Good evening everybody. Welcome. Nice to see you. We're going to have a lovely evening. I think that I was just about nine months ago. I was standing at a similar podium, and I think we were sending our queen off to Chicago to become victorious. And you'll get to meet her in just a minute. Anyway, I want to welcome you to the 31st Annual American GI forum, Queen Pageant and Coronation Ball.

00:07:28:22 - 00:07:50:19

Speaker 2

We're going to have an exciting program for you this this evening. And of course, we're also, if you think about it, sort of at a crossroads, a crossroads in history, something that the GI forum actually represents. We just had a lot of our young men come back from the Gulf, and even now, coming back from the Gulf, and even at this time, we were also concerned.

00:07:50:19 - 00:08:11:25

Speaker 2

Another issue, which the GI forum puts a lot of its effort behind, and that is education. California is in the midst of education crisis, and it's going to impact a lot of our young people. Right now, the governor is talking about covering cutting most of the money that will go to support the budgets of the schools. And so they're looking at thousands of teachers being laid off.

00:08:11:27 - 00:08:33:18

Speaker 2

Do you know what that means for our children and for their ability to get a quality education? So I would suggest to you and your support of the GI forum to get behind the as they lobby against the governor cutting these funds to these schools because it impacts you and your children and our future.

00:08:33:20 - 00:08:53:29

Speaker 2

At this time, I'd like to introduce to you the young woman I just mentioned. I had the honor of being president last year when she actually won the Queen's crown, the 1990 Miss San Jose GI forum queen, Miss Monica Renee Gomez, Monica.

You can join us for our questions.

00:30:19:12 - 00:30:26:09

Unknown

Thank you so much, Mr.. This evening, I would like to share with you how important.

00:30:26:13 - 00:30:48:04

Speaker 2

My culture has been to me at different stages of my life. At the age of five. My culture inspired my art. I clearly remember the time when my preschool teacher assigned is an art project with clay. While the rest of my peers finally went to make with their clay. I quickly began to make little dishes modeled after the ones my mom had brought from Mexico.

00:30:48:06 - 00:30:52:22

Speaker 2

I will never forget trying to reproduce the beautiful designs, unlike dishes.

00:30:52:27 - 00:31:07:02

Unknown

Like the ones at home. But more than my efforts, I will never forget the pride I felt when microscopic details were displayed as the best project of the class. As I look on that day, I realized that my emotions.

00:31:07:07 - 00:31:29:09

Speaker 2

Were not just pride in my work, but they were also pride in myself. Those little dishes symbolized a part of me, my family, and my culture. It is no wonder that those dishes are very important to my mother. Also, they are similar to her of her family and her beloved neighbor, which she had to leave in search of a better life.

00:31:29:12 - 00:31:52:00

Speaker 2

At the age of nine, I had another experience, which today I realize is a part of my heritage. Our teacher asked us to write an essay about our family and what we like the best. About the weekend I began to write about my parents, my grandmother, my brothers and sisters, my cousins, my aunts and uncles, and how much I liked Sunday because we were together.

00:31:52:02 - 00:31:59:22

Speaker 2

Proud of my essay, I returned it to my teacher, and to my surprise, I had to rewrite the essay because she said my grandmother.

00:31:59:25 - 00:32:05:14

Unknown

Cousins, aunts and uncles were not a part of my family. Today I realized why.

00:32:05:14 - 00:32:29:27

Speaker 2

My teacher said that to me today. I know that not many cultures believe in the extended family of Mexicanos. For us, it is only important that we are sincere and willing to learn, and it does not matter in what condition we might find ourselves. It is for this reason that I know that no matter where I go, I will never be alone, and that sense of familia will always be with me.

00:32:30:00 - 00:32:54:00

Speaker 2

I wrote about this closeness and included I equal to the Renault guys? Simply no point in diesel guns. 119 one for administrators come out when we suffer such a severe illness. Do you know any sadness when you step that up from your clinica? Said I muchos that much better. I lost quite as my girl from that young can.

What things be done looking into Chicano eco metal. So that was machine gun.

Latino mexicano. México. Americano. Chicano. These are the labels used to describe my ethnic background to labels I can accept, but I cannot and will not accept the attitudes of the people in this community who believe that because we're Mexican descent, we cannot succeed as well as those who are not Mexican. We are at a disadvantage because others have this look, the actions of a.

00:35:55:27 - 00:36:22:09

Speaker 2

It is already hard enough to succeed in a society without being discriminated or stereotyped, but we must fight against the negativity and make our way through. Studies show Hispanics facing many problems in the near future. One of the major problems is the high percentage of school dropout. This will hurt them. This will hurt.

00:36:22:11 - 00:36:55:19

Speaker 2

This will hurt the future of our Spanish community, because I believe that education will help us succeed. I myself have learned that it is up to the individual and I have seen in my own family. The Mexicanos can succeed. My father is a first generation Mexican-American, and he was the first to graduate from college, and his family. My brother graduated from a four year private university and is now employed by a very prestigious company in the Silicon Valley.

00:36:55:21 - 00:37:21:15

Speaker 2

He grew up at a time when Charles was very popular, but with bad implementation, and yet he struggled and made it through. These are the type of role models young Hispanics and Mexican Americans need today. It is sad to see many Mexicans who do not care about their future, and instead of keeping up with school, they waste their time and life getting involved with gangs, drugs and crime.

00:37:21:18 - 00:37:36:06

Speaker 2

There are many Mexican Americans out there who are successful, respectable and hardworking individual. But we must have a goal and whatever it is.

00:37:36:08 - 00:38:04:01

Speaker 2

We must have a goal and whatever it is, we must educate ourselves. Our best defense against stereotypes and prejudice is education and pride and a heritage. We must be proud of our culture and our language education will help us succeed and live useful and productive lives of Mexican American. If the 21st century is going to be ours, let's make it happen.

00:38:04:04 - 00:38:17:07

We're currently in the last decade of 20th century, and they're distinguished by its commitment to education.

00:49:14:15 - 00:49:39:16

Speaker 2

As Americans are racing to colleges and universities in record numbers. Hispanic Americans are falling behind the race to be educated. Fortunately, the race has just begun. We have. Hispanic Americans do not lack the intelligence necessary to succeed educationally. However, we must recognize the importance of education. We should redirect our values of hard work toward motivating young Hispanic Americans to succeed in the classroom.

00:49:39:18 - 00:50:04:11

Speaker 2

Our culture is based on values of hard work and determination. Our work ethic, trade, traditional tools, hammers, shovels and hammers with the educational tools of books, pencils and paper. We can use our new tools to tear down the language barrier and the culture barrier that keeps us from taking our proper place in society. We can replace the physical pain of labor with the mental well-being of law, medicine, and education.

00:50:04:13 - 00:50:11:08

Speaker 2

And as teachers, doctors, and lawyers, we can motivate others to follow the educational path to be effective.

Unknown

As an American, as I spent, Spanish Americans.

Began to participate in the race for education. The need to create scholarship and patience is important. The document distinguishes itself as leader and scholarship foundation. We must follow the example in order to create opportunities and scholarships for Hispanic Americans to succeed in education. Education should be a common goal. The Hispanic culture has a strong family base. Families pray together.

00:50:40:00 - 00:51:07:14

Speaker 2

Families work together and families celebrate together. Now the time has come for families to become educated together. Parents should encourage and support the children throughout their educational career. Sure that you communicate and involve parents and educational activity and never, never forget the opportunity they received from their parents. Hard work. Most importantly, families each work and reach together the finish line for the all important race modification.

00:51:07:16 - 00:51:34:01

Speaker 2

But we all know who you are. And I'm Robert Cook, and this was a man of your mother's Mexican Americana. Ladies and gentlemen, join Alicia munoz.

00:53:04:04 - 00:53:15:19

Speaker 2

What has not just. Ladies and gentlemen, distinguished judges. Your Highness and members of the jury.

00:53:15:22 - 00:53:18:05

Why am I alive?

00:53:18:07 - 00:53:52:05

Speaker 2

Why should I do? My parents hate me. My boyfriend just dumped me doing terrible in school. Why should I live if I died? I'd have no worries. No problem, no pain. This is what goes through the mind of many teenagers thinking about committing suicide. If the question of why I want to live is not answered positively, the chances of that person committing suicide increased.

00:53:52:08 - 00:54:19:21

Speaker 2

Why did teenagers start thinking about committing suicide? The full explanation to this question is not known, but some of the reasons are problems at home. Problems in the relationship and feeling as though there is no future cause. Depression and depression. The main reason for this terrible act to occur. I am wanting to be a peer counselor. I've been in this program for about four months now.

00:54:19:24 - 00:54:48:08

Speaker 2

They have taught me to listen, not to give advice, but to let that person find their own advice and answers from within. It is very hard to listen, especially when you think you've had the same problems and know the answers. When in fact everyone is unique and for no one can have the same problems. The only thing you can do for someone who might commit suicide, let them know that you're there for them and can listen to their problems.

00:54:48:11 - 00:54:59:29

Speaker 2

The reason I decided to be a peer counselor, because I have some friends with some problems, and I helped them out, and I felt I had to help others.

00:55:00:01 - 00:55:23:25

Speaker 2

And if I can make someone smile who said, I'll make someone give it one more try and they want to give up, then I want to help people and make a difference. And if by listening I can help someone, especially when it comes down to a life or death situation, that I want to be there for, that person, I am confident that suicide can be reduced.

00:55:23:28 - 00:55:43:06

Speaker 2

If we all take the time to just listen. Thank you. If it does not show that those crashing.

00:55:43:09 - 00:55:53:22

Speaker 2

Ladies and gentlemen, Elsie Landry.

00:57:15:23 - 00:57:49:11

Speaker 2

Bienvenidos, Senora. 16 units. We have no cell decorum. Questions. Please give us is to my staff. Currently, the Hispanic population is expanding by leaps and bounds all over the nation. So much so that in California alone, the Hispanic population growth rate has increased by nearly 60% within the past decade. As a result of this continuing increase, by the year 2000, Hispanics alone will make up over 50% of the population.

00:57:49:13 - 00:58:12:19

Speaker 2

But what does this mean to you and me? How will this affect us and our involvement in the community? What kinds of roles and contributions? But we owe society and its citizens because we all make up such a large majority of the population, it will become our duty as citizens to make certain contributions to the community and become positive role models for the next generations to come.

00:58:12:22 - 00:58:36:14

Speaker 2

Thus, in order to do so, we, the Hispanic community, need to make certain changes. Now, changes that include electing more Hispanic officials into public office and seeing more Hispanics in the professional field to science and business. Other changes we need to make include reducing the dropout, teenage pregnancy, crime and drug abuse rate.

00:58:36:15 - 00:58:42:00

Unknown

Within the Hispanic Youth and create hope and opportunity for them to, rather than have the.

00:58:42:00 - 00:59:09:15

Speaker 2

Negative attributes, become the view of society towards Hispanics. We need to make the positive ones become to become the key. In doing so, we need to look to the role models of today, such as Cesar Chavez and activists who fought for the rights of Hispanic farmworkers and Blanca Alvarado, former vice mayor of San Jose. If I look into this people for inspiration, I find my motivation in becoming a positive Latina in my community.

00:59:09:17 - 00:59:33:10

Speaker 2

Through my involvement in the UCO program at the University College Opportunity Program, a program that motivates high school minority students towards college. And sure, this summer, High School Apprenticeship Research Program, a program in which myself and other minority students worked at NASA for two months at a summer. I see a bright future ahead of myself, and I know by sticking with the old adage, I'm going to stick with it.

00:59:33:13 - 00:59:47:00

Speaker 2

Nothing can stand in my way. That's half. Even as much as.

00:59:47:03 - 00:59:53:25

Speaker 2

Ladies and gentlemen, one last time we will present the 1991 Miss Santiago Forum Queen contestant.
