Vol. 24 No. 15

An Active Senior Community

Pleasant Valley, Camarillo, California

August 15, 2003

Safety Drill a success; too many 'no flags'

By Ken Curry
Co-Chair, ESO

The Village Safety Drill on July 17 was innovative and successful in that Search & Rescue, Radio Communications, and First Aid were well organized and performed their basic functions as planned.

The LVA Board of Directors, along with qualified advisors, manned the Command Post in the Pavilion, and Certified Ham Operators maintained contact with the Cobra radio operators in each Village, who were busy assessing simulated damage throughout the 2,136 homes.

An improved data bank of the disabled population was constantly reviewed by two computer operators. The 44 Village Coordinators radioed in their discoveries of pre-planted "emergency icons," (signs: house on fire, first-aid needed) throughout Leisure Village, as well as reporting the "no-flag" addresses of non-participants in each Village.

Sadly, there were 278 homes without any flags this time. This was far too many, even for mid-summer. It indicates that a lot more effort is needed to properly support the volunteers who are practicing for a real disaster or emergency — to provide necessary assistance for everyone in this Village. By contrast, the two Villages sporting and pre-testing the new red ribbon "Donnel Flags" participated to the fullest.

"This was like a normal emergency drill for anywhere in this country — in school, business or industry — but some of our residents still don't understand that all of these exercises are for their own best interest and personal safety," exclaimed

Ken Curry, Co-Chair of the ESO. "We must emphasize how important it is for everyone to participate, for everyone to back up and support their volunteer helpers.

"Some residents may need more notification. Others either forgot, didn't notice, or didn't care enough to put out their flags. Next time, this organization just has to do a much better job of promotion and education so that everyone is aware and participates!"

The drill was scheduled

LV's 30th birthday party is Sept. 18

By Jack Whalen

It has been 30 years since Leisure Villagers started moving into what now is a park-like retirement development with some 3,500 seniors. Your Historical Committee thought it fitting that we mark the occasion by honoring our 14 Pioneers, those who were the first 100 to purchase a home and/or move in at an early date.

While the party is four weeks away, the next issue of Inside Leisure Village will be distributed the day after our celebration — just too late to publicize the event. We also feel it is an excellent time to inform folks outside our gates, through the media of press and TV, that we are a vibrant community whose volunteerism extends not only to cities in Ventura County, but reaches the steps of our Capitol in Sacramento.

Camarillo Mayor Charlotte Craven will issue a Proclamation on that date,

Thank you, thank you, Miriam Hasen, for your creative vision in producing, directing, script-writing, choreographing the dances and casting 25 talented people, all of which resulted in the terrific and beautiful Players Guild program on July 17.

It was received very enthusiastically by the audience.

Miriam deserves much credit for her tireless efforts with individual performers and dancers. She held numerous rehearsals in the AR as well as in her home. She outfitted everyone with costumes, blocked each scene on stage, arranged for the people needed for stage scenery, music tapes, sound and lighting, and the endless details she managed herself.

So, Miriam Hasen, many thanks again for your tremendous efforts in presenting such a delightful, enjoyable show!

Few of us Villagers realize the wonderful services and facilities we have right here at our fingertips.

I had a few problems no one could solve until I contacted the marvelous men in the Woodshop. I must give a thousand thanks to Paul, as my telephone liaison, to Sid for his contribution, and especially to Onni Manni for his tremendous efforts, concern and time in solving my big problem.

How good it is to know such caring people with such big hearts and knowledge of their work.

Irene Hall's home is filled with the Christmas spirit all year long.

Winter Wonderland in V. 14

By R. Carol Sweeney and Jack Whalen

Village 14 is easily our smallest Village, with only 17 homes, but it is big on the holiday spirit in mid-summer.

Irene Hall's home, second on the left as you enter Village 14, is currently enjoying a Christmas spirit that leaves one in awe.

Irene, an inveterate traveler, has created a series of villages that create warm feelings, no matter the age. As you enter her home and turn left, a giant Christmas tree stands tall with hundreds of ornaments, many from foreign lands.

Upon entering her living room, on a piano is her "showplace," an Alpine Village with a Charles Dickens theme of times long ago.

Turning left is a village composed of creatures made of mushrooms, nearby is a mouse village, and peeking out from her den is a raccoon village.

Clearly, Irene has her feet planted in the real world, while her "inner child" loves to celebrate Christmas from around the world with a cast of many creatures. Thus far, she has held three open houses with friends from the Village as well as church friends and others from Ventura County and the San Fernando Valley.

With well over 1,000 pieces, she will keep her display in place until early 2004. And if you have not seen her outdoor display, just wait until early December, she says.

As we left, we asked Irene what drives her in this labor of love, and her answer was simple.

"I do this in the spirit of goodness, making people happy."

bell so that the walkers would have a gentle reminder that the bicycle is coming up behind them.

— Dora Cronyn, V. 15

This is in response to the letter of Felice Perkins, which appeared in the July edition of ILV:

Everything in her letter concerning reverse mortgages was true or close to the truth. That being said, it is still a valuable alternative to many residents, whether they use the funds for Village payments or other reasons. There is no generalized answer to use a reverse mortgage. It is not for everybody, especially if you are a candidate for an extended care facility.

The sums loaned are merely a percentage of your equity based on the actuary of the youngest of the owners, usually the wife. The remaining equity is sometimes quite substantial, depending on the value of the house. Right now, interest rates are extremely low, and the rate that the equity is receding to pay the loan is very slow.

One thing is sure. You will always remain in your home as long as one spouse is alive with no out of pocket loan payments.

I think Mrs. Sweeney's recommendation is not frivolous and may be a godsend for some people.

I am not a broker or lender, but I have taken advantage of this kind of loan. If you need some information, please call, or I can recommend experts.

— Hal Chenetz, V. 44

Mr. Miller, at the last Open Board Meeting on July 7, stated he hoped that the new Board of Directors would find it in their hearts to serve in harmony and civility — that old "can't we all just get along."

I would like to offer a solution to any problems that may arise with future Boards: Eliminate two members from the Board of Directors, leaving three members plus the General Manager.

The reasoning behind this proposal is that for the past several years there has been a clique controlling the election process. This clique consistently votes (looking for guidance from the General Manager) in lockstep, leaving the other members out of the process.

There is nothing wrong with cliques; they exist in most organizations. Cliques succeed when the majority sits on their hands and accepts the status quo. This majority does not want to get involved or be bothered with the workings of the organization. They accept what the clique does and says and are content as long as they are left alone.

This is why I am suggesting the elimination of those Board members outside of the clique. In the future, we should have only those members in the clique along with the General Manager to insure Mr. Miller's request for a loving and harmonious Board of Directors.

— William Kidder, V. 17

The Emergency Services Organization has been very busy since the beginning of the year. We have had our weekly Thursday-night roll calls for both Cobra and Amateur Networks in the Village. Art Thomson has added 17 new Village Coordinators (all of which total 44) since January. Five more would equal half of the 44 total.

Art and I have replaced the very effective Kelwin leadership team and appointed Ray McAtee in charge of the Search and Rescue Team after the sudden death of George Stutsky. We have transformed the Village into six emergency sectors which provides improved tactical response procedures. More members of ESO participate in Camarillo VOAD (Volunteer Organizations Assisting in Disasters) meetings, and we welcome back the Board of Directors to our Command Post, along with the Security Chief and the General Manager.

All five of these Board members have worked with the Leisure Village ESO in the past, and most of them have a great deal of experience in handling emergency and disaster work outside of this village, as well. Clair Huffman has been a long-time member of the Emergency Services Committee and Board Liaison; Jack Prosen and Bob Ellis are former Village Coordinators; Dick Griswold was part of the ESO organization; and Mike Shapiro has a long background of working with ESO programs and supply budgets. More importantly, these Village leaders have conducted safety and disaster preparation programs before their Leisure Village retirement — for the military, business, industry, and government.

Everyone in this Village stands to benefit, and the volunteers in the ESO are well-pleased. Of course, there are two sides to this coin. Early on the morning of the July 17 Disaster Drill, this Board of Directors arrived at the Pavilion and started asking questions and expressing concerns and seeking solutions about some of the problems that the ESO has been working hard to resolve. In particular, on their way to the Command Center (30 minutes before the Drill), the Directors noted a lot of homes without the "A-OK" flags out in front. "Why?" they asked, almost in-unison. We explained a few of the problems of transitional new leadership and told them we were testing a new Red-Ribbon Flag which had brought an excellent response in another village at the last drill.

"Where?" they asked, and then took off and walked to the neighboring Village 6 to see for themselves.

And then, when the Drill was over and the Debriefing Session was winding-down, Dick Griswold took the microphone. He offered appreciation to the many volunteers but also expressed his concerns. He then requested a written report about the "No Flag Count" because resident safety and well-being is very high on the Board's priority list.

Now, part of this report has been written: a graph showing the "no flag count" for each of the Villages. The list is for both of the last two drills (Feb. 20 and July 17) and has been submitted. The count was bad in some of the Villages. Not participating in a safety drill is a little bit self-defeating and not very mature. Retirement is certainly no excuse for ignoring the safety procedures of this Village. It's so easy to read pages 8 through 12 in your Village Phone Book to understand how vital it is to quickly assess this Village's need after an earthquake or a major wind and firestorm, when the cell phones are oversaturated, the power is off, and your neighbors need help.

The flag count is how the ESO can request emergency vehicles or teams, right away, by radio. We have been highly commended by DART (Disaster and Rescue Teams) and by the City of Camarillo for our early-alert procedure. We use 44 Cobra radio operators and several Ham radio operators, plus a computer data base about our disabled and caregivers to get this important data to the emergency people who need to know about it in a hurry.

We have an equipped First-Aid and Medical team with gurneys and cots. We have RV backup. We have a new, insulated storage center with distribution carts, courtesy of the Women's Club. And there are many important efforts underway, especially building and strengthening our "buddy system." But we honestly need and would appreciate 100 percent resident support whenever we are conducting our volunteer-training emergency drills.

Residents should not say, "We're retired. We're old. We would do it if there was a real emergency." Some people forget what to do in a chaotic situation, even in our Leisure Village. Some people seem to think that putting out a flag about three times a year is a real imposition, regardless of all of the work and constant preparation that the volunteers are doing for them, for each and every resident. Even on Sept. 11, 2001, many people were saved because they had walked down those twin tower stairs on many previous occasions just to be prepared.

Our next drill is in October. We know that we are going to do much better, come next October. We know that there will be a lot more promotion when we announce the drill for next October. We know that all of our new residents and all of our new Village Coordinators and Phone-Tree Helpers will do a much better job in October! We know that this Board will want another report about October! We know that we will have more Villages with red-ribbon flags up at the October Drill! In fact, we just might have to use an old movie title for that next Drill: "The Search for Red (Flag) October."

Most Villagers will still be using the regular white or colored rag flags until enough of the ribbons are assembled by volunteers and distributed to one Village at a time.

in the middle of July. The ESO almost canceled out because of the number of people away from home at that time.

"It was decided that we really ought to see what would happen in an emergency situation where we would be understaffed and when many residents would be away. This created some unexpected handicaps and mistakes, as well. But, this is why safety drills are conducted under different circumstances. They are learning experiences for the volunteers and for the residents," said Co-Chair Art Thomson.

Throughout most populated spots everywhere in America, there are frequent disaster safety drills. They are for violent fire storms, high winds, hurricanes, tornados, and especially bad earthquakes in this part of the country. No Villager ought to ignore these short, infrequent (three times a year) safety drills. Being retired is no excuse for ignoring safety.

There are more than 100 volunteers in active service for each of these drills and they expect resident support. Some of these volunteers are the phone-tree helpers who phone five neighboring homes to remind residents to put out an "A-OK flag" so that the local Village Coordinator can save time and quickly go by and check the other homes which might be experiencing difficulties in a real disaster. This flag-check is the speediest method for assessing needs throughout the 2,000-plus homes in Leisure Village.

Also, in the Village Phone Book, on Pages 8 through 12, there is a helpful outline on how every resident should be prepared for a real disaster situation: medicine, food, water, lights, pets and other personal needs.

For the first time in Leisure Village, the new Red Cross First Aid "Triage Tag" was introduced into this simulated emergency drill. Information radioed in by Coordinator Fred Sass was forwarded through the Radio Shack to Nurse Gertie Lupo to identify an emergency victim's needs. This valuable new procedure will be expanded in future drills.

Gale Blanchard positioned his RV at one of the six sector locations in the Village and participated in forwarding Cobra and Ham Radio Communications to the Radio Shack by the Pavilion and then on to the LVA Board at the Command Center. "Hot spots" were identified on a large Village map with color-coded thumb tacks, and decisions were made as to what actions should be taken.

All of the Board Members visited Village 6, nearby, to see the 100 percent cooperation and effectiveness of the new red-ribbon flags which were paid for by the Your Neighborhood Care Group. Chuck Donnel and his flag committee assembled these flags with two Velcro hangers: one for the stucco and one for inside the garage or other storage location.

After the drill, the volunteers gathered in the Pavilion for a debriefing session. Several good ideas were generated from the experiences of the volunteers for future drills.

and she and other city officials plan to attend our party.

Our AR doors will open at 2 p.m., but we urge you to arrive a little before then. Expecting perhaps 300 to as many as 400, we will have a line that starts in the Village Garden, winds through the Garden Room, down the hallway to the AR doors.

Actually, the line will be in the form of chairs. Staff members will give each person a stick-on name-tag. Inside the AR we will have a maximum number of chairs allowed.

At about 2:15 p.m. the program will begin with General Manager Randy Watkins leading the Pledge, followed by LVA Board of Directors President Jack Prosen introducing Mayor Craven, followed by short talks by city officials.

Jack Whalen will introduce each of our Pioneers, and we may well have a surprise for them.

Then, Anniversary cake and refreshments will be available. Our Pioneers and other guests will be at the head tables, and we trust you will visit with them.

L.V. Exercise Group

By Milt Mankoff

The Leisure Village Exercise Group continues to attract many new residents. Dedicated member volunteers lead the exercise program each Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 9 a.m. at the Pool Pavilion. Annual dues are only $3 and membership allows participation in all the social activities of the group.

Plans are under way for the annual Potluck Dinner at the end of October.

Attendees make up their own tables of 10 and plan their own menu for that table. This makes it possible for them to enjoy their favorite foods and everyone eats at the same time. Contact Shiprah Maller for table reservations. There is no charge for members.

All residents are welcome to join the Leisure Village Exercise Group. "Start your day the exercise way!"

Once again, it appears that all our gardeners have been busy and the gardens productive. It is always a thrill to enter the garden area and see our wonderful green bountiful garden. Hope everyone has enjoyed a safe and fruitful summer.

Billiard Club

By Milan Weiss

The Billiard Club players are enjoying the summer play. Even though there will be no meeting in August, many members are playing and still get together in the Billiard Room.

It has been stated that the 9-Ball Tournament was a fun tournament, and there will be more! Club president Sam Kay, Jr. is working on details for the Fall 8-Ball Tournament. This tournament normally has the most amount of entrants.

Billiard playing lessons have been given and are producing more and more outstanding players. Additionally, the club is working on an evening clinic of Shot Making and Strategy, a continuation of interesting information and demonstration.

This information is submitted as advance planning information of your active club. Time and dates of events, when finalized, will be shown in your home on Channel 8.

Concerned Homeowners

By Ed Olson

The Concerned Homeowners Club met on Tuesday, July 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Sun Room. Mr. Jerry Bankston, City Manager of the City of Camarillo, was the guest speaker. He explained ways in which Leisure Village might "piggyback" on major contracts with the city. It was a highly informative meeting and many questions were asked by the audience.

"Piggybacking" is a term used when smaller communities, such as Leisure Village, add the need for major purchases to contracts of larger communities, such as the City of Camarillo. These can include street and sidewalk paving, equipment, tree pruning and removal, security patrol, insurance and bond issues. We would benefit from their professional staff and engineering in the preparation of bids and contracts. It costs us nothing. We would gain the city's purchasing power and professional skills, to our financial benefit. Camarillo actually "piggybacks" with other cities, which is a well accepted practice.

Board of Directors Huffman, Prosen and Shapiro attended and participated in the meeting. The matter of "piggybacking" is, therefore, now handed off by the club to the Board for further consideration and action.

Finally, a lively discussion of insurance matters ensued, which resulted in the decision to invite the Insurance Committee to attend the next meeting on Tuesday, Aug. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Sun Room. All homeowners are invited to attend and take part in learning more about this and other matters of importance to the future of Leisure Village.

RV Club

By Charlie Hartman

A special August meeting for all RV Club members has been called for Tuesday, Aug. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Multipurpose Room. Please attend if you can. The prime topic of discussion will be the annual barbecue and picnic scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 20.

Ruth and Lee Truman were hosts at Sizzler's in Camarillo for the July RV Dinner and, as expected, all had a good time.

For those who missed last month's Inside Leisure Village: Just a reminder that Betti and Ken Hendrickson are wagon masters for the Sept. 12-15 campout at Flying Flags in Buellton. Barbara and Gerry Stone, along with Helen and Charlie Hartman, are also working on the Oct. 24-26 outing at Rancho Oso north of Santa Barbara.

Solo Club

By Marion Jayne

Solo Club faced hot weather with our Annual Picnic on Aug. 8 indoors in the AR: no wind, no sun, no bugs. It was free to members, who enjoyed the catered food and the company.

In September, we go out to the Olive Garden for a special dinner on Sept. 11 at 5 p.m. Reservations are necessary before Sept. 8. Call Marion at 484-5112.

Business meetings are held monthly on the third Friday, Sept. 19, in the Sun Room at 1 p.m. Bring a brown bag lunch at 12:30 p.m. for social time. Beverages are provided.

Watch for our bingo pot luck on Oct. 10. Information: Marion, 484-5112.

Keyboard Club

By Joyce Turner

Residents, members and friends who attend our monthly meetings are looking forward to welcoming more Villagers who would enjoy a variety of keyboard entertainment. All will enjoy an hour of special music selections. Delicious refreshments will be served. Join us on Friday, Aug. 15, at 1:30 p.m. in the AR.

Players Guild

By Ginny Naspo

The next Players Guild Club meeting will be on Thursday, Aug. 21, in the AR. The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. and the entertainment will begin shortly after. It is a one-act comedy play written by Neil Simon and called "A Defenseless Creature," directed by Bob Freedman and featuring Phil Diamond and Mike and Clarice Shapiro. It is a very funny skit that will certainly tickle your funny bone!

The September meeting will be on the third Thursday of the month, Sept. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the AR. The workshop program will be directed by Ginny Naspo, assisted by Sally Yale. The theme will be "A Spinoff of the musical, 'South Pacific.'" The setting is on a paradise island in the South Pacific during World War II. The selection of songs is from the movie — songs that we have all heard and enjoyed.

The July workshop program was a Broadway Extravaganza directed by Miriam Hasen. It was enjoyed by all. The cast performances were outstanding. If you missed it, it will be aired on Channel 8 on Aug. 27 at 10 a.m. and again at 5 p.m.

Our hats are off to Sandy Gibson, Program Coordinator, who has encouraged so many new volunteers to participate in the monthly workshops. If you have not already signed up as a volunteer and want to join the fun, call her at 484-7697. That's what the Players Guild Club is all about, to entertain and to be entertained by your peers! Come join the fun, and refreshments too!

"There are new faces, about 60 volunteers, and a great deal of interest in the Players Guild, with many people willing to participate in the monthly workshop programs. It's wonderful!" says Gibson.

This has been a great year with so many new participants. We are now starting to plan for next year and are looking forward to getting more members involved. The last session that Sandy Gibson had was very successful, so she has decided to repeat it again in order to plan next year's workshops.

This session is for any Players Guild member who is interested in learning what it takes to put on a Workshop Program. The agenda will be discussions covering the guidelines and steps to follow in producing a workshop program. Anyone interested will be given printed guidelines and steps to follow.

The "How to Produce a Monthly Workshop" session will be held in the MPR on Aug. 28 at 1 p.m. In addition, next year there will be two people producing each workshop — a mentor and an apprentice. That should make it easier all around for everyone. The session is open to all Players Guild members. All are welcome.

Single Active Seniors

By Joni Neckerman

Movie night for the Single Active Seniors on Aug. 19 features "About Schmidt" at 7 p.m. in the Social Annex. The comedy stars Jack Nicholson as a newly retired widower and Kathy Bates as an aging flower child.

The following week's gathering is game night Aug. 26, with tables set up in the Social Annex for Manipulation and other games selected by participants.

News and Views returns Sept. 2 in the MPR. The Sept. 9 meeting in the MPR features Lillian Mankoff, who will draw on her background in social work to discuss grandparenting and other topics.

The group invites all single residents to its programs each Tuesday at 7 p.m. Information on current meetings is available on Village bulletin boards and Channel 8 or by calling Zelda Greentree, president, at 389-9694.

L.V. New York Club

By Bob Sklarz

The August meeting was a picnic for members only. Details will be in the next issue.

A letter was received from the 30th Anniversary Party committee asking for a donation. A check for $50 was delivered to Susan Rockwell, Recreation Director, who turned it over to Chairman Jack Whalen. Although devoted to New York, we never forget we are from Leisure Village of Camarillo. Toward that end, at our next meeting Sept. 4, at 7 p.m. in the AR, we will be collecting food and clothes for the R.A.I.N. Project in Camarillo. The club will also make a cash donation. Members will remember we did this several months ago and are urged to be as generous.

Plans were announced for future activities. These include a trip to Hollywood Park in November and another trip to the Chumash Casino later.

Remember food and clothes for the R.A.I.N. Project, Sept. 4. You do not have to be a member to contribute to this worthy cause.

Garden Club

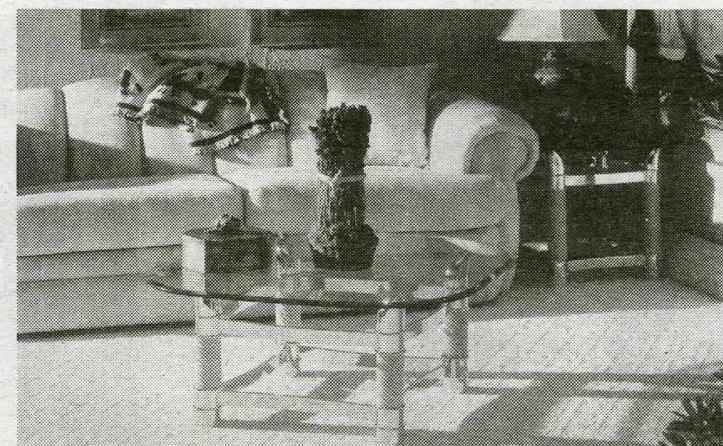

By Jane Needle

The annual Garden Club picnic was held Aug. 14 in the Pavilion area. Hill Street Cafe served a delicious sit-down dinner, which was enjoyed by all. Steve Norris on the keyboard provided entertainment.

Our next meeting will be Sept. 11, and the speaker will be Jim Moore from Food Share. Jim will explain how the program is managed and all the benefits of participating in a worthwhile cause.

Social time is 9:30 a.m.

Ready for a Hawaiian vacation? Get your muumuu on and come to the AR on Thursday, Sept. 4, at 1:30 p.m. for some very enjoyable music and dancing.

We will be entertained by the Wilson Street Strummers led by Annette Takahashi. This is a group of seniors who furnish music on the guitar, ukulele, and violin, along with lots of singing and dancing. Muumuus for members are optional, of course, but wouldn't it be fun if we had an audience full of colorful Hawaiian-clad members? Do come and enjoy the afternoon.

Remember also that the Sewing Workshop meets every Tuesday from 9 to 11 a.m. in the MPR. Labor Day is Sept. 1 and we will simply have the "run" rolling. Tuesday, Sept. 2, will be our monthly Open Board meeting at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 3, will feature, at 10 a.m. only, the Music Appreciation program with Vivian Florian. This is a must-see or tape it.

Tuesday, Sept. 8, for our 7 p.m. show of the month, George Huddleston has selected "Fiddler On The Roof." This is the acclaimed Players Guild "best," a two-hour super show.

The Players Guild show of July 17, "This Is Broadway," will play Friday, Sept. 12, at both 10 and 5.

Showtyme's feature of Henry Samuels, the harmonicist, will play on Monday, Sept. 22, both at 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., while Sig Jaffe will be featured on the late Larry Sawyer's show, "Shared Experiences."

Friday, Sept. 26, will feature, both at 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., LV Emergency Services on Security, and we will close the month on Monday, Sept. 29, both at 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., with an oldie, "LV Lifestyles."

L.V. Mens Golf Association

By Mannie Abbate

On Aug. 7, we played Regulation Golf at River Ridge Golf Course after skipping it for a year. The course is building another 18-hole tract so they will have 36 holes by next year. Hopefully they were kinder to us old guys this time.

On Aug. 28 we will play Mountain View Golf Course. On Sept. 18 we play Buena Ventura Golf Course with a 9 a.m. start time. Looking ahead we have a regulation tournament on Oct. 8 at Soule Park Golf Course, and we play the Shotgun Tournament with the Women's Club on Oct. 31 at Soule Park too. Sandwiched in between we have the Oct. 23-24 Solvang Tournament at the River Course so we have plenty of "long golf" coming up.

The ladies are hosting the Mixed Tournament and 19th Hole party on Sunday, Aug. 31. They have invited a country music vocalist to entertain us. Mark your calendars now and watch Channel 8 and the bulletin board for further information.

President Bob Hinkle has again requested that you look around your Village for new residents who are playing regulation golf outside the Village but do not belong to the LVMGA and therefore do not play in our regulation tournaments or our Home Course tournaments. We should get them to join us. We must pick up new members to replace those we are losing by attrition. The Village is going to be 30 years old next year and many of the original members are gone or unable to play.

You may have noticed the covered can that Ted Rose has been bringing to meetings and leaving at the starters window on Tuesday mornings. This is there to collect donations for our 30th Anniversary celebration next year. When you sign in to play on Tuesdays and when you attend the monthly meetings it would be helpful if you dig a little deeper and make a contribution to the fund. The more we collect the better we will celebrate.

Grandma's Computer

Submitted by Celia Gordon

Grandma's on the net again,
The kitchen's not her home.
She used to make us cherry pies, and
Call us on the phone.

She would talk to us for hours;
Now she leaves us all alone.
We want to talk to Grandma, but Can't get her on the phone!

We miss her homemade biscuits, and
I'll make this little bet;
If you want to contact Grandma,
You'll have to surf the net.

Grandma's surfing now you know,
She's surfing on the net.
We've been calling her all morning, and
We haven't got her yet.

She's on the e-mail network,
With her 'lectronic friends.
If you want to talk to Grandma,
Make sure that you hit 'send.'

She never surfed at Malibu,
Or caught a wave at Waikiki.
She's never seen a surfboard:
To her, Hang Ten's a water ski.

She's never met a beach-bum,
Noon Doggie's just a pup.
But when she heads for her computer,
You know the surf is up!

Grandma's getting older and
Her eyes are growing dim.
Her random access memory,
Is half of what it's been.

When St. Peter comes to call someday,
She'll say, "I can't go yet."
He'll have to wait for Grandma,
Cuz she's surfing on the net!

The poker game

Six retired Floridians were playing poker in the condo clubhouse when Meyerwitz loses $500 on a single hand, clutches his chest and drops dead at the table.

Showing respect for their fallen comrade, the other five continue playing standing up.

Finkelstein looks around and asks, "So, who's gonna tell the wife?"

They draw straws. Goldberg picks the short one. They tell him to be discreet, be gentle, don't make a bad situation any worse.

"Discreet? I'm the most discreet mensch you will ever meet. Discretion is my middle name, leave it to me."

Goldberg goes over to the Meyerwitz apartment, knocks on the door. The wife answers and asks what he wants.

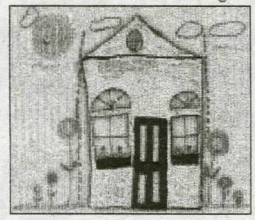

Goldberg declares, "Your husband just lost $500, and is afraid to come home."

The wife says, "Tell him to drop dead!"

"I'll go tell him," says Goldberg.

Last year's CC&R changes regarding LV insurance created a very serious problem for us, LV homeowners, in that we don't know exactly what coverage we need for our HO-6 Homeowner Insurance — nor are we able to convey this need unambiguously to our insurance providers.

For almost a year now, several attempts have been made to get the LV Board and the LV Insurance Committee to identify and provide the required information. Ed Evans made a valiant effort in his letter to ILV on Jan. 17 to identify (with our General Manager's help) some of the items that HO-6 should cover. That was a good start, but the list is far from complete and is not official!

What the homeowners need from LVA specifically, and in writing, is:

What parts of our home structure, and what items — attached to our structure or not — need to be covered by the HO-6 homeowner policy.

The above list must also be accompanied by a clear statement that LV insurance does not cover these items.

This is required by HO-6 providers to make certain that homeowners are insured for these items!

The reason for this latter requirement arises from my personal experience. When I submitted to my HO-6 insurer a (partial) list of items that LV insurance would not cover (based on some statements voiced by previous Boards) — such as drapes, wall cabinets, wall paint, carpets, etc. — I was informed, in writing, that my HO-6 insurance will cover only those items that my LV insurance policy specifically excludes!

Unless our Board provides this information, we may be in a terrible spot should a disaster strike. I ask all homeowners to join me in this appeal to the Board.

— Edward I. Hawthorne,

As I drive around Leisure Village, having lived here for almost four years, I still get such a good feeling — a combination of pleasure and tranquility. This feeling is enhanced and becomes very apparent whenever I return from keeping appointments or visiting friends in the Valley and confronting the horrific traffic congestion. This unpleasantness is augmented by the drive down to the Valley on the freeway and being confronted with the typical cowboy drivers, zipping in and out of their lanes, and narrowly escaping an accident waiting to happen.

I often question myself whether this is just a sign of my getting older, fear for my life, or just being set in my way of thinking.

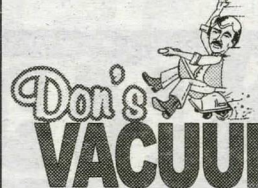

Nevertheless, I'm happy that this pleasurable feeling comes over me upon my return home.

This feeling of contentment is augmented each morning when I take my morning constitutional and receive all those friendly waves and "good mornings" from the people I pass. I'm so lucky to live in a place like this, and I certainly hope you feel the same way.
