

Providing Educational Services to Parents Throughout the San Joaquin Valley

Through the San Joaquin Valley Rural Development Center, an initiative of the Office of Community and Economic Development, Fresno State Parent University has provided classes in Digital Literacy, Parenting Skills, and English Language Comprehension since 2013.

Program Benefits

- Empower families to be skilled, confident, positive leaders in their homes, their children's schools, and their communities.
 - Teach family leadership development skills that help develop strong public speaking skills, community mobilizing and enhance leadership qualities
 - Increase parent/guardian-child interaction through family involvement and assure that family leaders are invested in the outcome of their involvement through Parent University

Parent University employed 17 local instructors for the Spring 2016 Semester.

Parent University provided services to 18 school sites during the Spring 2016 Semester.

