included:
HIPPIE SHITE, CALIFORNIA,
CARNAL KNOWLEDGE,
WASHROOMS AND LESS THAN
HOSTILE HOSTELS

Unfortunate circumstances have brought us here
It may have been personal, might have been the beer

Some things will never change and I am one
Who does not soon forget the bad deeds that have been done

May make me an cunt in your limited view
I say fuck them and fuck you too
If I stopped to consider everyone's opinion
I would never accomplish anything
Until I ask, I do not care

So save your breath for someone else
Because it really is a waste of time
On your part and certainly mine
What is it that makes you think
That I am in the least bit interested?
Thought all this shit was written off years ago
Yet it stills seems so haunting

Weird how time can heal but not forget
I remember every word that was said
You were too cruel to be forgotten
It's far too late and the damage is done
Accept then move on is the only option
What you think is merely one opinion
There are as many sides to the story
As there are people in this world
Best to just let it go

Move on and become something more
No need to hide heads in the sand
No one's lose that we are not friends
Maybe in time all of this will pass
Unlikely, as we will never change
Just who we are and how we relate
So any chance has been lost
But the lose is never one-sided
No matter how much you nurse your pride
It will eat at you as it does me
Unfortunately, circumstances have brought us here

Welcome to issue six. If you have been paying attention, you really need a hobby.

Thank you to everyone who has submitted material and to all the businesses that let me leave my shit lying around their respectable establishments. The California assault is in the works along with the bicycle issue, as if you or I care.

The River

by the Nymphs

Majestic waters, wash it away
Lay your pain in the river
A trip to heaven is a heart beat away
All my pain in the river

So you say, that you're all alone
Only the river knows

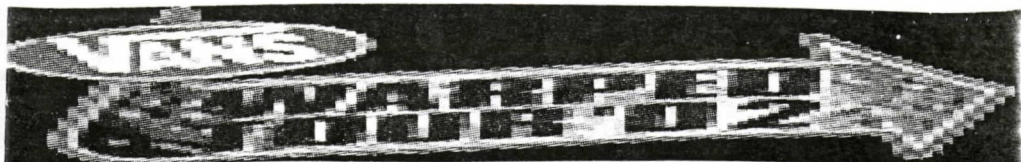

And beautiful waters, I was baptized by thee
State my claim to the river
The Sunday sun is shining halos on thee
All mistakes in the river

So you say, that you're all alone
Only the river knows

Majestic waters, wash it away
Lay my pain in the river
A trip to heaven is a heart beat away
All mistakes in the river

So you say, that you're all alone
Only the river knows

this year's Warped Tour hits Florida soil on August 2nd in Orlando, diving headfirst into the bowels of south Florida on the 3rd, heading west to Tampa the 4th and continuing its trail of destruction the 5th in Jacksonville. Why the guys at Warpedtour.com do not realize that Pompano is not in Miami is a bit disturbing. They have been here before, no?

Nonetheless this year boasts quite an impressive line-up, lots of Warp Tour veterans and just as many new faces. Check out the line-up, surely you'll find something that peaks your fancy. Don't miss the local's stage. Support our regional shitheads.

BUGS BUNNY SHOW 1960-1962

copyright 1961 Warner Bros. thanks to Karen_Hope and DPJOHNSON

The West Memphis Three are Damien Echols, Jason Baldwin and Jessie Misskelley, three teenagers from West Memphis, Arkansas who were wrongly convicted of murdering three small children in 1993.

These men have been behind bars for over nine years for a crime they did not commit.

This was a case that had no physical evidence linking the accused to the crime. Instead, the evidence the prosecution entered included heavy metal music, black clothing that the defendants wore and scary books written by Stephen King and Anne Rice.

Dear Mom:

I've told you all that I know. Suppose it was not enough. Nothing ever is. This is not the way things should have become. It all went so horribly wrong. Haven't seen Chelsea in over a month. I hope they are taking good care of her. She likes room to breathe. So close, yet feels so distant. Now drinking sure makes the days pass. Accomplishing less in more time it seems. Pissed off everyone I've known. It happens every so often. Is it a character flaw, or just cleaning house? No regrets thus far and none anticipated.

I no longer reside in a motel, but things are pretty good.

Life on the run, scattered to none.

Coming Out

All of the rumors you have been hearing are true. I am a slut and I don't care. If I were a guy I'd be a stud, cause I'm a chic the tables are turned? Fuck that. Catch me at the right time of the month. Sex is brilliant and anyone who disagrees I pity. No one should care who I'm fucking anyway, small minds and libidos. If you have any disputes with my ethics, you can find my number on any bathroom wall. Please don't be afraid to call, though I am rarely home as my dance card is full.

More free press for the MTWs

It seems the little blurb my associate wrote about the Mary Tyler Whores before his review of the Damned show has made a number of people upset. I apologize.

First off I must point out that my associate mentioned how very drunk he was during the show. So I wouldn't say his view of the Whores is exactly the way others might feel or even possibly be accurate. (Even though that is a subjective thing.)

Our purpose is not to belittle local acts or make enemies of them. I personally have never seen the MTWs so I cannot say how accurate my associates review was. So I plan on attending a MTW show when it is convenient, sober and will give an honest, non-biased review. We invite anyone to submit reviews.

Also I must note that the first page of our site reads "We will provide you with a very random and sarcastic view of the underground movement. If anything we write offends you, you're just taking yourself too seriously." So please stop acting like children and threatening to meet us by the flagpole after school.

Maybe drinking a little will help us all mellow out.

Warm feelings from the Mary Tyler Whores:

I see your reviewer as some sorta wanna-be punk rock critic hanging out at local punk shows attempting to pick up little drunk punk chicks! Your reviewer must have been fucked up drinking cheap-ass well liquor when he reviewed the show. Many attendees would disagree.

Sorry it took me so long to find your shitty take, I guess if you were anybody with a well-respected music review I would have heard it a long time ago!! Keep up the "good" work, ASS HOLE!!! and FUCK YOU!!

Subject :

on taoism

Howdy again. I think I can travel to Melbourne with Buddhism. I believe it that is.

A guy I met told me he could linger far, maybe just yards off from his body.

Now I can see it. At times in deep thought, my cat, Frenchie, mewls to me...

There could be quite a few explanations for this event. I'm contemplating art and its meaning and maybe she's just trying to...I don't know. In fox chase, pa, there stands a cathedral built on the foundation of a faith based on an oracle...in deep thought we are visible to the spirits in our true form as we sit or walk...

But when they try to touch us or speak to us we vanish.

Back to reality...we do linger outside ourselves we travel. We see around walls.

Iceman. Don't you think?

O.

To the club nazis of Fort Lauderdale:

What is the deal? You want local bands to bring in the numbers but refuse to let us promote? Maybe we are advertising a show that is not at your club (at the moment). What is the problem with letting the masses know that there is a local scene in Fort Lauderdale?

What is your advantage in holding back a band that may potentially play your club with a solid local following? The general public (local music fans) will go to the clubs that host the music/bands they enjoy, so long as they are informed. Keeping their interest is key, the more consistent the better.

The competitive nature within the club circuit in this town is a negative thing for everyone involved, including the bands, the clubs and unfortunately the fans. This town used to have something of a strong local scene and that was due in part to liberal/local promotions.

Can we take the gloves off and call a truce? There are two sides to every story. We all know about the clean up the next day. Write it off as hazards of the biz (flyers are no worse than empty beer bottles). Actually flyers are positive and the beer bottles are almost never recycled.

Please let us do our job, get some people to the shows and make you some money. That is after all the bottom-line. Equipment costs money, flyers and the time spent is money. We are doing what we can to promote the local scene. Please help us in our plight.

“I could be wrong.”

Have you ever been so content you were concerned for your well being? At any moment everything could come crashing down and you're not sure, in such a blissful state, you could take such a heavy blow. Almost scarier than being down and out, fear of heights I suppose. But we all strive to be bigger, better and faster. The more you achieve the more you have to lose. The old adage goes be careful what you wish for you might just get it.

Who you perceived and who I really am may seem a bit contradictory these days. Never meant to mislead you in any way. You seemed happy with the illusion that was cast. Never really did know all that much about my past. If you had bothered to look below the cover you may have realized sooner that I am more than just a lover. Now the sheets are tainted and the notes all run together. The music that we made sounds like idle chatter. I felt it then but not in retrospective. No time is ever wasted. Every moment is sacred.

Think that you have it all figured out? Do you know what an ass you are when you go out? Dropping names and faces of acquaintances at best, little do you realize the generic banter you project. If you were truly someone you would have nothing to prove. Actions will always speak louder than words, so why don't you become someone and lose the need to prove.

Perseverance is the key to it all. Do not let the mainstream dictate what you create. Find your own path and make them think your way. Of course you understand they are the cattle that we prey. Someone must forth set the precedent. If not you then I fear. If not me I would die. Make your mark and make it bigger than your life. You have so much to share and such a beautiful mind. (blah! for the tom cruise reference, all apologies)
