Big thanks from Women's Club

By Jeanne Carlson

Everyone in the Village knows by now that the "Good Old Days" Bazaar was a total success both in sales and fun. In fact, it was the best to date.

Although members of Women's Club worked long and hard for a year, the Club realizes that it was Village support that made the success.

The Parade of Classic Cars organized by Jack Whalen brought in extra large crowds. The "Music Men" and the "Happy Hoofers" provided top entertainment. The tasty baked goods donated by Village ladies and the con-

More light on the subject

By Jack Rogers

In the last issue of Inside Leisure Village, Karl Cannon discussed the inadequate lighting on the streets in Leisure Village. It was refreshing to know that there are residents in the Village in tune with the residents elected to your Board.

Your Board, very cognizant of the inadequate lighting along the walkways had authorized the replacement of the exterior lighting along walkways and around the RC, including the parking lots. This was accomplished after research by management and staff. The installed lighting not only provided an increase in illumination, but also gave us a rebate from the Edison Company of $3,817.45 by having the installation completed before Sept. 1, 1986. In addition, the energy saving light fixtures provides us with savings in our energy bill which will completely repay the cost of the installation within 14

Your resident Board is now addressing the issue of the street lighting throughout the Village. Management and committee members, in cooperation with the Board and the Edison Co. are reviewing the lumen output of all the street light standards. The efficiency of light output (as measured in foot-candles) drops with hours of usage. It is estimated that many of the current street lights may have lost 50% of the original output for which they may have been designed. Hopefully, the evaluation of our street lighting will soon be completed so that the issue may be resolved with more illumination at a minimum expense to us all.

As a newly elected Board Member, I appreciate constructive discussions on any subject matter that will benefit us all. After all, we live in a tightly knit community where the theme should be "working together - people helping people".

A medical cost break-through

By Sandy Okum

After almost five years of meetings, etc., Y.N.C.G. has finally reached an agreement with the Anacapa Medical Group and Pleasant Valley Hospital to help reduce medical costs. You will have the free choice of 40 local doctors and specialists who will accept our medical supplement insurance with Hartford Insurance and our Medicare Card as payment in FULL for all services Medicare will pay for.

The best feature about this plan is that you will no longer have to do any paperwork. You will only have to present your valid Y.N.C.G. membership - Hartford I.D. Card and sign an assignment of benefits claim form for Hartford and Medicare.

Ecumenical Service

By George Thomas

The Eleventh Annual Inter-Faith Thanksgiving Worship will be held on Wed., Nov. 26 at 7:30 P.M. in the AR.

The continuing tradition of the rotating sponsorship of this service is recognized, and this year the Jewish Community will be hosts.

Further information regarding this year's worship will be provided, as the program reveals itself. All are welcome. We look forward to seeing you at this year's service.

• OPINION •

A Decisive Vote

By Harry Becker, Guest Editor

The proposed amendments to the CC&R's affecting principally the insurance deductible were resoundingly defeated in the recent referendum ballot.

The vote was 410 FOR and 1,148 AGAINST. In percentage terms, only 26% of the units voting favored the changes urged by the Board of Directors.

It is significant that, given the requirement for a 75% favorable vote mandated by the CC&R's, even if every valid vote (1,558) were cast in favor of the proposition, that still would not have been enough, since 1,602 (75% of 2136) is the required number.

What does this vote mean? It means that the residents here have overwhelmingly rejected the Board's philosophy; namely, that payment of the fire insurance deductible is not to be shared by all homeowners -- as was the practice in Leisure Village before 1985.

It means that the Villagers would rather be self-insured for $1,000 at a cost of around $2.00 a year, payable into the Insurance Reserve Account, as explained previously in several articles published in ILV.

Finally, it means that the Board must do some serious thinking toward restoring its credibility. It would not be amiss for this Board to cooperate with the former Association presidents whose challenge to the Board's direction was sustained by the referendum.

Please see page 17 for break-down of votes by Village.

NOTICE

This month ILV has some extraordinarily long letters which we were able to print only because the Camarillo Daily News allowed us unexpected extra space.

By no means does this mean that we always will be able in the future to print such lengthy letters, no matter how much we may wish to do so. It may become necessary for us to limit them.

Please edit your own letters for conciseness.

ATTENTION!!

Due to circumstances beyond the control of ILV your paper arrives on the fifth Thursday this month only.

We have attempted whenever possible to edit some stories by deleting dates that will have passed.

BEWARE!

There will be early deadlines for ILV in November and December because issues will appear on the third Thursdays in those months. CHECK page 2 so your club will not be disappointed.

Flood insurance

By Ed Salzer

December is renewal time for the LVA flood insurance policy. It is high time, therefore, to ask these questions:

What coverage do we get for our premium dollars?

What is the cost?

Is flood insurance really needed?

As described in the Insurance Information summary distributed in December 1985: Each residential unit is insured to a maximum of $10,000 per unit except four-unit structures, which are insured to a maximum of $35,000 or $8750 per unit.

Flood insurance is subject to a deductible of $500 per single unit and $1000 per structure on all multiple units (2 units $500 each, 3 units $333 each, 4 units $250 each). The Recreation Center and Administration buildings are covered to $100,000.

This year the premium cost has aggregated over $100,000, or $49 per unit. The Association has been told to expect an increase of at least $23,500, or $11 per unit, thus driving the cost of flood insurance to an annual rate of $60 per unit.

We may well ask, do we really need this coverage? Consider these facts: All units are on pads that are above the 100-year flood level. The bridges on Highway 101 are being raised and widened. The berms along the Conejo Creek have been raised.

Furthermore, the CC&Rs state that the Board may purchase flood insurance, provided such purchase is "prudent" (meaning the exercise of sound judgement in practical matters).

In my opinion, it is not prudent to renew the flood insurance. May I urge you to let the Board know how you feel?

Ed R. Salzer (V. 30)

New and wonderful

Something new and wonderful in L.V.

It seems to be happening all by itself, like magic.

People are calling us, "Can you use a box of food for the needy?"

"We sure can." We have more recipients, more needy than ever.

Whatever the occasion -- spring or fall house cleaning, preparing a house for resale, or just simply an inspiration to share - we don't always know. We only know that it is new and wonderful.

The need is great and it is much appreciated. Our grateful thanks to all those who have already contributed.

Faith restored

My faith in humanity has been restored thanks to the children of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller of V. 33.

On Sept. 13, I was driving slowly on Leisure Village Dr. when there was a loud sound and my car came to a standstill. I turned the ignition off and quickly got out, frightened and shaking. The muffler had apparently seared the rear tire and caused it to blow.

A yellow sports car was behind me and stopped, and the three Miller brothers and their sister came over and tried to put me at ease by saying, "Triple A at your service". Frightened as I was, I replied, "But I belong to National". One of the brothers asked for my keys, opened the trunk and changed my tire!

I believe that "goodness of young people is very much alive". Many thanks to these young people for their kindness and helpfulness. Bill and Claire have done a good job with their children.

Sylvia Streisand,
Village 32

Need for shade

Having read about the new landscaping project (Jacaranda and silk trees), I would like to say, yes, they will be pretty, but Leisure Village needs more large shade trees, not less. Surely those roots could have been cut back and the trees deep watered to send their main roots deeper.

We do not need more shrubs, we need shade trees along Leisure Village Dr., and especially along Mountain View Dr. Driving or walking along Mountain View is like going through the desert. There are absolutely no shade trees to speak of. Only small bottle brush and flowering pear.

It has taken 10 to 12 years to get the trees as large as they are in the Village. Let's plant more trees, not cut them down. The right choice of trees would make our village a beautiful place. The melaleucas in the green belt of V. 25 are the homeliest trees around. I'm sure we can all attest to that!

L. Peterson,
V. 25

Spectacular is the word for Classic Car Parade

By Jack Whalen

Well over 1,000 residents and their guests were on hand to salute drivers and their vehicles as the CLASSIC CAR PARADE, promoted as a tie-in with the Women's Club Bazaar, left the clubhouse and made a full circle of the village.

Headed by a lights-flashing Security Patrol car, drivers and their guests were greeted by cheering, hand-waving crowds along the parade route. When the parade returned to the front of the clubhouse, visitors looked over the magnificent cars close up and talked with their proud owners.

With the theme, "Good Old Days", many of the drivers dressed for the part. Aggie Saltus, the passenger in the 1934 Packard LeBaron Dual Cowl Phaeton, was perhaps the "star" of the group in her dazzling "Flapper Of The 20's" attire.

The owner and driver of that car, Aggie's brother-in-law, Walter V. Shearer of nearby Rancho Santa Rosa, was neatly dressed in plus fours.

Sam Saltus, driving another Shearer-owned car, this a 1938 Packard Razor Town Car, looked resplendent in his chauffeurs' dress outfit. Riding in the enclosed section of this beauty was Mrs. Walter (Larrie) Shearer. This car was formerly owned by opera star Lilly Pons.

Another attention-getter was the brilliant yellow 1967 XKE Jaguar roadster, driven by Al Sanchez. Al and his Helene, who recently celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary, looked smashing in their color coordinated sports racing clothes.

Harry and Barbara Cooper, nattily dressed for the occasion, drew a crowd around their unusual car a Gazelle. During the parade, Channel 12's Ruth Wideman rode in the rear of the Gazelle roadster, leading her own cheering section.

Bill Huffman, in his exciting bright red Corvette convertible roadster, was first behind the patrol car and this sleek speedster drew lots of applause.

Dorothy Konecko's son drove her car, while Dorothy and friends went along for the ride in a 1935 Ford convertible sedan that does not begin to show it's age.

The beautiful sparkling turquoise 1956 hard top convertible T-Bird of Bill Brunken was one that received many favorable comments both during the parade and at inspection time.

Roselle Mayfarth, with friends, proudly displayed her 1965 four-door Lincoln, a curiosity, with rear doors that open to the front!

Another T-Bird, with a story about it elsewhere in this ILV issue, was Ed Holshouser's 1957 hard top convertible.

Former L.V. resident now living in Camarillo, Frank Faulkner honored us by bringing his 1926 Model T Ford to the parade. It is in beautiful condition and the mere sight of it attracted a good crowd at the parade's close.

Acting as escorts during the parade were five Road Runner Club members. Their bikes sparkled in the sunlight. The chrome was so reflective that they added a nice touch to the gala event. Looking like true motor bike riding champions were Harry Highfield, Charlie Klein, Russ Lomask, Earl Mettler and Sol Miller.

THE LEISURE
VILLAGE
WOMENS CLUB

Women's Club met Thurs., Oct. 2, for the annual Appreciation Luncheon which traditionally follows the Bazaar.

Kay Varley, Treas., had thoughtfully provided financial reports of the very successful "Good Old Days" sale for each table. Everyone had reason to celebrate.

After an excellent catered lunch, business was dispensed with except for the presentation of African violets. Workshop Award went to Connie Mayer and Bea Schreiber for their quantities of crochet work.

The entertainment was square dancing by two squares from the Village Swingers, accompanied by singing caller Gary Dane, who also sang two solos. This was much enjoyed.

An hour of bingo followed, and although nobody went home rich, it was a lot of fun.

The Nov. 6 meeting of Women's Club will feature Bob and Elaine Vanderhaven with one of their marvelous nature films; this one on Canada. The Nomin. Comm., chaired by Dorothy Barrus will present the slate of nominees for 1987 officers. Election will take place in December.

We made it!

By Eva Divin

The third meeting of that group of Villagers who have stepped into a new experience in their lives was held on Sept. 19 in the LR. Leonard Goldsmith, Founder and President, presided. These special Villagers are your neighbors. They are victims of stroke.

Enumerated as purposes for the formation of this group include: love, support, mutual assistance, positive outlook -- and fun! Hopes, ideas and plans for the club's growth and potential were actively discussed. Physical and mental therapy figuring so large in our lives now, President Goldsmith is busy checking possibilities for a weekly group Swim Day. There will no doubt be more on this at the next meeting.

Joe Gaynes, member of the California Senior Legislature as well as enthusiastic committee member of the Ventura County Health Care Board, was there to cheer the group on, lending his expertise and promising ideas. The heading of this article is his suggestion for our permanent logo. Joe procured for us, a special speaker, Nancy Houghton, head of Camarillo's Hospice. Her warmth, cheer, encouragement and helpful information about Hospice services were received with interest and appreciation.

For information or help in transportation, call Edith Dowling at 482-2972, or Roslyn Blecher at 484-5345. Don't hesitate to call. See you there!

Vision limited

By Florence Block

Vision Limited is a support group for the partially sighted and visually impaired. At its last meeting, George Mustaparta gave a stimulating travelogue on Malasia where he has visited several times. He brought many artifacts and talked about the people, and explained the beautiful fabrics and Batik in bright colors.

The next meeting will be Mon., Nov. 3 at 1:00 P.M. in the Lanai. The speaker will be from the fire department who will discuss fire safety. Everyone welcome. For more information, call 484-5838 or 482-0492.

Freeway commuter's prayer

Lord, as I enter the on-ramp this day, preserve my spirit from being bruised and my fenders from being crushed.

Protect me from the darting Volkswagen and the lumbering diesel.

Preserve me from the unpredictable lane-changer and the unexpected rear-ending.

Deliver me from the arrogant tailgater.

Safeguard me from the perils of the blow-out and the tribulation of the vapor lock.

Guide me past the traffic jams and through the labyrinthine interchanges.

Let not my brakes fade, my gas tank dry up nor my judgement play me false. Keep my temper calm, my tongue civil and my mind tranquil.

Keep my eyes on the road, my hands on the wheel and my mind on you and eternity.

Get me to work on time and give me the fortitude to do it all over again going home tonight.

This I ask You, Lord of the Freeway, Companion of the Commuter, Protector of the Driver. Amen.

Camarillo Airport control tower

By Sol Robin

There is a growing controversy over the advisability of erecting a control tower at Camarillo Airport. The proponents of this plan maintain that a control tower would provide greater safety for both aircraft and the Camarillo community living below this expanding pattern of air traffic. The opponents of this plan insist that a control tower would be the first step in bringing commercial aviation to Camarillo Airport. This could eventually lead to a Ventura County equivalent of John Wayne Airport in Orange County with rampant noise and safety problems.

The most important thing we residents of Leisure Village can do is jot down the phone numbers of the Camarillo Airport and Pt. Mugu complaint departments and call them whenever noisy overhead air traffic aggra-vates us.

The numbers to call are Steve Zeller at Camarillo Airport at 388-4202 and Ray Lucasey, Public Information Officer - Pt. Mugu at 989-8094.

Unless we register our complaints over the increasingly nerve-wracking aircraft racket, we can expect the problem to get worse, not better.

A HOME!

You may be one of the many people who want to own their own home, but think they can't afford one. When you consider the favorable factors in the current real estate market, however, it's clear that today you can afford to own.

The financing available now is the most important factor in making your new house affordable. Qualifying for a loan has been simplified, and today's interest rates are lower than they've been for years. Loans are easy to secure from lending institutions as well as from owners. In many cases, you can obtain a loan with monthly payments close to what you've been throwing away on rent, and your tax savings can make up for the difference!

Another change in your favor is the trend of sellers to accept smaller down payments. Where 20% down had been the norm, many houses today are selling with only a 10% down payment, depending on the financing package that your Realtor puts together for you.

So now is the time to set your sights on that home you've been wanting. Let us help you become a home owner. Just call the broker who really knows Leisure Village: Ed Williams at 482-2983.

Village 17's Joe & Sylvia Selden

By Jack Whalen

"We visited here almost every weekend during the first five years we owned our V. 17 home," says a smiling Sylvia Selden, "I just couldn't keep him away from the woodshop."

Who is this man whose talents and unselfish efforts to help others have earned him acclaim for "jobs well done" many times during the past ten years? Our spotlight is on Joe Selden, a Woodworking Club member par excellence.

Joe came to California at an early age and tragedy struck soon after, with the loss of his mother while he was still a youngster. In his teens he worked in a sign shop in order to afford fare to travel to L.A. Polytechnic H.S. and after graduating secured employment as a floor sweeper in a furniture factory.

Sylvia has also been a resident of California since early childhood. Her dad was involved in sales and until high school days she claimed many towns throughout the state as home. The family became permanently located when her dad opened, in Signal Hill, what was probably America's first supermarket.

Joe first spotted Sylvia on the school athletic field.

"She was a super field hockey player -- and pretty too," says Joe. "I managed to get invited to her 'Sweet 16 Birthday Party' and that was the beginning of our life story."

Joe found it easy to express himself through the medium of pencil and sketch pad and took evening courses in interior decorating at the Otis Art Institute. On the basis of his sketches, a large company, Crown Upholstering, hired him and he was on his way learning the business from the ground up.

Soon he was foreman of the upholstery department but further advancement was halted with the advent of World War II. Having a family of two boys, Joe joined the engineering department of the California Ship Building Corp. as a senior draftsman and checker. His war-time activities were at both Long Beach and Terminal Island and soon after the close of hostilities he returned to his previous employer.

Now Joe's talents really came through at this 75,000 sq. ft. plant that had some 200 employees. He designed furniture, both functional modern and modern contemporary, and advanced to the position of designer and plant superintendent.

Profile

After 20 years with Crown, Joe and family moved to Bakersfield where a new furniture plant offered additional challenges.

The lure of Los Angeles brought them back within three years and now Joe designed furniture at his own plant -- at a location very near where many years earlier he had swept floors!

Working certainly agreed with him and it wasn't until one of his sons, with a degree in psychology, suggested retirement that they purchased a home here in 1977 and came most every weekend.

In the years that followed, he gained nationwide recognition as an award winning designer. He was one of the first to move into the design of upholstered furniture in Chinese modern.

"Seems we had two choices those days," Sylvia states. "Tickets for the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion or some other L.A. theater were in our hands, but there were also events scheduled at Leisure Village. Seems we almost always came here.

Once the Seldens moved here for good, Joe became fully involved in woodworking activities. He started providing, and still continues to furnish signs, posters, charts, tripods, easels and drawings to all who ask. The large mirror behind the organ in the A.R. is his work of art as well as his labor of love, a beautiful Menorah that is used here in the Village.

Since many of his designs were of Chinese modern, this theme spills over into their very attractive home. Their living room features an oriental wall screen plus paintings, pictures, wood carvings and ivory figurines.

What are his feelings, being selected as one of the outstanding Woodworker Club members? "Oh," says Joe, "there are many others who deserve plaudits. Please let me mention just a few men who have given, year in and year out, much of themselves: Bernard Goldman, Phil Farber, Morris Lefkowitz, Clarence Morgan, George Mustaparta, Dan Schultz and Carl Sparks.

Another hard working woodworker, and a favorite among L.V. golfers, Guy Caraccia says: "Yes, there are lots of men you could talk about, but modest Joe is a driving force who fully deserves lots of credit."

Just six days ago, on Oct. 17, Joe and Sylvia celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary. They are away on a short vacation at this time, but will soon be home to resume the full lifestyle in Leisure Village.

Sylvia's nickname is "Sliver" and this eloquent testimonial pays tribute to her, just five years ago, on their 45th anniversary.

Ed Holshouser's gem of a '58 T-Bird

By Jack Whalen

During the years 1955 through 1957, the Ford Motor Company made only 53,166 hard-top convertible T-Birds. The first T-Bird off the Dearborn, Michigan, assembly line on April 24, 1957, now has a home in Village 16.

Ed Holshouser, the proud owner, purchased this car for his wife Bernie in May, 1965, in Santa Ana. The speedometer then read 81,000 miles. Today it shows over 150,000 and is a finer, better running car than every before.

During the past few years Ed just about completely restored the car including a re-engineered 312 cid (245 h.p.) engine and an overhauled Town & Country Seeker radio.

The many modifications include straight-through glass pack exhausts, overhead ignition wiring, a heavy duty alternator and a third brake light. There are also gauges for amperes, vacuum and oil pressure, plus a top cylinder lubricator for use with unleaded fuel.

With that powerful an engine, how does it perform on the highway? "This little bird of mine really moves," says Ed. "It can run circles around many of the new cars of today."

Ed's a member of the Classic Thunderbird Club International but has not been exhibiting it in shows.

Does it create any interest on the road? "Oh, yes," he responds. "Many, many people wave and greet me and some of the fair sex even blow kisses."

Ed's T-Bird was one of the nine entrants in last month's CLASSIC CAR PARADE.

Did he get lots of waves and kisses?

"Lots of waves, yes," he replies, "but there weren't too many kisses thrown. Guess it's the real young ones who do that!"

The Garden Club will meet in the MPR Nov. 13 at 9:30 A.M. for refreshments and socializing, and at 10:00 Lynn Fueg will give a demonstration of ways to use things from our own gardens in our holiday decor.

Watch for new trees in the Village, purchased with some of the $3600 we donated for this purpose. You'll see Albizias along the walkway by the pool and Jacaranda, Eucalyptus ficifolia and Thevetias in other areas including the picnic area. Work should be finished at the front of the Recreation Area by the end of next month.

Watch Channel 12 for a trip in the planning to Roger's Gardens in Newport Beach. This is a fantasy land of hanging baskets, planters and boxes for the holidays. We will also visit Sherman's Gardens which is a private foundation with many rare and beautiful plants.

VILLAGE PLAYERS WORKSHOP

By Ruth Zupa

Village Players, now under the leadership of new president, Phil Aaronson, have made a wonderful start toward providing entertainment for their monthly meetings.

In August, the play, "Nuts and Bolts" was presented and acclaimed by an audience of almost 300. The following month, guest speaker Mr. Zale Morris gave an informative talk on how a play is put together. His talk was well received.

The annual big play, "The Silver Whistle", which will be presented Nov. 21, 22 and 23, promises to be another great achievement by our director, John Zoller. Rehearsals are rolling along smoothly. For tickets, please call Bea Schonberg at 484-8509. Fri. and Sat. eves $3. Sunday matinee, $2.50.

Due to the presentation of our annual play, there will be no regular meeting during Nov.

GEM AND MINERAL CLUB

By Don Holmes

At the October meeting of the Gem and Mineral Club, Dave Champion, who is manager of Bourget Brothers lapidary and jewelry supply store in Santa Monica, entertained with a lively discussion of "rockhounding" and a good display of rocks, gems and minerals.

The Nov. meeting will be a week early (due to Thanksgiving) on Wed., Nov. 19 at 7:30 in MPR. Bob Lynn, of Lynn's Jewelry on Main St., Ventura will speak. Bob and his wife, Kitty, write "The Jeweler's Corner" which appears in the Camarillo Daily News.

The club's "Show and Sell", during the Anniversary Celebration, was a great success. We thank residents and guests who made it possible, as well as all who worked hard at putting it together and standing long hours behind tables. Bill Skellenger and Kal Haber displayed and sold their own work, while other club members handled the articles made by club members.

We don't have the space to list all who helped find the rocks, get them cut and mounted and helped with the sales, but two stand out who carried the brunt of the work: Ben Smithkin and Garnette Holmes, who got the whole thing started several months ago.

The raffle, which was spearheaded by Ben, was a big success, and thanks to it and the sales, the club was able to send $200 to Tony Lamb's Senior Emergency Survival Fund. In the gem and mineral raffle, the first drawn has first pick of the prizes, second has second pick, etc.

The winners and the prizes they selected are: Emory Ickes - clock, Nita Parentice - buckle and bolo set, Joe Dona-

THE CERAMIC PLUS CLUB

By Don Holmes

The Ceramic Plus Club thanks all who patronized our ceramic sale last month. It was virtually a wall-to-wall sell out.

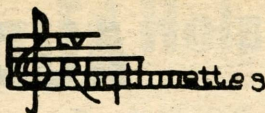

If you need a ceramic piece for yourself or for a gift, look into the Thurs. morning workshop in the Ceramic Room. One of the club members might have just the thing you are looking for. All proceeds from club sales are used for Village projects.

Recently, the club formed a caravan and went to Carol Lee's Ceramic Studio near Santa Barbara, and we all came away with ideas of things we can do.

Club officers were re-elected in September. They have done an excellent job, and extend their thanks to all who made the ceramic pieces for the sale and to those who worked during the sale.

At the meeting, Al Pachter demonstrated his press-mold process. Time was too short to include other demonstrations which had been planned but will take place at the next meeting. Due to Thanksgiving, the Nov. meeting is rescheduled. Remember, the Mercury Luncheon is at noon on Thurs., Nov. 6.

The Racquet Club met Wed., Sept. 12 with president Roy Lester presiding. Refreshments were served by Rhoda and Bill Cagan and Sadie and David Ovadia.

The Mercury Luncheon was a success. The food was good and Brian Lee's presence was a big plus. Brian, a five times National Champion in Paddle Tennis was accompanied by his father, Walt Lee, who is a Class A champion. He and his dad manufacture a paddle tennis racquet under the name of Brian Lee. Brian explained how each racquet is hand made. The Lee racquet is one of the best on the market, and most L.V. players own one.

Following the luncheon, Brian and Walt played an exhibition match. Brian explained various shots during the match. After the father/son contest, some of our "Village Greats" teamed with them. Rhoda Cagan, Bob Denny, Jack Kassel, Sol Brejensky and Russ Lomask participated. On the tennis court, Brian played the duo of Les Soloman and Lee Gardens. Let's just say, Brian also plays a very good game of tennis.

Last month, I said something nice always happens at Racquet Club meetings. September was no exception. Curt and Linda Lasch presented the club with a beautiful stained glass window, which Curt had made. It will keep Curt and Linda in the hearts of Racquet Club members for years to come. Interest continues to run high at our organized play sessions. Recent visitors to our Village from New York, New Jersey, Iowa and Arizona have participated in our morning sessions held on Mon., Tues., and Wed. at 9:30 A.M. They all enjoyed playing and some became very proficient under the tutelage of our very capable instructors.

Harriet Morrow and Louise Colbert represented our club in the County Senior Olympics. Louise was attempting to repeat her 1985 performance when she came home with the Gold Medal. Both girls were defeated by Harold Moore, who went on to win the Gold Medal. The girls did themselves proud and all we can say is "wait until next year."

The October meeting of the Village Woodworkers Club was highlighted by an informative talk and demonstration by George Mustaparta on the use of the doweling jig for making of glue and dowel pin joints. It was reported the sale of the woodworking projects made by our club for the Women's Club Bazaar was extremely successful.

Classes on the use of wood lathe will be given to club members by Leo Igel. Registration for these classes is required at our November meeting. A combined class will be held Monday, Nov. 10 at 10:00 A.M. in the Lanai. One half of the class will meet on Wed., Nov. 12 at 10:00 A.M. in the woodshop for practical experience in operating the wood lathe, and the bal-

Drama Workshop

By Lillian Goldman

Three drama workshop classes were held in September and the membership grew to our limit of 50 members. Any new prospects will be put on a waiting list.

At our first DRAMA WORKSHOP CLUB meeting on Oct. 2, officers were elected and the constitution and by-laws were read by Pres. Draza Samuel, and approved. Plans are being made for two evening programs in the spring and a luncheon program in May.

The DRAMA WORKSHOP class is now learning improvisations and finding it to be great fun. The class meets every 2,3 and 4th Thursday from 1:00 to 4:00 P.M. in the AR and the play reading class meets the 1st Thurs. of each month in the AR from 3:30 to 5:00 P.M.

The October meeting of the Variety Guild was the first for the new slate of officers. After the business meeting, an unusual and enjoyable program of "Anecdotes" was presented. Participants were Sylvia Altes, Piff DeSimone, Jack Fosdick, Miriam Hersch, Pauline Hoffman, Ginny Cordell, Oscar Kane, Robbie Karlin, Billie Pachter, Freddi Popkin, Sol Robin and Fay Waller.

Variety Guild president Joan Johnson announced the play to be presented in June will be "My Fair Lady". This play requires a large cast of singers and dancers.

The next meeting on Nov. 13 will feature "Front Row Center", a musical revue. It promises to be very entertaining. Don't miss it.

The inept gardener

A thorn in the thumb

By Betty Murray

Roses. Never has a flower been more honored and loved. History is laced with legends, allusions, and praises of the blossom in fields of love, religion, politics, warfare, art and poetry. Thousands of varieties have been propagated; color and differences have been enhanced. Plants may climb, cling to a fence or wall, remain miniature in size or become gigantic. Fragrance has been bred out and back in; even thorns are being manipulated in some varieties.

Now, in the United States, Congress has finally settled the thorny issue of choosing a National Flower. The rose has won. President Reagan signed the bill, appropriately, in the Rose Garden of the White House.

I always yearned for roses in my garden. Eventually, I prepared a place for some -- two the first year, more the next. There are good things and bad things about roses. When they bloom, they are incomparably beautiful. Between bloomings, they get trimmed, fed, treated for plant lice and ants, guarded against snails, de-suckered, and watered. Once a year in December or January, they get trimmed right down to the bare main branches. Pitiable, they seem, yet within weeks they are again surging out of the root nest, faintly rosy leaves advertising the new season to come.

If you bother with roses in L.V., you know the

I nearly said "No."

When my daughter called, all excited, to say she'd found the perfect place for me to live . . . I didn't even want to talk about it.

"I have my own place, thank you," I said. "I'm not ready for a retirement home yet."

But Sarah just laughed. "Of course you're not," she said. "That's why Hillcrest Inn is so perfect for you."

"Nothing's perfect," I said, still annoyed.

"Well, Hillcrest Inn comes pretty close," Sarah said. Then she started telling me about their apartments. So complete, she said, a bedroom, kitchenette and a sitting room, and plenty of space for my rosewood table and Grandma's rocker. "You can be as private there as you are now," Sarah said, "but if you want someone to share a game of cards, a talk or a show you'll have friends all around."

I didn't say anything so then she said, "And how about cooking? You're not so fond of that anymore are you? Hillcrest Inn serves three delicious meals a day and you can have guests whenever you want. Linen and housekeeping services are included in your monthly fee, too, and there is chauffeured transportation to take you wherever you want to go."

"I could never afford it," I said.

"Yes, you could," said Sarah. "Add up what all that is costing you now. And the location is so convenient you'd be able to see your granddaughter twice as often as you do now."

That got me to visit Hillcrest Inn, of course, as she knew it would. And once I'd seen the model apartment and talked with the staff, she knew exactly what I'd want to do next. I've made my reservations and will be moving in sometime this summer.

I haven't told Sarah how excited I am, though . . . she doesn't need to know everything. But it scares me to think that I nearly said "no."

THE WAILING WALL

He stood before the wailing wall,
Stared at it in awe -
Trembled, as he touched a stone,
A fantasy no more.
His mind went back to what he read,
The stories he had heard -
Of hardship, sacrifice, the prayers
That dotted every word.
Of blood once shed in their belief
For what they felt they knew-
Was theirs, their heritage, their faith,
That they knew as a Jew.
Now, here he stood before this shrine,
Humbled by the thought -
Of what it meant to every Jew,
The strength of pride it brought.
The men who stood beside him,
Moved reverently in prayer -
Asking for HIS blessings,
Did they feel that HE was there?
Once more he touched the sacred wall,
Kissed a stone, and then -
Bowed his head, renewed his faith,
Thanked GOD, then said, 'Amen.'

Looking at Channel 12

By Jack Whalen

We are often asked, "Why aren't we informed about some of the special showings, sports, travel and health films you've been showing lately?"

Schedules for about a month in advance are always shown on the "pages" of Channel 12. They are very easy to find. On each of the "pages", in the lower right hand corner, just above the date, is a number which will run, starting at #10 to about #60, depending upon the number of messages being carried.

Our machine, after reaching the highest number, again, about #60, will return to #10 and you will read the Channel 12 schedules coming in from #10 to about #14.

NOTE: ILV does not accept anonymous material.

November's Board of Director's meeting will be carried live on Channel 12 beginning at 10:00 A.M. on Mon., Nov. 3. Those who can't view it and/or don't tape it on their VCR will be able to catch a replay on Sat., Nov. 8 at 10:00 A.M.

CURRENT ISSUES FORUM

By Lou Sirotnik

The topic of the Sept. 29th Current Issues Forum was "KNOW YOUR COMMUNITY". The panel consisted of City Council member Bill Esty, Emcee; Sandi Bush, Mayor of Camarillo, and the following city staff officials: Larry Davis, Asst. City Mgr; Tody Boden, Planning Dir.; John Bressor, Dir. of Community Svcs.; Dan Greely, City Engineer.

Bill Esty made a primary easy-to-read chart illustrating the ladder of Council City members starting at the top with the citizens of Camarillo. He then introduced Ms. Sandi Bush, who spoke on what she called "Projects on Tap". She mainly concentrated on road construction, alleviating areas of congestion such as adding extra lanes, street signals, parking for "Park and Ride" people, etc. In some cases, due to construction, some inconvenience may be encountered, but "Please bear with us", she said.

Next on the agenda was Larry Davis, who said there are at least 45,000 residents in the city of Camarillo. His department deals primarily with policies of day-to-day operation of the city. Davis said the city budget is around $18 million, expenditures about $9 million. Income is from sales and property tax, building permits and other.

Next, Esty introduced Tony Boden who is mainly concerned with land-use elements such as layout of shopping malls, industrial areas, allotting land for different economic income families, seismic faults (if any), recreation for schools and public use, parks and in general:

community design, architecture, beautification, zoning ordinance, standards, etc.

Community services, a relatively new department (3 years old), was described by John Bressor. This department works closely with Engineering. Bressor said that there are 170 miles of streets in Camarillo. Community Services is concerned with refuse collection, landscaping maintenance, sweeping of streets, public transportation, Great American Stagecoach (which makes connections between Ventura, Oxnard, Camarillo and several other points on it's way to LAX), and the newly adopted program of spring clean-up every year.

Dan Greely, City Engineer, said that the citizens of Camarillo ask for various things. Then it is up to Engineering to translate these things into reality within reason. Engineering consists of several divisions within itself. Dan said there is an overlap, and understandably so, of the different departments.

One of these overlaps is being a watchdog to outside contractors. Another is the Capital Development Division with an outlay of $8 million. In addition, there is the Public Service Department: clerks, maps, developers, to name a few. He also stated that the population of Camarillo has doubled over the last 10 years.

Ms. Gina Manchester represented Camrosa Water District. She said that this district is governed by five elected officials who serve as board members. These board members work closely with the above mentioned departments.

A number of questions were asked by the audience, which were ably answered by the panel.

Aging does not have to bring illness

By Sol Robin

The notion that disability and senility are the inevitable companions of our later years is not only false; it is medically dangerous. Negative images of aging are self-fulfilling prophecies that can crop up to harm us all.

The facts are that only 5% of the elderly are institutionalized at any one time; not all become severely demented, and the average admission age is 80. Therefore, 95% of those over 65 are living and functioning in the community, not vegetating in nursing homes. Yet it seems impossible to correct this popular misconception about our older citizens.

By the year 2000, one in eight Americans will be 65 or older. Today there are 25 million in this so-called seniors group. During the next 50 years that number will be more than double and reach 55 million; about one quarter of the population. The adage "Life Begins at 40" should read, "Life Begins at 55". We may be calling 70 middle age when more people start reaching the natural limit for human beings - 110 years.

Some gerontologists maintain a cultural myth has been created in America that people in their 70's, 80's and 90's are all automatically old and sick. If we believe this nonsense, we will only hasten our own aging. Older people need to develop a measure of average health expectancy as opposed to life expectancy, a measure of one's biological, not chronological age. The difference between the two can often be as much as 10 to 15 years.

Yes, some people do get sick and decline, at any age; it's called illness, not normal aging. So age itself is not the enemy; illness is. Many gerontologists believe that finding ways of maintaining the integrity of the body's systems is the best approach to dealing with aging problems.

Specialists in gerontology (the branch of knowledge dealing with aging) and geriatrics (medical application of that knowledge) are not looking for the Fountain of Youth as much as they are pursuing a high quality of life at any age.

These specialists are asking what happens to our immune system and our hormonal system that suddenly makes us vulnerable to cancer. It is estimated that 81% of most cancers occur after the age of 54. And though 54 is hardly old age, the correlation between cancer and aging is obvious. Gerontologists' broad approach in studying all biological changes will give us greater insights into cancer as well as a whole range of conditions that appear to be related to the deterioration of our bodily systems.

Research in gerontology is gaining valuable information about coronary disease, hypertension, senile dementia, and depression; as well as osteoporosis, the thinning of the bones that leads to stooped posture and the likelihood of easy fractures.

One of the most interesting findings by gerontologists is that inactivity ages not only the body but the brain as well. The whole notion that we should ease up and do less as we grow older should be completely rejected. Everything improves with use and declines with disuse. That includes the brain, which just might be the key to the aging process and to health in general. These gerontologists are hoping to show that a brain kept young by use will keep the body younger much longer.

The clocks of aging do exist. The exact location of their mainspring is being sought in the cells, in the brain and in DNA, the genetic material. There is a strong possibility that the key to understanding this complex mechanism will be found by the next generation.

Our modern society is not one that fosters long life. Its stresses are killing many, mostly our men, long before their biological clock has run out. Those who reach old age are patronized, overmedicated and denied a significant role in life. Gerontologists consider the elimination of these social hazards as important as identifying the basic nature of the aging process. The two go hand in hand.

The broad spectrum of activities that many of our Leisure Villagers engage in provides dramatic testimony to the sense of fulfillment and the rewards of involvement available to those of us who seek physical and intellectual vitality. It is undeniably true that you live only once, but if you work it right once is enough.

RE-ELECT THOMAS S. MARTIN

CAMARILLO CITY COUNCILMAN

ON NOV. 4TH

I have served as a City Councilman for a total of eight years. During that time, I have been vitally interested in Eastern Camarillo.

My special concerns have been:

- Transportation (Bus Service)
- Traffic Flow (Las Posas Road/Upland Road connection to be built soon)
(Santa Rosa Road interchange that is coming soon)

I pledge you my continued support of opposition in the development of a commercial airport in Camarillo.

Maintenance of the rural agricultural atmosphere of Camarillo is one of my top priorities.

In order to carry out these proposals, your vote is needed on NOV. 4TH.

Vote for me, THOMAS S. MARTIN.

I was co-chairman of Proposition "A", the Growth Control Initiative

All That Glitters Is Not Gold

I had occasion to attend the October 6th meeting sponsored by our Y.N.C.G.

They extolled the virtues of the Anacapa Medical Group, which, coupled with the Hartford Supplemental Medical Expense Plan, would be the perfect answer and end-all for the many problems associated with medical claims. In other words, there would be no further necessity for paper work, nor would there be any cost to the patient beyond what Medicare and Hartford pays.

This represents an improvement for those members of Y.N.C.G. who now carry the Hartford Medical Expense Plan.

This letter is intended for those members of Y.N.C.G. who, on the basis of what was heard at the meeting, may contemplate switching their current medical expense plan, and/or to those who are without such insurance, but are planning to purchase Hartford's coverage.

Bear in mind that the policy offered by Hartford contains a clause which excludes payment for any condition that existed and-or required medical advice prior to the effective date of the insurance, if such condition recurs within a six months period. In such an event, payment may be denied under the Hartford policy, by virtue of the exclusionary clause it contains.

Although this issue was raised by me at the meeting, it may not have been fully clarified for the audience, and hence, this letter.

Smoking and Tolerance

A letter in the Sept. ILV headed, "Tolerance" aired a smoker's unhappiness at what he considered the intolerance of non-smokers toward smokers, and implies that the deliberate rudeness is directed toward smokers.

I don't believe that this is the case at all. I believe that most people, including many smokers, are now aware of the dangers to health associated with smoking, whether directly to the smoker or indirectly to the non-smoker who breathes the second-hand smoke. People in their senior years need all the help they can get, and posting a table "non-smoking" is not intolerance or rudeness, but simply one way of defending ourselves against these known health hazards.

To say that "everyone knows these tables are non-smoking" is not the whole picture, as there are a few rude and inconsiderate smokers in the Village who will light up and then say, "well, it's not posted".

These are the same smokers who give smokers a bad name by lighting up in the check-out or in the bus while waiting to get off, just because the monkey on their back won't let them wait another er minute or two. These are the same smokers who give all smokers a bad name because, even though they pay the same monthly fees, they have caused the Village a great deal of unnecessary expense by their carelessness.

For instance, in the CR we are, to my knowledge, on our third carpet made necessary by cigarette burns. There are cigarette burns on the tables, pianos, and there was at least one burn on the original organ in the AR.

Perhaps if smokers policed other smokers and exercised the consideration for non-smokers which has been lacking in the years past, they would have no reason to complain of "intolerance". I have smoking friends who are welcome in my house because they don't smoke there. When I go to their house they smoke if they like; it's their house.

Regarding the comments on Las Vegas and cruises, in Las Vegas the ventilation systems are designed to handle the smoke load. Here in the Village the systems were put in at the expense of the builder, and cannot handle the smoke load. Cruise ships have smoking and non-smoking areas in the dining rooms, and in the lounges.

I have "done my time" in smoke-filled offices over the years when it was an accepted situation and not labeled "rude" or "intolerant". Now that we know that smoke is dangerous to our health and do something about it, we are called "intolerant". Would you suppose that a few old pigeons are coming home to roost?

PROPOSED EXERCISE GYMNASIUM

For several months, a volunteer group has expended extensive effort to promote conditions whereby Leisure Village would be presented, free of charge, mechanical exercise equipment valued at $30,000. This project had the support of nearly 800 Villagers, including at least three past presidents of the Board of Directors, and the chairmen of at least two major committees.

The group researched and was provided consultation on every aspect of the detailed plan that was approved by the Ed. & Rec. Comm.

A letter summarizing most of the points expected to be questioned, and to supplement a written presentation called "the best we've seen" by a committee chairman, was delivered to the Board with plenty of time for consideration.

The Board used, as a reason for effectively killing the proposal, the excuse that "since permanent space is not now available, this must wait until such time as permanent space becomes available".

No further effort will be made by this writer. In this I do not speak for the volunteer group, but I believe that this means that when space is someday provided there will be nothing with which to fill it.

I am certain that you would be doing the village a service by printing this and the enclosure letter to the Board so that those interested may draw their own conclusions. I do not include my own conclusions, being at a loss for printable words.

Leisure Village Association

Subject: GYMNASIUM
PROPOSAL

A proposal recently submitted for your consideration asked that you authorize formation of a club which would be solely responsible for purchase, maintenance and control of a mechanical exercise facility.

The club would also provide training and managed use of the equipment. A staff exists for execution of these functions, and will be assisted by lectures from Nautilus, YMCA, and by college students, doctors and medical supply establishments in the Camarillo area.

A large staff of monitors is also available to assist users and to oversee operation of the facility. The facility will be locked when there are less than two of these monitors present. Monitors will be trained to take appropriate action in the unlikely event of rule infraction or medical emergency. The facility will therefore be governed at least as stringently as any commercial spa in the vicinity. Close coordination with the Security Department is planned to achieve optimum system of communication when needed.

Housing for this project ideally should be in the area of the swimming pool, where showers and the spa would provide a source of liquid heat to supplement exercises to stretch muscles. However, a contingency design suggests use of a space in the unused end of the shuffleboard court structure. This would entail a temporary structure to house the equipment and to protect it from weather; and from unauthorized use or theft. A temporary floor would also be needed. These items, although temporary, would be designed and constructed such that their appearance would not detract from the overall decor of the area. Cost of this structure would be borne by the club.

It is hoped that a complete "Nautilus-type" gymnasium ... at least equivalent to the $30,000 worth of equipment now in Leisure Village - Ocean Hills, can be provided. However, immediate plans call for acquisition only of that which can be purchased with funds in hand or seriously pledged. Presently there is enough equipment being donated to justify starting the housing project. The donated equipment includes exercycles, rowing machines, a ski simulator, and similar equipment.

Financing will consist of yearly contributions of five dollars per club member.

At this writing, nearly 800 persons have agreed to supply at least five dollars. Less than 60% of the village has been polled by circulation of a questionnaire used to test for desirability of this project.

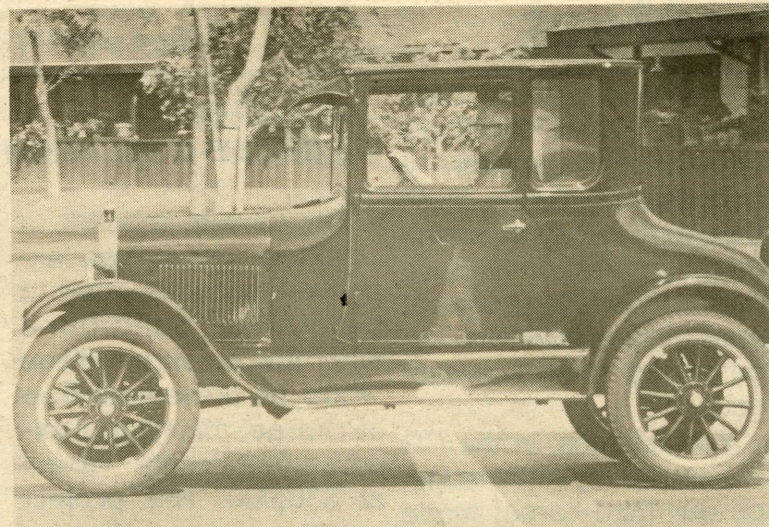

The facility would benefit a large number of Villagers who are in need of physical therapy for many categories of ailments peculiar to middle age and beyond. The literature pertaining to exercise for such ailments (lower back pain, arthritis, stroke rehabilitation, etc.) is emphatic in recommending mechanically assisted exercise. At least 16 couples from the Village now spend an average of $250 yearly at Nautilus Ventura, YMCA and other spas.

Cost to the Association would be limited to, eventually, providing a permanent space for the facility. Should the project prove impracticable for any reason, the Association would have risked nothing and would lose nothing by permitting the club to proceed.

No money will be collected unless earmarked for specific use toward purchase or maintenance of equipment or supplies. It is estimated that four years would elapse before the full equipment goals are attained. Assessment of progress during any part of that time could easily be made.

As to liability insurance; it can only be said that the use of equipment of the type represented by Nautilus is singularly safe. Records of Nautilus Ventura, which has more than 5000 members, show ten years of operation with no injuries and one nuisance suit which has been pending for more than two years. Presentation of this project was delayed, at the sponsor's request, until the liability insurance coverage had been renewed, in order that it would not trigger any increase in premium. In the option of Mr. Lou Weldon, addition of this project, and so informing the insurer, will not increase the premium.

As spokesman for the group sponsoring this project, I urge you to authorize formation of this proposed club. If you find weaknesses in the argue-ments presented herein, I further urge you to provide advice and counsel toward finding a solution to the weakness rather than to use it as reason for disapproval.

Kenneth L. Wilson
