c/o Los Angeles Examiner
Los Angeles, California

Dear Mr. Hearst:

I wish you would use me in any way that would relieve your mind as to the care of your belongings. There never has been nor will there be, any charge in this connection, an honor and pleasure.

The Wyntoon houses are ready now to step into - need just putting out of linen and putting in of supplies. The local care this winter was excellent.

As explained, the one unsightly spot up there is the "Tea House", as the material to finish with is piled on the terraces. The "Bridge House" is not unsightly - just looks under construction, and the "Chalet" can look finished - with little more work.

As always,

JM:BB
