredited and enjoys national recognition for both its array of traditional academic programs and a growing list of independently accredited professional programs, including art, athletics training, business, chemistry, communications, computer science, dance, education, engineering, music, nursing, public administration, speech and hearing and theater. All told, there are 87 degree programs — 41 of them at the graduate level — plus a wide variety of credential and certificate programs.

Reinforcing classroom instruction is an internship and cooperative education program that allows students to gain on-the-job experience while continuing their regular studies.

Another amenity is the extended education program. It provides classes, workshops, conferences and study tours without the formalities of regular admission to the University.

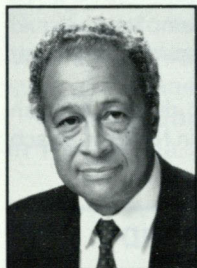

Still another strong point is the University's cultural events program. It includes a series that brings nationally known professional artists to the campus for residencies as well as public performances.

An extensive recreation program aimed chiefly at students, but also open to community members, is another highlight, as is the network of community support groups, including the Titan Athletic Foundation.

Further examples of community outreach are the Ruby Gerontology Center, which serves as an educational and research facility for the study of aging and a meeting place for the Continuing Learning Experience support group.

Through a series of joint ventures started in 1979 with the establishment of the Fullerton Arboretum and continuing with the 1989 opening of the Marriott Hotel, the University and the city of Fullerton are working to complete an on-campus sports complex in 1992. Already in use are two lighted softball fields. When the main part of the sports complex is finished, it will include a stadium for football, soccer and other activities plus a pavilion for baseball.

To reinforce the University's commitment to high academic standards and community services, Cal State conducts comprehensive fund raising. Its purpose is to raise the necessary non-state funding to make a very good university a great institution.

Dr. Milton A. Gordon,
President

Dr. Milton A. Gordon was selected the fourth president of Cal State Fullerton by The California State University Board of Trustees and assumed his duties on Aug. 6, 1990.

His university leadership includes serving as vice president for academic affairs at Sonoma State University for four years, as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Chicago State University for more than eight years and as director of the Afro-American Studies Program at Loyola University of Chicago for six years.

President Gordon also taught at the Illinois Institute of Technology and in the Chicago public schools and served as a mathematician at the University of Chicago's Laboratories of Applied Sciences.

He is a member of the board of the California Coalition for Mathematics and a member of the Orange County Community Foundation, the California State University Growth Plan Commission, the CSU Commission on the Older, Part-Time Student, the California Admissions Advisory Council, the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education.

The President has a Ph.D. in mathematics from the Illinois Institute of Technology, an M.A. in mathematics from the University of Detroit and a B.A. in mathematics and secondary education from Xavier University of Louisiana.

Bill Shumard,
Dir. of Athletics

Bill Shumard is in his second year as Director of Athletics at Cal State Fullerton after a most eventful inaugural year. He had to hire key new personnel and initiate his vision of the role of the athletic department on the campus and in the community while working under drastic budget constrictions handed down by the state and State University system.

Shumard, 42, assumed his post on Aug. 1, 1991. He immediately had to replace two of his associate athletic directors. Brad Holland was appointed men's basketball coach in April and Deborah Ayres (women's basketball) and Mary Ellen Murchison (volleyball) were hired in June.

Shumard instituted a new 10-year gender equity plan for CSUF athletics and helped prepare an accelerated marketing plan to showcase the new Titan Sports Complex that features football/soccer, baseball and track facilities. Generated revenue from marketing, corporate sponsorships, advertising, radio and home event gate more than doubled in his first year. Fiscal integrity has been established as a cornerstone in the department in order to achieve much-needed credibility in the campus community.

"The challenge before us is immense as we seek to set realistic goals and parameters for our program," said Shumard. "But despite the obstacles, CSUF never has been in a better position to realize its true athletic potential as we enter this new era and take advantage of our new facilities."

Shumard called his Fullerton appointment the achievement of a "lifelong personal goal. Because of where we live (Brea), and having children in the process of growing up, this is where I set my sights. I'm a graduate of the Cal State system (Long Beach State, 1972) and my desire was to get back to this level.

"An athletic department run with ethical and financial responsibility can mirror a successful university. It can bring people to the university in a myriad of ways. There are 80,000 Cal State Fullerton graduates living in the Los Angeles area. We've got the opportunity to use our program to bring them back to campus.

"We see our student-athletes as ambassadors and role models to our campus and community. We want to give them the tools to be successful in society after graduation."

Shumard came to Fullerton after three years as an assistant athletic director at USC, where he was part of a five-person team that raised $7 million per year. His projects included supervising 12 regional Trojan Club support groups and staging a dinner in the Los Angeles Coliseum for 3,000 persons to highlight the university's athletic centennial celebration.

Shumard's 13-year career with the Los Angeles Dodgers began in 1975 as an assistant in public relations and publicity. He became Director of the Speakers Bureau in 1977 and was appointed Director of Community Services in 1981. The title was enlarged in 1983 to include Special Events as he supervised a staff of 15 employees responsible for game and community promotions and all publications as well as coordinating the activities of the Dodger Alumni Association.

His first athletics position was as Sports Information Director at his alma mater in 1972 and 1973. He spent the next two years at Cal State Los Angeles where he was an assistant professor in journalism and physical education, was advisor to the campus pep groups and served as manager of the Athletic News Bureau.

Shumard recently was appointed to the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Sports Council, which seeks to bring top-flight sporting events to Southern California. He also is on the Board of Victory Ministries and the executive committee of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Shumard's athletic career ended as a freshman quarterback at Compton Junior College, where he obtained his Associate Arts degree in 1970. Bill and his wife, Kim, live in Brea. He has three sons -- David, 21; Matt, 17; and Mike, 14.

HEAD COACH AUGIE GARRIDO

Head Coach Augie Garrido hasn't missed a beat since returning to the helm of the Cal State Fullerton baseball program. After three seasons at the University of Illinois interrupted what is now a 17-year tenure with the Titans, Garrido logged another conference championship in 1991 and in 1992 led the Titans back to College World Series and a second-place finish.

Garrido's return to Fullerton coincided with the beginning of construction of a long-awaited on-campus stadium. The "Field of Dreams" facility was used for the first time on Apr. 18, 1992, in a doubleheader victory over Loyola Marymount and was formally dedicated on May 4 as CSUF alumnus Kevin Costner threw out the first pitch before a crowd of 2,054 that overflowed the 1,520 theater-style chairs.

The ninth winningest coach in collegiate baseball, Garrido spent 1988 through 1990 as head coach at Illinois, where he built the Illini into a national power and led them to their first Big Ten Championship in 26 years. He compiled a record of 111-57 and twice took the Illini into the NCAA playoffs (1989-90).

At Fullerton, Garrido has captured a pair of national championships, five regional titles and 13 conference crowns including 11 in a row from 1974 through 1984. These accomplishments only scratch the surface of the success story he has written at Cal State Fullerton.

Garrido, 54, has served with equal professionalism his student-athletes, his institution and his sport while developing a nationally prominent program at a university which has existed for just over 30 years. He has sent scores of players into the professional ranks (18 to the major leagues through 1992) while bringing CSF its first men's Division I national title and serving as an articulate and respected voice in the promotion of collegiate and amateur baseball.

Garrido ranks No. 9 among active Division I coaches with 968 victories in 24 seasons. His lifetime mark is 968-464-7 (.675) and his Fullerton record is 747-331-6 (.692). Three times (1975, 1979 and 1984) he has been selected National Coach of the Year. His average of more than 40 victories per season is the fourth highest in NCAA history, and in a survey of major league directors of player development, Coach Garrido was rated one of the nation's top three teachers.

The Titans have strung together 19 consecutive winning seasons while typically playing as difficult a schedule as anyone in the country. Eleven years in a row (1974-84), Fullerton won or shared its league championship and went on to post-season play. In 1985, Fullerton won the southern division championship of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association but lost a playoff series at Fresno State. In 1986 the Titans finished third and in 1987, Garrido's squad finished first in the PCAA but finished second at the South Regional in New Orleans.

A native of the San Francisco Bay town of Vallejo, Garrido attended Fresno State University (1959-61) and was an all-conference performer for Coach Pete Beiden. He signed a contract with the Cleveland Indians and played six years in their minor league system before retiring in 1966 to accept a coaching position at Sierra High School in Tollhouse, California.

Garrido moved up to the collegiate ranks in 1969 as head coach at San Francisco State (25-14) and then spent three seasons at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo (85-62-1), where he earned a master's degree in 1968.

Despite being situated in the heart of baseball-rich southern California, Fullerton had enjoyed only limited success in the infant years of its intercollegiate baseball program. But that began to change in 1973 when Garrido arrived. After one losing season (19-33-1), he began producing nothing but winners. And in 1975, the Titans asserted their new prowess by winning the NCAA regional tournament at USC and advancing to the College World Series in Omaha in their first year of Division I play.

It took until 1979 for a repeat Fullerton performance in the CWS, but the Titans didn't waste the second opportunity. The Titans came through the consolation bracket to beat Arkansas, 2-1, for the NCAA championship. They repeated as national champions in 1984, beating Texas, 3-1, in the title game.

Garrido's baseball interests carry beyond the college schedule. His 1979 team took a goodwill mission to Taiwan, he managed in Alaska summer leagues, he operates a successful instructional camp for youth and is in great demand as a speaker. Garrido also spent the summer of 1990 as an assistant coach with Team USA.

Garrido also serves as an assistant athletic director with an emphasis on fund raising. He is single, resides in Newport Beach and has a daughter, Lisa, 27.

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH GEORGE HORTON

Associate Head Coach George Horton played a major role in the success of the 1992 Titans' season. He was in charge of most of the pitching and offensive strategies involved in game situations. He will relinquish the offensive duties to Garrido and concentrate on the development of the Fullerton pitchers.

Horton returned to Cal State Fullerton after coaching at Cerritos College where he guided the Falcons to three junior college state championships in six years.

Horton, 39, compiled a 226-53 record at Cerritos and won the California state championship in 1985, 1987 and 1989. Each of those years he was selected National Junior College Coach of the Year. His best season was 1987 when the Falcons went 46-5. He had a South Coast Conference record of 102-28 (.785) and was a four-time So. Coast Conference Coach of the Year (1985, 1987, 1989 and 1990).

He had many players graduate to the major leagues including Brian Hunter, who played for the Atlanta Braves in the 1991 World Series. Other names include Mike Benjamin with the San Francisco Giants, Craig Worthington with the Baltimore Orioles, Ever Magallanes, Al Osuna, Bret Barberie, Louis Medina and Jeff Hearn.

Horton was a member of the Cerritos College team in 1972 and '73. He was a member of the 1973 State Championship team. He won the most inspirational award in '72. In 1973 he was the Falcon team captain and won the Dallas Moon Award. Horton played two seasons for Garrido at Cal State Fullerton in 1975 and 1976 and won All-

SCBA honors as both a junior and a senior. He was on the first team to ever go to the College World Series in 1975. He batted .308 as a junior and .290 as a senior while playing first base. He graduated in 1978 and went on to earn a master's degree in 1980 at Cal Lutheran.

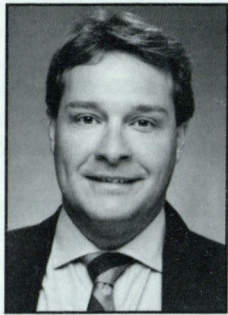

Horton's coaching career began at Cerritos in 1976-77 and he went to Los Angeles Valley College where he coached with Long Beach State coach Dave Snow, the following three seasons. In 1980, he moved back to Cerritos as an assistant to Gordie Douglas before taking the head job in 1985. In addition, he coached during the summer for the Fairbanks Goldpanners (1981 and 1983) in Alaska and the Hutchinson Broncs (1982) in Kansas. A few famous names played for him on those summer teams such as: Shane Mack, Odibbe McDowell, Joe Magrane, Dan Plesac, Phil Stevenson and Roger Clemens.

Horton and his wife Francie have three daughters -- Michele (13), Heather (9) and Rebecca (2). Horton and his family reside in Yorba Linda.

ASSISTANT COACHES AND SUPPORT STAFF

Rick Vanderhook

Rick Vanderhook is in his sixth season with the Titans as a coach. "Hook" will coach the outfielders and set the defense. He is also Fullerton's recruiting coordinator. He and the rest of the staff did an outstanding job landing hot prospects such as Jon Ward, Andy Weltlinger, Kyle Evans and Ted Silva.

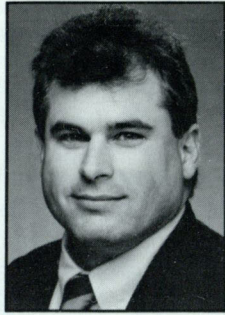

Vanderhook, 31, coached the Titans from 1985 to 1988. After serving as a bullpen coach and working with the pitchers and catchers in 1985 and 1986, he stepped into the third base coaching box in 1987 and worked with the hitters and defense in 1988. He spent 1989 and 1990 with Coach Bill Kernen at Cal State Northridge.

Vanderhook has coached for Fairbanks in Alaska and the Goldpanners finished third in the nation in 1986.

He came to Fullerton in 1983 and redshirted his first season with the Titans. He was also a member of the Titans' 1984 national championship team. He also played at Cerritos College for Coach Horton.

Vanderhook is single and resides in Lakewood.

Rick Stassi
Strength & Conditioning Advisor

Rick Stassi begins his second season as the pre-season and in-season conditioning advisor. He is also the 'dietician' for the team.

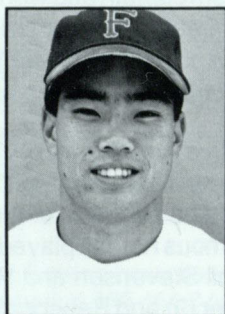

Mike Kirby
Equipment Manager

Mike Kirby is in his third season with the Titans and oversees most of the field maintenance at Titan Field and set up for games and practices.

Linda Shimamoto
Administrative Assistant

Linda Shimamoto begins her 10th season with coach Garrido. Linda oversees the day-to-day work in the baseball office.

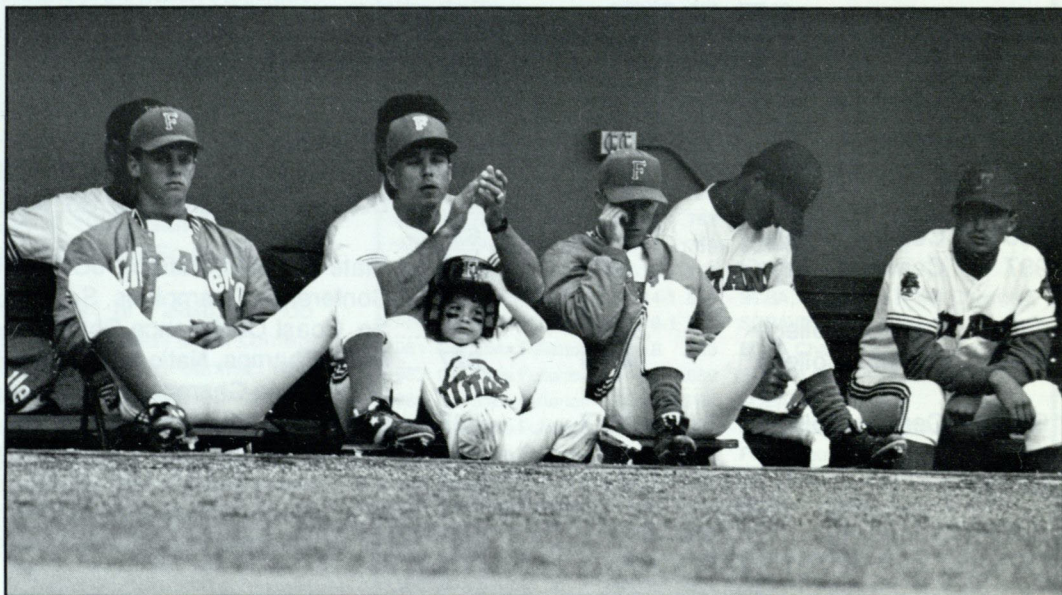

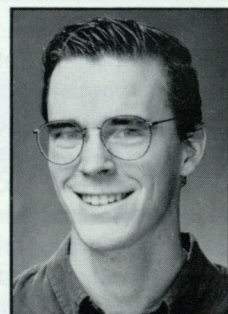

Mark Shimamoto
Equipment Manager

Mark Shimamoto, 24, came to Fullerton as a player in 1987 and redshirted. Possibly the only five-year player in the history of Cal State Fullerton, Mark oversees much of the practice and game-day set up on the field and is responsible for the equipment that is issued to the players.

Tim Murphy
Baseball Media
Relations Director

Tim Murphy, 27, serves as the media liaison for the Titans' baseball team for the fifth consecutive year making him No. 2 in continuous service in the program behind equipment manager Mark Shimamoto.

Joe Martelli, shown here in the dugout behind his batboy son Marco, begins his second season as Fullerton's volunteer hitting instructor. Martelli, a CSF grad, played on the 1978 and 1979 teams. He played an intricate role in Fullerton's first NCAA Championship season.

1993 SEASON PREVIEW

Despite the loss of top-notch talent such as Phil Nevin, Jason Moler, Steve Sisco, James Popoff and Dan Naulty to the professional ranks, the 1993 Cal State Fullerton baseball team features a solid blend of veterans and eager youths who are hungry for another trip to Omaha. More than half of this season's squad got a taste of playing against the best teams in the nation at the College World Series in 1992 and they are looking to get back and capture a third national championship for the Titans.

Junior catcher Bret Hemphill (.236, 6 HR, 26 RBI), senior shortstop Nate Rodriguez (.284, 0 HR, 20 RBI) and sophomore first baseman D.C. Olsen (.261, 3 HR, 18 RBI) are the only three players returning at the positions that they played in 1992. Four other regulars with at least a game of NCAA championship play under his belt will start at a new position. Senior Jeremy Carr (.359, 1 HR, 19 RBI) moves from the outfield to second base, sophomore Dante Powell (.307, 5 HR, 32 RBI) moves from left to center field, senior Tony Banks (.300, 9 HR, 51 RBI) moves from the designated hitter/right field positions to left field and junior Jim Betzsold (.290, 5 HR, 22 RBI) moves from first base to right field. Only one newcomer is expected to start for Fullerton -- Adam Millan (Cerritos College) will be either the DH or catcher.

Fullerton's pitching staff is young but experienced. With the additions of a mixture of talented JUCO pitchers and outstanding freshmen, the staff is well rounded and prepared to do battle against some of the top teams in the nation in '93.

Sophomore Mike Parisi (5-1, 3.09 ERA) is the frontrunner for the No. 1 spot in the rotation with sophomore Derek Fahs (3-2, 4.37 ERA) and junior transfer Dan Ricabal (Cerritos College) probably rounding out the starting three. Two freshmen look to make an immediate impact on this season's staff in the persons of Jon Ward (Huntington Beach HS) and Ted Silva (Redondo Beach HS). With an arm injury to junior Tony Fetchel (2-1, 2 saves, 2.87 ERA), junior transfers Kimson Hollibaugh (Sacramento City College) and lefthander Chad Rolish (Orange Coast College) look to be the stoppers on this year's staff.

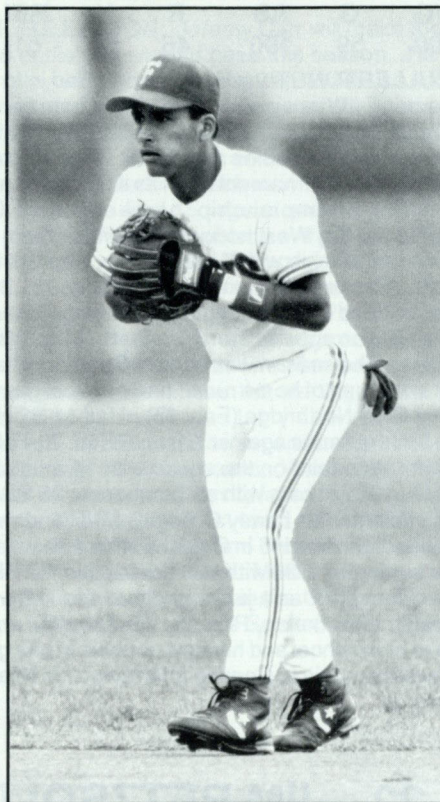

The following is a look at the lineup position-by-position:

CATCHER:

Picked by Baseball America as the fourth best catcher in the nation, Hemphill will start for the Titans but will be pushed by junior transfer Millan. Freshman Brian Loyd (El Dorado HS) will be the backup to both this season.

FIRST BASE:

Olsen will start for Fullerton at first and will be relied on to supply a majority of the power in the lineup. A talented local freshman, Kyle Evans (Katella HS), will back up Olsen as will Betzsold.

Returning shortstop
Nate Rodriguez

Returning outfielder
Dante Powell

SECOND BASE:

With an incredible summer in the Cape Cod League (he broke the league record with 47 stolen bases), 1992 NCAA South I Regional All-Tourney player Carr will start at second for CSF. Changing from the outfield to second also increases his chances of being drafted at the end of the season. Junior Steve Hernandez (Orange Coast College) will be Carr's backup.

SHORTSTOP:

Rodriguez showed the country he was among the nation's elite shortstops last season as he was selected to the '92 All-College World Series team. He is possibly one of the best defensive players in his position. Sophomore Jeff Ferguson (.405, 0 HR, 8 RBI) will back up Rodriguez should he fail to play because of an injury.

THIRD BASE:

Ferguson will get the nod as the starting third baseman during the '93 season. The sound-hitting infielder showed a lot of promise in fall drills that he will be able to fill the shoes left by Nevin. Junior transfer Craig Skyberg (Consumnes River JC) will back up Ferguson at third.

LEFT FIELD:

Banks is slated to play the season in left. The 1992 NCAA South I Regional All-Tournament DH moves to a permanent position in the Titan lineup. The speedy freshman, Evans, will back up Banks in left.

CENTER FIELD:

The pre-season All-American Powell moves from left to center field this season after having an outstanding freshman season. He was named to the first-team All-Big West Conference team (the only freshman on either the first or second team lists) and was named Freshman All-American by Baseball America. Freshman Scott Allen (Millikan HS), Powell's ex-Millikan teammate, will back up Powell in center.

RIGHT FIELD:

Betzold will move from the first base position to right field this season. Betzold was knocked out of NCAA tournament play last season in a collision at home plate against LSU in the South I Regional. In addition to backing up Banks in left, Evans will be the back-up right fielder.

DESIGNATED HITTER:

One of three players is penciled in to start at the DH spot: Millan, Hemphill or Betzsold.

BIG WEST CONFERENCE

Dennis Farrell
Big West Commissioner

The 1993 season will be No. 9 for the Big West Conference under the current alignment which blended teams from the Southern and Northern California Baseball Associations although two teams will depart, UC Irvine dropped the sport and Fresno State left for the Western Athletic Conference, and Nevada will take the place of Fresno State. It resembles the football and basketball alignments of the institutions in what was called the Pacific Coast Athletic Association through the 1988 baseball season.

The end result is one of the most competitive baseball leagues in the nation. At least one team from the Big West Conference has represented the league in each of the last five College World Series tournaments. Since realignment, four different schools have won or shared conference titles: Fresno State in 1985, 1988, 1989 and 1991; Cal State Fullerton in 1987, 1990 and 1991; Long Beach State in 1989 and 1992; and UC Santa Barbara in 1986.

1992 SEASON REVIEW

A one-run defeat.

That is all that separated Cal State Fullerton from a magical baseball season in 1992. The Titans had to settle for No. 2 in the nation after a 3-2 loss to Pepperdine in the final game of the College World Series in Omaha.

It was the only disappointment in a campaign that saw a group of individuals mold themselves into a close-knit team, Kevin Costner dedicate the long-awaited on-campus stadium and Phil Nevin collect every individual award that wasn't nailed down.

"If someone had told me before the season that I could feel good after losing the national championship game by one run, well, I wouldn't have believed it," said Coach Augie Garrido. "Pepperdine played a remarkable game. But what was memorable was how this team brought itself together. The tears at the end were not of defeat, but came from the realization that the season was over and that this team would never again play together."

The mental turning point came very late in the season, after the Titans had let the Big West Conference championship slip away with their uncanny ability to lose on Sunday. They never lost a Big West series, yet because they swept only one -- UNLV -- they had to settle for second place behind Long Beach State. With an at-large bid to the NCAA playoffs seemingly assured because of their 38-15 overall record, the Titans prepared to practice for the post-season. But Coach Garrido called it off.

"We told them it was a waste of time," said Garrido. "The coaching staff wasn't going to waste its time on a bunch of selfish individuals."

It was left up to the team leaders, most notably senior Jason Moler, to bring the group together. They conducted their own practice sessions and the team was physically ready and mentally improved when they were seeded No. 3 in the South Regional Tournament at Baton Rouge, home of the defending national champion LSU Tigers.

Fullerton's luck in Louisiana had been mixed. The Titans had gone 3-0 to lead California to a win in the 1988 Busch Challenge in the Superdome. But they had finished second to LSU in the 1987 regional at New Orleans, splitting four games.

The Titans started quietly, beating Ohio State, 3-2, with a run in the bottom of the ninth inning. Then they became dominant. Dan Naulty and Marcus Nelson combined to shut out Tulane, 8-0, and set up the inevitable battle with the host Tigers. It was no contest. Freshman Mike Parisi threw five shutout innings and Paco Chavez pitched four more. The Titan defense made all the plays behind them and the offense lit up the best of LSU pitching for an 11-0 romp that eliminated the Tigers. The rematch with Ohio State never materialized as the Titans mauled the Buckeyes, 13-1. The victory completed the sweep of the regional by a combined score of 35-3 and sent the Titans to Omaha for the seventh time, where they were seeded No. 4 behind Miami, Wichita State and Texas.

Under the revised CWS format, the Titans found themselves in a four-team bracket with Miami, Florida State and California. Naulty pitched well and Nevin hit a grand slam and drove in six runs as the Titans beat the Seminoles, 7-2. Fullerton fell into the losers' bracket when Miami's Jeff Alkire beat the Titans, 4-3.

The combination of Parisi and Chavez turned in another shutout and the Titans took advantage of 11 walks to eliminate Florida State, 6-0. To stay alive, the Titans had to beat Miami and retiring coach Ron Fraser twice. The first game was relatively easy as the Titans scored early and often and held on for a 7-5 victory. The second was made more difficult by the elements. Constant and often driving rain poured down but James Popoff ignored the slippery mound and wet baseballs to hurl an 8-1 victory that ended late Friday night.

The next morning the sun broke through the clouds and only a brisk breeze marred a post-card perfect day for the CBS cameras and a national audience. Pepperdine had gone through its bracket unbeaten and had a rested pitching staff headed by Orel Hershisser clone Pat Ahearn. The Titans countered with Naulty, who was staggered in the first inning for two runs. An inches fair double was the key but catcher Jason Moler prevented another run with a block of home plate that would have made Mike Sciossia's highlight film.

Fullerton pushed across one run against Ahearn but Pepperdine countered against Chavez in an unlikely fashion as shortstop Erik Ekdahl hit his first home run of the season into the wind just over the low-porch in left field. Fullerton loaded the bases in the eighth inning for Moler, who hit the ball hard to right centerfield. But the wind didn't do much with it and the sacrifice fly left Fullerton down, 3-2. Tony Banks then appeared to be the hero, rapping a crisp ground-ball toward right field. But second baseman Steve Rodriguez made a diving stop and accurate throw and the Waves were destined to win their first national title.

Nevin became the first player from a non-championship team since Minnesota's Dave Winfield in 19xx to win the Most Valuable Player Award after hitting .526 with 11 runs batted in. Joining him on the All-CWS team were Moler, shortstop Nate Rodriguez, outfielder Chris Powell and Popoff. For Nevin, the Big West Conference Player of the Year, it was the third major individual achievement of the week. Earlier, he was selected College Player of the Year by Baseball America and was the first player chosen in the amateur draft by the Houston Astros. Later he would be selected to the U.S. Olympic squad along with Moler, who was injured on the eve of the Games and missed the trip to Barcelona, and would go on to win the Golden Spikes Award from the United States Baseball Federation as the top amateur player in the country.

The Cal State Fullerton baseball tradition had a most humble beginning, starting out as a club team and playing on a field literally scratched out of an orange grove. Only the wildest dreamer would have foreseen a program that now features two national championships, seven regional titles, 13 conference crowns and 18 alumni with major league playing experience.

It's been a memorable three decades since Beryl Kempton and Warren Beck brought the program into the world. Bill Fulton nursed it into adolescence and Augie Garrido guided it into maturity as Titan baseball developed into a national power. Larry Cochell kept the tradition alive with two College World Series appearances in his three-year tenure at Fullerton and Garrido hasn't missed a beat since he returned in 1991 after three seasons at Illinois.

Kempton was the university employee who graded the field out of the orange trees. Home plate sat near the old orchard residence, a brick structure now known as "Football House." It's reportedly the second oldest existing residence in the city and has housed the Titans' football coaching staff.

The first-base line ran north and the third-base line went to the west, paralleling what is now called Gymnasium Drive. A split rail and wire mesh screen served as the outfield barrier.

Beck, a member of the faculty, was the inaugural coach. He fielded a "club" team which played local junior colleges and "pick-up" teams from neighboring universities in its maiden season.

In 1965, the program became a full fledged intercollegiate sport with Fulton serving as the head coach. He led them into play in the California Collegiate Athletic Association and set the groundwork for the success of the 1970s as he battled Cal Poly San Luis Obispo, UC Riverside, Cal State Northridge and Cal Poly Pomona.

The catalyst to greatness was Garrido, who arrived from rival Cal Poly SLO and began developing a second field situated farther to the north. A new backstop, batter's eye and such "luxuries" as electricity for the pitching machines provided Garrido the most basic of tools.

After a rebuilding year in 1973, the Titans began establishing their successful tradition in 1974 by winning the CCAA championship.

The 1975 season saw a move up to Division I status and entry in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association. But the surging Titans didn't miss a beat. They won the PCAA championship by one game over Pacific and then strolled onto Dedeaux Field on the campus of the University of Southern California and won the NCAA Western Regional, depriving the Trojans of a shot at a sixth consecutive NCAA championship.

Fullerton's first trip to Omaha for the College World Series was brief, to say the least. The Titans lost their first two games, to Arizona State and Oklahoma, and were sent flying back to Los Angeles. But the experience would pay benefits.

1979 National Championship celebration

Fullerton repeated as PCAA champions in 1976, this time by a comfortable four games over San Diego State. But then came realignment of the league. The 7-team Southern California Baseball Association was formed by Fullerton, Cal State Los Angeles, San Diego State, Pepperdine, Loyola Marymount, UC Santa Barbara and Long Beach State. Pacific, Fresno State and San Jose State became part of the Northern California Baseball Association.

The new schedule failed to disrupt the Titans' championship rhythm, although they had to share the inaugural SCBA title in 1977 with Cal State L.A. Fullerton lost a one-game playoff with the Diablos but gained an at-large NCAA bid where they lost in the regional title game to Washington State in Pullman.

There was another SCBA title in 1978 and regional elimination at USC before the Titans struck paydirt in 1979. They parlayed another SCBA crown into a national championship but they did it the hard way.

Fullerton lost the regional opener at Fresno but came back through the losers' bracket, finally beating UCLA twice to earn a return trip to Omaha. Again, the Titans lost the opener, this time to Mississippi State. But a confident Garrido still liked his team's chances and they proved him right. They won five games in a row including a 2-1 verdict over Arkansas for the NCAA championship, the first title for Fullerton in a men's sport in Division I play.

The fruits of victory did not include a home playing site worthy of a regional tournament, so Fullerton began in 1980 a frustrating streak of post-season play. The Titans won the SCBA title again but had to go to Tucson, where the host Arizona Wildcats won the regional on their way to the NCAA title. In 1981, the Titans won the SCBA but lost in the regionals at Tempe to the hosts, the eventual national champion Arizona State Sun Devils.

Fullerton avenged the defeat, however, knocking off the highly regarded Sun Devils in their own backyard after another SCBA crown in 1982. However, the third trip to Omaha proved less than charming. Fullerton set a dubious record, becoming the first CWS team not to score as the Titans were shut out by Wichita State and Maine and hustled home.

In 1983, the Titans shared the SCBA crown but lost a one-game playoff to UC Santa Barbara for the automatic NCAA tournament bid. No matter, the Titans' 49-19-1 record earned them an at-large berth and another trip to Tempe, where the Sun Devils prevailed.

A slow start in 1984 after a couple of late summer professional signings stripped the pitching staff of its depth left Fullerton's reign in the SCBA teetering. But a realignment of the infielders seemed to work wonders and the team caught fire. A surge that would see the Titans win 37 of their last 42 games carried all the way to Omaha and a second NCAA championship.

Again, the road to Omaha was via Fresno, where the Titans survived a "Murderers' Row" field of USC, San Diego State and the host Bulldogs of Fresno State and won the regional in 100+ degree heat.

At Omaha, venerable institutions Michigan, Miami, Arizona State, Oklahoma State and, finally, the University of Texas, stood in the way of a second NCAA title. In a World Series dominated by the hitters and their aluminum bats, the Titans showed a national ESPN audience there was quality if not quantity on the pitching mound. Todd Simmons, Jack Reinholdt and record-setting reliever Scott Wright did yeoman's duty and left it for diminutive lefty Ed Delzer to turn in the performance of his life and beat Texas, 3-1, in the title game.

There were other heroes, however. John Fishel set a CWS record for hits and won the Most Valuable Player Trophy. Kirk Bates delivered a crucial bases-loaded single to help beat ASU. The Titans outslugged Oklahoma State behind a bases-loaded triple by Tom Thomas and a two-run double by Bob Caffrey to earn the winner-take-all rematch with the Longhorns, where John Bryant stole a base to set up the tying run and tripled for the key hit in a two-run fourth inning.

The 5-foot-7, 133-pound Delzer allowed a couple of infield hits in the first inning for a Texas run but that was to be all. He pitched a near-perfect game until leg cramps forced him from the mound to open the eighth inning. Enter Wright, the NCAA's most prolific reliever ever. He slammed the door for his 22nd save.

Defending the title proved too much for the 1985 Titans to handle. Competing in the Southern Division of a reconstituted PCAA, the Titans finished in first place in their division but the pitching came up too thin in a playoff series at Fresno State that decided the league championship and the NCAA Tournament's automatic berth. And, with the nation's most difficult schedule taking its toll on an overall 36-32-1 record, the Titans did not get an at-large bid and were left out of the playoffs for the first time in 11 years.

By most school's standards, the 1986 season was a successful one. The Titans posted a 36-21 record and won the Best of the West Tournament in Fresno as part of another challenging schedule. But, for the second year in a row, there was no league title nor NCAA playoff berth as the season turned on one inning. Fullerton blew a 6-2 lead in the ninth inning at home vs. UNLV on Apr. 5 and could never recover from the loss, finishing in third place behind UC Santa Barbara and UNLV.

When Fullerton opened up the 1987 season losing five of its first six games, PCAA rivals thought Fullerton's dominance had ended. But despite a schedule that saw them play all the contenders on the road, Fullerton roared through the league schedule, winning 12 of its first 13 games on its way to an 18-3 PCAA mark and a five-game margin over surprise runnerup UC Irvine.

The Titans' regular season record of 42-15 earned them a national ranking as high as No. 3 and sent them to the NCAA playoffs with a berth in the South II Regionals in New Orleans. The Titans were the top seed against five Louisiana schools and drew the No. 6 seed, Southern University from Baton Rouge. Representing a conference that never had won an NCAA playoff game, the Jaguars nevertheless got a brilliant pitching performance from converted reliever Allan Ratliff, who beat CSF, 1-0, in a bizarre game that saw no infield chances for Southern. Ratliff handled a bunt and a comebacker and all the other outs were via fly balls or strikeouts.

Thrust into the losers' bracket, the Titans resorted to their deep pitching staff to outlast all but Louisiana State. Mike Harkey shut out Tulane and Larry Casian did likewise to Louisiana Tech. But Longo Garcia, the hard-luck loser to Southern, couldn't handle the Tigers and the Titans had to settle for a 44-17 season.

The 1988 season brought a changing of the guard, but no deviation in the Titans' success story. Garrido resigned and headed for the University of Illinois where a lucrative financial offer and the challenge to build a winner in a cold weather location proved irresistible. Cochell left the cold of Evanston at Northwestern University and headed west.

After an inconsistent start, the new combination clicked and the Titans won 30 out of 35 games before losing a home series and the conference championship to Fresno State. But an at-large NCAA bid was tendered and Fullerton parlayed it into a return trip to Omaha by winning the South Regional in Starkville, Mississippi. Mike Ross hit a 3-run home run with two outs in the bottom of the ninth for a 6-3 win over Texas A&M after the Titans had beaten the host Bulldogs twice in their own stadium.

Fullerton continued its winning ways in a revised CWS format in Omaha with well-pitched victories over Stanford and Miami. But Longo Garcia and Mark Beck couldn't repeat their feat and Stanford came back through the losers' bracket to drop the Titans to third place with a pair of Cardinal victories.

Despite the presence of All-Americans Brent Mayne and David Staton, the 1989 Titan team endured Fullerton's worst season since 1973. The Titans finished in the second division of the Big West at 10-11 and the overall record was 30-27.

The end of a dynasty? Rival coaches thought so and picked the Titans to finish fifth in the Big West in 1990. Instead, the team romped to its first conference title since 1987 and rode that momentum to an impressive sweep of the Central Regional at Austin, Texas. Twice the Titans beat the host Longhorns on their own turf to earn a sixth trip to Omaha.

They crashed at the CWS, literally. Outfielder Rich Gonzales collided with the left field wall and concern for his health distracted the Titans in losses to Oklahoma State and The Citadel.

Cochell accepted a lucrative offer to coach at Oklahoma and create an opening for Garrido's return in 1991, a year the Titans would use Amerige Park in downtown Fullerton for games and practice with construction underway on a new stadium.

Fullerton started the year in its traditional fashion -- slowly. The latter part of the season looked grim as the Titans entered conference play with a 15-12 record. But in keeping with Titan tradition, Fullerton ended the season on a high note winning 10 of its final 12 games and clinching a share of the conference championship, the second title in as many years.

By virtue of head-to-head competition Fresno State gained the automatic berth to post-season play. The NCAA Selection Committee didn't look upon Fullerton's strong finish as being good enough to earn an at-large bid to tournament play. The snub left the Titans at home but provided motivation for the 1992 squad.

The Titans had a dream season in 1992, one that seemed destined to result in a third national title. They opened the long awaited Titan Stadium in April, saw Fullerton alumnus Kevin Costner throw out the first pitch at the inaugural game and blew through an NCAA Regional tournament at defending national champion LSU only to come up one run short to longtime rival Pepperdine in the national title game televised by CBS.

Last season also marked the end of one of the most remarkable athletic careers in Fullerton history. Phil Nevin, who was an outstanding kicker and punter for the football team for three years, was selected Baseball America's Player of the Year, the College World Series MVP (the first player from a non-championship team to win the award since Dave Winfield did so in 1973), Big West Conference Player of the Year, was the first player picked in the amateur draft by the Houston Astros, started at third base in the 1992 Olympics for Team USA and became the second Titan (Tim Wallach in 1979) to win collegiate baseball's most prestigious prize, the Golden Spikes Award, from the U.S. Baseball Federation.

With a sound nucleus returning for 1993 and the acquisitions made in the off-season by the coaching staff, Fullerton looks to be more than competitive in the revamped Big West Conference. With Fresno State leaving for the Western Athletic Conference, the extinction of UC Irvine's program and the new arrival of Nevada, Fullerton looks to be challenged primarily by perennial power Long Beach State.

FORMER TITANS IN THE MAJOR LEAGUE

Eighteen products of the Cal State Fullerton baseball program have worked their way into major league box scores with several more stars of recent Titan teams waiting in the wings for their opportunity.

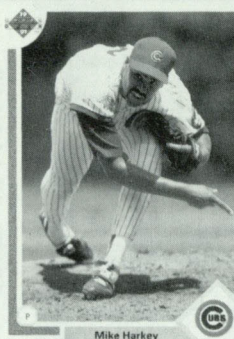

The first Titan to play in the major leagues was left-handed pitcher Dan Boone, who broke in with the Angels and Padres after helping Fullerton into the 1975 College World Series and then made a dramatic comeback with Baltimore in 1990. He was followed by Dan Whitmer at Toronto (1976) and California.

The biggest name came next as Tim Wallach, the 1979 College Player of the Year, broke in with the Montreal Expos. He has played in several All-Star Games for the National League including the 1989 Classic in Anaheim.

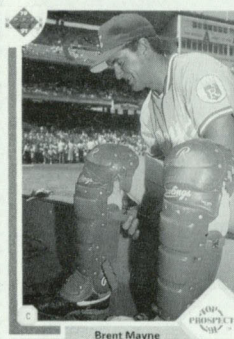

Arriving at the 'Show' in the mid-80s were right-handed pitcher Jeff Robinson with the San Francisco Giants, Pittsburgh Pirates, New York Yankees, California Angels and Chicago Cubs; outfielder Andre David, who hit a home run in his first at bat for the Minnesota Twins; and outfielder John Christensen with the New York Mets, Boston Red Sox, Seattle Mariners and the Twins.

Left-handed pitcher Greg Mathews burst upon the scene in St. Louis in 1986 to become a valued member of the Cardinals' starting rotation. He started in the Championship Series for the Cardinals. Recurring arm problems have plagued his career and he is now playing in triple A.

Getting his debut in 1987 was Bill Moore with Montreal before the Titan Alumni Club exploded in 1988 with five additions. The most heralded was pitcher Mike Harkey, who was starting at Wrigley Field for the Chicago Cubs 16 months after his last Titan appearance. He was selected USA Today's Minor League Player of the Year in 1988 but suffered a knee injury during spring training and missed the Cubs' 1989 divisional title team. In 1990, he was the Cubs' No. 2 winner and placed fifth in Rookie of the Year balloting. He spent the 1991 season rehabilitating a shoulder injury and returned to the Chicago rotation in 1992.

Earlier in the 1988 season, former Titan reliever Mike Schooler surfaced with the Mariners and he has become their top stopper and one of the best in baseball. In Philadelphia, Shane Turner was one of the players who tried to fill the shoes of Mike Schmidt at third base. In Houston, John Fishel, the MVP of the 1984 College World Series, was part of the Astros' futile run at the NL West flag before being traded to the Yankees. Kevin Reimer started in more than 100 games in right field for the Texas Rangers in 1991 and DH in 1992.

Arrivals in 1990 were outfielder Dann Howitt with the Oakland A's, catcher Brent Mayne, who was Kansas City's first-round draft choice in 1988, and lefthander Larry Casian, a 1987 draft by Minnesota. Both made starting appearances in nearby Anaheim Stadium.

Two other familiar names made their first appearances in 1991. Andy Mota was called up by the Astros and his brother Jose played in over 30 games at second base for the Padres.

Among the former Titans hoping to make the jump in 1993 are third baseman David Staton, a triple crown winner for the Padres in 1990; infielder Mike Ross in the St. Louis chain and Domingo Mota who was recently traded from the Dodgers to the Royals.

MESSAGE TO CAMPERSDear Baseball Friend:

We're looking forward to having you at our new facility, Titan Field, on the campus of Cal State Fullerton in the summer of 1993 with great anticipation.

Our camps provide a comprehensive baseball instructional program and also have exciting activities away from the field such as a trip to Dodger Stadium.

Our camps are not designed to turn every youngster into Jose Canseco or Darryl Strawberry. What we strive for is self-improvement. One of our warmest moments occurred a few seasons ago when one youngster, with limited ability, was able to improve his running speed in the 60-yard dash after spending the week at our running station. His self-image was greatly enhanced and his parents later told us that his grades and school conduct also improved dramatically after our camp.

We also stress teamwork, developing a positive attitude and fun in each of our camps. Baseball is a game and you should enjoy playing it. The better player you become, the more fun it will be.

Our instructors are made up of the Titan staff, players and junior college and high school coaches from the surrounding area.

Hundreds of enthusiastic youngsters in Southern California attended our previous camps, and we intend to develop the same high quality camp in 1993. For those who join us, we look forward to a meaningful learning and fun experience!

Best regards,

Augie Garrido
Camp Director
