Planning Commission OKs LV fitness center

By Patty Ecker

By unanimous vote last month, the Camarillo Planning Commission approved the plans and architectural drawings for LV's new fitness center, a major step toward a construction start date in the fall.

The July 16 decision was cheered by most of the 75 Leisure Village residents who attended the City Hall meeting.

The commission staff called the proposed project "appropriately designed for the site" and said it "doesn't interfere with access, parking or activities in the common area of the Rec Center."

John Mayer, standing, speaks with Leisure Village General Manager Bob Scheaffer and Village residents attending the July 16 Camarillo Planning Commission meeting.

The 2,000-square-foot building will nearly double the space available for residents' exercise. All new equipment will be designed specifically for seniors; more floor space is planned for mat and yoga work, and cable machines will be installed specifically for people in wheelchairs.

Eleven people spoke to the commissioners about the project, most in support of approval, calling the new center a much-needed addition, long overdue, an improvement that will enhance property values and something that will give residents pride in our facilities. Three objectors raised questions about funding for the project. LV Board members responded by explaining to the panel that the money is already in an operating fund earmarked only for fitness center construction.

A reminder to our readers that all submissions to ILV must have the writer's name, address and telephone number. Only the name and Village number will be printed unless the writer requests their address and phone number be included. Anonymous submissions, regardless of content, will not be printed.

The first-ever Club Faire in Leisure Village exceeded all expectations, with 55 clubs attending and, more importantly, 600 people. But best of all, 1,200 sign-ups were collected, proving that the event was successful in linking people up with the many activities available in the Village. Story, photos, Pages 16, 17.

"Glorious" comes to Leisure Village, and it lives up to its name, earning a standing ovation. Story, photos, Pages 12, 13.

Village wins back paddle tennis trophy from Casta Del Sol

LV team wins 13 games, opponent wins 11 during July 13 tournament

By Marion Green

The Paddle Tennis Tournament was on. Twenty-three Casta Del Sol players had driven from Mission Viejo to compete with their Leisure Village counterparts. At stake, a tall trophy won by the Casta team the last time the two clubs competed. The goal of Leisure Village's team was to reclaim that trophy.

Last played at Casta Del Sol, on a misty day in October, this morning — Saturday, July 13 — was clear and warm. Leisure Village was dressed in red, Casta Del Sol, in white. Spectator seats were full as we cheered for our teams.

The team of Diane Carroll and Pat Brown played one of the early sets. With the score tied, Pat Brown received the ball close to the net and with a drop shot (picture a slam dunk) over the net, won the match. And the crowd cheered! The morning session ended with both teams having won six matches.

Following lunch, we enjoyed an exhibition of the best players of both teams; then it was back to playing matches for score.

Other paddle tennis players not competing in the tournament played social games on the newly converted tennis court. Recently, new lines were drawn to allow paddle tennis players use of the court. Players say it takes a little getting used to as the court appearance seems larger than what they are used to playing on. However, positive comments have been made about the tartan surface being more "cushy" and easier on the players' leg and knee joints.

As the afternoon games continued, the competition was very clear: LV wanted the trophy back!

The tournament came to a close with Casta Del Sol winning a total of 11 matches and Leisure Village winning a total of 13. The folks from Casta were good sports as they congratulated us and turned over the trophy.

Of course, they are very eager to have a return match. And Leisure Village is confident they can maintain their winning streak.

REALTORS CORNER

By Sharron Parker
 Troop Real Estate Inc.

Studies show that when someone approaches your house, they decide in the first eight seconds whether they like it or not. In the real estate business it's known as curb appeal.

Curb appeal is most important when you are trying to sell a house or offer it for rent. But even if you're not, it's something to think about.

Sometimes, people don't even see their own front door because they enter through the garage. It's all too easy to let the front-of-the-home maintenance get the best of us.

Some suggestions for increasing curb appeal include:

- Wash down the front of the house, including the front door and exterior light, to eliminate cobwebs and dirt.

- Gutters need to be cleaned.

Weeding, trimming and raking out leaves and debris is helpful.

- Remove empty flowerpots and flowerpots with dried-out or dead plants.

- Does your doorbell, mailbox, doormat or exterior light fixture need to be replaced? A handyman can easily and inexpensively do that work.

- Take a look at the landscaping and determine if replacing some plants will improve the curb appeal of your home.

You might want to ask a Realtor for assistance.

Fourth of July celebration is a real blast

The Fourth of July celebration was a smashing success for Leisure Village. Held July 3 in the AR, residents and friends enjoyed a picnic-like atmosphere with food, drinks, entertainment and games.

A total of 334 attended, which included 22 volunteers and seven employees. They were treated with Hebrew National hot dogs, baked beans, potato salad, cole slaw, sauerkraut, water, coffee and tea.

Jerry Spector emceed the festivities, posing questions to the guests and awarding prizes for the correct answers. Jerry promised the grand prize would be a diamond necklace, and he delivered as promised (see photo).

Entertainment was provided by the Rhythmettes and members of the Players Guild who gave a rousing rendition of "You're a Grand Old Flag."

Susan Rockwell and her crew know how to put on a celebration!

Sign language classes start soon

Two new sign language classes will be offered in September after Labor Day. Glenn Whitlock, who taught a beginner's class last spring, will once again be the instructor for these classes.

A new Beginner's Class will start Sept. 9 at 5 p.m. in the MPR. This class will focus on the basics of sign language through group activities, including games, conversation and direct instruction. Students will have the opportunity to learn the basics of fingerspelling, build approximately 200 signs — including some emergency signs — and learn about the origins of sign language in America.

An Intermediate Class will be offered to those with a mastery of the spring class or those with a functional level of basic sign language. Students will expand their sign language vocabulary through direct instruction and various activities, including songs and The Pledge of Allegiance and situational dialogue. This class will begin Sept. 9 in the Lanai Room at noon on Mondays.

NEWS TO KNOW

Tired of airport security? Here's a shortcut

By Bob Cohen

Many Leisure Village residents travel extensively, and that experience has become much less rewarding since the government was forced to implement new security procedures after 9/11. Recently the same agencies that implemented the burdensome procedures have developed a new program, available to all U.S. citizens and legal residents, that lessens the burdens.

The Transportation Security Administration (TSA) has implemented TSA Pre-Check, which, when coupled with the Customs and Border Protection (CBP) Global Entry (GE) program, allows selected frequent flyers of participating airlines to receive expedited screening benefits.

Approved participants use dedicated screening lanes for screening benefits, which include leaving on shoes, light outerwear and belts as well as leaving laptops and 3-1-1 compliant liquids in carry-on bags.

On returning to the country, GE program participants skip customs lines and check-in at specially designed kiosks, which verify your identity using both fingerprint and facial recognition software (and of course, your passport information). You then declare your imported goods, if any, and go on your way.

To be eligible for these programs there are a number of steps that must be taken.

First, you must be a participant in the frequent flyer program of one of the following airlines: Alaska Airlines, American Airlines, Delta Air Lines, United Airlines and US Airways. Other airlines, such as Southwest and Jet Blue are not participating. This requirement is in place because your boarding pass must include your PASS ID number.

Next, you must individually apply to U.S. Customs and Border Protection for participation in the program. This is done by completing an extensive questionnaire online at www.globalentry.gov. Submit the form with a non-refundable credit card payment of $100. Based on the information you provide, CBP does a thorough background check and notifies you of your eligibility (or not) in the program. If approved, you are invited to the nearest CBP office, in our case, LAX, for a face-to-face interview, fingerprinting and photographing. Shortly thereafter you will receive your PASS ID number as well as an identification card for use when entering the country by car or ship.

There is no minimum number of trips a year that you need take to qualify for the program.

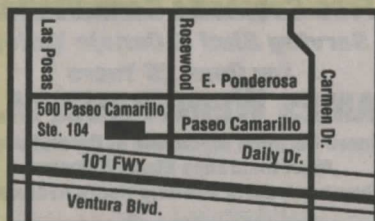

For more information, visit www.tsa.gov/tsa-precheck or www.cbp.gov on the Web.

Whether the trade-off of the up-front application and cost versus the simpler traveling experience is worth it is a decision that you will have to make.

NEWS TO KNOW

Staying safe in the summer sun

(Editor's note: The following article has been edited by ILV)

By Andy Smith

During these hot summer days, it is vitally important that we understand symptoms of heat-related illnesses and what seniors should do to protect themselves. Excessive heat forces our body to work harder than normal, which often is the root cause of heat-related illness. For seniors, this can be a dangerous, and even deadly, problem. With awareness and preventive measures, seniors can enjoy a healthy, active summer.

You can help to prevent dehydration, heat exhaustion, and stroke by following these tips:

- Drink plenty of fluids, especially water, but also popular sports drinks, throughout the day, even if you don't feel thirsty. Avoid caffeine and alcoholic beverages as much as possible as they accelerate dehydration.

- Avoid direct sun exposure, especially during peak hours of 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. To protect your skin from harmful UV rays, the American Cancer Society uses a catch phrase that can help everyone going out in the sun: "Slip! Slop! Slap! And Wrap!" It translates into: "Slip on a shirt, slop on sunscreen, slap on a hat, and wrap on sunglasses to protect the eyes and sensitive skin around them."

- Limit strenuous activity and exercise. Planning around the hottest time of the day can help to limit exposure to the heat.

- Take frequent breaks to cool down when you're outside in the hot sun.

- Make sure the home's cooling device is working properly.

Guidelines in this article are not intended as medical advice. Seek medical attention if you experience heat-related issues.

What's cookin': Salad in a Soup Bowl

By Susan Amerikaner

One of my favorite spots on earth is San Luis Obispo. We were lucky enough to live there for 10 years before moving to wonderful Leisure Village. There are great restaurants in SLO, and one of my favorites is Big Sky Café. It's a California café with fresh, local fare.

Charles Myers, chef and owner of Big Sky, was kind enough to share with me his recipe for Gazpacho, a cold tomato soup. It is the best I've ever had and easy to make. This recipe makes 3 to 4 servings. I make it all summer! When company is coming, I double the recipe.

This "salad in a soup bowl" keeps in the fridge for a week. I use Hothouse (or English) cucumbers that I wash and dice, but I don't bother to peel or seed them.

Gazpacho is best when you make it the day before, giving all the flavors a chance to blend. So enjoy this treat to beat the heat as a great appetizer or main course!

Big Sky Gazpacho

1/2 cup fresh tomatoes, diced (you may use two or three kinds or colors of tomatoes)

1/2 cup cucumbers, seeded, peeled, and diced (or use seedless Hothouse cukes)

7 to 8 ounces of canned diced tomatoes with juice (you may substitute fresh tomatoes)

1/4 cup each red peppers, green peppers and red onions, all finely diced

1 cup tomato juice

Stir together and place one-third of the mixture into a food processor or blender and puree. Add the puree back to the mixture and season with:

3 Tablespoons extra virgin olive oil

1 Tablespoon any quality red wine vinegar

1/2 Tablespoon balsamic vinegar (optional)

1 Tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Salt, pepper, and Tabasco sauce to taste.

Stir, chill, and serve topped with a couple of garlic croutons and some chunks of ripe avocado!

Fitness center approved

The Planning Commission told the audience that matters of funding are not relevant to its decision; architecture, safety codes, and city regulations are.

Twenty-four written comments were also submitted to the three commissioners — two opposing and the rest in favor of approval.

That approval is not the last necessary green light. FEMA, the Federal Emergency Management Agency, recently notified the architect and the Village that the agency must sign off on plans because the new building will be in the flood plain. Craig Lopez, the architect of the project, says the request will take some reworking of plans. He has “no doubt that FEMA requirements will be met,” but it will add as much as three months to the preparation time.

Even with the new FEMA application, it is estimated that final approvals could occur within a few months and construction could begin in October. LV residents might be using their new fitness center at the beginning of 2014.

VILLAGE HAPPENINGS

Village has a 'Glorious' time

By Marion Green

Glorious indeed! What a gift was brought to the stage of Leisure Village!

"Glorious!" A play previously performed at the Malibu Stage Company under the direction of Diane Carroll — professionally acted, staged and costumed — was presented to Leisure Village at 7:30 p.m. July 12 and 13 and at 2 p.m. July 14 in the AR. Upwards of 500 people attended.

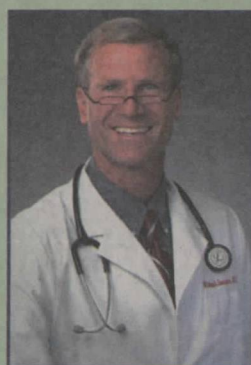

"Glorious!" is a true story about the quirky Florence Foster Jenkins, who believed she was blessed with an amazing operatic voice, but in reality was not. Showtime and Players Guild collaborated to present this production for our residents. Diane Carroll, now a resident, directed the play, and Joyce Belcher served as producer.

an incredible job of screeching and, on occasion, tapping her forehead to force a higher note out. The costumes were stunning. For this production, piano movers were engaged to lift the piano onto the stage where Cosme McMoon (Beverly Craveiro), Ms. Jenkins' accompanist, did a brilliant job of staying in sync with perhaps, as suggested, "the world's worst opera singer."

Once her singing voice is heard, it is hard to believe Ms. Jenkins would play Carnegie Hall. It was sold out three weeks before her performance.

Ms. Jenkins wore a hat she made of feathers; her dress had wings she flapped as she paraded around the stage.

The piano is slowly eased into position on the stage.

What joy to see someone who so believed in herself that she never heard how off-key she really sang. You feel how much pain the actress portraying Ms. Jenkins must have been in as she sang very high and off pitch notes.

A scene from "Glorious!" which got a standing ovation.

Poor Ms. Jenkins died at age 76, one month after her Carnegie Hall performance. As the show comes to a close, Ms. Blossom comes onstage and sings like the nightingale that Florence Foster Jenkins believed was the sound of her voice.

The cast of supporting actors included Peter Elbling

(St. Clair), Nancy Marie Little (Dorothy), Chera Holland (Maria) and Carolyn Hunter (Miss Verrinder-Gedge).

There was a standing ovation at the Saturday performance.

You had to leave with a smile on your face at this gloriously entertaining and poignant play.

First-ever Club Faire deemed a rousing success

55 committees and clubs garner 1,200 sign-ups as 600 Villagers find out about LV opportunities

By Bob Cohen

Leisure Village held its first Club Faire on June 29. In what promises to be an annual event, 55 clubs and committees gathered in the AR ready to host a crowd anticipated to number about 400 people.

To say that the Faire was a success is an understatement!

Where the organizing committee hoped to have 400 attendees, there were some 600 who came! Where the committee was hoping for 200 to 250 interest-events — defined as a person registering their interest in a club or committee — we had nearly 1,200! And finally, the committee had planned for 40 organizations to participate, but there were 55 — and more may have participated if we'd had the room.

Faire attendees were treated to free food, which unfortunately ran out in the first 90 minutes due to the overwhelming attendance, and free wine, which did not run out).

Because of the generosity of all of the clubs and committee members, as well as a few local Realtors, more than 60 door prizes were given away.

But the success of the Faire is not to be measured in the number of sandwiches and bottles of wine consumed, nor in the number of door prizes awarded, but rather in the enthusiasm of the attendees and participating organizations. And, that was overwhelming.

Co-sponsored by Inside Leisure Village and the Ed and Rec Committee, all costs of the entire event were borne by the participating organizations.

For those who missed it, watch for it on LVTV, which filmed the entire event.

Plans are already under way for next year's event, tentatively planned for the first quarter of 2014. Watch future issues of Inside Leisure Village for details as they unfold.

Photos by Jerry Spector

Some 600 people poured into the AR to see what 55 of Leisure Village's clubs and committees have to offer. By the end of the day, 1,200 sign-ups had taken place.

Next month, Donna, a new instructor, has offered to teach. Lesson starts at 8:15 p.m., so be there and see what she has in store for us. We continue doing our 50/50 and having wine for prizes, thanks to Sharon. We have lots of lucky winners. We are trying to meet everyone's requests, even if we have to stay a little later. In the Creative category, winners were: first place, "Bonding Time," by Lee Clukey; second place, "Ice Man Cometh," by Jerry Spector; and third place, "Solar Power," by Marlene Votion. There were no Honorable Mentions due to fewer entries.

The members are busy preparing their pictures for the Ventura County Fair photo exhibit. All residents are welcome to be a guest at any of our meetings in the MPR; no cameras required. The meetings are fun to attend, especially when the judge critiques the members' entries. Contact Judy Spector at 384-9039 for more information.

LV Pet Club

By Susan Amerikaner

July's Pet Club meeting was hot stuff! It was a festival of facts intended to keep your pets safe and healthy in steamy weather. Guest speaker Dr. Andy Miller warned of leaving an animal in the car. Even on a cool 70 degree day, the temperatures inside get dangerously high very quickly. Dr. Miller also noted that dogs can burn the pads of their feet on asphalt or concrete. Think about the last time you went barefoot on a very hot day—ouch!

Flea control is necessary year round in our climate, and Dr. Miller explained the topical or systemic (pill) options.

The vet also cautioned against common toxic substances, such as grapes, which can cause serious bladder infection in dogs. Dr. Miller told dog lovers to be wary of grapes, raisins, chocolate and Xylitol, the ingredient found in sugarless gum and mints. Dr. Miller practices at Las Posas Veterinary Clinic, just outside the Village, near CVS.

There is currently a coyote alert in the Village. Due to the recent fire and drought, coyotes are trolling the Village in search of water and food. Residents report frequent sightings, especially in early morning, dusk and dark. Please do not allow your pets to be unattended on patios, as coyotes can jump the fences. Dog owners are also warned to keep dogs close to you on walks; extendable leashes are not a good idea when coyotes are on the prowl! Coyotes are not a danger to people, but they are a real threat to our small pets.

We have a special treat in store for our August Pet Club meeting. The Ventura County Sheriff's Department will stage a demonstration of the K9 Unit. These amazing dogs are specially trained to assist police in locating felons, missing adults and children, narcotics and evidence. This meeting will be held Monday, Aug. 12, at 7 p.m. in the Pavilion Area behind the pool. Please do not bring your pets, but do join us for an exciting evening!

Women's Club

By Chi Chun

Congratulations to the newly elected members of the LV Board of Directors, which includes two of our own — Lin Grant and Rita Linsey!

Although July was considered dark because of no general meeting, there was plenty of activity. The Women's Club table at the Club Faire generated lots of interest and brought in new members.

The Tuesday workshop is always open from 9 to 11 a.m. every week in the MPR. The women are busy creating beautiful, unique gifts for all occasions and seasons. Have you seen the new "teenie weenie bikini?" Retro jewelry remains popular, as well as the See's Candy. Only See's

The workshop is the greatest source of revenue for the club. Every item you purchase adds to the amount the club can contribute to the Village and to worthy outside charities. Your single support is appreciated and magnifies to benefit many.

The next general meeting will be Aug. 8 in the AR at 1 p.m. Specially selected items and jewelry will be on display to enjoy and purchase. The entertainment will be the Camarillo Ukulele Group. Be prepared to relax and sway to the soothing music. Refreshments are by Shearon Millar's committee. Aloha!

SAS Dinner Out

By Zelda Greentree

The first ever Club Faire last month was a complete success as far as I'm concerned. Many of our LV singles attended the event and signed our attendance sheet. For those of you who are interested, our next Dinner Out at Ottavio's Italian Restaurant will be held on Aug. 13. All you need to do is phone Lee Edwards at 484-3289 for a reservation.

As you know, we get a private room; therefore, the reservation is an absolute must. Hope to see many of you on Aug. 13. Don't forget to call Lee.

RV Club

By Fred Sass

This is the second month of being

"dark" (having no meeting). Our next meeting will be on Tuesday, Sept. 17 at 6:30 p.m. We still have a trip to Buellton Flying Flags on Oct. 17 through 21. Call Mary Beil at 987-7901 for details.

If you are new to Leisure Village and have an RV, we invite you to come and visit our club meeting in September. To all: Have a safe driving summer.

Beginner Line Dance Class

By Tina Nunnally

The class meets on Tuesdays from 2:30 to 4 p.m. in the AR. Extra help is available from 2:30 to 3 p.m. Sharon O'Connor is the dance instructor. Regular attendance is recommended in order to learn basic steps and dances. We dance to various styles of dance. Come and join the fun. This is an activity that is great for the mind, body and spirit. Contact Sharon if you have any questions regarding this class at 910-9428. We look forward to seeing you.

Get your reading glasses on and grab a cup of Java.

We'd like to thank John Wirtz for serving two fine terms as club president. During a recent walk with him on his last tournament round as president, Wirtz reflected on his years at the helm.

"I enjoyed it," he said. "I had a very good group of support, could not have asked for better guys."

I watched silently as he scored a Birdie with his putter. Excellent way to end his term. Go forth John, score those Aces, Birds and Pars. See ya' on the fairway.

Meanwhile, on another hole, incoming President Pat Gunning voiced his concern regarding volunteers.

"I want to see more members take an active part in the club," he said. "There's more to this than simply playing golf on Tuesday. I want to see backup for each chairperson. Too many members are doing multiple tasks. We need more volunteers to step up."

One such person is Paul Coffman, incoming second vice president who stated, "I have been playing with this group for two years and felt guilty. I wanted to give back so I volunteered when this position opened."

"By the way," he added, "I could use some help."

Hole-in-one congrats to Bob Ellis, who scored his on July 2, and to Jerry Johnson for his ace on July 16. Way to go!

Welcome new member Ray Craig and those who joined at the LV Club Faire, including Larry Siegel, Daniel Coleman, John Baker, Dick Bennett, Jerry Levine, Dave Thompson, Steve Pare, and John Miller. Hey guys, hear about our need for volunteers?

We would like to thank Pat Gunning, John Hisslar and John Baumgardner for manning the table at the LV Club Faire on June 29. It was a great event.

That does it for this month. Wash that empty cup and see ya on the fairway.

Racquet Club

By Trish Zakas

On June 29 the Racquet Club participated in the Club Faire held in the AR. Along with 55 other organizations, the Racquet Club had a table and display inviting attendees to participate in our various activities. We had 51 people sign up to learn more about our four sports—ping pong, pickleball, tennis and paddle tennis. While not all of them will eventually decide to become Racquet Club members, we thank each of them for taking time to stop by our table to check us out. For those of you who missed the Faire, if you want information about ping-pong or pickleball, call John Peterson, at 388-1230; tennis, Sharon O'Conner at 910-9428; paddle tennis, Trish Zakas at 991-6374.

In July we hosted a paddle tennis tournament with the highly skilled players from the community of Casta del Sol in Mission Viejo. Some of the Casta players drove up on Friday afternoon for early bird play and socializing with us before the official matches started on Saturday morning. At the end of play on Saturday afternoon, Leisure Village was fortunate enough to have won the tournament. Many thanks to our tournament director, Reuben Ruiz, for all the time and hard work he put into making this event possible.

The annual picnic, previously scheduled and advertised for July 27, has been changed to Saturday, Aug. 17, starting at 12:30 p.m. The catered event will be held in our picnic area.
