Invitation To Visit Our New University

By Ed Hawthorne

Leisure Village residents may now ride the shuttle bus from the Camarillo AMTRAK station at Lewis Road to the campus of our new University, and back, for free. All we have to do is show our Village name tag to the driver. This generous offer was made in a letter from our California State University at Channel Islands to our Board of Directors. This arrangement is valid at least through March 31.

The shuttle buses run every half-hour Monday through Saturday—every 15 minutes weekday afternoons.

Future Of Inside Leisure Village In Doubt

By Marge Lorraine

Lois Atz, coordinator of ILV, suffered a stroke Monday, January 31. Lois has single-handedly been responsible for getting ILV published since June 1999. Prior to that time, Atz and Betty Murray shared the responsibilities. Ill health forced Murray, who has stayed on as consultant, to resign as coordinator.

If ILV is to continue, there must be four people willing to be coordinators. Twenty years ago when ILV began, there were six coordinators rotating the post. Currently besides Atz, there is one in training. The job is interesting, exciting, and when done every three or four months, fun. Done monthly or semi monthly, overwhelming. Anyone volunteering for this post will be trained by Lois and Betty and supported by an excellent staff.

At this time there are a number of reporters, editors, and typists, although more are always welcome. The critical area is the coordinatorship. Without more volunteers, this may be the last issue.

INSIDE LEISURE VILLAGE

A DEMOCRACY REQUIRES PARTICIPATION: VOLUNTEER

Among the many perks we covet by living in Leisure Village (besides location, climate, security, facilities, services, etc.), is the opportunity to participate in the organization, planning, and leadership of activities, in the upkeep and beauty of the Village, in the financial health of the corporation.

In other words, this is a democracy, which means that participating in committee work is essential. Some committees require specialized experience for membership. Other committees require just good sense and a willingness to cooperate in the goals of the group.

Since Villagers have already demonstrated superior intellect by choosing to live in L.V., it is accepted that most of these people have the basic qualifications for good committee membership. Do not let an innate shyness stop you from applying, or the excuse that you aren't "settled." Those boxes won't go away if you spend a few hours a month getting acquainted with activities and ideas and people (new friends) associated with committee work.

Enrich your life in L.V. This is an "active" retirement community. Do not just vegetate.

Volunteer! Applications are available at the Recreation Center. At least, visit a meeting or so of your choice. Times and places are listed on Channel 8.

Creative people, consider volunteering for INSIDE LEISURE VILLAGE. Do it this week. Call Marge Lorraine 389-9683 for particulars.

ABOUT NEXT MONTH

Deadline for the March, 2000 issue will be Monday, March 6, 2000 at 5:00 p.m. To arrange for a photographer, call coordinator at least 3 days in advance. Do not call photographer. Type copy double space or submit hand written material early to allow for typing.

Thank you all my friends who were so helpful to me during my recent accident.

Florence Berman, V. 7

Bert and I are truly grateful to our dear friends and neighbors for their help and good wishes while I was in the hospital and now that I am getting better at home for their visits and goodies.

Louise Isenberg, V. 22

I am totally overwhelmed by the volume and sincerity of the notes, cards, calls, visits, gifts, food and offers of help received during my recent surgery and recovery. I have many times said that it was just dumb luck that brought me to the Village 16 short months ago. I now know that the luck way overshadows the dumb. Thank you, thank you, thank you to all of my wonderful friends!

Nancy Kuebel V. 9

RESIDENTS' OPINIONS

To all L.V. friends, thanks for all of your get well wishes, both by mail and phone.

John Lacy V. 44

For the many cards, visits, phone calls and matza ball soup. Thank you one and all for caring.

Jackie Sinatra V. 20

My family and I wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all of our friends and neighbors for their consideration and compassion following the passing of my husband Gerald O'Farrell. I can't begin to tell you what a difference your thoughts and visits have made to my daughters and me at this time. We thank you all.

Evelyn O'Farrell V. 41

DO IT RIGHT

If the Village planning experts deem it necessary that the swimming pool have a third walking lane, please, at least, get it right! The 31/2 ft. depth along the East side would be too shallow.

Exercising in water is beneficial because of its resistance to movement. In 3 1/2 ft. depth, the water would reach the waist of an average size person. To get beneficial resistance for either walking or exercise, the water needs to be at upper chest depth. Also, wet upper body exposure during much of the year can be uncomfortably cold. Currently, most people walking widths are in 4 to 4 1/2 ft. depth, just inside the blue tile line, which is 12 ft. from the end.

If the depth in the planned configuration started at 4 feet, the walkers would then not be interfering with swimmers in the next lane.

Kay Murray, V. 4

LOOKING AT CHANNEL

By Jack Whalen

The staff of Channel 8 certainly knows that the loss of audio, as has happened a few times recently, is cause for frustration by viewers and hand-wrenching by the staff.

It is important to stress that the volunteers of Channel 8 work many hours trying as hard as can be to make every program run as smoothly as possible. For example, when audio failed at a recent Board meeting, George Huddleston and Art Kaufman spent two full days tracking down the problem.

Remember all staffers on Channel 8 are volunteers unlike NBC's Channel 4 for example, which has at least 50 paid employees for a news program, and they, too, have goofed.

Yes, Channel 8 does try hard to please its viewers.

ACADEMIC OLYMPICS

By Bill Himstreet

The biennial Camarillo Academic Olympics, now in its 16th year, involving students in grades 4 through 8 enjoyed an exciting and fulfilling start with competition in ten academic events at all public and private schools February 8 to 11.

Over 5,000 contestants were entered in the Olympics and all received certificates of participation. The top three finishers in each event at each school advanced to the City Semifinals February 29 to March 2. Then the top six in each event citywide compete in the City Championship finals on March 14 and 15 at City Hall.

City finals are open to the public, as is the Awards Ceremony and Super Quiz program at the Boys and Girls Club the evening of March 24.

The Olympics was created to recognize academic talent right alongside athletic and artistic achievements.

Villagers participate as members of the CAO Committee, judges of creative writing, speech, art, and Super Quiz events. Throughout the history of the Olympics, which began when the Olympic Games were in Los Angeles in 1984, the Leisure Village Women's Club has sponsored the Creative Writing event. Drop in on the finals at City Hall anytime during the day on March 14 and 15 where the top six in geography, math, science, world history, U.S. history, English grammar, and current events battle in "Jeopardy" type competition.

Retrospection

The Past speaks to us in retrospect;
That strange, unseen illusive thing,
Our past: off-stage, yet part of Life—
Constant guide and patient tutor,
Ever-present, through joy and strife.

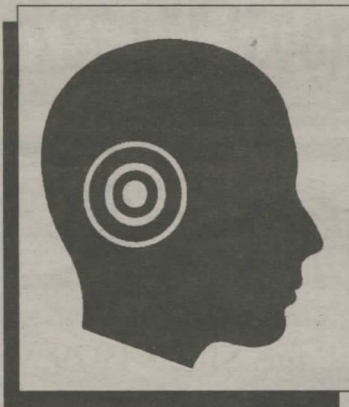

We may have dreams and great illusions
That nurture all hope and desire—
Yet, we hark to the seductive strain
Of Sirens' songs of pleasures vain,
And seek them with avid ardor.

Let us leave our flippant fancies,
Behold the rapid change of pace
As Future takes our Present's place—
Staying but a fleeting moment,
It instantly becomes the Past.

Then, the parade of Time gone by
Re-emerges to lead the way—
As our mind rewinds the Camera,
To bring in focus, sharp and clear,
The misspent hours of yesteryear.

Ah, if we could erase the Past,
And retrace our misguided steps,
To set our feet on other paths—
Have one more chance to start afresh,
And seek the true road to Happiness!

RESPONSIBILITIES OF FINANCE AND INSURANCE COMMITTEES CLARIFIED

By Bill Himstreet

As homeowners in Leisure Village, we own the land and patio areas on which our homes stand. But we must remember also that we are all co-owners of everything else as managed by the Leisure Village Association. Two standing committees of the Association, the Finance Committee and the Insurance Committee, function in areas usually found in schools of business administration.

The Finance Committee, chaired by Dan Olonoff, performs analyses of financial/accounting records and performance. Between annual audits by a C.P.A. firm, this committee audits L.V.A. records periodically, recommends adjustments when needed, reviews status of reserve funds, and makes recommendations to the Board and General Manager about annual budgets.

If these tasks were performed by an outside firm, the costs would be significant. Financial management and/or accounting backgrounds are desirable qualities for membership on the Finance Committee that performs quietly and effectively as it goes about its valuable work for the Association.

The Insurance Committee chaired by Ed Evans, a genuine old pro, provides a significant service by reviewing our insurance program and needs. The committee seeks bids from various insurers, evaluates the bids in terms of our experience and needs in variety of insurable areas, and makes recommendations to the Board and management. Of course, knowledge of the insurance field and economics are desirable qualities for committee membership but interest is a necessary quality, too.

When committees such as these two get down to their nitty, gritty tasks, they are essentially watching over their own money as homeowners and Association members. This observation is true of all of our committees, as well. As the value of our homes increases, so does the value of our Association, and vice versa. The work of volunteer members of committees contributes greatly to the growth of these values

55 ALIVE CLASSES

By Naomi Balfour

On March 16 and 17 from 1-5 p.m. in the MPR, Education and Recreation will offer the state-approved defensive driving class. This course is given under the auspices of AARP and its purpose is to assist seniors in coping with age-related physical changes so that they may continue to be safe drivers. Other advantages are a discount on automobile insurance, and a re view of typical questions from the written exam for driver's license renewal. The cost is $10 per person. Since the class size is limited to 30, you must pre-register and pre-pay. To do this call Naomi Balfour at 987-9851.

CIMIS WEATHER STATION

By Jerry Hoffman

The structure looking like a lunar landing gear beside the fourth tee on the Leisure Village golf course is CIMIS, (pronounced simis) and is the new LV weather station. CIMIS is the acronym for California Irrigation Management Information System. The station gathers and stores up to four months of information on wind speed and direction, solar radiation, air and soil temperature and humidity, and precipitation. It has its own lightning rod and a solar panel to charge its self-contained batteries. Control and collection of the information gathered at the station, is accomplished with a single dedicated telephone line. The station, not yet in operation, will furnish data for both state and government agencies along with the Water Management Project currently under study by the Engineering Advisory Committee.

EMERGENCY SERVICE ORGANIZATION

By Paul Kelwin

ATTENTION: New-comers of '99 and '00!! Leisure Village has an Emergency Service Committee (ESC) which guides the Emergency Service Organization (ESO). There are over 225 volunteers who have taken training to help minimize the effects of a disaster. This is earthquake country.

Leisure Village is near highway 101 and Santa Rosa Rd which have heavy truck traffic, many carrying hazardous material which could spill and cause a ground hugging toxic cloud to spread in all directions.

There is also much air traffic which, could result in crashes in Leisure Village.

Members of the ESC/O believe it makes good sense to think ahead and to be prepared.

This organization was started in 1983 after the Conejo Creek flooded portions of Villages 4, 16, 17 and 18. Conejo Creek is no longer the threat it was in the past.

With the Village population of about 3000, volunteers are always needed to help those who can no longer help themselves. Especially welcome are those who have had training and or experience in coping with a disaster. All are welcome at the once a month meetings on the third Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the MPR. For information, call 987-1446.

VILLAGE SWINGERS SQUARE

By Sig Jaffe

The Leisure Village Swingers Square Dance Club provided a representative square that performed in the recent Players Guild dance program. The dancers appeared in their colorful club regalia and presented a spirited tip that was enthusiastically received by the audience. The club hopes that this presentation will inspire more villagers to join for fun and exercise.

The March Calendar starts with a scatter dance on March 7 in which dancers will be migrating from square to square to add zest to the dance. On March 14, members will wear green outfits to participate in the Saint Patrick's Day Celebration. This will be followed on March 21 with various line dances in between the square dance tips. On March 28, the final program will be a regular dance that our caller, Bill Kramer, will make into an enjoyable evening.

OVERVIEW OF JUNE ELECTIONS

On June 15, Village homeowners will elect two new Leisure Village Association directors to succeed Caroline Pratt and Max Heller, whose terms expire on that date.

The Board makes policy to be implemented by the General Manager and staff. The staff reports to the Board through the General Manager; thus the Board does not supervise employees directly. Among the various traits for directors, in addition to problem solving, are the ability to listen effectively, to learn, and to be team players. Many studies of corporate boards emphasize these qualities.

To prospective candidates and to voting homeowners, the following dates are important. April 3: To facilitate Nominating Committee consideration, candidates should submit applications by this date. April 17 is the deadline for nominations by petition to be submitted to the Board. May 1 is the date for announcement of nominations. Then, Candidates' Night is scheduled for the Rec Center on June 1 when candidates will be presented to homeowners prior to the June 15 election and annual meeting.

Members of the Nominating Committee are Max Heller Chairman, Mannie Abbatte, Vern Kiep, Don Hamilton, Gloria Page, Ernie Ohmstedt, and Bill Himstreet. Requests to meet with a Committee member are available in the Recreation and LVA offices. The Committee members are seeking candidates and may be contacted individually to discuss membership, time commitment, authority, and responsibility.

CITY WANTS RECOLLECTIONS OF CHANGES

By Charlotte Craven

The Millennium Committee of the Camarillo City Council invites Villagers to submit entries in the Millennium Time Capsule Essay Contest. The topic for adults is "Changes That Have Taken Place During My Lifetime." Due to space limitations, there is a two-page limit. (There is no limit on the number of words; just 2 standard sized pieces of paper). Deadline for entries is April 15.

Recently the City Council asked the committee to conduct a series of essay contests, by age. Young children will be asked to write on their lives today. Older children will write on their vision of what life will be like in 2050. The committee decided to ask adults to reflect on the changes that have taken place during the span of their lives. The topic was chosen because it is difficult for many children to comprehend how much the world has changed in the past century, and how different life was without cars, telephones, radio, electricity, "miracle drugs," and other things that we accept as common, not to mention amplified music, computers, and instant coverage around the world of events that once took weeks to reach the local newspaper. First-person accounts are always so much more interesting and easy to understand than history books.

During Fiesta ceremonies in July the city's Millennium Time Capsule will be sealed in the base of the Millennium Clock, which will be placed at the foot of Arneill Road at Ventura Blvd. A plaque on the base of the Millennium Clock will instruct our wishes that the Time Capsule is to be opened in 50 years.

All entrants must live within one of Camarillo's three Zip Codes: 93010, 93011, and 93012. Entries should be addressed to City Council Millennium Committee, City of Camarillo, 601 Carmen Drive, Camarillo, CA 93010.

GOLF TRIVIA

By Jack Whalen

Golfer Lee Trevino, after making a fine recovery from a sand trap, took the rake and smoothed the sand as he exited the trap. An attractive lady nearby said, "My, you are so considerate. I wonder if you do windows too."

"Would you believe," Trevino, thinking of his home in Texas, "I do windows at one place and the lady of the house let's me sleep with her."

With that, the lady thrust a card into Lee's hand, saying, "My windows need cleaning-badly." ♀

When Lee Trevino hits a shot, he'll talk to the ball. And he takes the conversation seriously.

When Lee Trevino hits a shot, he'll talk to the ball. And he takes the conversation seriously.

"Be up, be up" he said after hitting an approach during a British Open. "Get down, get down," yelled his caddie, Willie Aitchison.

"Leave it alone, Willie," said Trevino. "Leave it alone."

In 1980, Sam Snead won the Commemorative, one of the first events on the PGA Senior Tour. In his press conference, a reporter asked him if he realized that he'd become the first player in history to win Tour events in six different decades.

"Is that right?" asked Sam. "How long are decades these days?"

Nancy Lopez learned to play golf from her father, Domingo, who ran an auto body shop in Roswell, New Mexico. From the earliest days of her career, her parents reinforced her belief that she was special. One day she volunteered to help with the dishes.

"No, Nancy," said her father. "Those hands were made for golf, not dishes."

The fact that Nancy's first golf instructor was her dad prompted one sage golf writer to report that golf was not that difficult, if her father could fix a fender in the morning and teach her to play golf in the afternoon.

TENSION RELIEVER

Head Rolls relieve tension in the neck caused by holding the neck often tilted in the same position.

- Let the weight of your head drop forward onto your chest
- Slowly roll your head around in a wide, complete circle, always facing forward so that it is "ear-to-shoulder" rather than "face-to-shoulder"
- After three complete rolls, repeat other direction
