

CSUCI's Center for Multicultural Engagement
& Center for Community Engagement present...

APRIL 2008 EVENTS

APRIL 1:

Dolores Huerta

APRIL 2 & 3:

Paul Flores

APRIL 1

Sacrifice, Opportunity, and Hope:
Lessons Learned from the Bracero Program, 1942-1964

Join us for a panel discussion exploring César Chavez's work with United Farm workers and personal experiences of working with César Chávez. The panel will feature Frank Barajas, Associate Professor of History at CSUCI; Barbara Macri-Ortiz, Oxnard lawyer and activist; and Lupe Anguiano, community activist. Panel moderator will be Associate Professor of English, Julia Balen. Refreshments will be served.

When: Tuesday, April 1, 2008
Where: Malibu Hall 100
Time: 10:30am-12:00pm

.....

Celebrating a Legacy of Service and Conviction

United Farm Workers co-founder and activist Dolores Huerta will speak about her lifelong commitment to service and the importance of individual and community activism. Included in this event will be performances by Inlakech Ballet Folklorico Program and local artist/performer Manuel Unzueta. Food and refreshments will be served. Parking is complimentary for this event only in lots A10 and SH2.

When: Tuesday, April 1, 2008
Time: 7:00pm - 9:00pm
Where: Malibu Hall 100

APRIL 2

Voice of a Generation

Nationally recognized Chicano poet Paul Flores will be coming to Oxnard to speak his rhyme. The Center for Community Engagement and the Center for Multicultural Engagement will host San Francisco poet Paul Flores, a past performer on HBO's Def Poetry Jam, as he weaves spoken word, theater and hip-hop around issues of social justice.

When: Wednesday, April 2, 2008
Where: Cafe on A
438 South A Street
Oxnard, CA
Time: 7:00pm - 9:00pm

All events sponsored by:

I.R.A. funding,
CSUCI Martin V. Smith School of Business,
CSUCI Office of Extended Education,
CSUCI Osher Lifelong Learning Institute, CSU-
CI MEChA,
CSUCI Student Programming Board,
Cabrillo Economic Development Corp.,
Barbara Macri-Ortiz,
& Carmen Ramirez

APRIL 3

Spoken Word Performance Workshop

Come learn from nationally recognized spoken word poet Paul Flores, featured on HBO's Def Poetry Jam, as he leads a workshop for students who want to learn more about performance poetry, hip hop activism and using your words to create social change and impact.

When: Thursday, April 3, 2008
Where: The Hub
Time: 5:00pm - 6:30pm

.....

Rhyme for a Reason:
Social Justice Poetry Slam

Don't Mince Your Words, Deliver Your Message, Come Speak Your PEACE at the Social Justice Poetry Slam. Come for a night of words, music and fun. Open mic or sign up at the Multicultural, Women's & Gender Student Center. MC will be nationally recognized spoken word poet, Paul Flores. See you there!

When: Thursday, April 3, 2008
Where: The Hub
Time: 7:00pm - 9:00pm