All is right with me and I cannot seem to perform the few situations correctly. What does it mean? Music has not as simple, yet I fall short of ability. Or has the ability fallen? Can such a thing happen? I am quite content with life today. In school, Al's family is getting on. Might this be the turning point in my life. I am often entranced and fascinated by performance in music?

I am at past years I've ~~seem~~ to realize I've had the wonderful exciting world of music left & I've also learned the heartache side. Being filled with so much ambition for having it up his spirit and character not stalling ^{me} speaking to a ^{man} of serious intent. Dear Johnny - he is music & he wanted to give the world to me - but rather, I chose to be with Al. What has deep within my conscience. I have seen life give me the courage to say this one night for the music may ~~seem~~ cease tomorrow. I feel of feeling and becoming weak.
