Oxnard Mayor and Council-Lady Jane,

The forum at Blackstock helped you in you campaign for re-election. You were specially sharp in the question and answer session. It is difficult to be specific in an impromptu situation, but you did well under the pressure. You were hesitant in your speech and appear^{ed} to be pressed for time. Your past record of service speaks for itself and it does give you all the confidence you need.

I feel confident that you will be elected.

That monstrosity which I carry on top of my car is doing its intended job. It is calling attention of many citizens. Just how much I am helping you cannot be measured; it is a matter of trust that I'm doing my part among your many supporters.

I liked Lino Corona's comments on honesty and would like to let you know that it is also one of your best qualifications for office.

Honestly,

Joe
