

Inland Celebrates Chapter Charter Installs Officers

ARCHITECTS of Riverside and San Bernardino Counties gathered January 8 at Swan Lake Clubhouse, in the Ontario-Upland area, for the dual purpose of installing new officers and celebrating the first meeting of their group as the Inland California Chapter, AIA.

The charter became effective January 1; formerly the group had been the Inland District (since 1957) of the Southern California Chapter, AIA.

New officers are: Jack E. Causey, Upland, president; William F. Cody, FAIA, Palm Springs, vice-president; Jack Calkins, Hemet, secretary; and R. Ross Herrick, Riverside, treasurer.

President Jack Causey, corporate member of the architectural firm of Harnish, Morgan and Causey, Ontario, graduated from USC in 1953 with a Bachelor of Architecture degree and received his state license in 1956.

In top photo are Inland AIA officers, from left: R. Ross Herrick, treasurer; James Calkins, secretary; Jack Causey, president; and William F. Cody, vice-president.

In photo below are seen guests at Inland dinner, from left: Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Amoroso, vice-president So. Calif. Chapter, Producers Council; Mrs. William Cody; Carlos Munoz-Flores, secretary Prod. Council; William F. Cody; Mrs. David Underwood; Mrs. Carlos Munoz-Flores; and Steward Williams.

In photo to left: Clinton Ternstrom, immediate past president, AIA-SC, who was installing officer; Jack Causey; and Clare H. Day, director and past president of District.

Causey served as an architectural draftsman with Architect Henry Charles Burge, La Canada, in 1952-53; was chief draftsman for Architect Gerald W. Bense, Whittier, 1953-55; and from 1955-58 served with Jay Dewey Harnish, AIA. He became an associate member of the firm of Harnish and Eugene Weldon Fickes, Jr., AIA, in 1958; and in 1960 became a corporate member of Harnish, Morgan and Causey.

Long Beach Men Form Firm in Newport Beach

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made of establishment of the firm of D. J. Daniel, Jr., and Associates, Architects, located at 901 Dover, Suite 227, Newport Beach (telephone: (714) 642-7171).

Firm members are D. J. Daniel, Jr., AIA, formerly associated with Power and Daniel of Long Beach, and Associate Architect Robert W. Schilling, AIA, who previously had his practice in Long Beach.

WAL-SC HOSTS PROFESSIONAL GROUPS

WOMEN'S Architectural League, Southern California Chapter, on January 25, hosted the annual luncheon meeting which brought together members of the Lawyers' Wives of Los Angeles, Women's Auxiliary to the Los Angeles County Medical Association and Women's Auxiliary to the Los Angeles Dental Society.

The luncheon, attended by over 350 persons, was held in the Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel. Mrs. Ronald M. Cleveland of WAL-SC was chairman of the event. On display was an exhibit of architectural renderings of contemporary work by members of the American Institute of Architects.

Ralph Story, noted tv and radio commentator, was luncheon speaker on the topic, "The Funny Face of Los Angeles."

Seated at the speakers' table were honored guests, including presidents of the four professional men's group; Glendon Tremaine, president, Los Angeles County Bar Association; Dr. George C. Andersen, president, Los Angeles County Medical Association; Dr. Robert C. Read, president, Los Angeles Dental Society; and Frank Gruys, president, American Institute of Architects, Southern California Chapter.

The annual luncheon meeting is designed to create better public relations within the professional groups.

Ronald Aday Opens Office

RONALD T. ADAY, AIA, has established a new general practice architectural firm, Architect Ronald T. Aday, AIA, at 295 W. Green St. Pasadena; telephone: 449-2900.

A 1960 graduate with honors from UC-Berkeley Aday has worked for several firms as project architect and chief designer, in addition to holding teaching assignments at the University of California and East Los Angeles College.

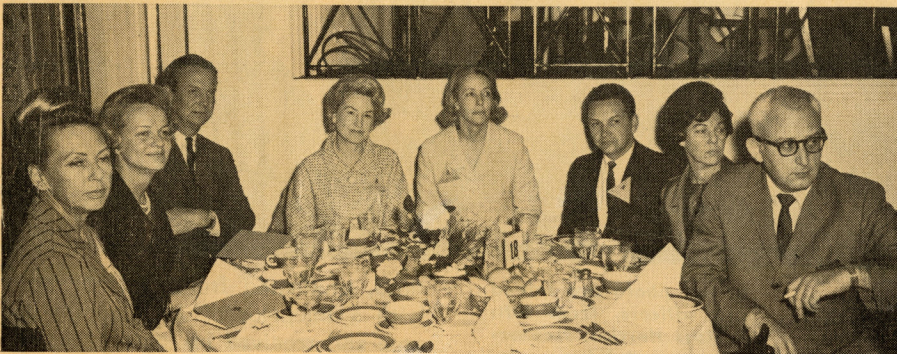

Lawrence Thompson Joins Santa Barbara Firm

LAWRENCE THOMPSON, 196 graduate cum laude in architecture from USC, has joined the architectural firm of Kruger, Bensen and Zieme AIA, Santa Barbara, as a design draftsman.

He served as head designer for William F. Cody, FAIA, Palm Springs, and as job captain for Robert H. Ricciardi, AIA, Palm Desert.

Attending the annual luncheon meeting, this year hosted by the Women's Architectural League, were, from left: Mrs. Bayard Rhone, president of Lawyers' Wives of Los Angeles; Mrs. William J. Armstrong, president of Women's Auxiliary to the Los Angeles Dental Society; Mrs. Ronald M. Cleveland, chairman of the WAL committee; Mrs. Paul E. Travis, president of Women's Auxiliary to the Los Angeles County Medical Association; Mrs. Richard M. Hennessy, president of Women's Architectural League, So. Calif.

Many notable persons in the profession attended the WAL-SC luncheon. Seen, from left: Mrs. Robert E. Griffiths; Mrs. George Dudley; Dean George Dudley, AIA, of UCLA's School of Architecture and Urban Planning; Mrs. C. Day Woodford; Mrs. Sam Hurst; Dean Sam Hurst, FAIA, of USC's School of Architecture; Kestutis Mikenas, AIA; William Baime, AIA. Over 350 persons attended event held in Beverly Hills Hotel.

Gathered for luncheon were, from left: Dr. George C. Andersen, president, Los Angeles County Medical Assn.; Glendon Tremaine, president, Los Angeles County Bar Assn.; Frank Gruys, president, American Institute of Architects, Southern California Chapter; Ralph Story, noted tv and radio commentator, who spoke on "The Funny Face of Los Angeles"; and Rt. Rev. Monsignor John J. Devlin, Los Angeles, who delivered invocation.

