- 1g. If any formal options, concentrations, or special emphases are planned under the proposed major, explain fully.

Not applicable.

1h. Course prerequisites and other criteria for admission of students to the proposed degree major program, and for their continuation in it.

- There is no additional course prerequisite or other criterion from the Spanish program beyond the standard admission criteria of the university.
- Students seeking admission to the Spanish degree program must be officially accepted into the CSUCI academic program.
- Students must declare themselves as B.A. in Spanish majors.
- Students must remain in good academic standing throughout the duration of their enrollment in CSUCI.
- Students must complete and fulfill the requirements of the degree program within a designated period specified by the university.

1i. Explanation of special characteristics of the proposed degree major program, e.g., in terminology, units of credit required, types of course work, etc.

The special characteristics of this program are:

- It takes 120 units to complete, which ensures that full-time students can complete the program in four years.
- The major is 34 units, enabling students the opportunity to pursue a minor in another discipline or a second major.
- The course work provides interdisciplinary experience in diverse areas such as language, culture, linguistics, literature, Spanish for careers, translation, art, and history of the Spanish speaking world.
- It includes a capstone course that integrates prior course work with one or more of the objectives of the University's mission statement.
- The program is very flexible, in that only 11 units are required from the upper division core with the remaining 15 units as electives.
- The program allows students to prepare for a wide range of career pathways after graduation so that they could go to graduate school, pursue any teaching credential program or go into careers in the public and private sectors.

1j. For undergraduate programs, provisions for articulation of the proposed major with community college programs.

The lower division core courses in the CSUCI Spanish program adhere to the normal standards widely accepted at colleges and universities across the United States. Community colleges in the CSUCI service area have been consulted, and an on-going dialogue among the campuses will ensure smooth transition for the transfer student. Formal articulation agreements, such as CAN, are currently in place.

1k. Provision for meeting accreditation requirements, where applicable, and anticipated date of accreditation request.

Not applicable.

2. Need for the Proposed Degree Major Program

2a. List of other California State University campuses currently offering or projecting the proposed degree major program; list of neighboring institutions, public and private, currently offering the proposed degree major program.

CSU Bakersfield	CSU Los Angeles	CSU San Jose
CSU Chico	CSU Northridge	CSU San Luis Obispo
CSU Dominguez Hills	CSU Pomona	CSU San Marcos
CSU Fresno	CSU Sacramento	CSU Sonoma
CSU Fullerton	CSU San Bernardino	CSU Stanislaus
CSU Humboldt	CSU San Diego
CSU Long Beach	CSU San Francisco

CSU Monterey Bay offers a concentration in Spanish. The only other CSU campus not offering a Spanish degree is the Maritime Academy.

UC Santa Barbara, California Lutheran, and Pepperdine are the nearest non-CSU universities offering Spanish degrees.

2b. Differences between the proposed program and programs listed in Section 2a above.

The CSUCI's Spanish program is similar to those listed in Section 2a in significant ways. It is important that our students obtain a solid foundation in Spanish language, literature and Hispanic culture. Many of the required or core courses in the program are like those in the curricula of the above-mentioned universities.

The CSUCI program is distinctive in a number of ways. First, the program offers a wide variety of course work that not only focuses on language, literature and culture, but also on linguistics, translation and Spanish for careers. In addition, students can also take one related course from the English, art or history programs. Second, it includes a capstone course that supports the CSUCI's mission statement as students have to work on projects that involve an interdisciplinary activity, a service learning experience, and/or reflect a multicultural or international perspective. Lastly, the program emphasizes the practical applications of Spanish in order to prepare students for the needs of the job market (e.g., Spanish for careers, translation, etc.).

2f. Professional uses of the proposed degree major program.

Knowledge of Spanish language and culture offers students a competitive edge in such fields as education, social work, international affairs, health care, law, library science, translation, journalism, municipal services, advertising, media, social sciences, international finance and banking, and the rapidly expanding world of international business. These fields, and many others, increasingly seek candidates who possess Spanish language ability and cultural knowledge and sensitivity.

4. Additional Support Resources Required

4b. Any special characteristics of the additional faculty or staff support positions needed to implement the proposed program.

It is assumed that adjunct lecturers will be hired to teach some of the basic courses and, perhaps, in areas of specialization. All adjuncts who teach for the Spanish program will have a minimum of a Master's Degree and successful teaching experience.

- 4c. The amount of additional lecture and/or laboratory space required to initiate and sustain the program over the next five years. Indicate any additional special facilities that will be required. If the space is under construction, what is the projected occupancy date? If the space is planned, indicate campus-wide priority of the facility, capital outlay program priority, and projected date of occupancy.

Neither additional lecture nor laboratory space is required.

- 4d. Additional library resources needed. Indicate the commitment of the campus to purchase or borrow through interlibrary loan these additional resources.

No additional library resources needed above the existing CSUCI Library acquisition program.

- 4e. Additional equipment or specialized materials that will be (1) needed to implement the program and (2) needed during the first two years after initiation. Indicate the source of funds and priority to secure these resource needs.

No additional equipment or specialized materials expected.

5. Abstract of the Proposal and Proposed Catalog Description

SPANISH

PROGRAMS

- Major in Spanish
- Minor in Spanish

The Spanish program at CSUCI provides students the opportunity to develop their Spanish-language skills while deepening their knowledge and appreciation of the peoples and cultures of the Hispanic world. Spanish is the first language of approximately 400 million people in 21 countries. Hispanic cultures and peoples form an integral part of U.S. history and society, and Spanish is the most prevalent second language in California and in most regions of the country.

Being bilingual is a tremendous asset and can open doors to students entering numerous occupations and careers, such as advertising, agriculture, business, government, health services, interpreting, journalism, law, public relations, social services, teaching, translation, and the travel industry. These fields, and many others, increasingly seek candidates who possess Spanish language ability and cultural sensitivity. The program addresses the needs of students by preparing them for an increasingly pluralistic and globally oriented society, as well as a competitive career world.

The B.A. in Spanish is thirty-four (34) units, providing students the opportunity to pursue a minor in another discipline or even a second major. The Spanish minor is twenty (20) units. Students can choose course work that focuses on language, culture, linguistics, literature, Spanish for careers, translation, and art or history. All courses with a SPAN prefix are taught in Spanish so that students develop proficiency in the language. Spanish majors and minors are encouraged to participate in a study abroad program.
